

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Help to Protect Your Home from Tuberculosis

Last Friday started the thirty-third annual sale of Christmas Seals for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis. The drive is sponsored by the National Tuberculosis Association.

The first Christmas Seal was sold in 1904 in Denmark, the idea having been originated by a Danish postman, Einar Holboll, to raise money to help cure and prevent tuberculosis in this country.

On December 9, 1907 a table in the corridor of the Wilmington, Delaware postoffice a girl in a Red Cross uniform sold envelopes, containing twenty-five Christmas seals each, to all passersby. Miss Emily Bissell was the one behind this campaign, having seen an article in the Outlook magazine written by Mr. Jacob Riis concerning the sale of the seals in Denmark. She had started it to raise money to keep in operation a little open airshack on the Brandywine river, where poor victims of tuberculosis were brought back to health but which, for lack of funds, was about to be shut down.

To get started two friends lent her twenty dollars each to have fifty thousand seals printed and on that December 9, 1907 the first sale started. Help was received from Leigh Mitchell Hodges, columnist on the Philadelphia North American, and this paper backed up Miss Bissell in her sale and it was a huge success. Three hundred dollars had been the goal of Miss Bissell but three thousand dollars was the result.

Line Coach Is Speaker At Banquet

Coach Schroeder Awards Varsity, Reserve Letters

The featured speaker at the annual Association football banquet last Wednesday was Ernest Godfrey, line coach at Ohio State University. The banquet was held at the Memorial building.

Moving pictures of O. S. U. games this year were shown to the boys who were present.

Godfrey, who at one time coached Carl Schroeder at Wittenberg, gave a very interesting talk concerning this national sport.

All the members of the varsity and junior varsity squads were present at the banquet. In addition were members of the high school faculty and members of the Salem Board of Education.

Letters Awarded

Varsity and Reserve letters were awarded by Coach Carl Schroeder. Those who received Varsity letters are:

John Volio, Mel Wukotich, Bob Shoe, Carrol Greene, Don West, Joe Vender, Bob Scullion, Dick Beck, Marvin Wukotich, Leonard Piersol, Bob Malloy, George Baillie, Felix Di Antonio, Charles Tolp and Vito Fiani. Bob Bruderly received a manager's letter.

Reserve letters were awarded to:

Guiler and Crew Visit Columbus

Four debate team members accompanied Mr. Guiler to Columbus and attended the annual debate clinic Dec. 1 and 2. Members who attended were: Kenneth Juhn, Alta McNabb, Nancy Roose and Dolores Jones.

Friday evening the group attended the Ohio State-Illinois debate on the railroad issue. Ohio State was awarded the decision.

Saturday morning the Salem affirmative team had a practice debate with the Troy, Ohio, negative team. The team returned to Salem Saturday afternoon.

Simon Is Elected To Head Archers

Sidney Simon was elected the initial president of the newly organized Archery Club, the election having taken place last week at a general meeting in room 110. Other officers also elected at this time were Vice president, Ray Corrigan; secretary, Joyce Somerville; and treasurer, Margaret Anne Jones.

Upon completion of the balloting, plans for tournaments to be held later on in the year were discussed, although no definite arrangements have been made as yet.

Highest Rating Given to Salem By Grid Officials

Salem was given a rating of 1.0 by thirty-five officials in football and a rating of 1.2 by thirty-four officials in basketball, according to the latest bulletin of the Ohio High school Athletic Association.

At the close of the various seasons for three years each registered official was asked to rate the school he worked according to "Sportsmanship of the coach, the other school authorities, the crowd, and the team," on the basis of excellent 1, good 2, average 3, poor 4, very poor 5.

In football thirty-five officials gave Salem a rating of excellent. In basketball Salem got a rating of a little below excellent.

Slutz Says 'Keep Your Eyes Open'

Lecturer Lists Nine Types of Work

"Keep your eyes open to new vocations," is the advice which Dr. Slutz, educator, lecturer and author offered to Salem High students in an assembly a week ago yesterday, when he gave an address on the selection of a life-work.

The speaker stated that the question of a suitable vocation is not a matter of one or two conferences with an authority on the question. It sometimes takes years to find a work in which one is both capable and interested.

Lists Types of Work

Dr. Slutz named a list of the nine major kinds of work as an aid in the choice of a career. They are as follows: Agriculture, manufacturing, transportation, finance, salesmanship, research, humanics, and fine arts.

Speaking from his experience in advising the young people from many communities throughout the state in their vocational problems, Dr. Slutz says that it is sufficient for one to have decided which main division he will choose from by the time he graduates from high school.

Five Kinds of Ability

The speaker also named five different kinds of ability, which should receive careful consideration in the

Notice

The Quakers' 1939-40 basketball season will start a week from tonight with the Lisbon-Salem game here in the gym. As a reminder, no student association member will be admitted to the game without his ticket. Also, an association member may not leave the gym during the game and expect to get back in.

Betty England Is Band Librarian

In the Quaker of December 1, it was stated that Bill Hellman was elected librarian of the Band. This was a mistake. After a tie, Betty England was voted librarian.

Thespians Present 1st Night Performance Of "Keep Off the Grass"

Will Show Last Time Tonight; Many Veterans Are Featured

The first performance of "Keep Off the Grass" went over last night, beginning at 8:15 at the High School Auditorium.

The general opinion of the audience was that it was well-directed, nicely cast and that each member of the cast gave a good performance.

Saxaphonist Will Be Presented In Assembly Mon.

Made Debut In Hollywood Seven Years Ago

Mr. Cecil Leeson, outstanding saxophonist, will appear in an assembly next Monday morning at 8:45.

Leeson, who was a teacher at the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Michigan, made his debut in 1931 at Hollywood, California. From 1931 to 1934 he was an instructor at the Hollywood Conservatory. The next three years he spent in making concert tours throughout the world. In 1937 he made his first appearance in the New York Town Hall. He became associated, as saxophone soloist with the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra in 1938.

He will explain his numbers showing how numbers are played to get the most musical value out of them and the way the musical value is lost.

Raymond to Speak In County Contest

Representing First Baptist church of Salem, Ohio, in the coming county-wide Prince of Peace Declamation contest Sunday evening, Dec. 10, will be Louis J. Raymond, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Raymond, Sr., 303 W. Fifth street, Salem, Ohio, and a student at Salem High School.

The various local church winners in the contest, sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches, will compete for a silver medal, emblematic of the county championship. Later the winner of this silver medal will enter a district gold medal competition, to determine a district winner who will enter the state competition in January for cash prizes and college scholarships.

In letters congratulating Mr. Raymond, and other local church winners on gaining admittance to the county contest, Rev. B. F. Lamb, Columbus, executive secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches, said in part:

"Besides gaining public speaking experience, you have put yourself on the right side of the peace question and have rendered significant service toward the build-

The play was also given last Wednesday afternoon for Junior High students. This evening's performance will be the last and a record crowd is expected to fill the auditorium.

Members of the cast are:

The entire play takes place in the living room of the Shelly home. Act I—An afternoon in spring.

Act II—Scene I, the next afternoon; scene II, about one week later.

Act III—Several days later.

The director, Miss Bodo, has worked hard and patiently, striving to make the play a success. Her ability, understanding and tireless energy have won her the loyalty of the cast and everyone connected with the play.

Stamp Club Visits Salem Post Office

The stamp club, accompanied by Mr. Sander, visited the postoffice on Monday, after school, and were conducted on a tour by Mr. Beardmore, the postmaster.

They were shown the entire process of preparing a letter for sending and mailing including the cancelling and sorting machines, how the letters are grouped in the mail bags and how the entire post office staff operates.

After the tour the group obtained a number of mint stamps, those which have not been cancelled, for their collections.

Crime Wave

Not long ago in San Francisco there was held a convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

At this convention the main speaker was J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who outlined the seriousness of the crime problem in the United States.

He stated that about one-fifth of all the crime in the United States is committed by "persons not yet old enough to vote, by those not even out of their 'teens,' by those who often are not even past high school age."

Our job, that is the job of all young people, is to help create conditions and opinions in our school and community which will keep youth from joining the crime army.

Let's get behind this movement. We know it to be a fact and We Can Help.

— HE —

Bob Sell is a freshman. He has black hair and brown eyes. He likes basketball and baseball best, but he takes an interest in all sports. He enjoys reading very much, which perhaps explains the absence of the usual freshman characteristics in him. He is very sincere about everything he does and also has a swell sense of humor behind the steady gaze of his dark brown eyes.

— SHE —

She is 5 feet tall. Has blonde hair and lovely blue eyes. She is on the honor roll in 310A. She likes all sports and is especially fond of ice-skating. Reading is her hobby and it takes up a great deal of her extra time. She is a member of the library staff and has proved both capable and efficient. Marie Kastenhuber would like to be an English teacher in the grades.

WONNER'S WORLDLY WISDOM

Greetings Grouches:

Another week has rolled around, and here is your struggling reporter (I would say journalist if I thought the name could be applied), giving you the flashes of the week.

Special Rates

Did you notice the special rates for permanents in the papers? My opinion is that Jack Doyle didn't miss them. Did any one else notice the new wave in Jack's hair. It was never there before and I'm sure I could see the wave set.

Flash!!

Open letter to Jack Tinsley. You had better be more careful where your notes go after they leave your hands, Jack. I have a couple in my possession right now, and your journalistic ability is to be marveled at. They were simply written for printing.

Ah! Basketball

Well, it won't be long until basketball season. I can hardly wait. Football was good, but that is over, so basketball, let's go.

Saving Pennies

Irene White and Tom Rhodes are very miserly saving their money for a trip to Florida. Florida won't have to worry for a while, though, they aren't saving very fast.

Jack Warner seems to be picking up where "Ox" Clark left off when he went to Culver. At least in one respect. He is rushing around with Nan Beardmore something fierce.

Offhand I'd say that Louie Raymond and Irene White are the ideal couple of the week. More power to you kids. (Now where have I heard that line before?)

One of my agents reports that "Sol" Matz was seen down at Huffer's bakery Monday night and he wasn't after a cookie. Or was he?

I get a big kick out of watching that most devoted couple, "Fat Boy" Berry and "Lib" Hart. You should see those looks of mutual adoration that pass between them down at play practice.

Didn't you like the Sweater Swagger? Boy I did! I think it's a grand idea and am all for the next one the Hi-Y holds.

Special: They tell me that Betty Probert has forsaken her farmer boy for another. Strangely enough he happens to be a butcher boy. They got acquainted when he steaked her to a coke. (Ouch!)

Ted Ursu reports that that accusation that appeared in Dixon's column was false. He says that the truth of the matter was that he had to drag Lowry away and not vice versa as was mentioned. Anyway they are both now known as the "2:30 twins".

NOTICE: One-way crush of the week!! Ina Walton and George Baillie and not in the usual way either. She's waiting on leap-year to roll around if you know what I mean.

Well my fountain of information has struck a dry spot and there is no more to bubble out this week but I'll start drilling right away and by next issue we'll see what we'll see. Aw! So long, Grouches.

Quaker News of Yesteryear

(Dec. 10, 1937)

The newly organized Salem High School "Kamert Klub," under the supervision of Ella Thea Cox was inaugurated last Tuesday evening at three-thirty in room 207.

Miss Hanna introduced a new plan in playing basketball.

Instead of the center forwards jumping at the beginning of the game and after each basket, the coach passes the ball to the center forward, who take turns, and then two complete passes must be made before anyone can shoot for a basket.

At the regular meeting of the S. H. S. Philatelist club a week ago Tuesday, election of officers was held with the following results: President: Bob Vickers; vice-president, Ted Ursu; secretary-treasurer, Lee Willman.

Mrs. Cox's book, "Exploring Biology," will be published sometime in the very near future, it was disclosed by the author recently.

Although not financially successful, the Varsity S dance, held last Friday night was socially a success.

At a recent meeting of the Hi Tri, the club members chose their pins. The pins will be of 10 K. gold plated metal and triangular in shape.

The name "Hi-Tri" will be engraved on a rectangular strip across the middle of the pin and "Salem" will be printed in smaller letters near the top. The jewelry is expected to arrive shortly after Christmas vacation.

An interesting assembly which centers mainly around Dr. Poemert, famed lecturer and world-wide authority on the Parameciums and other microscopic subjects, will be presented some time during February.

Three more of the musical instruments, two French horns and a bassoon, whose purchase the board of education authorized, have been received. These horns will be used in the band soon.

The debate teams, both negative and affirmative, under the direction of Mr. Guiler journeyed to Youngstown Chaney last Tuesday evening where they debated on the question: Should the States have Unicameral Legislative.

The members of the negative team are Bill Stevens and Elsie Hunter. The affirmative team consists of Lionel Difford and Constance Clark.

ON THE BENCH

By "B. Dix"

Johnny Volio has been working out on the track all week in an effort to strengthen his legs. He'll be able to play around Christmas time. His shoulder, which was injured in the Alliance game, has responded to treatment and ought to be all right by the first of the year.

The Lisbon game will be a good test for the Salemites. It will show how good they really are and will show what they can do against a more experienced team. Lisbon will have played two games by the time they meet the Quakers and will profit by the experience. Ought to be a good game.

If you have been one of those who have wondered what those carpenters have been building out in the front hall the past two weeks I'll enlighten you. It's a box office! Surprised? Aw! You knew it all the time. It will be ready by the time for the first game and will be a distinct improvement over the old one.

I see by the paper that Hillis (The Mighty) Hume didn't make the All-Ohio football team this year. Isn't that sad? It's probably due to the beatings he took in the Massillon and Canton games. Missed scoring in three games. We're very sorry Hillis, really we are! (??)

A salute. To the men (?) on the Hi-Y basketball team! They like to play so well that they come up here to school early in the morning. And I mean early!! 6:30 A. M. to be exact. Advisor Herbert Jones also turns out to greet the sun. Not because he relishes the idea but when the gang goes up to his house with a shotgun he doesn't have much choice. That's what is known as real enthusiasm!

One week from this evening, if everything goes well, Salem High's Brownmen will take the floor against Lisbon's Blue Devils—and the season will be on. Then we'll know what kind of a team we're going to watch all season. Will it be a winner? I hope so! Coach Brown has never turned out anything but a winner and the likelihood that he will begin now is very remote.

You can never tell how good a team will be until they have played together in a real, honest-to-goodness game. The squad next Friday may turn out to be a world-beater and a real top-notch team. Then again they may prove to be a . . . Well, we hope not. Anyway, there'll be five boys out there fighting to prove that they have a swell coach and a smart coach. I think they all believe this, and I know darn well that I do!

The team so far has not shown up too well in practice, but I feel sure they'll snap out of it when the chips are down and every shot counts.

I've heard of all kinds of magnets but this guy Clarke is just about tops. I've been trying to shake him loose from a few paltry nickles for weeks. He's tighter than a drum. I've got him this week, though. Won't say what the bet is but I'll let you know if I win. Isn't that nice?

I hear Al Freed was so impressed by that talk yesterday that he went up and asked the speaker if it was necessary for air hostesses to be girls. Now I ask you? I can understand it though. He is in one of Clarke's science classes. That's proof enough!

In conclusion may I say, very originally—good-day. And I do mean 'oo!

Christmas Seals

In 1908 the American Red Cross took over the handling of the seals. In 1910 the Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis Association, which had been formed in 1904 with education as a method of combatting tuberculosis as an objective, joined in sponsoring the sale of the seals and this partnership continued for ten years. In 1920 the National Tuberculosis Association became the sole sponsor and the double barred cross was embodied into the design.

This sale of Christmas Seals has now become an annual event of the Christmas season and deserves everyone's support.

Four Salem Men Make All-County Football Eleven

Four of Salem High's stalwart gridiron heroes were placed on the mythical All-County football team this year. The team, chosen by The Salem News, rated Joe Vender, Bob Shoe, Melvin and Marvin Wukotich as tops in their departments.

Vender and Marvin Wukotich are both repeaters. Both made the team last year.

Joe's play has stood out the last two years as no other lineman in the county. His smashing, aggressive play at tackle was an inspiration to all his teammates.

Bob Shoe, who played his first year on the varsity, was a fighting player who improved near the end of the season. His play against Barberton and Youngstown South alone earned him a place on the squad.

Melvin Wukotich, at center, was a pillar of strength in the Quaker forward wall. His play in the East Liverpool game was truly outstanding. He is a cinch to repeat next year.

And last, but by no means least, is Marvin "Buster" Wukotich, the line-busting fullback. For the second year he piled up the yardage on his smashes through opposing lines. No one can forget how he bulled his way over the Potters' goal line for Salem's only tally of the game. A really great player.

Nice work, boys!

Swing Marches On

BY AL J. FREED

Well, at last plans are under way for the 9th Annual Band Dance, to be held December 27th, right here in our good 'Old high school gym. We have all the committess now hard at work, and this Band Dance should certainly top them all, as we are going to get to work on this one 100 per cent! Get your dates now, or else you'll be in the predicament that I'm usually in when it comes time for a dance or party. Put it down on your memorandum, for it should certainly be worth your while! Incidentally, I shouldn't be saying anything, but, I have a strange feeling that "Rusty Williams and his 10 Men of Pitt" from the University of Pittsburgh will be down there on the band-stand the night of December 27th!

Well, Glenn Miller really gave us and about 2500 other swing fans a fine demonstration of "This Thing Called Swing" last night over at the all new and beautiful Idora Park Ballroom (Even though we did have to wait until after our first performance of "Keep Off The Grass" was ended).

Very few, if any, did any dancing whatsoever, as most of them were jammed around the band-stand with their mouths wide open. And, Mr. Miller was very obliging, as he agreed to play and replay requests, sign autographs, and joke and be polite to each and every one of the "dear little pests."

Most popular of his orchestrations last night were: "Moonglow," "Little Brown Jug," "In the Mood," "Pagan Love Song," "Glen Island Special," "Sold American" and of course, his very delightful theme, "moonlight Serenade."

BAND OF THE WEEK:

Here it is, Ladies and Gentlemen, the man who gave you "Low-Down Rhythm In A Top-Hat." That fiend of the swing side of rhythm, "AL DONOHUE AND HIS ORCHESTRA." They are now being featured at the Rainbow Room, on top the RCA Building, in Radio City, New York, where they have been featured for the past three years. He's got a great group and a bunch of swell arrangements, including a better than Miller arrangement of "In The Mood." He certainly should go a long way with his novel but very good arrangements!

SONG OF THE WEEK:

Here's a nifty from Max Fleisher's full length cartoon, "Gulliver's Travels," It's called "Out In the Blue Again." It was composed by the Freed brothers, oh, I mean the ones in Hollywood, Arthur and Ralph!—Anyway it's a swell number!

RECORD OF THE WEEK—Personally, I like Glenn Miller's Blue bird Disk—Number a-18890-a. One side is "In The Mood" and the other is "I Want to be Happy." Very swell, indeed! Come around some time and I'll play it for you!

Incidentally, listen for the music in "Keep Off The Grass," to-nite as the curtain rises on the 2nd Scene, 2nd Act. It's another Glenn Miller Ditty, titled, "Twilight Interlude." The sound effects man in this year's Senior Production, is Richard Every Berry—5-year veteran.

choosing of a career. Each person is skilled in at least one of the following: Physical, informational, coordinational, executive, and artistic. There is a certain type of work which persons with each of these abilities should take up.

Dr. Slutz suggested a two-hour a week plan for students who wish to determine definitely whether or not they are interested in a certain type of occupation. Under this plan, the student works as an apprentice, without pay, at a local establishment which does the kind of work in which he is interested.

Seniors Discuss

After the assembly, the seniors had an opportunity to ask questions and discuss their vocational problems with the speaker. In the afternoon, the juniors held a similar meeting. In these sessions, Dr. Slutz expressed his approval of colleges which offer practical experience in local business establishments as part of their courses.

The school library offers further information on the subject of vocations. Fifty new books have recently been donated by the Rotary club of Salem. In addition, the library has subscribed to magazines devoted entirely to vocational problems.

Stop! If You've Heard This One

McCarthy: "Did you protest against the movie that represents the Irish as being disorderly?"

Murphy: "Did we? We wrecked the place."

A panhandler was seen standing on the corner holding a hat in each hand. A stranger approached and asked what was the idea of two hats. The bum grinned:

"Business has been so good that I've opened a branch office."

"I tell you I won't have this room," protested the old lady to the bell-boy who was conducting her. "I ain't going to pay my good money for a closet with a measly little folding bed in it. If you think that just because I'm from the country—"

Profoundly disgusted, the boy cut her short. "Get in, mum, get in. This ain't your room. This is the elevator."

A Scotchman consulted his doctor, and was told he must give up drinking. Disgusted, the patient started for the door, was stopped by the doctor.

"The fee for my advice," said the doctor, "is $10.00."

"That's all right," replied the Scotchman, "I'm no' takin' your advice."

"It's wonderful what some insects can do. A grasshopper can jump 200 times its own length.

"That's nothing. I once saw a wasp raise Butch Piersol three feet off the ground."

'Mother Matz' Timely Hints

Dear Miss Fairtrax:

I am young and very beautiful. I am sure that my boy friend loves me, but still I can't get him to kiss me. What shall I do?

I. M. Worried

Dear I. M. Worried:

Why don't you try that breakfast of champions with milk or cream, sugar and some kind of fruit? Hey, how did that get in here

Dear Miss Fairtrax:

I am 49 years old and as yet I am husbandless. My big blue eyes are a little crossed so I wear dark glasses. My feet aren't mates, so I wear shoes a few sizes too large to hide them. I can't hear very well out of one ear so I use an ear trumpet. I have brick teeth and wear a red wig, of course this doesn't deter from my beauty.

My problem is that I can't find a man to marry me. Kindly tell me how to become more beautiful and find a husband.

Ima Hag

Dear Haggy:

The age of miracles is past. Perhaps a magic wand would do you some good, but I doubt it! Wow!

Sea Story Proves Interesting Tale

"Racing the Seas" by Ahto Walter and Tom Olsen is a thrilling story for all sea-lovers. In reality it is an autobiography of Ahto Walter and is filled with incidents that are startling and amusing. It is improbable that any boy has lived out a sea adventure to rival it or that anyone is likely to in the future.

"How to Ride Your Hobby" by a man who has come to be called a "master hobbyist," Frederick Collins, includes such hobbies as stamps, coins, autographs, plants, animals, Indian relics, fine arts, music, science, etc.
