The Deep River Singers, Noted Negro Quartet, to Present Program Here

First of Assemblies By Association Will Bring Nationally-Known Group To S. H. S.

The first association assembly of the 1942-1943 school year will be presented on March 29 by the Deep River Singers, a noted negro quartet, it was announced last Tuesday by Beman G. Ludwig, principal of Salem High School.

War Stamp Sales Hit $66.60 Total

(Ed. Note—Regardless of the fact that this is a "Boys' Issue, the members of the Quaker staff who worked on this issue felt that the excellent work done by the Hi-Tri with its War Stamp sales deserved front page mention in this issue, in view of the fact that this project is the first in Salem High that is wholly dedicated to assisting in the war effort.)

The Deep River Singers includes four Negro singers, all of whom have won fame in the music world, and Miss Mary L. Robinson, pianist and accompanist. John Burdette, bass singer and leader of the group, was the winner of the 1930 Chicago Tribune award for the best male soloist in the United States. The others include Albert Page, baritone, who has been featured as soloist with the famous Fisk Jubilee singers, Albert Yarborough, tenor, who appeared as tenor soloist with the Mundy Jubilee singers at the Chicago World's Fair, and Merton Smith, tenor, who has appeared as soloist on the Mutual network from Chicago for three consecutive years.

The members of the Deep River singers were all members of the original cast of the famous musical show, "The Swing Mikado."

The Deep River singers have appeared in programs all over the nation and is regarded as one of the foremost groups of its type in the United States.

The association assemblies are booked by Mr. Ludwig and the association officers who are: Herb Hansell, president; Dick Culberson, vice president; Ruth Fidoe, secretary; and Emma Bauman, treasurer. Other assembly programs will be announced as they are scheduled.

Debaters Attend First Tournament

The Salem High school debate team will enter a debate tournament at Struthers High school tomorrow, it was announced last Monday, by Mr. J. C. Guiler, debate coach. This tournament, in which approximately 25 schools will enter, will last all day with the Salem debaters engaging in a total of eight debates.

The four speakers who will represent Salem tomorrow had not been announced by Mr. Guiler as this was written but will be chosen from the following members of the team: Mabel Hostetler, Dale Wykoff, Art Scheib, Walt Van Sickle, Jerry Goldberg, Herb Hansell, and a new member of the team, Bob Mitchell, who was added to the squad this week.

This is the first meeting for the Salem squad with teams from other schools but a practice debate among members of the Salem team was held last Tuesday.

American Legion Sponsors Contest

"How we (as High school students) can best serve in this present conflict" has been chosen this year as the subject for the annual American Legion essay contest.

The contest is open to all students enrolled in the ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades of public, parochial, and private schools in the state of Ohio. Competition will be organized on the basis of classes. Rewards will be given to the boy and girl having the first and second best essay in each class. In each case the prize will be all-expense trip to Washington, D. C. A substitute award will be given in case it is impossible to make the trip because of wartime transportation restrictions.

All entries from Salem High school must be handed into the principal's office February 12, 1943.

F. P. MULLINS AGAIN CHOSEN BOARD HEAD

F. P. Mullins was unanimously reelected as president of the Salem Board of Education and H. E. Beardmore selected as vice president for 1943 at the board's first meeting of the year on Jan. 4, 1943. G. F. Koontz is serving the board as clerk again this year, having been reappointed last year for a two year term.

As its first important action of the year, the Board restored the remaining five per cent of the salaries of Salem teachers from the ten per cent reduction that was made in 1940. Two and one half per cent was restored early last year and another two and one half per cent during the latter half of 1941.

Army Information Reveals S.H.S. Geared to War Effort

In a letter received recently by Mr. Ludwig from the War Department services of supply, the United States Army pointed out its dire need of men who have received specialized training in certain important fields. In order to help the army meet these needs, the letter outlines five basic training courses that should be given in high school that would be of great benefit to a prospective of great value to the Army in its draftee or volunteer and also be search for specialists.

The five courses were titled as follows: Fundamentals of Radio, Fundamentals of Electricity, Fundamentals of Automotive Mechanics, Fundamentals of Shopwork and Fundamentals of Machines. These were the five basic training courses which are considered particularly essential by the United States Army and it was suggested that these courses or courses very similar to them be included as soon as possible in the high school curriculum.

Furthermore, according to Time magazine, the Army is counting heavily on these courses to help meet these pressing shortages.

Immediately upon receipt of this letter, the main divisions of the basic courses were examined and compared to the courses offered in Salem High School.

The results of that examination are of vital interest and importance to every student of Salem High School.

For it was found that of three of the five Army courses, PRACTICALLY ALL OF THE DESIRED MATERIAL WAS ALREADY IN-

CLUDED in the physics, chemistry, and auto-mechanics classes in Salem High school and of the other two of the Army courses OVER HALF OF THE DESIRED MATERIAL WAS ALREADY IN- CLUDED in the physics, chemistry, and auto-mechanics classes. These two results of a simple examination serve to prove more conclusively than any other method that the Salem High school curriculum is geared to the war effort and that the student who elects to take those subjects which, while they are not easy, are what the Army looks for when it is choosing candidates for officer training, will be much farther ahead in the long run.

Band

C. M. Brautigam, Salem High school band director, has announced that a total of 104 couples attended the 10th annual Band dance on December 29 in the gym. Although all bills have not yet been paid, Gene McArtor, treasurer of the band, stated the profits were satisfactory.

Hi-Tri

In connection with the work that is being done toward organizing a Victory Corps in Salem High school, Miss Ala Zimmerman explained the operation of the Victory Corps in other schools and the purpose of the national movement to the members of the Hi-Tri at the last meeting.

Should Boys Quit School? Quaker Offers Answers

Many boys are faced with the perplexing problem of whether or not to finish high school and whether or not it is advisable to plan on going to college. In view of this situation, the Quaker has compiled information from the War Department, the American Council of Education, Scholastic magazine and Time magazine in an effort to assist Salem High School students in answering the following questions.

tempting to give advice on this subject in its own right but the answer of the authorities in this case is "yes" in practically all cases.

However, the Army is rapidly completing plans for taking over numerous colleges and placing qualified enlisted men in them. The details of these plans as yet are not complete but inasmuch as they affect men already in the services, any boy who wishes to go on to college is urged to do so by those who have information on Army plans, and gain as much preparation and advanced training as possible.

(a) Shall I quit high school?

The answer to this question given by every one of the above authorities is an emphatic "NO." Secretary of War Stimson has advised all boys to stay in high school until called. He states that no boys will do his government any good by leaving high school. He also states, and this is emphasized by the Army leaders, that the Army has a dire need of trained men and consequently, the more preparation a boy has the better his chances are of being picked.

Scholastic magazine answers it way: The Army needs thousands of radio operators, 139,160 auto mechanics, 2,000,000 more men in the air forces ground crews, and other thousands of trained men. And the Army men say they are going to get them from the high schools. So the high school boy's proper place is in the high school where he will get more preparation than in any other way.

(Ed. Note: In connection with this question, the article on the front page of this issue regarding the five army training will be of interest.)

Should I plan on going to college? The Quaker is not at-

Board Purchases New Chairs For Stage

The board of education has purchased approximately 24 new folding chairs for use on the stage in the auditorium. Mr. Ludwig has revealed. These chairs have been in use for several weeks and are expected to aid those organizations that present programs on the auditorium stage. In the past, many groups have been handicapped by a lack of chairs or by the condition of the chairs which were on the stage previously.

Salem High Has First Raid Drill

The first air raid drill for Salem High school students and faculty was held last Wednesday afternoon during the home room period. This drill was held to acquaint pupils with the procedure they will follow in the event of an actual raid and also to test the effectiveness of the original air raid precaution plans.

During the drill, students and faculty members were assigned to the following six places, judged the safest areas in the school by those in charge of planning the drill: The halls on the north and south sides of the first floor, the cross corridor on the second floor, the hall in front of the gymnasium, and in the gym itself.

In the corridors, students lined up in rows three deep against the walls of the corridor while in the gymnasium, students were seated in assigned places in the bleachers on both sides of the floor. Teachers were instructed to find places among the students wherever it seemed advisable.

Following is a list of the six places used as shelters and the rooms assigned to each: First floor north: 106, 102, 101, 201, 203; first floor south: 108, 109, 110, 112, 307, 308; second floor cross corridor: 209, 205, 206; gym, west bleachers, south: 207, 208, 212; gym, west bleachers north: 204, 210, 309; hall in front of gym: 309, 310, 312.

Tempos and Tunes

Greetings gates! Lets matriculate. Yeh man! With the old OPA shoving an iron fist down the throat of motor transportation, we practically have to furnish our own amusement these long winter nights. There are many ways to amuse yourselves and many of the dates have given us a lot of good ideas but we still maintain that a dance is still the best way to spend an evening. A dance is any place you have a boy, a girl and music. (I think) You all know what boys and girls are but the music often stumps the best of us. Now there are various ways of obtaining harmonized discord and there are still a lot of top notch bands left to turn out canned beat (records) and set the air waves to jumping by means of radio. We'll have to let "Somebody slug the juke box!" and "Roll back the carpet!" be the watchwords for the duration.

One of our most enthusiastic record fans is Paul Evan. "Ervie" has a collection that ranges from albums of symphonic "heavies" to the very latest disc desecrations of "Spike" Jones and the "City Slickers". At present, his pride and joy is a rare Telefunken record featuring the alluring vocalist Grete Heller. She is accompanied by Peter Kreuder and his orchestra as she sings "Du Sollst Der Kaiser Meiner Seele Sein." The aforementioned add up to one of the smoothest wax cuttings we have heard for some time.

Our own Jinny (Slug) Snyder also collects records. In fact she has so many that there is no room for dishes in the house, so I hear that the family just has to eat off the records. It would be interesting to hear them at breakfast time. Mr. Snyder would probably be yelling: "Virginia! Please serve my glass of water, and "You're the Cream In My Coffee" and the "Sugar Blues."

All kidding aside, some fine records have been turned out lately.

"Victor" announces a new album containing all the Irving Berlin song hits from the all soldier show "This is the Army." These songs are played by the Victor, "First Nighter" Orchestra as accompaniment for Fats Waller, Brad Reynolds, and the Harvey Harding Chorus.

Still one of the most popular discs on the market is Tommy Dorsey's sweet "Manhattan Serenade" with his hot version of Blue Blazes" on the opposite side. Jan Savitt also has an arrangement of "Manhattan Serenade" on the market.

If you're one of the more violent species of jitterbug you will like the latest Barney Bigard creation "C Blues". You can relax and take it easy with "Brown Suede" on the back of the platter.

For the boogie woogie fans we have the "Four Clefs Boogie" played in the 8-to-the-bar style of the clefs themselves. "When the Clouds Roll By," is slightly lazy and allows you to rest the other side of the disc out.

That's all for now.

So long fellows.

BOB'S BORESOME BILGE

The great day has come, fellows. We men (?) have taken over! No longer do you have to put up with that vile slander put out by Ruthie! I'll write it now—so push back the furniture, put the cat to bed, and let's get this "bull session" under way.

Nomination for couple of the week:

Old Dan'l Cupid has plunt pulled a "blitz" on Barbara Butler and Jim Primm. At first they refused to admit any gains by the enemy but finally broke down and declared the battle lost. Take not "chilluns." Dan'l may not look like a tough little guy but he packs an awful wallop. If "yo" is struck, just smile and concede the victory. It isn't so bad after all—eh keeds!

Dear Mr. Henderson:

I want priorities on:

... a stooge to carry my sax case.

Curly Dinsmore

... a boy friend that could pass the Marines' entrance examinations.

Mary Byers

... a ghost writer with some new ideas.

Ruth Sinsley

... a book of essays that Mr. Lehman hasn't read.

Bob Moore

... more dates with Lois Johnston.

Tom "Griff" Williams

... a tenor sax player (any sax player will do) please hurry.

"Salty" Sell

... a blond sooo tall.

Harvey Stiffler

... a pencil that sharpens itself.

Yours truly

Confucius say: "Girl in hand is worth two on telephone."

"Bashful wolf" Steele, "the timid girl's delight" has developed an approach technique that is second to none. He and some of his "fiendish" helpers, (Butler and Cibula by name) have developed a tear gas to overwhelm their "victims" with. Tsk, tsk. What won't they think of next?

Massillon's gift to the freshman class namely: Bill Schmidt and Dale Culberson have broadened the scope of their (activities?) Instead of performing before the unappreciative audience of Miss McCready and algebra class, these two loose nuts have taken to putting on their act at the basketball games. The girls of the opposing side seem to be quite amused by their antics. Aw, well! Just goes to show you that almost anything will amuse a woman if she is in the right frame of mind.

There oughta be a law:

... against throwing snowballs in front of the school building.

... to prohibit girls from congregating in front of the lockers so that a fellow can not even hang up his coat in peace.

... against wearing all the make up the girls do. Yea old "war paint" is all right in its place but most high school girls lack the ability to keep it in its right place.

Through the periscope:

... Frank Snyder has only about ten more evenings to make up after school.

... a lot of girls are going around with blood in their eyes, just waiting to get a chance to avenge this issue of the Quaker.

... It's really been cold in these parts lately. In fact it was so cold the other morning that "Sailor" Beardmore passed by a blond by half a block before he could turn around and whistle. (His hand was frozen in his glove.)

... The "Big noise from Nameteka" Bob Moore was very proud of his essay, but it just so happened that Mr. Lehman has read it in Readers' Digest too. Poor Bob, with his luck he'd be caught out with a fork if it was raining soup.

... "Blitz" Krauss is looking for a partner to help him put on a wrestling exhibition during the intermission of the next basketball game.

So long for this time chums, and in parting, may I suggest that all you'se doodles find yourselves a good deep hole and pull it in after you as there's going to be some real carnage when the "inferior" sex take over these printing spaces next week.

Quakers Meet East Palestine Tonight

Salem Cagers Seek 3rd Win of Season Over County Rivals

Bulldogs Will Bring Weak Squad To Salem Gymnasium

The Salem High school basketball team will play host to the East Palestine cage squad in the Salem High gymnasium tonight at 8:30. The Quakers will seek their third win of the season in this annual tussle between county foes that always produces plenty of excitement.

The Bulldogs will bring a weak team to Salem tonight that has been severely handicapped all season by injuries. Earlier in the season, East Palestine dropped a top-heavy decision to another county foe, Wellsville, whom the Quakers will meet later on in the season.

Coach Herb Brown's cagers have been idle since losing to Alliance last Friday night by the narrow margin of two points and have been drilling hard all week. However, at this writing Brown had not yet decided on his starting lineup.

Tonight's fray will be the eighth of the current season and offers an excellent opportunity for the Quakers to resume their winning ways.

In the preliminary to the varsity game, the Salem reserves will meet the East Palestine reserves starting at 7:30.

Next the Salem season reaches the halfway point as the Quakers travel to Warren for their ninth game of the season.

Noon Basketball Teams Organized

The noon basketball league, under the direction of Mr. Herbert Brown is now completely organized and is playing out its first round schedule. The league is composed of three teams, with seven players on a team. Games are played during the noon hour on Monday, Wednesday and Friday but due to the small number of teams only one game is played each day. The teams and their members are as follows:

Thunderbirds—Fred Cain, captain; Kermit Riffle, Gerald Louden, Howard Coy, LeRoy Spear, Edward Knox, Andy Kekel.

Falcons—Bob Allison, captain; Dan Reardon, Calvin Morris, Jim Hunter, Joe Kupka, Joe Jennings, Bob Dusenberry.

Bulldogs—Don Beeler, captain; Gene Tullis, Perry Hilliard, Bob Todd, Jim Kleinman, Ken Groner, Harry Wickline.

The schedule for January is as follows:

Jan. 8—Falcons—Thunderbirds
Jan. 11—Bulldogs—Thunderbirds
Jan. 13—Bulldogs—Falcons
Jan. 15—Falcons—Thunderbirds
Jan. 18—Bulldogs—Thunderbirds

FROSH CAGE SQUAD OPEN'S '43 SEASON

The Freshman Basketball team coached by Mr. Overturf has won one out of three games so far this season. Their worst defeat was to the reserves the night of the Alumni game. The score was 48-14 in favor of the reserves. The Freshman team at that time looked very inexperienced against the fairly polished reserve quintet. Their second game of the season with Leetonia resulted in defeat by the score of 16-16. Third game with New Waterford spelled victory in a close battle. The final score was 25-24 in favor of the Salem squad.

The Freshman squad is composed of the following boys:

Francis Lanney, Fred Lewis, Lou Juliano, John Mulford, Danny Smith, Keith Sidinger, all of whom were on the Junior Varsity. Other boys on the team are Johnny Pridon, brother of Sam Pridon, who was on the varsity last year, Lowell Meyers, Morris Hollinger, Andrew Fox, Charles Hobart and Dick Reynolds.

fered a 52-38 defeat at the hands of Canton Lehman on their own floor a week ago Tuesday. It was the fourth Salem setback in six starts.

In the opening minutes of the fourth period, the Quakers cut the Lehman lead to nine points and threatened to overtake the Polar Bears. The Cantonites were forced to call time out twice before they gained their equilibrium and stopped the locals onslaught. Aside from the first few minutes of the final period, Lehman held commanding leads of 14-8, 22-14, and 40-22.

Ray Wise spearheaded the fourth quarter Salem attack, collecting all of his six points in that stanza. Top scorer was "Luke" Frost with four field goals and two foul shots, while Walt Brian trailed him with six tallies.

Dorland, Sponseller, and Finn scored 16, 15, and 10 points respectively for the visitors.

Salem vs. Alliance
After maintaining a lead until the closing minute of competition, the local cagers fell victims, 28-26, before one of the weakest Alliance teams in years at Memorial hall in Alliance last Friday night.

The Quakers held quarter leads of 7-5, 17-10, and 20-18. Despite the fact that the Aviators were

From the Sidelines

By JACK RANCE

The Salem Quakers last Friday were taken by a weak Alliance quintet 28-26. The Quakers led through three periods of the game and then were overtaken in the closing minutes of the game. The loss to Alliance was the fifth in seven starts for the red and black.

Unexpected

The Quakers overtook what was supposed to be a strong Alumni team New Year's Day by the large margin of 43-18. The Alumni team lacked unity and the right combination of players while the Quakers used passwork and fast breaks. Certain Alumni members claim that it's old age creeping up on them (ahem).

It Doesn't Pay to Kid (anymore)

Do you yearn to have your house torn apart or have your screen doors ripped off the hinges or some other damage. All you have to do is holler "Open house at my house tonight." If you do not get any response it's because nobody heard you. Herb Hansell will gladly do your advertising for you for a slight sum of one dollar a shout. When things get dull some nights and little Herby hasn't anything to do he walks into the corner and tells everybody that there is open house at a certain person's house. If the person is smart he will run to a telephone and tell him to bar the doors and to get the shotgun out. To prevent things like this from happening I suggest that you keep your windows boarded and your doors bolted.

High Joint Men

Walt Brian tossed in eight points in the Alliance varsity game while Jimmy Appedison tossed in seven in the reserve game.

Tonight the Quakers play host to the East Palestine Bulldogs. Salem is always anxious to take one from East Palestine due to some complications in the County Track Meet between the two schools in previous years. Here's hoping that the Quakers make Fox Terriers out of the Bulldogs tonight.

Brownmen Open '43 Season With 1 Win, 3 Losses

The holiday season and the week following proved disastrous to the Salem high cagers, dropping decisions, to Youngstown Chaney, Canton Lehman, and Alliance, but displayed some of their momentary effectiveness in downing a star-studded Alumni team, 43-19.

Salem vs. Youngstown Chaney

Traveling to Youngstown four weeks ago, the Quakers were downed by Chaney, 39-32, after coming from behind in the third quarter to knot the score.

Trailing 12-2 and 18-9 at the end of the first and second periods, the locals outscored their rivals 12-3 in the third stanza to tie the count. During the ensuing quarter the score was tied four times at 23-23, 25-25, 27-27, and 29-29 before the steel city quintet spurted ahead.

Dick Greene set the pace for the Salemites, scoring eight of his 11 points in the hectic third quarter. Runnerup honors went to "Luke" Frost with seven markers to his credit.

Houser and Uray combined to tally 32 points. Houser found the range for eight field goals and four foul shots, while his teammate collected twelve markers.

Salem vs. Canton Lehman

Despite their spirited play in the fourth quarter, the Brownmen suf-

Eureka!! I've got it!! The perfect substitute for rubber! This formula was invented by "Blitz" Krauss who donated it to me free of charge. It's made from sugar, coffee, and gasoline. See Krauss for the details.

By the way, kiddies, if you want the latest on fashions, try the new U. S. Army trick. Put your clothes on over your pajamas. You'd be surprised how much time and energy it saves.

Here's a red hot tip from the man who runs the elevator: (He's better known as The Man Who's On the Inside). The boys will definitely not wear more than two sleeves on their shirts this year and I have it on highest authority that due to the leather shortage, those girls who formerly wore shoes with no toes, no soles, no heels, no arches, and no laces have now made the supreme sacrifice . . . no shoes!

By the way, here's the male two-hits worth on those dizzy females who are giving everybody a pain in the neck. Somebody has suggested that we tell those (----) freshmen that nobody cares what kind of socks they wear or if they wear red, white, and blue ones, if they wear them inside out, if they ram them down their throats or if they walk on their hands and don't wear the doggone things at all.

Remember the "cold weather" man, Leon Henderson, who froze everything he could get his hands on, including prices, gas, tires and those glorious old antiques that some of us faintly remember called automobiles? Well, Vic Tory, our Washington correspondent, (he has an autographed picture of Herbert Hoover in his hope chest) informs me that Leon quit his job because somebody started horning in. Seems as though Congress gave him the cold shoulder.

One last bit of original composition, dedicated to the clothes we're wearing for the duration, and then we'll go home and gargle with the arsenic the nice neighbors sent over.

without the service of regulars Faulkner and Rogers, who had been ousted via the foul route, they staged their final period rally. Chapman knotted the count for Alliance at 26-26, with barely a minute to go. A few seconds later Wollen broke the deadlock with a shot from midfloor.

Walt Brian scored all of his points in the second half, tallying eight of the nine points Salem received in that half. Trailing close behind for Salem were "Luke" Frost and Wayne Laughlin with six markers.

For the Aviators it was Rogers and Chapman with seven apiece.

Salem vs. Alumni

Playing a vastly improved ball, the Salemites chalked up their second victory of the season, 23-19, against an Alumni aggregation in the Salem high gymnasium New Year's evening.

The Quakers had easy sledding throughout the contest, holding quarter leads of 10-4, 22-13, and 33-13. During the third stanza, the Alumni went scoreless, and any thoughts of victory by the ex-grads were dashed.

The Alumni's height advantage failed to compensate for their lack of passing experience. Frequently, the ex-cagers sent the ball into the hands of spectators as pass after pass went wild.

"Luke" Frost, Wayne Laughlin, and Walt Brain led the Salem, scoring with eleven, nine, and eight points respectively, while the Alumni's total was fairly well divided.

Graduates from the last four years were eligible to play instead of the past three as formerly because of the heavy inroads the armed services have made of Salem graduates during the past year.

Dean of Girls

Miss Ala Zimmerman, dean of girls, has compiled a list of the present activities of the girls in last year's graduating lass showing their occupations and residences at the present time. The list shows that 18 girls of the class of 1942 are attending college; 17 are employed in some type of clerical work; 6 are engaged in nurses training; 1 is in industry; 24 are doing office work in Salem industries while 8 are engaged in this same type of work in other cities; 3 are at home; 3 are employed as waitresses; and 3 are married.

Library

The library has received a new booklet that will be of interest to all students of high school age. It is entitled "Military Service," covers all the specific fields of the armed forces of the country and tells about requirements for soldiers, sailors, Army and Navy nurses, WAAC's and WAVES.

Methods of meeting the entrance requirements for Annapolis and West Point are also discussed as well as the organization of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, and Army Air Corps.

Boys' Gym Classes

Mr. Cope's Physical Education classes have just concluded two weeks of tumbling. In that time twenty of the boys who showed the most talent were chosen to form a Salem High school tumbling team.

The twenty boys are planning to practice on nights when the gym floor is available. If arrangements can be made, the group may give an exhibition during the half of one of the basketball games.

The classes have been divided into basketball teams, four teams to a class. They will conduct a league contest until the first of March.

Boys who do not participate in basketball compete in running, boxing, wrestling, tumbling and ping pong.

Under the direction of Mr. Lehwald, five reels of football film entertained the Sports club after school, Jan. 7.

Sales Reach $1,000

"The War Bond and Stamp drive has flowed over the $1,000 level," informed Junior High Principal Loren Early when asked how the campaign was progressing.

This enviable record has been helped greatly by room 7A who boast of 100 per cent participation in purchasing bonds and stamps.
