QUAKERS LOSE TO STRUTHERS IN NIGHT FRAY

Suber, Fromm Star in Hard Fought Tilt.

Salem High's bid for an undefeated season went up in smoke Friday night under the impetus of a 6-0 defeat handed out by this strong Struthers eleven. The game was a clean hard fought battle with no penalties for unnecessary roughness of any sort. The fracas was a colorful affair with the Quakers dressed in their all-black suits and the visitors in their all-red suits.

The first period and the first half of the second was very evenly matched. Salem's small but consistent gains were offset by the superb kicking of Suber, the ace halfback of Struthers, whose punts, averaging better than 40 yards to the kick were a continual thrill to the crowd, and a bother to the home team.

The break of the game came in the closing time of the second period when Suber seized a partially blocked kick and raced to the Salem 24. Brogden and McLain made it first down on the 10. A short pass, Pavalsky to McLain, accounted for the only score of the game.

Salem's first bid for a score came in the third period when runs by Williamson and Konnert, and passing by Fromm and Pukalski put the ball on the enemy's 6 yard strip. Three plays put the ball on the 2 yard line but a fumble ended the Salem chances for a score at that time. A blocked punt, again almost resulted in a score for Struthers but fumbles and great defensive work by the Quaker line frustrated this second attempt.

After an exchange of punts Salem started on its own 38, another drive toward the enemy's goal. Four consecutive first downs followed by a great run by Fromm put the ball on the 2 yard line. A line buck was stopped cold and the ball went to Struthers on downs.

The game ended with several long runs by the Struthers star, Suber, who was easily the outstanding player of the game. Lychocko starred in the visitors line. Bob Snyder, at end and Troy Cope and Wayne Sidinger, at the tackle positions continually broke up the Struthers offense. Mike Fromm and John Pukalski starred in the back-field for the losers.

COME ON SALEM, LETS GO!

BAND RECEIVES 16 POPULAR COLLEGE SONGS FOR LIBRARY

Sixteen of the most popular college songs were bought by the band this week.

The songs selected are from the more popular colleges. The songs of Army, Navy, Notre Dame, Southern California, Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Purdue Northwestern, University of Chicago, University of Iowa, Georgia, Ohio State, Indiana and the University of Washington are bound in book form.

The marches, being practiced by the band will be played in the near future.

FORMER STUDENT DIES OF ILLNESS

Miss Bertha Mae Hassey, former Salem High star athlete, died at her home (881 East Third street) on the eighth of this month following an illness of more than a year.

Miss Hassey, one of the popular members of the city's young folks, is remembered by many of our students as having distinguished herself in school activities particularly on the basketball team of which she was captain her senior year.

Following her graduation from here in June, 1928, she attended Ohio State University, Mount Union College and the Salem Business College.

Two New Teachers Come to Salem High as Fall Term Starts

Two new additions to the Salem High Faculty this year are Mr. Cope and Mr. Brown.

Mr. Cope is a native of Salem and a graduate of Salem High. While in high school he went out for track.

He attended Mt. Union four years and received a B. S. degree. He went three summers to Ohio State for a master's degree and has only to complete his thesis.

During his college days he went out for track. He placed in the National Intercollegiate Meet at Chicago in 1929 and at the present time holds the unofficial state collegiate record for the five mile and two mile races.

He says that he likes the efficiency of Salem High School and believes the students are of a higher caliber in scholastic ability and dress than in other schools.

Mr. Brown's home is in Dayton, Ohio, and he was graduated from high school there.

He is a graduate of Ohio State University. While in college, he played basketball.

BUSINESS OFFICE MOVES LOCATION

The Quaker business office has been moved from 308 and combined with the editorial office on the third floor north.

Anyone wishing to see the editor or the business manager will find them in this office between bells and after school.

MAKE LESS NOISE

Less noise should be heard in 306 now, as four new noiseless typewriters have been added to the equipment of the typing room.

Also there are new exercise books. The pupils have been told to use them with care.

875 STUDENTS BEGIN 1933-34 TERM IN HIGH

Attendance in the High school is somewhat smaller this year than last. Up to the present time, it has reached 875, while last year at this time it totaled 889.

The number of Post Graduates is also diminished by about 20; last year the total was 50, while the number enrolled this year is only 30. This is explained by the increased employment of graduates this year in comparison with last year.

The freshman home room in the auditorium has been discontinued this year owing to 30 fewer freshmen in the 1933 class than previous, and the enlarged seating capacity of 300, 302 and 303 in an effort to balance the building.

In 1917, when the building was dedicated, the supposed maximum capacity was 350. Five years later, the southeast wing was built, which comprises rooms 309, 307, 203, 109, the library and biology rooms.

In spite of this, however, for the last few years the building has been extremely crowded, and instead of regretting it, the faculty is pleased that the enrollment is less, and any more lessening will be appreciated by both students and teachers. To quote Supt. Kerr: "It will give us all a little more room to breathe."

Last year there were eight disabled students receiving home instruction, while this year there are only three. Mrs. Elizabeth Harris has been re-appointed "Home Teacher."

Mr. Springer announced that club and activity schedules have not been completed, but they will be ready in the near future. Faculty advisors are now reporting club meeting preferences.

The student body has expressed its appreciation of the tablets the Board of Education is furnishing for a few weeks this fall.

Each Wednesday evening at 3:30 this year a meeting of the whole teaching staff of the public schools will be held at the High school. Supt. Kerr has announced that at this time a comprehensive study of the "new deal" will be made.

BABY GIRL IS BORN TO SPRINGER HOME

On last Thursday morning at 4:15, an eight-pound 14 ounce baby was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Springer. At the time this went to press the family decided the name should be Betty Anne.

The mother and daughter are both progressing well.

LET'S BEGIN YEAR RIGHT

Once again we are back in dear old Salem High to begin another year of study, work, play and friendships.

Last year school opened a month late because funds were lacking to pay for a full school year. For many of our parents it was a struggle and a hard one to keep us in school. To keep us in school they had to sacrifice, work and save more than ever before. But they did it for us. THEY came through when we needed them. They are giving us the chance to come through by repaying that effort. Are we doing it?

Or are we loafing, shirking, accepting the sacrifices of those who love us more than we realize without thinking of what we owe.

Are we wasting our study halls? Throwing pencils, erasers, paper wads and other objects is great fun—if you don't get caught. Talking to our neighbor in defiance of rules made to benefit us is much more enjoyable than learning the line of Stuart kings of England and their dates.

But while we are making general pests and nuisances of ourselves do we stop to think of those who are working to keep us there? If we don't, then we aren't worthy of them.

And the teachers: Are we trying to help them or hinder them in their work of attempting to make something of us? You know we aren't exactly little angels, neither are we always polite and courteous. Yet we could be if we tried. It would make things so much pleasanter if we all did our best to cooperate with them and our fellow students, if we tried our best to be helpful and courteous at all times.

How about it?

WHY THE SOUTH HALL?

For some reason or other the south hall on the second floor seems to be quite crowded lately. Many students whose lockers are in the north hall take the south steps and thus cause an avoidable congestion.

If those students will please use the north steps everyone will have more room to move and better time may be made by all.

12 POST GRADUATES ENROLL THIS TERM

There are twelve post graduates attending high school this year. They are: Bob Kimes, Ralph Long, Jr., Gerald May, LaVerne Minser, Melvin Moss, Doris King, Charles Stewart, Betty Ulicny, Martha Wernet, Sarah Zimmerman, Laura Hamilton, and Mary Ruth Allen.

This is about one-fifth of last year's P. G. enrollment.

Young child to mother suddenly exclaimed:

"Oh! mother, mother, look!"
 Mother—"What's the matter, sonny?"
 Sonny—"Look quick, he did it again."
 Mother—"Did what?"
 Sonny—"Why, that trombone player crowded more'n half that horn into his mouth."

HARRIERS RUN TIME TRIALS FRI. NIGHT

Between the halves of last Friday's game the Salem cross country squad held their first time trials of the year. The fastest time was turned in by Kamasky who did the two and one-half mile course in 12 minutes 14 seconds; McFeely was second in 12:28; George Brantingham third in 12:34; Catlos fourth in 12:35; and Ludwig fifth in 12:37.

All the men except Kamasky and McFeely are unknown quantities. Coach Clark is uncertain as to the prospects because of the lack of practice but the school hopes for as good a season as it has had in previous years.

After their school days Salem High Alumnae spread from east to west and from north to south each choosing his own direction.

Books I've Read

Richard Halliburton, twenty-eight-year-old adventurer and author, has just published his fourth book, "The Flying Carpet." He takes to the air on this latest adventure of his and with him goes his friend, Moya Stephens, Jr. "The Flying Carpet" is the plane in which he and Stephens follow a royal road to romance in the air.

Halliburton leads his readers into strange places, into hilarious difficulties, into new appreciations of history and romance. His trip is told gaily and dramatically.

The first place to which "The Flying Carpet" goes is Timbuctoo, (Two Buck Tim's home land) chiefly because it sounds mysterious and far away. Morocco, Persia, Singapore, the cliff carved city of Petra are all visited and described. The two adventurers join the French Foreign Legion and learn the truth about that courageous army. They are entertained in the interior of Borneo.

A book that is worth noticing is, "Manners for Millions," published by Doubleday Doran. It is unusual in that it deals largely with matters of importance in the lives of ordinary people. The material contained in it is not usually found in "etiquette books."

Most "etiquette books" tell one how to dress the butler and the maids; how to give a ten-course dinner for a dozen people; how to carry out an expensive church wedding or how to give a ball.

These are not problems of the average person.

Yet it is possible for everyone to so conduct himself that he may win the admiration and friendship of every worthwhile person with whom he comes in contact.

"Manners for Millions" tells us how this may be accomplished. It tells us all the don't and do's. Since none of us are perfect we might do well to read this valuable guide.

One Neighbor: Your dog howled all night.

Another Neighbor: That's the sign of death. Whose, I wonder?

First Neighbor: Your dog's if he howls again tonight.

Rastus (to Scotchman): Where you' all goin' there, Sandy?

Sandy: Down to the post office to fill my fountain pen.

We have a dandy school yell now—we give the names of four Russian battleships, then a sis-boombah and the names of two Chinese generals.

1st. Stude: What shall we do tonight?

2nd Stude: I'll spin a coin. If it's heads we'll go to the dance, if it's tails we'll go to the movies, and if it stands on edge we'll study.

First Collegian: Did the laundry do a good job on your shirts?

Second Collegian: Heavens, no! The cuffs came back so faint I could hardly read them.

Jimmy—The Hayne Tribunal arbitrates national controversies.

A little girl was discovered by her mother engaged in a spirited encounter with another little girl of her own age. Both combatants showed signs of strife.

The mother took her little girl into the house and talked to her regarding her conduct. "Don't you know it is wrong?" asked the mother. "It was Satan that urged you to fight."

"Well," said the little girl, "maybe he told me to pull her hair, but I thought of kicking her in the shins all by myself."

CAN AN ATHLETE COOK? WE WONDER

How does a football player look, attired in an apron, with an egg in one hand and a frying pan in the other? And to inquire still further, does he find this situation to his entire liking, or otherwise?

Since the organization of the boys' cooking class in which four of our football players have enrolled, these questions have been widely discussed among those individuals who are tortured by curiosity.

The following information is brought to the front by one of those four, a tall Senior lineman, and we might add, co-captain of the team.

The subject is interesting and evidently full of surprises. For instance, he says, "Who would ever think that one must first remove the shell before frying the egg!"

"At the present time," continues this lad, "we need a new deal; she's teaching us how to wash dishes."

But he feels that when this part of the course is over, things will be considerably brighter, and that by the end of the year he will be ready to compete for honors with any girl.

How about it, girls!

"Get something in your eye?"
"No. I'm just trying to look through my thumb."

WHAT A LIFE THESE NEWS HOUNDS LEAD

"What?"
"Where?"
"Are you sure?"
"Why?"
"Who else was there?"
"What are your plans?"
"What did they say?"
"Oh dear! is that all you can tell me?" asks the inquisitive student and getting no reply off he dashes to attack another helpless victim.

At the approach of one of those creatures teachers sigh worried looks creep over their usually carefree faces and after the usual verbal attack they denounce every one of these pests.

The proofs are sent to the printers at last and the Quaker reporters settle down to the regular routine. But they aren't really pests.

THOUGHTS OF A P.G.

"Out of high school at last." That was the thought of the 1933 graduates of Salem High school last June.

Summer passes, Sept. 11th. comes. To those who are not working or going away to school came a pang of loneliness as school started again without them.

A. P. G. course sounds wonderful—to be back again in Salem High, dear old Salem High. We'll go back—how wonderful it will be, happiness to go back, something to do, seeing familiar faces.

We go back; hearts sink, a lonely feeling in the pit of the stomach. Where is all the glamour, all the joy? Feel like an orphan (or like we imagine an orphan feels.)

Left out of it, life goes on without us, we aren't needed, we no longer count.

We're only P. Gs.

Redhead: I hate that man.

Blonde: Why, what did he do?

Redhead: He said I couldn't whistle. Just to show him I puckered up my mouth just as round and sweet, and what do you suppose he did?

Blonde, (blushing): How should I know?

Redhead: Well, he just let me whistle.

MUSIC CLUB HOLDS COVER DISH SUPPER

A covered-dish dinner was a feature at the first meeting of the Junior Music Club at the Salem Country Club Tuesday, Sept. 19.

Initiation of new members followed the business meeting. Miss Helen Derfus is the new assistant supervisor. The officers for this year are: President, Oland Diltworth; vice president, Kathryn Taylor; secretary, Gladys Swinbank; treasurer, Ben Cope.

The club will study modern composers and opera. Kathryn Cessna is chairman of the program committee.

Songs and dancing were enjoyed.

SALEMASQUERS

Plans for tryouts for new members were discussed at the opening meeting of the Salemasquers last week. Alroy Bloomberg, president, circulated a paper which those who wished to join signed. Those trying out may either read a paper that they have written on a stage craft or recite a piece which will be given to them by the committee in charge. There are several new books on stage crafts in the school library, which will supply material for those who wish to write a paper.

SENIORS STAND OPEN FOR REFRESHMENTS

The senior class is carrying out some projects to make money this year. Candy is on sale at the door each night after school, and the senior stand is always open at the football and basketball games.

The money is used for the purpose of building up the class funds.

An oil stove is wanted immediately for the stand at Reilly Field. A small second hand one is preferred, and the senior class will rent it or buy it if necessary.

Anyone having pictures appropriate for the 206 bulletin board should hand them to Miss Beardmore. All contributions will be appreciated.

STRANGE VISITOR ATTRACTS PUPILS

A strange visitor became the object of much interest in a fifth period English class last Tuesday afternoon.

From the ledge outside the window, he quizzically regarded the proceedings taking place within.

Gradually, a friendly rivalry grew between him and the teacher, as both desired the attention of the class.

The newcomer tapped lightly on the window whenever the students appeared to be paying more attention to the English lesson than to him, and become so insistent at times that both the class and the teacher were forced to submit to the evident determination of the visitor.

His quick, bright eyes took in everything.

For a few minutes his attention became centered with genuine interest upon the back of Richard Haines' head. A stray lock of hair waving idly back and forth had attracted his attention.

After some minutes he shifted his position on the ledge, and seemed to be seriously considering departure but before his plans were completed, he saw a tall dark-haired girl walk around the room to a desk just before him. He watched her with apparent interest until she sat down, and then turned his attention again to vigorously tapping on the window.

A general disturbance followed resulting from the attempts of those within to get a better look at the disturber. He was a decided brunette of rather large proportions, with dark, brown eyes.

He didn't seem to mind the curious gazes especially, but when the class resumed the lesson and began a discussion on the case and number of pronouns, an expression of disgust overspread his countenance and he abruptly took his leave.

The identity of the visitor? No he was not one of our late friends the painters, but a big, black crow.

LISTEN TO THESE GREEN FRESHMAN

Much time has passed since that fateful Monday when the verdant Freshman entered Salem High school. Still these same Freshmen are hurrying frantically through the halls in search of lost rooms.

So far our young friend Hostetler is leading the ranks in this field. Not to far behind in pulling down the honors is that little freshman, Parks, who holds up "304" every noon. (Stay away from that locker, Bob.)

"Who gave the bride away?"
"Her brother. He stood up right in the middle of the ceremony and yelled, 'Hurrah, Fanny, you've got him at last!'"

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The Sophomore class has a few new members this year. They are Wade Wilson from Goshen, Ileen Dunn from Leetonia, Vera and Verna Barber from Zanesville, Earl Griffiths from Goshen, John Hamelton from Goshen.

The Sophomore boys who play on the Varsity football team are Paul Williamson, Herman Fisher, Charles Priesler and Edward Pukalski.

FACULTY WANDER FAR AWAY

The following is a resume of how the teachers passed away the summer.

Miss Lanpher had a very busy summer. She spent a few weeks at Lake Chautauqua where she visited a Latin class conducted by Miss Randall. No doubt she has some new and interesting ideas. She also visited the World's Fair and her home in Leetonia.

Mr. Lehman spent most of his summer in Kansas and at the World's Fair.

Miss Lawn had an interesting visit at St. Helen's Lake in Michigan.

Miss Clark managed to break away from his activities for two weeks. He is quite mysterious about where he went.

Miss Smith certainly certainly had a thrilling summer. She traveled extensively through the West. Yellowstone National Park and the Bad Lands being among the high lights of her trip, where she gathered many interesting fossils for her Biology classes.

Mr. and Mrs. Englehart spent several weeks in Canada fishing. They also attended the World's Fair and were much impressed with it.

Mr. Jones attended the state fair at Columbus, where he examined the prize pigs. After looking them over carefully he decided they were better than some high school pupils. Not mentioning any names, of course.

Miss McCready visited Miss Horwell at her home in Wyoming, Pennsylvania.

Miss Peterson went to her home in Nebraska, alone, but didn't return alone.

Miss Lehman visited Chautauqua Lake, New York.

Miss Ritt visited her home in Circleville and attended the World's Fair.

Miss Williams attended the World's Fair and visited Chautauqua Lake.

Miss Shoop spent her summer at 719 E. Fifth st, Salem, Ohio

Miss Hollett visited Lake Chautauqua.

Miss Douglas visited her home in Wellington, Ohio.

Miss Beardmore attended the World's Fair, which she enjoyed very much. She went camping on Lake Erie and took a trip among the Pennsylvania mountains.

Mr. Cope spent his summer in Salem, preparing for school activities.

Mr. Henning attended Ohio State at Columbus and also the World's Fair.

Mr. Guiler spent most of his summer in Salem with the exception of a few excursions such as the state fair.

Mr. Brautigam spent his summer on a farm.

Mr. Springer, a delegate from the Rotary Club attended a convention which was held in Boston. He was accompanied by his mother. He remained in Boston one week. The remainder of his summer was busily spent in planning for school activities.

Miss Hart visited North Conway in the White Mountains, where hiking and horse back riding were the outstanding features.

Mr. Sander had a busy summer getting to and from Portage County.

Miss Cherry attended the World's Fair and visited Canton.

Miss Bickel visited in eastern Pennsylvania.

Mr. Hilgendorf attended the World's Fair and visited the west.

Mr. Brown, our new assistant coach from Dayton, Ohio, went to coaching school at Dover, Ohio.

Mr. Stone spent his vacation fishing with his family.

Miss Miller went to Linwood Park, Lake Erie.

A man was driving along in his model T Ford when suddenly a big Packard passed him up going 90 miles an hour. About three miles up the road the man in the Ford pulled up to a gas station and noticed the man there with the Packard who said "Didn't I pass you down the road about a half hour ago?"

"Yes," replied the man with the Ford.

"Well, what happened, it took you so long to get here?"

The man with the Ford replied. "Well, when you passed me I thought my engine had stalled so I stopped to see what was the matter."
