RUNNERS JOIN IN COLUMBUS MEET

Seven Quaker cross-country runners left for Columbus this afternoon. They are Stanley Kamaskey, Glenn McFeely, Harold Ludwig, George Brantingham, Lewis Catlos, Kenneth Woods and Richard Wernet.

They will compete against the state's best runners tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Coach R. B. Clarke will accompany them.

This year, with only two veterans, Kamasky and McFeely, back, Clarke had to build up a practically new team. The team has won three out of four races, including the district meet at Cleveland last Saturday.

Coach Clarke believes that, barring accidents, the Salem contingent has a very good chance of winning the state championship.

SCHOOL TO HAVE DAY FOR VISITORS

In recognition of National Educational Week, visiting day will be held on Wednesday, November 8. Parents are asked to attend school on this day and to visit classes. Especially are they asked to attend the afternoon session and remain for the assembly.

An interesting program has been planned. A feature of the program will be an address by Mr. Kerr.

Home room teachers will give the pupils invitations to take home to their parents.

SQUAD SEES MOVIE AT STATE THEATRE

Members of the football squad were guests of the management of the State theatre, Monday evening, Oct. 23. The picture, "Saturday's Millions," starring Robert Young and Leila Hyams, dealt with the life of Jim Fowler, star football player of Western State university, who was embittered by the adulation of what he considered "fair weather friends" and convinced that he was popular only because of his ability on the gridiron.

Silence is golden—
And often as heavy!

Quaker Eleven Loses Close Battle with Tigers here Saturday Afternoon

Saturday Salem lost their fourth game this year by a score of 13-12. The fray was a listless one. Wells-ville scored in the first quarter after a series of forward passes and short gains. Another pass accounted for the extra point. The Tigers' second touchdown came when Carter intercepted a Salem pass and ran for a touchdown. In the last of the third quarter Salem capitalized on a couple of breaks to score twice. The first break came when Snyder recovered a Wellsville fumble on the Tiger 11 yard line. Williamson scored standing up. Pukalski's kick was wide. A few minutes later Pukalski picked up Tipton's crazy punt, which had gone straight upon the 28, and took the ball to the two yard line where Fromm took it over. The plunge for the extra point was stopped.

Salem tried desperate passes in the fourth quarter but couldn't click as several passes were intercepted. By playing straight football Wellsville kept out of danger and thus the game ended.

COMMUNITY CLUB TO PRESENT PLAY

"Only Sally Ann," a three-act play, will be presented tonight at 8:15 in the high school auditorium by the Community club players.

The members of the cast are nearly all Salem High alumni and most of them were active in dramatics while in high school. The cast is composed of the following alumni: Helen Shelton, Olin Muntz, Sara Schropp, Doris King, Ruth Moff, Albert Hanna, Lewis Benedict, Max Caplan, Phebe Ellen Parsons Wilhelm, Victor Orashan, and Howard Heston.

SALEM HIGH SCHOOL CUSTODIAN INJURED

Mr. Shinn, one of our high school custodians, suffered severe injuries to his left hand while trying to repair the belt on one of the furnace stokers two weeks ago, Monday morning.

A physician found it necessary to take several stitches in dressing the wound.

UTENSILS FURNISHED

Chemistry class has received a new line of utensils and chemicals this year to replace those lost, broken, or used up last year.

Two important additions are two scales capable of weighing accurately to hundredths of a gram.

ENGLEHART WINNER OF QUAKER CONTEST WITH SCORE OF 29

Douglas Englehart won the Quaker misspelled word contest which ended at 4:00 on the afternoon of Monday, October 23.

He received $2.50 payment on his Association dues as a reward for finding twenty-nine out of a possible thirty misspelled words.

Theda Jane Lockinsky and Hilda Maroscher tied for second place with twenty-eight words.

This contest was sponsored by the Quaker for the purpose of urging the students to read the ads in the paper.

YOUNG PEOPLE GIVE "THE COLOR LINE" AT UNION SERVICE

"The Color Line", a play by the young people of the Presbyterian Church under the direction of Mary Campbell, was given last Sunday night at the Presbyterian Church.

The play was a part of the program given for all churches taking part in the union service. There was also a short musical program.

The cast was as follows: Dudley Ahead, Oland Dilworth, Kathryn Taylor, Duane Dilworth, Martha Wells and Betty Martin. Their director, Mary Campbell, was graduated from Salem High in '31.

JUNIOR RECEIVES QUAKER POSITION

Alex Fratilla, a junior, is the recently appointed assistant to the editor of the Quaker. He will in all probability be advanced to the position of editor-in-chief next year.

His work, which he is now capable of assisting very efficiently, will consist of planning and building each issue of the weekly and also the annual. The editor selects the editorial staff as well as controls the policies of the paper.

At the conclusion of that fast and furious contest for the position of circulation manager, Thomas Bennett's efforts resulting in 94½ column inches of advertising secured for him the reward.

The second highest was Helmut Maroscher who sold 71 column inches, while Charles Berg ranked third, having 47 column inches to his credit.

Through the competitors in this contest the six page issues were made financially possible.

QUAKER OFFICIALS GO TO COLUMBUS

Four members of the Quaker staff accompanied by Mr. Lehman and Mr. Hilgendorf, left for Columbus today to attend the tenth annual convention of the Journalism Association of Ohio Schools there. They are Paul Strader, Jr., Paul J. Smith, John Knepper and Alex Fratilla. The convention started at 2:30 this afternoon and lasts until tomorrow afternoon.

SENIOR TO MANAGE BASKETBALL TEAM

Coach Brown has announced that Francis Strader has been appointed senior manager and manager-in-chief for the 1933-34 basketball team. Harry Safreed, junior, Leroy Green, sophomore and Arthur Bahmiller, freshman, are the assistant managers.

Taking care of equipment, running errands, assisting on trips and officiating in practice games are some of the duties of these managers.

WHERE ARE THE SENIORS?

Whose stand is that out at Reilly Field? I thought it was being run by the seniors this year. What is the matter with the senior class anyway? Haven't we got any pep at all?

There are some seventh grade pupils who go to football games and then sneak in so they can sell popcorn.

At the Chaney game, seventh graders made $.51 for the class and the seniors only made $.56. That is rather a poor showing for the seniors.

I wonder whether we realize just how much this money is going to mean to us, the senior class? If we did perhaps we might show some interest.

SYSTEM IN EFFECT

From now on the point system is to be used to govern the activities of the students.

Here is the way the points are counted. Fifteen points are allowed to the president and secretary-treasurer of the senior class, and to the editor and business manager of The Quaker. Ten points are allowed to president of association, all athletic team captains, and team manager. Five points go to all other officers and also cheerleaders.

No one person is allowed to have more than twenty-five points to his credit, all officers, etc., must have at least a "C" average in order to hold their positions.

All persons having "A" averages are entitled to four activities, "B" averages, three activities; "C" averages, two activities; and "D" averages, one activities.

HE IS QUITE SURE

Who wants to win a milk shake? Arguing and betting are the choice pastimes of a certain 206 senior boy. Following a discussion of "force" in physics class this lad plainly expressed his thoughts about force. "How do you know you're right about force," inquired another bright looking physics fiend. "I'll bet you a milk shake I'm right," was the reply.

This betting man is a varsity line-man on the high school football squad. Do you know who he is? If you don't, and are interested in winning a milk shake, just make his acquaintance.

"Troy Cope Described."

CAN THEY TAKE IT?

"Can you take it?" is rather a popular phrase now. However it holds a world of meaning in those four words even if it is slangy.

What the students and townspeople would like to know is "can the football team take it?" according to all the evidence the obvious answer is "no!" According to tradition Salem doesn't even have a football team this year. At least it doesn't have one that measures up to the school standards. That sounds rather bad doesn't it?

It has been a long time since the Quaker has had to publish an article such as this, but when the team forgets that it is playing for Salem High school, and that it should overlook petty disagreements, something drastic has to be done.

CLUB HOLDS DANCE

A Hallowe'en masquerade was held in the basement of St. Paul's school Monday evening October 23, by the Girl's Catholic High School club. Twenty-three members were present.

Refreshments were served by Rita McNicol, Bernice Matthers, Margaret Loutzenhisser and Jean Layden.

Dancing and games were enjoyed by all.

"Shall I have your lunch brought up to you on deck, dear?" asked the husband of the seasick wife.

"No, love, have it thrown straight overboard—it will save time—and trouble."

CLASS INCIDENTS

He walked all over 307 study hall causing much disturbance until the teacher finally asked him what he was doing. With a shout "Is this Friday?" he hurried for the first exit amid uproarious laughter.

Betty was reciting in her History IV class. All was well until she said, "Caesar had his Brutus and Cromwell had his— oh, I must have my men mixed." Poor Cromwell, I wonder if he was married. Maybe he had a wife.

If it weren't for heros what would the world do? Especially if one gets stuck in his locker as Harry did. Tsk! Tsk! Harry! Just so the girls weren't the rescuers.

"May I have your office a period?" "Yes if you don't bother Mary Jane." "Is she up there?" "Yes." "Well I won't bother her if she minds her own business." A conversation between two members of our faculty.

Richardson's "Pamelt" was the first English novel. Ralph H., "Who wrote it? Well—."

"Teddy, what is propaganda?" Teddy B., "Is't he the fellow over in India?"

"What is an heir of heaven?" "It was the air you went to heaven on." Imagine!

In Commercial Geography class the question was asked "What nationality are the Americans? The student-teacher, answered "A mixture."

JUNIOR NEWS

Although not much has been heard about the juniors, they are still existing. Many have been participating in the various club and athletic activities. The juniors are also anticipating the event of the junior party, which is dated for December 22. Any suggestions as to what kind of a party to have will be welcomed.

Many of you are perhaps wondering what the board with 60 many hooks in Miss McCreedy's room is for. This board is for the benefit of those pupils in 304, who are always forgetting their locker keys. The charge for leaving your locker key on these hooks is one cent a year. Already the boys and girls are profiting from this addition. Don't you think it is a good idea? The pupils in 304 do.

"Yes," said the severe maiden lady, "the word 'mule' is only 'male' spelled wrongly."

"I suppose so," responded the bachelor; "but according to the Latin dictionary a woman is 'mulier'."

Do you know that there is a certain male (Teddy B.) in the freshman class that has all the charm of a Gable or Cooper . . . Don't start after him now, girls, for at the present time there are five senior and two junior girls hot on his trail . . . Who are the unknown persons that are corresponding on a desk in 202? . . . Did you ever see Helen T. mop up dish water? . . . Ask her about the incident . . . Why do people persist in razzing Wayne S? . . . We also heard that the above mentioned seemed to have quite an interest in vanity cases . . . The senior boys and girls certainly looked nice the day that they had their pictures taken, didn't they? . . . While you are asking questions, why not ask Kaie T. why she was carrying a tennis-racquet around school one day about a week ago . . . Have you noticed that Martha H. is missing a few eyelashes? . . . Why do some certain junior boys insist on playing basket-ball in the gym with the girls?

One day two small boys were playing near a country road. A stout lady approached them. "Little boy," said she, "can you tell me if I can get through this gate to the pike?"
"Yes'm, I think so. A load of hay went through five minutes ago."

CARUS MEUS

This tall, broad-shouldered, athletic-looking senior man (that's what he calls himself) comes from 206. Nor is his appearance deceiving—he's on the football team (varsity squad) and plays in every game. He's tall, has dark hair and blue eyes. He's partial to dark-haired members of the opposite sex, preferably from out of town. And—oh, yes!—he's a great believer in the effects of will-power.

Last week Bob Battin was described here.

CARA MEA

Here's another new girl for you to get acquainted with. She's a sophomore and comes from 106. She has black hair, blue eyes and a lovely complexion. She's rather shy, but good fun when you get to know her. She goes with a light-haired young man of the sophomore class. Her initials reversed spell a two-letter word meaning to exist or become.

Last week Jean McCarthy was described here.

Murphy was a new cavalry recruit and was given one of the worst horses in the troop.

"Remember," said the sergeant, "no one is allowed to dismount without orders."

Murphy was no sooner in the saddle than the horse kicked and Murphy went over his head.

"Murphy," yelled the sergeant, when he discovered him lying breathless on the ground, "you dismounted!"

"I did."

"Did you have orders?"

"I did."

"From headquarters?"

"No, sor; from hindquarters."

Pat, Mike and Terry went to war. During a battle Mike's arm was shot off. Running to Pat, he cried: "Oh! Pat, a!ve had me ar-rm shot off."

Pat turned to him in disgust. "Quit yer hawlin'. Look at Terry over there. His head's shot off and he ain't sayin' a word."

A man was fixing his automobile. "Trouble?" asked a bystander. "Some," was the laconic answer.

Going to the blackboard, the teacher wrote this sentence: "The horse and the cow was in the stable."

"Now, children," she said, "there is something wrong with that sentence. Who can correct it and tell what is wrong?"

One small boy waved his hand excitedly and the teacher called upon him.

"It's wrong," he said with importance. "It should be the cow and the horse was in the stable because ladies always ought to go first."
