FRIEND WRITES TO SALEM BOY OF OPEN WEST

News of the Civilian Conservation Corps in Death Valley, California and other facts about the west have recently reached Salem High in a letter to Paul Strader, Jr. from Alden West, a former high student who has been enlisted in the C. C. C. during the past six months.

He states that living conditions at the camp are comfortable. The boys live in barracks and are provided with electricity, canned dates, and warm drinking water, among other things.

At the time of writing, the main project of the camp is roadbuilding. While digging, the boys often come across small pieces of gold, and the skeletons of humans and animals.

Alden describes the country as being warm but beautiful.

He witnessed the recent game between the University of Southern California and St. Mary's, and hopes to see the New Year combat at the famous Rose Bowl.

He states that he has reenlisted for six months and that, at the present, he and Len Yates are the only Salem boys in that vicinity.

SENIORS GIVE ANNUAL CLASS PLAY DEC. 7 - 8

"Seven Keys to Baldpate", a mysterious melodramatic comedy by George M. Cohan, will be presented by the senior class in the auditorium December 7th and 8th.

The cast consists of the following: Paul Smith, Dorothy Benzinger, Betty Long, Louis Weirick, Louise Hixenbaugh, Ruth Obenour, Troy Cope, Alroy Bloomberg, Bob Snyder, Bill Adams, Harold Parker, Wayne Sidinger, Charles Gibson, and Max Long.

The plot of the play centers around a novelist who has bet the owner of Baldpate that he can write a book in twenty-four hours. The owner lets him go to his summer resort, which is Baldpate, so he may have a quiet place to write his book. Whether he finished the book or not can be found out only by attending the play.

NOTICE!

Any person who possesses a camera and would like to take snapshots for the Quaker Annual should report to Paul J. Smith in the Quaker office as soon as possible. All applicants must have had some experience in taking snapshots. Films will be furnished. No applications will be accepted after December 5.

THE END IS NEAR

CLASS PROFIT BY SONG CONCERT

Over $60 in cash has been turned in from the 600 tickets sold for the Choral concert which was presented by the high school music classes in the auditorium two weeks ago Friday evening.

Kenneth Leipper, a freshman, sold the greatest number of tickets, submitting money for fifty-seven. Accordingly, he received the prize of $1.50 awarded to the best salesman by Miss Orr, music supervisor. Approximately 252 tickets were not sold.

Expenses which must be taken out of the $60 include the cost of flowers and rental of chairs.

A portion of the money has already been spent for the purchase of new music for the male chorus.

RUTH JONES SENDS MISS SMITH PARTS FROM RATTLESNAKE

Ruth Jones, a former student of Salem High, now residing at Tucson, Arizona, sent Miss Smith a rattler taken from a rattlesnake killed by her brothers.

The snake was found two feet from their camp, during a hunting trip. The skin was so crushed in killing the reptile, that Ruth was unable to preserve and send it.

TEACHERS CHOOSE DELEGATE TO MEET

At a meeting of the entire Salem teaching staff in 206 one week ago Tuesday evening, Mr. Baker was elected the delegate to the representative assembly of the Ohio Educational Association which meets in Columbus on December 27-29.

Each independent school system in the state is entitled to be represented by one delegate for every 100 teachers in the school system.

Mr. H. F. Kelly was elected alternate.

TEACHER FINISHES BOOK FOR STUDENTS ON INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Mr. Englehart, instructor of Industrial Arts has completed the text he has been writing.

This book, "Drawing," is designed to meet the needs of the student of drawing. The content is so arranged that a student, if he studies carefully, may develop the ability to make working drawings as well as pictorial drawings which are readable and technically correct to the drafting profession.

The lessons are so arranged that each student may progress according to his own ability.

TREES FROM CLASS OF '33 NOW ADORN SALEM HIGH GROUND

The three Red Oaks and two American Elms which were presented to Salem High by the graduating class last year were planted a week ago Monday.

The three Red Oaks were planted at the south side of the building in the form of a triangle. The two American Elms were planted in front of the building.

It has been the tradition of years past, for every graduating class to present the school with some gift.

SENIORS FORM PLAN TO RESERVE SEATS

The method of reserving seats for the senior play, "Seven Keys to Baldpate", must be altered this year due to the fact that the Association members will be admitted by their tickets.

Tickets will go on reservation on December 5 with the purchasers of the thirty-five cent tickets having first choice in the selection of their seats. On December 6 the reservations will be open to the Association members.

FRAY TO DRAW 400 OF SALEM HIGH STUDENTS

Approximately 400 students will gather in the gym tonight for the first party sponsored by the Association this year.

Bob McCarthy, president of the association and general chairman for the party has announced that John Bernard Guinish's orchestra will provide the dance music.

The committee for the party are as follows:

Decoration—Don Hammell, chairman; Bob Snyder, Lois Pidgeon, Mary Bunn, Louise Hixenbaugh, Marianne Mullins, Margaret McCulloch, Troy Cope, Harold Parker, Jack Mullins, Leroy Green, James Campbell and Ben Cope. Faculty Advisors—Miss Cherry and Miss Lehman.

Eats—Margaret Moff, chairman; Thirl Eckstein, Alex Fratila, Art Fleischer, Dick Harris, Charles Palmer, Betty Long, Mary Halde-man, Ruth White and Dorothy McConnor. Faculty Advisor — Miss Bickel.

Clean-up Committee, headed by Harry McCarthy, will be under the supervision of Mr Springer.

INDEXES OF BOOKS IN SCHOOL LIBRARY AVAILABLE TO ALL

Supplementary booklists, consisting of three small sheets of paper, are now at the disposal of the student body.

Copies of this supplement may be found clipped on the outside of the booklists in the library. They are also available to anyone interested in having one.

All the novels are annotated, thus giving the student an idea of the contents of the book.

An entire new booklist, completely annotated had been planned for this year, but due to a shortage of funds, the supplement is all that could be printed.

LIBRARY HELPFUL TO ALL STUDENTS

It is from little bricks, big institutions are built. So has it been with the little room adjoining 206, the cozy place designated as the library. But in this case it has grown by the ever increasing addition of books, some gifts, others bought with the money allotted for that purpose each year.

Did you know that the library beginning with about 900 books organized by a former teacher, Miss Gertrude Liber, in 1921, has increased the number of books to approximately 3000. The first books, many the gift of the class of '20, were placed in what is now Miss Hart's office, later being moved to the outer office of Mr. Springer. Student girls were completely in charge of the books for then there was no paid librarian.

In the fall of '24 the library was moved to its present location. Miss Cecilia Shriver, a former student who took charge, was the first paid librarian, Miss Smith having helped out immensely in the huge job of cataloging.

At the present time the library really is a most interesting place and a useful reference room for students. Being attractive with its statuettes and three lovely etchings, it is a popular haven for study and recreational reading. Sixty new books afford new reading matter for this year besides a variety of magazines. So, students, it is worth your time to thoroughly enjoy the library.

AVOID CALAMITIES BY USING CARE

Many citizens of Salem whose custom it is to drive down State St. at noon hour are complaining about the conduct of High school students on the street. Motorists report that pupils rush madly into the street unmindful of cars or lights.

These insane actions may prove disastrous. They are certainly distracting to drivers. A serious accident may result. Neither do they speaking well for the school. What kind of a student are you?

Heed this warning before there is a calamity. Consider the motorists. Surely they have the right of way on the street. Better conform to the old watchword, "Stop, Look, and Listen".

PERSONAL OPINIONS

Mr. Editor:

I can't see why some boys must take it upon themselves to bother the girls while they are practicing basketball.

After all, the boys have their major sports in which to compete, so why should they interrupt the girls' activities?

F. S.

Mr. Editor:

It seems as though public property always has to bear the brunt of the public's kicks and bangs, and the piano in the auditorium certainly gets its share of the burden. Why must students persist in scratching and marring its surface? I know that none of them would think of doing such a thing in their own homes.

When students get to high school they are credited with brains enough to take care of property public or private.

It seems as though some of them receive more credit than they deserve.

Pa—No, my son. God made the first one, but Edison made the first one that could be shut off.

What Do You Think?

What is the best cure for the results of a Thanksgiving dinner?

Martha Wells . . . Bicarbonate of soda is always my best remedy.

Walter Grimes . . . Sleep it off.

Lois Pidgeon . . . Oh! a walk (with the proper company).

Charles Gibson . . . I'd go out for a luncheon.

Jean McCarthy . . . Ah! Me for a good football game!

Troy Cope . . . I usually run about nine laps around the block.

Ruth Ruggy . . . I won't have to worry. The family is broke and we won't eat until Christmas.

Bob Lozier . . . If it came on any other day, I would have 45 minutes for Physics.

MR. GIBSON TALKS IN PEP ASSEMBLY

Mr. C. C. Gibson, president of the Mullins Corporation, gave a talk in the pep assembly last Friday.

Mr. Gibson stressed the importance of school life saying, "The most important industry in Salem today is the schools. School is an industry with the faculty as business managers and the students as the stockholders."

He praised the team's sportmanship and good fighting spirit this year. "If the boys have an inferiority complex they must throw it off," he added.

He emphasized the importance of the will to do a thing, declaring, "If you think you can, you can, but if you think you're licked, you're licked. The will to win is what you must have tomorrow."

The band played several selections and the cheer leaders led a few cheers. The assembly was then dismissed.

Mr. Gibson followed up his speech by a short talk to the football team.

FAMOUS BLIND MAN TALKS TO STUDENTS

John H. Brient, a blind musician, famed in radio and vaudeville work, presented a program to the student body Tuesday, November 21.

In the first part of his entertainment, Mr. Brient gave musical selections which consisted of "The Pilgrim's Chorus" from the opera, "Tannhauser", an "Irish Lament", selections on a "sweet potato", several novelty pieces on the piano and a ventriloquist act. For the remainder of his program he told the student body how the blind man is educated.

Priscilla

Quite different from the gentle Priscilla of John Alden and Miles Standish is this dark haired tomboy from 106. Her favorite occupation is making model ships and airplanes rather than sewing or anything else equally laudified. Until September, when they were called away to school she was quite popular with several members of the class of '33.

Last week Betty Martin was described.

John

No one would ever need to tell this senior lad to "speak for himself," as a blonde senior lassie can probably testify. He has light hair with a slight tendency to curl. He's a member of the varsity football squad and Hi-Y. He's quite a ladies man, in fact hes seldom seen without at least one member of the fair sex somewhere in his immediate vicinity.

Last week Harold Parker was described.

SENIOR NEWS

Discussion of the senior class play occupied most of the time at the senior class meeting which was held at 8:35 in 206 a week ago yesterday.

This is the first year that association members have been able to attend the class plays with their association tickets. The senior class will receive $90 from the association for the tickets of these members. Miss Beardmore, senior faculty advisor, emphasized the fact that it will be necessary to sell as many tickets as possible because the association allows only 15 cents a member for the tickets of members.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The first plan of making money will not be executed, but a new plan of selling Christmas cards is being considered. As soon as the cards arrive the committee will decide for or against the plan.

The girls basketball tournament has been going on for two weeks. Several sophomore teams have been eliminated.

SALEM HIGH SHOWS REAL POWER BY TIEING ALLIANCE

Salem High gridders closed their current season Saturday by upsetting the dope bucket and showing their real power by outclassing a supposedly far superior Alliance outfit in a 6-6 tie.

The first quarter was Salem's, the margin being gained by Fromm's superior punting. In the second quarter they opened up and by inspired playing puffed up a still larger margin on paper.

It was in the closing minutes of the third quarter that the fighting Quaker team put the ball on the Aviator's two-yard line with second down and goal to make. At this point a pass was attempted which fell incomplete in the end zone and the chance of a Salem score went glimmering. But the fighting Quaker team was not to be denied. At the start of the fourth quarter they began a drive with the entire team starring, which resulted in Fromm taking the ball over for a touchdown. The kick for the extra point was wide by inches and the score stood Salem 6, Alliance 0.

The break of the game came on the following kick-off when Admonius, Aviator halfback, carried the ball 75 yards through the entire Quaker team for a touchdown. The kick for the extra point was low and wide and the score was deadlocked.

Throughout the remainder of the game the undaunted Quakers with expert blocking slashed and knifed their way through the heavier Aviator line in a vain attempt to break the tie. With stands in an uproar the Quakers were on a sustained drive deep in the enemy's territory when the game ended.

SENIORS DEFEAT UNDERCLASSMEN

In a hard-fought battle at Reilly stadium a week ago Monday afternoon, a team composed wholly of seniors defeated a team of underclassmen, 19-0.

Breaks paved the way for all three of the senior touchdowns. Two punts were blocked and Chappell, safety man for the underclassmen, made a costly fumble that resulted in a touchdown.

Cope (playing full-back for the seniors) was the most consistent ground-gainer of the game, while Fromm played well for the underclassmen.
