JOHN HUNDERTMARCK DIRECTS SYMPHONY CONCERT

Senior Plays Violin Solo

Jean Olmhausen's violin solo, Beethoven's "Concerto in D Major", was a feature of the Salem Symphony Concert held at the Methodist Church last Thursday.

Camille Hoperick and Jean Olmhausen played in a violin quintet, as another number of the program.

Two selections by the Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Mr. John Hundertmarck and composed chiefly of the pupils of the Salem public schools, concluded the program.

Mr. Hundertmarck announced that the orchestra will continue playing if financial backing from the community is secured.

BIOLOGY STUDENTS FIND FERN IMPRINTS

Back, oh, far back, twelve million years ago; possibly more, probably less, back when there were no men; back to the time we call the Age of Reptiles, a fern, a timid cycod and a beautiful colored sphenophyllum nodded happily in the warm morning breeze. Then the tragedy—or was it a tragedy?—occurred. It began to rain; it began to storm; the winds blew; the storm raged. The little fern, the timid cycod, the beautiful sphenophyllum were frightened. They huddled close together. Something fell on them; and soon they were pressed close to the earth, and covered with sand, dirt, and bits of rock.

For ten million years the rain washed the rock, the wind blew the sand and earth about; it kept washing and blowing until there is now revealed what we call Carboniferous Rock of the Pennsylvania Period. The fern and cycod and sphenophyllum are imprinted on the rock where they will last

AUTO MECHANICS CLASS STARTS LIBRARY IN NEW SHOP

Crowded Situation Relieved

The automotives class is now in the new shop at the rear of the building which will eventually have an office and reference library in connection with the portion used for regular laboratory work.

The class can now go ahead with their work in a much more organized way.

Along with the shop there will be an office where class records may be kept in order. The library will be of great assistance to the members of the class; it will consist of a number of books which the boys will use to get the needed material for each job. Each boy contributes one dollar toward the fund which eliminates the heavy expense of text books.

The class has been held back in its progress because of shop arrangement but now it can work to advantage.

BRUNNERISMS

Make the other fellow feel important.

A telephone is like a dachshund: you step on its tail in Berlin and it barks in Paris.

A little flattery intelligently applied works wonders.

It's sort of a queer question, but if you must know I prefer.....

All strategy in human relationship is based on friendly desire to help the other fellow.

Now this compact is well-equipped with a windshield wiper and plenty of duco finish.

Everything your school does is advertising for or against the school.

"Shure I'll marry you, big boy! Who am dis a'talking'?"

Be sure that your strategy is for the other perosn's good, as well as for your own.

This pen will write nothing but A's.

Should each pupil in the school get one subscription, it would make the band at least $400.

Yea, Bo-o-o!

HORTSMAN WINS STATE TITLE; SETS RECORD

NAVY IN LEAD AS HALF OF CONTEST IS REACHED

At 8:30 A. M. Monday, the Navy team had 96 subscriptions and the Army had 82. There is still time for more to be turned in.

Mr. Brunner, representative of the Crowell Magazine Publishing Company, started a magazine drive here in an assembly held Wednesday morning. He introduced two teams, the Army and the Navy, which are fiercely battling for the honor of selling the most subscriptions. Prizes will be given to pupils selling two or more subscriptions. Also the teacher who has the largest percentage per pupil in her home room will receive a worth while prize.

The proceeds of this drive, which ends Friday at 4:00 P. M., go to the band for new equipment.

SENIORS PLAN KID PARTY

The annual party of the senior class to be held on November 20, will be a "kids' party" Every senior attending will be dressed as a child.

The committees for the party have been appointed. They are: Gym committee, Tom Snyder, John Reeves, Andrew Visker, Treva Hack, Harriet Izenour, and Bessie Mileusnic. Mr. Brautigam is the adviser.

The eats committee: LaVerda Capel, Mary Campbell, Jean Olmhausen, Anne Sinsley, John Paul Olloman, and Ray Reich. Miss Hollett is the adviser.

The entertainment committee: Selma Liebschner, Jack Ballantine, Louise Grove, Louis Snipes, and Karl Ulicny. Miss Lehman is the adviser.

GIRLS TRYOUTS SOON

The tennis season is over until next spring. In an exciting tournament Mary Weigand and Mary Burke came out victors!

This week the annual soccer tournament is being held. Two teams will be picked from the candidates and they will play it out.

It won't be long now, girls! Everybody out for basketball varsity tryouts on Monday, November 16.

Now that winter has set in, we are no longer bothered by flies, but we still have the freshmen.

Salem Defends Championship Successfully

Salem High cross country team successfully defended the state title that they won last year. Hortsman succeeded Brantingham who took first in last year's meet. Hortsman finished fifty yards ahead of the nearest opponent. Shasteen flashed in fourth. I. Beck knocked off fifth. Harris who took forty-ninth in the district meet surprised everybody by taking eighth at Columbus. Kamasky, the sophomore flash, placed eleventh.

Hortsman took the gold medal. Shasteen, Beck and Harris received bronze medals. A large trophy was presented to the team. The team attended the Ohio State - Navy game.

SALEM, SOUTH TIE AGAIN

Playing only mediocre football, the Quakers were held to 6 to 6 tie by the strong Youngstown South team last Friday night. The smart South team took advantage of its only scoring chance and scored on a lateral pass in the first quarter. Things looked bad for the Quakers, but they were able to score after a long drive early in the fourth quarter. Ed Beck's drop-kick was slightly wide and the game ended in a draw.

DORIS MILLER RECEIVES DECLAMATION MEDAL

Doris Miller received the medal at the Prince of Peace Contest held in the Methodist Church Sunday evening, November 8. The other contestants were Doris King, Elwood Hammell, and Laverne Libert.

This is a contest sponsored yearly by the Ohio Council of Churches, with a view to stimulating interest in peace and giving the young people a groundwork for leadership in this field. To make it worthwhile, cash prizes and scholarships are offered to the amount of $775.

After competing Sunday night, the four contestants will go to the county contest. The final contest will be held in Columbus in January in connection with the Ohio Pastors' Convention.

The judges of the contest Sunday evening were Attorney H. L. McCarthy, Miss Ethel Beardmore, and Mr. Perry McArtor.

WORK FOR THE BAND

The subscription drive is nearly over. Have you done your part?

Our band has played and marched at every football game, rain or shine, hot or cold. It has marched whenever it was asked to do so.

If the band members work so hard for our entertainment, can we not do a little for them? The band is an advertisement of our school. It is our duty to help keep it in uniforms and music.

Remembering that more equipment means more and better music for us, let us use these three remaining days to build up a real fund for the musicians' treasury.

LETTER ANSWERED

Dear Inquirer:

Every girl in Salem High has some opportunity to try out for the team. Whether or not she succeeds lies in her own skill. It is a case of the survival of the fittest. This you will find true not only in basketball but in every walk of life. You ask if those who are not chosen to be on the squad have a chance to develop. Yes, they do. Inter-class games are held for that purpose. Many girls in former years have played on inter-class teams before succeeding in making the squad. (Question?)

As for our health, it is improved by playing basketball if proper care is taken of the girls. In Salem, no matter how important the game is our coach considers the health of the girls first. No girl is permitted to play until she has been first examined by a doctor. Our coach never plays a girl who is physically unable.

If girls' basketball is to be discontinued because everyone can't be on the squad, why not also discontinue boys' basketball and football? (Signed) Student of S. H. S.

About 3,087 people attended the South game. This was a few less than attended the Wellsville game. The total receipts were $1,038.95.

Sixteen special police were used to watch walls and fence. They had their hands full.

Because of the depression, the jokes in this column are poor.

CLASS JOTTINGS

SENIOR NEWS

A "Prince of Peace" contest was held at the Presbyterian Church on November 4. Mary Campbell, Margaret Starbuck, and John Paul Olloman represented the senior class. Mary Campbell took second place.

Miss Hart has completed interviewing the seventy-five senior girls and checking over their their credits. She finds that they are all now satisfactory. Her present occupation is interviewing the freshman girls.

JUNIOR NEWS

The junior class officers met in 204 with Miss Horwell to select committees for the junior party which will be held sometime next month.

The entertainment committee is: Bill Holloway, chairman; Marion McArtor, Rachel Cope, Clair King, Doris King, and Dale Leipper. Miss Horwell is faculty supervisor.

The refreshment committee is: Margaret Megrail, chairman; William Pauline, Betty Ulicny, Ray Walton, Katherine Minth, and Dick Strain. This committee is under Miss Douglass.

The decoration committee, under Miss Lawn and Miss Workman, is: Kenneth Kcontz, chairman; Jean Harwood, Betty Jane Cope, Jean Scott, Helen Palmer, Jim Corso, Don Greenisen, William Miller, Glenn Stanley, Duane Dilworth, and Gordon Keyes.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The class of '34 is going to start something new. A meeting was held in room 307 on Wednesday, November 4, at which it was decided to raise a fund for activities in the senior year.

In raising this fund, this class will be establishing a new precedent.

It was decided to sponsor an entertainment by the Mount Union College Glee Club sometime in the near future.

By doing this the class will be decreasing the amount needed to be raised in the junior and senior years.

The sophomores congratulate Paul Strader on being appointed assistant business manager of The Quaker. Strader works diligently in this position and he deserves commendation.

TEACHERS OBEY LAWS

That even teachers must obey laws was demonstrated the other day. Miss Beardmore and Miss Hollett tried to cross the street in front of the school, above the yellow line. Mr. Springer laughingly bade them to walk inside the line and they did so.

Miss Wesley—Anna says: "This country was all right while we only tried to keep up with the Joneses—the depression came when we tried to pass them.

COMPANION ALSO MINING ENGINEER

Mr. E. C. Brunner, better known as "The Woman's Home Companion", has been telling jokes and selling the Crowell publishing company's magazine plan to high school students for the last six years. Mr. Brunner is what might be called a natural salesman. He has never studied public-speaking or salesmanship except in the training course all Crowell salesmen receive. He has had some experience as an actor. This accounts for this stage presence.

In college Mr. Brunner studied to be a mining engineer. During the summer he still follows this profession by working for a large copper company.

Mr. Brunner said that during the months of September and October of this year his sales were the largest during his six years employment. Among the schools who have adopted this plan are: East Liverpool, Fremont, Struthers, and several Cleveland schools.

SIDELINE STUFF

Alliance, the team that Salem plays on "turkey day", is showing fine form. Playing for their first time under the footlights, the Aviators walked off with a 37 to 0 victory over Sebring at the same time that Salem was fighting South. Alliance has been playing fine football all year and the team should certainly give the Quakers a stiff battle. However, Thanksgiving is coming!

Salem, Barberton, and Wooster are tied for first place in the Big Ten at the present. Next week Barberton plays Alliance at Alliance. Alliance should win from Barberton, and should Alliance beat Barberton and Salem, that would make a three way tie for second place. Wooster has played three games and won three. If Salem should beat Alliance, that would make Salem and Wooster tie for first place.

Alliance defeated Canton who defeated Salem. Salem defeated Niles who defeated Alliance. The game on "turkey day" is a toss up.

JOE KELLEY SPEAKS AT PEP ASSEMBLY

Yea Team! Fight! Cheers by the students, announcement by Jack Ballantine, music by the band, pep talk by Mr. Joe Kelly—all in one assembly.

Mr. Kelly came up here again to bring us that "good old Irish Luck" before that memorable Youngstown South game. Mr. Kelly stressed the value of teamwork and expressed a desire to come back again.

Dentist: "But I'm afraid to give Joe gas, Mrs. Bush; I won't be able to tell when he's unconscious."

MUST USE YOUR HEAD
IN PLAYING FOOTBALL

An offensive end and halfback find easy sledding when they have to work on a defensive tackle who invariably charges in the same way, says a sport squib in November's American Boy Magazine.

But two Northwestern University gridders and one practice opponent learned a lesson last year when preparing for the big game with Notre Dame. To give Northwestern practice against the Rambler system, Loyola came over and practiced with the Evanston team.

Two Northwestern players were having little trouble with a Loyola tackle who always charged in the same way. It was a different story when the Loyola coach sensed the situation and jumped into the tackle's position for a play or two. Instead of charging in, the coach stepped back a pace as the ball was snapped. In came the Northwestern tackle and end, falling all over themselves. Lightly, the coach jumped over them to meet the ball carrier behind the line of scrimmage.

"Aggressive charging, isn't the whole secret of line play. Headwork always helps," he grinned.—A. B. S.

PURELY PERSONAL

We like the idea of the seniors having a kiddy party. Imagine Gordy Scullion in rompers, or Cate Flick rolling across the floor on a kiddy car. And wouldn't Lorin Battin look cute in a little Lord Fauntleroy suit. Aw Gee!

And speaking of kiddies (we were, you know), once upon a time Louise Grove was writing a letter to her aunt. Louise wished to end her letter, "Give my love to the kiddies". However, she did not know how to spell kiddies so she wrote, "Give my love to the kit-tens." Was Louise puffed up about that bit of ingenuity —!

HUSBAND GETS RECIPE

The wife asked hubby to copy the radio recipe. He did his best, but he also got another station. One was broadcasting the morning exercises and the other the recipe. This is what he got:

"Hands on hips, place one cup of flour on shoulders, raise knees and depress toes, and wash out thoroughly in one-half cup of milk. In four counts raise the lower legs and mash two hard boiled eggs in a sieve, repeat six times. Inhale one-half teaspoonful of baking powder and one cup of flour, breathe naturally and exhale and sift. Attention, jump to a squatting position and bend white of egg backward and forward over head and in four counts make a stiff dough that will roll into a marble the size of a walnut. Hop to a standstill in boiling water but do not boil into a gallop afterwards. In ten minutes remove from fire and dry with a towel, breathe naturally, dress in warm flannels and serve as a sauce for fish"

WHAT CLASSES ARE DOING

Miss Smith's and Miss Shoop's biology classes are studying about ferns and fossils. They are collecting specimens of the different kinds of ferns.

Miss McCready's algebra classes are learning how to balance equations.

The second year algebra classes are taking up advance work now. The first six weeks was spent in review.

The trigonometry class is taking up the functions of any angle. They are having great fun surveying high buildings and bodies of water.

The auto-mechanics class, taught by Mr. Englehart, has helped to prepare the new building back of the school.

Mr. Henning's general science classes are studying about heat. They are finding out its applications and uses.

His American history class is studying about Washington, Adams, and the forming of the constitution.

The commercial arithmetic classes are working problems as usual.

ALUMNI

Bob Campbell, who was a member of Salem High's basketball team in 1926-27, has been appointed general chairman of committees for the benefit game to be held Nov. 11. Bob was twice an all-Columbiana County player and is ranked among the best to ever play end in football or center in basketball here. He was graduated from the University of Wisconsin last spring.

Howard Trotter '31 spent the week end with his mother Mrs. Edna Trotter, East Seventh Street.

Louise Calkins '31, student of Mount Union, spent the week end in Salem.

Jim Scullion '29 spent the week end in Columbus.

Dorothy Harroff '31, who is attending Wooster College, made a short visit in Salem Sunday.

WHOOSIM

Guess who this freshman is! He is of medium height; he has dark brown hair, brown eyes, and a lovely tan acquired by swimming at Westville a great deal during the past summer. He has a way of making feminine hearts go pitter-patter.

The last Whoosim was George Goodman.

WHOOSER.

If you guess who Whoosim is, you will immediately know this sophomore, because she is Whoosim's sister. Well anyway she has light hair combed straight back and light eyes (eagle eyes). She is about five feet tall.

C'mon, only one guess!

Did you know that Margaret Cecilia Kirkbride was described last week?

LIBRARY NOTES

In the library there is a green tin box in front of the card file. This box is for Quaker contributions. Anyone who knows of any news of any kind, or any funny things which happen in class, needs only to write it on a slip of paper and drop it in the little tin box. Any contributions will be greatly appreciated by the Quaker staff.

Librarians have no easy job. Sometimes a pupil will go into the library and tell some member of the library staff that he would like to have a certain book. The sad part of it is that he has forgotten the name and author of the book, but he will add in all seriousness, "It was a red book." With that information, the librarian is supposed to know the book he wishes.

Another thing, the shades should not be pulled down to the window ledge. They are too short and the janitor must usually be called to get them up.

PENNY DANCE GOSSIP TRAVELS SWIFTLY

Whoop de do! Whoop de do! "Let us have it quiet in the halls, please." A stern voice broke in on the girls' vocal efforts. "Oh! Haven't you heard the good news? Dear me, I'm so happy about it!"

The senior gazed in wonder at this underclassman who had been doing some personal cheerleading.

"No, I haven't," she said, "perhaps you could explain your reason for all the violent gymnastics."

"Sure I can," the girl replied. "The Hi-Tri is going to have another Penny-Dance just for girls!"

"That is wonderful!" the older girl said and away they went to spread the news that the dance was to be held on Wednesday, November 26. The plans are the same as for the first one.

Then on down the hall — two voices instead of one now—"Whoop de do! Whoop de do!"

Every girl there for another marvelous time.

HI-TRI CLUB MEETS

Plans for another Penny-Dance were discussed at the meeting of the Hi-Tri in the auditorium last Thursday. In addition, the girls discussed a program for the year. Outside speakers, plays, and various musical selections will furnish variety at the future meetings.

A report on the first Penny-Dance showed that it had been quite successful, surpassing all expectations.

READING RIGHT

There's a right way to read, and a wrong way. The wrong way is to take a book and say to yourself, arbitrarily, "I'm going to read every word of this if it kills me." Do it that way and it probably will kill you! Certainly it will kill the book for you. The right way is to say, "I'm to read the parts of this book that are of interest and value to me. The parts that aren't useful I'm going to omit." That means exercising critical judgment, of course—deciding what is worth your time and what isn't. And it doesn't mean, if you're reading Conrad's "Lord Jim," skipping the splendid description and fine characterization that prove Conrad's greatness—those are the things you read Conrad for! It doesn't mean merely "getting the story." It means thinking as you read.

—A. B. S.

DEBATE CLUB

At a meeting of the Debate Club, Teofil Andrei took charge of the entertainment.

Readings were given by many members of the club. Some of the most interesting ones were: "Why Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" by Fred Barckhoff, "The Dutchman" by Paul Smith, "Casey at the Bat" by Junior Courtney, and "Lispin'" by Teofil Andrei.

It may be said that Don Coppock was too bashful to give a short speech on "How to Toot a Horn."

SCIENCE CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The General Science Club, under the guidance of Mr. Henning held its first business meeting of the year Tuesday, November 3. The meetings are to be held on every other Tuesday.

The election of officers was the chief event of the meeting. The following officers were elected:

Alroy Bloomberg, president; Jack Bowling, vice-president; Kenneth Woods, treasurer.

A committee was elected to censor the new candidates for membership.

BIOLOGY CLUB FINDS IMPRINT

Masterpieces of Nature's creation are in room 107; they were brought to biology class by Marie Callahan and Ada Hutton. So we have right in our school the marvelous work of millions of years back. It is a sight worth going to 107 to see.

EXCHANGE

Here's a charming bit from the Wooster Observer:

The Duckling

No wonder the little duckling
Wears on his face a frown;
For he has just discovered
That his first pair of pants is DOWN.

And how do you get down from an elephant?

Speak up and stop rolling your handkerchief into a little ball.

Heh, heh—you don't get down from an elephant, you get it from ducks. Catch on?

I know a girl who thought that when you go on an overnight hike, you hike around the country all night. Now don't tell me you did too!

Staunch Friends, and True

Good books are good friends—friends you can always rely on.
They have entertainment, and they have information you want, and people you want to know. More people have known Tom Sawyer than ever knew any ten Presidents you might name.

—American Boy Magazine.

Abilene, Kan. (ABS)—To combat depression, the high school student council here has brought out a student activity book offering $7.15 worth of admission tickets to athletic events, plays, operetta, debates, and a subscription to the school paper, all for $3. (Salem High offers you $16 worth of similar activities for only $5.)

Because of the many suicide by leaping from the Monument Bridge into the river Alster at Hamburg, Germany, police of the city are being given rigid training in life saving. During a recent drill the officers were compelled to leap from the bridge in full uniform and show their ability to save persons from the water.

Monkey Shines.

A chimpanzee from Scott's Zoo entertained a freshmen at their assembly last Wednesday. He drove to school in a Ford car, and marched proudly into the auditorium.

The freshmen were given a chance to judge for themselves whether man really sprang from the monkey, and if so, how far he has sprang.

Time-Tested Integrity

To the tramp who wanted to earn a bite to eat the housewife said, "If I thought you were honest I would let you go to the chicken house and gather the eggs."

"Lady," he replied with dignity, "I was a manager of a bath house for ten years and never took a bath."—American Boy Magazine.
