

Salem High Jr. Cops Honors At Akron Air Meet Takes 4th Place Among 41 Contestants In Model Contest

Gayle Paxson, junior, won fourth prize at a gas model airplane contest held at Akron, Ohio, last Sunday. The prize awarded to Gayle consisted of a kit to build a gas model and also plans to build another gas model. Mr. Kelley, Junior High manual training teacher, won the seventh place prize consisting of a gas model automatic flight timer. Gayle's average was one minute fifty-nine seconds. There were forty-one gas models entered in the open division of the contest. The contest was sponsored by the Akron gas model club, and only members of the N. A. A. (National Aeronautical Association) were eligible to enter the contest.

One feature of the contest was, the breathtaking crash of one gas model. It was climbing very steeply under power when it shed its wings. A spectacular crash followed, the fuselage of the model plummeting to the ground with the engine still running.

Senior Stand

Miss Beardmore, the Senior class advisor, announced that the Senior stand took in $31.17 at the Salem-Struthers game. Approximately one third of this is profit. The stand operated by Mr. Erhart, who gives the Senior class 20 per cent of the profit, netted the class $2.45 this week.

Thespians Plan Series of Plays

As part of the program of the Thespian Club for this year, a series of one-act plays directed by members of the club, will be performed. In all there will be eight plays, one every month, each directed by a different member of the club. These are being put on to stimulate interest in dramatics in school and also to give those interested points toward becoming a member of the club. Anyone who wishes, is invited to try out.

GAA Membership Climbs to Eighty

The G. A. A. this year boasts fifty old members and approximately thirty freshmen. Miss Hanna thinks this will be the permanent membership for the year, since the only requirements for initiation are a C average in studies and one hundred points in sports.

Although eighty members is a large membership, there has been a slight decrease in the enrollment. The reason for this, Miss Hanna explained, is that the other new clubs attract many students.

No social activities, with the exception of hikes, have been planned as yet.

The club enjoyed a hike Tuesday night after school.

Attention! All Camera Fiends!

Again a call is issued to all Salem High camera enthusiasts for snapshots of student life and activities. A great many of these informal snaps of students at Salem High will be needed in the 1940 Quaker annual upon which work has already begun.

Pictures may be any size convenient, although large ones make better engravings. Glossy prints are preferable.

SHS Grad Placed On Ohio U. Dean's List

Among the 134 students on the dean's list at Ohio University is Jean McCarthy, an honor graduate of Salem High School in the class of '37. To be eligible for this list one must maintain an average of nearly all A's over a period of at least two semesters. One who is on the list is required to attend classes only for regular test or pre-announced nap quizzes.

When Miss McCarthy was in Salem High School she was a member of the Quaker Editorial Staff, the Library staff, the debate team and was active in dramatics.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Lulu McCarthy, a teacher in Salem Junior High School.

Ted Ursu Elected President of Hi-Y

At a meeting of the Hi Y club held Monday, October 9, club officers were elected. They are as follows: President, Ted Ursu; vice president, Jack Warner, secretary and treasurer, Tom Houlette. It was also voted that the club will meet every Thursday evening at 7:30. The club plans to have many noted men speak at meetings. The officers met with Mr. Herbert Jones, club advisor and Mr. Williams to decide the club's program.

Frosh, Soph Gladiators Meet Tonight in Colossal Clash

Tonight, at the game, the spectators will be treated with a rare exhibition of gladiatorial combat. In fact the gladiators of ancient Rome would have been humbled by the spectacle which will occur tonight on the turf of Reilly stadium. All voices will be hushed and all eyes turned in one direction when the big attraction of the evening (this rates over the game itself) begins.

It will be gigantic, stupendous, colossal, magnificent, unparalleled tug-of-war between the Freshmen and the Sophomores.

Sophs Won Last Year

If you will remember, last year a contest of this nature was held and the Sophomores won out. This time the Freshmen of last year will be the Sophs and they will be gunning for a victory. Any good, upright Sophomore would be mortified to be literally dragged through the mud and over a Freshman line. They will fight to a bloody finish, you can be sure.

Teachers Launch Crusade For Better English at SHS

Committee of Faculty Members Outlines Plan of Combatting Errors Among Students

Since it was felt by many teachers of Salem High School that English should be an objective of the school as a whole rather than of the English Department alone, a committee composed of several members of the faculty was appointed to study this problem and make a report. The members of the committee are Mrs. Cox, Mr. Early, Miss Harroff, Mr. Henning, Mr. Lehman, Miss McCreedy, and Mr. Smith.

Three Steps Outlined

In the report the committee stated three steps to be applied to the correction of faulty habits in speech or writing, which are:

First: To make the individual aware of the faulty habit; second, to make him know and want to substitute the correct habit for the faulty one; and third, to allow no exceptions.

Also the committee recommended that if it is reasonably possible, any student who makes a common error in English as indicated on the list will have the error pointed out to him. However the method of correcting these errors should be left to the individual teacher.

Make Recommendations

Six further recommendations were made in the report. These are:

1. Call attention to the value of good English when occasion presents itself.
2. Correct errors in pronunciation, enunciation and grammar in oral recitations when reasonably possible.
3. Correct errors in capitalization, spelling, punctuation, sentence structure and grammar in written work wherever reasonably possible.
4. Teach the meaning of new words and their derivations and encourage the use of new words.

5. Insist that pupils express themselves clearly.

6. Make use of the list of common errors.

List Commons Errors

Eighteen common errors in English are in the list.

They are:

1. He DON'T.
2. She LAID down.
3. ME and HIM will go.
4. This is for John and I.
5. Drive SLOW.
6. SURE, I'll go.
- 7.—Go AND get your book.
8. She thinks she is better than ME.
9. She talks LIKE she had a cold.
10. That was a REAL good show.
11. Everybody should have THEIR lessons tomorrow.
12. It is US.
13. I HAVE WENT.
14. I SEEN.
15. He DONE.
16. He AIN'T NEVER SEEN.
17. He NEVER HAD NO CHANCE
18. He CAN'T HARDLY.

Varsity "S" Club Plans Initiation

Officers of the Varsity S club for this year are as follows: President, Dick Beck; secretary, Ted Ursu; treasurer, Mike Nicora; sergeant at arms, Joe Vender. These officers were elected last year with the exception of President Beck. Bob Clark was elected president but due to his leaving Salem High it was necessary to have another election.

The club plans to have a pep rally the Friday before the Youngstown South football game.

As soon as Varsity lettermen of the cross country squad are determined, they will be initiated into the club. New jackets are being ordered by several of the members.

Club meetings will be held every Friday after school with certain exceptions. Plans are being made for the club to sponsor several social affairs for the purpose of raising club funds.

Megaphones Bought

New megaphones have been purchased for the cheerleaders. Five of them are of the same size, while Ellen Monks, head-cheerleader, uses one of a larger type.

New Students

Several new students have entered the ranks of Salem High School recently.

Robert King entered the junior class coming from Centerbury, Ohio. Robert plays the violin in the school orchestra and is interested in all sports. He thinks Salem High is

Work Under Way On 1940 Annual, Editor Reports

Contracts Awarded For Engraving and Photography

Work on the 1940 Quaker annual is well under way," it was announced by Allen Fehr, who is the editor of the yearbook this year. The dummy, or skeleton of the book, has been partially constructed and plans are rapidly going ahead for the photography.

The contract for the engraving has been let to the Youngstown Arc Engraving Company of Youngstown. The contract for photography was awarded to C. L. Wolford of Salem.

Kenneth Juhn, senior, will handle the art work. Mr. Lehman, advisor, reported that group and club pictures will probably be taken sometime within the next week or two, according to the time schedule to be set up by Mr. Williams. Immediately following this, senior pictures will be taken. The senior class will vote in the near future of types of frames for their senior pictures.

The staff for the annual has not been chosen.

Hi-Tri Club Forms Interest Groups

Charm and culture, handcraft, art knitting, music, dramatics, and nature are the interest groups that are planned by the Hi Tri. The girls may belong to any groups which interest them. These groups and more plans were discussed at the meeting of the Hi-Tri on October 12, at which Peg Stewart presided.

Plans and committees were appointed for the Hi-Tri dance which was held Thursday after school.

Dolores Jones was appointed to keep a scrap book of all important news items of the club. This is to belong to the club.

Sara Wonner gave a report from an article in the American Girl Magazine, "Do your own hair do's."

Miss Harroff and Miss Miller were critics of the meeting which closed with the Hi-Tri song. The next meeting will be held, October 26.

Officers Meet

The officers and advisors of the junior and senior classes met this week to discuss plans for the coming party. The party is to be held November 10. This party is to be for juniors and seniors alone.

Thespians Plan New Activities For Year

This year the Thespian Club is planning something new in the way of activities. The members of the club will produce a one act play every month, under the supervision of Mr. McDonald. The cast will be selected among theatre minded pupils in the student body. The purpose for this is to gain new members for the club.

The Thespian's first play will be "His First Shave." The selection of the cast has not yet been completed.

Why Waste Spare Moments?

"Bob, dear, I do wish that you would not spend so much of your spare time loafing up there on the corner."

This is a plea no doubt common to many of our young 'studes'. The replies go something like this:

"Aw gee whiz, Mom what's a fellow supposed to do? I haven't any money and my home-work is all done. Gosh a fellow can't just sit at home every night, can he?"

"Well, son, why don't you take up some hobby to occupy your spare time? I'm sure that there are many inexpensive hobbies that you might enjoy."

You are right Mother, there many hobbies that are inexpensive as well as enjoyable. For instance there is the hobby of building things from discarded pop-bottle tops. All the material needed for this amusing pastime can be obtained with very little cost. Amusing and even useful articles are obtained after a little practice.

A tin can with an ugly gash in its top, a disheveled label, and the dregs of soup or beans, is not an inspiring object. Many salable objects can be made from a tin can, however. Cookie cutters, vases, and ash-trays are just a few of the useful objects that can be made. Beside furnishing a restless youth with something to do, he may be able to make a bit of pin-money. Many things can be made which are used as interesting and unusual gifts and can be sold to the person looking for an inexpensive gift.

The next time there is nothing to do, use your ingenuity and start a hobby.

Europe Relives Our Own Past

War news flashes and headlines which threaten the destruction of civilization bring to mind two historical events which occurred in this same week many years ago.

On the seventeenth of October, 1777, the British general, Burgoyne, surrendered at Saratoga after a futile attempt to isolate New England and thereby suppress the Americans. On the nineteenth of October, four years later, General Cornwallis surrendered his British troops of 7,073 men and made independence a fact for the colonists who had fought so earnestly for the privilege of governing themselves.

Because of the present trend of affairs in Europe, these events are of great interest. The latter battle marked the end of a desperate struggle for independence and the beginning of a great effort on the part of our forefathers to establish a just and efficient system of government. Many European nations are now in the same situation that the Americans were in at that time. We should be grateful that this stage of our existence as a state is behind us.

Enthusiasm Vs. Vandalism

Girls, is it impossible to be dainty and feminine and to cheer the team with your last bit of lung power—all at the same time? Everybody likes enthusiasm. It is one of the most lovable traits a girl can possess. But too often it is offered as an excuse for a lapse in manners. Football games seem to be the biggest offenders.

At the height of your enthusiasm you pound the person sitting next to you whether he be friend or foe and shout advice to the team.

Manners are always important, but they are especially so when you're among strangers. Out-of-town games are loads of fun to attend. All dressed up, and with your school spirit about ready to burst your new buttons, you drive to the rival town to cheer the boys on. But in your excitement you forget that you are representing your entire school and town. You boo the opposing teams band and cheer leaders and shout personal greetings to each other.

It's possible to be enthusiastic without being noisy. Making yourself conspicuous cancels any start you may have made toward a favorable impression.

Fly your colors high, but do yourself, your town and your school justice.

People We Can Do Without

LITTLE BITS
NOTHING

By SARA WONNER.

Hello, again!

I took a little vacation (without pay) last week, but here I am again, your roving reporter, still roving. I appreciate very much the interest you have shown in my column by expressing your regret that the column was missing last week. It is really an inspiration to me.

Congratulations are in order for Jim Schaeffer. The senior class is very fortunate in getting such a president. With his pep and enthusiasm, our class should certainly go places.

Dick Beck still goes to sleep over his books. But at least you can't say he doesn't cover his subjects pretty well. Basis for Libe-L:

What's this I've been hearing about "Sneeze-ight" Lowry?

I understood that Jean Stratton was going to go steady with Walt Bollinger after the first game. Wasn't that Peg Stewart you were with last Friday, Walt?

Louie Raymond pulled a goo done in the movie the other night.

A couple of women were annoying him with their talking. Louie turned around and said, "Excuse me, but I can't hear a word."

"Is that so?" retorted the woman, "Well, what we are talking about isn't any of your business."

Comment: That should settle you for a while, Louie.

The old school hasn't seemed the same lately without Miss Lehman. She's improving rapidly now at the Henning home and will be back with us next month.

There's a feud going on in the halls. Gun-toting and all that stuff. Carol Jaegar, Marjorie Fredericks, Homer Asmus, and Charles Jackson have been taking shots at each other at every chance lately.

I just got a glimpse of the new folders and pictures the seniors are going to have this year. The committee is to be congratulated on its good taste in choosing the folder. Snazzy is a mild word for what they are. You just wait until you see them.

Don't you think that Charles Linn and Jean Warner make the cutest couple. They are my nomination for the couple of the week.

I wonder if Mr. Lehman will revive the "Loafers Club" this year.

It was a thriving little organization last year with a 100 per cent attendance at every meeting.

Who is this Phyllis DeJane that Nick Limpose is going with? All I can find out is that she is from Washingtonville and is a blonde. Oh, well, there's that old saying, "Gentlemen prefer blondes." I'll send you the bill for that compliment, Nick, at the end of the month.

That game last week was a hard one to lose, but I suppose we can't win them all. I guess we were all a little too sure of victory. That's what makes it so tough. Better luck tonight, boys.

The game had many interesting angles. Delores Weichman certainly was excited and it wasn't school spirit either. She yelled herself hoarse every time Malloy went into the game and practically sobbed when he was taken out.

So, until next week, remember, I'll be watching you, so watch your step.

Bye now, "Scoop"

We Apologize

Among the articles printed in last week's Quaker was a story concerning the study of the book, "L' Abbe Constantine," by the French class. By some slip between the pen and the printer, this story was separated from the "Quaker News of Yesteryear" with which it was supposed to appear. It was not intended to appear on the front page. The book "L' Abbe Constantine" is no longer being used in French classes.

To keep in condition, one must swallow salt as well as sugar.

Returning to their home field after a two weeks' road engagement which proved to be very disastrous, the Salem High gridders will tangle with the Wellsville "Tigers" tonight at Reilly Stadium.

The student body was both amazed and astonished to hear Mr. George Elias tell in an assembly yesterday of his most unique and interesting experiences. Mr. Elias told of his home being raided by Turks and of his wanderings through Europe which followed.

Snow flurries fell intermittently in Salem a week ago Thursday, making the earliest snowfall in 8 years. The temperature dropped to 25 degrees at 4 a. m.

Bill Stevens, Phil Stevens, Constance Clark, Ethel Hine, Louis Raymond, Lee Wilms, Alice Maxon, and Lionel Difford have been chosen for the debate team by Mr. Guiler.

The Hi Tri sponsored a "get acquainted" dance last evening in the gym for the Freshmen, Sophomore and new girls in Salem High. A local orchestra furnished music for the affair.

The Spanish Club held its first bi-weekly meeting of the year last night, under the supervision of Miss Mildred Hollett. Twenty-one new members were initiated.

Roller Skating Is Fascinating Hobby

Ellen Catlos popular Senior lass, flashed a dazzling smile when asked what her hobby was. "Oh," she said, "I thought everyone knew that my hobby is roller-skating."

Ellen has been skating for about one year. She first got interested in roller-skating when she attended a skating party.

Darting in and out of the crowd, Ellen cuts a brilliant figure. She is perfectly contented when she is on her skates and has a smooth floor to cut capers on.

Ellen specializes in "jitter-skating" and toe-spinning. For two-stepping her favorite song is the "Beer-Barrel" Polka.

Ellen is also very active in school being the president of the G. A. A. and a member of the Hi-Tri.

Bustling Manager
Finds Love Grand

As a very dignified member of the business staff walked down the hall one afternoon, he sighed. He had a far away look in his eyes and was deeply concerned. Miss Hart, who was standing at the end of the hall, asked him what was the matter. The reply this very dignified person gave was that he was in love. Ah! what a grand feeling.

As Louis Raymond walked down the hall, Miss Hart gave a chuckle of delight.

If you see Louis walking down the hall or street in a daze someday you will know the reason why.

Stamp Club Formed

Six boys and girls met with Mr. Sander last Monday to form a Stamp club. Meetings will be held every Monday at noon. Club officers will be elected at a meeting in the near future. Mr. Sander is club advisor.

ON THE BENCH

By "B. Dix"

Where, oh where, has my little record gone? That is the song everyone is singing this week. I'll tell you where it has gone—up in smoke. Along with a lot of hard-earned prestige and work. All S. H. S. hopes for an undefeated season were shot when that placekick split the uprights in that little fracas with the tough Red from Struthers.

It proved to be a tough game and one which the Quakers should have won by at least two touchdowns. The failure to call the right plays and the lack of fight on the part of the Red and Black were the contributing factors which led to the defeat.

On two occasions the Salem lads had the ball down near the enemy goal line and were threatening to tally. Both times the play went to fourth down with but one yard to go. And both times Quarterback Volio called on "Bonko" Wukotich to buck the line for the needed yard. He called this play in spite of the fact that Struthers was anticipating it and had about eight men around the center of the line. Naturally, he didn't think so, and thus the result—7-6.

Salem showed up notoriously poor in the aerial department. The passes were too low and too hard to handle.

Incidentally, if you remember those predictions that were made last week on this page, two would-be Grantland Rices, namely Smith and Clark, tried the impossible and found it so. They both predicted victories for Salem at fabulous scores, and no doubt were very much perturbed at the results. Try again some time, boys.

Speaking of Clarke, as I usually do at this time each week, I have some very sad news to report. He now is indebted to the extent of four "coke." He lost one to me on the above-mentioned Salem-Struthers game and another on the outcome of the Pitt-Duke game. That last one was a real triumph for me. I really enjoyed winning that one.

In all fairness to Mr. Smith, I must say that he should have been right. He predicted the game at 20-0. It should have been exactly on the nose. If the team had capitalized on the other two scoring chances, he would have joined the ranks of the immortals.

I got a big kick out of the game between the Jayvees and the Reserves which occurred at Reilly field last Thursday night. The big, powerful Reserves took it on the nose from the lowly Jayvees by a two-touchdown margin. What an upset! For further details, get in touch with "Gappo" Rance, the captain of the winning squad.

The illustrious Mr. Fred Cope, the man of a thousand occupations and the man who razzed one Bob Carey of J. H. last week about his choices of the football games, had the sad misfortune of coming out a little to the bad this week. The fact is, Carey was about two games to the good. Nice revenge, eh what?

Incidentally, Cope is somewhat of a touch-football player. He and his Damascus Road Blues (Yes, they are back again.) put on quite a show out near his home. The games take place over on the side of a hill. Among his achievements on the gridiron, along with passing and punting, is his marvelous running, which has earned him the title of "The Rabbit." How about it, Laaaaaans?

I think I've got quite a bit off my chest this time, so I better close up shop.

Good-bye, evvybody.

One way NOT to make headway is to be stuck on yourself.

Schroeder's Crew Meets Tigers Tonight

A determined Salem Quaker eleven will meet the Wellsville Tigers, their second county rivals of the season, tonight. Both teams will be out for blood. The Tigers would enjoy handling the Salem team their second setback, for it was the same Salem team that edged them by a 14-7 score last year. The Salem lads, who were defeated last week by Struthers with a mere 7-6 score, are due to show some of the power which they really possess.

Wellsville will put a team on the field tonight, which, as usual, can not be counted on for any easy time. The Tigers are a team which is just likely to pull an upset as not. The Wellsville boys were the underdogs in their contest with Dover, but they emerged with an impressive 13-6 victory.

The Quaker offensive attack will again be built around "Bronko" Wukotich. Others who will probably see action in the backfield are Melvin Wukotich at the blocking back post, Don West at left half-back and John Volio at quarter-back. These four gridders will be the big guns in the Quakers attempt to get back into the winning column.

Struthers Hands Salem First Loss

The Salem High Quakers met up with the Big Red of Struthers and also with defeat last Friday night when they were trounced by a 7-6 score at Reilly stadium.

Both teams tallied in the fourth period after battling to a deadlock for the first three. Salem scored on a line plunge by Marvin Wukotich. Struthers came back to recover a fumble by West on the Red and Black sevenyard line. From there they passed over the goal for the score. The point after touchdown was converted on a kick.

Fail To Score Twice

On two occasions the Quakers penetrated to the enemy tenyard stripe with but one yard to gain for a first down. Both times they failed to gain the needed yardage and the ball went over to Struthers on downs. Both times with the Struthers defense drawn in, the play went through the center of the

Again it was big "Marv" Wukotich who carried the brunt of the Salem offense as he battered the Big Red forward throughout the contest.

The game again proved what has been apparent in the other games this year. That the pass defense is not good enough to stop a passing team. And it also proved that the opponents are anticipating the Salem plays and by this means are stopping them.

Swing Marches On

BY AL. J. FREED

Good-afternoon-members of the home for aged "jitterbugs." By raking and scraping we have managed to collect some more dope—for you to eat up!—All-right put the record on! Reading time—2 minutes—18 seconds!

Jive Selections!

Band of the Week!—Once again it is our utmost pleasure to pass this little bit of information on to you!—We have picked the band, before many times, as one of the outstanding Dance Orchestras — and now we pick it again—May we proudly present "Jimmy Dorsey, the world's greatest Saxophonist, and his orchestra. I was so greatly surprised and impressed upon hearing him last week that I immediately put him down on my list of the world's ten best dance bands! His new style is wonderful! He's playing "Frank Dally's Meadow Brook" on Route 24—Pomton Turnpike—at Cedar Grove, New Jersey—for the sixth straight month!—This month he has been held over by very popular demand!—Frank Dailey remarked — "Jimmie has gained more popularity here than any of three name bands — and I've booked the best of them including Artie Shaw—Glen Miller—Count Basie—Les Brown—Bob Crosby and Charlie Barnett! We wish Jimmie could stay with us forever." Some of you "hep-cats" probably wished you lived in Cedar Grove—because every afternoon—Jimmy throws a two-hour "jam-session just for High school students and the cost is only 15 cents per person!—in just plain words we like "Jimmy Dorsey!"

Song of the week:—"What's New"—*Bobby Haggart's latest composition—It'll be in 4th place on the Hit Parade Saturday night! If you haven't already heard it, then listen Saturday—You'll agree — It's an O. K. number!

Record of the week:—Record I liked best was played by Jimmy Dorsey's orch. on a Decca platter—One side is a beautiful organ voice effect of "My Prayer" with Bob Eberle singing.

Don't mention it, but within two weeks—the secret marriage of Artie Shaw and Betty Grable will be announced.

Here's something novel!—If I were picking myself a Dance band—and had the pick of the crop!—Here would be my lineup:

Saxes—1st Alto—Jimmy Dorsey—Jimmy Dorsey's orchestra; 2nd Tenor—"Chu" Berry—Count Basie's orchestra; 3rd Alto—Benny Goodman—Benny Goodman's orchestra; 4th Tenor—Georgie Auld — Artie Shaw's orchestra.

Brass—1st Trumpet — Charlie Butterfield—Bob Crosby's orchestra; 2nd Trumpet—Harry James—Harry James' orchestra; 3rd Trumpet—Bobby Hackett — Bobby Hackett's orchestra; 1st Trombone — Tommy Dorsey—Tommy Dorsey's orchestra; 2nd Trombone—Les Jenkins—Artie Shaw's orchestra; 3rd Trombone—Glenn Miller — Glenn Miller's orchestra.

Rhythm—Bass—Bobby Haggart—Bob Crosby's orchestra; Drums—Ray Bauduc—Bob Crosby's orchestra; Piano — Jess Stacey — Bob Crosby's orchestra; Guitar — Carmen Maestrom — Tommy Dorsey's orchestra.

Well, how's it sound? I think it's O. K. If you know these fellows and their interpretations—then I'm sure you'll agree with my selections—

See 'ya next week!

New Students

"all right."

William Bell is a new member of the freshman class, moving here from Leetonia. Dilliam is interested in football and track.

Andrew Zamarelli, who is taking English, biology, general business, and world history, is a new member of the sophomore class. He comes to Salem from Harrisburgh, Pennsylvania.

— HE —

Everyone calls him "Gabby" so you know who he is, but perhaps you don't know that he is 5 feet 7 inches tall, has brown eyes and dark brown hair. He likes all kinds of sports with football as his favorite one. If by some chance you don't know who this lad is, think back a bit to a few weeks ago when you remember seeing a boy going around the halls wearing a beautiful bright green ribbon around his head and lipstick of the reddest variety painted on his lips. In case you didn't ask who that freshman was at the time, you now know him as Bob "Gabby" Galbreath.

— SHE —

Elizabeth Benedetti is 5 feet 5 inches tall and has brown eyes and black hair. During her Jr. High School years she was an honor student, member and secretary of the Student Council, and a librarian. She is off to a good start here in high school, too, by being an apprentice on the Quaker Staff and being a member of the Buskins. She likes to read and keeps accounts of all the books she does read. Elizabeth thinks there is nothing so thrilling as a basketball game, and she is waiting anxiously for basketball season to begin.
