

Life, Romance Of Lincoln Will Be Depicted In Play

"Prologue To Glory" To Be Presented In Assembly

"Prologue to Glory", a three act drama of the life and romance of young Abraham Lincoln, will be presented at an Association assembly next Monday, November 11 in the auditorium. The use of authentic costumes is a feature of the production.

In scene one, young Abraham Lincoln has just secured the position of assistant and general helper in the village store. Ann Rutledge makes her appearance and urges Lincoln to aspire to something higher than his present position.

In act two, Lincoln takes the ant's side in an argument on the subject, "Resolved, that the bee is more useful than the ant". He takes part in this debate at Ann's request.

The young lovers plight a troth, which was never consummated, in the third scene.

Ellen Hogue, who takes the part of Ann Rutledge, appeared with Francis Lederer and Margo in the production "Seventh Heaven".

The part of Abraham Lincoln is played by Edward Rees, who has travelled with stock companies for five seasons.

The part of the village schoolmaster is taken by Maurice Blythe, who also makes the introductory announcements.

Staffs To Attend Tri-County Meeting

Several members of the Quaker editorial and business staffs will attend the first meeting of the year of the Tri-county Journalism association, to be held at McDonald, Ohio, High school next Tuesday night.

This association is made up of schools throughout Trumbull, Mahoning and Columbiana counties, who meet each month to talk over methods used in publishing high school newspapers and ways to improve them. Many outstanding outside speakers are also heard by the group at different times.

The Salem group will entertain the association at the April meeting.

Cessna Addresses Quaker Ad Sellers

Mr. Clifford Cessna, member of the advertising staff of the Salem News, spoke to the members of the Quaker business staff after school last Wednesday.

Cessna told about his experiences in advertising and the methods used by newspapers in gaining advertisers.

The speaker was introduced by Irene White, student business manager of the Quaker.

Prologue to Glory

Sophomore Class Takes O.S.U. Test

Sophomores of Salem High school took the Ohio State University Psychological test last Wednesday in their home rooms. The test, which has no time limit, took the greater part of the morning. It is given annually to the members of the sophomore class.

Approximately 265 sophomores took the test under the supervision of their home room teachers.

Junior Class Has Put Pins On Sale

Lois Hoover is the chairman of the committee, appointed by Miss Martha McCready, junior class advisor, to sell the souvenir football and basketball pins which were left over from the number which were bought by his class last year.

The pins are being sold for five cents. Ben Ware, Irene Schmidt and Bill Juhn are the other members of the committee.

Roosevelt Carries School In Election

In a straw vote conducted throughout the school by the American government classes taught by Mr. J. C. Guiler, President Franklin D. Roosevelt won out over Wendell L. Willkie by a majority of 282 votes. The final count gave Roosevelt 582 votes, or 65 per cent, and Willkie 300 votes. In the gubernatorial race Martin L. Davey won out with a majority of 61 votes over John W. Bricker. Davey received 470 votes while Bricker had 409.

Roosevelt had a majority of the votes in all the home rooms in the school, while Davey carried 15 of the 22 home rooms. Rooms 208, 209, 204, 205, 110 and 305 gave a majority of their votes to Bricker.

Straight Democrat tickets were voted by 420 of the students in the high school and 279 Republicans voted straight tickets.

Latin, English Teacher Present At Ohio Meeting

Miss Helen Redinger Attends Conference At Marion

Miss Helen Redinger, teacher of Latin and English, attended the nineteenth annual meeting of the Ohio Classical conference, an affiliate of the Ohio Education association, at Marion, Ohio, October 31, and November 1 and 2.

The meetings, held in the mornings and evenings, were at the Central Junior High school and Hotel Harding.

Rodney P. Robinson, president of the conference, conducted the meetings where approximately 200 teachers assembled.

At the meeting a new president was elected for 1940-41 term. The new president is Miss Dorothy M. Seeger of Rayen High school, Youngstown, Ohio. Miss Seeger has been with the association 19 years and at one time taught language subjects at Salem High school.

Several outstanding speeches were given during the meeting. Dr. Cedric Boulter, of the University of Cincinnati, spoke on "Masterpieces of Greek Vase-Painting" and illustrated his talk. Dr. George Karo, of Oberlin college, spoke on "Roman Historical Beliefs" and gave illustrations, and Ruth Dunham, of Mansfield (O.) High school gave a talk on the subject, "We are Contemporaries of Epoch - making Changes."

A banquet held at the Hotel Harding ballroom, November 1, was an important event of the meeting, where bronze book mark souvenirs of the Harding Memorial at Marion, were given away.

Procedure Class Has Last Meeting

The last meeting of the class in parliamentary procedure, composed of the class and club officers, was held in room 106 last Thursday at 8 a. m.

At this meeting the duties of the treasurer and secretary were discussed and additional information on parliamentary procedure was studied.

Upperclassmen to Meet For Annual Fall Party In Gymnasium Tonight

Freddie Boies' Orchestra To Furnish Music At Party; Surprise Is Feature Of Intermission

When the upperclassmen meet this evening for the annual Junior-Senior fall informal party, it will be a mid surroundings of patriotic colors. Since Monday is Armistice Day, this theme of red, white and blue is very appropriate. Also these colors are of the two classes, the seniors having blue and gold as their class colors and the juniors having red and white.

Mrs. Cox Attends Biology Meeting

Salem High Teacher Appears On Program At Kansas Conclave

Mrs. M. A. Cox, biology teacher in Salem High school, returned last Sunday from her trip to Kansas, where she addressed the Kansas State Biology Teachers association on the subject, "The Problem Approach to Biology," in their meeting at Wichita.

After her talk there was a discussion period where the teachers discussed the way they taught and methods used.

Mrs. Cox remarked, concerning the schools in Wichita, that they were very large and modern. The shops in one of the schools are used as government training schools in preparation for work in airplane manufacture 16 out of 24 hours a day.

The advisor to the junior class is Miss Martha McCready and Homer Asmus is president; William Rance, vice president; William Dunlap, secretary-treasurer.

Library To Have Special Displays

After Hallowe'en, and before Thanksgiving comes Book Week, and there is as much activity around the library desk as there will be around the kitchen stove two weeks later.

You will find special displays inside and outside the library. Book marks, printed especially for Book Week, will be given away to those taking out books. There will also be an opportunity for those who wish to suggest books that they would like to see in the library. A box will be conveniently located in which students can drop their suggestions. If a person has no certain book in mind, he can suggest certain types of books, more of which he thinks should be in the library. If a student signs his name, he will be notified if and when the book is received.

The librarians are preparing question and answer games which will be played by the students in some of the English classes to celebrate Book Week, a festival enjoyed annually by boys and girls in all parts of the United States.

God Bless America

"God Bless America, Land that I love. Stand beside her and guide her Through the night by the light from above."
Monday, November 11, is Armistice Day, which means that twenty-two years ago Monday, the World War ended.

National Book Week

Do you know what schools and libraries all over the country will be celebrating the week of November 10 to 16? You don't? Why, it is National Book Week, the time of the year especially set aside to encourage reading among those who seldom engage in this useful pastime

Is It Necessary?

At various times throughout last year students were warned about loitering in the halls after school. It seems as though this trouble is appearing again this year. Of course it is necessary for some pupils to be in the halls after 3:20 because they have special work to do, but the majority of those students, who stand around causing confusion after school, have no reason to be in the halls.

Studes Interview Faculty Members

In personal interview speeches given recently in the public speaking classes, taught by Mr. J. C. Guller, some interesting facts about some of our faculty were revealed. Did you know that among our faculty we have some famous athletes? F. E. Cope was a great cross-country and track man and never lost a race in high school or college competition. C. B. Brautigam played a year of baseball with the St. Louis Cardinals. This accounts for his rooting for the Cincinnati Reds. Lewis Smith was chosen on an All-American football team.

ARMISTICE DAY

VIV'S VERBAL VENTURES

BY VIVIAN FOLTZ GREETINGS—NO GATE!

Said the man who went out to view his yard which had recently been visited by Hallowe'eners.

COMMENT:

"A lot of these one-armed drivers are headed for the church aisle," says Mr. Aisle B. Dernd, of Tie, Toe Tech. "Some will be carried down it, and the rest will walk."

COURAGEOUS, BUT UNCALLED FOR:

The crusading spirit of some of these band members is really remarkable. They, a whole dozen of them, not only refused to be driven home by those some-what drenching showers but played merrily on in spite of it . . . in order to keep the team's spirit from getting wet.

DUMBELL POME

Roses are red. Violets are blue. So what? I ain't no nature lover.

IT MUST HAVE BEEN FUN.

The Hi Tri Dance was more or less a success, I'd say. Every one seemed to be having fun. Some of the more SPECTACULAR sights were:

- (1) Miss Barbara (Oh, no, Chas, you lead this time!) Wells, who had 'more darn fun' lookin' for the soda-fountain—says she, "I found the water-fountain, but where's the soda one?" Oh dear, what's to become of our country when these people get to vote?
(2) Mr. Slat's Entrikin blossoming forth into a very divine 'Jitterbug' under the excellent guidance of Nada Krepps.

STREAMLINED FRESHMEN

Romance once began to blossom along the paths of Lover's Lane. Today it commences to flower while riding eight deep in a roadster going 60 miles an hour.

THERE'S NOTHING LIKE A WHOLE "MESS" OF FRIENDS

(Thank garsh, there's nothing else like it) Some of Jimmy Wilson's pet cronies, namely Bill 'Pigtails' Mullins and Punkie (answer to the Frosh prayer) Williams have suggested to me rather forcefully that I make it known that Jim Ladies-man) Wilson has one of those ya-can't-do-a-thing-about-crushes on some Barb in Cleveland. But don't you worry your head about it, Jimmy, it'll just be between you, me and this lousy typewriter, honest, I won't tell one soul.

HALL OF FRAME

Someone is getting 'Jipped' in this Mouse McGee versus "Tee" Rhodes versus Cheerleader Stratton triangle. What could make a verse 'picture' than that?

It has been suggested that the American motto be: "The Yankees aint's coming, let God save the King."

Biology Classes See Motion Film

Biology students viewed a motion picture showing the characteristics of sea animals, last Friday. Among the more interesting specimens shown were the starfish, sea anemone, sea urchin and sea feather. Their movements by means of tube feet, and the manner in which they eat were of particular interest. Views of the starfish turning its stomach inside out before eating and of the house in which the hermit crab lives were also outstanding points of the picture.

Song Hits and High Hits

I WANT THE WAITER WITH THE WATER, is the song Bob "Mouse" McGhee is usually yelling at one of the football managers while he holds the head of some gridiron hero. "Mouse" has been a football manager for two years and this year he is head manager. "Mouse" is usually seen up at the "you-know-where" dropping nickels in the "Juke Box" to hear his beloved leader Bob Chester swing out. "Mouse" also is one of Mr. Henning's best history students because he will bet on all the football games.

ONE, TWO, THREE, KICK—Fits Joyce Stratton, senior cheerleader exactly. This is Joyce's first year on the squad and she is a valuable member with her spirited jumping and waving. Joyce thinks that Glenn Miller is just the best ever and her favorite food is Chili. Wherever you find Joyce, you can generally find her Fan Club of which the above "Mouse" is the honorary president.

Letters to Editor

More Action

Dear Editor: All that one ever hears around this school is "school spirit", "support the team" and similar phrases. Perhaps it is all right to stir up student interest but when people continually harp on that same subject it gets very tiresome.

It is all very fine and dandy to support the team, but a student feels less like taking part in the cheering when everywhere he turns someone tells him he ought to be more loyal to the school by yelling his lungs out at a football game.

Less talk about cheering and more action would probably be the best policy, but please, Mr. Editor, let's not have anymore discussion on the matter of school spirit.

A STUDENT

Discusses Column

Dear Editor: Articles appearing in "Viv's Verbal Ventures" have begun to smell, which is a mild term, because of their incorrectness.

In a recent issue it was stated that I had a "crush" on a certain girl. This fact was entirely new to me, but some of my companions informed me that the girl had the "crush," not myself. Due to this insinuation, I have lost some of my prestige among women. Others have also fallen under the pencil of Miss Foltz. There is no place in a paper for "cheap gossip".

If this practice is continued her column in The Quaker will lose a great deal of the merit which it now contains.

Yours hopefully, A VICTIM.
