STRONG SOUTH TEAM CLASHES WITH QUAKERS

Experienced Backfield Stars for Unbeaten Team

Salem's football team meets Youngstown South at South Saturday afternoon in a game that is likely to end with Salem on the short end of the score.

South has had a very impressive season. They have won every game and have been scored on only once and that was last Saturday when they had their second team in against Youngstown East. This game ended with South way out in front with 53 points to East's 7. Tomlin, the flashy negro half-back, made 6 touchdowns. Lakewood, Chaney, and Niles are several of the better teams that have dropped before South's powerful team this year, and every one of these victories have been clean cut.

The Red and Blue has a very fine backfield with Tomlin, Wumphrey, Lobinger, and Lottier, all of whom played last year. Unless Salem plays much better than they did against Wellsville last week, this South game will be just another defeat.

INSTRUCTOR BUYS BLIND POLICE DOG

Mr. Henning evidently believes that a dog is a man's best friend. He may have changed his mind by this time but nevertheless two weeks ago he bought a pup.

There are several motives why a man wants a dog; first, he wants a companion, second, he seeks protection, third, the dog helps him hunt. Could Mr. Henning want a companion? He might but perhaps not a dog. Does he seek protection? Hardly, if he is capable of disciplining pupils, he is able to protect himself. Does he want a dog for hunting? Evidently not, for he bought a blind German Police Dog.

Whatever his motives were the dog didn't live up to them for he returned it shortly after he bought it.

MONITOR'S HINTS ARE SUCCESSFUL

Were you ever a monitor down by the girl's home economics room? It is really torture when you sit there near the end of the morning. Delicious odors of cake, cookies, buns, and salads come rolling out. Now it isn't so bad if you have had time to eat your breakfast, but when you tear away without a bite, sitting out there in agony.

The girls come out for a drink, you look at them with pleading eyes and ask what they are making. But they just smile and answer and don't seem to take the hint. But just about two minutes before the bell rings some kind hearted freshman or sophomore, the juniors and seniors know better, bring you out one of their cookies or doughnuts or whatever it may be. Bless them!

MANY '1932'S' BACK

There are quite a number of last year's graduates back at school taking post graduate courses. They are: Dick Albright, Jack Ballantine, Bob Bryan, Joe Bush, La Verda Capel, Clifford Oessna, Junior Courtney, Jim Fisher, Katherine Flick, George Gottschling, Kenneth Herbert, Howard Heston, Melvin Heston, Julius Julian, Anna Ruth Kerr, Dan Holloway, John Paul Olloman, Gordy Scullion, Bruce Shasteen, Paul Snyder, Thomas Snyder, Sara Spiker.

JUNIOR PRESENTS 12 O'HENRY BOOKS TO SALEM HIGH LIBRARY

The Salem High School Library has received as a gift from Ruth Ruggy, the complete works of O. Henry. This set of twelve volumes, containing all of O. Henry's stories that have long been favorites of book lovers; has been placed on the library shelves ready for students with whom O. Henry's works are so popular.

The donor, Miss Ruggy, is a junior in Salem High School and is very much interested in library work. She has been one of Miss Lehman's most capable assistants since entering high school as a freshman and has already decided on a career of library work.

IT HAS BEEN DONE

"Gee Jones, it looks bad for us."
 "What time is it?"
 "We just got five minutes."
 "What's she up to now?"
 "Thirty nine! say that's terrible."
 "Yeah, thirty nine's my unlucky number."
 "Oh Gosh, give her more gas."
 "It's got to hit fifty sometime."
 "40, 41, only three more minutes."
 "Jones, we're sunk."
 43, 44, 45, 50.
 Brrrrrrrrrrr (the bell)
 "Jones, we've made it, we've finished our chemistry experiment in one period."

HELP US KEEP OUR RATING

The Salem Public Schools are now facing the greatest financial crisis of their history. Their entire structure for the next five years is threatened.

It is unthinkable that people would spend more for luxuries than for education, but in Ohio $384,000,000 was spent during 1928 for luxuries while schools received only a total of $167,000,000.

Sixty-eight of the one hundred-nine Ohio cities have a school tax rate higher than Salem's rate which includes the three mill levy.

The average school tax rate for Ohio cities is 10.81 mills. Salem's school tax is 9.79 mills. Despite this low tax our public schools maintain a class "A" rating.

Don't lower a tax rate that is already below the average. We cannot maintain good schools without support.

Below is a copy of the ballot for the three mill levy. It has the same heading used ten years ago which states "A Proposed Increase in Tax Rate," but this is not true as this tax has been in effect since 1922 and therefore is a renewal of the tax and not an increase.

PROPOSED INCREASE IN TAX RATE

An additional tax for the benefit of Salem City School District for the purpose of paying the current expenses of the said district schools at a rate not exceeding 3 mills for a term of not to exceed 5 years.

HIGH SCHOOL MAY LOSE 'A' N. C. A. RATING

Crowded conditions of Salem High may cause Salem to be dropped from the accredited list of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. This association is an agency by which the standards of colleges and high schools are measured.

A very complete report is made to this association and all requirements must be met to have a first class certificate which Salem has held since 1906. Lack of space and shortened school term, all primarily due to the lack of available funds, may lower Salem's rating. Because of similar existing conditions throughout the North Central States, the Association may temporarily lower their standards somewhat. This lessens the possibility of losing our present rating.

HARRIERS DEFEND TITLE TOMORROW

When the Salem cross-country team won first place in its heat at the district meet last Saturday it earned the right to go to Columbus this week-end and defend its state championship.

The district meet was run in two heats, the first two teams in each heat being eligible to compete at Columbus. The first heat was won by Cleveland Lincoln High with 31 points. Cleveland Shaw High was second with 54 points. In the second heat Salem was first with 38 points and Lakewood was a close second with 39 points. In this heat Andresky of Lakewood was first with a time of 11:06.2. Theriault was second and Kamasky, third. Hower of Akron East placed fourth and McFeely was fifth. Lakewood men took sixth, eighth, and tenth with an Akron East man seventh and East Palestine ninth.

If things go right down at Columbus Saturday the boys should come home with their third consecutive state cross-country championship which wouldn't be a bad record at all.

Wellsville completely humiliated the Quakers down at Liverpool last Friday night by a score of 40 to 0. Using spinner plays the Wellsville backs had the Salem team completely deceived and the repeated long runs by the Wellsville backfield made the game interesting for Wellsville fans. Stone used many of his reserves thus giving them a lot of good experience toward next year's team. The orange and black had a fine team but not good enough to deserve winning by a 40 to 0 score over the Quakers.

STUDENTS MUST CO-OPERATE WITH OFFICERS

The sophomores, juniors, and seniors have elected their class officers. These officers have been elected because the students have faith in them, and think they can carry out their respective duties capably. In order to carry out their programs successfully, these officers must have the whole-hearted cooperation of their fellow students.

In the early stages of our country's history there were many grave moments, due to the fact that the various colonies would not cooperate. Even in the present crisis, there is an inclination to blame the administration instead of getting together and trying to help it.

This year the classes are going to be financially pressed, and in order to make ends meet, the officers and students will have to cooperate as never before.

EXCHANGE

Because of the crowd which collects when the Youngstown East football team turns out for practice, the boys are forced to report at 6:00 o'clock every morning and from 6:15 to 7:45 o'clock hold their practice.—East High Echo, Youngstown.

Barberton High School believes in keeping its teachers well. They now have a remedy for colds, sunburn, and all aches and pains which cause them to be absent from school.

Each teacher found a sample box of mentholatum in his box in the superintendent's office last week. Now there is no excuse for a teacher being ill.

CLASS NOTES

After winning first place in the audition held at the high school, Rachel Cope went to WJAY Cleveland to sing over the radio. She was shown around the studio and had a grand time.

The date for the senior party has been set for Nov. 18. It is expected that it will be an informal party. Committees will be chosen some time this week and plans begun.

Arrangements are being made for the class pictures, so that they can be finished by December.

The seniors were so busy last week that the nomination and election of officers was put off until this week.

Seniors are taking advantage of their last chance to join the various clubs in the school.

Sophomores, especially, are proud of our new cheerleaders, three of whom belong to the class. These outstanding members are: Dick Harris, Martha Schmid and Anna Ruth Vincent. The class extends to them its hearty congratulations.

For the past week the freshmen have felt rather neglected, while the upper classmen were choosing their class officers. However, they have been working hard in their studies and they deserve credit.

They have been progressing rapidly. Here is a brief outline. Miss Hart's English classes are starting on Ivanhoe. Miss McCready's algebra classes are struggling on with their regular algebra. The history classes are learning more about the Egyptian people, while Mr. Henning's general science classes are making new and interesting experiments and learning more about things in general.

I JUST HEARD

Okay, Salemites! Here we are with another issue of that grand little paper edited by Dale Leipper, the "tuba-er", bringing also another column from your "hearer." Did you hear anything? No? Wait, I'll tell you.

I heard that Rena got a letter! Yep, the boy friend in the big city hasn't forgotten the little girl.

What is it that these juniors possess? There's a senior lassie (short and roundabout) that has a tremendous "case" on one, Robert Stamp.

Why is this study hall so quiet? Oh, yes, there's Miss Hollet.

My, how that freshman chews her gum! (choo-choo-choo). It must be good. One, two, three—oh, I thought so. Into the basket and it was just fresh! It's a great life if you don't weaken.

There sits Eddie Firestone, so seemingly absorbed in his book, when all the time he is thinking of—Is my face red???

Have you heard the new nicknames around school? Here are a few to tickle your palate: "Fancy Nancy", "Stuffed Peppers", "Cowboy", "Wig", and of course "Sprouts". Now if you wish to know the "alias's" ask your hearer.

She told me that Ruth Cornwall, a freshman, makes her spending money by manufacturing toy airplanes and selling them.

I wonder how Mary Bunn and Bob Carey enjoyed "70,000 Witnessess"? (I see as well as hear).

Of course we all remember Dan Holloway and his trombone, or should I say music? You may call it music, but I call it madness. Anyway, Martha J. Young keeps her trombone in the same locker that Dan did last year. What a coincidence! Or is it a coincidence?

Lelah, mates

SOCIETY NEWS

Betty Long made a trip to Pittsburgh Sunday, October 23.

An hour and a half was spent in trying to get untangled from Pittsburgh's maze of streets. (They weren't lost though.)

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin P. Lewis entertained Mr. and Mrs. Stone at dinner and bridge at their home on South Union Avenue, Saturday, October 22.

Miss Ella Smith heard President Hoover's address in Cleveland, Saturday, October 15.

From her seat in the fourth row she was able to study this man at close range. She said that his keen mastery of facts made him a very impressive speaker.

Mrs. Hoover, very gracious and smiling, waved to her from a nearby seat.

Clair King entertained the Junior Music Club at his home on East Sixth Street, Tuesday night, October 25.

The program consisted of a study of the life and works of Irving Berlin. Plans were made for an opera to be presented high school soon.

Several new members were initiated at the previous meeting.

Quite a few juniors were rather nervous when they gave their recitations before the Salemasquers.

He isn't smart in school.
And though he isn't much for looks
He's far from just a fool.

He has a heart of purest gold.
He always wears a grin,
Perhaps, because he was never told
There's a dimple on his chin.

MR. BAILEY TO GIVE LECTURE

Any attempt to express the enjoyment received by those who attended the presentation of Noah Beilharz in the high school auditorium last night would be useless. His many character changes entertained the audience from the opening number to the drop of the curtain. Mr. Beilharz really lived the characters he portrayed, for his whole manner—his expression—his voice—even the form of his face, seemed to undergo unusual changes as he took the part of at least a dozen distinct and different characters during the evening's entertainment. The audience voiced its hearty approval with a vociferous round of applause.

The next presentation in the fall festival series of entertainments will bring the popular Mr. Elwood T. Bailey of California to the auditorium. Mr. Bailey, a humorous philosopher, will appear next Wednesday night at 8:00 p. m., and has chosen as the subject of his newest lecture "Full Speed Ahead." Mr. Bailey in a most enjoyable and humorous manner will give his audience many practical thoughts that will stay with them. His enviable record for return engagements, is added proof that his lectures have always been enjoyed by both adults and students. The sponsors consider it a stroke of good fortune to have the Collins Management Service include Mr. Bailey in the group of entertainers sent here for the fall festival.

Dorothy Bruce entertained at a Hallowe'en party given at the home of Mary Frances Juergens, Thursday, October 20.

The evening was made enjoyable by playing games in the basement. In one of these, Charles Knisley was ducked head-first in an attempt to extract an apple from a pail of water.
