SALEMASQUERS CLUB HOLDS PLAY TRYOUT

Title of Senior Drama, "Skidding"

Tryouts are being held this week for the Senior class play which is to be presented December 6th and 7th. Miss Lampher, director, has decided upon a three-act comedy by Rouverol, entitled "Skidding."

"Skidding" is a fresh picture of an American family, showing Marion Hardy, a college girl, who falls in love with Wayne Trenton just as a career is opening up to her. Then there are the two pretty young daughters who choose to marry before they finish their education and want to "come home to mother" at the first trouble. Mother Hardy is so upset at the modern tendencies of her daughters that she goes on strike in order to straighten out her family. Young Andy Hardy is an adorable adolescent lad with his first "case." He keeps the audience in a state of merriment. Grandpa Hardy touches the heart with his absent-mindedness and his reminiscents about Grandma; and the white satin slippers he makes for Marion to be married in have a great deal to do with straightening out her love affair.

Though "Skidding" is hilariously amusing, it tells many an underlying truth which audiences are bound to relish.

One of the most welcome days of the autumn season is almost upon us. Who can refrain from a feeling of impatience when he is overcome by the thoughts of parades, tin bands, unwordly figures leaping from the dark spots, frosh dashing about like scared hares, and all other sorts of fun-making which Hallowe'en affords.

In-as-much as I am well acquainted with the age old customs of our school, I take this moment to express my sincerest sympathy to the freshmen, and I hope that their recoveries will be speedy ones.

120 AT SENIOR PARTY IN GYM

About 120 Seniors, together with faculty members, were present at a Barn Party, the Senior's first class party, held in the high school gym last Friday.

Everyone dressed as he pleased; some came as farmers, others wore school clothes. Two were in unusual costume: Harry McCarthy came in a striped dress of Jean McCarthy's; Bob Chappell came dressed like a six year old—shorts, etc. Each boy and girl was given a program cut in the form of a pig.

The gym was decorated to create a rural atmosphere—picket fences, pumpkins, a few rabbits, and corn stocks. A canopy of black and orange crepe paper ribbons hung over the dance floor.

Charles Freed and his orchestra started the evening off promptly at 8:30. Other forms of entertainment besides dancing were ping pong, cards, puzzles and checkers. At intermission, cider, ginger cake and pretzels were served as refreshments; favors of various types were distributed. The dance ended at 11:45.

TRACKSTERS TO GO AWAY FOR DISTRICT MEET

The Salem harriers, accompanied by Coach R. B. "Roughhouse" Clarke, journey to Akron Saturday morning to enter the district meet which is to be held on the Municipal golf course.

Salem's group is composed of Paul Roelen, Ed Kamasky, Lewis Catlos, George Brantingham, Dick Wernet, Bronko Drakulich and Arnold Nye.

Quoting the O. H. S. A. A. rule book: "This year only the winning teams will be permitted to enter the state meet in addition to the other boys who finish among the first ten in the district meet. Last year the runner-up teams were permitted to enter, but with the addition of another center at Dayton the course at the state meet would be congested, and it has been decided to limit the entries to the winning teams and the other boys among the first ten. The length of the course in both the district and state meets will be two miles."

The awards for the district meet are gold medals for the first ten places and sterling for the second ten.

Honor Students Meet Requirements; Make Promises Good for First Six Weeks of Year

The students, who have been able to take advantage of being dismissed from their fourth and seventh period study halls, have faithfully kept their resolutions to make good grades this first six weeks.

This privilege has made an impression on the students, for the first six weeks' report cards show that the students are trying to meet the requirements necessary to take advantage of this privilege.

The office sends out a general appeal to all students to assemble

WOSU RESUMES RADIO COLLEGE

A college education can be attained by graduates unable to attend college since the Radio College has been resumed this year. The daily programs are from 9-11 in the morning and 1-3 in the afternoon over WOSO, State University station, at Columbus. Those who take the course will be given standard college credits.

FORMER SALEM HIGH ATHLETE GUEST SPEAKER

Football stars and coaches gave a very interesting talk over WKBN, Youngstown, a week ago Tuesday night. Among the speakers was Lowell Allen, a former Salem High graduate and now assistant coach at Boardman. He gave the high lights of his athletic career and the most important one was when he was chosen to represent United States in the track meet between Great Britain and United States, at Soldier's field in Chicago.

Change Bus Schedule For Proper Routing

Due to the shift in the schedules of the bus drivers, about ten Butler township pupils are unable to report to school until nearly ten minutes after the first period has commenced.

This shift was necessary for the proper routing of the bus service.

TICE GIVES PEP TALK AT RALLY

Speaker Is Former Pupil Here

Connie Tice, graduate of Salem High School, back from California after going to school there, was at the East Liverpool pep assembly two weeks ago. Connie gave a short pep talk and a cheer. She was given a big hand for her efforts.

DEBATERS HOLD FIRST MEETING; DISCUSS PLANS

At the first meeting of the debate squad held in 309 a week ago last Monday, Mr. Guiler mentioned all the reference books that will be used by the debaters throughout the season, and explained his method of selecting from the twelve members of the squad, a negative and an affirmative team.

The twelve members of the squad will be organized into four teams and after four weeks' work, the best debaters will be chosen from these for the two regular teams.

They are planning to start work immediately.

French Class Reads Well-Known Classic

Miss Lawn's French 11 class has begun the study of the classic, "L'Abie Constantine." Two days a week will be devoted to this book, the remaining part of the week the class will continue with French grammar.

NOVEMBER 2 SET ASIDE AS PARENTS' DAY

Purpose of Day to Show School Habits to Parents

The day set aside for the annual visit of parents falls on November 2 this year. The purpose of this day is to promote cooperation between parents and teacher in the matter of education of their children.

This visit gives the parents a closer insight of the students' reactions to the methods of teaching and reciting. Parents who receive information concerning the school only from their children are likely to form a biased point of view.

The setting aside of this particular day does not mean that they should visit the school on that day only. Parents should visit the school any time they desire or feel it is necessary. It is because they visit the school too little that this day is set aside especially for that purpose. Therefore, we students are urged to inform our parents of this day and persuade them to come, if at all possible.

S. H. S. 11 TO PLAY COUNTY RIVALS

Game With Wellsville to Be Played Sat.

The Wellsville High school football field will be the scene of action in an important county football game between Wellsville and the Quakers of Salem High Saturday afternoon. This game will have an effect on the county standings for this season.

Thus far the Quaker gridgers have engaged in but one county battle, that with East Liverpool, in which they were victorious, and consequently are at the top of the county standing. Saturday, when the Salemites play their first daytime game, a great step toward the completion of the 1934 campaign will have been accomplished.

DEVELOP PERSONAL SPORTSMANSHIP

Probably this title bored rather than interested you as you've heard and read so much about good sportsmanship, especially when the football or basket ball team loses. That is not the kind of sportsmanship I have chosen to tell you about. The kind I am referring to is the personal sportsmanship among students.

If you didn't get selected to do some task or other that you really wanted to do, or if you didn't get voted into some club—don't be a sore-head and say you're going to "get even" and start a lot of trouble around the school.

Such a pupil is certainly not going to be popular or very well liked. If the time ever comes when you are to be selected for a desired honor or such, one is bound to say "Oh, don't get him or her, he's just a sore-head and wants to be the whole cheese."

If you're not in the "things", you want to be in. Just sit back and be patient—you're chance will come, but for heaven's sake don't be a sore-head!

BE YOURSELF!

"Were I a Nightingale, I Would Act the Part of a Nightingale; Were I a Swan, the Part of a Swan."

Do bluff and bluster get one anything? Does imitating another person gain respect for yourself?

E. W. Scripps, the successful newspaper publisher, insisted that he did gain by bluffing. But he realized, of course, that bluff was not enough to insure success. What did really explain his ability to get ahead?

In reality he attributes his success to following his instinct. When in doubt, don't trust your instinct, is his logic.

Bluffing is a mask; sooner or later it will be noticed. Unveil your true character; you will at least be honest with the world.

There is a good deal of difference between holding an individual as an ideal and patterning your conduct by that ideal, and imitating another person who "lisps just too cute" or some such thing.

With all the people there are in this world it appears to me that one would have a greater chance for success in being himself than in bluffing or imitating his neighbor.

The gardener might wish to be an artist. That is a laudable ambition, but the reverse is just as commendable. It is better to be a good gardener, however, than a poor artist.

Cultivate your own talents and shine forth in all your own versatility. If you have any talents, use them in fostering your own success. But be natural!

Be yourself at all times, in all places and to all men. You can't be anyone else and you just eventually lose respect for yourself when you try.

JOKES

The following clipping is from a small boy's essay on a mule:

"The mule is a harder bird than the guse or turkie. It has two legs to walk with, two more to kick with and wears its wings on the side of its head. It is stubbornly backward about coming forward."

An optimist is a man who attends to your eyes. A pessimist is one who fixes your feet.

Teacher: "Can you give me a more elegant rendering of the sentence 'The sap rises?'"

Student: "The boob gets out of bed."

AMERICAN LEGION DONATES BAND $25 FOR UNIFORM FUND

The band has received twenty-five more dollars for the fund to get new uniforms. When Salem had their fall festival the high school band was asked to play for it. So, the night of the Sebring football game the band went down to the festival and gave a band concert before they went to the football game. Mr. Brautigam received a check for $25 from the American Legion for playing for the festival, recently.

WHO'S WHO

John Whinnery, a member of the class of '36, is a great sculptor in the making. His hobby is carving in Ivory soap. He has produced several remarkable pieces. His only pattern is a small picture.

His other hobbies are collecting firearms and amateur photography. His favorite sports are hunting and ice-skating. John is a person well worth knowing. Undoubtedly he will be heard from in the future.

Discuss Cyclone In Physic Class

"Cyclones." That's what the Physic classes are talking about these days. And my! what dreadful things they must be! They tear down houses and buildings, overturn automobiles, and cause the death of many people.

"Why, I know of one," states the Prof., "that laid the slats of a corn crib into a nice long board walk."

Then Roland Schaffer, in the back of the room, shouted: "Did it shell the corn?"

SENIORS QUAKE AT LIONS' ROAR

"A lion is loose," cried Margie and Horace Monday night, when a terrible roar roared outside, someplace within fifty feet of the house.

The roar roared again, closer. Margie left her chair in a convulsive leap; Horace likewise jumped. "Dooms day has come," they screamed.

"Haw, haw," laughed the roar, no longer roaring, "Haw, haw."

Margie decided to investigate, while Horace drew designs on the carpet with his shoe. Upon arriving outside she discovered Ralph Hixenbaugh, with his big bass horn, looking in the window.

POPULAR 'PIC' TALKED ABOUT BY STUDENTS

"Oah! Look at that handsome boy!" "But don't you love that dress pattern?" "Yes, I think it's just too ducky for words!" What does it all mean? It's students ecstatically examining the "Pic". You don't know what the "Pic" is. Well take a look at your Quaker of two weeks ago.

The new advertising supplement seemingly went over with a bang. The pictures, including sports, movies, and styles, constitute an entertaining addition to the Quaker. So if you hear remarks of the above kind, don't think somebody's crazy, and don't think that the good little pupils are stealing time to look at the rotogravure section of the Sunday paper.

Girl at game (watching huddle on the field): "There they're at it again! I do hope Bill doesn't repeat the story I told him last night."

HEARD IN OUR HALLS

"For now, the corn house filled, the harvest home,
Th' invited neighbors to the husking come
A frolic scene where work and mirth and play
Unite their charms to cheer the hours away."

The spirit of Halloween pervades the air! And you can bet, that did the sinisters figures skulking in the shadows, your Hearer can be heard! For at what other time would I have a chance to see, as well hear so much!

First, perhaps you can answer this query: why—someone wants to know—was Jane Metzger so irritated at Betty Martin's "Open House" for the Salem-Liverpool game?

I happen to know that there are two senior girls (not to mention many underclassmen) who think there's nobody quite like our editor!

And what's this power young Gilson Koenreich holds over the seniors? They say the competitions almost too much for the younger classes.

Why was T. J. Lochinsky's face so red when she and Gert Harris drank one glass of rootbeer from 4 straws (now don't blame me for this feat! Some one seemed very insistant about its getting in!!)

Bob Schwartz was once quite alarmed about the cost of a lemon-sophsate! Why? Ask the aforementioned Gertie!

And who's this "Eddie" whose name is so prominently displayed on the Tilly Linders tablet? Tsk! Tsk! "You Gotta be a Football Hero" it seems!

I've discovered the most excellent way to get Jim Bruce's donder! Just call him "Gentleman Jim"—then stand aside and let the fury!

It seems that Bill Crouch and Jack Harroff quite captured the hearts of the fair members of E. Liverpool's cheerleading squad! Well, well! It must be that fiery red hair, Bill. Jack, you know, is reputed to have quite a technique!

So Ruth Lantz and Emily Skyola must journey to Springfield to see—eh? Give him my love next time, gals!

Then I heard something about Gail Herron and Helen—

There's something else I'd like to know. Who set Jack Harroff's hair so nice the other day? It was pretty—but really, Jack!

I must run now, I rather feel that Somethin's lookin' over my

But why does Martha Schmid want to take her boy-friend to hygiene class? It seems that certain kinds of food tend to upset our dispositions thereby causing many petty lovers' quarrels. Martha wants him to learn a perfect diet! !

SALEM HI LOSES TO SOUTH TEAM

South Runs Up Score In Last Half

South High gridsters turned back Salem High eleven 26-0 in a loosely fought game at South field last Saturday night. The lopsided score was quite an upset to fans of both teams because the two teams were considered to be about equal. South was minus the services of two veterans, who had received injuries in the Massillon game and for this reason was thought to be much weakened.

The first half was evenly fought. Both teams seemed to gain easily but could not put on the gas long enough to score. The second half however, produced a rejuvenated South team.

On the first play a Red and Blue ball carrier cut back through tackle for 55 yards and a score. This was followed in a few minutes by a blocked punt which was picked up in midfield and carried across the goal line 40 yards away. An intercepted pass and a reverse off tackle accounted for the other scores.

A sudden stubborn defense by Salem scrubs spoiled another score after an intercepted pass had put the ball on the 1 yard line. The game ended before a fourth play could be run.

Noted Bad Man Goes West; Studes Mourn

Dick Eakin's V16 was returned to its original owners.

The State Police have had to run "Dillinger" down three times to warn its driver of reckless driving and driving at night without lights.

A group of High school students mourn the death of "Dillinger" because they will now have to walk to school.

DISTANCE RUNNER SUSTAINS INJURY

George Brantingham sustained injuries at the Salem-Barberton cross-country meet last Saturday afternoon by falling in the ashes of the track. A Barberton man tripped Brantingham, who skinned his left shoulder and knee as he fell. In spite of the loss of this valued runner, Salem won the meet, 14-49.

New Club Holds Second Meeting; Chooses Emblem

The second meeting of the 6% club was held at the home of Dorothy Rakestraw a week ago Thursday night. Plans for a Hallowe'en party to be held Monday, Oct. 29, were discussed. Eats and entertainment committees were appointed.

Club emblem were chosen by the girls, who voted their colors to be brown and gold.

After the business meeting a social period was enjoyed, with cards and dancing as chief diversions of the evening.

Two senior girls, Helen Gobley and Margaret Sell, were guests.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Francie Juergens.

New arm chairs have been issued to the rooms having insufficient seating capacity. Before the new chairs were issued, the students had to use folding chairs which were very inconvenient to their users. The students are very grateful to the school for their new seats.
