

Play Cast Chosen By Miss Bodo

Vivian Foltz to Play Lead In Annual Senior Play

After conducting tryouts for four days, Miss Viola Bodo, dramatics coach, selected Vivian Foltz to portray the part of the heroine, Lena Rivers, in the forthcoming senior class production of the same name.

Boyd Helm was selected to play the part of Durward Belmont, the hero, opposite Miss Foltz in this modern dramatization of Mary J. Holmes' popular novel. The book has been adapted for the stage by Ned Albert.

"Lena Rivers" is the story of a young girl, reared in New England by her grandmother, who is brought to live at the home of her uncle in the south, and of the complications that arise when this uneducated girl enters into the life of a wealthy southern family. The play is filled throughout with scenes of humor, pathos and love.

Names of Cast

The part of Granny Nichols, Lena's grandmother, will be taken by Martha Clark and Louis Raymond will portray the part of John Livingstone, Lena's uncle. The part of Mrs. Livingstone has been given to Gloria Gibson. Lucia Sharp will play the part of the older Livingstone daughter, Caroline, and the part of the younger daughter, Anna, will be portrayed by Nannabell Beardmore. James Britt will take the part of John Livingstone, Jr.

The parts of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graham, neighbors of the Livingstones, have been assigned to William Kerr and Marjorie Brian, and the part of Malcomb Everett, a tutor in the Livingstone home, will be taken by David Linn. The negro servants in the Livingstone home

S. H. S. Principal Attends Meeting Today, Tomorrow

Williams At Sessions of Principals' Assoc. at Columbus

Mr. H. M. Williams, principal of Salem High school, is attending the fall meeting of Ohio High Schools' Principals' Association, at Columbus, Ohio, today and tomorrow.

Speakers on the program this afternoon are: Dr. W. W. Charters, of Ohio State University; Wendell H. Pierce, employment counselor of the Ohio State Employment Service; and W. Roy Breg, executive secretary of "Allied Youth".

At the banquet this evening, Dr. Howard Bevis, president of Ohio State University; Ralph D. Pury, superintendent of schools at Wellington, Ohio; and Dr. S. M. Ely of the University of Cincinnati, will speak.

Saturday morning, E. C. Ramsey, a former newspaperman with more than 22 years of experience in Europe, Africa, Asia and the United States, will talk on "The International Mess".

Biology Classes Take Field Trips

Sunny fall days, accented by colorful trees, provided an ideal background for 252 biologists, from Mrs. Marion Cox's and Mr. J. P. Olloman's classes, first field trip to Hope cemetery.

Tramping briskly in the crisp autumn air, the students noted one specimen after another, then attempted to classify them according to phyla.

Many plants and trees, new to the students, were discovered by the biologists, including the ancient Japanese ginkgo tree. This created much interest because of its fan-like leaves. They grow in such a shape that the tree is often referred to as the maidenhair tree. It is the last of a long line of ancestors. Another picturesque spec-

Miss Bodo Picks Cast For Annual Kent Production

Donofrio, Hansell To Take Leads In "The Last Curtain"

Final tryouts for Neal L. Hasey's play, "The Last Curtain," which will represent Salem High school in the district drama festival at Kent State University next spring, were conducted this week by Miss Viola Bodo, dramatics coach, and the cast was selected.

The play portrays what took place backstage in the Ford theater the night that Abraham Lincoln was assassinated.

The part of John Wilkes Booth will be taken by Herbert Hansell and the part of his sweetheart, Jeanie Hart, by Lee Donofrio. Bill Dunlap and Jan Wallace will portray the parts of Sam and Effie Evans, a vaudeville team. Charles Lind will play the part of Peanut John, an old stagehand, and the person to play Kate Trueman, a resident of Washington and friend of Jeanie, has not been chosen.

15 Turn Out For Boys' Glee Club

Fifteen boys who are interested in the Boys' Glee club turned out for the first meeting of the club, which is under the direction of Mr. J. P. Olloman this year.

Mr. Olloman asks any other boys who are interested in the club to see him. It is his hope to double the membership of the club.

Sophomores Order 200 More Pennants

Salem High pennants, which the sophomore class put on sale two weeks ago, were completely sold out the first day of their appearance.

Because of the great demand for these pennants, a new order for 200 were placed. These were put on sale immediately after their arrival.

Club Initiates 17 New Members

Miss Marye Lou Miller, advisor to the Hi-Tri club, and the club members wish to stress the new ruling of the club this year which says that girls who were eligible to be invited to join this year can become members next year, when they are seniors, if they bring their average grade up to B. This new regulation was made because several junior girls just missed being invited because their average was slightly below the required B.

The juniors who accepted invitations to join the club this year are: Esther Bartchy, Miriam Seeman, Lois Field, Mary Ciricosta, Regina Hilditch, Maybelle Huston, Margaret Anne Jones, Marie Kastenhuber, Alyce Kuniewicz, Eleanor Labriola, Dorothy Lutsch, Rita Clare Pottorf, Irene Schmidt, Elizabeth Eppinger, and Twila Yates.

Juniors, Sophomores Also Elect Officials for Year

Officers of the senior, junior and sophomore classes were elected recently by members of their respective classes.

The officers are—Seniors: President, George Baillie; vice president, Louis Raymond; secretary - treasurer, Florence England. Juniors: President, Homer Asmus; vice president, Bill Rance; secretary-treasurer, Bill Dunlap. Sophomores: President, Paul Evans; vice president, Herbert Hansell; secretary-treasurer, Marian Davidson.

Baillie is a member of the football squad, vice president of the Association, a member of the Varsity S club. He was class president during his freshman and sophomore years.

Raymond is a member of the Thespians, Boys' Glee club, president of the Association, and is in the Senior play.

Florence is a member of the Hi-Tri club. She served her class as secretary-treasurer last year, also.

Asmus is a member of the band. Rance is on the cross country team and a basketball manager. This is the third year that he has been vice president of his class. Dunlap is a member of the Quaker business staff, the band, is a basketball manager and is serving his third year as secretary-treasurer of his class.

Evans is a member of the junior varsity football team, the band, the orchestra and the stamp club. Hansell is a member of the band, the Quaker editorial staff, is on the debate team and has the leading male

N.Y.A. Jobs Are Aid To Many High School Students

A limited number of students in Salem High school work, in their spare time on projects provided by the school, for which work they are paid by the National Youth Administration.

In order to be eligible for N. Y. A. jobs, a student must be able to qualify on the basis of financial need. He must be of good character and shall possess such qualities that he can give assurance of performing average scholastic work. He must be a citizen of the United States and must take the oath of Allegiance to the United States. All students must be capable of performing satisfactory work in the assigned job.

The government requires that the work performed by the students employed under N. Y. A. shall be practical and useful, and that emphasis be placed on work that is in line with the abilities and interest of the student. Those who supervise the student work are required to rate the student, each month, on ability and spirit of cooperation.

The types of work that the students may do comes under the headings of Clerical and stenographic, building maintenance, building repair, library work and departmental service.

Maximum hours of work are four hours on school days and seven hours on non-school days. Students working regularly will complete their thirty hours, the maximum amount permitted in any month, by working one and one-half hours each school day.

At the present time 16 students have been assigned to N. Y. A. jobs. The organization of the N. Y. A. program, in the high school, is under the supervision of Mr. H. M. Williams, principal.

Eight Students Help Miss Hart With Work In Office

Miss Maud Hart, dean of girls, has a very efficient corps of assistants working in her office. One girl is assigned to the office for each period in the day and her duties are: to answer the phone and leave a note in regard to any message unless the person called for is needed at once; and to greet all visitors to the office and to find out their definite needs.

If a student who is ill comes to the office he or she is immediately taken to the nurse's office, which is directly below Miss Hart's. If the matter is something that the assistant can adjust, she takes care of it at once to the best of her ability. If it is a matter she feels she cannot handle, she refers the person to Miss Janice Weaver, secretary in the principal's office, in case that Miss Hart is not in her office.

Each secretary writes up a complete report of what has transpired in the office during the period in which she is in charge, in a report book kept in the office for that purpose.

Upon returning to her office, when she has finished teaching for the day, Miss Hart inspects the book and takes care of all cases that have been left for her. These assistants also see that the office is kept neat and cheerful and that there are attractive flowers about.

The assistants, who deserve a lot of credit for the efficiency with which the office work is handled because of their cheerful cooperation, are: Doris Brunner, senior, 8:15-8:45; Dorothy Lutsch, junior, first period; Emma Bauman, sophomore, second period; Barbara Brian, sophomore, third period; Ethel Hill, senior, fourth period; Marie Kastenhuber, junior, fifth period; Shirley Johnson, sophomore, sixth period; and Jane Rufer, senior, who sometimes helps in the office seventh period.

It's To Your Advantage

Ah, for a cool swim. Next summer, and for the summers to come when it gets hot you will want to go swimming, but since dad or mother has the car you have no way to get to a swimming pool, so you just sit down and sizzle.

This situation would be remedied by the proposed municipal indoor swimming pool, which will provide for both relaxation and instruction in swimming for the people of Salem.

In order to have such a pool the voters must approve both the bond issue and the levy for construction and maintenance purposes at the November 5 general election. Working for the passage of these issues is a civic duty.

Students, do your part!

Our Obligation

When you carved your initials on the piano in the auditorium did you realize that you were paying for it even if none of the faculty saw you do it. You may think that puzzling because you'll never have to shell out a quarter for repairing the piano. When I say that you'll have to pay for it, indirectly, I mean that your parents, the taxpayers, will pay for it. They are the ones who pay for building the school and equipping, and naturally when you mar and destroy school property your parents pay for it through taxes.

The same is true about the school and library books. Financial reasons not alone should hold back your urge to mar or destroy school equipment, but also the moral obligation to the future students of this school. Is it fair to have the future students use scarred equipment because of your thoughtless action.

So, let's start today to be thrifty and considerate when using school property.

Stepping Stones

Loyalty and politeness are important stepping stones in the road of life. These stepping stones can be carefully set in our school years and they will remain firm all the rest of our lives.

In our school activities we have plenty of chances to prove our loyalty to our friends, teachers and fellow students.

Politeness should be practiced both in and out of school. Don't run in the halls and cause confusion. Don't shout when you're walking on the street and see a friend on the other side. At home, show consideration for your parents. Have respect for others no matter where you are. These are only a few "dos and don'ts" of common courtesy which should be observed by us every day.

All the World's a Stage

And the people, merely players . . . says Shakespeare . . . but to be a success in Hollywood a gal's got to watch her peeves and cues.—Honest, it's a mess.

CONTRARY TO COMMON BELIEF:

High School girls do not diet and they do toooooooo eat lots and lots . . . that is when they don't have to pay for it.

An excellent example of this is . . . Norma West . . . who, when bet she couldn't eat 60c worth of grub . . . did very nobly and put away the said amount with inches to go.

The new Queen of the 'bread-basket' devoured the following in less than eight (8) minutes:

- (a) 3 large hot fudges
- (b) 2 large cokes
- (c) 1 large bag of pop-corn
- (d) 10 long stick pretzels

If you'll take that list item by item, you'll guess why it won't be long 'till we'll be saying, "That's Miss West . . . I knew her fifty pounds ago."

"With the coming of fall, there are more and more leaves and papers to be gathered", said the street cleaner.

Well, there's one business that is picking up.

CRUSH OF THE WEAK:

ALL BLISS, AND HAVEN TOO . . . OR . . .

THERE'S 30 LONG MILES TO STRUTHERS . . . BUT THEY AIN'T LONG ENOUGH

The fact that young Mabel Hostetler goes steady with a Cleveland lad didn't stop her much from keeping Billy Hannay from getting lonely on his very first ride in the Band bus.

I DO wish some brain capitalist would come though with blue-prints for a convertible bass-drum. We have a colapsible one, but that's no good. It's all well and good to sit on that THING all the way up. But coming back when they start throwin' people around, someone's leg is bound to go through it, and another guy's fist is followed by a couple of batons . . . Oh, I don't know, maybe I'm just imagining things, but after that, it never seems to sound the way it us'ta.

(I have nothing to do with this, nothing, mind you. But Don Freed and Alexander Simion and Other big-shots of the band have raised the question as to what Alvin Cocos found so interesting in the back seat that he hardly uttered a word the whole trip . . . which is VERY unusual.)

WANTED: 6 more lessons. Geo. Stout is a very willing pupil for anyone who cares to teach him. Snyder was doing her best, but her BEST wasn't good enough . . . Guess you just don't live right, Jinny.

(Now I'm scared—I'm on the Band's black list a sit is, now there is no hope whatsoever. Don't get sore, kids . . . remember what Sally Wonnor used to say.

A little joke,
A little pun,
Don't get peeved
It's all in fun.

So if anyone EVER mentioned in this column 'can't take it', just let me know and I can assure that it will NEVER happen again.

This world is grouchy enough, Ah, me!
When a fellow seldom laughs.
Why don't we wear the smile that we Use in our photographs?

Speaking of photographs, when I saw my Senior Pictures it dawned on me that someone has been leading me astray. Now I'll grant you that I haven't been operating under the false hope that I looked like Hedy Lamarr, but great guns, I had no idea that it was as bad as all that. But since the camera never lies, I guess my case . . . and face . . . are just hopeless.

(I'm consoled in the fact that now we needn't worry about rats in the attic).

(I don't know what this is all about)

This one reads. . . "Too bad Ada, but don't cry too hard, Bob Seiber is not the only good looking boy in Salem High."

Profiles

MARGE BRIAN

Marge Brian, a tall, attractive senior, is now busily at work on her part in the class play. Last year she proved her merit to Miss Bodo as make-up chairman of "Little Women". Besides her stage activities, Marge is an accomplished musician, playing both the piano and accordian extremely well. She is well liked among her classmates and upon graduation plans to study social work in an eastern college.

GEORGE BAILLIE

George Baillie, popular senior class president, has proved invaluable to the football team this year, playing quarterback position. His political career includes three terms as class president and he is jokingly referred to as "third term Baillie". George has many and varied interests, including tennis, which he plays very well. He is not certain what college he will attend or what work he will take up after graduation.

Jr. High News

Seventy-five new books have been added to the Junior High library this year, among them the latest edition of Webster's New International Dictionary.

Tryouts for eighth grade cheerleaders were held in an assembly last Friday. A candidate was previously chosen from each home room to try out in assembly.

Billy Roberts, "musical wizard," gave a performance in an association assembly Wednesday. He played the electric guitar, Spanish guitar and banjo.

A radio, with an extra loud-speaker, was purchased for use by the various classes. The loudspeaker enables two adjoining rooms to hear a broadcast simultaneously.

The Quakerette staff has been chosen and the first edition will appear about Halloween. Mrs. Lulu McCarthy is faculty advisor.

Two divisions of the Girls' Glee club have been formed this year, due to the enrollment of eighty girls. Mr. Walter Regal and Miss Doris Tetlow are the club advisors.

Keller Entertains
Archers On Trip

"We looked in the glass case and there was a skeleton, and you know, I'm sure he didn't have his back teeth."

So went the story Mr. T. R. Keller told to archery club members at the roving trip and weiner roast held last week. The harvest moon shone brightly and cows moped in the distance, thus producing an eerie effect and suitable setting, as Mr. Keller told of his "true experiences" to the huddled group around the fire.

Before telling ghost stories the club members practiced shooting at the "buck" (a bag of leaves swinging on a rope hung from a tree) and roasted weiners.

For further details of his "true experiences" students should see Mr. Keller.

SPORT SLANTS

BY RABBIT

Greetings, readers!

Well, another week has rolled around and with it another column. Tonight the Salem squad will journey to Wellsville to take in the scenery at Nicholson field and, incidentally, to tussle with the tough Tigers from that fair city. This season has been a good one for the Bengals due to their record of four wins and one defeat. The Quakers will have their hands full tonight, and this columnist predicts that before the final whistle blows the Salem fans will be yelling "Hold that Tiger."

Say, did you see the write-up the "Wuks" got in the Youngstown Vindicator last Sunday? They even had their pictures printed. If you would like to see this masterpiece, drop around and look at the bulletin board on the third floor. I think it's still there. At least it was at last reports.

Now for a quick look at the scores of games played by future Quaker opponents. First, Sebring defeated the Blue Devils from Lisbon, 20-6. Dover tied North Olmstead, 7-7. Youngstown South defeated Youngstown Chaney, 13-0. And last, but not least, Alliance was downed by Massillon, 40-0. No report on the Barberton Magics.

Flash!!! Sebring is still undefeated in five battles this season. They followed their tie with Salem with three wins in a row, which puts their record at four wins and a tie for the year.

Wonder if you noticed the basketball schedule yet? Seems as if the boys take a little trip to Coshocton this year. Speaking of trips, your columnist read somewhere that the football team from Toledo Waite flew to Portland, Ore., for a game tonight. That's new in high school football.

This writer would like to dedicate this small paragraph to those players who have played practically every minute of every game so far. These are "Buster" and Mel Wukotich, George Baillie and Carroll Greene. These four have had practically no relief in any game this year. Orchids to these men for their iron-man exhibitions.

When your columnist asked Marvin LaVerne Wukotich as to whether the Quakers could hold the Wellsville Tigers tonight, he replied, I quote, "Hold them? We're gonna tame 'em." Unquote.

And now for a few predictions from a few brave young students: Johnny Dan likes Salem by one touchdown.

"I think it'll be a tie," says Bill Zocolo.

Now for the prediction of that eminent personality of Salem High school, Ray (call me anything you wanna) Lowry, who says: "I'll take Wellsville, 21-13."

And now, by special permission of the author, "Handsome Hammerin'" Harry Ehrhart, and the football team, we print this little "poem":

"The sky was dark, the night was blue,
And down the street a "Woppy" flew,
And from his side a knife he drew,
And cut a banana right in two."

We would like to thank "H. H. and H." Ehrhart for this lovely contribution.

This writer is of the opinion that the boys will take Wellsville tonight by a touchdown. So, with this taken care of, and with your kind permission, I take my leave, giving you one week to recuperate from this column in time to have a relapse on the next one. So, till next week, so long.

Salem Gridders Defeat Big Red For Second Win

Quakers Winners Over Struthers, 14-7, In Grid Battle

Last week they tackled Toronto and emerged from the fray with an 18-0 victory. Bob Campbell, shifty left halfback, paced the Tiger's attack with two lengthy touchdown runs, one of 55 yards and the other for 64 yards. The Tigers also have something of a passing attack and have used it in their four victories achieved this season.

Last season the Bengals gave Salem quite a scare when they held a much favored Salem squad to a 13-12 win. Most of this same Wellsville squad is back to plague the Quaker gridders again this year. The Bengals won victories over East Palestine, Scienceville and Toronto, and were handed a 27-6 defeat by an air-minded Bellaire squad. A win for either squad would do much to improve their team's record.

New Carpets Bought For Three Offices

New carpets for the offices of Mr. H. M. Williams, principal, and Mr. Lewis Smith, dean of boys, and for the adjoining outer office were purchased last week. They are of dark green material with scattered bits of light green extending in a fan shape.

The former carpets had been in use since the school was first opened in 1917.

will be played by Florence Hiltbrand, as Aunt Milly, and Tom Berger as Old Caesar.

Miss Bodo has selected Betty Percival to assist her as student director. Miss Percival will also be prompter to the cast.

Rehearsals for the play, which will be presented in night performances December 5 and 6, started last Monday.

Salem High Football Team Meets Wellesville Tonight

Salem Trying For Third Win of Season; Tigers Have Suffered Only One Defeat So Far

Tonight Salem's gridders will journey to Wellsville to meet Coach Bill Storer's versatile Tigers. So far this season the Bengal's record is nothing to be ashamed of. They have lost only to Bellaire this year where they were really beaten.

A crowd of 3000 fans saw the Salem gridders defeat a Struthers eleven for the first time in five years last Friday night at Struthers stadium, by a 14-7 count.

The Quakers took the kickoff on their 35 yard line and drove 65 yards for the first score of the game. Marvin Wukotich plunged for the score and also the point after touchdown to give Salem a 7-0 lead. Both teams lost scoring for numerous reasons in the first half. In the third period the Big Red started a 28-yard march which ended when Williams passed to Bonefli in the end zone for a Struthers score. Posoff scored the extra point on a plunge. Another Struthers drive was stopped in the fourth period when Bob Scullion intercepted a Struthers pass on the Salem 18.

The Quakers then started a 73-yard scoring drive which gave Salem a lead which it never relinquished.

The Quaker passing attack, led by Marvin Wukotich, connected on five out of eight tosses. The Quakers had a 17-13 advantage in first downs and gained 258 yards to 124 for the Big Red. They also gained 75 yards to 7. in passing, over the Struthers squad.

Tonight the Quakers journey to Nicholson field in Wellsville to meet the Tigers from that city. The Schroedermen will be gunning for their third win of the present season.

Football League Ends 1st Round

The touch football league has completed its first round schedule. Mr. Lewis Smith, who is in charge of the intramural program plans to revise the schedule for the second half. The revision was made necessary by the organization of a new team, the All-Stars. The new squad, captained by Anton Hrvatin is composed of John Hart, Charles Jackson, Dick Lantz, Ed Fisher, Del Fowler, Jim Hunter and Joe Sweet-eye.

Standings on October 10 were:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Timid Tigers	3	1	.750
Spiders	3	1	.750
Sweepers	2	2	.500
Rams	0	4	.000

The Spiders have scored 111 points, the Timid Tigers, 69; the Sweepers 110, and the Rams 45. Eighty-four points have been scored against the Spiders, 69 against the Timid Tigers, 52 against the Sweepers, and 136 against the Rams.

The All-Stars played three games during this week to test their combine for the second half competition.

Cooking Classes Arrange Flowers

"Rosie, rosie, ring around the posie." There is nothing like a lovely bouquet to get you a beau. I mean, nothing like a lovely beau to get you a bouquet, or something. Be that as it may, Miss Leah Morgan is teaching her cooking classes that food must look nice in order to taste nice, and that a vase of fresh flowers on the table will help the appearance of the meal greatly. So, several days last week were spent in arranging flowers for table decoration.

Some of the arrangements were sent to the various offices. To Miss Hart's office went a bowl of gold and red zinnias, arranged by Vivian Foltz. A striking color scheme of red and white was sent to Miss Weaver, this having been arranged by Mary Hendricks and Anne Cosgarea. The old fashioned daisy featured in a very sophisticated design for Mr. Kerr, was fixed by Joan Eckstein and Mary Cody. Janet Taylor and Irene Fratila received much praise for their clever bunch of blue bachelor buttons and small yellow dahlias. Alice Hunter arranged a blue bowl of purple and pink petunias which was sent to the library.

New Stamp Will Be Issued October 20

A new 3-cent commemorative stamp to mark the 75th anniversary of the adoption of the 13th Amendment to the Constitution abolished slavery in the United States. Since the World's Fair is located in Flushing, the postmaster at Flushing, Long Island, will service first day covers for stamp collectors.

The three national defense stamps were issued on Wednesday this week and the 3 and 5 cent stamps of the famous American series on Monday.

Classes Collect Seeds On Trips

Many varieties of seeds, fungi, ferns and evergreens were collected by students in Mrs. Cox's biology classes, recently.

An A was given to the students securing the largest number of specimens in each class. Other contributors were graded accordingly.

The following students won in the contests: Erla Mercer, seeds (65 kinds, mounted); Carl Thomas and Frank Lutz, seeds (85 varieties); Mary Byers, evergreens; Lorraine Adams, fungi; David Jones, 27 varieties of fungi; and Gene McArthur and Herbert Gross tied for ferns.

1940 Annual Gets 2nd Honor Rating

The 1940 Quaker annual, whose editor was Allen Fehr, and business manager was Louis Raymond, was awarded a second-class rating by the National Scholastic Press association.

Besides the Quaker, annuals from schools in Ohio receiving second-class ratings included those of Ashland, Bellevue, Canton, Timken, Middletown and Centerburg.

Judging the papers from the various schools is done by professionals who are experienced in newspaper and magazine work.

There are four honor ratings awarded. The rating of All-American is the highest rating, and following it are first, second and third-class ratings.

2 Bands Will Play Together at Game

This week Wellsville is honoring Knute Rockne. At the Salem-Wellsville game tonight the bands of the two schools will work out formations together on the football field between the halves. The two bands will form K-N-U-T-E to Salem stands and R-O-C-K-N-E to the Wellsville stands. In these formations the bands will be playing the Notre Dame victory march.

Both the Salem and Wellsville bands are clad in red uniforms and should appear as one large 120-piece unit.

As a part of the program there will also be a short talk given.

Varsity S Club Holds Meeting

The Varsity S club held their first meeting of the year last week at which time plans for initiating the new lettermen into the club were discussed.

Plans for a football pep rally before one of the future football games were discussed also.

Texas Emma Out To Reform West

"I'll get you hombre," screeched "Texas" Emma Bauman as she mounted her kitty-car.

No, you're not looking at Buck Jones' best pal, just "Tex" Bauman going western. Emma felt sorry for the many stage coach drivers who are held up while carrying the Pony Express Mail service through. She journeyed to Texas to remedy these conditions last summer. When Miss Bauman got to the "Lone Star" state she acquired many habits of the modern cowgirl. Now, she just can't be kept from her Texas lingo.

Recently she saw the movie, "Silver Breaks a Leg" or "Humpty Dumpty Takes a Tumble," just what was needed to renew her western attitude. In journalism class last Thursday she made one of her usual talks. On this occasion she chose the subject, "The Fun in Gambler." In her talk she pointed out that saloons and gambling establishments appeared at least once in every western town. Miss Bauman believes that G-men should be placed in every town with a population of more than five families.

The rest of the class disagreed strongly but "Texas" Bauman gave no ground. For she is a "straight shooter" from way back.

Graduate of 1940 Now In U. S. Army

Al J. Freed, a member of the class of 1940, is now in the Fifth Signal Company of the United State Army, according to a letter recently received from Al by Mr. Williams. Al states that he is located at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, and that he is doing "aerial photography, making maps, learning radio, teletype, and doing typing for the company". In concluding the letter he says, "The hours are long, from 5:30 in the morning to 8:00 at night, but I like the work and am working my 'darndest' to get ahead."

Al was active in dramatics and music while in high school, and was a member of the Quaker Staff. His brother Don is a Senior this year.

Besides identifying trees and larger plants, the biologists learned to distinguish between the algae and fungi classes of very simple plants.

Elections

role in this year's Kent play, "The Last Curtain".

A new plan for election was tried this year. Each member of a class was given a ballot on which he wrote the name of the person he wanted for president and of the one he wanted for secretary-treasurer. The names of the three persons in each class, receiving the most votes for president and secretary-treasurer, were written on a ballot which was passed out for the students to vote on. If any person received a majority of the votes in the nomination, he automatically became an officer without any further voting.

The freshman class will elect their officers later in the school year.
