Five Seniors Attend Buckeye Boys' State

Five senior boys spent ten days of their vacation this year attending the Buckeye Boys State session at Columbus from June 19 to 29. This program was sponsored by the American Legion of Ohio and the Salem representation consisted of the following boys: Bill Jones, Harold Hoprigh, Charles Trotter, Don Beattie and Dave Hart.

At the camp the boys went through the actual procedure of electing and guiding the offices of a state government. There were approximately 655 boys from all parts of the state at this gathering.

The Salem delegation was sponsored by various local organizations. Each one of the boys was elected or appointed to a position of responsibility during his stay there. Bill Jones was elected to the Supreme Court and Don Beattie was appointed court reporter. Harold Hoprigh was a member of the prize city council, Dave Hart was mayor of a city, and Charles Trotter was appointed as a member of the State Highway Patrol.

During the ten days, the boys were entertained by some very important speakers. Some of these were Governor Davey; Supreme Court Justices Zimmerman, Day, and Metthais; and various other important and well known men.

Five High Class Assemblies Booked

An interesting array of assemblies for the coming school year will be brought to the student body through the efforts of Mr. Williams, principal, and the high school association.

OCTOBER 11—Mr. George F. Morgan, California legislator and educator, will lecture on the topic, "Why Go to School?"

OCTOBER 21—Mr. George Elias will speak on the topic, "Man Without a Country." Mr. Elias was born in the mountain regions of Kurdistan and was a shepherd boy in his early days. His unique experiences have been given in his lectures before schools, colleges and civic clubs all over the United States.

FEBRUARY 24—Mr. Robert M. Zimmerman will lecture on the topic, "On the Bottom of the Sea," a story of adventure on the ocean's floor by a noted swimmer and deep sea diver. Mr. Zimmerman brings with him a museum of deep sea curiosities. Coral of every description, shark jaws, barracuda skeletons, etc., make up this interesting collection.

APRIL 1—The Davies Light Opera Co., will present solos, duets and quartets from some of the most popular and tuneful light operas of our present day. The program will include excerpts from "The Student Prince," "The Vagabond King," "Rio Rita," etc.

MAY 10—Mr. Cleveland P. Grant, noted ornithologist, director of extension for the Baker-Hunt Museum and member of the board of directors of the Ohio Audubon societies, will present the movie, "Birds on Parade."

Additional programs, perhaps Olympic pictures and the noted author, adventurer and lecturer, Richard Halliburton, will be scheduled later.

Bush Ends Third Year In C. M. T. C.

Eddie Bush, a member of the senior class, completed his third year of participation in C. M. T. C. this summer.

Eddie entered the camp on an equal footing with 2,000 other youths who hailed from the states of Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and Indiana. He has won recognition on the rifle and machine gun range.

This summer he served in the 576th U. S. Battery, a division of the national guard, in Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Eddie has announced his intentions to return next year and complete his training. He will accept his commission as a sergeant in the Battery.

Bush said he will seek a transfer to Kelley's Field, Texas, where he will enter the air corps.

Tryouts to Be Held For Quaker Staffs

Tryouts for the business and editorial staffs of the Quaker are to be held Friday, Sept. 10, after school.

Students wishing to become members of the editorial staff are requested to meet in Room 203.

Those applying for positions on the business staff will meet in the Quaker office with Bill Jones, business manager, after school.

Pedagogues Enjoy Summer Vacations

Salem High School students were not the only ones who enjoyed a pleasant summer vacation. The members of the faculty had their fun, too.

Mr. Williams, principal, spent a week in the Adirondacks and also visited in New York City.

Miss Beardmore camped for three weeks along Lake Erie. She also took a 2500 mile automobile trip through the White Mountains of New Hampshire, up through Maine, Vermont, Quebec, and Montreal.

Miss Bickel visited in New York and Virginia.

Mr. Brautigham spent four days at his former home in Sidney. He was occupied for the remainder of the summer in remodeling his home and tending to his half-acre garden. He also worked with Mr. Clarke on some paint jobs.

Miss Roth, Coach Schroeder, Mr. Brown, Mr. MacDonald, Mr. Jones, (Ted), and Mr. Cope attended Ohio State University. Mr. Cope received his Master's degree this summer.

Mr. Clarkke visited in Chicago for a short while and returned to work with Mr. Brautigham on several paint jobs.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cope spent a week at Hotel Summit near Uniontown, Pa., and one week in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Cox worked as laboratory technician at the Salem Clinic Hospital.

Mr. Early attended Columbia University in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Englehart vacationed at a lake resort in Canada.

Salem Boys Attend Scout Jamboree

Five Salem students, John Evans, Bob Vickers, Harvey Rickert, Richard Beery and Don Burcaw, were among the 27,000 Boy Scouts who attended the first National Jamboree to be held in United States at Washington, D. C., this summer.

It was the largest peace time encampment the United States has ever seen. The tented city stretched up and down both sides of the Potomac River for miles. This great canvas city was divided into twenty sections. Each section had its own kitchen, quartermasters' depot, post office, trading post, laundry, hospital tent and officers' tent.

When the entire camp gathered in the arena it was a sea of youths, bands, and flags.

Each night in the arena a great pageant was unfolded to the civilian audience. Indians and covered wagons, pilgrims, industries, not to mention all phases of scouting passed in review.

Groups of scouts took trips to all of Washington's famous spots, the Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Capitol building and so on.

"Swapping" was the favorite sport. A horned toad would go for a wampum belt, a bottle of Lake Erie water for Mississippi River water.

The climax of the Jamboree was the Presidential Review on Constitution Avenue.

After ten days of thrills the boys were sorry to leave but were glad to get home.

Vacation News

Aim To Attain Goal Of 700 Members

With a membership goal of 700, the Salem High School Association will begin its annual drive next week.

Its purpose is to reduce the individual cost of the following activities: five or more Association assemblies and an Association party, eight basketball games, five football games, class parties, Junior and Senior class plays, three track meets, a Quaker annual and the Quaker weekly. The total cost of the above mentioned activities would be $8.50; but by the Association plan, if 600 join, all this comes at the sensationally low price of $4.00, cash.

This mutual plan makes possible not only the above listed activities but also interscholastic debate, cross country, minor sports and special assemblies.

To the home room first obtaining 100 per cent membership a cup will be awarded.

In '33 this cup was won by room 200; in '34, by 206; in '35 and '36, by 209. How about a Freshman or Sophomore home room getting it this time?

Full information regarding the Association plan will be available in all home rooms next week.

The Association officers in charge of the drive are Harold Hoprigh, president; William Brooks, vice-president, and Mary Helen Bruderly, secretary-treasurer.

Hospital Technician Graduate of S. H. S.

Margaret Roth, member of the class of '29, and a sister of Mary Roth, faculty member, began work July 4th as the Head Technician in the Chemistry Laboratory, to which position she was appointed by the head Doctor in the School of Technicians at Buffalo.

She had completed a one-year course in 7 months' time and was taking post-graduate work at the Buffalo General hospital when she was chosen for this position because of her excellent work.

She graduated from Lake Erie College in '33.

Let's Go!

Well, school has finally started.

All during our vacations, we were really longing to be back in old Salem High and finally, we are back.

Let's make this the best year in Salem High school—a year that will long be remembered. We want to make our school a greater success than ever before and we can if we try.

Let's go, students, and remember: The wisest are those who look well to the ending of a journey as well as to its beginning.

Save Money

In every high school the student finds that if he is to get full benefit from his courses he must take part in certain extra curricular activities. How dull school would be without football, clubs, parties, etc.

We of Salem High are fortunate in having a student association managed by student officers which makes it possible to buy a season ticket for less than one-half of the actual cost of the activities if payed for separately. The Association depends upon members for its success. The success of assemblies, school paper etc. depend on the Association.

That students who know about the plan recognize its value is evidenced by the fact that the senior class usually leads all others in memberships. Three years' experience has taught them that the Association plan is the real way to save money.

Clubs Open To Freshmen

Club or social life is an important part of one's high school career but the Freshmen coming from Junior High have a very small selection of clubs from which to choose.

Here are the ones the Freshmen can join: Latin Club, Girls' Athletic Association (G. A. A.), Glee Club, Stamp Club, or the Quaker Business Staff.

Well, what to do. This isn't any where near enough to go around.

We must start some new clubs which Freshmen can join. The Freshies may have some ideas for other clubs but here are some suggestions: Audubon or Nature Study Club; Etiquette Club, in which one learns what to do and why; Ohio Club, or Know Your Ohio; or a Camera Club.

As long as there are enough teachers to act as advisors to the clubs we can start as many clubs as we want.

So freshmen, let's do something.

Drive On!

Let's make the Association bigger and better this year. 960 students entered the High school building, today, and we want to have at least 700 join the Association.

The president, Harold Hoprich, the vice president, Bill Brooks, and the secretary-treasurer, Mary Helen Bruderly will do all in their power to boost the Association. But, it is we, the students, who will either make or break the Association.

If 700 students join, we can have more assemblies than we had last year, and we all like assemblies. At least, they get one out of a Study Hall.

The Association Drive begins the 13th of September and ends the 1st of October. So, come on, Salem High, Drive On.

Off To a Quick Start

It is well known by track enthusiasts that a race is often won at the start. The fellow who gets off a fraction of a second faster than his opponent often wins the race by that fraction of a second.

This same principle of a quick get-a-way applies to the school year as well. If the year is started by home work and careful study, the work seems to get easier as the semester passes along. This plan of study having been adopted, one has more time for pleasure and extra-curricular activities.

Then the fellow who starts out failing to get his studies and leaving work pile up is very much like the late starter. Try as he will he can not overcome that lead gained at the starting line. As the year wears on he loses heart and finishes the year far down the list.

There are the upper classmen who start being friendly to the "green" Freshmen. The fellow who gets off to a fast start in friendliness is likely to be the most popular in his own class.

The one who is perpetually nagging the Freshmen will find himself disliked.

In other words the runner, off to a fast start, generally wins the race.

Have You Licensitis?
If Not, Read This

It is said that time changes everything. Each year the styles of clothes and women's hats become more hair-raising than those of the preceding year. Just like everything else, types of games are varied from year to year. At one time checkers was the game of the month. Last season Monopoly was the only thing a person of this modern day could expect to find as entertainment at a party. But time changes everything; so—

To be in style now you have to have licensitis (be playing this latest game). Now this isn't in the least like Monopoly; the only materials needed are a pair of good eyes and perhaps a good seat on some main street. You see, to play, you merely watch license numbers until you see a one—no other numeral can be on the same plate. After you have watched cars whiz by for what seems like months, and decide to continue this nonsense, look for a two, a three, etc.

In case you are one of those people who like to be different from the multitudes, be brilliant and look for an A, then a B, etc.; it's much easier than looking for numbers.

If you become exhausted hunting for a one or an A, the last resort is to find the hundreds: start with 100, then 200, and on up.

Be human. Don't try finding any of these at night. The headlights will make you so dizzy that you will think you're an actor and try to take a curtain bow.

Well, good luck. Be fair to yourself and don't skip anything that takes the fun out of this latest rage.

Terror

And here it is September, and the date

Upon the Calendar gives me a twinge

Of bitter and unreasonable hate

That threatens to unhinge

My brain, and fills my spirit with disgust.

I cannot smile, I cannot pen a Poem;

I shudder—for it all means that I must

Be going home.

That I must trade this green and tender turf

For painful pavement, cobbles and concrete;

That I must change the music of the surf

For racket of the street.

For me the reek of gasoline exhaust

Must oust the perfume of the briny foam;

Little you think at what a ruinous cost

I'm going home!

And I must rid my fingernails of tar,

And get a necktie, and wear laundered shirts;

And people will exclaim "How brown you are!"

And I shall answer "Nertz".

And heat shall make my work not worth a dam

To dam the sweat upon my burning dome,

And I shall burble, like the sap I am,

"I'm glad I'm home!"

Don'ts for Freshmen

DON'T chew gum or eat candy unless Mr. Williams offers you some. (This may also apply to some equally dignified professors.)

DON'T make eyes at decrepit professors. (Notice, Freshmen flappers: If you don't know the meaning of that word, refer to Mr. Webster.)

DON'T speak in Science or English classes unless you are spoken to.

DON'T wear green—it is not necessary.

DON'T say "please" and "thank you;" it's a sure give-away.

DON'T attempt to be naughty and yet be nice!

DON'T promise your fond parents to expect you home from the Freshman party at 9:00 (you are supposed to be beyond that stage).

DON'T leave your table manners in your lockers before entering your home room.

DON'T forget to put out the light at all times possible since professors are supposedly absent-minded.

DON'T sock the professor when his back is turned—wait till he turns around so you can get a swing at his jaw.

DON'T slide down the banisters when you go to the third floor.

DON'T take a taxi when changing classes if you think you'll be late.

DON'T forget to look up and down before crossing the halls.

DON'T miss the elevator when going to History class.

'Life of the Party'
In 10 Easy Lessons

1. When you get a "bid," take it or leave it, but make up your mind.
2. Be prompt. Parties get stalled waiting for the late arrivals.
3. If asked to perform, be sure you're wanted, then do your stuff with a good grace.
4. Never hog the center of the floor after your act is done; quit while they still like you; there may be other clever people present.
5. If you can't perform, be a good audience.
6. Should the party sag, don't be afraid to volunteer first aid.
7. When asked to sing, avoid the dull stuff—better "Frankie and Johnnie" than "The Rosary."
8. Always share yourself with every one present. It is an easy road to popularity and much talent has been discovered in quiet corners.
9. Be considerate of every one in your actions and wisecracks.
10. One who is friendly, acts agreeably, thinks charitably, and talks amusingly is to be liked by everybody, and invited everywhere.

JABBOREE

By RUTHIE

Nan Beardmore was strolling down the street with her new pet when Bob Clark happened along and asked, "Say, that's some dog you have there. What kind it is?"

"Thanks," said Nan, "It's a Bloodhound."

"Bloodhound," exclaimed Bob! "Of course, stupid," she cried, "here Rover, bleed for the boy."

* * *

Jack Wright is the dumbest thing. During his vacation at Fish Lake he found some milk bottles in the grass and the poor fellow still swears he found a cows' nest.

* * *

"Do you believe in ghosts?" asked Betty P. "No," said her friend, "but Gloria Gibson certainly did give me a jolt the other day when she came in the room with a beauty mask on."

* * *

Do you notice any difference in Biddys' walk?

Well, he's been riding the range. Or was it a horse?

* * *

"Who's that whats-her-name that's sitting with what-ch-callit over there at the far table? See the thing-a-majig on her head?"

"Oh yes I see her now. Why, that's goof-nut."

* * *

Henry: "Will you run up stairs and get my watch?"

Harold: "Aw, why don't you let it run down."

* * *

Teacher: "In which of his battles was King Gustavus Adolphus killed?"

Geo. Bailey, who, fresh from his summer pranks, answered: "I think it was his last."

* * *

Sympathetic friend: "What's the matter with your thumb?"

Victim: "I hit the wrong nail"

* * *

Pants is an uncommon noun, because they are singular at the top and plural at the bottom.

Eckstein: "Are you a one arm driver?"

Beattie: "Naw—I take a taxi and use both."

TED JONES TO AID SCHROEDER

Gridders Back In Harness After Long Vacation

He's here! Old King Football has officially pushed out Mr. Baseball again to take command of the sporting fields throughout the United States. This is certainly holding true in Salem High as Coach Carl F. Schroeder began extensive training with his football prospects last week.

Schroeder, starting his second year as head football coach of Salem High, has announced that his plans for the coming season will be quite different than the ones last year.

This year will witness the inauguration of both a varsity and junior varsity squad. Coach Schroeder and Assistant Coach Jones will be in charge of the varsity squad.

The junior squad will be coached by other members of the staff. Frank Gordon, graduate of Wittenberg and a new member of the Junior High staff, will assist on the squad.

Jones will take over George Brungard's place as assistant coach. The new coach came to Salem from Millersburg and is a graduate of Hiram College. Jones recently finished a course at Ohio State University. Mr. Jones will also teach General Science and Economics in the school.

Fifty-four high school gridders turned out at the call from Schroeder, but out of the lot only six are lettermen from last year's left overs.

The lettermen are Mike Cerbu, Oliver Olexa, Bill Schaeffer, Bob Kirchgessner, Bill Malloy, and Charles Wentz.

The new uniforms for Salem High were distributed a day before practice. The uniforms which will be used for games alone are of a very striking color.

The pants are red jockey satin with white inserts in the legs. The jerseys are white wool with red and black stripes on the sleeves, while the headgears and stockings are also white.

The schedule for the 1937 season will be somewhat different from that of the last few years.

The red and black lads will play only nine games on their schedule this year. During the previous years they played ten games.

Three new schools will make their appearance on the Quaker's card and three old rivals will be dropped. The new teams are Ravenna, Dover, and Sharon, Pa. Youngstown East, Warren and East Palestine are being dropped.

There will be five home games and four played out of town. The

New students coming from rural districts near Salem are the following: Gail Bartchy, Robert Lee Boone, Marvin Coffee, Joe Hutter, Dorothy Whinnery, James Zimmerman, Henry Dolinar, Irene Duda, Edna Hamilton, Alida Kuyper, Emma Vincent, Lillian Mercer, Lea Bennett, Dorothy McDonald, Henry Beck, Margaret Gromley, Oliver Ingledue, and Gladys Holmes.

Due to the crowded condition, there is a Junior home room in the auditorium, in charge of Mr. Lewis Smith, former grid coach and teacher, who has returned to Salem to teach after working for the government.

The student body and the faculty extends a warm welcome to all of its new students and teachers.
