

Salem To Play Ravenna Tonight

SHS Gridders Beat Sebring

Salem High's ball-toters failed to break into the winning column last year, but a new and heavier squad with a clean slate put Salem up with the best of them when they inaugurated the '37 season last Friday at Reilly stadium with a 14-0 victory over a light but scrappy Sebring eleven.

The Quakers' were unable to break through the plucky defense set up by Coach Hostetler's boys during the first two periods of the contest but they came back strong during the last half to break through for consistently long gains.

Senior Stand Nets $19.62

Last Friday night marked the opening of the Senior stand for the season.

Miss Beardmore, who is in charge, as in previous years, announced that although $57.09 was taken in, only one-third of this was clear profit, which amounted to $19.62.

She also stated that a very nice group turned out to help and sincerely hopes they will help for the remainder of the season.

G. A. A. to Meet For First Time Today

The Girls' Athletic Association will hold its first meeting of the year in the gym tonight at 3:30.

The officers elected at the end of last year will preside at the meeting. The officers are: Bela Sidinger, president; Mary Jane Lora, vice-president; Alice Zatka, secretary; and Helen Adams, treasurer.

Miss Hanna plans to supervise at the kickball tournament to be played by the different classes of the G. A. A. members.

To become a member of the G. A. A. each girl must gain one hundred points by participating in the games held in the gym after school.

To receive a letter in the G. A. A. the girls must have one thousand points by the end of their school career.

S. H. S. Band to Lose Drum Major Shea

It was recently revealed by Mr. C. A. Brautigam that John T. Shea will not be a drum major this year as was announced in last week's publication of the Quaker.

Shea, a member of the Senior class, has accepted a job with the J. C. Penny Company and works in the afternoon. This disqualifies him as a drum major because he can not be present at band practices.

It is probable that Shea, also an active athlete, will not be on any of this year's athletic teams.

Tryouts For Glee Clubs Held

Tryouts for the Girls' and Boys' Glee club were held Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, under the direction of Mrs. Janice Satterthwaite, music instructress. The boys and girls who can sing best in a chorus will be chosen.

The Salem High school orchestra, also under Mrs. Satterthwaite's direction, has been practicing since the opening of school. They are preparing music which will be used for the class plays.

It is hoped by Mrs. Satterthwaite that a concert can be presented by the orchestra sometime in the spring. Last year this musical organization presented its first public concert.

Varsity "S" Plans Activities For Coming Year

With one successful year of activities "under its belt", the Varsity "S" club, reorganized last year, met and discussed four projects, two bonfires, a dance, and an assembly, last Friday in room 109.

The bonfires, which were a success last year, will be held before the Wellsville and Lisbon football games.

An assembly is scheduled to be presented before the Alliance game.

The date for the "Varsity Dance" is tentative and will be announced by Mr. Williams sometime in the future.

Max Lutsch is president of the club this year, having been elected at the last meeting in '36-'37 school year.

Tryouts For Debate Team To Be Held

There will be a meeting of all students interested in debate, next Tuesday at 3:30 in 309.

This year's subject for debate is: Resolved that several states should adopt Unicameral Legislation.

"Extemporaneous speeches" is a new feature to be adopted by Salem High debaters. Due to this plan, the students on the team will be coached in several topics and will be expected to speak upon them when the occasion arises.

Mr. Guiler, debate coach, announced that one-half credit and also debate pins, which are to be awarded at the close of the school term, will be given to those qualifying.

During the week, following Christmas vacation, the team will meet its first opponent which has not yet been announced.

Candidates for Cheer Leaders In Tryouts

A meeting was held last Tuesday evening in the auditorium for all those wishing to become cheerleaders. Mrs. Cope announced that a request had been received for four boy cheerleaders and that a large number had responded. The students that responded have been divided into groups of two's, three's, and four's.

A new plan had been decided upon by Mr. Williams, concerning the future cheerleaders. This plan includes arrangements for trips to college cities to see two or three college football games. This will help the Salem High cheerleaders get ideas as to how the college cheerleaders go about giving their school yells.

The cheerleaders, not chosen as yet, will travel to all out of town football and basketball games.

Quakers To Clash With Ravenna Eleven Tonight

Smashing Salem Team Out To Show Grid Strength

With victory clearly stamped in their minds, the Red and Black lads, under the leadership of Coach Carl Schroeder, are out to claim the second win of the season, when they tangle with Ravenna tonight at Reilly stadium.

But the Quakers will find that they have a larger and tougher team to beat, than they did when they upset the small Sebring gridders last Friday night.

Prof. Cameron Plans Girls' Trades Class

A trades class for girls is being started by Mr. Holland Cameron, instructor of the boys' trades class. Only six members can be taken at the beginning but it is hoped that more can be handled later. The girls, who are being selected from the Stenography II classes, will do stenographic work four hours a week in some shop for a period of three weeks. Then they will be moved to some other shop, etc., until they have completed twelve hours in each of six shops. In addition to the experience gained each one will receive one high school credit for the work.

MacDonald To Direct Church Production

Mr. James McDonald, instructor of dramatics, is director of the play "Wings of the Morning," to be presented by the Presbyterian church November 4 and 5 in the High School auditorium.

Tryouts for the play were held a week ago last Tuesday evening at 7:30. The casting committee included Mrs. E. S. Kerr, G. W. Bunn, Mrs. M. M. Sandrock, R. A. Newbold and Mrs. T. A. Mercer.

Proceeds from the play will be used to establish a $1,000 Tower Fund, the proposed cost of the colonial spire for the new building. The cast of fifteen characters, six men and nine women, were recruited from the membership of the church. Several High school pupils tried out for this play.

Bucking Horse Being Made For Gridders

The fifth and sixth period manual training class is now working on a "builder" or breaker" for football players.

This "bucking horse" will consist of a heavy wood fram sled on which seven well padded dummies will be mounted.

This frame, nineteen feet by six feet, will be assembled at school, knocked down, carried to the practice field, re-assembled, and ready for use some time in the near future.

It is no cinch shoving around a heavy sled and the boys probably hope it will not be completed this season.

The Ravenna squad, one of the three new teams to make its appearance on the Salem schedule this year, is just as large and heavy as the Quakers, and should offer plenty of opposition for our local lads. But big or small, the Salem gridders have their minds set on the second victory of the season and they will go out and work and play their best.

The Salem team though, has suffered two major losses which may prove to be a setback to them.

During the past week, Schroeder has been trying out several men to take Julius Nestor's position at right end. Nestor suffered a broken wrist in Sebring's contest, and therefore will be out of the game for the remainder of the season. But as yet, it is not definite who will fill his place.

The second loss, is that Dave Cope, a 200 pounder and one of the most promising tackles, will be unable to continue his playing of the sport.

Although the Ravenna team is rated dangerous, the Portage county gridders lost to Akron Buchtel, 14-0 and played a scoreless tie with Medina in its first game.

The starting lineup of both teams was unavailable at the time of this writing, and therefore it cannot be given out. Although it is probable that most of the Quakers who started in last week's fray, will again start or get a chance to play in the game.

It is an interesting fact to note that 30 years ago this past week, the Salem High football squad again played the Ravenna team and whipped them by a score of 42 to 0.

CLUB NEWS

Hi-Tri members met last evening after school with their invited guests. All junior girls with A and B averages received invitations to attend the meeting to become acquainted with the club.

Salemasquers will not resume their meetings until Tues., Oct. 12.

French, Latin, Spanish and General Science clubs will announce their plans later.

Highlights, in what would otherwise have been a rather dull and uninteresting contest, were provided by the stellar performances of Sebring's Sonny Campbell, who plunged, dashed, and literally plowed his way through the Quakers' defense for long gains during the first two quarters, and by the equally impressive playing of Salem's Ollie Olexa who played an important part in nearly every successful play executed by the Salem team during the contest.

Salem's first score came in the third quarter after the Quakers fought their way from the Sebring 42 to the goal-line. Lutch's successful drop-kick gave Salem an extra point.

A blocked punt in the fourth quarter led to the Quakers' second

Runners Prepare For Coming Meet

The Cross Country team under the direction of Coach R. B. Clarke will open its season one week from tomorrow in a meet with Boardman, East Palestine, and Akron East.

The boys have been practicing for two weeks, running their two and one half miles each night.

The time trials are to be held today when all the boys will run their two and one-half miles and the first seven across the tape will qualify for the team.

Coach Clarke in the preceding years has turned out winning teams. One boy, Paul Roelen, from this team won the state championship last year; was second two years ago; seventh, three years ago and fourth, four years ago, Paul is now enrolled at Pitt University.

A Vote of Thanks

No doubt most students saw the flashy new uniforms the Salem team sported last Friday night.

Few people know the thanks the football team would like to extend to, Mr. Cope, Coach Shroeder and the school for outfitting them so splendidly.

The team take this method to extend their gratitude and promise to make themselves worthy of the suits.

Enjoy School

Thirty years ago school meant grind.

The idea was to memorize facts.

Now going to school is actually fun. Along with studies come various activities. In our High school we have more than twenty organizations to satisfy student desires. Surprising isn't it?

Most of these clubs are just re-organizing for the year and now is the time to join them.

All of these activities help to make school more interesting and whether you lean towards dramatics, music, writing, athletics or languages there is a club for you.

Why not take advantage of it?

It's a Fact

If you ever hear of a boy or girl who wants to quit school, when it is unnecessary, if you ever hear of parents who are thinking of putting their children to work, when it is necessary, just bring these figures to their attention:

Every day spent in school pays the child $9. Here is the proof, based on the wage scale of 1913:

Uneducated laborers earn on the average of $500 per year for forty years, a total of $20,000.

High School graduates earn on the average of $1,000 per year for forty years, a total of $40,000.

This education required twelve years of school of 180 days each, a total of 2,160 days in school.

If 2,160 days at school add $20,000 to the income for life, then each day at school adds $9.25.

The child that stays out of school to earn less than $9 a day is losing money—not making money.

These figures are based on an investigation made by D. A. Caswell Ellis of the University of Texas, at the request of the U. S. Bureau of

The man who has something to sell

And goes and whispers it down a well

Isn't half so likely to collar the dollars

As he who climbs a tree and hollars.

Student Support

One of the most essential things of all High school activities is student support. Where would the football squad be without this necessary factor? If the student body did not cheer at games and constantly inject football into their conversation, the team would soon not care whether they won or lost. This also applies to basketball, track, etc.

What is true in the support of athletics is true in other activities. Take for example the band. They need your support. Every student is proud to say that Salem High has a fine band.

Beauty Prize Winner Now Attending SHS

Sylvia Garforth, new golden haired junior, had been voted the most beautiful girl at Goshen High School, it was revealed recently.

Sylvia attended Goshen High until last December, when she transferred to Rayen High. At Rayen she was a member of the commercial club. Her hobby is collecting things.

Boys needn't get excited because Sylvia is rather conservative in her number of dates.

Sylvia likes her former schools, and states that she thinks the boys and girls here are very friendly.

You people have been complaining that just certain cliques are used in these scandal columns. Of course, that is true, to a certain extent. Why? The reason is this: they do things which we hear about. You people who want something in the column simply have to bring it to the Quaker office and we'll be glad to print it. Come on now, get busy.

I just found out that a certain little freshman is simply Ga Ga about Mary Chamberlain, the new senior girl. Well, I don't blame him.

After breaking her prom date with Dave, Dave had the nerve to expect Margie to accept a date with him last Friday. It seems he and friend Charlie are in the same boat. Well boys, live and learn.

Here's advice to high-kicking dancers, learn a lesson from a bull elk in the State of Washington that caught his front foot above his antler while fighting. Unable to extricate the foot, the animal died of starvation.

Did you see who Arlene Melinger went to the game with last Friday? You should guess, it was that handsome new boy friend, Henry Der Motta.

Oh, the thrill the little girls get when they have to be escorted up the street by those handsome bashful boys being initiated into a boys' club. The girls seem very disgusted but deep down inside their hearts are pumping 2x70 per minute.

I heard that Lewis Zimmerman smashed his car recently. Oh well, a lot of auto wrecks result from the driver hugging the wrong curve.

Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 3-9

Fire prevention is preached by newspapers, periodicals, schools, civic and industrial organizations; and national and local governments.

Students should realize the danger of school fires and of those in homes. As a result of the far-reaching campaign of education, the American people are beginning to exercise better care, both in factory and in homes, and to show a greater readiness to comply with precautionary measures against the outbreak of fires.

Tourists are learning the folly of leaving campfires unextinguished, and individuals are developing a spirit of responsibility that is sure to produce results. Other measures have been the adoption by many states, provinces and cities, of laws and regulations for better and safer buildings, as well as better inspection and increased supervision of buildings by members of the fire department.

Students of Salem High School are familiar with the procedures followed in fire drills and in case of real fire should keep calm and reserved. A panic is often more dangerous than the fire itself.

Jr. High News

Beeman G. Ludwig, principal, announced that clubs will start sometime this week. The first meeting of club supervisors was held Tuesday evening at 3:30. The supervisors of the clubs are as follows: Audabon club, William Baker; Boys' Glee club, Walter Regal; Girls' Glee club, Doris Tetlow; Handicraft club, Mrs. Lulu McCarthy; Dramatics, Elizabeth Ward; Airplane club, Herbert C. Kelley; School Council club, Ann Connors.

In the Junior High association drive, which ended Wednesday, the 8D's were leading by a small percentage over the 7E's and 8F's. The teacher of the 8D class, Mary E. Roth, reported that the class had received association banners three times previously. The drive reported a record total of 282 members.

Art classes will start in the near future in a newly finished art-room in the basement. Mr. Kelley will direct the classes.

Bill Baker, ornithologist and teacher, announced that 40 boys and girls responded to his call for the forming of an Audabon club last week. Mr. Baker reports that a hike will be held in the near future near Canfield.

204

Sewing classes have begun, under the leadership of Lulu M. McCarthy. These classes will continue three times each week, and about sixty are included in Mrs. McCarthy's classes.

200

A new program has been outlined by Miss Effie Cameron and Margaret Klose, Quakerette supervisors as to the production of the Quakerettes. The first Quakerette worked out in accordance with this plan will be printed next week.

Music Classes

The music classes under the direction of Mrs. Ellis Satterthwaite will begin next week. These classes will include both 7th and 8th grade boys and girls.

205

Library, under the supervision of Margaret Klose opened last Wednesday. The library will be open during activity period and after school on Wednesdays and Fridays.

201

Elizabeth Ward, has been chosen to succeed Helen Marie Smith Hole, former instructor, as Dramatics supervisor. Miss Ward is a capable instructor having studied Dramatics at Cleveland. Mrs. Hole is now supervisor of children's plays at the Cleveland Playhouse in Cleveland, one of the countries outstanding Dramatic theaters.

Manual Training Classes

Eighty boys reported to Mr. Kelley in Manual training classes last week. He announced that forty more will report this week bringing a grand total of hundred twenty. Never before in the history of Junior High has there been this number of boys enrolled in Manual training.

Valois Finney has started that candid-camera stuff here. She perches on the second floor in the front of the building and waits until her worm turns up. Then snap! And she's got you! Did you get Dick, Valois?....

Ask Vivian Foltz how she likes S. H. S. and she'll tell you "It's fuzzy....."

Those two sophomores Helen Knepper and Bob Neale are still hitting it off after nine months —so we hear. But what did Peggy have to do with it at the last game, Bob?.....

These freshmen! Asking "Where are the stairs, please?"; "Where is the library, please?"; "Where is Miss Hart's office please?"; and topping it off, "Where's the elevator, please?" Plizz notice the "please".....

Betty Neal is seen rather often in the company of Dave Hart and Charles Trotter. Don'tcha think? Or don'tcha.....

By the by (roads) what's happened to Virgil Stamp. Be he circulating nowadays? Also, that sweet blond "Sophie" Wanda Hively? Will somebody be kind enough to inform us where the dears are?.....

What Freshman girl has been going around in a daze for days because of that "perfect senior" Bill Malloy? Keep up the good work, Bill.....

The one-sided crush of '37. Dorothy Hinkle for Joe Morris. Her twin sister feels the same way about him too.....

The auditorians have a grand time in home room. They think there's nobody quite like Mr. Smith.....

Donald Vincent is breaking into the "Old Ladies Home." He's quite "that way" about a brunette grad of '36. Her initials are B. M. But 'tis rumored that her heart is definitely in the WOOD(S)!

Did you say you are offering us a padded cell? Thanks, we'll take it!.....

Hall of Oblivion

Let's forget: The cheers given by the student body at the first pep assembly. There are thirty-three more weeks of school this year. Irene Schmidt's embarrassment when she asked for Bob Sanders in 206 one day.

Bill Jones' interruptions in an American Government class. The mistake of the Journalism class about Mr. Lehman's birthday. (It was really Mr. Henning's, instead).

SKORMAN'S

Thoughts between classes:— How trying on the nerves to be a study hall teacher; but how swell it would be to teach Chemistry or Biology.

If I were rich, I'd have a valet named Hawkins or Gregory to lay out my school clothes then maybe I'd be on time. But, no, I have to do everything myself! Such is life, I guess.

Best recording of the month: Benny Goodman's record of "Avolon."

Have you noticed how forlorn Leroy Moss is lately? He claims he has been sadly disillusioned, so he has turned woman hater.

Bright ideas: Alice Maxson as a radio comedian or writing a humor column.

A dog is a swell companion to have. But the only objection is, that we can't have "Buddy," "Pal" or "Spot" from childhood to old age. I always like to think of those "friends," who have passed on, as being in a heaven for thoroughbreds and mongrels alike.

Odd nicknames: Dick Broomal has a honey, "Suzy." Chuck Kesselmirre has done quite a lot to deserve his "Casa Nova."

Styles: Boys' gaudy shirts and girls' bright colored calots or skull caps.

Hall of Fame

We nominate:

Ollie Olexa, for his two touch-downs at the Sebring game.

Max Lutsch, for his helpful assistance to Ollie.

Winifred Llewellyn, for the results she obtained from her expression "Salem boys are too bashful."

Julius Nester, for his "grin and bear it" attitude.

The romance of Charlotte Morey, Senior, and Eugene Neal, Junior. Don Freed, for his cute performance with the band.

Maxine Fidoe and Martin Whitman for their bashful romance.

A Deluxe Stenographer

"The stenographer we require", ran the ad, "Must be fast, absolutely accurate, and must have human intelligence. If you are not a crackerjack, don't bother us."

One of the applicants wrote: "Your advertisement appeals to me strangely—stronger than prepared mustard—as I have searched Europe, Airope, and Hoboken in quest of some one who could use my talent to advantage. When it comes to this chin music proposition, I have never found man, woman, or dictaphone who could get to first base with me, either fancy or catch-as-catch can. I write shorthand so fast that I have to use an especially prepared pencil with a platinum point and a water-cooling attachment, a note pad made of asbestoes, ruled with sulphuric acid and stitched with cat gut. I run with my cut-out open at all speeds, and am, in fact, a guaranteed, double hydraulic welded, drop forged and oil tempered specimen of human lightening on a perfect thirty six frame, ground to one thousandth of an inch. If you would avail yourself of the opportunity of a lifetime wire me, but unless you are fully prepared to pay the tariff for such service, don't bother me, as I am so nervous I can't stand still long enough to have my dresses fitted.

Irene Gets Her Man

One day last week Miss Beardmore has having her usual difficulty in getting the 7th period 206 study hall to settle down. She kept repeating that she wanted to do her work but she couldn't unless the kids did theirs. Then just when things were quieting down, Irene Schmidt, the monitor, came in and told Miss Beardmore that Bob Sanders was wanted in the office. Bob sits way in the back of the room so Irene had to go along the aisle past dozens of inquisitive boys and girls. Everybody turned to watch her to see what she had on so Miss Beardmore thought it was time for her to step in and get some order. She didn't accomplish her purpose though because her words made 206 roar with laughter. She said "Now, children, turn around and get to studying. If Irene wants Bob and I say she can have him it's none of your business. She's going to take him right with her, too, so you won't be able to watch."

He Helped

A story is told of a green brakeman who was making his first trip on a logging railroad up in the mountains. The train was going up a very steep grade and with unusual difficulty the engineer succeeded in reaching the top. When the engineer had the train going along smoothly again, he said, with a sigh of relief, "Well, I tell you we had a job to make that grade, didn't we?"

"Yes," replied the new brakeman, "And if I hadn't kept the brakes on all the way up we would have slipped back."

'Avalanche' Startles Unsuspecting Studes

The crowd was chatting noisily in front of school, when from a distance a rumbling sound was heard. Silence came over the crowd as slowly the distant rumbling grew louder, until eventually it became a deafening thunder.

The crowd was in suspense. Was it a hurricane? A tornado? A cyclone?

But at last the cause of the racket came into full view. No, it was not a hurricane, or a tornado, or a cyclone, but an Avalanche.

Eventually, "Avalanche," the recently acquired pride and joy of Pat Sharkey, after much coaxing on the part of its owner, and the mechanic Art Shun, came to a dead halt.

Ollie Olexa, acting captain of our football team, was the victim of a prank played in American Government class one day last week. Max Lutsch, another member of the football team, is always using his ingenious mind to think up something which will cause the teacher's hair to become one shade nearer gray. This particular day he brought to class a card. After passing through many hands it came to Ralph Probert. He got a brilliant idea which had been overlooked by the others. He placed the card on the back of Ollie's neck. The pupils on seeing the connection between the phrase on the card and Ollie's neck attempted to hide their giggles. The card said: "This is made of genuine leather."

Noted Nimrod Awaits Hunting Season

Professor Englehart has been eating his heart away lately waiting for that delightfully looked forward day of days, the twenty-fifth of September, the beginning of the hunting season.

After much pestering and wheedling of the country boys in his auto-mechanics classes, Mr. Englehart has finally assimilated enough information to make a sympathetic attack on the wild life of the forests and fields around and about the vicinity of Salem.

Many boys and men feeling the same urge which impells Mr. Englehart, look forward with that strange longing look which is to be found in the eyes of any nimrod at this season of the year.

Real crisp and snappy fall weather has not set in yet, but looking forward to fields of brown grass and forests covered with a fine natural array of beautiful colors has caused many a day dream in the hearts of the hunters of this year.

Namer

A symbol of true loveliness is this popular young Miss of the Senior class. Her personality and popularity (boys especially) make her an outstanding figure. Not hard to look at, this likeable person claims as her home room, 205. She has mild blue eyes, light brown hair, and she wears glasses. She is a member of the Salemasquers Club. It might be said that she's hard to date, but if you date her, "man you've got something there." Her unofficial residence from 3:30 to 4:00 P. M. is in the rear booth of Hainan's Restaurant. (Paid adv.) Dick Capel is head man at present with the eldest Cavanaugh running interference.

"The Miller's Daughter, Mary Ann" was riding "The Horse With The Dreamy Eyes" on "The Road To Rio".

She met "A Stranger In The Dark", and said "Words Fail Me". "If The Stars Could Only Talk", but that's "Moonlight Madness" I guess. Still, "You Can't Stop Me From Dreaming."

"Let me take you by the hand", he said and "Gangway" Nothing Can Stop Me Now" for "You Are The Reason", "My Little Buckaroo", that "I'm Just A Country Boy At Heart".

"I'm Dependable", she answered but "The Moon Got In My Eyes". "Wouldn't It Break Your Heart"—to hear me say, "He's Just a Gypsy From Poughkeepsie". How do I know? "Cause My Baby Says It's So."

He cried, "The Lady Is A Tramp" and Oh, "What A Dummy Love Has Made Of Me!"

"Was your barn hurt during the cyclone?"

"I dunno, I haven't round it yet."

Jones Selling Stock In Latest Invention

Professor Jones, that eminent figure in the field of research and science announced his perfection of a new type of electric motor. This motor works on the principle of perpetual motion. Mr. Jones has dreams that it will revolutionize the automotive industry. In fact he has gone so far as to sell stock in his "to be" firm. This stock, the professor claims has a par value of fifty dollars per share but he is letting a few persons in on the ground floor by offering stock to them at five dollars per share. So far you students who have an eye for the future here is the chance of a lifetime. Don't forget they laughed at Christopher Columbus.
