

Seniors Issue Last Quaker

If this issue of the Quaker seems to have a special flavor of its own, there is a good reason for it. For the seven seniors on the staff, this is the last time they'll have the chance of gazing fondly at their own published journalistic efforts—at least in this paper.

The seniors who are leaving their posts on the staff are: John Evans, Editor-in-chief; Marjorie Layden, Margie Kniseley, Mary Fisher, Dick Jaeger, Bud Dean, Tom Eberwein, Eugene Neale, and Henry Pauline.

Brooks Contest Winners Named In Assembly

Phil Stevens, Bill Rogers
Win Firsts in Essays,
Stories, Respectively

Yesterday morning in assembly the annual Brooks literary contest was held.

As was the case last year only the orations and poems were presented to the students. The short stories and essays were judged beforehand by the head of the English department, Ravenna High school.

The winners of the essay contest were as follows: 1st, Phil Stevens, "Rivers"; 2nd, Dorothy Klyne, "The Merits of Laughter"; and 3rd, John Evans, "A Scotchman's View of America". Honorable mention

Make Final Plans For Hop Tonight

Hi-Y, Hi-Tri Sponsoring
Three-Hour Dance

Final preparations for this evening's H-Y, Hi-Tri hop were made earlier this week by a committee made up of officers of the two clubs. The dance will get underway at 7:30 tonight and will continue until 10:30.

This is the first time that such a dance has been attempted and it is hoped that it will prove a success so that more may be held in the future.

The affair will be strictly informal with sport and school clothes prevailing. There will be no decorations. The Sultans of Swing will provide the music.

A straight admission of 20 cents will be charged and will suffice for the evening's dancing.

Barbara Williams, Frances Webster, Earl Taflin, and Bud Dean, members of the committee, expressed their sincere hope that the student body would back them fully, by attending this event.

Ruth West Wins Superior Rating

Second Rating Awarded
Junior Vocalist In National Contest

Ruth West, a member of the Junior class and one of Salem High's outsingers, received a second rating in the National Regional Voice contest, held at Anderson, Indiana, last week.

A second rating corresponds to a rating of "Superior." The contestants were judged as follows: 1st, highly superior; 2nd, superior; 3rd, excellent; 4th, good; and 5th, below average.

In her contest, which was the mezzo soprano division, Miss West had to compete with forty other girls.

Salem High's second entry in the National contest is the string trio. This group, composed of Gusto Conja, Paul Evans, and Gerry Fickes, left last Thursday morning for Indianapolis, Indiana where their contest was held.

Wary Stude Gets Snap Look Into New Addition; Dreams of Next Year

This is the story of one of those tragedies of life which usually escape the notice of the public. The victim of fate in our tale of heart-break is that down-trodden character, the Salem High student. The other factor is the inanimate but all-important new wing.

As the story begins, the student gazes longingly toward the wing, thoughts of the future crowding his wistful mind. For months he has dreamed of occupying the new wing.

Already his eager heart has been disappointed and he has had to reconcile himself to waiting until next fall for his chance, but he has taken it like a man and now all he wants is something to satisfy his curiosity.

In a flash, he makes a snap decision. He glances cautiously around, but he sees no watchful pedagogue. He steals bravely through the open door of the new wing, his heart

Frank Craven Will Provide Prom Music

Committees Chosen For Biggest Social Event
Of Season

Frank Craven, his trombone and his orchestra will provide perfect "synchronized" rhythm at the Junior-Senior prom. The orchestra will feature the unique trombone solos of Frank Craven as well as the interpretations of popular tunes by a girl vocalist.

This orchestra has just completed engagements at Seabreeze Park, Rochester, N. Y., and Forrest Park, Oswego, N. Y.

As is the custom, the Juniors will entertain the Seniors this year, at the prom.

A banquet and program will start off the evening at the Masonic Temple. This will be followed by a dance in the High School Gym from 8:30 to 11:30. Two committees have been completed, it was announced by Miss Roth, Junior Advisor, this week. They are as follows:

Executive committee: Bob Clark, chairman, Allen Fehr, Peg Stewart, Eugene McCready, Vivian Snipes, Ada Shriver, Dick Beck, Dorothy Klyne, Bob Lieder, Bob Shoe, and Jim Schaeffer. Program and seating: Eleanor Eberwein, Eleanor Williams, Dorothy Lutsch, Kenny Juhn, Dorothy Klyne. Other committees now being chosen are entertainment, decoration and refreshment.

Officers Elected For Coming Year

Hi-Tri officers for the 1939-40 school year were elected at a meeting held recently in room 203.

They are: President, Peggy Stewart; vice president, Jane Butler; secretary, Esther Fowler; treasurer, Helen Knepper and warden, Ruth Alice Stoudt.

quicken with anticipation. His face, lined with the strain of his scholastic toil, relaxes into an expression of happiness as he wanders through the palace of his dreams. With awe he surveys the spacious library, the conveniently arranged mechanics shop, the roomy lockers.

Now another figure appears on the scene. He is an imposing character representing authority. In no uncertain terms he requests that the student remove himself. Though his mind is confused by disappointment, the student gathers from authority's positive statements that some other student has, in his enthusiasm, failed to notice a patch of wet cement, and the results have been somewhat disastrous.

For a moment the student considers rebelling, but he knows the power of authority, so he turns on his heel and walks sadly away.

Commencement Program To Feature Musical Numbers by Seniors

William Rogers To Deliver Only Speech of Exercises; Baccalaureate Services
To Be Held June 4

Instead of the traditional custom of three or four orators speaking at commencement exercises, a musical program, composed of talented members of the senior class, and one speaker will be featured at commencement on June 8.

Annual Expected To Be Out May 26

The 1939 edition of the Quaker annual is expected to be ready for distribution by Friday, May 26. The year book is now in the stages of being bound.

This year's book will be bound with a covering made of Scotch linen which is a tan color. The lettering on the cover will be done in blue.

Due to the expected arrival of the annuals there will be no publication of the Quaker Weekly next week, however, the final one will appear on the seventh of June with the Junior members of the Quaker staff publishing it.

Thespians to Elect 1939-'40 Officers

Members of the National Thespians met in room 200 at 3:35 after school Monday for a short business meeting. The purpose of the meeting was to appoint a nominating committee for officers for the coming year. The nominating committee consists of two sophomores, two juniors, and one senior. The committee appointed is Lucia Sharp, George Steffel, Elizabeth Hart, Jack Warner, and Mary Fisher.

There are three offices in this organization, the Stage Manager, which corresponds to the president; the Prompter, which corresponds to the treasurer; and the third office is that of secretary.

Next Tuesday there will be a special meeting for the election of officers. This meeting will be at 3:35 in room 200.

Sportsmen to Hold Summer Meetings

Plans were made at the last official meeting of the Sportsmen's club, a week ago yesterday, to continue the meetings during the summer months. These meetings will be held every other Thursday at one member's house. All present members will be back next fall.

The treasurer reported, at the meeting, a balance of $8.75 in the club treasury.

Next year a conservation course will be worked out under the direction of the State Department of Education.

William Rogers, who won first in the District Extemporaneous Speech contest at Youngstown and entered the state finals at Columbus, will be the class orator at the exercises this year. He also was a member of the debate squad and entered another speech contest at Western Reserve University.

The class will be presented by its president, John Evans, who will receive the symbolic diploma from the Board of Education.

Winthrop Difford, president of the association, will be in charge of the program.

The Baccalaureate services will be held on June 4 at 7:30 p. m. with Rev. C. F. Evans delivering the sermon. This service is in charge of the Salem Ministerial Association.

5 Boys Chosen For Boys' State

Fehr, McCready, Schaeffer, Nicora, Warner
To Make Trip

Five junior boys were recently selected by American Legion and school officials to attend the annual Buckeye Boys' state in Columbus, June 17 to 27. They are: Jimmy Schaeffer, Allen Fehr, Eugene McCready, Jack Warner and Mike Nicora.

The Kiwanis, Rotary, Jr. Chamber of Commerce and a group of persons have agreed to pay for one boy, thus joining the American Legion post in sponsoring the event.

Schaeffer was in the cast of "Murder in Rehearsal" and is a member of the Slide Rule Club.

Fehr, vice president of the junior class, is on the staff of the Quaker weekly and annual and is a member of the Slide Rule and Camera clubs.

McCready, was a cheer leader last year and belongs to the Slide Rule club this year.

Warner, was also in the cast of "Murder in Rehearsal" and is a member of the band.

Nicora, has been student track manager for three years and student football manager for two.

Bob Clark, president of the junior class, was also chosen to go but will not be able to go. He is going to Culver for an eight-week period. This conflicts with the dates of the Boy's State. Bob will learn about naval tactics and cavalry during his stay at Culver.

Pick of Dates

"Should a girl take her pick of a date to a dance or go with the person who asked her first?"

There are many opinions on the subject. The girls say to take your pick, but the majority of etiquette authorities say to go with the person who asked you first unless he is thoroughly disliked by you or if you are going steady with another boy.

"Turn down one boy for another," states Emily Post, "and you will lose the respect of the second boy as well as the first, because he will know that you might turn right around and turn him down for someone you like a little better or who has a nicer car."

That is where you stand, girls. Little wonder if a boy doesn't ask you for a date if he thinks you are going to line him up with a lot of others and pick out the one with the best car or most money. Give the boys a square deal and you'll get one in return, with a date attached!

Monkey See, Monkey Do

The practice of imitation is the device by which a baby learns to talk. It is also habit which has made the monkey what he is today. (Remember, "Monkey see, monkey do?")

As we all know, it's absolutely necessary for babies to learn to talk, and we'll admit that the monkey has become at least well-known for his peculiarities. But where do we come in? Well, most of us have had fourteen or more years of experience, during which we should have picked up a few ideas of our own.

Nothing is so disgusting as a person who follows the crowd in every detail, even in his thoughts. However, it is not often that this kind of person causes disgust, because his type seldom receives attention of any sort.

Individuality is what makes one valuable to his friends and associates—if he does not carry his independence to extremes.

Manners Make the Man

Manners make a person. That is a true sentence. How much more liked is a person who possesses good manners and uses them whenever he gets the chance. It's those persons who show that they do have mannerly ways that get ahead in this complicated world. Some people show good manners some times but they neglect to use them in their everyday live, for instance, in school. Just because you're not rough is not a sign you're a sissy. So if you want to make more friends and less enemies brush up on your manners.

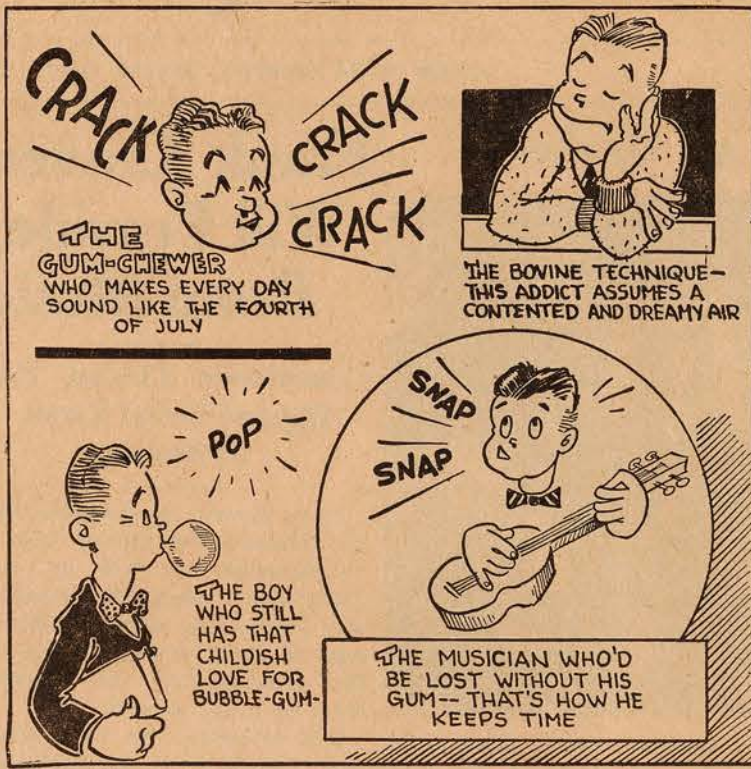

Johnstown Wins Derby Alone

Johnstown, who is recognized as the world's best race horse, won the famed Kentucky Derby seven lengths ahead of the rest of the field. He reserved his strength and put it all in on the home stretch run.

Recently many seniors have figured that since they have battled school work thus far and since they were pretty sure of graduating, it would be a good idea to let down. Now is the time when seniors should work their hardest. They should loose all that reserve ability and put on the best show of work in their high school career, for in any race it is the finish that counts, not the start nor the first turn, and a grand finish will be remembered longer.

"The Yanks are coming," hummed the dentist, as he prepared to pull a tooth. "Do you serve lobsters here?" "Yes sir. We serve anyone. Sit down."

Different Techniques

This Here an' That There

BY MARGIE KNISELEY

Thoughts between classes:—This weather is so nearly perfect that I feel sorta spring feverish. (Wonder if there is such a thing?) Was out—the woods the other day. Violets and trillums and many, many other flowers were out. Made the landscape glorious! Gosh, I sound like a poet or something. Better I should stop there!

It seems funny—peculiar funny, not ha-ha funny—that the various clubs and organizations let their picnic an' things go till the last few weeks of school. Yet they do do it and all of this adds to the whirl of the Commencement Season.

Heard last week that Glenn Bennett doesn't want his name in this here column. Sorry Glenly but it so happens that I always make a point to mention people who claim they don't like my kind of publicity.

Nomination for Abolishment:—These fellas who seemingly dote on the sport of taking other peoples' notes and reading them! 'Bout the meanest trick ever—to my notion!

Didya ever buy a hot dog and have it plain. You know—no mustard or catsup. Noticed at the track meet how bare and sorta of unfinished they look—as tho' something were lacking. You're right—something is lacking. The decorations. Silly—eh, what?

Congratulations Ruth! You knew, no doubt, that all of us here were hopin' for you. If you haven't guessed it—we were, and you surely came through for ole S. H. S.!

Read some place not long ago—don't remember where—that some person wanted to know whether these cars that are a half block long are sold by the yard. I laughed!

In our upperclass group, meaning juniors and seniors, there are three of the wittiest, drollest sense of humors ever. Got any ideas? They are Bob Dixon, Allen Fehr, and Joe Morris. Get them together and you really have a combination!

Couple of the Week: George Dickey and Mary Tice. George can be seen walking in from S. Union nearly every day at five. Puppy love, but they seem to be enjoying it and that's all that matters!

Nearly forgot a piece of the week—couldn't do that so here it is "Sing a Song of Sunbeams" as played by Herbie Holmes and orchestra. Clever and catchy arrangement!

Nuff said for the time being—Bye now.

Bill Rogers

Dark brown almost black hair adorns this senior boy's 5 feet 11 inches of masculine brawn. Brown eyes and an imitable personality puts the finishing touch to Bill Rogers.

Bill was elected vice president of his class as a freshman and has continued in that office for the entire four years of high school.

He is a member of the Varsity S, tennis, and football teams. Bill is also an honor graduate. He has proved himself an orator supreme on many occasions. The senior class is glad you're with us, "Willie".

Avenell Bard

This Senior lass claims 204 as her hangout between bells. Avie Bard is well-known and well-liked by underclassmen as well as those in her class.

She is five feet five inches tall and has gay blue eyes and glistening brown hair. Avie has a personality that cannot be duplicated because she is individualistic in her speech, thoughts, and action.

Because of a prolonged illness she has not been active in the various school clubs, but, now that you're back, Avie—stay with us!

Tid Bits

Good afternoon, Mr. and Miss Salem High and all the ships at sea. Let's go to press.

W. S. H. S. is again on the air, or taking it, I'm not sure which.

Better make sure the old crystal set is working or you'll miss the fun.

We're just in time for the Bayer Aspirin Program starring Frank Munn and Jean Dickensen or I should say Wilbie Spalding and Ruth West. Ever since someone heard Wilbur sing "I Cried For You", he has had the contract. They have as their guest tonight, Margaret Speaks (Margaret Fronius to us) from the Firestone Program. (Classified plug) She swings a mean scale, too!

They wind up the program singing "The Donkey Serenade" the brays of the donkey are furnished by the second period Music class, Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

Pause—During it we hear Jack Rearden announcing the time. It sounds something like this, "Ladies and gentlemen, it is 8:30 C-O-P-E time."

On to the "Lux Radio Theater of the Air" directed by the Cecil B. De Mille of S. H. S., Bob Shoe. His guest artists tonight are Robert-Don Rich-Taylor and Jane-Alice Faye-Davidson. They present a drama of the New West — you know cowboys and stuff. Something new! As a novelty they have:

Andy-Franklin Sturgeon - Devine shows Buck-Bill Rogers-Benny how to ride a horse. The hero finally gets her so we turn to another program.

It's the circle—sponsored by Kellogg's (another ad!).

Madeline-Neta Lantz-Carroll entertains among other people that famous sports commentator, Robert J. Dixon (looked cute at track meet.) Then there is Lawrence-Pete Taflin-Tibett. (You ought to have heard him at the Hi-Y scavenger hunt!)

Well that's that, for the motto of W. S. H. S. is: "Early to bed, early to rise." So with lotions of love, So long, BUD.

Elinor Gray

Sparkling green eyes and gorgeous red hair make this Senior lassie stand out from the rest of her class. Elinor Gray is five feet six inches of girlish happiness. She hails from 205.

Elinor is an active member of the Hi-Tri and is tops as a person in the opinion of everyone who knows her.

Earl Taflan

For a small person, Earl Taflan certainly gets around and has something to do with almost all activities.

"Pete" extends ceilingward just five feet eight inches, but those five feet eight inches are full of pep and vigor. Mischievous brown eyes and shining brown hair, plus a personality, complete the description of this Senior lad.

He is secretary of the Hi-Y, is a member of the Varsity S, attends Trades class, is manager of the basketball and cross country teams, and was elected president of the band. So, you see, "Pete" is a pretty busy fellow.

Jack: How did you break your leg?

Harvey: I threw a cigarette in a manhole and stepped on it.

Salem High To Play Host To 20 Schools in Annual Running of District Meet

Approximately 20 schools from Northeastern Ohio will gather at Reilly stadium for the annual district track meet tomorrow afternoon.

The purpose of the meet is to decide the entrants for the state meet which will be held in Columbus next Saturday. All boys or relay teams placing either first, second or third in the district meet will be eligible to compete in the state meet.

The twenty schools competing will boost the meet entries to approximately 250 athletes. This makes a rather good sized turnout, especially for a district meet. However, the N. E. O. is the largest district in the state and always sends more representatives than any other.

The meet is scheduled to get under way with the preliminaries at 9 a. m. The finals will start at 2 p. m.

Outstanding Stars

Some of the outstanding performers scheduled to appear are Jordan of Akron South and Landsberger of East Palestine. They will meet in the mile run. Jordan is the boy who turned in that marvelous 4:28.5 mile in the Night Relays.

The duel between Salem's Bob Clark and Tuck of Akron North will be renewed in the pole vault. They tied at eleven feet for first in the "Relays."

The hundred and two-twenty are very likely to go in record time.

The main figures in these races will be Bogan Reed of Warren and Dave Trepanier of Akron Garfield. Trepanier, who last week ran a 10-flat hundred, was unable to run in the Night Relays due to a pulled muscle.

Favorites in the meet are Akron South, the team which took second place two weeks ago in the Night Relays. Salem should be up in the first six.

In the high hurdles, Salem's Joe Morris should take first place due to the fact that he ran two fast races in the "Relays" and placed third in the finals. The two men who beat him will not be competing as they are from the Cleveland district.

Instead of medals, usually given out in other meets, belt buckles will go to the winners and runners-up in each event. These are believed to be more useful than the medals.

Placques will go to relay winners and to the winner of the meet. The Class B N. E. O. district meet will be held at Poland.

Five Boys Lead Ping-Pong Games

With but one week and a half to run the following boys are the first five in the second annual High ping pong tournament: Gail Steward, Ralph Landwert, Ben Ware, Tom Eberwein and Jim Rogers. Sometime after the first of May, an elimination tournament will be held with the first five boys battling for the championship in a tournament of three series. The boy that loses the least number of games will be crowned champion.

ON THE BENCH

By BOB DIXON

Go down and take a gander in the trophy case sometime. That gold-colored trophy you see staring out at you is the property of one Joe Morris. It was thrust upon him after he had won three races in the Columbiana county track meet. He walked off with the 100, 220, and high hurdles to pile up 15 big points and top the field. "Amie" Dunlap collected 12 to wind up second. 0

Incidentally, it didn't seem as though the lads from E. P. wanted our Joe to get that hunk of metal. At least they didn't make any fuss about it. Joe didn't know he had won the thing until the end of the meet.

What I can't understand is what happened to "Ox" Clark. He went out on a paltry 11 feet. That wasn't so bad, but when Hill and Scally flopped over to take first and second, it sure did make the hometown boy look sick. He'll get another crack at them tomorrow at the N. E. O. meet. The first three places go to Columbus, so there should be a fight.

They tell me that a certain individual named Beck was seen wearing a gold medal at the Temporary Bachelors' dance last Friday night. He won it by taking the shot-put at Palestine. I believe that's the first time anyone has ever won a medal in the history of the school ?

This Landsberger from E. P. looks pretty hot in the mile. Keep an eye on him tomorrow. I don't think he has a chance to win, but he should be up there. The first place medal has probably been sent out already to Jordan of Akron South. He's the ape who jogged that 4:28.5 mile in the Night Relays.

By rights Joe Morris should win the high hurdles tomorrow, since he beat everyone in the district two weeks ago. But you never can tell, can you?

Better look for Amos Dunlap to be up in the low hurdles, too. He tells me that, spills or no spills, he's Columbus bound.

"Congratulations" are in order for "Copey" for copping the old county fracas for the fourth straight time. There's a new trophy up now, and we've got one leg of it already. Two more times and it belongs to the school.

Hey, Clarke! How about those five "cokes"? I'm getting impatient. I'll even accept a crisp new quarter if you prefer. However, the year is drawing to a close and I won't see you for three months. A lot of things can happen in 90 days, so let's clear up the books!
You savvy?

Golf Team Loses Three Matches

Losing the straight games to Alliance, Rayen and East Liverpool, Salem High's golf record is two wins and three defeats. Rayen was by far the toughest competition for the local lads having defeated them 16 to 0. Despite the losses, Salem has a much finer team than any in recent years and will probably go tough in future games.

Salem is given a fair chance of becoming district champs; 26th district meet will be held at the Tam O'Shanton 36 hole course in Canton next Saturday. The following boys, members of the golf team are expected to compete, Ronald Bill, Ike Spach, Art Meiter, Si Wagner, and Charlie Tulp.

Salem High Band To Lead Parade

The Salem High School Band under the direction of Chester M. Brautigam will lead the annual Decoration day parade, it was announced by the director this week.

The time of the parade has been changed from the afternoon, as was usually the custom, to 10 a. m. The reason for the change is the usually hot afternoons. It also gives the members of the band a chance to take the afternoon off.

The old Quaker City band will also march in the parade. Possibly the newly organized V. F. W. band will also march if uniforms can be gotten for the members of the band.

The parade will start at the intersection of Pershing and South Broadway and will then proceed up Broadway and turn right on East State street. The parade will then turn left onto North Lincoln and proceed as is usually the custom to Hope cemetery, where the parade will break up.

Quakers Annex Fourth County Championship

Nose Out Palestine 67 1/4 to 66 1/4 In Airtight Meet; Morris Stars

Led by Captain Joe Morris, who scored fifteen points to capture high scoring honors, Salem High's track and field team annexed their fourth consecutive Columbiana county championship by narrowly nosing out East Palestine 67 1/4 to 66 1/4 at the new East Palestine stadium last Friday evening.

The entire meet was really a dual one from start to finish between East Palestine and Salem, with the lead changing hands several times throughout the contest. It was not until the final event, the mile relay, that it was known who the victor was. Had East Palestine won the mile relay, which she didn't, the scores would have been reversed with Salem on the wrong end. But, in true Salem style, the Red and Black lads flashed by, winning the mile relay by ten yards to take the meet.

Although eight teams competed, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Lisbon, Leetonia, East Fairfield and Columbiana showed up rather poorly, all scoring less than ten points each. East Liverpool and Wellsville put up a fairly good show despite this being their first year of track since 1936.

Win Nine Firsts

Salem won nine out of fourteen firsts to East Palestine's six. Captain Morris took three firsts, the 100 and 220-yard dashes and 120-yard high hurdles. Amos Dunlap also had a big night, getting two firsts, in the broad jump and low hurdles, and a tie for fourth in the high jump. Other firsts went to Salem in the shot-put and discus when Dick Beck heaved the cannonball 44 feet 1 1/4 inches and Clarence Woerther threw the platter 122 feet 11 inches. Whinnery, the Junior flash, took the quarter mile, and the mile relay team of Dunlap, Armeni, Whinnery and Hanzlick captured the nightcap to clinch the meet. For East Palestine, Landsberger was the big gun, scoring ten points as a result of victories in the mile and half-mile runs, and Scally, who tied for first in the pole vault, four points; was first in the high jump, five points, and second in broad jump, three points.

The Freshman-Sophomore meet will be held next Monday at 4 p. m. Winners in the Freshman class will compete against Junior High school athletes later in the month.

Song Books Made By Spanish Club

Colorful pictures were added to the covers of the Spanish Song books made by members of the Spanish club. Because the club recently missed a regular meeting a special meeting will be held sometime next week for the purpose of singing some of the songs in these books.

Varsity 'S' Make Plans For Fete

Plans are being made for the annual Varsity "S" picnic to be held on Monday, May 29 at Mill Creek Park, Youngstown.

Committees appointed at last week's meeting are at work making preparations for the coming event.

A fine menu has been made out, and it is expected the mighty Quaker athletes will make a good showing at the dinner table.

A program for entertainment purposes has been drawn up so as to provide excitement for the girls as well as for their escorts.

The club will leave immediately after school. Transportation will be provided by members and teachers.

First prize in each division was $6.50, the second $4.00 and the third $2.00.

Other Contestants
At the time of the writing the winners in oration and verse divisions were not known. The following, however, participated in the orations: Winthrop Difford, Louis Raymond, Howard Bennett and Ruth West.

Those in the final of the poem division were: "My Friend", June Ball; "Cause I Went to a Little Country School," Elinor Gray; "Death", Alice Zatko; "One Lone Rose", Betty Jane Schoss; and "Eternity", Joan Bevan.

The preliminary judging in all of the events, except the orations was done by the teachers of the respective departments. They were then judged by three high school teachers who chose the six best in each division. These were then sent to Ravenna for the finals.

The manuscripts of the orations, short stories, and essays were not to exceed 1,000 words in length while no manuscript of the poems were to have fewer than 24 or more than 40 lines.

The judge for the orations and poems was Alvin Swander of the Struthers High Speech department.

Prizes Awarded In Photo Contest

Allen Fehr won the May contest held by the Camera Club as announced Wednesday, and Tom Eberwein received second rating. Thirty photos were entered. There was no subject limitation.

Fehr's picture was of a "table-top" consisting of a white elephant dramatically portrayed by a shadow cast on the background. Eberwein's picture was a photographic silhouette. The prize which Fehr received is a dollar's worth of merchandise offered by the J. H. Lease Drug Co.

A final contest will be concluded on May 31 at which time most of the winning photos of the past months will be entered, as well as any new ones. The contest is open to members only.

At the regular meeting of the club a week ago the members went on a field trip in order to snap outdoor pictures.

Mothers of Hi-Tri Guests At Social

It is not often that young girls and their mothers mingle and find pleasure in the same social affairs. It is for this purpose that the Mother-Daughter tea is held annually by the Hi-Tri club.

This year the tea was held in the assembly room of the public library, a week ago Thursday.

A welcome was extended to the mothers by the president of the Hi-Tri, Barbara Williams. The response was given by Mrs. Bichsel.

A piano solo, "Soaring," was rendered by Mary Louise Emery. Sue Herman presented an acrobatic dance, accompanied on the piano by Mary Louise Emery. Bettie Sharp played a piano solo, "Etude in Octaves." Janet Greenisen sang "God Bless America," accompanied by Bettie Sharp. A monologue, "The Trials of a Small Child," was given by Ruth Schmidt. The program was concluded with a clarinet solo by Mary Jane Britt, accompanied by Bettie Sharp.

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Silver "poured" at the attractively appointed tea table.

Select Subjects For Next Year

Members of the junior class were busy this week with the selection of their subjects for their senior year. Elective blanks were distributed last Friday at noon and were due in the home rooms by Wednesday morning. Sophomores received elective blanks at noon today.

A new science course called "Applied Science" will be available to juniors and seniors next year. It is a non-technical, non-laboratory course for students who haven't the proper mathematical background and are not interested in advanced science. Many theoretical and mathematical aspects of science will be omitted to permit a more extensive study of the practical applications of science in the home and modern industry. This course is for those who do not plan to take chemistry or physics. It will meet five times weekly and will carry one credit.

Course Changed
The automechanics course has been reorganized and will now be known as "Metal Industries." The laboratory shop will be located in the new addition to the high school and there will be ample floor space for many units of work. Some of the units in this course are:

Electric welding; machine shop practice; forging; heat treating; molding-foundry practice; drawing-planning and oxygen acetylene welding.

This course is not a trades course but has as its purpose, the appreciation of industry. The course will be taught by Mr. Englehart.

All seniors are required to take the American Government course the first semester. Hygiene, a senior course will meet twice a week next year and is a required course. In addition to these requirements, seniors must have two majors and two minors and meet certain graduation requirements. These requirements determine to a certain extent their subject selection.

Subjects Open
The following subjects are open to Seniors:

English III and IV; Public Speaking; Business English; Latin II and III; French II; Spanish II; German II; Geometry; Algebra II; Solid Geometry; Trigonometry; Modern European History; American Government; International Relations; Economics and Sociology; Biology; Applied Science; Chemistry; Physics; Personal Typing; Typewriting; Shorthand; Stenography; Bookkeeping; Salesmanship; Commercial Law; Mechanical Drawing; Foods; Boys' Cooking; Metal Industries and Hygiene.

Roundabout Salem High

James Eakins, a Senior from 205, has moved to Newton Falls, Ohio. James will attend Braceville High school. This will make the fourth high school James has attended this year. He came to Salem from Greenford High school, and before that attended high school at Fredricktown, Penna.

Betty Carpenter has left for Rocky Point Park, Warwick, Rhode Island. Betty will spend the summer there.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Schroeder attended the football clinic in Columbus last week-end.

Apologies to Peggy Stewart and Eleanor Schultz. Peggy placed tenth in the English III examination at Kent, and Eleanor placed thirteenth in Biology. Peggy's and Eleanor's names were omitted from our front page item last issue.

Bill Rogers, vice-president of the Senior class, won a four-year scholarship at Miami University. The scholarship covers tuition for the entire college course.

Glenn Bennett, Bill Schaeffer, Dan Buchmann, Harold Fitzsimmons, and Wilbur Spalding visited Ohio University at Athens last week.

Dick Broomall was selected as special operator for the moving picture machine for Hospital Day last Friday afternoon.

If you want your picture taken, see Earl Wilkinson. Earl has been doing some excellent work in photography and enlarging of pictures. Photography and stamp collecting are Earl's main hobbies.

We recommend that Mr. Schroeder purchase one of the large gyroscopes for football practice next fall. Leonard "Butch" Piersol had a real workout on the stage last week. Ask Leonard if you don't believe this.

Mr. H. Jones went with the scholarship team to Kent, May 6. Robert Hively took first place in Chemistry. We wonder what Mr. Jones did to Robert on the way over? All of the teachers will want to go on the trip next year.

Incidentally, Robert made 144 points out of a possible 154 in the test. This was six points higher than any other of the 117 students who took it. Congratulations, Bob.

Viola Bodo, alumna of Salem High and sister of Julia, who is a secretary in the high school, and Mary, who teaches at the Fourth Street school, is in charge of arrangements for the annual Kent State University Class Day program. Miss Bodo, who is the president of the Senior class at Kent, is also president of the Pan-hellenic Council, member of the debate team, and is active in the University Theater.

At a recent meeting of church laymen of the Mahoning Presbytery, James M. MacDonald was elected president. This association of Presbyterian laymen and ministers meets every six months. Included in the Mahoning Presbytery are Stark, Columbiana, and Mahoning counties.
