

Dr. Stockdale Will Speak To Salem High Students

Well Known Speaker, Author To Address Student Body In Assembly Next Thursday Afternoon

Dr. Allen Stockdale of New York will speak next Thursday at 2 p. m. at a high school assembly, under the auspices of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Dr. Stockdale was educated at Boston university, School of Theology, and took post graduate work in philosophy and sociology at Oxford, England. He has held pastorates in Boston, Toledo, Chicago and Washington. While he resided in Boston, Dr. Stockdale was chaplain of Emerson College of Oratory, and is at present a trustee of that institution.

During the World War Dr. Stockdale served in France as a Red Cross field director, with a commission of captain. He was with the Second Division near Soissons in July, 1918, at the opening of the big drive.

Dr. Stockdale is known as an author and has been editorial contributor to the "People's Home Journal" and the "Congregationalist." Dr. Stockdale is particularly interested in baseball, and during his residence in Boston was widely known as the "Pitching Parson."

Dr. Stockdale, who speaks exclusively for the National Association of Manufacturers, is a staunch devotee of the principles and objectives of American business and industry.

During the past few years there has been a steady and ever-increasing demand for Dr. Stockdale's services as a speaker. He has addressed large groups of executives and professional men throughout the country, and has been the principal speaker before such im-

ARTICLE BY L. D. EARLY PUBLISHED

An article, entitled "To Keep Propaganda Out of the School," written by L. D. Early of the Salem High school faculty, appeared in the January issue of Ohio Schools, the monthly publication of the Ohio Education association.

In the article Mr. Early discusses how instruction may be given to students to help them to realize what is propaganda and what is not.

Mr. Early states that to guard against people thinking only what they are told to think, the school should increase its efforts to develop the power of critical judgment, of independent thought, and of analysis of all forms of propaganda.

Englehart Has Proof That "He Caught One That Long"

Salem High students and members of the faculty probably never have realized that they have among them a very great fisherman who has the proof that he really "caught one that long."

Mr. E. A. Englehart, head of the medal industries department, is the very proud owner of a silver medal to prove that he caught a sailfish, seven feet, six inches in length. Mr. Englehart and Mr. Ted Keller, also of the Salem High faculty, went to Florida during the Christmas vacation. Mr. Englehart stopped at Stuart, Florida, a small town on the Atlantic coast, which is

HI-Y JOINS COUNCIL AT YOUNGSTOWN

Local Club Becomes Member of Mahoning Valley Group at Induction

The Salem Hi-Y club was given its formal induction into the Mahoning Valley Hi-Y Council last evening in the Youngstown college auditorium. The club, which in the past has been affiliated with the Canton council, is now to be included in the Youngstown division.

The new arrangement will allow the boys to take part in the activities of the Youngstown group, including such sports as basketball, baseball and swimming.

Twenty-one other Hi-Y clubs are also affiliated with the council which is associated with state and national organizations.

The club voted in favor of joining the organization at the meeting held a week ago Thursday, when Mr. Milton Johnson, head of the Mahoning Valley council, explained the arrangement. Mr. Frederick Cope, of the Salem High school faculty, also spoke at this meeting telling of his experiences when he went to Europe to view the Olympic games in 1936.

At the meeting last night Mr. Wayne Sidinger, Salem High school graduate and an assistant football coach at Kent university, spoke to the group.

Ray Lowry is president of the local group, John Dan is vice president and Jack Atkinson is secretary-treasurer.

George P. Lozier Is Named to Board

At a meeting of the board of education held Monday, January 6, Mr. George P. Lozier, superintendent of the Electric Furnace company, was appointed a member of the board to succeed Mr. Joel H. Sharp, who resigned when he was elected common pleas judge. Mr. Lozier will serve the remaining three years of Sharp's unexpired term.

famous for its sailfishing, and Mr. Keller journeyed on to Miami.

Telling of his experiences Mr. Englehart said, "Sailfish are not on the surface of the ocean very often but this certain day was ideal. The sun was shining brightly and as it glittered on the deep blue ocean it seemed as if there was a fleet of sailing vessels. but all it was were the sailfish. There was a particular group of them around a school of minnows and they were devouring the small fish. One of the doctors on board threw

Miss Ala Zimmerman Is Named to be New Sewing Instructress

Has Been Teacher of Home Economics at Ravenna, O., For Number of Years; Will Replace Miss Isabelle Ritt, Who Was Married This Year

Miss Ala Zimmerman, a teacher of home economics for a number of years in the Ravenna High school, Ravenna, Ohio, has been appointed as home economics sewing instructress in Salem High school. Miss Zimmerman will begin teaching in Salem High school at the start of the second semester.

Miss Zimmerman succeeds Mrs. Russell Stratton (Isabelle Ritt), who resigned following her recent marriage.

Miss Zimmerman is a graduate of Ohio State university, where she majored in home economics. She is also taking work in the Graduate School of Ohio State university.

Mrs. E. A. Englehart has been substituting temporarily as sewing teacher in the home economics department until a successor to Mrs. Stratton could be appointed.

AUTHORITY ON WORLD AFFAIRS SPEAKS HERE

Dr. Francis S. Onderdonk, authority on world affairs, spoke to all the juniors, seniors and to freshmen and sophomores who are on the honor roll, on the subject: "America's Role in the World Crisis," at an assembly yesterday at 2:15 p. m. in the auditorium.

Dr. Onderdonk has spent 20 years in Europe, and in August, 1938, he made his eighth trip to that continent since 1901. He was in Geneva when the Munich disaster occurred.

In his address Dr. Onderdonk presented his opinions concerning the present world crisis and explained his belief that it is a sacred duty of the United States to support the remaining democracies.

Talking pictures on China and Finland were shown in addition to lantern slides presented with Dr. Onderdonk's speech.

2 Students Enter

June Martin, senior, entered Salem High school a week ago Monday from Jackson township school.

From Smithfield, Ohio, Julia Woods, freshman, entered Salem High school a week ago Tuesday.

Mary McGrady, Roger McGrady and Robert McGrady, a sophomore, a freshman and a sophomore respectively, withdrew December 2, from Salem High school to attend school in Canton, Ohio.

Martha Nye, junior, withdrew from Salem High school, December 4, to attend Warren G. Harding High school, Warren, Ohio.

Barbara Leslie, junior, withdrew December 2 to attend school in New Kensington, Pennsylvania.

Extend Sympathy

The Quaker on the part of the student body wishes to extend its sympathy to Mrs. E. A. Englehart, who has been serving as sewing teacher this semester and is the wife of Mr. E. A. Englehart, metal industries teacher, because of the death of her father, Dr. H. E. Dwire, at Bucyrus, Ohio.

Sympathy is also extended to Elizabeth Dales, a sophomore at Salem High school, on the recent death of her father.

Helpful Hints To Stop Influenza

EDITOR'S NOTE: In this article Miss Lillian Schroeder, Salem public school nurse, gives a few suggestions for persons who have the influenza and ways of preventing or helping to cure it.

Influenza is a highly contagious disease. It is spread in the same way as a cold, through the secretions of the nose and mouth. In order to prevent its spread, persons ill with influenza should be isolated immediately from other members of the family and have medical attention.

The symptoms of influenza are headache, sore throat, general aching and elevated temperature. Students having any of the above symptoms should go to bed and call a doctor. Many serious complications can be prevented by prompt attention to the early symptoms.

Teachers Make Plans To Study Philosophy

At a meeting held Thursday, January 9, Salem High school teachers made plans to undertake a study of the philosophy and objectives for Salem High school. Use will be made of section B of the Cooperative Study of Secondary School Standards. This section covers 32 areas on secondary education and contains approximately 132 statements of significant points of view. Teachers will check these points of view, and will then write up definite school objectives. Plans are being made for a number of teachers meetings for a discussion of these topics.

Vote of Appreciation

A member of the board of education for eleven years, Mr. Joel H. Sharp, recently resigned from the board following his election as common pleas judge of Columbiana county.

During the years he served on the school board Mr. Sharp rendered fine service in helping to shape the educational policies in the Salem schools.

Members of the board of education receive no salaries, but they occupy one of the most important positions in the community. The task calls for a great amount of unselfish service, which Mr. Sharp certainly gave to the Salem schools.

Temperance in Everything

Today has been set aside in the Ohio schools as Temperance Day.

Mr. Webster defines temperance as moderation, especially in respect to the appetite.

And so it is fitting that today we should stop to think of whether or not we have been moderate in all things in the past year. Not only does this pertain to smoking and drinking but to everything in which one may overindulge.

Perhaps too many people have come to think of temperance only in regard to smoking and drinking. These are not the only things in which a person may indulge too freely.

And so, students of Salem High, why not stop to think of the things you could have been more temperate in, in this past year.

Perhaps it was smoking or eating, or spending. Maybe you are the type of person who is forever making wise cracks. Remember "It is better to lose a jest than a friend."

These are only a few of the things you may be more temperate in, and so as you start the new year, why not make it one of your firmest resolutions to be temperate in all things you do and say.

Make Use of Library

A number of new books were received at the library recently and in the show case last week were displayed the paper covers of these books.

There had been complaints of the small number of fiction books in the library, leading to the purchase of these new books.

Now that these books have arrived, students have no excuse for not reading books from the library. These books were purchased for us to use and they furnish a good excuse for those not already familiar with the school library to learn about what it offers the students, and to get acquainted with these well-known novels.

Everyone has some spare time for reading without using the school work time. Over the week ends are especially good times to catch up on reading.

There are a great number of good books in the library so let's make the most of them. Read them and see how much enjoyment they give.

Your Movie Idols Are Right Here Among You If You Look Around

Have you ever wanted to see Robert Taylor?—or Bette Davis?—or Spencer Tracy? Do you dream of the time when you've saved enough money (by keeping the neighbors sweet children or trudging your paper route) to travel the well known trail to Hollywood just to view your idols.

Stop bemoaning your fate!—Look around you! Many a high school student has been discovered to be the very picture of your own movie idol.

In the young and carefree division we find George Baillie, who bears a striking resemblance to Frankie Thomas, and Scub Scullion, who has been sighed over more than once as the perfect Jackie Cooper.

In the women's division is Irene White, who reminds us all of Katherine Hepburn, especially after her performance in "Little Women." Many time academy award winner, Bette Davis, would herself admit that Joyce Stratton has that "Davis" look in her eye, and, that "Jodee's" temper contains a certain "Davis" quality, too.

If Joan Bennett's hair were blond (again) Louise Zeck could pass anywhere for her kid sister.

Iggy Moore is a "dead ringer" for Robert Taylor, and casting him with Jean "Vivian Leigh" Stratton would make any picture a box office hit.

Don Freed is now taking piano lessons because someone told him he looked like Chico Marx.

Although Mouse's actions aren't quite up to par, his appearance and facial expressions are typical of that famous actor, Spencer Tracy.

John Payne never could deny that his Salem High school double was John Dan.

If Louis Raymond could ride a horse, sing and play a guitar, he would make a PERFECT Gene Autry—that is, if he looked like Gene Autry!

Jr. High News

The seventh and eighth grades saw an assembly yesterday presented by the United States Society of Zoology. The program featured a collection of rare and interesting animals from all parts of the world.

Members of the garden club are competing for prizes to be offered for the best garden scrap books. The club plans to study birds in connection with flowers in the second semester.

The next issue of the Quarett came out today.

Song Hits and High Hits

"THE MOON WON'T TALK," so I'm safe, says Dolores Weichman, our personality girl of the week. Dolores is Salem HI's walking Madamoiselle" with her collegiate clothes and her charming personality. "Dee," as she is called by her friends, is a member of the Glee club and Charlie Barnett's orchestra is tops with her.

"MEET ME AT THE RACE-TRACK" instead of the ball park, sings Ray (Track) Lowry. Ray is well-known in Salem High for his racing enthusiasm, because he is usually seen racing from somewhere. He is a jitterbug and all swing bands are his favorites. Ray is president of the Hi-Y and was a basketball manager for three years. Most of Ray's time is spent with the above personality girl.

HART ADDRESSES ECONOMIC STUDIES

Mr. W. L. Hart, executive vice president and cashier of the Farmers National bank, spoke to the first and third period economic classes of Salem High school Monday, Wednesday, yesterday and today.

Monday and Wednesday Mr. Hart spoke on "Insurance Premiums and How Used." During his talk he explained how insurance companies operate.

In his address yesterday and today Mr. Hart explained the ways in which a bank serves the community.

At the conclusion of each speech Mr. Hart answered questions which were asked by the economics students.

The two classes, which total approximately seventy-four students, are taught by Mr. Theodore R. Jones.

VIV'S VERBAL VENTURES

BY VIVIAN FOLTZ

We know a street cleaner who was absorbed in his work . . . He couldn't keep his mind out of the gutter.

If this cold weather keeps up, people like me that are on the look out for gossip more or less, will have to close shop. With the temperature hitting a new low, everyone is giving everyone else the cold shoulder, and at the present time I could write a longer column on 'the's not going en around here'. The other night I saw Bob Irely and Louise Bush toying snow-balls at each other in front of 'Town Talk' so if that's an indication of young love, there it is . . . and Carol Jeager and Buck Ritchie gaze longingly at each other every Friday and Saturday nights, between quarters and time outs . . . and, say, have you noticed how wavy Mouse's hair is getting? Guess he decided that if the 'Spanial' Coiffure could do so much for Tee, it would do the same for him. Bright boy, I'll bet he's a whip at cross-word puzzles, too . . . and of course there is the usual list of Bill Mullins' admirers, the two newest being Mildred Anderson and Peggy eale, both blond freshies. . . . There was only one letter in the box this week. . . .

Dear Viv, I'm a blond (except when the peroxide fades) and am also a good cook? But right now I'm in the middle of my domestic troubles. My cakes are all falling and no one will eat them. What shall I do? . . . AN INDEPENDENT WOMAN.

Dear Indy, The next time you bake a cake try adding a few sacks of cement to the batter, of course, Gibson, this will make the cakes a little harder to eat, but they are guaranteed not to fall (except through the bottom of the stove.)

Things That Make Our School Just a Little Bit Different From the Others:

LOIS HOOVER: When she obligingly passed out pickles to every one on New Year's eve, then proudly exclaimed, "Whee, now every one is pickled."

JEAN CAREY: She must eat bullets for breakfast, 'cause her hair keeps coming out in bangs.

OUR BASKETBALL TEAM: . . . Obvious reasons . . . (cause they're all good lookin' guys).

CHAS. LIND'S FLORIDA TAN: The sun sure does things up brown. And Cutie wants it known to all that the Only thing he wanted for Xmas was Nan Beardmore. But that package didn't quite make it, it was nailed a week earlier by Robert Sears . . . Clark, to you.

THESE HI-Y JACKETS: I'm not complaining cause everyone looks like twins, but how come they don't serve sun glasses with those flashy flashes?

. . . Arm in arm they went gliding along over the smooth, clear ice seeing no one but themselves, but at last the silence was broken by the inquiring masculine voice of the Honorable Mr. Wukotich. Who asked sincerely, "Hazel, do you think kissing is unhealthy?"

The intelligent reply was "Why, I don't know, you see," she said modestly, "I've never been . . . "What!" broke in our hero, "You've never been kissed?"

"Sure, but I've never been unhealthy" was the answer.

A MORAL FOR THE PUPILS OF MR. H. JONES:

A green little freshman

In a green little way,

Mixed some chemicals

In the lab one day.

Now the green, green grass

Does tenderly wave,

Over the green little Freshman's

Green little grave.

A doctor is one who kills you today to keep you from dying tomorrow.

It is with ideas as with money, those of the least value usually circulate the most.

A blush on the face is better than a blot on the heart.

An intelligent girl is one who knows how to refuse a kiss without being deprived of it.

Salem Cagers to Meet East Palestine Tonight

QUAKERS WILL FACE WARREN PRESIDENTS IN GAME HERE NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

Salem High's cagers will attempt to add the East Palestine and the Warren squads to the two wins they have already scored, when they tackle the county crew tonight and the Presidents next Tuesday. East Palestine comes here with an unimpressive record, owning just one win, this over Springfield township by a 34-23 score.

They have been defeated by Columbiana, Wellsville and Minerva. The Brown and White has shown nothing in the way of a good offense and hasn't a consistent scorer on the team although Dugan is a bit better than average.

Warren High is somewhat a different squad. They have had an average year so far, winning some, losing some. Among their victories are wins over Girard, 33-20, and Niles, 38-23, which defeated the Quakers. They were defeated by Cleveland Collinwood, 25-24. In their last appearance they were barely nosed out by a good Akron Central five, 32-31. Rhine led the Presidents in the scoring column, tallying 12 of his team's markers. He was ably supported by Labrida and Venetta with seven and six points respectively.

Both of these games are scheduled on the Salem floor. The Brownmen will be after their third and fourth wins of the season. Last year the Quakers beat East Palestine but were defeated by Warren in an overtime period.

QUAKERS LOSE 2 CAGE GAMES OVER WEEK-END

Salem Defeated By Alliance, Youngstown Rayen Basketball Teams

Last week the Quakers found themselves meeting two opponents, Alliance at home and Youngstown Rayen away. The Alliance Aviators came to town with a hatful of newspaper clippings praising Grecu, high scoring threat, and booming Jenkins, Negro forward, who has missed a few games due to a bad shoulder. They came, they saw and they conquered, so the Quakers were baffled by the Aviators' zone defense and were soundly beaten, 44-32.

As was forecast, Grecu got eight tallies but was overshadowed by Jenkins with 14 and Faulkner, rangy center, with 11 points. The home team fell far behind in the initial quarter and never came back. From there on the two teams battled on nearly even terms. Both teams staged a lot of roughness and many fouls were called. The home lads had four men ejected from the game on fouls while the Alliance team had none, although Jenkins and Faulkner each played the entire last half with three fouls against them.

Once again Ray "Goose" McGaffic topped the locals in the point-scoring column. He garnered nine for the evening and was trailed by Thomas and Jaeger, who tallied six points apiece. In the opening game the classy Quaker reserves trimmed Alliance's second stringers, 37-25. "Tut" Guappone, Dick Culberson and Larry Frost led the scoring with 11, 8 and 7 points, respec-

Greetings, readers. After a nice peaceful vacation, this columnist returns to cell 208, second floor, to continue the long grind that won't end until spring vacation.

On looking at the record, I find the reserves still unbeaten and ridin' high with six wins and not a single loss chalked up against them. They displayed a flashy brand of ball last weekend in knocking off Alliance and Youngstown Rayen. Led by "Tut" Guappone, Bob Ruffing, "Bird" Culberson, Carl Capel and Larry Frost, they show the makings of a good future varsity squad. If reserve squads went to state tournaments, ours would be right up in there. Hope they win many more before the year's over.

Among those burning up the courts for schools the Quakers have yet to meet are Jim Willis, elongated center of the Dover Crimson Tornado and Heddelson and Mackey of East Liverpool. Willis' last effort netted him a total of 21 points while the two Potters have been consistently leading their team in scoring all year. The Dover crew has been scuttled only once while East Liverpool absorbed its second beating at the hands of New Philadelphia, defending state champions.

At this writing several other teams who have yet to meet the Brownmen have creditable records. Among them is Struthers, which is doing all right. The Big Red has lost only to Woodrow Wilson of Youngstown. Its latest conquest was a 25-24 nose out, over Youngstown South. East Liverpool has beaten Zanesville, 35-34, Youngstown Chaney, 70-17, Pittsburgh South, 35-25, Bellaire, 40-22, and Youngstown South, 48-19. The Potters have been defeated only by Cambridge and New Philly. Dover has defeated Denison 52-37, Akron East, 54-28. Youngstown South trounced New Castle (Pa.), 31-21, and lost to Dover and Struthers. Sebring beat Youngstown Chaney, 35-25. Youngstown East walloped Euclid Shore, 48-29, and just eked out a 25-23 win over Campbell Memorial.

Youngstown South trounced New Castle (Pa.), 31-21, and lost to Dover and Struthers. Sebring beat Youngstown Chaney, 35-25. Youngstown East walloped Euclid Shore, 48-29, and just eked out a 25-23 win over Campbell Memorial.

Wellsville lost seven straight before shoving over East Palestine, 29-27. Boardman got past Lisbon, 36-24. That's all the statistics for this week.

The Salem Hi-Y club opened its drive for the pennant in the Youngstown loop last Saturday afternoon by holding off the Struthers Hi-Y, 31-15. Warren Tullis looked good for the Salem club, tallying 11 points. The boys meet Austintown Fitch in their second league game tomorrow afternoon.

Here's one scribe who'd like to see Akron South play here this season just to get a look at Gray who has been averaging some 22 points a game so far this year. Need I say, the South crew is still undefeated.

Guess I made a mistake a few weeks ago picking New Philly to repeat as state basketball champs this year. Since I printed that, the down state team has been defeated no less than four times. That prediction ought to put this writer in the front ranks of the state "guessperts."

Still think East Liverpool will cop the county championship this season although the Quakers might upset 'em. Only team to beat the Ceramic crew on their floor yet is Cambridge.

Did'ya see how Coshocton crushed Lancaster last weekend in what is undoubtedly the highest scoring mark in the state this season as yet? The Redskins tallied 85 points, no less, holding their opponents to a puny 19. Some offensive there or else Lancaster is as terrible as the score looks.

Well, I guess this is it. It is this humble scribe's unworthy opinion that you have been bothered too much for one week, so without further ceremony, So long.

HI-Y CAGE TEAM DEFEATS STRUTHERS

Last Saturday the Hi-Y club basketball team upset Struthers, 31-16, to start off a schedule of 13 games with other Hi-Y teams of the Mahoning Valley Hi-Y council. This league is composed of 14 teams who play every Saturday and each week meet a different team of the league. Two games are also scheduled for Friday night games each week, due to the large number of team in the league and the limited time.

So far the Hi-Y cage record is unmarred. They have met four teams so far in games at home, winning all four. Those they have met and defeated are Leetonia varsity, 65-50; Struthers Hi-Y, 50-23; Goshen varsity, 78-22; Salem News team, 24-18.

QUAKER CAGE TEAM
LOSES THREE GAMES
DURING VACATION

During the two week Christmas vacation Salem's Quakers faced four foes, Niles, Alumni, Coshoc-ton and Cambridge.

The Red Dragons from Niles proved a very formidable foe, for when the battle ended, the score-board showed the local lads on the short end of a 35-26 count. The home team was no match for the rangy Niles crew led by Matusz-wski who collected 22 points. Mike Thomas headed the Red and Black, chalking up nine markers. The Quaker subs marked up a victory over Niles 43-29.

The second of the four squads met, was the Alumni, who were turned back, 36 to 31, by an in-spired Salem team. Led by Bob "Buck" Ritchie and George Baillie with ten and nine points respec-tively they matched the Ex-highs shot for shot. Bill Schaeffer led the Alumni with six points. McGaf-fic stood out on the defense for the Red and Black.

The following week end found the Brownmen in the Coshoc-ton Red-skin's lair. Here another scalp was added to the Redskin's list as the Quakers fell behind after the first quarter and wound up on the end of a 43-29 score. Silverthorne led the night's scoring with 16 points, while McConnell gathered ten, for the Coshoc-ton crew. McGaffic and Coz-ad led the Quakers in the point column each getting six. The game was a rough one, 31 personals being called by the officials.

The next night saw the Quakers meeting a bunch of rangy passers from Cambridge. Putting up a game fight the Quakers were fi-nally subdued, 35 to 29, after their last quarter rally, sparked by Ray McGaffic, was halted by a de-termined Cambridge crew. McGaf-fic hit the hoop for eight points to lead the touring Quakers. Thus the Quakers returned to school to meet Alliance with a record of two wins and four losses.

TEMPERANCE DAY IS OBSERVED TODAY

Temperance Day was observed in Salem High school today, this being the official Temperance Day in Ohio schools.

Howard E. Hamlin, superin-tendent of health and narcotics, has sent material for use by teach-ers. This material includes ques-tions and answers on narcotics; questions and answers on mari-juana, and a selected bibliography on narcotics.

The 21 science classes discussed the narcotics problem during class period, using the material teachers received and material in textbooks.

ROBERT SHEA WINS
MOST ARCHERY PINS

At the regular meeting of the Archery club, held last week, it was announced that Bob Shea has received the most gold safety pins to date. Members received one of these pins each time they hit a bulls-eye.

Shea has received seven pins; Bill Hannay, three; Ray Fawcett, two; Ruth Hoobler, two; Eleanor Schultz, two; Jean Dilworth, Isa-belle Lockhart and Lucille Scheur-ing, each one.

Additional pins were earned when the club practiced Jan. 10, and will be awarded at the Jan. 21 meeting.

Prevention Suggestions

Eight suggestions for student pro-tection are:

1. Avoid fatigue.
2. Avoid chilling, wear sufficient clothing and keep the feet dry.
3. Avoid crowds.
4. Keep hands clean and away from face.
5. Eat an abundance of fruits and vegetables.
6. Drink milk.
7. Keep up resistance by ade-quate sleep and rest.
8. Get medical attention early.

He continued, as he leaned back in his chair and recalled the event-ful day, "There were four of us on board the Cris-Craft "Barracuda." There were two doctors, the editor of the Stuart Times, and myself. I was the photographer and got some wonderful shots of the fish, the fishing, the fishermen, and many other interesting points."

Mr. Englehart stated that there were so many fish that on the way back they lifted their lines so they wouldn't be stopped by the fish biting at them. This certain day the men on the "Barracuda" caught ten 'sails.' However they threw them all back except one which one of the doctors wanted to have mounted. Mr. Englehart caught one and threw it back, but then discovered it was dead so they hauled it back in because the sharks would eat it. It so hap-pened that this catch was his rec-ord one, being over seven feet long.

In Stuart, Florida, there is a Sailfish club and when a person catches his first sailfish he gets a bronze medal. If his second one is over seven feet and less than eight feet he gets a silver medal, and if it is over eight feet a gold medal is awarded. After a person has caught a sailfish he is a mem-ber of the club whether he lives in Stuart or not.

If anyone would like to see Mr. Englehart's certificate and medal, just go to the metal industries de-partment and hear all about the fishing and see his framed certi-ficates.

Lose Two Games

tively.

Saturday night found the Brown-men opposing the Youngstown Rayen squad on the Rayen High floor. During the first half, the game was a real battle, with the Red and Black leading at the end of the opening quarter. At the half the squads were deadlocked, 17-17. In the third period, the visitors faded badly, being outscored 13 points to one. From there on in it was a lost cause for the Quakers. The towering Rayenites, led by Finamore, tossed a zone defense at the smaller Quakers, who were practically helpless when it was employed.

The Youngstown school has been defeated only by Austintown Fitch. Finamore led the Orange and Black offensive with a total of 21 points while McGaffic and Cozad led the outclassed Quakers with six mark-ers each. At this point of the sea-son the Quaker record stands at two wins and six defeats, as they prepare to meet East Palestine to-night and Warren on Tuesday.

HEARD ON BROADCAST

On a radio program, broadcast over station WKBN at Youngstown last Tuesday evening at 7 p. m. representatives of some of the member schools of the Tri-County Journalism association were inter-viewed. These students told of vari-ous points in publishing their school paper.

The broadcast was arranged by a committee representing the jour-nalism association of which the Quaker is a member. Robert Bal-lantine, editor of the Quaker, rep-resented the Salem High school paper on the broadcast.
