

Senior Party Proves To Be Big Success; Class Talent Provides Entertainment

John Taylor Jr. Provides Highlight In Program Singing His Own Composition

Holding the first party of the school year, the Senior class of 1938 was entertained by dancing and various games in the High School gym, after hearing a program of class talent in the auditorium last Friday evening.

The program was made up of a few Senior class members who put in a mock radio broadcast. Among the members were David Hart, as the rambling reporter; a quartet made up of Ralph Taylor, Jane Cope, Bob Boughton and Joe Bush; Harold Hoprich, piano solo of one of his own compositions, and Ralph Taylor sang a composition of his own, "My Star of Gladness."

After the program, which started at 7:45, the seniors went on down into the gym, where they were entertained by dance music by Don Harvey and his orchestra. Dancing was the main pastime, but on the side of the dance floor were various games, such as ping-pong, checkers, cards, chess, and others for those class members who did not wish to dance.

Approximately 125 turned out to the party and at intermission the eats committee distributed ice cream and cake roll, ginger ale and root beer and pretzels and potato chips.

The theme of decorations was Thanksgiving, and the gym was beautifully laid in various bright colors in keeping with the season. The ceiling streamers were the class colors, red and gray.

Begin Work On Yearbook

Work on the Quaker Annual, Salem High's year book, has commenced, it was announced this week. The senior pictures and football pictures have been taken and the make-up of the book is being worked on.

The pictures of the underclassmen and the activity pictures will probably be taken within the next few weeks. The exact dates will be announced later.

Hi-Tri Prepares Food Baskets

Thanksgiving baskets have been prepared by the Hi-Tri girls and are being delivered today to three of the needy families in Salem.

Each Hi-Tri member contributed food which she thought suitable for this occasion. The arrangement and delivery of these baskets were in charge of various committees, which were appointed at the meeting last Thursday afternoon.

This plan has been carried out by the Hi-Tri sisters for several years.

Board Purchases Oboe, Saxophone For SHS Band

Three of the new band instruments which were ordered by the Board of Education for the band have arrived and are in use. These three instruments are the tenor saxophone, the baritone saxophone and the oboe. The tenor sax is being played by Marguerite Vincent, the baritone sax by Jack Warner, and the oboe by Aden Riffle.

With the addition of these new saxophones it will be possible to organize a saxophone quartet.

At the present time all of the school-owned band instruments are being played by high school students with the exception of belicor bass, which is being placed in the Junior High Orchestra.

Sportsmen Meet

Salem High's nimrods and lovers of the wide open spaces, gathered in 103 last Thursday night to organize an Outdoor Sportsman's Club. The meeting was in charge of Harold Culler and under supervision of Mr. Englehart. The club has been inactive in the last several years, but this year the boys will try to have a year round program. Mr. Englehart stated, "The boys can make it a swell club and have fine times if they only would."

Difford Brothers Building Six-Foot Gas-Powered Miniature Airplane

To enter in the National Aeronautics contest which will take place in Detroit, Michigan, next June, Lionel and Winthrop Difford are constructing a model plane with a six-foot wing span.

"The model, when completed," Lionel said, "will weigh between three and four pounds, and we expect it to attain an average speed of thirty-five miles an hour."

Lionel and Winthrop have been building airplane models as a hobby for several years, and on two occasions they have received awards for their constructions. They attended the National contest which took place at the Wayne County Airport, about two miles from Detroit, Michigan last summer.

"The engine is already installed," Lionel told a reporter, "and the model is complete except for the covering. We are working on that now."

Among other things used in the construction are a set of six batteries (regular flashlight size), and a Brown Jr. engine.

There is a twelve to fourteen inch propeller.

"For fuel," Lionel explained, "we use a mixture of oil and gasoline. It takes about two eyedroppers of this fuel."

In the building of the plane, the Difford brothers were assisted by Mr. Herbert Kelly of Jr. High School.

Before attempting to build the gas powered model, they built a five-foot rubber powered model which is now for sale.

"The difference in building a gas powered model and a rubber powered model of the same size is that one has to take into consideration the location of the center of gravity and the center of lateral area," said Lionel.

Varsity 'S' Club to Sponsor First Dance, Friday Dec. 3

Harry Hylan and Orchestra to Play

Continuing in its drive to increase activity in Salem High, the Varsity S club is sponsoring a dance in the High school gym Friday, December 3, under the direction of Mr. Brown, faculty advisor.

The committee in charge of the dance is headed by Charles Wentz, with Gilbert Everhart handling the financial matters. Bill Shaffer, Max Lutch and Jim Dickey make up the rest of the committee.

Harry Hylan and his Ambassadors are furnishing the music for dancing.

This orchestra can be heard on the radio late at night and has played at Salem high's "Prom" for the last two years.

The dance will be semi-formal with the admission charge 75 cents per couple.

Each member of the club has a list of 20 boys. The member concentrates on these 20 boys and sells tickets to the boys on his list only.

The Varsity S club presented a successful pep rally before the Wellsville football game and is presenting the assembly to be held in the auditorium this afternoon.

Louis Raymond Wins Peace Contest

Speaking on the subject, "The Betrayal of Peace," Louis Raymond Jr., 14, freshman, won first place in the Prince of Peace declamation contest held at the Baptist church two weeks ago.

He was presented a bronze medal by Rev. R. D. Walter, president of the Salem Ministerial association, which sponsored the contest. The winner will participate in the Columbiana county contest early in December.

Constance Clark, junior, was second. She spoke on "What Price Peace."

Two seniors, two juniors, one sophomore, and two freshmen, competed in the contest.

Play Costumes Being Completed

Costumes for the Senior play, "The Yellow Jacket", are being completed this week by a group of junior and senior girls under the leadership of Miss Lehman.

Bela Sidinger is the chairman of the costume committee, and her assistants are Vera Sharp, Avanelle Bard, Mary Jane Britt, Martha Preisler, Evelyn Tullis, Virginia Hurray, and Anna Mae Lozier.

Several parents helped with the sewing and fitting of the garments.

Another branch of the costume committee is headed by Miss Ritt, assisted by Betty Albright, Gwen Dean, and Jeanne Christie, who have been working on hats that are to be worn in the play.

Painting of the designs on the costumes is being done under the direction of Mr. McDonald.

Debaters Attend Ohio Speech League

Four members of the Salem High debate team accompanied Mr. J. C. Guiler, to the intercollegiate debate between Ohio State and Michigan University at Columbus last Saturday.

Alice Maxson, Constance Clark, Bill Stevens, and Lionel Difford were the members who attended the debate. They also took part in the round table discussion and practice tournament.

The question debated was the same one as used by the High Schools of Ohio: Resolved, That several states should use the unicameral system of government.

This is the first year Salem High has been represented in the Ohio High School Speech League.

Hi-Y Meets

Under the supervision of Mr. Herbert Jones, the Hi-Y Club held its second meeting of the year at 3:30 Tuesday in room 302. Each of the members present chose a person who he thought would join the club, and the name was then put on a chart for further reference. There were eight persons present, and Mr. Jones stated that he would like to have between 15 and 20 members.

The persons present talked over some of the many things they could do during the school year, and also planned another meeting at 3:30 next Tuesday in 302 for all those who are interested, and also to choose officers for the club.

Seniors Receive Thanksgiving Gift

When the Senior party eats committee, after much careful figuring with the budget finally decided to afford potato chips and pretzels with their otherwise tasty lunch, they were much surprised to have the Berg Pretzel company donate the whole order. Whether Bob Hinton's business-like manner or the charm of Elsie Hunter and Mary Helen Bruderly, who went to the factory to bargain for rates on the tasty tid-bits, might have had some influence, no one knows, but we are inclined to believe it was the generosity and Thanksgiving spirit of the Berg Pretzel company. At any rate, the Seniors certainly enjoyed the special donation on their party menu, and as a class, vote their thanks to the company.

Today's Headlines

French Ku Klux Klan

Rumors of a French Ku Klux Klan have been circulating for some time, but the source of these whispers had not been discovered until last week. Rooms and buildings which are completely armored were uncovered by officials. Containing every kind of ammunition, they are completely equipped for army headquarters. Telephones, radios, and loud speakers are included in the equipment. These fortified "rooms" are believed to be the work of the League for Secret Defense which operates in France.

Modernized Shakespeare

George Bernard Shaw, English author, has finally carried out his opinion that Shakespeare's works should be rewritten. In his 81st year he has just completed the changing of "King Henry VI." Shaw's version of this play opened in England November 16 under a different name. He has changed the third act and makes the entire drama a satire of the abdication of Edward the Eighth. In the final scene the king abdicates and passes the throne on to his brother, who says, "Thank you for nothing, brother."

Japan To Mop Up

With the capture of Nanking, Japan intends to complete the invasion of China. Seventy Japanese fighting planes threatened the Nanking area last week. A United States riverboat was sent to protect American interests. Japan gave the principal powers of the world notice that any move to aid China would be considered hostile.

Representatives Ask Enforcement of Neutrality Law

In the opening of the special session of Congress, representatives asked that President Roosevelt declare that a state of war exists between Japan and China and by so doing put the neutrality law in effect.

Jamin'

Have you ever been late for a class and had to go to the office for a slip just because certain students insisted on standing in the middle of the hall, blocking the stairways, or stopping in front of a door to talk with friends?

These students show just as little consideration for their fellow classmates as those who run and push when going through the halls. Both types are Public Nuisance No. 1.

If everyone will start 'movin', it will stop 'jamin'.

Solution to Traffic Problem

The traffic problem in front of Salem High is becoming more of a problem every day. It is worse at noon when the boys and girls are dismissed for lunch than it is at the end of school day at three thirty. Instead of going down to the corner of State and Lincoln and crossing or up to Third and Lincoln, where there are traffic lights, most of the pupils cross anywhere it is convenient for them. It may be convenient but it is not as safe as crossing where you have a traffic light to protect you. Salem High has been lucky so far that no one has been hurt, but if something is not done in the near future we may all be sorry we did not find a solution for this problem.

'Farewell Avalanche'
Says Pat Sharkey

Oscar P. Devlin made a hit with the first period Journalism class Tuesday, not solely because of his subject matter, but because of his novel, persuasive and alluring "Thank you" at the finis of his rhetorical elaboration.

The students (especially the girls) were stupefied when they discovered that these two words could have the implication of flattery, magnetic attraction, infatuation, and implicit confidence all at the same time. This original postlude set off an otherwise rather dry speech concerning X-rays.

The X-ray, according to Mr. Devlin, was discovered by Mr. Rontgen in 1895. It is used for the localization and detection of metallic foreign bodies, such as bullets, which were imbedded in the flesh of soldiers during the World war. It is also used for discovering broken bones, cracked bones, defective metal, decayed teeth, heart and lung diseases.

A new metal localization X-ray is used on Alcatraz (Penguin) Island to make sure that the prisoners carry no concealed weapons. In summarizing his speech, Mr. Devlin stated that super and ultra ray X-rays are found in every hospital and asylum of any size in the United States.

(Editor's Note: Oscar P. Devlin was none other than a Journalism student. The young journalists were practicing the art of writing up speeches.)

"I like it here a lot," declared the newest pupil in Salem high, Nola Shutler, who entered school last week and is a member of the senior class.

Nola first attended New Martinsville high in West Virginia for a short time. Then she transferred to Sebring high.

"I have many friends there," Nola said.

"Just before I left they held a farewell party for me and gave me a beautiful five-year diary."

Nola was a member of the Response Club and the Glee Club. Her hobby is playing the piano.

Historical Background of Thanksgiving

While still residents of Leyden, Holland, the Pilgrims who settled in the New England states celebrated in the manner of their Dutch friends, on October 3rd, their deliverance from the Spaniards. This day was a popular festival for the Dutch, both as a religious and a social holiday, though it soon became merely a day of merriment. A stew of meat and vegetables was the chief dish at dinner on this day.

After leaving Holland and after a hard, perilous voyage of many dangers and hardships, they landed, on December 21, 1620, on Plymouth Rock. The Pilgrims lived on the Mayflower until their homes were built. During the hard winter that followed, more than half their number died.

One day, when they were looking for a suitable place to build their homes, they came upon an old Indian hut, in which they found baskets filled with corn. From this supply they planted their first year's crop.

Three Indian chiefs, Samoset, who had seen white men along the coast of Maine, and Squanto, who had himself been in England, and the great Chief Massasoit, all visited the newcomers and extended a welcome to them. Friendly relations were thus established with the Indians and the red men helped the white men plant their crops.

Following a successful harvest the Pilgrims held a great feast, to which they invited their Indian friends. This observance of Thanksgiving was held on July 30, 1632. Almost every year thereafter some occasion was had for Thanksgiving, although the day and month were not the same, year after year. In 1864 President Lincoln issued a proclamation appointing the fourth Thursday of November as the annual day for observance of Thanksgiving. Since that time each president has followed his example. Thanksgiving is the only religious festival celebrated in the United States by virtue of the authority of the civil government.

Turkey Sentiment

Tommy Turkey had grown fat during the last few weeks and now he wished he had followed his wife's example for he had overheard the man of the house say, "That turkey is the fattest. I can just see him lying bathed in a platter of gravy."

Tommy didn't like water, and he was sure he would like a gravy bath even less.

"Well, I've feasted for several weeks on the fat of the land, and now people will feast on the fat of me. All I can say is that I hope they get sick."

Alumni News

Miss Rachel Cope, class of '33 became the bride of Allen Loew, Cleveland Saturday, November 13.

She was well-known to the people of Salem, being featured with Emerson Gill's orchestra.

They will spend a week in New York and later take a trip to Europe.

Dorothy Day is attending Miami University at Oxford, Ohio.

Catherine Ladd is in Florida where she is attending the St. Petersburg Junior College.

Harriet Nusbaum is a filing clerk at a bank in Detroit, Michigan.

Kathryn Cessna, besides studying at Mount Union, sings every Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 over Station WTAM.

Louise Hixenbaugh is teaching the second grade at Greenford grade school.

Bob Wentz is a draftsman at Deming's.

Those four S. H. S. grads, Jack Leonard, Kathryn Minth, Grace Lozier, and Esther Hoopes, are employed as stenographers at the Electric Furnace Co.

Those who are married are Rachel Cope, former song stylist with Emerson Gill's orchestra; Margaret Alice Steele, Bob Lozier, Helen Horning, Eva Hoopes, Martha Hordereith, Harold Shears, and Al Bloomer.

Arthur John Bahmiller, last year scholarship winner, honor student and receiver of the first Bausch Lomb Science award to be given in Salem high, has been admitted to the Capital University Glee club. Bahmiller, active in Salem high dramatics and as vice president of his class, is one of the few university freshmen who have been bestowed with such an honor and distinction.

Arthur is taking a course preparatory for a chemical engineering degree.

If any of the girls in S. H. are in need of some funds or might follow the practice of Mr. Carthy Cottage Coeds in Syracuse, New York. The girls are charged college boy escorts fees for goodni kisses as a means of raising household funds. Escorts must drop a coin, a silver bowl for every goodni kiss. Special week-end rates are vogue and the whole thing is on cash basis; no credit allowed.

Thanksgiving

What is the meaning of Thanksgiving to you? Is it just a big turkey with stuffings all thru, A large family gathering where fun is for all, When children go strayin' for big folks to call. Or do you think of the One who has giv'n this glory, As was done by the pilgrims you've read in a story. Now let's all make tomorrow a most wonderful day, Both in feasting and thanking in our humblest way. —DOROTHY THEISS.

Be Thankful

"What on earth is there to be thankful for?" asked the gloomy young man. Here are a few of the things that we don't even think about as being blessings, but what would we do if we didn't have them? We have warm, comfortable homes. Did you ever consider the homes in which our Pilgrim fathers lived? They were ill-constructed, cold and miserable, yet they found things to be very thankful for. They were thankful for the blessing of having sufficient food to eat. And so, when you are enjoying your Thanksgiving Dinner remember that it is just one of the things you should be thankful for.

"Mary, I put one of my pancakes in the kitchen for you. How did you like it?"

"Pancake, ma'am? I thought it was a new wash leather and cleaned all the windows with it."

"Do you believe in the hereafter?" asked the man.

"Sure," answered the girl.

"Well, give me a kiss," he said, "because that's what I'm hereafter."

Keyhole's Aleidoscopic Column

The Thanksgiving Holidays are upon us—away from the grind and on with the festivities! Come one and all to the Salem-Alliance come tomorrow. A little fresh air will do you good, after that big dinner you're expecting to eat.

Ted Jones comes to school every day with a different suit—and he can wear them, too.

Charlie Wentz has a pair of socks that knock your eyes out. They're every color of the rainbow, and then some. It's about time the boys are getting some color in their wardrobes.

CAMERA DOESN'T LIE

There seems to be a lot of controversy about the Senior pictures. Quite a few aren't completely satisfied. After all, the photographer only takes your picture. "See Yourself as Others See You."

Mr. Brautigam had a lot of help from someone, when he was leading the band at the Sharon game. A posy to Mr. B. for not getting mad.

Mary had a little lamb, Her father shot him dead. Now Mary takes the lamb to school, Between two hunks of bread.

Or has that been told before?

May I wish you, one and all, a very Merry Thanksgiving, and may you all have a turkey leg.

L. F. Johnson of Mullins Lauds High School Commercial Courses and Profs

"I think that Salem High school must have very good teachers from the work put out," stated Mr. L. F. Johnson, of Mullins Manufacturing Corporation, when asked about the kind of work that the five girls of the Salem Trades Class were doing. The five girls have just changed departments, and will change again in about four weeks.

Mary Bohr is now working in the teletype department under the supervision of Miss Weber, and her principle job is getting acquainted with the teletype machine and stamping numbers on file cards.

Arlene Mellinger is working in the purchasing department under the direction of Mr. Hang.

Jeanette Ciotti is doing mostly filing in the employment department supervised by Miss Reta Smith.

Mrs. Trotter is the instructor of Jane Smith, who is working in the store room doing multi-graphing.

Hall of Fame

The 1937 football squad and Coach Schroeder are the biggest nomination of the year. (A fine team and a fine coach.)

The Hall of Fame mentions those senior gridders who will play their last game tomorrow: "Ollie" Olexa, Bob Minamy, "Scrap Iron" Cerbu, Leonard Bonsall, "Chuck" Wentz, Bob Sanders, "Maxie" Lutsch, Bill Malloy, Bob Kirchgessner, and Julius Nestor.

A special mention goes to those brave "Turkeys" that will so gamely give their lives for our cause. Cranberries an' all the fixin's! Oh, boy!

Another mention of honor to Miss Beardmore and the "Senior Stand." (three cheers, please!)

Personal nomination this week goes to Miss Lucia Sharp for her Dramatics ability. She's only a "Freshie," but she made the Salem-asquers on the jump. (The Seniors aren't the only "Dramatists"!)

Quakers to Oppose Aviators In Annual Turkey Day Finale

Playing their last game of the 1937 football season, the Quakers will meet the powerful Alliance Aviators tomorrow in the all important annual Turkey Day grid relationship.

The Red and Black's annual grid encounter with the Alliance team has always been looked up to as one of the outstanding features of the season, and the fans will be well provided for with plenty of thrills and action.

Coach "Doc" Wilcoxon is bringing with him a very scrappy and tough team. So far this season they have won six games, lost three and tied none.

The Red and Blue lads lost out to Cleveland Lincoln, 13-2; Massillon, 39-6, and Canton, 8-0, while they won over Waynesburg, 31-0; Malvern, 44-0; Kent Roosevelt, 12-0; Wellsville, 13-0; Cleveland Grenville, 21-0, and Barberton, 27-6.

Although the Quakers have somewhat of a heavier team than the opposing gridgers, the Alliance squad is very fast and has a very good defensive. They play straight football and also have very excellent charging plays. The Aviators' line averages 164 pounds to the Quakers' 172 pounds, while their backfield averages 162 to Salem's 163 pounds.

So far this season the Quakers have managed to keep ahead of their opponents in the number of total points made during the games. The local lads' total points so far add up to 110, while their opponents have 107.

The Quakers, who are out to avenge their 42 to 0 defeat of last week, have a fair chance of winning tomorrow's game, but are up against a very strong team which shows no mercy against their opponents.

The probable lineup is as follows:

WT.	NO.	NAME	POS.	WT.	NO.	NAME	POS.
158	71	Nestor	R.E.	57	155	Palozzi
176	73	Bonsall	L.T.	65	178	Carli

Gridgers Dinner Guests of Kiwanis

Approximately 35 football boys of Mr. Schroeder's squad attended a dinner in their honor at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club in the Memorial Building at noon last Thursday. Mr. Schroeder, the boys' coach; Mr. Jones, assistant coach; Mr. Cope, faculty manager, and Mr. Hilgendorf, treasurer of the high school funds, also were in attendance.

Among other guests were Charles Freed, who played the piano and led the club and boys in the Quaker "Drive On" song, and Smiley Welt-near, coach at Geneva College, who addressed the group. Mr. Wells, who took pictures of the Salem-Dover game, showed them to the gathering. A feature of the dinner, which was held before the entertainment, was ice cream with S. H. S. in red letters on it.

The boys who were invited to attend were, Richard Beck, Leonard Bonsall, Robert Bruderly, Victor Cafaro, Mike Cerbu, Robert Clark, Everett Dean, Gilbert Everhart, Harold Fitzsimmons, George King, Michael Guappone, Robert Kirchgessner, Max Lutsch, William Malloy, Robert Minamyner, Joe Morris, Julius Nestor, Mike Nicara, Ollie Olexa, Leonard Piersol, William Rogers, Robert Sanders, William Shaeffer, John Syppko, Richard Terry, Dolbert Thomas, Michael Thomas, Joe Vender, Watson Walters, Charles Wentz, Stuart Wise, Clarence Woerther, Marvin Wukotich, Melvin Wukotich, and Dominic Zappone.

In The Mirror, two entire columns are devoted to what is called "Red Knights on Parade." This column describes three or four football heroes, who are really outstanding in their playing ability.

The Mirror is printed by Toronto high school.

Twelve Seniors to End High School Grid Careers in Traditional Battle

Charles Wentz

The leader of his class, Charlie doesn't play second-fiddle on the football field, either. After three seasons in the backfield, Wentz has been converted into a lineman this season and has proved to be a very capable one.

Julius Nestor

Salem's hard-luck player, Nestor, has been unable to play in many of the games this season because of a fractured arm received early in the season. Despite his injury, Nestor rarely missed a practice and was ready for action in time for the Dover game. An excellent end and an ambitious one, they don't come any better than Julius Nestor.

Lloyd Walker

After plugging along faithfully for three seasons Lloyd has at last made the first team. His work on the Quaker line this season shows that the coach is thoroughly justified in the faith he has shown in him.

Robert Minamyner

Minamyner broke into the lineup as a first string end this season when Nestor's injury took him from the team, and proved himself quite capable of filling the gap.

Gilbert Everhart

Another fellow who waited until his last year to come out for football, Everhart had the misfortune to play the same position as "Ollie" Olexa. However, in several recent games Everhart has made valuable gains.

Leonard Bonsall

A newcomer to Salem high school, Bonsall has shown plenty of what it takes to make an ace lineman.

William Malloy

Malloy's the fellow who's behind the ball (rarely the eight ball) on those long punts that are so often necessary to pull the team out of a dangerous situation. Bill has received the kicking assignment in most of the games during the last two seasons and his cool headed handling of the pigskin has got the team out of plenty "tough spots."

Mike Cerbu

One of the best centers ever to represent Salem high school; that's the only way we can describe Mike Cerbu. The entire "scrap-iron" content of his well-developed anatomy is poured into every play, and the results have shown in numerous plays stopped.

Max Lutsch

Max didn't report for football until his senior year, but, as first-string fullback, he has played a brand of football which indicates that Salem high school's football squad has really been missing something during the first three years that Lutsch has been in high school. Scoring numerous extra points from placement and hurling his lanky frame through opposing lines for frequent gains, Max has proved himself to be a valuable player and one who will be missed.

Robert Kirchgessner

A pillar of strength, always ready to withstand the thrusts of opponents, out to get their man or to force his way relentlessly through the opponents' forward wall to make the tackle, that's Bob. As a guard who has been in the starting lineup in nearly every game this season, he has held his post faithfully and well.

Robert Sanders

The curly-headed Sanders boy has done a lot of hard work for Salem high school on the gridiron since he came here last year. Although he rarely receives the starting assignment, he frequently breaks into the game as a substitute, and has turned in a number of excellent performances at end.

Leah Lepper: "I want Lamb's Tales."

Miss Lehman: "This is a library, not a meat market."

Roelen Third In Intercollegiate Run

Salem High, and Coach B. Clarke, can well be proud of the feats of Paul Roelen who is now running a first place with top honors in the University of Pittsburgh's cross country team.

Last week, in Van Cortlandt Park, New York City, the I. C. 4 A. held its annual cross country meet, 20 of the largest colleges in the East participating.

Roelen, who is just a Freshman at Pitt, finished far ahead of all the other Pitt varsity runners and came in for third place against all other colleges. Smith of Penn State was within the time of 15 minutes, 58 seconds, while Ray Trail, an Indiana and also last year's National cross country champ, made the 10 mile course in 16 minutes flat. Roelen finished in 16:01, just one second behind last year's winner.

Pitt easily won the meet with a low 40 points while their nearest rival had 72 points.

Basketball Schedule

A 15-game schedule for the 1937-38 Salem High school basketball team was announced today by Faculty Manager Frederick E. Cope.

The schedule consists of eight home games and seven out-of-town engagements.

The Quakers' schedule for the coming season is as follows:

- *Games played away.

CHIPPER SLIPS

Thanksgiving day, I fear,
If one the solemn truth
must touch,
Is celebrated, not so much To thank the Lord for blessings o'er,
As for the sake of getting more.
—Carleton.

It seems to me this saying rings true for very people in this modern age hesitate to think just why Thanksgiving day is celebrated. To many it's a day to fill one's self so full that one can barely walk.

Drumstick JONES has been looking forward to this day for —oh, since last Thanksgiving day. He's been wishing that someone could cross a turkey with something or other and get a four-legged turkey. When I stop to think of it, I wouldn't mind it myself.

Look alikes: Vivian Reynolds and Dorothy Wood.

Chuck Kessel mire has that gift for writing amusing little limercks—much to the discomfort of the victim. The last one, he pointed out, was about Theresa

Rhyme: Ruthie Wright is a sight.

Speaking of Ruthie, have you noticed the feather in her hair?
Well, Donald Duck has nothing on her. She's named that unsuspecting little feather Joey Pidgeon.

Peggy Stewart thinks that it's rueful even to look forward to carving such a poor, helpless thing. I guess it is heartless but I do like turkey.

Little Willie Brooks has been wondering what Janie's reaction would be if their names were linked in this column. Confidentially, I think they make a cute couple.

Best recording of the week:
"You Started Something," as recorded by Emery Deutsch and

Just yesterday I was reading the most interesting book I ever had the good fortune to find. It was all quite accidental. A very good friend happened to mention it to me, and so I started to read it.

A student from Norway who is attending an American college was asked if he knew what "Necking and Petting" meant?
He looked puzzled and finally said, "No, But give me time and I will soon find out.

Quakers Fall
Before Fierce
'Tiger' Onslaught

The Quakers chalked up a 42-0 defeat, their worst of the season, at Sharon last Saturday at the hands of a powerful Sharon Tiger eleven.
The Tigers steamrolled the Quakers from the start, when Malloy's kick was blocked and recovered by Sharon on the Quakers' 20, after three line plays had failed for first down. Successive plays put the ball on the Salem two-yard line, where Syslo cracked over for the score.
The second score was practically a gift when Mathews passed from the Quakers' 20 to Koran, who received on the Quakers' 13. The umpire's horn sounded on the play and the Quaker defense relaxed, leaving Koran to cross the goal untouched.

Henry Syslo, captain and the Tigers' dynamo, made two of the nicest runs in the game when he raced 58 and 63 yards for touchdowns. All points after touchdowns were converted from placement.

The Salem running attack was rendered helpless, although Olexa fought his way for the larger part of the Salem gains. It was the first time this season that Olexa had not reached pay dirt at least twice. The Red and Black's only resort was a passing attack, which was moderately successful. The nearest the Quakers came to scoring was in the second period when a shuffle pass from Olexa to Schaeffer and a lateral to Lutsch was good for 29 yards.

This put the ball on the Tigers' 21-yard stripe. The scoring threat was cancelled when a pass by Olexa was intercepted.

The Tigers are recognized as the Northwestern Pennsylvania champions and rated with the top flight
Pennsylvania high school elevens.
The Tigers, it might be said, furnished the most powerful opposition any Quaker team has met in the last 15 years.

Library News

Last week a new Webster's International dictionary was added to our high school library. It is divided into two separate volumes,
A-M and N-Z.

There are several advantages in a two-volume dictionary. The books can be used by two people at the same time and they can also be moved easily to a library table. As each book weighs only half as much as the old one, there is less strain on the binding and the dictionary will last much longer.

Here's your chance to settle any arguments about the pronunciation of a certain word. Just look it up in this new dictionary and prove you're right! You will find the very latest pronunciation and spelling.

In the back of the second volume there are abbreviations, proper names and a gazetter (geographical names to the Freshman!) There is also a third volume with historical and up-to-date maps.

Have you seen the list of new books on the library bulletin board?
There is everything from a treatise on "Air Conditioning" to a book that tells you "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

"Rastus, did you go to your lodge meeting last night?"

"Naw, sir! We had to postpone it"

"Postpone it? Why?"

"Why, because the Grand All-Powerful Invincible Most Supreme Unconquerable Potentate done got beat up by his wife."

Definition of an Optimist: The man who wipes off his glasses before starting to eat his grapefruit

Gorgas Memorial Essay Contest To Be Held

In the Ninth Gorgas Memorial Essay Contest which will close January 21, Juniors and Seniors of Salem High will be eligible to compete. The subject will be "The Achievements of William Crawford Gorgas and their Relation to Our Health."

Prizes will be: first, $500 plus $200 for traveling expenses to Washington where the winner will receive his prize; second National prize, $150, and third National prize, $50.

Students who are interested in entering may see Mr. Lehman for further information concerning the contest.

Salemasquers Hold Meeting

The Salemasquers held a meeting last Monday in the auditorium at 3:30. After a short business meeting, the following program was presented:

- "Song of the All-Wool Skirt"----- Louis Raymond
 - Monologue Mary Louise Emery
 - Song and Tap Dance .. Gwen Dean
 - "Dramatics in the Social Circular" .. Mary Jane Lora
 - Guitar solo Lewis Zimmerman
- The next meeting of the Salemasquers will be held in the auditorium, December 6, at 3:30 p. m.

Dramatics Classes Study Short'nin' Bread

Mr. McDonald's Dramatics classes are learning "Short'nin' Bread" which will count as one-third of their six-weeks' grade in Dramatics.

Reading in unison is to help the students develop their voices and learn to speak louder. This choral reading was one of the things advocated at the Teachers' State Conference.

Besides choral reading, the classes are learning all about how to make and paint scenery.

Schoolmasters Club Holds Meeting

Salem teachers who are members of the Schoolmaster's club attended the annual fall meeting held last Wednesday at the Presbyterian church in Columbiana.

After dinner was served a talk was given by the Secretary of Ohio Educational Association, W. B. Bliss. A speech was also given by Atty. H. C. Garly on "The Trials of a Mountaineer Lawyer".

Harriers Fete Coach Clarke

Mr. Clarke, S. H. S. cross country coach, was honored last Wednesday night at a surprise party given at his home by the members of the 1937 cross country team. Coach Clarke was sent downtown by his wife to do an errand. When he returned nine cross country members, Lewis Catlos, former Salem runner, and Manager Pete Taflan greeted him with, "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Mr. Clarke was given a present and cake decorated with red and white candles, the candles representing the nine successful years he has coached cross country teams for Salem high.

The evening was spent playing cards, games, and looking at pictures taken of the cross country members at the state meet.

Mrs. Clarke served a lunch consisting of hamburgers, ice cream, cake and coffee.

Young Wife: "It says, 'Beat the whites of eggs till stiff.' I think they must be done now."

Hubby: "Why, are they stiff?"
Young Wife: "No, but I am."

"Have you ever appeared as a witness before?"

"Yes, your honor."
"In what suit?"
"My blue serge."

Government Students Writing Term Papers

The members of the American Government classes are required to write term papers by the end of the first semester.

Students of the American Government classes must be able to write a two thousand-five hundred word term paper on various subjects supplied by the teacher. The papers may be written from material secured from books, magazines, papers, or any other source of information on the subject selected.

The subjects should deal in some way to American government.

The students are not allowed to have help on these papers.

"What became of your little kitten?" asked the visitor of a small boy.

"Why, haven't you heard?"
"No, was it drowned?"

"No."
"Lost?"
"No."

"Poisoned?"
"No."

"Then what happened to it?"
"It grew up into a cat."
