George Elias Tells His Life Story In Assembly

The student body was both astonished and amazed to hear Mr. George Elias tell in assembly, yesterday, of his most unique and interesting experiences.

A man of experience, Mr. Elias, has averaged over three hundred statures each year, for the last seven years. In these, his life history unfolded most interestingly.

Home Raided by Turks

At the age of fifteen, his home was raided by the Turks and Kurds. Being separated from his family, he then fled to Persia. After the outbreak of the World War he became a member of the Foreign Volunteers, cooperating with the Russian Army to combat the Turks.

In 1917, after the Russian Revolution, when he heard that Russia might become an ally of the central powers, Elias decided to leave that country. However, he was unable to get a passport, owing to his inability to prove citizenship to any other country. His father finally obtained a refugee certificate enabling him to return to Persia. He was indeed "A Man Without A Country."

Arrives In U. S.

He had always dreamed of a country which he could cherish, and love. After many years of hardships and hazardous adventures that dream was fulfilled, when he arrived in the United States. After arriving here, he was reunited with his mother whom he had not heard from for 18 years, and whom he thought dead.

Among his boyhood memories, Mr. Elias cherishes as the most precious, his days as a shepherd of the East. For four years this Oriental lad guarded his father's flock of about one hundred sheep and fifty goats. Each animal had a name and responded to its name and the voice of the shepherd.

This interesting story was told by Mr. George Elias in a very novel way. He lectured on this theme over 800 times throughout the United States and Canada.

Play Prospects See Chinese Film 'Short'

Prospective members of the cast of the Senior play, "Yellow Jacket," saw a short feature on Chinese life at the State theater Tuesday afternoon. The cast saw this short as a test of the management.

Mr. MacDonald was particularly anxious that the prospective cast see this film because of its similarity to the Senior play.

The cast were to take particular notice of the costumes and makeup and of the manner in which Orientals acted.

Due to the fact that most of the pupils went to see this film, the meeting of the cast scheduled for Tuesday night was postponed to Wednesday evening.

Earliest Snowfall Seen By Students

Snow flurries fell intermittently in Salem a week ago Thursday, making the earliest snowfall in eight years. The temperature dropped to 25 degrees at 4 a. m.

Columbus, the capital city, also reported light snow. Record-breaking low temperatures were reported throughout the state.

Salem Hi Students To Speak Sunday

At the suggestion of Mrs. Woodruff, head of the Salem Red Cross and chairman of its annual drive, the fourteen members of Mr. Guiller's Public Speaking class will deliver addresses, giving facts advocating the joining of the Red Cross, to various assemblies.

The following are the names of the churches and the students speaking: Church of Our Saviour, Ralph Taylor; Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Don Beattie; Saint Paul's School, Bill Malloy; First Baptist Church, Paul Meier; Christian Science Church, Charles Trotter; A. M. E. Zion, F. Swaney; St. John's A. M. E. Zion, E. Faulkner; First Presbyterian Church, G. Duncan; First Christian Church, Helen Berg; First Friend's Church, Jack Reardon, Emmanuel Lutheran, D. Krauss; Methodist Episcopal, J. Phils; Salvation Army, B. Stevens; Church of God, Helen Todd; Church of Nazarene, Alice Maxon.

The students speaking at clubs are as follows: Music Club and Book Club, Ward Eckstein; Quota Club, Helen Berg; Kiwanis, Dave Hart; Traveler's Club, Don Beattie.

Pupils Correspond With Frenchmen

To create more interest in French Miss Roth is having the French students to begin correspondence with French pupils who are studying English.

The American students will at first write in English to the French pupils who will answer the letter in their native tongue. When both correspondents become more advanced in the language they are studying, the Salem pupils will write in French and the French students in English.

To correspond the student must give his name, address, activities in which he is interested and how far he is advanced in French. Girls may correspond with French girls or boys, but boys may correspond only with French boys.

The French classes are going to subscribe to a French paper "Le Live."

As supplementary work the French I class will read "France, the Crossroads of Europe."

8 SHS Girls Enroll In Shop Prep Class

Eight girls are now regularly enrolled in the Girls' Trade Preparatory Training class and have either started work or will start some time soon.

Mary Helen Bruderly is working at the Salem Engineering Company; Jeannette Ciotti, Ella Jane Smith, Mary Bohr, Betty Bradley and Arlene Mellinger at Mullins Manufacturing Co.; Evelyn Tullis at the Salem Trades Class office in the Junior High building; and Charlotte Morey at the Salem Tool Company.

A few more girls are expecting to start in other shops as soon as these shops have made arrangements for this type of a program.

These girls were chosen from the Stenography II class and will receive one credit for 36 weeks of four hours a week work. The work is done after school or on Saturday mornings.

This program has been formally approved by the School Board and the State Board for Vocational Education.

Soph Returns From European Journey

"I found the boys and girls of Europe exceedingly friendly," said Millie Stulich, sophomore, who returned to the United States on September 29.

Visiting with relatives, Millie and her father spent three months abroad. She visited in France, Switzerland, Australia, Yugoslavia, and in Italy. In France, Millie visited the Paris Exposition.

"One of the most beautiful places I visited was in the mountains of Switzerland," Millie declared.

"I was particularly impressed with the dress of the people of the various countries of Europe," Millie stated. "Their manners of dress seemed very queer to me. But I thought them very pretty."

After commenting on the friendliness of the European peoples, Millie laughingly said, "I think I amused them as much as they did me."

Leipper, Gibson Take Annapolis Exams

James Kenneth Leipper, and George Gibson, former well known Salem High School students, are to take Annapolis preliminary examination on November sixth.

Leipper will take his examination at the State capital, but Gibson will take his at the national capital.

Of the eighty-one applicants for the two vacancies this year, Senator Robert Bulkley of Ohio will choose eight who have passed the examination which is held by the Civil Service Commission. These eight will be divided into two principals, and three alternates who will be permitted to qualify for entrance. The alternates will qualify only if the principals fail.

Salem Gridders to Tangle With Light, Shifty "Tiger"

Quakers to Avenge Last Year's Defeat

Returning to their home field after a two weeks' road engagement, which proved to be very disastrous to them, the Salem High gridders will tangle with the Wellsville "Tigers" tonight at Reilly Stadium.

Teachers to Attend N.E.O.T.A. Oct. 29

Members of the faculty of Salem High will leave Friday, October 29, to attend the annual meeting of the Northeastern Ohio Teachers' association at Cleveland.

A very interesting and beneficial program has been arranged for the general sessions. On Friday the music will be presented by an All-District High School chorus conducted by Ellis E. Snyder of Capital University. The invocation will be pronounced by Dr. F. Q. Blanchard, minister of the Euclid Avenue Congregational church. Dr. Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta, Ga., schools, and Dr. Charles W. Gilkey of the University of Chicago chapel will address the general session.

On Saturday the music will be provided by the Cleveland Symphony, Arthur Rodzinski conducting. The address will be delivered by Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma.

Besides the general assembly, each department will have its own meeting and lectures.

Due to the fact that all the teachers will attend the convention, there will be no school next Friday.

SHS Students Star In Legion Broadcast

Several high school students took part in the American Legion Auxiliary benefit "broadcast" given at 8 p. m. last Monday in the high school auditorium.

A professional director, "Crazy Mike," was in charge of the broadcast. He trained members of the cast for their work before the microphone. The program was heard by the audience in the auditorium over apparatus used in a regular radio broadcast.

Two short plays were presented during the broadcast. Those in the first, "The Insane Asylum of the Air," were Don Beattie, Mary Helen Bruderly, Steve Belan, William Litty, and Stefan Oana. The second play was a melodrama, "Little Nell," and the cast included Charlotte Morey, William Little, Paul Meier, Steve Belan, and Wade McGhee.

Ralston Smith had a comedy hit in which he appeared as three people at the same time.

Others who appeared during the program were Lewis Zimmerman, Betty Wilson, Margaret Votaw; Ellen Monks, Leatrice Johns, Mary Fisher, and Katherine Sturgeon.

Fighting on their own field, the Quakers have played winning ball games, but when they have gone out of town, old man Jinx has seemed to catch up with them. Two weeks ago they lost a heart-breaking game to East Liverpool, while last week they fell prey to the Struthers team.

Coach Bill Storer is bringing with him a very light team, but one which is very fast and tricky. The heaviest man on the team is Zahardt, right end man, who weighs 168 pounds. The average of the Tigers' line is 155 pounds, while the backfield averages just 149 pounds.

Coach Schroeder's boys, therefore, have somewhat of a large margin in weight over the opposing team, but they should not feel too overconfident, for Wellsville has a fast backfield which can weave in and out very easily and which is very hard to catch.

The Tigers will meet the Salem lads with two victories and three defeats so far this season. They lost to Alliance, 13 to 0, and last week Toronto bowled them over for a 13-0 victory. Their most impressive victory was the 37-0 rout of East Palestine.

Last year the county cousins nosed out Salem, 27 to 6. So that is one of the many reasons that the Quakers want to tame the Tigers.

The second reason is that this is the Red and Black lads second all-important Columbiana County game. The first was played with Liverpool two weeks ago. And finally, of course, the Quakers want (Continued on Page 4)

High School Day at Oberlin, Tomorrow

Oberlin has designated tomorrow, October 23, as High School Day, on which day Juniors and Seniors interested in attending college may visit the buildings and grounds, attend the football game, inspect special exhibitions in the various sciences, fine arts, and modern languages and join in other activities planned for the day.

Another attraction will be the examination held for Seniors. The sixteen placing among the first 25 per cent will receive tuition prize awards of $300.00 each. There will also be scholarships offered to Seniors qualifying in the Music Contest.

The game between Oberlin and Swarthmore will begin at 1:30 in the afternoon. From 9 to 11 in the evening there will be an all-college dance, to which High School Day guests are cordially invited to attend.

Pass the 3-Mill Levy

At the coming election on November 2, a most vital issue is at stake, so far as Salem High school is concerned. Every five years our Board of Education must ask the voters of the Salem City School District to approve a 3-mill levy for purposes of operating the schools. That levy is up for renewal this year.

On checking into the issue we discovered that the Board of Education's problem is this: Out of the one hundred five cities of the state, Salem is down to seventy-third place in the tax valuation per pupil. Instead of our tax rate for school purposes being correspondingly high to offset this low valuation, we find our school tax rate down to forty-third place. A few moments' figuring on this problem reveals the Board of Education's figuratively "trying to lift itself by its boot straps."

The opportunities offered us here at Salem are very many. Also, the standard of instruction is consistently high. The very least we can do is to get busy and help the Board in its efforts to successfully carry the 3-mill levy at the polls. Students, here is one of the few chances we get to show our appreciation for splendid high school training! Let's get busy!

Thanks

Many thanks are in store for those students who cooperated in the "Sit Together Plan" which was inaugurated at Struthers last Friday night. The cheerleaders join with the band in their appreciation of the fine cooperation of the student body.

This plan works out very well, and it is hoped by the cheerleaders and the band that the plan will be used effectively at all future football games. Let's sit together to-night at the Wellsville game and keep up the good work!!!

Save Time

Every day it takes so long for the students to settle down in the study halls. There are always five or ten minutes wasted before the teacher can ever take the roll.

Someone is running to the pencil sharpener. Another person decides to go to the back of the room and tell his friend about the date he has for tonight. Some come running in after the bell has rang. Others talk to their neighbors.

There are some students, however, that would like to study but are disturbed by the noise made by other students. Each student should get to his seat as quickly and quietly as possible. He should not get out of it until the roll is taken. If he doesn't know his lesson, he can get permission to speak for a few minutes with someone who does. But only on those conditions should he get permission to speak. If he has to tell his friends about his dates or about the football game he can, but that can be done after school or after class, and not when he wants to study.

Each student has an opportunity to study and get good grades. If he doesn't it's his own fault. But there are always a few who like to annoy everyone, attract attention, giggle or laugh and disturb others.

Therefore, each person should learn to save his time, and just how valuable time is to him and to those around him. If one doesn't save it for himself he can at least be considerate of others and not waste their time.

Jest In Fun

The judge asked Sambo what proof he had that Rastus had hit him in the eye. Sambo replied in a determined manner: "Yo, honor, I got it all down here in black and blue."

An inebriated man came to a tree with rails 'round to protect it. He wandered 'round and 'round, then gave a cry of fear. "Oh, help! I'm locked in," he exclaimed.

Are women gaining in power? Well, with men knitting and cooking and patronizing beauty shops, somebody has to show some manhood.

Il Duce's time will come. Look what happened to those other great Italian racketeers, Napoleon and Capone.

Strange but true: Employees of a power sub-station watched speechless:

A motorist drive into a high tension pole.

A 2,600-volt cable snap and fall over the car.

The automobile glow blood red.

The driver sitting motionless.

The wire fall to the ground, melting cinders.

The motorist drive away.

Seniors are supposedly dignified, but if you could be in a certain home room when the Prof. isn't . . . well, just drop in unexpectedly sometime, but duck as you enter because you might get hit with a paper wad, an eraser, a book or anything which serves as a weapon for Nick Tatu and Lee Wilms.

How To Keep From Growing Old

1. Always race with locomotives to crossings. Engineers like it; it breaks the monotony of their jobs.

2. Always pass the car ahead on curves or on a hill; it gives the fellow meeting you such a thrill.

3. Always hold the middle of the road. You're entitled to half, so select the part you want.

4. Always speed; it shows them you're a man of pep even though the traffic is heavy.

5. Always speed up when entering a main highway or a crossroad. You have just as much right as the other fellow.

6. Always shove on your brakes when skidding. It makes the job more artistic.

7. Always drive close to pedestrians in sloppy weather. The game is called muddytag.

8. Always make your turns without looking back. You make acquaintances that way.

'Adios su excellencia' 'Adios, mi cerdito'

Since last Friday there have been uttered many strange greetings as the charter members of "Los Castillos" and the new members of the Spanish club meet.

It seems that the new members, who were taken into the club last Friday, were being initiated, and were forced to greet the other members in a prescribed manner.

"Adois, mi cerdito," smilingly said the charter member, as he greeted the initiatee.

Lewie Zimmerman, Kate Stergeon, Keith Frost and Dot Denkhaus trying to keep warm . . . on the Struthers side, too.

Al J. Freed's new flame . . . yeah, man, he walked home with Marg S. Tonight Eugene McCready has the honor.

Kirchgeessner's never failing spunk.

The absence of Nestor.

Vivian Foltz in step with the band.

Was Peachy looking for angle worms, or four-leaf clovers on Neal's lawn last Sunday?

Bang! Don't get excited, it's just little Myron Beardmore falling for Jeanne Layden.

Pathetic scene at the State: Janie with Johnnie while Junior sat across the aisle uninterested in the show.

Beattie and Band Disagree, and How!

Was Beattie's face red? Oh, no. It was only a rather deep shade of pink. The band was going through some of its routine march practice last Friday with Don, as usual, presiding as drum major. After forming the "S," the band received Don's whistle signal to "come out of it." The second signal is for everyone to face front. Then came the third — forward march, left, right, left, right. What's this? Don's going one way and the band's going the other.

"Hey! What's wrong?" shouted Beattie.

"Well," said Mr. Brautigam, "that's the back of the band; the front is up there."

And was Don's face red? Well, Don, that's something everyone should know.

'Song Shoppe'

"Virginia" is "The Widow In Lace." "She's Tall, Tan, and She's Terrific" is the way her friends describe her.

"Out of the Blue" she met "Cuban Pete" "Scattin' at the Kit Kat." They did "The Big Apple" and "The Shag" to the music of "The Yankee Doodle Band."

"Let Me Take You By the Hand" and "This Way Please" for "The Door Is Open Again."

They went "Riding on the Ferris Wheel" and she cried "Stop, You're Breaking My Heart," 'cause "Right or Wrong" "You're Going to Wake Up Someday" and find yourself "Floating On a Bubble."

She's just an "Alibi Baby" who says "You Can't Have Everything," "Smarty," because "I'm the Lady Who Couldn't Be Kissed."

"Adios su excellencia," came the greeting of the new member.

And was the latter's face red because he had to say in Spanish, "Hello, your excellence?" No, his face was red because the elder member had said, "Hello, my little pig!"

A woman's promise to be on time carries a lot of wait!

Men die for their country, but women die for their men.

Jr. High News

A few boys of the seventh and eighth grade divisions saw action last Saturday morning when the Salem Junior Varsity Jayvees tackled Minerva High's reserves at Reilly Stadium.

On Thursday of last week try-outs were held to determine the Junior High Cheerleaders. Those chosen will lead the lower grades or Knot-Hole club which is seated down on the south end of the stadium.

Next week on Monday the seventh graders will hold a musical assembly under the leadership of Mrs. Satterthwaite, while on Wednesday of the same week the eighth grades will hold a similar assembly.

Visiting day in Junior High school will be observed on Wednesday of next week. All parents are urged to attend this interesting school observance.

The Junior High Safety Patrol group will get under way on Thursday of next week, it was announced by Beeman G. Ludwig, principal of Junior High last week.

Personality of the Week

Topping off 6 feet and one inch of masculine brawn — otherwise known as Leonard Bonsall — are a pair of nice brown eyes and a dazzling smile. One of this year's additions, Leonard comes from Greenford where he was a very active athlete. He played forward on the basketball team, was pitcher on the baseball team and ran the half mile, threw the shot put and discus in track. When Leonard moved to Salem, he went out for football and earned the right tackle position on the first team.

"I like to live on a farm, but don't like to work on one," he said when asked if he would rather live on a farm than live in Salem. "I don't know what I want to do yet, but I don't want to work in shop," he added.

Although he would not give definite opinion, Leonard admitted that, "The kids in Salem aren't any different from those in Greenford except that there are more of them."

Welcome to S. H. S., Leonard everyone's for you.

Thisiser

"I don't know my lines," said the petite person whose radiant smile belied her words. This was Ma Helen Bruderly's comment when asked about the radio sketch which she performed in last Monday evening.

She might hide her ability behind a smile, but she doesn't fool anyone. She enjoys school activities, being vice president of the Salemasquers Club and secretary-treasurer of the S. H. S. Association.

Many self made men are working their son's way through college.

It's better to have loved and lost than to have won and be bossed.

Hall of Oblivion

Miss Beardmore nominates Max Lutsch's gum to this hall, as well as to the wastebasket.

We nominate the persons who had the nerve to "white-wash" our sidewalks last Thursday night.

Mr. Brautigam nominates Charles Freed's "play, Chess."

Everyone in school will want to nominate the grades which will appear on their report cards next Wednesday.

The band nominates the "Nothing" song. Some ambitious members sang 55 verses on the way to Struthers.

Club Notes

Hi-Tri

The Hi Tri sponsored a "get acquainted" dance last evening in the gym for the freshman, sophomore and new girls in Salem High.

A local orchestra furnished the music for the affair.

A Hi Tri penny dance will be held next Thursday after school in the gym. Every student is invited to attend.

Debate Team

As a result of tryouts last week at 209, Mr. Guiler chose the following debate team: Bill Stevens, Phil Stevens, Constance Clark, Ethel Hine, Louis Raymond, Lee Williams, Alice Maxson and Lionel Afford.

The squad will meet Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of each week.

Slide Rule

The Slide Rule club, under the direction of Miss McCready, held a meeting in 304 Tuesday evening after school.

Approximately 26 members signed up for the club. Officers were elected during the meeting: Winthrop Difford, president; Barbara Williams, vice president; Leroy Moss, secretary-treasurer.

The club is expected to meet on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. Their first meeting was a social, one in which the students discussed plans for the year. Their first problem is to learn how to manipulate the slide rule.

'Los Castellanos'

"Los Castellanos", the Spanish Club of S. H. S. held their first bi-weekly meeting in 205 last Wednesday at 3:30 at which time the twenty-one new eligible members were initiated.

The older members have been greeting the new members with "Adios mi Cerdita", which means "Hello, my little pigs", and the

Tall Story

This new column is open to any "tall stories" admitted to the writer. The best "stories" will gain publication in this column.

Famous among the old story-tellers of Salem High is Henry Ulysses Pauline, and his favorite tale is heard something like this:

"Boys, I had a great presence of mind once. It was at a fire. An old man leaned out of a fourth story window calling for help. Everybody in the crowd looked up, but nobody did anything. The ladders weren't long enough. Nobody had presence of mind—nobody but me. I came to the rescue. I yelled for a rope. When it came I threw the old man one end of it and told him to tie it around his waist. Well, guys, here's where the "hero" part comes in. He tied it around himself and I pulled him down!"

Wow! It looks as though Henry is heading towards that medal which will be given at the end of the year for the best "tall story." So submit your "tall stories" to me before Tuesday at 3:30 and get into the Liar's Club. Here's your big chance.

Reserves Defeat Minerva, 12-9

Going out for their first victory in the Salem High reserves set back the strong Minerva reserves 12 to 9 last Saturday afternoon.

Coaches Gordan, Smith and Kelly alternated over forty boys in the game with Minerva.

Minerva got their touchdown in the fourth quarter after Salem had put their second team in. Minerva also got a safety in the fourth quarter.

Salem scored their touchdowns in the second and third quarters. They were unable to make the extra points after the touchdowns.

Salem Reserves showed good ball carrying and tackling throughout the game. Salem is planning to play Boardman this afternoon about 4:00 o'clock.

Some of the other boys on the squad who attend Junior High are as follows: Harry Erhart, Bob Entriken, Don Buler, Alfred Volio, Basil Karbs, Bill Rance, Marty Limpose, Bob Zimmerman, Will Davis, Dick Thomas, Dick Boughton, Dean Tice, Albert Kenst, Perry Whitacre, Bob Wagner, Don Milligan.

Hall of Fame

The students in the sixth period American Government class nominate Ollie's speech on the electoral college.

We nominate the fact that Leonard Bonsall and Vaughn Caufield look enough alike to be twins.

To confuse you, we nominate the weakness of Al Jay for Marge Simon (s).

Vivian Foltz and George Hanson nominate "100 Men and a Girl." They saw it (together) last Saturday.

Sleep is conducive to beauty. Even a carpet looks worn when it loses its nap.

SPORT SHORTS

Strange and uncanny is the freakish outcome of Salem High school's football games.

Since the first game of the season, the team has made a final score of 13. That alone is enough for superstitious people to believe our team is doomed. But, in addition to that, the team has never made a touchdown from the 13-yard line. However, we have never had 13 boys on the team nor have we played on Friday, the 13th. Let not this stirring article bother the team. You're out there to fight!

Library Purchases 'Forward, March!'

Miss Lehman, librarian, has announced that Frank J. Mackey's newest book, "Forward—March!" in two volumes, has been received.

The works present a brief and unprejudiced summary of events which drew America into the World War. Woodrow Wilson's address to Congress, April 2, 1917, and General Pershing's report as Commander-in-Chief of the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe, are given in full.

Undue emphasis on the gruesome and repulsive features of the war are avoided. In the part devoted to Post-War developments are sections on "The United States and Japan" and "War Clouds Shadow America."

These books are among the many recently purchased for the library.
