

Bob Dixon Wins Honorable Mention at Columbus

Dixon Rates Fourth Place Among High School Sports Writers

Robert Dixon received honorable mention for his sports story of the game between Salem and Struthers which was entered with very stiff competition from much larger schools than Salem High.

In addition to receiving honorable mention, he took fourth place in the state. Columns were judged for material, how well it was written, and how the facts were presented.

Mr. Lehman and Mr. Hilgendorf with fourteen members of the Quaker Editorial and Business Staffs reached Columbus Friday morning at 11:30 a. m. They immediately went to the Deschler-Wallick Hotel where they registered for rooms and for the 15th Annual Journalistic Convention.

After lunch a town meeting was held which took place in the ballroom of the hotel. Mr. La Rue W. Piercy, Western Reserve Academy President introduced Reverend Burkhardt of who gave a very interesting talk.

The meeting came to the end at 4:30 P. M. and from that time until 6:30 the journalists were free to visit the Columbus Dispatch or to explore any of the Capital City. Many of them took this time to see Ozzie Nelson and Harriet Hilliard in person.

The next event was the banquet which was held in the Sapphire Room of the Deschler-Wallick. When the dinner was over, the head cheer-leader for Ohio-State, "Clancy" Isacs, and three members of his Cheerleading squad lead the whole group in cheers and songs for Ohio State. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Clyde R. Miller who spoke on "Propaganda, Democracy and the Press." Following the banquet the journalists proceeded to the dance in the ballroom of the hotel with Charles Bennett and his orchestra providing the music from 9:30 to 12:00.

After an early breakfast a walk around the campus started the day's events with round table discussions held in the Commerce building following. Each journalist went to the talk he was interested in. The purpose of these discussions was to give the High school writers new ideas and to answer any question they might ask.

Next on the program was the presentation of the awards to the winners.

Camera Club Studies Still Life Objects

Still life was the subject of the Camera Club at a recent meeting. Shutters clicked and lights flashed as members focused their lenses at a colorful cut glass dish of fruit. Pictures were also snapped of geometrical figures.

These pictures were taken from several different angles in an effort to obtain good shadow effect.

The club is studying a booklet entitled "Photography for Fun" by William M. Strong.

AT ANNAPOLIS

KENNETH LEIPPER

Kenneth Leipper, '36, In Naval Academy

One of the ambitions in the heart of every young man of today is to be appointed to the United States Naval Academy. This ambition was realized by Kenneth Leipper, '36 Salem High school student, when he was appointed by John McSweeney, representative-at-large, to enter the naval academy at Annapolis, Maryland.

McSweeney stated that he saw in Kenneth what he thought was the most promising candidate for appointment.

Kenneth entered the academy last June 15 on a rigid elimination test that is given all candidates before they become students. Then, strict rules must be obeyed throughout the year. Little trouble is encountered in the enforcement of these rules, as all the young men are anxious to remain in the school.

Kenneth finished Salem High in three years and in that time entered into many of the activities.

In his first year he was an active debater and also sang in the mixed chorus and was on the cross country and track teams.

His second year he was again, a debater, sang in the vocal ensemble and remained a member of the cross country and track teams. He also became a member of the Varsity "S" club.

In his final year he sang in the vocal ensemble, was a member of the Saemasquers. He was also a member of the Quaker staff and proved himself an actor in "Smilin' Through."

Seniors Pose For Pictures

The seniors have been having their Quaker Annual pictures taken this week, including tomorrow, at the Wolford studio. Fifteen minutes are allowed for each senior to go to the studio and return.

The cost of a dozen pictures, including an enlargement, is $4, although only a down payment of $1 is required now.

Quaker to Sponsor Frosh Soph Tug-of-War

Bruce Krepps Captains Freshman Team; Nick Limpose To Head Sophs

Tomorrow night at the Salem-Lisbon game the Quaker is sponsoring a tug-of-war between the Freshmen and the Sophomores to be held either between halves or just before the game on Reilly Field.

Pep Rally To Be Held Tonight

Tonight the Varsity "S" club will hold its first pep rally of the year at Reilly Stadium. Joe Kelley, manager of the Memorial building, will be the guest speaker.

Arrangements have been made for the band and cheer leaders to be present. Members of the team will be present for a short time and coaches also will attend.

Preparations have been made for the huge bonfire by a committee consisting of Amos Dunlap, chairman; Jim Dickey, Dick Beck, "Dinty" McLaughlin, and "Pete" Taffin.

Library Receives New Career Pamphlets

Miss Lehman reported that the Library now has the complete stock of the pamphlets on careers. The new ones are Vocational and Educational careers, Real estate, Personal Shopper, Metallurgic Engineering, Aeronautics, Merchandise Buyer, Dairy Farming, Dairy Products, Industry, Ceramic Engineering, Exploring as a Career, Sanitary Engineering, Meteorology, Fuel Technology, Dental Hygienist, and Gift and Art Shop Operation.

These pamphlets often help students find their goal. They make very educational as well as interesting reading. They cover all points of interest in a career, the attractive and unattractive sides, wages and many other points. You may go to the Library and read them at any time.

Three Drum Majors May March Friday

The High school band will probably appear with three drum majors tomorrow night, for the first time this year.

Mr. Brautigam has been searching for the third one for some time and is not sure yet which one of the six who tried out for the third post will get the call this week.

"It is particularly difficult to select one who can add to the appearance because obht Don Freed and Bill Fineran are fine twirlers" Mr. Brautigam stated. The new drum major probably will not whirl but will be in charge of the marching.

The teams will be composed of ten members each and must win two out of three contests to be declared the winner. The team pulling the other across a five yard space and over a line will win that contest.

The captains of the teams have been chosen this week and will have charge of their teams. They are: Bruce Krepps for the Freshmen and Nick Limpose for the Sophomores.

This is the first time in a good many years that this sort of thing has been attempted but if it were to be very successful it might have a good chance of becoming a yearly feature on the Halloween program.

Mr. Smith will have charge of the fray and will be on the field with the microphone for the public address system to give his comments on the outcome and to start the proceedings.

Naturally tomorrow being the night we are celebrating Halloween there is a great deal of rivalry between the "Frosh" and the "Sophs" thereby assuring a lively fight for the "championship."

Both captains have selected their own teams, trying to get the most husky men in the class to represent them. The Sophomores will be out to humiliate their opponents on the traditional "Freshman Night" so a victory by the Frosh would be a very cherished memory. And for the Sophomores to be defeated by their "lowly" opposition would be a blot on the face of their honor.

For these reasons both teams will be on the field fighting to defend themselves from almost certain annihilation from the spectators' jeers which always are rewarded to the vanquished.

It is not known at this writing whether or not this contest will take place during the halves of the game because of the field being used by the bands. However if this is the case the struggle will be held immediately before the game at the time when both teams are in the dressing rooms. To insure the chances of seeing it the students are advised to be in the stands early.

Biology Classes Buy Live Specimen

Mrs. Cox's Biology classes are not content with the specimens of starfish which she has been showing them, so in order to please everyone, donations are being handed in which are to be used to get a live spiny-skinned animal.

They are also looking at one-celled protozoa and making drawings of them.

SHS Song Heard Over Broadcast

"The Quaker Drive On Song", dedicated to Salem High School, was played over WADC Akron between 9:30 and 10:00 yesterday morning. This broadcast was sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Salem in connection with their Armistice Day Dance which is to be held at the Masonic Temple on November 11, the night before the Salem-Barberton game. The proceeds of the dance will go toward the new West End Recreational Center.

Students to Enjoy Day Off Tomorrow

The students of Salem High will enjoy a one-day vacation tomorrow because the teachers will go to the Northeastern Ohio Teachers' Association which holds its annual meeting in Cleveland.

Twelve thousand teachers will attend the varied program that starts at 8:45 tomorrow morning. The program starts with a concert by the Cleveland orchestra under the direction of Rudolph Rengwell.

After the election of officers in the morning, the invocation given by Frank Halliday Ferris, D. D., pastor of the Fairmount Presbyterian church, will be followed by an address by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, of New York City.

Saturday morning's assembly will feature a concert by the Festival Band of Cleveland High schools under the baton of G. Loan Ruddle, and special numbers by the Festival Chorus of Cleveland Junior High schools with Russell V. Morgan conducting.

The address of the day will be given by Francis B. Sayre, assistant secretary of state, Washington.

This will be followed by a business session after which the teachers shall leave for their respective homes.

Coming Assemblies

Dr. A. M. Harding, teacher and lecturer, will give a talk called "Glimpses of Other Worlds" to the entire student body at the assembly that is to be held at 8:15 a. m. Tuesday, November 15.

Dr. Harding is a professor of mathematics and astronomy at the University of Arkansas and is the author of many books on those subjects.

The talk Dr. Harding will give will be well illustrated. Dr. Harding has lectured in numerous parts

"THE RICHEST ARE OFTEN THE POOREST"

One of the most puzzling questions confronting the younger generation of today is, "How are we to become the future leaders of our nation, on the meager amount of money provided for us?" Money today buys friends and social standing. The friends that money buys, however, are shallow, when the moneys gone they are gone too.

Most of the nation's greatest leaders, started from the very bottom and attained the top most rung of fame's ladder, not by wealth, but through honest-wholehearted effort.

It is often said that, "Money doesn't make the man." This has been proved time and time again. Many people of the present day, if their wealth were taken from them, would be weak, helpless, human beings with no initiative to go forward and attain a high goal in life.

Are we, as leaders, citizens, or students, going to earn our places in life by hard, honest work, or will we choose the easier, least likely to succeed method, with money as our master.

NARROW-MINDEDNESS

Many people have been accused of being narrow-minded. Are you one? This very unwanted sickness, for that's all it is, can be termed in many different ways.

The inability to understand and accept other people's view-points, the refusal to accept better and more modern ways of living, the refusal to keep out demoralizing habits, the refusal to be a good sport even in the face of defeat; all these things may be defined as narrow-mindedness.

All of these conditions concern each and everyone of us and should be handled with the greatest of care.

No student wishes to be classified as being narrow-minded, but rather one of having a broad and liberal view on life.

DO YOU THROW CORN OR ROCKS?

The scene is set. The smell of frost and burning leaves is in the air. Pumpkins with grotesque faces and skeletons adorn the houses of the town.

The time, Halloween, when witches and goblins rule the world.

A party is being held and everyone is having a glorious time. Suddenly, someone raps on the window and everyone rushes out to look for the intruder. A merry chase ensues and the gaiety of the party is boosted.

However, at another party, a much different type of Halloweening is found.

The sound of glass being shattered interrupts the party and the host rushes to the front of the house to find the front window broken and a rock, the cause of it all, lying in the middle of the room with a note tied to it. The note is inscribed with a dreadful warning and decorated with a skull and crossbones.

A few minutes later the sound of a horn is heard and the owner of the car goes out and finds his car artistically decorated with soap, shoe polish and paint. The car belongs to his father and he, the son, is deprived of its use because these pranksters have ruined the paint job to provide for their own amusement.

What kind of a Halloween are you? Do you add to the gaiety of the season or do you make yourself public enemy No. 1 by destroying the property of others and making yourself a general nuisance?

In order to balance the drum majors then, it will be necessary to have the twirlers on either side and the third or new one wearing the regular drum major's uniform.

Additional red uniforms have been ordered for the band members who have been marching in black uniforms, and it is hoped that they will arrive in time for the Barber-ton game, two weeks from Saturday.

Mr. Williams has also announced that the students will enjoy an extra assembly which has been added to his list.

This assembly will feature Theodore Scheuber who will give a talk on Mexico and Central America, where he has done some extensive traveling.

His speech will be colorfully illustrated by pictures and suitable costumes.

Thoughts between classes; Fire drills are lots of fun! That bell always did run chills up and down my spine. Hope we have some more!

Thought that nice weather couldn't last forever. But I was hopin' anyway! This is good football weather, in my 'umble opinion but then what's my opinion 'gainst millions of others.

Don't know why but bells always did thrill me! Especially the 4th and 7th period bells. Can't imagine why! Can you?

Gee, must be a freak of some sort. Anything that makes noise, I like. Don't even mind the steam shovel making all the racket it does!

Betty Rogers has seemingly been walkin' on air these last couple weeks! Reason? Exgrad Bob Boughton. Can see why! So can lots of girls but I won't name them—yet.

These white sweaters the fellas are wearing! Pretty neat, methinks! When they're clean!

Couple of the week: Nannabel Beardmore and Bobby Clark. Been goin' on for nearly two years! Puppy love, no doubt!

Gosh, you just can't have ANY fun anymore! Ya sit and day-dream awhile then realism always creeps into every far-away thought! It destroys all the swell ideas you get! But when realism comes in, you can see how impossible the whole idea is!

Ruth Schmidt gives the grandest imitation of sunset you ever saw. It sorta creeps from her sweater neck clear up to her hairline! Really gorgeous!

Missed the Wellsville game but from all I've heard and read and been told, it was near the top for excitement! Congrats team! Lisbon is next in line and will fall just as hard. I'll be rootin'—with 'bout 6,000 other fans!

Connie Clark' b. f. from Indiana seems to have it plenty bad! Sends telegrams, drives 200 miles just to see her! By the way, Gert, how did you get that shiner you had last week!

Love to sit here in 206 and watch the smoke coming from the chimneys and curling sky-ward. If I were an artist I'd like to paint it—but I'm not an artist! No remarks!

"Pom Pom" Pauline seems to have taken a beatin' at Columbus! Let's see, think she was from Hamilton. Wonder who the other fella was!

After a hectic weekend I've done my best to scare up a little dirt, hope I succeeded!

Freshmen — Beware

You have all heard that old saying that a young person's fancy turns toward love in the spring. If that's so where does it wander in the fall. From all appearances it looks as though it may have a slight tendency to waiver toward Halloween pranks for the moment at least.

You hear queer stattering noises against your window pane and so you unsuspectingly stick your head out the door to see what's happening. Quicker than a wink you draw it in again. From the deep darkness outside you hear a muffled bit of laughter and feel a few handfuls of corn smack you on the head.

Oh, yes, it's coming; in fact it will soon be here—the day that all upper classmen look forward to as a night for great enjoyment at the expense of another person. But this night is looked upon by the freshmen as one that makes your stomach feel all hollow inside.

So Freshmen beware of the night when the witches ride on their broomsticks across a big yellow moon. For this is the night when the goblins will get you if you don't watch out. Who knows, the goblins may be in the form of an upperclassman. You have been warned so take heed and watch your step.

A typical cowboy country is found near Arles, France, with ranches, costumes and customs similar to the Texas plains. Every spring the French cowboys give a rodeo at Nice, with al lthe daredevil exploits of American western ranges.

HI TRI

Initiation of the junior members of the Hi Tri was held last Thursday after school in 203 at which time the new members were given orders by the senior girls.

Viola McGaffic, chairman of the initiation committee, took charge of the meeting, after which refreshments were served.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club met yesterday after school in the auditorium.

CAMERA CLUB

Members of the Camera Club met yesterday after school in 107. They have hand books which they studied and had further discussion on the work for the Quaker they will do.

SLIDE RULE

Slide Rule members met Tuesday at 3:35 in room 304 at which time they studied the slide rule.

SALEMASQUERS

A box social was held Monday after school for members of the Salemasquers club and their guests.

HI-TRI

New members of the Hi-Tri were initiated a week ago yesterday in room 203. Thirty-one new members were brought into the club.

The meeting was opened by Barbara Williams, president, and after discussing the business of the club, the meeting was turned over to Viola McGaffic, chairman of the initiating committee.

Several of the new girls were compelled to give imitations of movie stars, some had to sing, some gave speeches, and others had to dance.

Due to the misspelling of the club's song, it was impossible to have the formal initiation. This will be conducted Thursday of next week.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Jim Britt Performs During Fire Drill

Tiny, feather-weight Jim Britt had quite an audience during the fire drill last Friday morning. Jim was among the group that gathered at the rear of the building when the fire bell sounded during the third period.

He stood at the far end of the crowd and suddenly some of the bigger boys got the bright idea of raising him up.

Jim was raised above the heads of his upper classmen and was then thrown up in the air several times before they decided to lower him and put him on the level with the rest of the drillers.

When Jim came down on his feet it took him quite a while to catch his lost breath but the usual grin crept across his countenance, and he wandered back into his third period class.

On The Bench

By Robert J. Dixon

Just in case you don't know it, tomorrow night's the time when the witches and goblins do their cavorting on the streets of Salem. It's also the occasion when the Frosh do their dancing acts to the time of the swish of paddles which are held in the hands of the all to capable upperclassmen. Both Freshmen and Sophomores have awaited this spectacle for almost two months, some with joy and glee and some with dire fear. All this week there has been a search in cellars for wood and garden hose; the material from which many lethal weapons are contrived. Therefore, don't be surprised tonight, Frosh, if you see a brigade of swashbuckling Sophs bearing down on you, bent on destruction. Remember that next year your time will come if you live thru this first nightmare . . . .

For real blocking, ball carrying and all around good play we advise you to see a big-time college game this year. At the Chicago-State game last Saturday, some 40,000 high school pupils were in attendance. They formed the majority of the 63,000 persons in the stadium. S. H. S. had about thirty at the game most of which were at the journalism convention.

This business of comparing scores will drive you nuts if you keep at it long enough. For example take a couple from last week. Liverpool beat Sebring 38-6. We beat Sebring 39-0, and Liverpool beat us 19-7. If you will scratch around in that jumble for awhile you'll discover that something is wrong somewhere or something. Another is the game between Dover and Barberton, two teams which we play on consecutive weeks.

Dover was supposedly the toughest of the two and the most feared. But along came Barberton and laid them out 14-0 which turned over the apple cart. I give up! . . .

Studes" will be glad to know when Bill Schaeffer and Mike Guappone get back in there regularly. Haven't heard anything definite yet though.

One of the best Class B high school bands will be in our stadium tonight so listen to them. They're always good.

We hope that "Bronko" Wukotich has a good night tomorrow night. Something on the order of the Wellsville exhibition.

ners in the different classes of writing. More round table discussions were held and after that came lunch with the football game between Ohio State and Chicago coming next. After the game the Salem group started for home.

Quakers Win 14-7 Over Wellsville

Salem High's Quakers, despite the loss of two of their most valuable men, Mike Guappone and Bill Schaeffer, trounced a weak but scrappy Wellsville eleven by a score of 14 to 7 last Friday night at Nickolson Stadium in Wellsville. The Bengals played good ball in comparison with their previous games despite their loss but the Quakers didn't have the fight or aggression that was demonstrated in Ravenna, Sebring, or even the Struther's games. It could be plainly seen that the Quakers were crippled not only in body but in spirit.

The Salem boys held together, though mainly through the efforts of "Buster" Wukotich, the pile driving, sparkplug of the Salem outfit. Wukotich scored both Salem touchdowns and incidentally the extra points.

The sophomore lad gained a total of 194 yards from scrimmage while Wellsville's total gain amounted to only 112 yards. Time after time when the Quaker boys needed a first and ten, it was Wukotich to the rescue. The entire Salem line deserves a great deal of credit for they are the ones that opened the holes. There still has to be eleven men on a ball team.

Captain Bill Rogers played a beautiful game, probably his best of the year as he broke through continually to drop the Wellsville lads in their tracks. In one instance Rogers was the only man between a Wellsville back and the goal line but true to form he came through like a thoroughbred to down the stubborn ball carrier despite being blocked out by a husky Bengal.

The Red and Black lads scored in the first and third periods while limiting their county foe to one tally late in the third quarter.

Salem was much more superior to the River boys than the score indicates. Salem gained 352 yards from scrimmage to Wellsville's 12 and made twenty first downs to the Bengals eight.

The Red and Black flashes started the game right by marching 65 yards to tally, before the first few minutes were up. Salem made another attempt to score that period. Wise started the ball rolling as he dashed 33 yards before being smothered. Then a streak of bad luck, when Wise slipped and fell twice, gave Wellsville the ball on their own 18, ruined Salem's touch-down expectations for the time being at least.

The second score of the ball game came after Wise ran back Call's punt from mid field to the Wellsville 29 which set the stage for the tally. Five plays later, Buster hit pay dirt. He carried the ball all five times for a gain of almost six yards per try. The Salem star also scored the extra point.

The game wasn't in the bag however as the boys from down the river got hot. Call received Oana's kickoff and raced wide around right end from the Wellsville 15 to the Salem 36 before Wise, the Salem safety man, downed him. On the next play Bill Rogers broke through and smothered on Morrison for a 10 yard loss and in order to accomplish this fete, Bill was forced to fight off two Bengal blockers.

The River lads didn't lose courage however. On the next play a pass J. Call to Wilson put the ball on the Salem 19. A few plays later Nickolson went through a hole as large as an elephant in the left side of the line to score. J. Call kicked the extra point. The Quakers got control of themselves and also Wellsville during the third and fourth quarters except for a few seconds in the fourth period when Salem had the ball on their own 1 yard line but they kicked out of danger. The game ended with Salem marching from its own 10 yard line to Wellsville's 29 where they were halted by the final whistle.

Aviators Leading Intramurals

The Aviators, captained by Bob Vickers, are leading the touch football league. They have won 6 and lost 1. The nearest rivals are the Aces and Fumblers. The teams are quite evenly matched but the Aviators have barged ahead mainly because the Ace's and Fumbler players have failed to report, resulting in forfeits. The games that were rained out or postponed will be played on Mondays and Wednesdays after school.

Lisbon To Be Quaker's Opponents For Hallowe'en Fracas

With big "Marv" Wukotich plowing up Nickilson stadium down in Wellsville the Quakers didn't have much trouble grinding over the Tigers to the tune of 14-7 last Friday night.

The line gave much aid to "Wukie" as he hurtled through the Wellsville defense for a total of 194 yards from scrimmage.

It was Wukotich, Wise and Dean who, together as usual, made the majority of gains as the Quakers won their third game in five starts.

Tonight the game with Lisbon should be much on the order of last week's fracas, with Lisbon being very much the underdog having gained a 6-0 victory over Sebring as compared to Salem's 39-0 defeat over the same team five weeks ago.

Lisbon this year, has few men back from last year's varsity. Although the loss of Don Korn, All-County end, was a blow to the team. Noce, a back who played against the Quakers last year is back again at one of the half-back spots.

Howard Ziemke from Mount Union is the new coach at the county seat this year, replacing former Coach Bickle at the helm.

The contest tonight will mark the last time the team will play under the lights as it has become a custom to play all games in November in the afternoon because of the cooling climate.

Third Team Plays Sebring, McDonald

Salem's third team played Sebring last Wednesday afternoon and held the Trojans Juniors to a scoreless tie. Sebring was in scoring position twice but the Quaker lads put on the steam and held them from putting a touchdown across.

Thursday afternoon Salem journeyed to McDonald and lost by a score of 14-0. This makes the fourth game the Junior Varsity has played, losing three games and tying one.

Jitterbug's Column

Just got in from Columbus and a wonderful, gorgeous time! Really, the best time of our lives! Banquets, speakers, dances, games! "Wot a life!"

Speaking of Columbus, we attended the R. K. O. Palace, which was only a few steps from the hotel. A gigantic stage show awaited us, including Ozzie Nelson and his orchestra, Harriet Hilliard, Wayne Morris and Johnny "Scat" Davis. Ozzie has a real band and Harriet really "gives"! His best numbers were, "Martha," "Stop Beating Around the Mulberry Bush," "Put On Your Old Gray Bonnet" and "Says My Heart," sung admirably by Mrs. Nelson (Harriet). All in all, it was truly wonderful, and we shall never forget it!

Bob Pooley and band, now playing at the Deschler-Wallick in Columbus, is made up entirely of college men. We previewed the band Friday afternoon while they were practicing. They were playing "When My Baby Smiles at Me." Absolutely swell!

Best recording of the week: "When My Baby Smiles at Me" and "High Ridin'" as waxed by none other than Bob Pooley on a Bluebird disc.

The "Sultans of Swing," those jitterbugs of High school fame, have gone under a new management. The band is now called "Jay Karen and His Rhythm, Sweet and Swing." Also, the band is enlarging. Wanted: One trumpet, one piano player and one E flat sax! If anyone is interested, a tryout can be arranged by getting in touch with any member of the band. (Adv.) The new theme for the orchestra is "One o'Clock Jump."

Now our contest: This week's question ran, "What is a push-pipe?" Well, sir, this week's winner is one John Evans. Johnny says, "A 'push-pipe' is a term given to the slide trombone in a dance orchestra." That's all there is . . . it's good enough, so hats off, students!

Next week a different type of contest begins, so in the meantime listen to your radio. "And so, until the next time, when we meet again, may I bid you a bon cheerio, a tweet, tweet, a tut, tut, a toodle-oo and may luck be with you." (Taken from Ben Bernie's sign-off.)

Dramatic Chatter

To be or not to be, that is the question.

Whether you noticed it or not, I forgot to mention Sleepy in this column last week. No offense, Sleepy; I was too tired to pick out someone to represent you.

"The play of the week:"

"Marie Antoinette"

Given by the Junior and Senior classes of our dear "S. H. S." Produced by the Super X Film Corporation under the direction of that super, super producer, Janet Greenstein. (She won her academy award for the Junior play last year.)

THE CAST

Marie Antoinette—Theresa Hoff.
The Swedish Count—Portrayed by Tyrone Power—Jim Dickey. (Does that square things, Jimmy?)

I can't think of the Tyrone's same—County something or other. If you know, tell me.

Louis XVI—Bob Vickers. He'd like to know Theresa better.)

Louis XV (Bob's grandfather)—Jim Schaefer. (Practice your French accent, Jimmie.)

They are the most important characters. But that's not all; there is an added attraction. A Mickey Mouse comedy entitled "Seven With One Blow."

The Tailor—Vito Faini. (Larry's little brother.)

The Princess—Ruth Schmidt. (Hi, Princess!)

The Old King (More kings in my column this week)—LeRoy Moss.

The Giant—Bill Schaefer. (He's got muscles.)

The Giant's Wife (She doesn't do anything but look after the Giant.)—Jane Gilbert.

That's all, folks, except the Newsreel, and the only thing there you would care about is Bettie Sharp. She displays the latest thing in women's fashions. See Bettie for further details.

That's all for now, but next time I'll give you more.

So long,
BUD.

Jr. High News

The Student Council elected officers at its last meeting. Those elected were: Edith Dales, 8F, president, and Elizabeth Benedetti, 8C, vice president.

There are 29 members in the orchestra this year. The unusual instruments for a Junior High orchestra this year are: Two piano accordions, one cello, one French horn, and one viola. Mr. Regal said that the members show initiative and are willing to take up difficult numbers.

At the first meeting of the Audubon Club, moving pictures of game birds were shown to the members.

Miss Tetlow said that 60 girls have turned out to join the Girls' Glee Club.

Twenty-eight boys have joined the Boys' Glee Club and more are expected to join.

All members of the Airplane Club are making balsa wood gliders and when all are finished a contest will be held. The following officers were chosen: Frank Zeiner, president, and Billy Stratton, vice president. This club is an after-school activity and meets every Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30, thereby giving the boys more time to work on their models.

The Garden Club, under the direction of Miss Cameron, enjoyed a hike to find mosses and terrariums on Saturday, October 22.

Cheer practices were held this week for the seventh and eighth grades.

The Patrol boys have not been chosen as yet, so those eighth grade boys who had charge last year had charge for this week.

New Talent Is Found In Salem High

Never let it be said that initiations don't bring out the best in one.

Just take for instance at the Hi-Tri initiation last Thursday night. Now those who do not know her would never suspect a "blues" voice of Dolores Jones. But the Hi-Tri sisters know, yes sir. And if you have never heard her just ask her to sing the "Flat Foot Floogie." She really can swing it!

Many other talents were reviewed and among them the "cheek to cheek" dancing ability of Ada Shriver. (She has something there, boys.)

The Mae West imitations of Eilen Monks are really worth admission. And speaking of imitations, Joan Davis herself would commend Jane Butler on her impersonation of the aforementioned Joan.

Mr. Kelly announced that ninety boys have joined the manual training classes. The boys are making wall racks, book racks, Christmas toys, and sugar scoops.
