

CAMPBELL ELECTED PRESIDENT 4TH. TIME

QUAKER SENDS DELEGATION TO STATE PARLEY

Editor, Business Manager and Staff Advisors to Attend

Full Program Planned

Again this year the officials of the Quaker are planning to attend the convention of the Journalism Association of Ohio High Schools in Columbus, Ohio. This year the Salem delegation will include Charles Freed Jr., editor; Charles Davidson Jr., business manager, and the faculty advisors: Mr. R. J. Hilgendorf and Mr. H. C. Lehman. Assistants to Freed and Davidson, who will be chosen in the near future, will also attend the convention.

The date for the event is somewhat earlier this year than heretofore to make it possible for convention guests to witness the Ohio State University-Northwestern football game. The boys will leave Friday morning, October 18, and return either Saturday. During their stay the Quaker officials attend meetings and Round Table discussions dealing with the publication of a school paper. They attend a banquet and dance Friday evening, where competition of rival school papers takes place.

Last year the Quaker representatives gained many new ideas at the parley and expect to use many of them during the period in which their regime is in power. Several times in the past years both the Weekly and the Annual Quaker have won awards at the convention. Although the contest was discontinued last year it is being renewed for 1935 and the Quaker Board expects to enter again.

Alliance Man To Succeed Springer As NEO President

Fred Stuckey, faculty manager of Alliance High School was elected president of the Northeastern Ohio Big Six League for the 1935-36 season at a meeting held at the Mansion Tea House, Monday, September 23.

Other officers elected were: Vice-president, S. E. Ackley of Massillon; secretary-treasurer, Andrew Lindsay of Struthers.

Retiring President W. J. Springer was in charge of the meeting. Mr. Springer called for comments on the football outlook of each school following the banquet.

Coach Smith, speaking for Salem, said "Our outlook at present is anything but good. We have a green team. The team showed its inexperience against Sebring and they were lucky last week against Struthers."

Classes Of '37, '38 Re-elect Presidents

Students Again Pick Wentz And Shears Frosh to Organize Soon

Kenneth Shears and Charles Wentz were reelected presidents of the classes of '37 and '38 at the class elections Friday morning.

With the junior elections, Kenneth Shears begins his third year at the helm of his class. Charles Wentz, also resumes his duties as the president of the Sophomore class.

Other Junior officers that were elected are Arthur Bahmiller, vice president, and Reba Dilworth, secretary-treasurer.

Harold Hoperich and Stella Fidoe were chosen as vice president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

The Freshman class, who are already selling Football Schedule Pencils in order to raise funds, have not yet held elections but will organize the class at the beginning of the second semester.

Senior Stand Sells Out At Home Games

Due to the willingness and cooperation of so many Senior students, the Senior stand at Reilly Field, has been more than successful this year. More volunteers than ever before have offered to help with this class project.

During both the Sebring and Struthers football games, the stand was completely sold out at the half. Therefore Miss Beardmore, who is in charge of the Senior stand, announced that twice as many items would be purchased for the coming games.

This Senior class is the first to use the new electric hotplate which was part of the gift of the class of '35. It has many advantages over the old one.

At the Sebring game the stand cleared $11.09, and at the Struthers game $19.09, making a total of $30.49. Another $20.00 is expected to be added to the Senior fund, at the Youngstown East game, Friday, October 4th.

S. H. S. Harriers Meet Barberton Hi In Dual Meet Here Tomorrow

Coach R. B. Clark's harriers will meet Barberton High in a dual meet here tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The local harriers with four lettermen back this year should experience no great difficulty in defeating the visitors, but in cross-country as well as in any other sport, the old dope can often be upset.

Last season the Salem High runners defeated the Barberton team 17 to 47.

HI-TRI ACTIVE AS NEW RULE IS EFFECTIVE

Large Membership Becomes Problem

New Members Initiated

Whether or not the Hi-Tri shall be divided into two separate groups is the important question now before the club.

The new membership rule recently adopted states that any Junior girl and any Senior girl having a B average for the past three years, is automatically taken into the club. Therefore, the present Hi-Tri roll includes 74 girls.

Because of this, the plan of having a Junior and a Senior Hi-Tri was extensively discussed, but it was decided that the spirit of cooperation and friendship would be lacking if the group was divided in any way.

However, another idea to reduce the membership has been adopted, and that is through strict attendance rules. So any girl who misses two meetings without reasonable excuse is dropped from the roll.

Last Friday 50 Juniors and Seniors were invited into the club and those who accepted were officially taken in at the Hi-Tri meeting Wednesday, October 2.

CHEER LEADERS DON NEW SUITS AT GAME TONITE

Faculty Manager, Fred Cope has announced that four new cheer leader's outfits, consisting of scarlet corduroy pants, and scarlet Jerseys, have been purchased by the school. Four medium sized megaphones will also be furnished.

Mr. Cope also announced the adoption of a new plan this year, in awarding cheer leaders their letters. The letters will be given with the uniforms, and may be kept by them providing they meet the requirements.

The new outfits will make their first appearance at the Youngstown East game tonight.

Advisor Stresses Cooperation At First Junior Class Meeting

Miss Horwell, Junior class advisor, made official welcome to all Juniors at the class meeting a week ago Thursday.

She announced that to make the Junior class a success each student must cooperate. This year there is the Junior party and the Junior play, which means, she pointed out, there will be more work. The fact that money is needed when Juniors enter their Senior year makes it necessary for each one to fall in line and cooperate to best of his ability.

PRESIDENCY CINCHED WHEN SENIOR AMASSES ONE THIRD OF CLASS NOMINATION VOTES

QUAKER SQUAD WILL BATTLE EAST TONIGHT

BARRETMEN HOPE TO KEEP RECORD CLEAN

Coach Lew Smith's Quakers will be host to the strong East High gridders of Youngstown tonight under the floodlights of Reilly Stadium.

Coach Dick Barret, who took over the coaching reins of East High this year, has promised the East-siders a "new deal" in football.

A tough and scrappy team, as the results of Barret's injections of enthusiasm and inspiration, will meet the onslaught of the weighty Smithmen.

Fresh from the 6 to 0 victory over Youngstown Ursuline, the East gridders will come to Salem in search of win number 2 and the local fans can expect a stiff, hard fought battle.

The Salem cheering section and band will again sit on the west side of the stadium as they did at the Struthers game.

SENIOR HI-TRI GIRLS HOLD MEETING

Senior members of the Hi-Tri held a business meeting Monday evening, September 23rd, at the home of the faculty advisors to plan for the initiation of new members.

The committee in charge of the initiation was:

- Jeanne Auld, chairman
  - Verna Brown
  - Bernice Matthews
- The committee in charge of issuing the invitations was:
- Lois Pidgeon, chairman
  - Marjorie Eckstein
  - Jeanette Astray

Because all Junior and Senior girls with a B average are to be admitted to the club, much work in the principal's office is required in checking the grades. This year, Zoa Slutz was appointed to do the work.

Meeting of the members was last Friday.

Initiation started last Monday and closed Thursday.

Miss Horwell and Miss McCready are the faculty advisors.

Vance Stewart and Lois Dilworth Get Offices Election Held Friday

In the Senior Class election, last Friday, James Campbell was unanimously chosen president. In the nomination Campbell tallied more than one third of the vote of the Senior class. According to election rules, if this takes place, the one receiving one third of the votes is chosen, and the election need not be carried on.

The other officers chosen by the Seniors were, vice president, Lois Dilworth; sec.-treasurer, Vance Stewart.

Campbell sets a unique record in that he has held the office of President for the class of '36 ever since its organization four years ago. When the class of '36 entered Salem High School as Freshmen it marked the beginning of a tradition which is now a regular event: the organization of the Freshman class and their election of officers. At the first election a freshman class in Salem High school had ever held, James Campbell was elected president. His reelection took place during the Sophomore year and Junior year.

Lois Dilworth and Vance Stewart have also served the Senior class in an official capacity during their High school experience.

"Is this a one piece bathing costume?"
"Yes, Madam! Count it."

Debate Coach Sends Call For Orators At First Try Out

Those students interested in debate will soon know whether or not they are destined to be members of the team. Tryouts were held last night and will be held again tonight.

These speeches, to be presented orally to Mr. Guiler and his assistant judge, Mr. Henning, must be at least five minutes long; the subject that of the candidate's own choosing.

Instructor Tries New Class Idea

To break the monotony of the study of grammar, Mr. Lehman's third year English classes are reserving one day of every week to communicate to one another interesting articles of any nature. Each class is divided into several groups of five or six so that everyone has a chance to recite. After each pupil has given a summary of a magazine article, if time permits, the most interesting ones from each group are given before the entire class.

WANDERLUST

By JANE METZGER

I can hear the ocean pounding as it breaks upon the shore, I can feel upon my face the spray and foam; And the wanderlust within me bids me travel off once more To the distant foreign lands where I may roam. The spell of other countries—ah, it lures me on and on To the mystic, magic Indies and Cathay; I may pause with setting sun, I may linger till the dawn But I'll rise and wander on at break of day. I shall climb the highest moun- tains; I shall cross the desert sands, I shall mingle with the kings of Araby; For a wand'rer holds the whole world in the hollow of his hands And with such a wide domain, he, too, is royalty.	I shall sail the southern waters in my little schooner-ship; As it, birdlike, flies across the azure sea To the balmy isles of Paradise, where palm tops sway and dip And the monkeys leap and climb from tree to tree. Through the jungles of the tropics, to the tundras of the North I shall make my way along the rover's trail; I shall sing the songs of gypsies as I wander back and forth. I shall halt for neither hurricane or gale. But at last, my travels ended when I am old and frail For the day will come when I must cease to roam The wanderlust exhausted, I'll desert the gypsy trail And so thankful, oh, so thankful for a cozy little home.

Officers Named At Business College

Students of the Salem Business college held an election of officers for 1935-36 yesterday, naming William Bowles of Columbiana, a second year student, president.

Other officers are: Secretary, Ruth Cobourn of Greenford; treasurer, Mrs. Joanna Eddy.

Plans were made for a picnic and wiener roast to be held Oct. 16 in Youngstown. The committee in charge of the affair is composed of Louise Cipolloni, Wellsville; Paul Finney, Lisbon; Rebecca Snyder, Salem, and Virginia Rill, Beloit.

Youthful Patrol Takes Up Duties

Traffic Officer Ed Piller and school officials will meet shortly to complete plans for the organization of a junior police unit in Salem.

The school boy officers, already on duty, will be given special police badges, Piller said today, besides rain capes.

The junior officers are on duty at St. Paul's parochial school as well as the five public grade schools of Columbia Street, Prospect, Reilly, and Fourth Street.

The Waggin' Tongue

BILL CROUCH

Jealousy is the root of all harsh words.

(Here, here! Gabby!)

Diary—Oct. 29—Flopped out of bed on account of chicken and waffles—besides the Editor says I gotta hand my column in tomorrow, or he'll get ten guys to help him throw me off the staff. Had to get inspiration so I gazed at picture of beautiful Russian Countess all afternoon and sure enough, it gave me ideas.

Results!

This Bichsel-Crawford affair, which should have broken up ages ago, judging from the average lengths of most cases of puppy love, seems at last to have terminated. At least it looks mighty suspicious when Vince Horning escorts Evelyn to school and Harry escorts Helen Thompson. Hah! and doesn't that young playboy Joe Herbert fit in their somewhere? Joe, we heard that you and Helen were just like that!

Mr. Snyder's little boy Ralph gave a party at his home last night in honor of his 17th birthday.

Those who attended were Alden West and Grace Lozier, Arthur Papesch and Jeanette Flick, Charles McCloskey, Janet Walker and Avon Sheen. After a delightful chicken dinner, various games were played such as Dominoes, boheckers, button button, who's got the button. Since there were two football men, Tunney and West, the party wound up at eight-thirty.

Due to so much important news, the Alumni article must needs be eliminated this week . . . This boy Carey keeps going to Sebring; is her name Mae Wall, Dave? . . . Which reminds me that Harroff knows a Betty Mymthe in Sebring . . . A lot of the males around this here school would like to know if Betty Martin can see anyone but Tweety '35.

The band was moanin' low, the lights were burin' low Yowsah! and Toots was feelin' lower still.

Marge shouldn't have left her escort and gone with that Ex-Grad—but then you were just looking for your earring, even if it was pitch dark and you didn't have any matches, nicht wahr?

Although broken hearted when Chiz '35 left for Chi, it looks like "li'l Marjie is herself again Hah!

'Nuff Sed!

The prim old lady was dining one evening and while the waiter was standing by the table she asked him to find out the title of the number the orchestra was playing. Other duties claimed the waiter for a time, and when he returned the lady had completely forgotten her request! Imagine her confusion when he bent toward her and whispered: "What can I do to make you love me?"

Teacher: Can you give me an example of wasting energy?

Schwartz: Telling a hair-raising story to a bald-headed man.

Indignant Customer: "Look here, waiter, I found a hair in the ice cream, one in the honey, and another in the applesauce."

Waiter: "Well, the hair in the ice cream probably came from shaving the ice; the hair in the honey no doubt came from the comb, but I'll be darned if I know how the hair got in the applesauce. My boss buys nothing but baldwins."

"I suppose your father wants to borrow something again?"

Delmar: "Yes, please, Mr. Jones. He wants to know if you could lend him a corkscrew?"

"A corkscrew?" Why certainly! You run along, Delmar; I'll bring it around myself."

Mother: "I advertised under a different name, stating that I would like to make the acquaintance of a refined gentleman with an eye to romance."

Marjorie: "How awful! Did you get any replies?"

Mother: "Yes! Only one, from father."

Rastus was dead. A wonderful funeral was in progress. The preacher talked at great length of the good traits of the deceased brother; what a good honest man he was; what a good provider for his family; what a loving husband and father. "Johnny," whispered the widow finally, "go up dare an' take a look in dat coffin an' see if dat's yore pa."

An Irishman, while walking down the street, was stopped by a gentleman who asked him for a match.

"Thank you," responded the gentleman. "You know, I am a man of importance at home. I am Sir Ralph Snyder, Jr., Knight of the Garter, Knight of the Iron Cross, Knight of the Golden Fleece, and Knight of the Eagle. And what's your name, my good man?"

"Me name's Michael Murphy, night before last, last night, to-night, tomorrow night and every other night."

Mr.: "Who put mustard on the waffles?"

Mrs.: "How could you? This is lemon pie!"

Doctor: "Congratulations, Governor, you're the father of triplets."

Politician: "I demand a recount."

First Soldier: "What makes the major look so angry this morning?"

Second Soldier: "He just received a letter marked 'Private.'"

He-Man Moffett: "My motto is, 'An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth,' what's yours?"

Insurance Salesman: "Five hundred dollars for an eye, $50 for a tooth, and a thousand dollars for accidental death."

Mrs. Bichsel: "But, my son, don't you think that new topcoat is a little loud?"

Harry: "No, Mother, you see I always wear a muffler with it."

Miss Lawn: "Where is the capital of the United States?"

Arthur J.: "All over the world."

Six-year-old Martha came home after her first day in school and was greeted by her mother. "Well, darling, how did you get along? What did they teach you?"

Martha shook her head. "Not much. I've got to go back again."

Mrs. Harris was greatly excited when a neighbor came in to call upon her one morning.

"Just think," said she, "that fellow entered in broad daylight and actually stole the clock off the mantel."

"And you say your dog was in the very same room?"

"Yes, but he couldn't do anything," returned Mrs. Harris. "Fido is only a watchdog."

Mrs. Fadhunter: "Are you doing anything for the relief of war sufferers?"

Mrs. Goodsole: "Yes, I'm at the head of a society organized to collect castoff straw hats to feed the starving cavalry horses."

"Your name, please, Miss?"

"Iona Carr."

"Oh, you do? What make?"

Game Details Amplified

A press box was erected at the Kelly Stadium last week for the convenience of the home and visiting press men.

The stand is built on the fifty yard line and will have a clear view of the whole field. It is built on the same plan as the other large press boxes at large stadiums which contains a bench and desk at the front and a bench and desk on the back of the box.

Although it was rumored that the games would be broadcasted it will not come about this year, but Mr. Walker from Cleveland was here to dedicate the box last week at the Cather's game. Mr. Walker broadcasted some of the big games such as Notre Dame and others.

The Board of Education thinks that in building this box that not only will the stands hear each play of the game from loud speakers but the press will have a better place to write their stories of the game.

SALEM SAMSON SHOWS STUFF; BOME SHOT!

A hush fell over the semi-circle as a young man about the "High-Striker" in the penny arcade "Toar" advanced. Nonchalantly he stalked through the crowd and stopped before the study machine.

Silently they watched as he slowly raised one huge fist and struck the leather pad. Thirty young male minds wondered. Could he do it? Here the bulging muscles of those massive shoulders strong enough to pound the gong? The sullen thud echoed through their minds. The tiny leaden star never moved.

Fury blackened Julian's eyes. "Gh!" he stormed, raising ponderous paws high above his tumbled head. Menacingly the human hammer catapulted downward. Thirty mouths fell open. Dizzily the star ran up the narrow track. Through the night air rang the thin high sound of the bell, accompanied by the crash of shattering glass. Fearfully sixty eyes sought in shining ell. Along the lower edge opened yawning dent. Frank grunted with satisfaction. . . The might of Toar.

100 Victories Is Aiken's Record

When Canton McKinley defeated Akron South recently it was the 100th victory for Jimmy Aiken in 13 seasons of high school coaching. Aiken started his coaching career in 1922 at East Washington, Pa., where his team won nine straight games. In 1923 he was out of the scholastic ranks, but returned in 1924 when he coached at Findlay, O., high school. In two seasons here he won 18 games and lost only two. The next six seasons, Aiken spent at Toledo Scott where his teams won 45, lost eight and tied two. In three years at McKinley, Aiken has won 27 contests, while losing four. He is a graduate of Washington & Jefferson college.

Hah! So That Big Bad Wolf Known As Last Years Editor Frightens Little Junior Girls?

There was no moon, no stars, no nothing—not even a silvery cloud floated through the serene heavens.

All was peace and quiet while a little Junior girl, one of your own classmates, you Juniors, trudged along wearily toward her home about 9:30 the other p. m.

It seems that our little friend was lift marooned on the steps of one of Salem's leading drug stores by her parents. 'Twas an accident, of course; she was too late and her parents too early.

Feeling the effects of a hard day at school and the pangs of loneliness for her S. P. who, by the way, is entering Ohio State as a Freshman this year, she noticed a green '34 V-8 go slowly by her but the car suddenly gained speed and was gone. She, thinking the driver had mistaken her for someone else, walked on undisturbed. But when, several minutes later, the same car drew up beside her and stopped she began to wonder if, perhaps, she wasn't the person that was wanted after all.

"What's the matter, gettin' a sample of the night air?" a voice from within the V-8 inquired.

home from the movies," was the prompt reply.

"Want a lift?"

"No, thanks, mother warned me against riding home with strange men—any more."

"Strange men? I guess you don't remember your old ex-editors, do you?" inquired the mysterious voice again.

"No, I guess I don't," but when suddenly the face of the driver was poked out of the window a startled but relieved laugh came from our friend as the familiar visage smiled at her in return.

"Gosh! I thought I was going to be taken for a ride; the wrong kind of ride, I mean," came from the innocent Junior.

"Want to go for a ride?" was the hurried question.

"No, guess I'd better not. I've got plenty of lessons to get, and you know how we Juniors study!"

"Yea? If that's true, miracles never cease."

The ride home was loads better than walking, but she still thinks it was an injustice to her S. P. when it's been such a short time since he left for O. S. U.

Succumbs Again To Love "Heartbraker" Joe

What is it? Is it a budding love or is it just a bloomin' romance? Well, whatever it is, they've both got it plenty bad. Every seventh period Helen just sits in the auditorium and thinks of Mgr. Joe. And if she can find someone to talk to, then she talks about him. Dear, dear, ain't love grand? What! You don't know who these people are? Well, I can't mention names, but the initials are Thompson and Herbert.

DOPE BUCKET

NOTE: This year the Dope Bucket will try to be on a more interesting scale. Last year it was simply a straight fact and statistical column. Any suggestions to better the column will be taken into consideration.

DICK WERNET,
Sports Editor

At the time of this writing we still have several lads on the football injury list: Patterson, Snyder, Williamson, West and Battin.

Correct This Sentence: All football players like cod liver oil! You know, that luscious, sweet stuff.

Coach Smith does not take cod liver oil—Hmmm.

Talk of the U. S. withdrawing from the 1936 Olympics for the reason that Germany forbids Jews within her boundaries is causing a great fuss in the sports world at large.

And then in our own little sports world rumors float around that our efficient football manager, Smiley Herbert, is being captivated by our football girl, Helen Thompson.

'NOTHER NOTICE: This is not a scandal column.

The Talk About the 9½ seconds overtime in that Louis-Baer fracas over time reminds this column of the short quarters in the Salem-Sebring game.

THERE SEEMS TO BE a great deal of competition between 'Schog' Roelen and 'One Lung' Barthalow in Cross Country.

RESERVE SUMMARIES

A veteran Leetonia High football squad defeated the Salem High reserve footballers 19 to 0 in a practice game played at Reilly stadium last Wednesday afternoon.

The experienced Leetonia team had little difficulty in winning over the Salem scrubs as the latter team was composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores.

Fire Laddies Help "Jimmy," Lost, Find His Way To School

Little Jimmy found his way to school today. He is a pupil in the first grade of the Columbia street building.

Yesterday he came into the fire station at city hall crying, "I'm lost." But between sobs the firemen managed to learn that he had started out for school and that the little fellow just didn't know how to get there. He then had become frightened for he wasn't even sure of the way back home.

The firemen who were busy shining the fire trucks, laid down their polishing cloths to quiet "Jimmy" as he called himself. An extra large sob made his last name sound like "Bender" or "Vendor".

Fireman Jim Groner wiped the tears from Jimmy's eyes, took his hand, and several minutes later explained to the teacher that her tardy pupil had a good excuse.

SEBRING SUMMARIES

The highly-touted Salem High gridders were held to a scoreless tie by a small but scrappy Sebring High team in a game played under the lights of Reilly stadium a week ago last Friday.

Salem, while greatly outweighing their opponents, were unable to score when the opportunities were offered them. On three separate occasions the Quakers drove deep into their enemies' territory but were unable to penetrate the stubborn defense of their smaller foes.

In the initial quarter Burns, Sebring end, fumbled the ball and Hanzlick recovered the oval for Salem. After two line plunges Tibbs passed to West for a touchdown, but it was called back and the Quakers were penalized because of backfield motion.

With just a few minutes left to play, the Smithmen started a march down the field that netted them three first downs in succession, but what looked like a victory march was halted in mid-field when an assortment of passes failed to connect.

The lineups:

Salem.	Pos.	Sebring.
King	.....L.E.....	Burns
Snyder	.....L.T.....	Fullerton
Patterson	.....L.G.....	Eells
L. Julian	.....C.....	Freetage
Moffett	.....R.G.....	Workman
F. Julian	.....R.T.....	Armitage
Hanzlick	.....R.E.....	Mercer
Tibbs	.....Q.B.....	Smith
West	.....L.H.....	Iddings
Yeager	.....R.H.....	Walker
Williamson	.....F.B.....	S. Campbell

Officials—Wagner, Warren, referee; Ray Reasbeck, John Carroll, umpire; Hal Smith, Massillon, head linesman.

The football boys have decided that it is harder to take cod liver oil than to play football. Mr. Smith suggests that they do both.

Several gallons of cod liver oil have been purchased, which are to be drunk to advantage by the football boys. Most of the boys consider this undue punishment, but Coach Smith insists that for bigger and better football players the oil must be taken.

Les Julian says he is one of the few who can take it; he claims that he drank half a bottle of the stuff. While most students agree that this sounds "fishy," witnesses can be summoned to prove it.

CLASS OF '35 GIFT FOUNTAIN IS INSTALLED

A white porcelain drinking fountain, the gift of the class of '35 made possible through their funds, was installed in the Gym during the summer.

It is placed at the entrance of Miss Hanna's office where it will not be in danger of being damaged. The fountain will save many steps for members of the Gym classes, basketball players, and spectators in-as-much as it is nearer than any others. It will also tend to relieve congestion at the fountains in the dressing rooms during basketball.

Columnist Discusses Timely Subject In Discourse

The distinguished Mr. "Gabby" Hixenbaugh Esq., of the "Gabby" "Toots" "Freed" Corp. took it upon himself to tell the fourth period Public Speaking class, "The Power of the Belch," being a very cultured and experienced speaker, on any subject, about the human anatomy.

He commenced his speech to be humorous. It was to everyone but Mr. Guiler. "Gabby" gave "Webster's" views on the subject and was about to give his own when Mr. Guiler informed him his speech was outlawed in this school. "Gabby" thought it over and has decided to start delivering orations to the lovelorn.

Coach Jones Holds Tennis Tryouts Wed.

New System Of Picking Team Is Used

It may be Autumn but the prospective tennis team for next year is just beginning. A meeting was held in Mr. Jones' room last Wednesday. As only one member of last year's tennis team is back this year and Mr. Jones does not know what kind of a game the other boys play, he started a small tournament. The boys who make the best showing in these games which began last Thursday will be chosen to play on the next year's team.

About twelve boys were out for the team. There is something a little different this year than in former years. In years before Mr. Jones has not called a meeting for all those interested in tennis. Instead he has some idea as to whom he could have to represent Salem High school in tennis. But this year, as he had no information about any of the boys, other than Dave Carey of last year's team, he has issued a call for all those interested in making the team. The tournament was played at the Salem Country club.

Mother: "Why Bill, aunt Jane won't kiss you with that dirty face."
Bill: "That's what I thought too."

Supt. Kerr Speaks To Teachers At Leetonia

Mr. Kerr was the guest speaker at a banquet sponsored by the Kiwanis club of Leetonia a week ago last Tuesday night.

The banquet, in the Lutheran church of Leetonia, was for the teachers of Leetonia and the Leetonia consolidated schools.

The subject of Mr. Kerr's speech was "School Teachers." He spoke of the attitude toward teachers of today, as compared with that of 20 years ago.

Another feature of the program was a reading, "Earning Missionary Money," by Zoa Slutz.

Onlooker: "I wonder who the other 999 persons are."

Fred: "Bob, I'm surprised to see you tease a cat like that."

Bob: "Do you know a better way?"
