Clarke Debate Duo, Win Over Newton Falls

Second Victory For Affirmative Team

Victorious for the second time was the Affirmative debate team, composed of Clarence Clarke and Elsie Hunter, when it won the decision over the Newton Falls negative team last Tuesday night at Newton Falls.

The topic for discussion was the being used by high school debate teams throughout the state this season; Resolved: "That the Federal States should adopt the bicameral system of legislature." The local Affirmative stressed the following evils of the present legislative system: passing the buck, shifting responsibility, the conference committee, and un-democratic representation.

After the debate, Judge George Clelland of Ravenna rendered his decision in favor of the Affirmative.

The next debate is with the Penceville Affirmative team, here, Feb. 1. The judge for this debate will be T. C. Bond of Niles.

Today's Headlines

The Pen Is Mightier Than The Sword

With a stroke of the pen the Bank of England could create a billion dollars! When England went to the gold standard, the price of gold rose from 85 shillings ($21.25) an ounce to 140 ($35) an ounce. The Bank neglected to change the price from 85 to 140 shillings so one billion dollars is concealed in the price of gold. If this to be created, the London financiers would be ruined by the government.

Science Triumphs Again

The science of grafting skin has taken another step forward. A Negro girl who was crippled by severe burns may recover through the skill of a surgeon and the patience of a Negro boy. The girl's arms were tied down to her body by scar tissue. By stitching the boy's skin to the tissue beneath the arm of the girl's skin tissue may be grown and thus her arms will be freed. Her head which was formerly attached to her chest was also loosened. The operations are being paid by contributions from the people of Washington, D. C.

Human 'Pincushions'

In southern India each year there is a festival of Taipusam. At this celebration anyone who has failed to fulfill his vows to Subramanya, a Hindu deity, is stuck full of silver spikes. Some are tortured with iron needles which are about three feet long. The women must wear half lemons on these spikes. Sometimes as many as 60 lemons are fastened to the bodies. Even when

Jefferson Nickel To Be Minted Soon

After twenty-five years of using Buffalo nickels, a different type is to be minted. The new nickel is dedicated to Thomas Jefferson, third president of the United States and founder of the Democratic party. A contest, sponsored by the Treasury Department of the United States government will give some American the pleasure of designing the coin and receiving the prize of $1000.

To be eligible the design must have on one side the picture and name of Thomas Jefferson's famous home, Monticello, and on the other, a portrait of Jefferson. Some where on the coin must be the mint date, the word "liberty", "In God we trust", "United States of America" and "E Pluribus Unum".

Girls' Prep Class Cognomened Gamma Iota Tau

Gamma Iota Tau was the name chosen by the members of the Girls Trade Preparatory Class at the meeting held at Betty Bradley's on January 11.

At the next meeting each member is supposed to have a suggestion for a project such as bowling or making a movie camera film of the girls' activities.

In the Spring Bulletin put out by the entire Trades Class the members of Gamma Iota Tau are going to have a page of snapshots and articles.

The next meeting of the organization is to be held at the home of Mary Helen Bruderly, February 8.

Hi-Tri Completes Social Program

A committee of five persons met with Mrs. Koontz last week to form the 1938 Hi-Tri calendar.

The calendar consists of addresses by several of the prominent business persons, of Salem, who will speak on their particular vocation.

The customary dances, given by the club, are as follows: February 1, Penny dance, February 15, Valentine dance, March 17, St. Patrick's dance.

A party is being planned for sometime in April. Knitting and handcraft work will be resumed next week.

On May 5th, the members will entertain their mothers at a tea to be held in the Salem Public library. The committees for this event have already been appointed and have begun preparation for it.

These events round out the Hi-Tri program for the current year.

Bill Segesman's orchestra has been selected for the dance to be held February 1.

The general committee in charge is as follows: Chairman, Alice West, Polly Silvers, Mary Jane Britt, Bettie Sharp, Frances Webster, and Anna Simlon.

Calendar Of Events

Friday, Jan. 28—Basketball. Warren here.

Friday, Jan. 28—Semester ends.

Tuesday, Feb. 1—Hi-Tri Penny Dance.

Thursday, Feb. 3.—S. H. S. Band Concert.

Friday, Feb. 4—Basketball. Massillon here.

Outdoor Sportsmen Plan To Attend Hunters' Exposition

Mr. Englehart, sponsor of the Outdoor Sportsmens club, announced at a meeting last Thursday that he was attempting to secure passes for the members of the club to attend the Hunters Exposition in the public auditorium in Cleveland next March.

Julius Nestor read the old constitution. It was amended and approved by the members of the club.

Harold Culler, president of the club, said that plans were being made for a trip in the mountains of Pennsylvania near the end of the school year. The trip will last three or four days.

"New" Band To Present Concert

In a little over a week, the Salem High band will present its first concert of the year. For the first time in its history the band will be nearly perfectly balanced. The addition of an oboe, bassoon and two French horns have helped greatly to give the band a fuller quality.

A very interesting program has been arranged, including excerpts from an opera and several lighter pieces.

No admission will be charged for this concert. In the past years when the Band has given free concerts the attendance has been very poor. The students can get behind their band by attending this concert and asking their friends to attend.

Support your Band! Come to the concert!

Sixth Period Dramatics Class Wins Contest

Of Mr. MacDonald's three English classes that participated in the contest, the prize of three O'Henry bars for each student in the class was given to the sixth period class for giving the best performance of "Two Crooks and a Lady" last Thursday afternoon in the High School auditorium.

This decision was given by the judge, Mrs. Katherine MacDonald, who judged the play on the acting, voice, appearance, and how well the characters knew their parts.

Mrs. MacDonald said, "It was hard to decide between the sixth and seventh period classes as the seventh did a very fine job of acting but they did not speak loud enough to be heard clearly. The sixth period class did a good job of acting as well as speaking loud enough to be heard."

Plans For Junior Talent Program, To Be Presented February 16, Underway, Says Mrs. Koontz

To make plans for the Junior program assembly, a committee of seven Juniors has been appointed, it was announced by Mrs. Koontz, Junior class adviser. Students serving on this committee are Frances Webster, Sylvia Garforth, Mary Louise Emery, Joe Morris, Tom Eberwein, Bill Rogers, and John Evans.

Miss Obenour Addresses Hi-Tri

Miss Ruth Obenour, social reporter of the Salem News, addressed members of Hi-Tri on "Newspaper Work as a Vocation" last Thursday at the clubs regular business meeting.

Miss Obenour, who has been in the newspaper work for three years, illustrated much of her talk with parts that go into making up a paper.

"The idea of a journalist," said Miss Obenour, "is to save time. Qualifications for a good journalist should include college if possible but that is not extremely necessary. A large vocabulary works to the advantage of the reporter inasmuch as it helps him to express himself. Accuracy is, perhaps, the most important of all. There are some very severe critics of the news and they read every line."

In concluding her talk, Miss Obenour emphasized the fact that in newspaper work there are always three sides to every story: His side, your side, and the truth.

Hi-Y Practicing For Sebring Tilt

The Hi-Y started basketball practice last Friday night on the gym floor under the direction of Coach H. Jones, club supervisor, in preparation for their first tilt as a club team with the Sebring Hi-Y, at the Sebring High School gym, February 4.

The game will be played before the Sebring-Struthers fray.

The Sebring Hi-Y has already played one game and has been practicing as a team since the first of the year and therefore will have a slight edge on the local lads.

Mr. Jones' only pep words to his cohorts were, "I don't care how good or how bad you are, the ones that get out there and work all the time will be the ones that will get to play in the games."

Salemasquers Entertained

At the Salemasquers meeting last Monday a discussion of "Dramatic Instinct As An Educational Factor" was presented by Mary Jane Lora.

Margie Knisley presented two solos, "Sweet Mystery of Life" and "I Still Love to Kiss You Good-night." She was accompanied at the piano by Mary Louise Emery. Lucia Sharp presented a monologue, "Movie Pests."

Gwen Dean tapped to "Stomping at the Savoy." Betty Albright accompanied Miss Dean at the piano.

This assembly is to be held Wednesday, the sixteenth of February. It will be the first in a series of four forty-five minute assemblies featuring the student talent of each class. These assemblies are being given by the students and will consist of student talent entirely.

Although the theme of the assembly is being kept as a surprise it will include classical numbers and popular numbers.

The next assembly will be presented by the Sophomore class on Tuesday the eighth of March.

Keystone Quartet Entertains Students In Assembly

The Pennsylvania Keystone quartet of Philadelphia presented the first assembly program of the new year, a week ago Thursday in the auditorium.

The Quartet composed of G. C. Hartel, first tenor; J. C. Mainwaring; second tenor; A. C. Rodwig, first bass; W. G. Harshaw, second bass; and J. C. Hallman, pianist, sang several selections and led the student body in a few songs.

They sang, "Up With the Jolly Roger Boys," and "Song of the Sea" from "Follow the Fleet. The next number they introduced as "I'd rather have two girls of sixteen than one of thirty-two."

"In the Little Red School House" preceded the number introduced as "A bowlegged girl may be healthful but she's always in bad shape." After the "Quartet" from the opera Rigoletto, W. G. Harshaw sang "Low C" and "When Mother Wields the Shingle."

Mr. Hartel introduced Mr. Rodwig who told a few jokes. Mr. Hartel then led the audience in a few of the old songs, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "My Wild Irish Rose," "I Want a Girl," and "Sweet Adeline."

"Old Man River" from Showboat and "You Can't Stop Me From Dreaming" were followed by the encore "Your Land and My Land."

Home Room Entertained

With Phil Stevens as chairman of the program committee, the auditorium home room started a series of Thursday afternoon entertainments, two weeks ago.

Also on the committee are Katherine Sturgeon, Ralston Smith, Louis Zimmerman, John Webster, and Pete Tafian.

Louis Zimmerman gave the first entertainment by singing and playing on the "Uke" to one of his own compositions, "Cabin In Wyoming."

EDITORIALS

Can You Take It?

When someone "kids" you about something, do you get all heated up, think you're being doubted, or insulted? Do you twist things people say to suit your own thoughts? Do you make mountains out of mole hills?

People who can, as they say, "take it" seem to get along better and are better liked than the others. One doesn't like a person who gets angry or offended at every little thing that is said or done. Such actions spoil one's personality. The next time we start to "pop off", let's remember that the pleasing person is the one who can "take it."

'A Pat on the Back'

This editorial is going to be just a wee bit different. Actually, the writer is not going to advocate a change in something or other. Neither is she going to criticize the bad behavior of some person or persons.

Rather it is intended to be a verbal "pat on the back." The boys thought, or at least they said they did, that the coed issue of the Quaker was very good. Perhaps they, the boys, would be interested in knowing what we, the girls, thought of their issue.

We like it. We liked the news stores, the features, the editorials, the style and everything else. In other words, we think it was a success!

A Place for Everything

"Say, did you hear about so and so giving his girl an engagement ring?"

"No, but I did hear that blank and blank are engaged." This kind of conversation can be heard throughout the school.

If everyone would try to get the main purpose out of the school, which is to gain knowledge through books as well as to get the social life, everyone would be much happier.

Let's try to forget engagements, etc. until we are out of school instead of bringing it into the school and making it seem like a matrimonial bureau.

"Method is like packing things in a box; a good packer will get in half as much again as a bad one."—Cecil.

"Man is like a tack—useful if he has a good head on him and he is pointed in the right direction. But even though he is driven, he can go only as far as his head will let him."—Author Unknown.

"Keep your face always turned toward the sun and the shadows will fall behind you."—Selected.

"Do what you are paid to do and then some. It's the "then some" that gets your salary raised."—Selected.

Keyhole's Kaleidoscopic Column

Seems good to be writing this column again, after everyone else has had a crack at it. Did you know "Toots" Theiss was the authoress of the Co-ed issue column? She was.

Wonder who Max Lutch is "that way" about? Every other girl would like to know, too, probably.

Just to enlighten your wondering minds, the "Men's Issue" was supposed to be streamlined. I didn't want you to get the wrong idea. "Poke" Fitzsimmons couldn't quite fathom it—he thought the presses slipped.

Lucia Sharp, a freshie, is quite popular. I won't mention any names, but a certain Senior lad seems to think she's okay. Hint! It's "Him" in last week's Quaker.

Nice to hear Bing Crosby sing some of those old ballads. Brings back fond memories of days gone by.

Incidentally Harold "Hoppy" Hoprich has finished his second composition.

I can hardly wait to see "Snow-white and the Seven Dwarfs". Betcha it'll be good. It's a full-length picture. Cute song from the same show—"Whistle while You Work."

Congrats—To Mary Helen Bruderly, the present secretary-treasurer of the senior class.

Good editorial last week, if you haven't read it—read it! And while I think about it—the boy's issue was snazzy last week, but for that matter, the Co-ed issue was super-snazzy.

Don Beattie claims he's a "woman hater" now. "No more dates for me," says Deb. Somehow, we wonder?

This time next week we'll be well on our way in the second semester. If we all work as hard as we say we are—everyone will be on the honor roll.

Everyone seems to be getting ice-skates this winter. Don't s'pose it will freeze any more because I ordered a pair.

Mr. Cope was glidin' along at the Country Club the other night. Nice, Mr. Cope! nice glidin'!

Did you guess right on the Farr-Braddock fight the other P. M.? 'Twas rather exciting, especially the seventh and ninth rounds. Personally, I don't think Braddock will ever get a crack at the crown again, though.

New Swingaroo Ditty—"Snake Charmer" as played by Sammy Watkins and his boys. And, also, the "Toy Trumpet."

Wanta know why Ollie Olexa doesn't date any of the babes here in school? Seems he's got a S. P. out of town—result—that blue sweater he's been wearing since Christmas.

Orchids and hot fudge sundaes to the basketball team. They're tops!

Don't cha think Jimmy Britt looks ducky in his white sweater?

Nothing is more boring than the opera on Saturday afternoons. That's when they should have a "leettle bit" of swing on the radio. Who wants to listen to opera—outside of the opera-lovers?

Let's all go on a campaign for bigger and better tablets. Seems as if I buy one every week or more.

Why does someone always have to start the sweeper when there's a good orchestra on the radio? Gr-r-r-r.

If any of you chilluns have any choice tid-bits you want in the paper—tote it up to the Q. O. in care of K. K. K.

"I Wanna Be in Winchell's Column"—so until next week,

Your girl,
Tuesday.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

DEAR EDITOR:

For many years we have had contests to judge poetry, stories, orations but we have never had a contest to determine the ability of students to compose music.

Several students have composed bits of music. A contest of this type would be interesting as well as educational. The band, orchestra, glee club or the music club could sponsor this project. This contest would create more interest in music.

You may say, "What's the use of having such a contest, none of the students will ever become composers?"

If this is true, why not also say "What's the use of having contests for poems, stories, or orations?" There are chances of developing the musical ability of many students, just as other contests develop the writing ability of the students.

Why not give the students who are musically inclined a chance to develop their talents?

Mary Helen Bruderly Succeeds Stella Fidoe

Mary Helen Bruderly was appointed secretary-treasurer of the senior class by President, Charles Wentz. She succeeds Stella Fidoe who left school to become Mrs. Charles E. Erath.

Mary Helen is very active in school work. She is secretary of the Salem High Association, vice president of the Salemasquers and a member of the Hi-Tri organization.

Fencing is probably one of the oldest games in existence. In old days there were duels between two persons, and often between whole armies, depending on the conditions of war. The Germanic tribes which swarmed over the Empire at the fall of Rome were perhaps the earliest people to recognize combat with swords as a means of settling questions of justice and vindicating a grievance.

Under the Germanic influence the duel spread all over Christendom continuing throughout the Middle Ages, as an integral part of chivalry.

It was under the rule of the Catholic Majesties of Spain that the duel first came under official ban by the law of the city of Toledo 1480. Shortly afterward we find the first book on fencing, "Treatise in Arms", by Diego do Valera which was written between 1480 and 1471, and which marks the birth of fencing as a scientific art.

FENCING IN U. S.

Fencing begins to appear as a popular sport on this side of the Atlantic only recently, that is, since 1900.

The Intercollegiate Fencing Association was formed in 1894 at three universities and now includes fifteen leading colleges and universities in the East.

Fencing in Public Schools

The Public School Athletic League has placed fencing on the regular schedule of New York City public high schools, while the Amateur Fencers' League of America conducts tournaments among all public and private high schools in the country for the National Intercollegiate Foil Competition.

FENCING AS A SPORT

Fencing as a sport cannot be called as a developer of trig speed movement, adaption to opponent, and of a greater reliance upon skillful deception than brute strength—all of which requires a severe disciplining of muscles to correspond correctly instantaneously to the rapid demands of the brain.

Fond mother—"Now that he is thru high school, are you going to take him in business with your father?"
Father—"I donno, couldn't use him for a bridge prize?"

Father—"What was the hardest thing you learned at college?"
Son—"How to open beer bottles with a half-dollar."

Speaking of abysmal dumb there's the Co-ed who's so dumb she thinks "it" is a pronoun.

Did you hear the one about the frosh who couldn't get his shirt on because he had a book in his hand and it wouldn't go thru his sleeve?

When taking the above literally it seems to remind me that the first semester is over. The last line always comes to me when I wish the whole term was over.

Personal nomination for abolishment: Those bow ties the boys are wearing! And now!

Dairy: Got up late and just beat the last bell by about a half minute. Saw Clyde McCoy last night in Youngstown. Best vaudeville, to my notion, there has been there for a long time. He sure does play a hot trumpet! Swell vocalist too. She could really swing it.

The best laugh I got this week was when Chuck Kesselmiere told me "Posy" Hoff had him puzzled. I can't imagine why! Can you?

Wonder when and if we're going to have another penny dance. Hope it's soon.

Cute nicknames:—I could find only two this week. They are—Mary Lou Gilson—"Winking Lass," and—Levitt Scheitzer—"Shirtsie."

Have you noticed how sorta down hearted some of—or rather—most of the seniors look when they realize that they have only 18 more weeks of school? It's really quite pathetic!

Best piece of the week—"Tear It Down" as played by Clyde McCoy and orchestra. Did you know that it is his own composition? Well, it is.

Salemasquers

The pins for the Salemasquers club have been chosen by the committee headed by Paul Meir and were shown to the members at the last meeting.

Latin Club

Bob Clark, president of the Latin Club announced that anyone who wanted to could buy a magic slate from any member of the Latin Club.

Slide Rule

Winthrop Difford said that at the last meeting held in 304 the members chose the type of pin they preferred and the orders were sent in. The next meeting will be next Tuesday after school.

Opinions: If you want to read a good book just settle in an easy chair and read "New Worlds To Conquer" by Richard Halleburton. You'll find it humorous as well as interesting. It's in the school library.

Salem China Aiding Girls' Trades Class

It was recently announced by Mr. Holland Cameron, Co-ordinator of Education of the Salem Trades Class that the Salem China Company has joined in the Girls' Shop Preparation Program which has proved to be successful.

By this recent co-operation from one of Salems largest industries, two Salem High girls, Mary Helen Bruderly and Evelyn Tullis are now employed there, working every Saturday from 8:00 a. m. to noon.

In a recent interview Mary Helen stated that she likes the work very much and that there is always something to do. Besides typing, Mary Helen stated that she has learned to work the adding machine and the switchboard.

Miss Bruderly is now gaining experience in the invoice department under the direction of Mr. Charles Fox, purchasing agent.

Yes sir, you've got to hand it to Esther Chappel. She certainly pulled a swell boner in English class. When Mr. Lehman announced a test over the day's assignment of poetry, he said, "I don't know what this poetry is about so I thought perhaps I could find out from you."

Esther innocently volunteered, "Gee, I'm as dumb as teacher is today."

To top off everything when Dave Hart told Mr. Lehman he wouldn't stand for that, "teacher" calmly retorted, "Oh, I just consider the source and forget it."

Quaker Quintet to Face Warren Presidents Tonight

Five Veterans Grace Warren Five

Playing again on their home floor, the Salem High Quakers will try to avenge the 27-25 defeat handed to them last week, when they tangle with the Warren High Presidents tonight.

The Quakers, who are after their seventh win of the 1937-38 season, will meet a very strong and seasoned team. Four of their first string players are left overs from the squad who traveled down to Columbus in last year's state finals.

These four players are Totterdale, star forward, Armstrong, forward, Mackey, center, and Meus, guard. The remaining first team player is Williams, a guard.

However, there is some dispute as to whether or not Mackey and Meus will be eligible to play tonight. There was to be a ruling on the matter either yesterday or today.

Pierre Hill's cagers are very well advanced in the subject of sinking goals from any section of the court and they are expected to give the Red and Black lads a lot of opposition. The Presidents use a zone defense.

So far to date, the Warren City Five have lost but two games, which puts them on an equal with Salem. They were beaten by Struthers, 24 to 14, and Youngstown East trounced them, 30 to 25.

Warren's big guns are centered around Totterdale, Armstrong and Mackey, and each one is an exceptional accurate shooter.

In spite of all of this, the Quakers will not be caught napping. They are a team that is one week wiser, as a result of the East nose-out, last Saturday.

McDonald Directs Grange Play, "Smoky Treasure"

"Smoky Treasure" was presented by Salem, Willow Grove, Goshen, Perry and Mt. Nebo granges, Tuesday and Wednesday nights January 25th and 26th.

The play was directed by Mr. McDonald, Salem High School Dramatics' coach.

The casts included two Salem High Students, Alyse MacDonald as Dorothy Waitly, a wealthy debutante, and Wilda Bricker as Ruthy Renn.

Quakers Lose To Palestine

Although hard pressed from the second quarter on, the Salem High five rang up their sixth victory of the current season by the slim margin of 26-25.

Displaying nice passwork throughout the first quarter, the Brownmen gained a 10 to 4 lead. During the second period the East Palestine offense came to life to collect 11 points to Salem's 7, ending the first half with the score standing 17-15 in the Quaker's favor.

Big Bill Schaeffer was the main point-getter for Salem in the first two periods, sinking four goals and one foul for nine points.

The Salem offense was pretty well bottled up in the third stanza as the Palestine crew added six points to their score while Jim Dickey gained Salem's only points of the quarter with a long throw from the center of the floor. This quarter ending with Palestine in the lead 21-19. Just as the fourth quarter got under way, Olexa sank a bucket from near the center of the floor to tie the score at 21 all. Lutsch and Schaeffer each contributed one foul to gain a 23-21 lead. Palestine then came back with a foul to make the score 23-22. By this time the one thousand fans who had jammed Palestine's giant auditorium were screaming their heads off as the ball bounded crazily up and down the floor.

Schaeffer again sank a foul to stretch the Quaker's lead to 24-22. Gib Everhart then dropped in a pretty shot to help Salem to a 26-22 margin with only three minutes remaining to be played. East Pale-

SPORT SHORTS

Six games of their twelve game schedule having been played, the Muskets hold first place with six wins and no defeats. Fighting for second place are the Mickies and the Squirts, each having won five and lost one.

These intramural games are under the supervision of Mr. Smith, who has provided the teams with schedules and standings. These games for Class B are played on Monday and Thursday nights. The standings are posted up on bulletin boards once a week.

Mr. Smith has announced that captains interested in securing jerseys for the team see him at once.

Tonight's game should be a real thriller if comparative scores mean anything. Salem knocked off Niles to the tune of 24-11. Warren beat the same team by the score of 29-15. Salem dropped a hot contest to Youngstown East by the margin of 27-25. Warren tasted defeat at the hands of the same quintet by a 30-25 verdict.

Four members of the Warren team are veterans from the State finals at Columbus last year. Salem boasts five players with the same experience.

Any person who picks the winner of this game will really be putting himself out on a limb.

Dad—"Where were you last night?"

Son—"Oh, just riding around with some of the boys."

Dad—"Well, tell 'em not to leave their hairpins in the car."

Anna Mae: "Gee, Stu, that candy in the window makes my mouth water."

Stu Wise: "Well, here is a blotter."

Spanish Club Meets

A brief meeting of the Spanish club was held last Wednesday afternoon school. After a brief business meeting the students spent their time informally, singing Spanish songs. The members had planned on receiving their club pins at the last meeting, but were unable to do so because the pins had not come yet.

"Three Little Words"

"What are the three little words of the slogan that was made famous during the French Revolution," asked Mr. Henning.

Everyone was silent. Jane Gilbert turned in her seat and said in a whisper, "maybe he means, 'I love you.'"

Better concentrate on history Jane and not moonlight nights.
