

New Faces At S. H. S.

Marian Lee Riggs came to Salem from Gary, Ind. Brown, curly hair encircles her small face.

When asked the color of her eyes, she quietly answered: "I don't know. Sometimes they are gray, sometimes green, sometimes blue. Mostly, though, they are grayish green."

"Lee" collects what-nots and is very proud of her new riding horse.

She likes our school very much, mainly because the hours are shorter.

Ray Corrigan freely admits he is no relation to the famous Douglas.

He builds model airplanes just for the fun. He is active in all sports, but basketball is his favorite.

His blue eyes have a happy sparkle and a lock of his sandy hair won't stay in place. Put all of these together with a stature of 5 feet 2 inches and you have Ray Corrigan.

Five feet four inches of blonde pettiness with dimples and large blue eyes, make up what answers to the name of Lois Hoover.

She hails from 303. All sports are her hobbies, but swimming rates tops.

Very blue eyes with a twinkle of good humor and brown hair are possessed by five feet four inches of girlish happiness.

These make up the new Senior girl, Cora Waganhauser, who occupies a seat in 209 and hails from Leetonia.

A very serious fellow is Charles Kille, a Sophomore in 109.

He came to our fair school from Springfield, Ohio. His blue eyes light with a touch of fun when asked a question.

Add brown hair and a stature of 5 feet 2 inches with the above and you have Chuck Kille, who is a stamp collector and a lover of all sports.

An unusual hobby is Jack Woods'. It combines to make it his favorite sport, too, which is raising and racing pigeons.

Jack is 5 feet 4 inches tall, has blue eyes, light brown hair.

His home room is 307-B, and he moved to Salem from East Liverpool.

Aeronautics as a hobby and football as a favorite sport is Charles Lind's recipe for a happy life.

Chuck likes all sports, but he enjoys football most. He measures about five feet and has sandy hair and blue eyes.

This makes up Charles Lind, a freshie with a shy—but pleasing—manner.

S. H. S. Enrollment Now 955

A report given by the office at 3:30 last Monday gave the official attendance mark as being 955 students now enrolled in Salem High.

The number enrolled, which is some what larger than last year's goal, is divided into the four classes as follows: Two hundred and two Seniors, 245 Juniors, 259 Sophomores, and 248 Freshmen.

Included with this group are eight new students from out of town schools. They are:

Seniors—William O'Neill from Youngstown South, and Margaret Seeman from New Brighton.

Sophomores — Fred Griffiths from Struthers, Beatrice Trotter from Alliance, Andrew Kovach from Leetonia, and Jack Wood from East Liverpool.

Freshmen — James Snowberger and Robert Buchman both from Goshen High, Damascus.

There have also been five ex-grads enrolled in the post graduate course, bringing the total up to eight. They are: Teresa Waggoner, Mary Shriver, Thelma Sweningson, Ruth Lantz and Jane Cranmer.

Biology Lab Begins This Week

Using the new biology text "Exploring Biology" by (Mrs. Ella Thea Smith Cox), the biology classes are well under way.

Various students have brought in a horse hair worm and a hybrid dahlia which is a cross between a red and white dahlia.

The biology students have been proved they may twine either way or both ways. In the first laboratory period cells of onion skin, lining of the mouth, and human blood cells, were shown.

Five Salem High Seniors Spend Ten Days In Capital Learning Ways of State

For ten days this summer five boys from Salem High School learned the true meaning of citizenship at Buckeye Boys' State. These boys were Bill Rogers, Dick Jaeger, Joe Morris, Bob Vickers and John Evans. These boys were chosen not only on scholastic ability, but on their personalities and knowledge of current political events.

Very few people really understand what Boys' State really is. The following is, in brief, the experience of one of the citizens of Boys' State as he relates it:

"When it was announced by the committee that I was to be a delegate from Salem, I was thrilled. I had heard of some of the activities from Harold Hoprich and Bill Jones, both of whom had been delegates last year. During the whole trip to Columbus, I was on edge, contemplating what was in store for me.

"When we arrived at the State Fair Grounds we first had to register and have a medical exam.

"After this exam, which, by the way, took place in the Coliseum, the place where the state basket-

Air Enthusiasts Go To Akron

Four airplane enthusiasts, Mr. Kelley, Kenneth Juhn, Winthrop Difford, and Lionel Difford, went to Akron to participate in the National Gas Model Contest held at the Municipal Airport, September 2. This was the final event of a three-day Model Airplane meet. The other two days featured contests in endurance, speed, and original design for rubber powered models.

Because of excessive dust in the air, Juhn's motor failed to "turn over." The Difford brothers' plane crashed after a short test-hop, leaving Mr. Kelley's the only plane in running order. Disaster dogged his trail, too, however, for after a beautiful flight his seven-foot "Buccaneer" smashed into the Goodyear dirigible hanger, which was located about 350 yards from the starting point.

The first prize for the most outstanding flight of the day was a round-trip to Hollywood aboard a United Airlines "Mainliner."

ball championships are played, we went to the building which was to be our home for 10 days. To our surprise, the dorm turned out to be the barn in which they keep the prize cattle. But it was perfectly clean although, with 720 boys under one roof, it turned out to be rather noisy.

"This mammoth barn was divided into sixteen cities and four counties. Joe Morris was in Cobb City, John Evans in Davey City, Bill Rogers in McCaw City, Bob Vickers in Darlington, and Dick Jaeger in Campbell.

"Immediately upon arrival, we were told to start campaigning for our office. These campaigns were carried on in true political style. There were posters on all the walls, campaign bands, and literature of all sorts. The two political parties, the Nationalists and the Federalists, held party conventions to decide their candidates for election. To describe it mildly, these conventions were a riot.

"The election took place the following day. The boys of Salem were elected to the following offices:

Band To Be Drilled By Mr. Kelley

Herbert M. Kelley, Junior High school instructor and former World War Drillmaster, has been drilling the Salem High band for the past week at Reilly stadium in preparation for the opening game here one week from today. New formations are being worked out for the entire football season. Numerous designs, such as Quaker heads, footballs, headgear, etc., will be inaugurated this year. The band rounds up into a fair-sized marching band of about 55 pieces. The band will probably attend all of the out of town football games, it was disclosed by Frederick Cope, Faculty Mgr., due to the fact that there are only four home games.

Another new instrument will make its first appearance, a piccolo, which may be introduced during concert season, if it can be arranged.

New Method Used By Stenographers

By having her class organized as a corporation, Miss Bickle is trying out a new method in her stenography class which will make work more interesting.

Last week certain members of the class were assigned positions similar to those of a great corporation. A president, vice president for certain divisions of work, a secretary, and others were chosen.

Each member of the corporation has a certain bit of work to do. If a question is asked in class concerning one of these departments, the head of that department is required to answer that question as well as possible.

With her class thus organized, Miss Bickle hopes to show the girls how a real business is conducted, and to give them a chance to be a part of it.

Bob Vickers, Justice of the Supreme Court; Joe Morris and Bill Rogers, Justices of the Court of Appeals; John Evans, Senator, and Dick Jaeger, President of the city council of Campbell City.

"After the elections the government began to function, salaries were paid, and taxes collected. (All in Boys' State money, of course.)

"If one was not elected to an office he could take the bar exam and become a lawyer, or if that did not suit, he could be a state patrolman or a National Guardsman.

"The government work was only in the morning. During the afternoons there were Volley Ball and Softball leagues which one might join. Also, one could play tennis or swim.

"In the evenings there were lectures by authorities on government and entertainments, such as magic shows and band concerts.

"I believe that any one of the citizens from Salem will tell you that those ten days were the most interesting and profitable ten days of his life."

Noted Quartet To be Feature Of Assembly

Ben Ritzenthaler Brings 'The Ritz Trumpeters'

The first assembly program of the school year, made possible through the high school association, will take place this coming Wednesday morning at 8:45.

At that time the Ritz Trumpeters will present a musical fanfare, composed of solos, duets, quartets and several vocal refrains.

NOTED MUSICIAN

The quartet is headed by Ben Ritzenthaler, a nationally known musician. He himself plays the saxophone, clarinet, bassoon, and trombone.

The program of the Ritz Trumpeters consists of the most familiar of the classics, the most tuneful of the popular selections, and several unusual comic and novelty numbers. Some of their most successful numbers are stirring marches, gems from operas, old time songs, and popular favorites of the day.

One of their comedy numbers is a trombone duet, in which each operates his partners slide. One of their popular stunts is the blending of four popular tunes into one. Another stunt is one where each member of the company handles and plays two instruments simultaneously.

The instrumentalists, who use eight different musical instruments, have made many tours all over the United States and Canada.

Ritzenthaler, before organizing the quartet, taught reed instruments at North Central College, was saxophone soloist, with Al Sweet's Singing Band, Johnson's Chicago Cadets, and Petries White Hussars.

Here are a few of the many fine comments about the Trumpeters.

English III Classes Make Speeches

Speeches are being given by students of Mr. McDonald's English classes to determine the amount of English grammar needed as a requisite of this course.

Among the various speeches given, "Crime" and "How to Repair Automobiles" proved themselves to be both interesting and instructive. Found among the more novel speeches, those on Charlie McCarthy and a hilarious camping expedition, were very humorous. The talks, which are to last three minutes, may be given on hobbies, experience, or any other subject of interest.

In addition to the speeches, a test will be given to assist in determining the amount of grammar required by the majority of the class.

At intervals during the year, spelling words are to be given and a test on two hundred required words must be passed before the completion of the course.

Thanks to the Board

The Board of Education and Superintendent Mr. Kerr are to be commended on their recent action naming Mr. Smith Dean of Boys and Coordinator of Athletics.

For a long time the need of harmonizing our athletics has been apparent, and this gesture should result in a smooth functioning of our athletic program.

Last but not least the selection of Mr. Smith is a popular one among the students. His sincere and straight from the shoulder methods have won the admiration and hearts of the students. It is with delight that we unhesitatingly bespeak their cooperation. Congratulations Mr. Smith!

On Paper

Perhaps some of you have noticed that the desks in the various rooms are already filling up with paper. Of all aggravating tasks the one of emptying desks of chewing gum, wrappers of all sorts, dried up apple cores and such is the worst. The extra time it would take to walk to the wastebasket wouldn't hurt anyone.

If the students of Salem High would start from the beginning to empty desks it would do away with home room periods being taken up by this unpleasant task. Last year several students had their clothes ruined by chewing gum which was left on the seats and under the desks by careless students.

Let's not let it happen again THIS year. Come on students—COOPERATE—from seniors to freshmen and keep the desks clean.

An Old Subject

Next week the voices of over 900 students should be raised in a lusty cheer to inspire our 1938 football team. Not only next week but through-out the entire season that thing called "school spirit" should be backing the team.

Win, lose, or draw, the team needs support. The supporting hopes of the student body should envelope the team. Tragically enough the team itself often lacks this spirit.

No game is successful if there is no school spirit pushing the team on. But with school spirit in the team and in the stadium every game is successful even though Salem is left with the low score.

A Student Code

I realize that, as a student, I owe an obligation to parents or relatives whose sacrifices have given me the foundations upon which I am building, to the school which offers me an opportunity to develop my natural powers, to the community which makes possible my educational advantages, to my country which gives me liberty under law, and to my own future as an individual and a citizen.

In keeping with my determination honorably to discharge this obligation, I promise:

That I will use the facilities offered by the classroom to enlarge and broaden my interests, to increase my knowledge, to bring me closer to Truth, and to cultivate habits of industry and sound thinking.

That I will broaden my sympathies and practice the arts of sociability, true friendliness, and helpfulness in my home, in the school, and in all my associations, avoiding snobbishness in my own conduct and condemning it in others.

That I will develop habits of reading and conversing which will broaden my culture and enable me better to understand the problems of community, state, and nation.

That I will carry on discussion in and out of the classroom, not to overcome opponents and gratify my pride, but, that I may grow in knowledge and wisdom.

That I will avoid every form of cheating or dishonesty and will undertake to discourage all dishonorable practices.

That I will obey every rule or law of school, city, state, and nation, reserving the right to criticize rules and laws constructively, but respecting them so long as they prevail.

That I will use my powers and influence for the common good.

That I will pursue happiness myself and strive to establish conditions under which happiness and opportunity may be hopefully pursued by everyone in my home, my school, my community, my country, and the world.

Book Reviews

Two new books have been adopted for use in the Salem High school, "The Story of America" and "Chemistry At Work".

"The Story of America" was written by Ralph Volney Harlow, professor of American History School of Citizenship and Public Affairs at Syracuse University. His book will be used by students taking American History.

Through out "The Story of America", emphasis is placed on the social and economic factors in our history because it is believed that the generation of today is particularly interested in social and economic problems. Military affairs are kept within narrow limits, but in all cases, the causes of war are fully discussed.

Greater emphasis is placed upon our history since 1865 than before 1865 because the problems of this particular period touch the present generation more directly.

The text contains 8 units, each dealing with a major phase of the nation's growth.

"Chemistry at Work" was written by William McPherson and William Edwards Henderson who are both professors of chemistry in the Ohio State University and George Winegar Fowler, Supervisor of Science of the City Schools, Syracuse, New York and Instructor in the Methods of Teaching Science, School of Education, Syracuse University.

This book contains 14 units subdivided into 53 chapters. These units deal primarily with the various divisions of Chemistry. It is provided with test questions, numerous exercises, and a form of chapter summary . . .

The Jitterbug's Column

A color organ, perched in the ceiling of the Rainbow Room (night club in New York's Rockefeller Center), where Al Donahue's orchestra is currently billed, catches the orchestra's sounds and turns them into color. High notes come out amber, bass notes, red, and intermediate sounds split up between green and blue, in rapidly changing combinations on the vast white dome over the dance floor. It is the first installation of this remarkable gadget.

Kay Kyser's orchestra met with a swell congregation of swing addicts at Idora park, last Monday evening. Three or four thousand "jive-hounds" acclaimed the offerings of "Ginny" Simms, Harry Babbitt, and Isa Kabibble. I'd say Kay's orchestra is the top-notch band of today.

Tommy Dorsey's orchestra is going through the process of Holy Wedlock, 100 per cent. Last week, Edythe Wright, Tommy's female warbler, married none other than Ben Blue, Hollywood's "dopey" flat-footed comedian.

Becoming more popular every day is Richard Himber's orchestra, which is the most unusually styled orchestra I have ever heard. Dick is heard over N. B. C. (WTAM) from the "Casino-On-the-Park" in the Essex House every Sunday afternoon at 2:00.

Speaking of Enoch Light's orchestra, this band is rapidly gaining nationwide attention. You can hear Heard Al J. Freed patted himself on the back just once too often and someone called his bluff. Ya wanta watch that fella!

Thought: Wonder what would happen if the word "I" was taken from a conceited person's vocabulary. Bet he wouldn't be able to carry on a conversation.

Mrs. Talbott is strolling thru our halls again this year. Nice to see you back, teacher!

Been sauntering thru the halls gettin' a good look at these Freshies. Can hardly wait for Halloween! Then you're in for it, kids!

Didya hear that racket fourth period? Well, don't let your curiosity get the best of you. It was just the orchestra gettin' in some practice.

School by this time seems pretty much of a routine but the various clubs will soon break the monotony of it all!

Found a good book the other day: "The Citadel" by A. J. Cronin. It's a novel 'bout a doctor. It's really good.

My description of "Pom Pom" Pauline didn't work so good last week so here it is again:—

just a great big blank!

The match of McBane and MacDonald seems to have picked up again where it left off at last spring. Let's see now; there were the Air Races, Bank Night, and the Street Fair. Cute couple!

Definition: A pencil sharpener is just a good excuse to look out the window.

Wonder who's going to take Beattie's place as Drum Major. No, I'm not forgettin' Donnie Freed, but shouldn't there be two?

Never knew a fella to blush very much. That is 'til last week when Bill Segesman obliged. Miss Beardmore really has technique when it comes to helpin' out!

Best Record of the week:—"Small Fry" as recorded by Red Norvo with Mildred Bailey doin' the vocal.

The old jalopies are decoratin' the front of our fair school as usual. Didn't think we'd be let down. Dick Martin and Walt Bowlinger have the Model T. . . Mebbe I'm wrong on that but I don't think so!

Among those Freshies I found Twila Kille. Have known her for years but sorta lost track of her! I'll vouch for her. She's a honey! The eyes have it! They're sorta violet and all sparkly.

Couple of the week: These two really deserve a place here. They're Beatie Hersman and "Pokey." It's been nigh on to a year now, hasn't it kids?

We have a Corrigan in our midst! Answers to the name of Ray. He hails from 302. Ever go the wrong way fella? Don't let it bother you if you haven't, cause there'll come a day! !

Careful what you say as you casually rove the halls 'cause I'll be lurking near!

More Student Vacations

Bill Segesman spent several days in Washington.

Ruth Engel attended the Christian Conference at Hiram.

The "Sportetts Club" was camping for one week at "Brady's Lake".

Bill Schaeffer and Bud Dean spent their vacations with other friends at "Dunn Eden."

Marion Todd, a former Salem student, visited Margie Kniseley for a week.

George Kleon was in Canada with his sister for a week.

Ruth Schmidt spent two delightful weeks at Paradox Lake, New York.

In a recent nationwide poll of America's most famous dance bands, in first place was, of course, the "King of Swing," Benny Goodman, followed by Tommy Dorsey and Guy Lombardo in second and third places, respectively. And, as Kay Kyser would say, "So long, everybody."

Musical Story of a Milkman's Daughter

"Mary, the Milkman's Daughter," was "At a Perfume Counter" when "Figaro" said "Pardon," but I'm a "Stranger In Paree," and "A Twinkle In Your Eye" told me to "Be Optimistic." "So Help Me" get "On the Bumpy Road to Love."

They rode the "Ten Little Miles From Town" to a "Stolen Heaven" in "A Village In the Valley" where "Two Shadows" were doin' "The Yam." The "Wind In the Trees" told them "Spring Is Here," so "Swing and Sway" to the "Tale of Love."

"Naturally," she said, "Kiss Me Goodnight." He asked, "How Can I Forget You?"

She quietly replied, "I've Got a Guy." He is "Gone Again Corrigan," so "Let's Keep It a Dream."

"Figaro" shrugged as he walked away and muttered to himself just another name in "My Little Red Book."

Salem Scrimmages With Palestine

(In this article, as well as in all other football and basketball reviews this year, we are not going to bore you with a dull re-hash of the contest. Instead, we will try to bring you some of the highlights, some of the oddities which you may not have noticed.)

The Sports Editor.

The Salem High Quakers overwhelmed a weak, light, and wholly unexperienced East Palestine squad to the tune of 19-0 in a practice scrimmage at Centennial Park a week ago today.

The first touchdown was scored by "Cupcake" Guappone when he intercepted a pass and galloped about 40 yards to score unmolested. It was Mike's first touchdown. This occurred on the third play of the game.

The second touchdown was scored on a pass from Morris to Schaeffer. Morris faded back and shot a bullet pass to the goal line and Schaeffer, running at his utmost, threw out his arms and clutched the ball in his fingertips as he crossed the line.

It was Morris who accounted for the third and final score on an end run for about 13 yards. On this play, he completely stopped and reversed his field and went over standing up.

Blocking by the line made it possible for the backfield to show up fairly well in the backfield.

However, you cannot overlook Bob Clark, who called the signals and to whom a large percentage of "Buster" Wukotich and Bill Rogers, who formed the balance of the backfield, played a creditable performance. Wukotich smashed his way to several gains through the line and Rogers showed improvement at the blocking half which, Coach Schroeder stated, is one of the most important positions on the team.

The East Palestine coach commented on the line as having possibilities of being the best he has seen in a good while. On a whole, the line is fairly fast and a rough estimate on the weight average is about 163 pounds. At ends were Schaeffer and Terry; tackles, Vendor and Beck; guards, Guappone and Greene, and at center, Melvin Wukotich.

Although the Quakers ran up a good score, the result is no sign for future games because East Palestine this year has one of the weakest teams in its history. The team was very light and made up mostly of sophomores and juniors. But, on the other side of the fence, Salem didn't have Bud Dean and "Stu" Wise in the lineup because of slight injuries suffered in practice. Both these boys are varsity backfield men from last year and had they been able to enter the game the result undoubtedly would have shown in the score.

On The Bench

By ROBERT J. DIXON.

Last week this column expressed a wish that the independent soft-ball teams of the city organize a league. In the meantime, an announcement appeared in the daily paper announcing a tournament among those teams. About 10 or 12 are expected to enter the tournament, which will be held in the near future.

Thanks to Joe Morris for supplying the name for this column. A pretty good idea. At least, we think so.

Speaking of Joe Morris, was his face red when the Palestine coach remarked to Coach Schroeder that one of his (Schroeder's) backs was plenty fast, not knowing that Joe, who was present, was the one he meant.

Probably the most talked about football star last year was "Whizzer" White of Colorado. Well, not to be outdone, S. H. S. has its own "Whizzer." Who is it? Why "Whizzer" Wize. Of course!

Bob Clark seems to have a jinx on his hands as far as football is concerned, especially his fourth fingers. Last year he broke a finger, which kept him from several weeks of practice. Again last Friday, against Palestine, his hand was tramped on and a painful injury resulted. Both times it was the fourth fingers which were hurt.

Immediately after Mike Guappone scored that touchdown a week ago, he came over to the sidelines and asked for a larger headgear. Now, I wonder?

Tip of the week: Keep your eye on Cincinnati in the National league scramble. They look plenty good!

My personal vote for the top sport commentator is Paul Douglas. He can talk longer without a stop than even Henry Pauline can. And man, that's talking!

Intramural football will be starting soon. For details see Mr. Smith.

This column hopes that this year we will be blessed with some cheer leaders who will not fall asleep in the middle of a yell and who will install a little pep in our cheers.

Hit 'em Hard

So Alumni are Tough Eh; Well, Maybe!

About a week ago Coach Schroeder had the football team scrimmage with a few ex-gridders who have at one time played at S. H. S.

To begin with the ex-highs had Frank "Toar" Julian at tackle. He weighs a mere 245 and is a professional wrestler. Next was his brother Les who plays on the Wittenberg varsity and is not what you would consider a "softie". The balance of the team was made up of such players a Clay Raynes, "Chuck" Yeager, Mike Zimmerman, Bill and Charley Malloy, and Alden West all of whom had at one time played on the varsity. All these "bruisers" were pitted against the poor, shivering, nervous specimens of young man-hood who comprise the squad.

We will omit the bloody details of the fray but if you are interested get in touch with Stu Wise or Bud Dean. Both fell before the onslaught of the ex-highs. A slight cut over the eye removed Wise from the "game" and a slash on the cheek disabled Dean.

The scrimmage did give the Quakers some valuable practice from which they benefited greatly.

Student: I wonder how old Mrs. Jones is?

Ditto: Quite old, I imagine. They say she used to teach Caesar.

Touch Football To Start Soon

Mr. Smith has announced Monday, September 19th, as the opening date of the 1938 touch football season. Touch football will be open to all boys in Salem High school not already on the regular football team. It will be conducted very similar to Intramural basketball, with the boys split up into teams with a captain in charge. The different teams, in turn will form a league, playing each other once or twice a week. Joe Kelly and Coach Smith will be in charge. It is Mr. Smith's idea to use touch football as sort of a training ground for freshmen and sophomores. Those who show promise will be moved up to the reserve squad. The only equipment needed is some old clothes and a pair of tennis shoes. Mr. Smith is expecting a very large turnout.

Touch football was first organized last year by the same Mr. Smith. It turned out to be a huge success in spite of only a few boys knowing about it.

There were four teams with seven boys on a team. Quite a large number of boys were advanced to the reserve squad because of exceptional ability shown. The results obtained were very gratifying and the boys developed a love for the game.

A touch football league is going to be organized at Junior High also, with Mr. Carey and Joe Kelly in charge. The league will be composed of the different home room squads who will play each other for the championship of the entire Junir High.

Season Tickets On Sale

For the benefit of any students who might be interested, the season tickets for all the home football games are now on sale at the N. L. Reich & Co. and the J. H. Lease & Co. The price will be $1.00. These seats are all reserved. Beginning this year, there will also be a reserved seat section for the out-of-town fans in the east bleachers.

Various improvements have been made at Reilly Stadium, among them being the installation of two new gates which will aid in avoiding congestion around the ticket windows. The lights have also been newly painted and the grass is in good shape for the opening of the season.

The four home games are as follows:

- *Sebring, Friday Sept. 23.
- *E. Liverpool, Friday, Oct. 7.
- *Lisbon, Friday, Oct. 28.
- Barberton, Saturday, Nov. 12.
- *Night games.

New School Library Awaits Students

When the teachers and students return from their annual spring vacation, they will find a new library in the northeastern wing of the high school.

In the past several years many students wishing to look up references in the library were turned away because of an inadequate number of tables and chairs. The new library, which will be twice as long as the present one, will have a much larger seating capacity. New tables and chairs will be furnished.

Because the new library will provide much more space for bookshelves, the students will enjoy a variety of new books as well as those now in the library.

One of the outstanding features of this room will be the new rubber floor which will prevent students from being disturbed by the clatter of hurrying feet. Another important feature is the windows which will be placed on the north wall so that the sun will not beat directly upon those seated at the tables. High windows also will be placed above bookshelves on the east wall to provide additional light.

Adjoining the library will be a combination work and spare room. Shelves will be installed in which to file past issues of magazines and newspapers. The repairing of books as well as the typing for the library will be done in this room, thus avoiding the confusion resulting from the rebinding of books and the use of typewriters in the library during school hours.

Physics Lab Receives New Equipment

The Salem High School physics class has received new equipment for use in physics classes, it was announced by R. B. Clarke, Salem High's physics instructor.

"This added equipment was necessary because of overflowing classes," stated Mr. Clarke.

The list of instruments are as follows: Two large parabolic reflectors, one electric water heating unit (to determine efficiency of water heat), one thermostat, one inclined plane, one telegram sounder, one voltmeter, and one light foot candle meter.

Juniors Will Not Take Gym

Due to the crowded condition in the gym classes, juniors will be excused from taking physical education this year. Even with the exclusion of the juniors, the classes average fifty students each. Miss Hanna stated that for the girls' classes, this number is convenient, considering the facilities and size of the gym, and that smaller classes will make it possible to teach more active games than in recent years.

It is hoped that the juniors may receive sufficient physical education next year to make up for the loss of gym credits.

Patient: Tell me the worst now, doctor.

Doctor: No. I'll send the bill later.

Helen Adams; secretary, Ellen Catlos; and treasurer, Helen Lowry.

The following sport leaders were also elected: Kickball, Francis Simone; Volleyball, Theda Greenawalt; Basketball, Mary Wagner; Baseball, Edith Ratscher; Hiking, Evelyn Koch; Bicycling, Mary Jane Lora; Skating, Betty Jane May; and Tennis, Eva Reader.

All freshmen are invited to join the G. A. A. and any one is eligible who has a "C" average. Each person who plays three-fourths of the games her team plays receives a certain number of points. When a person receives one thousand points she is presented with a G. A. A. letter. If three hundred additional points are gotten the person receives a pin with her year numeral on.

This year many more things are being planned for the G. A. A. such as; skating and hiking parties. In this way additional points may be obtained toward a letter.

Members of Cast Have Party

After school, last Friday, Janet Greeneisen gave a party in room 200 for the junior play cast of last year. All the members were present excepting Leavitt Schertzer, who has moved to Massillon.

It was an informal get-together and many things were discussed. Mr. McDonald, dramatic director of S. H. S., said that he had a senior play in mind.

The students present told of the various things they did during the summer, where they had spent their vacations, and how they had enjoyed it.

Refreshments, consisting of ice cream, punch, cake, and potato chips, were served. Miss Greeneisen baked the cake, which her guests enjoyed immensely.

Library to Open Next Week

Extra! Extra! The library will be open, starting Monday, to every student.

It was closed the past week to permit each Freshman and each new student to become acquainted with the library. In previous years one whole week was devoted to this cause, but under this plan it was at least a month before every student could become familiar with the library. Later in the fall, however, a one-week course will be given to all Freshmen.

Several new books have been added, but due to lack of funds the number of magazines has been reduced.

P. S.: Look for the list of new books on the library bulletin board when you come into the library next week!

Sam Krauss, well known in Salem, has begun a 23 weeks' engagement with the Washington Symphony orchestra.

Bob Battin was appointed as assistant business manager to Charles Davidson, Jr.

East Liverpool High nosed out Salem in the last three minutes of play, 10 to 6.

The Salem High School Band will hold a fun festival on Nov. 1.

Katy Jo Zimmer and Jane Metzger were chosen assistants to Editor In Chief Charles Freed, as was announced Thursday by Faculty Adviser H. C. Lehman.

Today a delegation of six members, headed by Editor Freed and Business Manager Davidson, are in Columbus attending the convention of the Journalism Association of Ohio schools.

Salem High's football warriors will tangle with East Palestine at Reilly Stadium tonight.

Mr. Lehman: "How many make a dozen?"

Gabby: "Twelve."

Mr. Lehman: "How many make a million?"

Gabby: "Very few."

Personality of the week: Katy Jo Zimmer.

Miss Lehman has just concluded a new book list for Salem High students.

Manager Chooses Business Staff

Following a meeting last Thursday afternoon for those interested in working on the Quaker business staff, Larry Fainl, business manager, chose the following students: Margaret Anne Jones, Anne Belan, Gay Rich, Irene White, Virginia Nan, Elliot Hansell, Dick Martin, Vito Fainl, Gale Stewart, Isabel Fink, Louis Raymond, Jr., and Frank Davis.

It is the duty of each member to secure as many advertisements as possible from the business concerns.

Assembly Wednesday

"It was with unalloyed pleasure that I recently listened to your Brass Quartet and please accept my hearty congratulations for presenting to the public an organization so genuinely worth while. Seldom do we hear such finesse of ensemble as possessed by this splendid group of artists and the solo work was of the highest order."

Capt. Howard C. Bronson, Conductor, 129th Infantry Band.

"Permit me to again express my appreciation for the splendid program, you and the other members of the quartet presented. You will be interested to know that comments of the students for the past several days have been very complimentary."

Victor N. Johnson, Walla Walla College, Conservatory of Music.

Joe Morris Spends Summer at Camp

Joe Morris, who spent eight weeks during the summer at Camp Cedars, a musical education school on Cedar Point, vouches this is a most interesting and educational way to spend a summer.

The camp under the supervision of P. F. McCormack offers outstanding instructors on all instruments.

The daily program is devoted primarily to periods of orchestra, band, ensemble and individual rehearsals. Although music comes foremost, baseball, swimming, canoeing and tennis follow a close second.

Due to the demand for concerts from the band several extended boat tours were enjoyed by the camp.

When asked if he would like to return next year, Joe replied, "I certainly would."

Junior High News

The seventh grade geography students are inaugurating a new book this year entitled "The Growth of Nations" by Atwood-Thomas. One class of eight grade hygiene will also use a new book. There are no copies here at present and the title and author are not available at this writing.

A musical assembly was presented to the seventh grades Monday and the same assembly was given for the eighth grades on Wednesday.

Orchestra was started Monday under the direction of Mr. Regal. The art classes began their regular schedule Tuesday; other clubs will start next week.

The association drive was begun Wednesday.
