Roelen Wins 1st Place At N.E.O. Meet

Other Salem Runners Win High Places At Akron Saturday

Favored In State Meet

The Salem High cross country team, coached by R. B. Clarke, won the district meet, held at the Municipal Golf Course in Akron.

The Quaker harriers won the meet with 43 points, Akron East was second with 47 points while Barberton placed third with 63. These three schools will represent this district in the state meet which will be held at Columbus, the date for which is not yet known.

Paul Roelen, Salem's ace runner, took first place, a few yards ahead of Brandt, Akron East star. Harold Culler, sophomore flash finished fourth while Eddie Kamaky placed tenth.

Eleventh, seventeenth, eighteenth and twenty-first places were taken by Lew Catlos, Ray Barthalow, Dick Wernet and Bob Whitehill respectively.

The winning time was 10:13, which is only thirteen seconds over the state record of ten minutes flat.

Ten full teams were entered in the meet and approximately 78 runners participated in the event. This is the largest entry of any district in the state. Three members of the Salem High cross country team, Paul Roelen, Harold Culler and Eddie Kamaky, received gold medals while Lew Catlos, Ray Barthalow and Dick Wernet were awarded sterling medals.

During the six years he has coached cross country at Salem High, Coach Clarke has produced four district winners and two state championship teams.

Former S. H. S. Girl Weds Denver Man At Home Ceremony

Miss Mary Jane Shoe, daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Shoe of East Seventh st. and former member of Salem High School, became the bride of Logan Coppock of Denver, Colo., in a lovely home wedding at 4 p. m. Wednesday, Oct. 23.

The bride was attired in white satin and carried a bouquet of baby mums. Miss Mary Coppock, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and Nathan Caplan served as best man. Other attendants were little Mary Louise Franklin of Youngstown and Barbara Jean Lantz, niece of the groom.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. F. Bailey, pastor of the First Friends Church, in the living room of the bride's home. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the Shoe home.

The pianist was Miss Lois Dilworth, who accompanied Wade McGhee, clarinetist.

Rev. Thompson Addresses Pep Rally Thursday

Rev. Herbert J. Thompson, pastor of the Methodist Church of Salem and an enthusiastic follower of Salem High's football team, was the guest speaker at the pep assembly last Thursday afternoon. With humor as the dominant tone of his speech, Rev. Thompson showed the appliance of psychology to the game of football. To illustrate this fact that brains, not brawn, were needed to run a team, he used examples from games of well-known college teams.

"But remember," said the speaker in conclusion, "the game of football, whether you win or lose, isn't half as hard to play as the game of life."

In the absence of Mr. Springer, Mr. Cope was in charge of the assembly and introduced the guest speaker. Zoa Slutz made an announcement concerning a cake contest which will be a feature of the Fun Festival tonight.

75 Answer Call At Cage Tryout

Herbert Brown, Salem High basket ball coach, put in a call for basketeers a week ago last Monday. His call was answered by about seventy-five boys from freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes. After the first two nights of cutting there were about twenty boys left. Most of them will be kept at least until Thanksgiving, and at that time the football players will report for practice, when there will be another cut. There will be very few, if any, seniors on the team this season.

Sidinger Stars On Western Reserve Football Varsity

Former Salem Athletic Star Progress Watched by Cleveland Fans

Wayne Sidinger, well known Captain of the 1934 Salem High Football squad and outstanding basketball star is one of few sophomores at Western Reserve University who have made the Varsity football team.

"Sluefoot," as he was known to many of his ardent followers and friends, has won himself a permanent booth on the Reserve squad, due to his inspired playing at the tackle post.

The sport fans who have been following his progress at Reserve predict big things for him in other sports as well as football.

Students who come to classes late at the University of Akron are fined five cents and the money is used to purchase benches on which students may sit during leisure hours.

Inspired Salem Squad Kicks Field Goal To Down Tigers 3-0

A field goal kicked by Fritz Branttsch in the opening minutes of the third quarter proved to be the margin of victory as the Salem High Quakers downed the Wells-ville Tigers 3-0 in an exciting county game played at Reilly Stadium last Friday night.

In the first quarter the teams battled on fairly even terms but the visitors dominated the playing in the second quarter as Brown, hard smashing Tiger fullback, plowed through the Salem forward wall for several substantial gains.

Branttsch Kicks Field Goal

The climax to this hard fought game came early in the third quarter when big Fred Branttsch booted the ball squarely between the uprights for the three points.

Salem had carried the ball to the visitors 5-yard line but were unable to pierce the stubborn defense of the Tigers. On the fourth down the Quakers lined up in place kick formation. For a moment it looked as if the Quakers would attempt the fake place kick play that East Liverpool had worked so effectively against them earlier in the season. The ball was snapped to Pukalski who quickly put it in kicking position, Branttsch's foot swung up, and the ball sailed directly over the cross bar for a perfect placement.

Only the final whistle prevented the Quakers from pushing over a touchdown late in the fourth period. Pukalski intercepted a Wells-ville pass in midfield and raced to the visitors 8 yard line before he was downed. Only one play was completed before the game ended.

West Gets Off 63 Yard Kick

The outstanding player of the game was probably Branttsch who kicked the field goal but Tunney Snyder showed great driving power as he smashed through the Wells-ville defense for large gains. Alden West proved himself an effective punter as he got away with a 63 yard kick in his only attempt. Brown was the main offensive threat for the visitors.

Gym To Be Scene Of Big Spectacle Given By S.H.S. Band

Project Proceeds To Pay For Remainder of Uniforms; Students Cooperate With Booths And Concessions

Juniors Sponsor Fun Book published by Bob Garrison

Tonight the curtain will rise on the opening act of two Rip-Roaring days of Fun, Frivolity, Riot and Revelry.

The much talked-about Fun Festival will open its gates, revealing the colorful atmosphere of the great American Carnival from the fortune-telling tents through the various picturesque concessions and booths up to the age-old carnival custom of the Marionettes.

Kids See Matinee

The "Fun Festival," probably the greatest single project taken over by any organization in the History of Salem High School, began this afternoon with a matinee performance of the famous Frank Still Marionettes, in order that pupils from the grade schools might witness this big, amusing feature at reduced price at the Salem High School.

Entire School Backs Project

This gala event, a project of the band, has received the cooperation of the entire school, since home room is contributing some concession or interesting novelty to the Carnival.

The revelers who will attend the festivities tonight and tomorrow night will have a chance to win some very attractive prizes which will be awarded at the many concession booths.

Juniors Publish "Fun Book"

In accordance with the theme of the "Fun Festival" the Junior class has published a 32 page book which carries out all the humor and color which the "Carnival of Chaos" typifies. The art-work in the book is done by Ed Kuekes, Cleveland Plain Dealer cartoonist.

In charge of the advertising of the Fun Book and publicity of the Carnival is Robert Garrison, formerly of Salem High School but who now carries on an advertising agency in Cleveland. He has promoted the Fun Festival idea in many schools with a maximum of success.

An amateur night, sponsored by Room 200 will be presented tomorrow night for those who attend the carnival.

Fri. Nov. 1—Fun Festival in Gym (night). Marionette show in Auditorium (night).

Sat. Nov. 2—Fun Festival (afternoon and night). Football—Salem at Niles (afternoon).

Mon., Nov. 4—Quaker Editorial meeting. Quaker Business meeting.

Tues., Nov. 5—French Club.

Thurs., Nov. 7—Hi-Tri.

Senior Class Will Present Mystery Play

"The Thirteenth Chair" To Be Presented December 5, 6

Tryouts to Begin Soon

"The Thirteenth Chair" by Bayard Veiller is the play chosen to be presented by the Senior class, December 5, 6, Mary Lanpher Harris, director, announced Wednesday.

This play is rated as one of the most thrilling, baffling mystery plays ever presented on Broadway, where during its long run, it became immensely popular and attained great success.

"The Thirteenth Chair" deals with a strange and sinister knife-killing. The blame shifts during the course of the play, which becomes pleasingly complicated, and finally, under sinister circumstances, due to the hair raising run of events, the true murderer is brought forth.

Mrs. Harris is now holding tryouts in order to choose her cast of seventeen for this thrilling production.

The cast which will be announced in this paper next week, will begin rehearsal as soon as they are notified of their appointment to the cast.

This is the first occasion in several years that a murder mystery has been presented on the Salem High stage, and big things are expected from this unusual production.

The Biology teacher, trying to impress upon her students the importance of being kind to all animals, took them for a walk. Hearing a cry from Merle N., she asked "What's the matter, Nick?"

"Oh! I've been sitting on a hornet," answered Nick, "and I'm afraid I hurt the poor thing."

Never Satisfied!

For the past several years, a certain group of students, not thinking how their end might be attained, have been unceasingly clamoring for the band to get new uniforms. Imagining that they would aid their cause by so doing, they shouted "Salvation Army" and other "wise-cracks" at members of the band.

After all, the band members are the persons who do the work; they put forth a great effort to earn money for new uniforms. But still these ignorant students "razz" the proteges of our excellent director, Mr. Brautigam.

Following a long period of un-tiring effort on the part of the band, fifty dazzling new uniforms were purchased and were, for the first time last Friday, displayed in grand fashion, adding to the prestige of our band. With such a demonstration, one would expect a flood of congratulations, but, on the contrary, a decidedly different reception awaited the justly proud musicians. In contrast to what was anticipated, these moranic stooges greeted the S. H. S. musicians with cries of "Circus," etc. These brilliant passages are supposed to portray their opinion that the suits are too "loud." But the idea that was conveyed was their ignorance and inability to judge uniforms. They have never seen big bands. The old uniforms were too drab with so much black, and now snappy scarlet regalia has been foolishly criticized. This is nonsense, and we, defying this talk of the high school rabble, say: "Hat's off to the band and their new uniforms!"

Read Better Books

Bill rushed into the library and asked the girl at the desk: "Can you find me a book for a book report? I want one that's short and easy to read. Book reports are due tomorrow and I have to read it tonight."

The girl suggested some books to him and he left the library with "Adrift on an Icepan" under his arm. Bill knew he wouldn't like the story, but the book had only 68 pages and he could read it in half an hour.

The majority of students do as Bill did. Consequently, the time they spend reading is wasted. They read the book too hurriedly to get any pleasure or benefit from it.

Books are to be read for your own pleasure and entertainment in leisure time. Don't waste your time reading worthless material. The next time you need a book for a book report, don't wait until the last minute to get it; those who are early have their choice of the best books.

Here are some suggestions of good books for book reports:

Adventure—"Siberian Gold," a young engineer, a girl, gold thieves, escaped convicts. "As the Crow Flies," an Indian story. "The Men They Hanged," romance of Captain Kidd.

Sea Stories—"The Sea Wolf," story takes place on a sealing schooner. "Blowing Weather," thrilling tale of ships, pirates, a hero and a heroine. "Derelict," of interest to the boys.

For Everyone—"Bob, Son of Battle," one of the best dog stories ever written. "Men of Iron," story of knights. "Buried Alive," an artist chooses to escape publicity by "dying" in place of his valet. "Fire-cracker Land," the author's own experiences in China. "Emma," for girls.

YOURS TRULY proposes a toast to Ray Reasbeck of John Carroll, local sports authority, for his fine announcing, over the new amplifying system, at the home football games. His clear explanation of the rules of the game has given John Q. Ray, who has officiated at many of the large sports affairs of this district, is a graduate of Salem High. Ray having been quired the nickname "Dizzy" while attending school and during his senior year was the honorable dedicatee of the annual Quaker crazy issue.

French Club was held a week ago Tuesday. Officers were elected for the year. They are: President—Jean Kingsley; Sec. and Treas.—Art Brian; Vice Pres.—Grace Guappone.

Jean Kingsley, chairman, conducted the meeting; games were played entirely in the French language.

The next meeting will be next Tuesday.

The Hi Tri held its meeting last Thursday. A committee was appointed to plan the entertainments for the entire year. They are: Betty Fifer, chairman; Betty Lewis, Jane Metzger, Jeanne Layden.

It was decided to have a Penny Dance soon, but the full particulars have not as yet been given.

Miss Horwell, faculty advisor of the Hi Tri, gave a short speech, stressing that the Hi Tri is to cooperate with the coming Fun Festival in every possible way.

An Apple Per Day Keeps Doctor Away, But Not Jr. Sales

From the querulous quintet came stifled blubbers and sobs, with smothered giggles running through. Alath and alack, no thale!

The scene of this touching melodrama in too many acts was the comfortable step of the corner drug store, where five girlish figures (your pardon, four girlish figures; one not so girlish) adorned said step. Five hungry mouths munched at five rosy apples. Five sets of weary bones reclined on the cool pavement. Five agile minds computed the total sales. Five spirits perked up at the tonic-thought. Not SO bad, after all.

The morning sun shone again into five high school hearts and five willing mouths smiled. See them—they're the feminine end of the junior advertising committee.

salesman) while passing through a town, recently, stopped in front of a theater which was being picketed by a seedy gentleman with a banner. But instead of the customary lone sentinel, another picket walked beside him. And the second picket's banner read, "Please do not read the sign of the man picketing this theater. He is a non-union picket."

Sara: "Mother, you know that valuable old vase you said was handed down from generation to generation?"

Mrs. Philips: "Yes, dear."

Sara: "Well, this generation dropped it."

Personality of the Week

Oh! What eyes she has. Oh! what lips she has. Oh! What adorable features. No, boys, it's not last year's Chatfield; it's really a member of your own senior class.

She is five feet three and one-half inches, blonde, has blue eyes and weighs exactly one hundred and five pounds. Know who it is?

This vivacious, interesting and somehow different person has her name on the Salemasquers, Hi-Tri and French club membership list. She hangs her hat somewhere along Lincoln ave. and the latest development in her love life, apparently, is a member of the football squad.

She possesses the rare ability to sing and 'tis said one member of the junior class would take her for his blushing bride, if she would but say the word.

Jr. High News

The first Junior High paper of the year, "The Quakerette", was issued today under the supervision of the Quakerette Advisors, Miss Cameron and Miss Klose. The editor and entire Editorial Staff will be chosen by the Quakerette sponsors in time for the next issue.

The Seventh and Eighth grades had class pictures taken Oct. 11th, and a large sale of them has been made to the students during the past two weeks.

The Manual Training room has been moved to the southeast section of the basement and has been newly equipped with all kinds of needed tools. Mr. Kelly, manual training director, has started a new club in this room "The Airplane Club", which proves to be a success.

Many members of the Junior High responded greatly to the Association plan; 7E running high in honors with 71 per cent. Their award was a large blue and gold banner, which shall be framed and hung in the study hall some time in the future.

Although the Junior High enrollment for '35 and '36 was large, being 425; it is still larger this year with 440.

The library started in 1930 has become considerably larger and is now located in the room of the Seventh Grade English teacher, Miss Klose. Thirty new books have been ordered, along with World Books and Encyclopedias.

The Glee Club is an added activity for the students. It meets every week, the boys under the direction of Mr. Regal, and the girls under the direction of Miss Tetlow.

From the Ohio State Lantern we take this one:

Who was Tallyrand?

She was a fan dancer, and cut out that baby talk.

Getting a taller girl on a blind date, getting married, war and disease, and mature policemen are feared by men at Temple university, a survey by a psychology professor revealed. The women named centipedes in old walls, being alone in the dark, sin, and roller coasters among their sets of fear.

City School Board To Purchase Texts Within Four Years

A law passed during the summer by the Ohio State Legislature provides that within four years all the text books of the public schools must be supplied by the schools. In compliance with this law, Salem High School has begun supplying the texts for several courses.

Within the next three years the texts for the other courses will be purchased.

The texts that are being furnished by the high school this year are: German I, Spanish I, Trigonometry, General Mathematics, United States History, Typing, Business Law, Social Studies, Home Economics.

Society News

Margaret Simon visited relatives in Cleveland the weekend before last.

Bela Sidinger witnessed the outstanding performance of her brother, Wayne, recently at the Western Reserve vs Buffalo game.

Verna O'Neil left for Florida last Saturday where she will attend school. She was accompanied by her mother and sister.

Meta McCave and Jane Woods spent the Sunday before last in Cleveland.

Katherine Giffin was at High School day at Oberlin College, October 19. All visitors were taken on campus tours and a dance was given for them in the college gym.

"Tunney" Snyder spent weekend before last in Washingtonville.

Katey Jo Zimmer visited friends in Canton last weekend.

Nanee Gibbs motored to Washington, D. C. and spent last weekend there.

Marjorie Eckstein, Lois Pidgeon and Jeanette Astry were entertained by Dorothy Astry at Wells College, Aurora, N. Y., last weekend.

"Who are you going with?" "Go with me?" "I'll run right over to the library." "You won't find anything, they're too long." "Too long, they're too short!" These and other similar remarks were the main types of conversation for the Juniors soon after the announcement came out that the tryouts for Salemasquers would soon commence.

With four days to prepare the tryouts, the students made frequent trips to the library and memorized them going through the halls, the low mumbling gained supercilious grins from Seniors, looks of amusement from the Sophomores and contented sighs from the Freshmen. Some one beside them were slightly "tetched."

When the fatal day arrived, the students with shaking knees and quivering hands gave their plays, serious and comic, and hoped with all their hearts that they would be one of the lucky twenty.

Co-education was once a race for supremacy between the sexes. Now it's "neck and neck."

Flash — We now bring you latest developments of a feud between "Pat" Patterson and Joe Herbert. "Pat" has been callin' Joe "Romance" because of his display of sentimentalism towards Helen Thompson. But the worm has turned. (Pardon me, Gabby). After hearing about Pat's affection for some gal by the name of Smith, Mr. Herbert has come back to hang the title of "Romeo" on Mr. Patterson.

Flash—The latest thing about this Mullins child is the conduct of her and "Toots" Davidson after "Marge" Simon's party last Saturday nite. Incidentally they were supposed to have been in bad company and, sure enough, investigation proved that "Gabby" was driving for them.

Speaking of "Cidy," it brings to mind that she is supposed to have a beautiful cousin in Cleveland. Campbell, the senior class president, stated that her name was Elizabeth Waterworth, and that she had "the most beautiful eyes and the most ravishing smile."

Yeah, even the class president gets around.

Crouch's Rival Proficient Slurper!

It happened in Columbus. A resonant hum ran through the immense banquet hall. Heads turned, voices were raised in interrogation. Waitresses paused here and there to catch a glimpse of the drama that was unfolding itself. All attention was focused on a table near the center of the room, where eager conversation could be heard.

"Give you a nickle!"
"Ah, you piker, it's worth a quarter!"

"We'll add a dime to that!"
A short stocky figure arose and stood silhouetted against the crowd. In his hands were two small articles, their purpose unknown. A stream of golden brown liquid ran out of one into the other. A firm and unshaking hand was lifted to a head, well thrown back...

A roar of cheering and applause broke the tense stillness—and History was made once more.

Gabby Hixenbaugh, pride and joy of Salem High School, had just finished drinking his coffee from his saucer!

returned from a trip to California about a year ago, where he played first base on the K. of P. baseball team... visited many movie stars while at the Cinema Capitol. At present he is employed by a Salem firm and when not working can usually be found at home of Betty Chappell.

Now Francie '35 was that seemingly despised scandalist, the Hearer, but in reality she was very popular... as a member of the Quaker Staff she furnished an almost unlimitable supply of feature stories as well as her column. She passes her time by jerking soda at a downtown drug store, but she's still Joe Hischool's perennial sweetheart.

"The Ghost Train," "Thirteenth Chair," "Intimate Strangers" and "Dulcey" are a few of the plays that are being considered for the senior production to be given Dec. 5th and 6th.

Tryouts are to begin this week. Due to the large cast that was in "Growing Pains," the junior play of the class of '36, Miss Lanpher is expecting much talent. Practices will start within the next two weeks.

Miss Lanpher, dramatic director, at present is debating whether the senior play should be a mystery, melodrama, comedy, or romance.

DOPE BUCKET

By DICK WERNET

AT LAST I've gotten my column in before the deadline and if it has not been cut you may now read of the trial and tribulations of members off the Sports World:

WE HAVE a district championship and as yet, an undefeated cross country team. Last Saturday with "Schag" Roelen leading the harriers, the S. H. S. team beat the representatives of 9 other schools to come out only 3 points ahead of their old rival AKRON EAST. Read Whitehill's writeup for details.

ALTHOUGH HE JUST missed the State 2-mile cross country record by 13 seconds last Saturday, Paul Roelen still was in fine condition to pull a "boner". At the large Isaly Dairy where the harriers ate after the meet Saturday, the waitress was taking orders for dessert. She got as far as "Schag" Roelen. He asked for his order. He said, "I want coconut custard pie with ice cream". The waitress said, "Oh, pie ala mode!" Paul (Schag) said, "No, I want pie and ice cream."

HIS FEET ARE his fortune, Fred Astaire and Fred Branttsch. NICE WORK, FRITZIE! !

PA WILLIAMS who lives in Barberton is perhaps one of the proudest fathers in the state of Ohio. "Jumping Joe", his son, has had his name splattered all over the sports sheets. He's a very excellent ball player and ball carrier.

WE HAVE A William's son in our high school and on our football team, too! ! Paul Williamson is perhaps the most consistent player and one of the least heard of members on Salem's football squad. As a player he's "heady", as a plunger he's TOUGH!! and as a blocking back he's superb! !

CONGRATS TO Ray Reasbeck as an announcer!! It makes the game for the fans a lot more interesting.

THIS THING CALLED THE Fun Festival is going to be "the nertz"! By the way, how did you like those new band uniforms? Let's help 'em get some more by attending the Fun Festival! !

I HAVE TO LAUGH when I see a drum major who can't or won't twirl a baton. (No hard feelings to anyone). We've been "Durantelly" (synonym for superbly uncomparable, etc.) fortunate to have such "twirlers" as Louis Snipes and Charles Freed.

AND AS Joe Dolansky and the rest of the football boys would say "all I have to say is: ADDIOS! !"

Wellsville Summaries

"No, your honor," pleaded the girl in traffic court, "I wasn't driving 40 miles an hour, nor 30, nor 20 —"

"Ten days in jail," snapped the judge, "for driving in reverse".

Sophomore Class Sells Megaphones

The Sophomore class has just received a shipment of small megaphones which are now on sale for five cents.

The megaphones are nine inches tall and have black lettering on a red background. The announcement that there are still a few armbands available was made by Sophomore class advisor, Miss Shoop.

The proceed of both articles will go to make up a reserve fund to be used when they are upperclassmen.

H.S. Gridders Meet Niles In Contest

Important "Big Six" Battle to Be Played Saturday

Quakers Expect Fight

The Salem High Quakers will trek to Niles tomorrow afternoon to meet the McKinley gridders in a N. E. O. Big Six fracas.

Niles started the season slowly, losing its first three games to Ray-en, Erie East and Chaney respectively. The Niles crew then defeated Painesville 6-0 but dropped a 14-6 decision to Alliance in a Big Six fray. Just last week Niles defeated Struthers 19-0 for their first Big Six league victory and their second win of the season.

Reese and Zuzolo, veteran back-field men, are the main offensive threats of the McKinley crew. Kaye, who holds down the quarterback position, has proven himself an able leader who is able to mix his plays with satisfactory results.

Both teams will be out to annex their second Big Six league victory and a hard fought game can be expected. Niles will also be anxious to avenge the 25-12 defeat handed them by the Smithmen last year. The Quakers will have to play their best brand of ball in order to down the fighting Niles team.

Barborton and Alliance will tangle in another league fray played at Barborton tomorrow.

Here are the league standings:

Team	W	L	T	Pts.	Opp.	Pct.
Massillon	6	0	0	307	0	1.000
Salem	3	2	1	56	40	.600
Alliance	3	3	1	38	58	.500
Barborton	3	3	0	65	67	.500
Niles	2	4	0	43	48	.333
Struthers	1	5	1	39	92	.167

Automotives Class Studes Cut Away Chassis of '34 V-8

Through the courtesy of the Ford Motor Co., the automotive classes of S. H. S. have been learning the principles of a gasoline engine from the cut-away chassis of a '34 Ford V-8.

By cut-away, it is meant that a portion of every part is cut out to enable the future mechanics to observe the function of each part. Each week, some time is spent studying a certain part and learning its importance to the engine.

The boys have been told by Mr. Englehart, their instructor, not to think of it as a Ford motor, but just as a motor, because all makes of cars use the same principles.

The boys of the automotive classes are indebted to the Ford Motor Co. for use of this machine.

Season's records:

Team	W	L	T	Pts.	Opp.	Pct.

This assembly was not only for the purpose of encouraging the football team for the Wellsville game, but also to let the cross country team know the school would be back of them when they competed in the race at Akron last Saturday.

Students at Columbia reverse the tables and gave the faculty a intelligence test. The tests, conducted by the Spectator, campus newspaper, indicated an average mental age of 20.

After the exams were over the brief conversation was heard:

"How far were you from the answer to that last question?"
"About two seats."
