

49 Monitors Are Chosen For 1940-41

Students to Help In Keeping Order In Halls During Classes

Monitors for the school year 1940-41 held their first meeting of the year last Friday in the auditorium. The roll was called after which the duties and responsibilities of the monitors were discussed by Mr. Lewis Smith, who is in charge of this activity.

Monitors assist strangers who are looking for the offices, close fire doors during fire drills, see that all unnecessary lights are turned off and see all students sign monitor sheets when they are going to and from study halls. It is also one of the duties of the monitors to report any irregularities in student actions in the hall during class periods.

The head monitor, whose chair is just outside of the principal's office has separate responsibilities which are checking on the attendance of monitors and seeing that all monitor's sheets are collected and left in the office at the end of the period.

Those students chosen for monitors are generally members of the junior or senior classes and have qualifying grades.

Hi-Tri Club Holds Roast at Sevakeen

Members of the Hi-Tri club enjoyed a wiener roast last evening after school at Sevakeen Lake. The wiener roast had been decided upon at a meeting of the club a week ago yesterday.

At the next meeting the girls will sign up for certain groups in which they wish to take part. The different groups are dramatics and music, charm and culture, and handicraft and art.

Several other announcements were stressed at the meeting, among them the fact that three unexcused absences will drop one from the club unless Miss Marye Lou Miller, club advisor, is given a written excuse.

Many Ex-Studes At Other Schools

Many underclassmen in Salem High school last year are not in attendance here this year either because they have moved to other cities and are attending other high schools or as in the case of several, they are working.

Betsy Roose, who would have been a junior in Salem High this year is attending Laurel school at Cleveland, Ohio.

June Breault, Mary Balok, William Krauss and Walter Karres are attending school in Detroit, Michigan, where they have moved.

Robert Jaeger moved to Grafton, Ohio and attends school there.

Jeannette Freck is attending school in Cleveland, Ohio, where she has moved.

Thomas and James Hoberg have moved to Indiana, Pennsylvania and attend school there this year.

Attending Augusta High school this year are three former Salem students, Alida Kuyper, Kathryn Irey and Mary Walton.

Jay Halverstadt is attending school in Florida and Bernice Hobson goes to school in West Virginia this year.

Wilma Anderson is at Greenford

6 Are Chosen To Lead In Cheering

Joyce Stratton, Dale Paxson, James Britt, Joyce Malloy, Betty Alexander and Ann Cosgarea out of an original group of 22 were chosen to be the cheerleaders at the pep assembly last Friday.

A new system was used by Mr. R. B. Clarke in choosing the cheerleaders this year. As the students passed into the auditorium 20 were given slips of paper and asked to rate the eight persons who tried out at the assembly as to first, second, third and so forth. These 20 students then met in Mr. Clarke's room where the votes were counted and the highest six chosen to be cheerleaders this year.

Betty Alexander, Ann Cosgarea and Jim Britt have all served as cheerleaders before. The other five have never before been cheerleaders.

Richard Haley Speaks To Students On Temperance

Richard Haley, noted lecturer and president of the Youth Temperance Council, spoke to the students on Temperance Tuesday in assembly.

Mr. Haley pointed out that in everyday life we are constantly using alcohol. The perfume and cold cream we use are full of alcohol and the hair tonic that the boys use also has alcohol in it. If it were not for alcohol life could hardly go on.

Mr. Haley has traveled in many foreign countries and has done almost everything that he has ever read about. While he was in Morocco he said that one of the African chiefs instituted prohibition because when the natives got drunk they would try to overthrow the government. While in France he looked for some pretty French girls

Captain C. P. McDarmont To Lecture

Will Speak on "The Story Of Flight" at Assembly Monday

Captain Corley P. McDarmont, noted writer and lecturer on subjects dealing with aviation, will speak on "The Story of Flight" at the first association assembly of the year to be held next Monday at 1:10 p. m. in the auditorium.

Captain McDarmont will include in his talk the history of man's conquest of the air and methods of flight. Using working models, he will give demonstrations on such subjects as how an airplane flies, why it flies, and a demonstration with a wind tunnel.

Captain McDarmont is well qualified to speak on such a subject having been with the United States Army Air service during the World War, and now he has a number of aviation assignments, some of which are: Officer in charge at Post schools, Kelly Field, Texas; Post Personnel adjutant of Langley Field, Virginia; and Commandant at Rodgers Field.

Debate Tryouts To Be Held Soon

Mr. J. C. Guiler, Salem High debate coach, has announced that he will begin to organize the debate team sometime in the near future. An announcement will be made about tryouts, for those who wish to get on the squad, which will probably be made up of six or seven persons.

There is only one experienced debater returning from last year's debate team, Herbert Hansell, sophomore, but by starting the season early Mr. Guiler will be able to give the new debaters plenty of training before the regular contest debates begin.

The debate topic that will be used this year is "Resolved, that the power of the federal government should be diminished."

Room 210 Is Winner Of 1940 Association Drive

97.3 Per Cent of Winning Room Join; Room 208 is Second with 93.9 Per Cent

Senior home room 210, in charge of Mr. H. C. Lehman, won the association contest this year, attaining 97.3 per cent membership with 37 members. The association trophy, presented each year to the winning room, was presented to Alex Simion, representative of the class, at the pep assembly last Friday afternoon. The drive which continued for two weeks closed last Friday.

Miss Hart Issues Call To All Girls

Miss Hart urges all new girls and all freshmen girls who need advice or help to come to her office and consult with her.

She has recently begun her annual census of the freshmen class and has been calling quite a number to her office each day to become acquainted with them and to help them make out their four year schedule.

English Classes Study Propaganda

Mr. Loren Early's sophomore English classes have been studying propaganda in all its forms for the past weeks.

The purpose of this instruction, explained Mr. Early, is to acquaint the student with all the devices used in propaganda so thoroughly that he can recognize and identify propagandizing influences in any form! Not only will the students be able to pick out the misleading statements in newspapers concerning the war, but he will also be able to detect propaganda in its various and often sinister forms.

There are seven distinct kinds of propaganda which will be discussed in the classes. Mr. Early has listed them as:

1—Name calling device: That is, to call the object or propaganda a name such as Communist, fifth columnist, etc., which will turn people's minds. This is used frequently in politics.

2—Glittering word device: Here the propagandist appeals to our emotions of love, generosity and brotherhood. He often uses words of freedom, honor, social justice and democracy. Such a device was used frequently previous to the entrance of the United States into the first World War.

3—Transfer device: This is commonly used in cartoons. A church or nation might approve of some campaign so the authority is transferred to get other supporters for that program. The donkey and elephant symbolizing the political parties are examples of this sort of propaganda.

4—Testimonial device: A favorite scheme of advertising is this testimonial device which gets a famous or admired person to testify that he likes a certain advertised product.

5—Plain folks device: In this case the propagandist endeavors to show that someone great or famous, whom he is promoting, is just a

Under this plan students are enabled to get over eight dollars worth of activities for four dollars by the cash plan or four dollars and fifty cents by the credit plan.

A total of 714 students joined the association while the drive was on. This total is just seven less than the total for last year. It is still possible to join so this number may increase.

Room 208, in charge of Miss Mildred Hollett, which won the contest last year by attaining 700 per cent first, was second this year, with 93.9 per cent. Room 210, also had 100 per cent membership last year but this was reported after that of room 208.

207 Third

Mrs. William Talbot's junior home room, 207, came in third with 89.7 per cent. This room was followed by 212 with 88.5 per cent; 209 with 85.2 per cent; 112 with 88.5 per cent; 209 with 85.2 per cent; 112 with 85 per cent; 305 with 83 per cent; and 312 with 80.9 per cent.

The officers of the association this year are: President, Louis Raymond; vice president, George Baillie; secretary, Vivian Foltz; treasurer, Marjorie Harroff.

G.A.A. Meets For First Time of Year

With Alice Sabona, president, the G. A. A. held its first meeting of the year in room 307 last Friday after school.

The following girls, who were elected last year, will head the club this year: President, Alice Sabona; vice president, Mary Stiffler; treasurer, Eva Vissers; secretary, Donna Rice.

The girls went on a hike last Monday after school and plan to go on one each week.

Captains in sports are: Kickball, Marie Vissers; volleyball, Margaret Stanton; basketball, Mary Skorupski; baseball, Mona Cahill; hiking, Edith Ratcher; bicycling, Henrietta Hilliard; skating, Ruth May; tennis, Betty Roessler.

Volpe Wins First Prize In Contest

Edward Volpe, Salem High school junior, won first prize of $10 in a contest sponsored by the Arrow Feed Service through the Salem News.

This contest was conducted to name the poultry show which is to be an annual event in Salem.

Volpe's title, "Salem Poultry Pageant," was chosen because it was brief and gave a clear description of the nature and location of the event.

It Depends On You

In a very short time the first association assemblies will be held so it is about time to begin thinking about our conduct in the auditorium. Every student naturally wants as many assemblies as possible but we don't stop to think that it is the student body, not the faculty, who determine how many assemblies we have. This is settled by the conduct of the students.

Everyone will agree that the students are fortunate in having such interesting assemblies and yet students, by the attitude that is shown, continually leave the impression that they dislike these programs. At almost every assembly last year certain persons were continually talking or moving around and paying little attention to the program.

School officials are willing to schedule assemblies if the students show that they know how to act.

The next assembly is not very far off so let's start right out and prove that we really can conduct ourselves properly.

Spare That Tree

Do Unto Others —

Do you remember the old saying, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you?"

You know yourself from experience, that you can't have friends and be impolite to them.

No doubt everyone has noticed the numerous new pupils that have entered Salem High school this term. You know, too, that they are unaccustomed to our school routine and faculty.

We can all go a long way in helping these new students become more familiar with our daily grind. Be friendly to them always. It makes them feel better in more ways than one.

So come on students, be smart and let's live up to the high standard our school has set for us by welcoming all strangers with a smile and friendly word.

There is no greater misfortune than not to be able to bear misfortune. A man who is proud of his money rarely has anything else to be proud of.

SUDDEN THOUGHTS

It has been circulating around the library, I mean it's around the "circulating" library-----Oh, well, it seems that Henry Balsley is rarely seen in public without a book of Shakespeare's immortal plays or of Longfellow's poems tucked under his arm. As a suggestion for this sudden extreme interest in The Finer Class of Literature-----A snappy little blond librarian who is ever willing to help him select his reading material.

IT LOOKS SUSPICIOUS

Say! Will someone please tell me where Charles Lind's locker is? I thought it was down by Jan's, but I guess I was wrong. But he's always down there, so naturally, I thought-----that-----Oh, well-----skip it.

NOMINATION FOR ABOLISHMENT

Punky Williams and Jimmy Wilson

These Plutocrats have the nerve to drive their car up Vine Street hill alongside of the Band, after we've had a fast and furious workout on the field, and everyone is rather doubtful whether he'll live to get up the hill or not. And those, THINGS go sailing by, waving merrily. Listen, fellows, if you ride along to heckle Jinny, please try to find a more opportune time.

PROUD? YOU'RE DARN TOOTIN'

Iggie Moore is very puffed up these days. Why? Well, I'll tell you. It seems that his one and only—Hazel Capel—is going to lead the band at the next football game. Ah, a girl drum-major, and of course Freed and Finneran will be there, too.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

SCENE AT THE FOOTBALL GAME

Marge Fredericks rooting very energetically for NUMBER 63. Why is that, Marge? I thought your interest was in the trombone section of the band. Or am I a year or so behind?

BURCAW, AGAIN?

The other day Maybelle Huston came floating into the house. "Oh, father, how grand it is to be alive!" she wailed. "The world is too good for anything. Why isn't everyone happy?" To which her father absently inquired, without looking up from his paper, "Who is he this time?"

IT'S EITHER ONE OR THE OTHER

He was seated in the parlor,
And he said unto the light
"Either you or I, old fellow,
Will be turned down tonight."

Many Hi-Tri gals are wondering just what was on Thursday night that was so important to Miss Alice Ruth Vincent that she wasn't able to attend the picnic that night. Could it have been that she and her "steady," B. Hart, went to League meeting that night as per usual. um, could it have been?

SUPER STUFF

Art Chappell and Bob McGrady of the 'Super' market have many fair lassies going around in circles. I've been asked very confidentially to PLEASE find out what it is that these birds don't see in the gals around here. So-----if either or both of these "SUPERMEN" will engrave their remarks on a tombstone and send it with many happy returns of the daze to the dead letter office-----Quaker Office-----as far as you're concerned-----I will be more than glad to circulate the news around.

Thank You.

You Can Make the Grade

After the end of a six weeks you hear, "Oh, she is an old meany . . . Just because she doesn't like me she gave me a D." Do you think that the teachers like to give out D's and F's? Of course they don't. If they had their way they would give everybody an A. It is really mostly your fault that you get bad grades, if you do. The teacher can't help it if you would rather have your fun on school nights and fail to study. After the first six weeks grades are out you will see more of the students buckling down to their studies, but why wait until the grades are out? Get to work now and save yourself a lot of work later on.

Song Hits

High Hits

IRENE is Renee White, the vivacious brown-haired senior who is the Quaker business manager. The words of the popular song seem to fit Renee to a T. Speaking of T's, her favorite among swing conductors is T. Dorsey. Her favorite sport is swimming, but at this time of the year football rates her interest. Renee expects to enter the advertising field when she is through school.

I NEVER TOOK A LESSON IN MY LIFE is certainly true of Bob "Slats" Entriken. "Slats" is that tall, blond, handsome junior who plays the wildest trumpet in the band. "Slats" is usually seen around the halls at noon with his fan club talking about the latest swing disks and the respective band leaders that produce them. Artie Shaw in "Slats'" opinion is really the STUFF. Bob, who is an all around good fellow, is a member of the band and was on the cross country team two years.

SPORT SLANTS

BY RABBIT

Greetings readers:

After that opener with Sebring last week I should hide my face in shame at the thought of my prediction. Of course, others were missing out too, but I still feel bad. This week your reporter has cornered and questioned two members of the fair sex as to their ideas about the score of the Ravenna tilt. Also a couple of bold he-men have been questioned.

After swallowing the lumps in their throats and getting up their nerve to speak, they venture innocently out on the well-known limb. Here they are:

Joyce Stratton, cheerleader, says, "Salem, 13-6."

"Salem will win 13-7", says Rita Emery.

"Moose" Mileusnic picks the home team, 21-7.

And last but not least, "Big Bill" Shoop, who chooses the Quakers to triumph by three points.

It is rather late in the season to talk baseball but, on the side, your scribe thinks that the Indians have met their fate in their series with the Tigers. With the National league race over, everyone has turned to the junior circuit and has chosen a team to root for. Most of us would like to see the Indians in there and sincerely hope that they can make it.

Have you noticed that one of our Quaker advertisers is offering two free hamburgers to the student whose name appears in his advertisement each week.

And now we will review the fates of future Quaker opponents. Ravenna has lost to Shaker Heights, 12-7, and defeated Akron Buchtel, 33-12. East Liverpool walloped East Palestine, 40-0, and trimmed Cleveland West, 20-8.

Struthers had a bad case of opening game injuries and was defeated by Girard, 32-0. Lisbon lost to Minerva, 25-0. Dover tied Akron Kenmore, 7-7. Barberton defeated Akron St. Vincent, 14-0, and Youngstown South beat Youngstown Woodrow Wilson, 13-0. Alliance has beaten Minerva, 25-6, and walloped Cleveland Central, 38-14. Wellsville has also won its first two battles.

BEST BET OF THE FOOTBALL SEASON

Massillon to take the state championship. In two tilts they have scored 112 points and have yet to be scored upon.

Your reporter did not get a chance to get Salem High's foremost prognosticator's prediction on the Ravenna game so he will be put on the spot next week at the same time when he will be asked to forecast the East Liverpool-Salem game. Of course you know who I'm talking about. Who else but that eminent professor of chemistry, Mr. Herbert Jones.

Rumors of a shake-up in the Quaker line-up are drifting around the school but nothing definite has been discovered as yet.

Felix DiAntonio has been joined in his beard raising experiment by Carmen "Toots" Nocera who is getting quite a crop himself.

By the way, those Varsity S jackets have already been ordered and soon we'll have a new epidemic of them running around the school.

This reporter has vowed not to try to pick the score of any Salem game from here on in. The boys made the predictions look pretty bad last week.

Well, as all good things must come to an end so must this column. Not that it is good, but simply because there is nothing more to write about. So till next week I bid you farewell.

Quakers To Face Ravens At Ravenna

Following up their opening tilt with Sebring the Quakers will journey to Ravenna to tackle the Ravens tomorrow afternoon. In two games so far the Ravenna squad has split even, losing to Shaker Heights and swamping Akron Buchtel.

In the latter game they were led to victory by Leon Havre, a slippery halfback, who can run the 100 yard dash in 10 seconds flat. He scored three times as the Ravens defeated Buchtel 33 to 12.

Last season when the Ravens came to Salem, Havre was out with shoulder injuries received in an earlier tilt. He was sadly missed by his teammates who fought Salem to a standstill but lost by two points when Trocchio stepped into his own end zone while punting and gave Salem an automatic safety and a close victory.

This year the Ravens have Havre but they lost some good men by graduation. The game ought to be an interesting one with the Quakers striving to make up for the Sebring game and the Ravens trying to maintain an impressive record.

Probable Starting Line-ups

Here are the probable starting line-ups in the game which Salem plays with Ravenna at Ravenna tomorrow, afternoon.

Quakers Tie Sebring 6-6 In 1st Game Of Season

6,000 See Salem Gridders Battle Trojans Under Lights at Reilly Field

Last Friday night under the lights at Reilly field a game Sebring team came from behind to tie a favored Quaker squad, 6 to 6. A crowd of 6,000 fans saw a fighting Trojan eleven refuse to be beaten and come from behind in the fourth and last quarter to score.

The Salem drive in the second quarter was featured by Carmen Nocera's 19 yard sprint and two short passes from Marvin Wukotich to his brother Melvin and Arthur Chappell respectively.

Marvin plowed over from the three yard line to score Salem's only six points. His placekick for the extra point was blocked and Marvin was downed when he picked up the rolling ball and started to run.

In the fourth quarter the Trojans started a 90 yard march upfield which ended when Heacock of Sebring sprinted through the Salem team for 19 yards and a touchdown. Ailes' dropkick for the extra point was blocked by a fast charging Salem line. The Sebring drive was aided immensely by penalties handed to the Quakers.

Bright Spot

The bright spot of the game to the Salem fans was the Quaker's passing attack led by Marvin Wukotich who completed four of his six heaves which, incidentally, were all that Salem completed. The running of Carmen Nocera was very good giving Salem fans a preview as to what the boy will be by the time he's a senior.

Although the score indicates that the game was a thriller, it was marred by penalties, fumbles and bad ball-handling. Coach Schroeder will endeavor to smooth out these troubles before his boys take the field against Ravenna.

Rumors of a shakeup in the Salem starting lineup will be found either true or false when the Quakers journey to Ravenna to tackle the Ravens tomorrow.

He who lendeth to the poor gets his interest from God.

Sadie Spends 1 Day As Monitor

I am Sadie. I am a monitor on the second floor during the seventh period.

Well, one of those nice warm, sultry days I say to myself, "Now Sadie, get your government done and then you can nap for awhile." So I take out my book and bury my nose in it.

Pretty soon, I feel a tap, kinda timid like, on my shoulder. I look up and down and there is a little freshman. He asks me where the elevator is because he has to go up to the sixth floor. I would like to get ahold of the upperclassmen who tell the poor things stories like that because they always believe them. I figure what is the use of keeping the poor boy in suspense so I enlighten him to the fact that there isn't such a thing.

I get all nice and settled again when along comes a salesman who wants to know where the library is. I do my good deed and escort him to it and on the way back as I round one of the corners a horrible sight greets me at one end of the hall. There seems to be a mass of hairy looking bodies milling around and I can't seem to distinguish anything. As I arrive closer to the scene I see that they are only the football squad that had joined the House of David. At last they disperse to their respective rooms and I am again left to my government.

Suddenly a note is thrust into my hand and I am ordered to take it up to 310. I hurry up the stairs and open the door. What a bedlam greets me. Everybody is running back and forth and I can't find the teacher. I scramble over about 50 bodies and at last get to the teacher. The pupil isn't in there and if he were they wouldn't be able to find him so I leave. I hurry down the steps to my desk and write a polite note to the office and ask them to accept my resignation. After I am almost through, the bell rings and I don't bother to hand it in. It always seems worse than it is. I will have another try at it tomorrow.

S. H. S. Band Makes First Appearance

Making its first appearance last Friday night at the Salem-Sebring football game, the Salem High school band appeared in several military marching formations, which is a new plan being tried by Director C. M. Brautigam. The Salem High musicians started the season with several patriotic numbers which they played while maneuvering on the field.

The Salem band joined with the Sebring High band at the half when they played "God Bless America" together. The local organization composed of sixty Salem High students marched six abreast using ten lines. Don Freed and William Fineran, seniors serve as drum majors with the band.

Jr. High News

A sound motion picture on brass instruments was shown to Junior High school students this week in separate assemblies for the seventh and eighth grades. The film opened with a number by the Brass Choir after which each instrument in the ensemble was played and explained. Another musical number closed the picture.

All the clubs in the Junior High school have held their first meetings but none have started any definite work.

plain person. Then pictures are shown of this man working with farmers, playing baseball and other such activities. This is common in political campaigns.

6—Card stacking device: When this device is used the cards are stacked against the truth. Facts are omitted and the propagandist resorts to lies and distortion. War news is often of this type.

7—Band wagon device: The propagandist uses the "everyone else does" technique here. He persuades the public by saying that everyone who is anyone uses or believes in whatever he is trying to sell. In this way thousands of people are influenced every year.

A countryman may be as warm in kersey as a king in velvet.

Everyone sings as he has the gift and marries as he has the luck.

Several New Books Are Now In Library

Several new additions of books, including fiction and non-fiction, have been added to the library recently.

Falling under the heading of fiction is "Riders In the Sun," by Edmund Ware.

This is the story of a young boy who goes forth into the world to seek the man on the tall black horse, about whom his father has told him many thrilling tales. He faces defeat and disaster, and witnesses tragedy and sudden death. Only then does he attain his full growth of character and thus becomes a man.

Also new are "Rudded Grange" by Frank E. Stockton, which is an old story that has retained its humor and sentiment over a fifty-seven year period.

New among the non-fiction books are "Police" by John J. Floherty, ace photographer and author; and "Jour Wings" by Assen Jordanoff, expert flyer and war-time aviator.

Girls' Gym Classes To Stress Dancing

Dancing will be one of the outstanding activities of the girls' gym classes this year due to the gift of a recording machine by the graduating class of '40.

The classes opened the school year playing several games of baseball. For the next two or three weeks kickball will be the main sport.

Miss Sara Hanna announced her intention, this year, to stress dancing. This was impossible last year because of the lack of music. The recording machine will soon furnish the necessary music.

Classes Study Feet

Miss Lillian Schroeder, hygiene teacher, showed pictures of bones of the feet and arms and of the vertebrae and spinal cord to the girls hygiene classes last week.

She also passed some of the vertebrae around for the class to see and told why the head could turn without it being necessary to turn the whole body.

War Also Has Its Affect On Speech

Songs, styles, books and speech are among the many things that are affected by war.

Speech seems to be affected most permanently.

"Flap," "blitzflu" and "to brown off" are a few examples of the 1940 war slang that has developed in England.

"Flap" means to scare or alarm and is in general use at the front.

"Blitzflu" is the name given to the influenza that floors a patient suddenly and just as suddenly leaves him.

"To brown off" means the same as to be fed up.

Such words as "ace", "blimp", "cootie" and "over the top" developed from the first World War and have been absorbed into the American language.

Band to March In Parade Saturday

Due to the fact that the Salem High school band is scheduled to march in the Fall Festival parade it will not attend the Ravenna-Salem football game as the two events are being held on the same day. Therefore the band has been able to use its marching practice during the past week on drilling and formations for the Salem-East Liverpool football game.

Hi-Tri Runs Stand At Football Game

At the football game last Friday night the stand at Reilly field, formerly run by the Senior class, was operated by the Hi-Tri club.

This is the first time that the stand has been operated by any group other than the senior class since it was built in 1929.

Miss Marye Lou Miller, Hi-Tri advisor, was in general charge.

Was Percy's Face Red On That Day?

Journalism class was going as smoothly as a journalism class can be expected to go. Everyone was participating in the recitation and Mr. Lehman was beaming with praise over his little "stoogents." Ah, yes, it was a wonderful morning and a wonderful acting class.

And then the blow fell. Mr. Lehman asked a particularly hard working "stoogent" known to many as "Percy" Vansickle what his views on the subject were. No answer could be heard. Again the question was asked and again no answer. After the third time a kind fellow student leaned over and tapped the studious Mr. Vansickle on the shoulder. Walter gazed up with a blank look on his face and with no idea that he had been called on. Finally a light broke over his countenance and he came forth with one of his well-known "spills."

That couldn't have been your lesson you were reading, could it, Walter?
