

Book Reviewed By Mrs. Byers November 18

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay"—Topic

In observance of Book Week Mrs. Guy Byers reviewed the book, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough, before the student body in an assembly, last Thursday morning, Nov. 18.

Prefacing her review Mrs. Byers gave a brief sketch of her knowledge of Madame Chiang Kai Shek at the time she was living in Macon, Georgia.

Madame Chiang Kai Shek resided in Macon from the age of ten to fifteen, at which time her two sisters were attending Wesleyan college. China's first lady attended her Freshman year at Wesleyan but then transferred to Wellesly college in Massachusetts to be near her brother, who was practicing medicine at Harvard.

In describing Madame Chiang, Mrs. Byers explained that she was very small and dainty, and possessed a skin of ivory instead of the usual yellow skin of the Chinese.

"At a recent return visit to Macon, at which Mrs. Byers was present, Madame Chiang proved herself to be the same sweet person she had been at the time of her departure," Mrs. Byers said.

Mrs. Byers' daughter, Mary, graduate of Salem High, class of '43, is now attending Wesleyan.

Following this brief report, Mrs. Byers presented a highly entertaining book review, for which she is well-known.

Foods Classes Serve Tea To Faculty After Meeting

The last faculty meeting was held in the dining room of the Foods department. After their business meeting tea was served. Miss Jean Kingsley presided at one end of the table and Helen Meddla at the other. The lunch consisted of sandwiches, cakes, and tea prepared by the Foods classes.

The classes are now completing their unit on food values. Reports are being given in preparation for the new unit which they are about to begin. Mrs. Strain considers the most outstanding report having been given by Velma O'Neil on Family Food Problems, taken from the book "If I Have Four Apples." Plans have been started for the annual student lunches which are held by the department.

Osmosis Experiment Made by Biology Classes

An experiment involving osmosis was performed by Mrs. Cox recently for her biology classes. The experiment was executed with a raw egg which was used to show how roots of plants absorb water.

War Time Thanks- giving in a Typical American Home

Editorial

Around a table in an American home there was seated a family of six. There are Mother and Father with looks on their faces that show the pride they have in their family. The children, Jom, 20; Joe, 17; Billy, 14; and Sally 6, all bow their heads in gratitude as the Father slowly repeats the blessing they have heard so many times. This was Thanksgiving before the war. Before the sadness and pain that war brings.

This Thanksgiving, around that same table there are still six chairs but only three of them occupied.

In the window there are two stars, one blue, and one is gold. As the Mother sees before her the two empty chairs of her two sons, the one never to be occupied again, the pain in her heart shows on her face as she looks at her remaining son who will soon be 18. Father's chair is empty because he is working over-time in the defense plant, trying to do his part in the war.

This is the Thanksgiving of the present year. This will be the Thanksgiving in many American homes. When we do gather around our own tables this year, we will still have plenty to be thankful for. Let's remember this family, and the others like them in our hearts.

Mechanical Drawing Classes to Study Isometric Circles

"The mechanical drawing classes are progressing much as usual" announced Miss Ada Hanna the drawing instructor, "however, the classes are about to begin a very difficult drawing. The isometric circles." Miss Hanna also remarked upon the fact that although she has at present only two girls among her 99 students, she believes that as time goes on more girls will be enrolled in the class.

A dinner was enjoyed by a group of persons last week at the Lape hotel. The purpose of the gathering was to further the mechanical industries in schools in cooperation with the shops. Among those present were Mr. Dawson, Mr. E. S. Kerr, Mr. Swanger, Mr. Hagedorn, and Miss Hanna.

Style Show Held By S. H. S. Sewing Classes

A style show was held in the sewing department in which the girls wore the garments they have completed during their first six weeks.

They are planning to devote the time from Thanksgiving to Christmas on Christmas gifts. Miss Zimmerman, sewing instructor, said she is going to have the girls work on more Christmas projects this year than in previous years due to shopping difficulties. They also plan to review all sewing processes they have had so far.

$191.75 Worth of Defense Stamps Bought by Seniors

Seniors Take Possession Of E Banner; Sales For Week Are $438

With $191.75 of the school total of $438.16 for the week, the senior class gained possession of the "E" banner. The sophomores ranked second with a total of $85.75.

Among home rooms, 210 ranked high above all others with a sales of $151.75. Room 208 was second with $38.00.

Room 206 topped other rooms in the percentage of pupils purchasing stamps and bonds with 47 per cent. Room 109 ran a close second with 45 per cent.

This coming week the Hi-Tri club urges all pupils to buy some stamps, even just one, to help boost the percentage rating of his room and the school.

Officers thus far are: Captains, Inez Jones, Gene Shaffer, Richard Mossey, Edward Maxson, and Joanne Butler.

First lieutenants: Robert Roberts, Marilyn Schafer, Shirley Smith, and Bill Buehler.

Band Begins Plans For Two Indoor Concerts

"Music, new to the band pupils, is being rehearsed," Mr. Brautigam announced. Also, the band has been seated in concert formation and tryouts for the seating arrangements will be held between now and Christmas vacation. Students will then be placed according to ability.

Mr. Brautigam said, "I hope to present two indoor concerts this winter."

Freshmen Clear $40 From Stand At Season's Last Game

About forty dollars were cleared by the freshman class who was in charge of the refreshment stand at the Lisbon football game.

Those serving on the committee were: Don Coppock, Don Wright, Eva Brookshire, Lois Barnard, Mary J. Frederick, Margaret Hollinger, Dorothy Greenamyer, Barbara Kerr, Marilyn Schafer, Sharley Smith, Florence Mawhinney, Kathryn Pappic, Elaine Sarbin, Marian Simonds, Bob Roberts, Helen Wright, Joyce Waite, Carl Wickline, Virginia Jugustrue, Wilma Piets, Norma Hank.

Miss Sarah Hanna is freshman class adviser.

National Book Week Observed by S. H. S. Students Nov. 15-19

National Book Week was observed three-fold by Salem High school students last week. In assembly on Thursday they had the special privilege of hearing Mrs. Guy E. Byers review "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough. The program was very interesting and enjoyed thoroughly by everyone. Before beginning her book review, Mrs. Byers was asked to tell about her visit with Madame Chiang Kai-

Slide Rule Club To Have Pictures In Quaker Annual

At the last meeting of the Slide Rule Club the members decided to have a picture of the group taken for the Quaker Annual.

After the business meeting they practiced doing problems on their slide rules. Miss McCreedy, adviser, gave prizes to the members who were among the first to get their problems right.

Books and Magazines On Display In Library

Books and magazines have been on display in the library to aid pupils in planning entertainment, table decorations, favors, and menus for Thanksgiving. Some of the books on reserve give the origin of Thanksgiving and different methods of celebration. Others suggest programs, games, and music. GOOD FOOD AND HOW TO COOK IT has instructions for carving a turkey. A new book, THE FUN ENCYCLOPEDIA, has excellent suggestions of games for the festive occasion.

Latin Club To Begin Study of Roman History

The Latin Club under the direction of Miss Helen Redinger met last Thursday to make plans for the rest of the year.

It was decided that the history of Rome from beginning to end would be reported on and discussed at the future meetings.

At the meeting Ansley Mitchell gave a report on the complete grading system of Carnegie Tech. University in Pittsburgh, Penna.

Those on the executive committee include: Frank Entriiken, Senior president, Jim Primm, Senior vice president, Deryle Stowe, Senior secretary-treasurer, Lowell Hoperick, Junior president, Charles Schaeffer, Junior vice president, and Vivian Stowe, Junior secretary-treasurer.

Those on the clean up committee are as follows: Miss Beardmore and Miss Ospeck, faculty advisers; Ruth Umberger, Senior chairman, Jim Wright, Junior chairman, Fred Cain, Mildred Miller, Janet Nonno, Herbert McCave, Joe Kupka, Gyla Stern, Jean Moore and Bill Stoudt.

Those on the entertainment committee are as follows: Mr. Lehman and Miss McCreedy, faculty advisers; Bob Cibula, Senior chairman, Sally Campbell, Junior chairman, Paul Harning, Marilyn Page, Eugene Mueller and Betty Cibula.

Those composing the decoration committee are as follows: Mr. Barrett and Mr. Henning, faculty advisers; Gene Howell, Senior chairman, Bill Vignovich, Junior chairman, Nate Bahm, Vera Janicky, George Ursu, Barbara Butler, Doris Ellis, Bill Bensen, Paul Englert, Jay Hanna, Jim Kelley, Ruth Swaney, Ernest Ware, Inez Jones, and Lou Jean McDevitt.

Those on the refreshment committee are as follows: Miss Hollett and Miss Johnson, faculty advisers; Mildred Anderson, Senior chairman, June Hoskinson, Junior chairman, August Juliano, Gerald Koch, Bill Byers, Rose Circosta and Paul Roher.

Metal and Wood Ind. Classes Given Apti- tude Tests Nov. 9

A mechanical aptitude test was given to the boys of metal industries classes on Tuesday, Nov. 9, to test their general mechanical knowledge.

On Monday, Nov. 15, the boys of metal and Wood Industry classes combined to hear Mr. Dawson from the Deming Co. Mr. Dawson used "The relation between industry in shops and vocational training in the schools," as his subject of his talk.

"Work is going much the same in the classes. Each group of boys work on a project for a period of two weeks and then the group moves to another project. This continues for the first semester and then at the half, new projects will be started," stated Mr. Reader, metal industry instructor.

Another Feast of Gratitude

It is three hundred and twenty-two years since the first American Thanksgiving Day. As we add to the long list one more of these Feasts of Gratitude, many seek to discover just what blessing above all others should the nation as a whole be thankful for.

The nation gives thanks for the knowledge from the outset of the war that it had a just cause. It was felt whole-heartedly by all Americans that their enemies could not be right with their covetous killing, hiding murder with patriotic singing. No man could say that Japan's sneak attack upon Pearl Harbor was just; or could they justify the declaration of war upon the United States by Germany and Italy simply because Americans resisted them, because they despised America for its peacefulness, these warlike tribes.

It wasn't mere "complacency" that made Americans know they were not beaten. It was not merely awareness of America's destiny or of her material strength. Out of barbarism man has risen to the realization of the ideals of Justice and Liberty. Americans knew the truth that these ideals are never permanently conquerable; and so they knew that they could not be defeated.

History was shaped. Americans recognize design in their history. Today they march onward with trust in what so shaped their past that they should manfully march to the hour of crisis and shall stand equal to the shaping of their future.

"Onward" is the word we hear. Onward with Justice and Liberty. Americans give thanks for this blessing above all others. The good will of God.

—Condensed from "One More Thanksgiving"; Booth Tarkington.

Count Your Blessings

Let's all stop for just a minute or two and see all the million of things for which we should be thankful. All of us growl and groan when the gas tickets are gone, no meat for supper, no way to a basketball game, and dozens of other small things that we can do without if necessary. If everyone of us would stop to think, I'm sure we would have no cause to be unthankful. There are thousands of teen-age boys and girls all over the world who have no clothes or food but can still smile and be thankful they are yet alive.

Come on kids, and give in. There is so much we have that goes unnoticed by us all, and so much for which we don't give thanks properly. As the old, old hymn said, "Count Your Many Blessings, count them one by one". In a war-torn world things keep slipping slowly out of our reach, but there's still God to thank for what we have. Let's do it, more.

Ike: "I'm a pauper."

Mike: "Congratulations! Boy or girl."

Sally's Swing Shoppe

By Sally Campbell

Greetings gates let's hibernate. Welcome once again to my college of musical knowledge.

Hot off the wires I found this small fact about the record "Paper Doll." The song itself was written in 1915 by the late Johnny Black. When Black died in 1936 his estate was valued at $100, despite the success of his "Dardarnella," a hit song of 1919. When "Paper Doll" swept into swing after the Mills Brothers introduced it a year ago an effort was made to locate his father. The father was found in Ohio and little did this retired musician ever think he could get $20,000 from his son's song "Paper Doll."

The author of "Pistol Packin' Mama" says the song came to him in a nightmare. Even a nightmare, it appears, can be a blessing in disguise.

Being one of the lucky people who secured a ticket I feel it my duty to tell you something about the stage play, "Oklahoma" which I saw in Cleveland. You all know the two hit songs which have come from this show but the cutest one of all, and I don't think you know it, is "The Surry With the Fringe on the Top." I should be out soon and I'm telling you it's going to go places.

The top tune of the week is none other than Duke Ellington's arrangement of "Don't Get Around Much anymore." It is murder and really on the beam. I could go on forever telling you about this but that would be senseless.

Bing hit the jack pot again this year and was chosen the most popular singer. I guess he showed Sinatra. In the same poll we find an upsetter. Guy Lombardo was made the king of the band and is now rated higher than the famous Dorsey or James. It must have been a misprint. I hope.

He's done it again. By this I mean the new hit of Irving Berlin's called "My British Buddy." It was introduced in the "This Is the Army" show now showing in London. He got the idea for the new song while walking the streets of London during a blackout.

A last minute thought before I close is about the smash song "Mission To Moscow" by that maestro of swing Benny Goodman. Put it on your "must have" list.

Well, gang that's all for now and I do hope you have a wonderful Thanksgiving vacation and don't eat too much.

In Quest of the Old Bird; or How to Behead the Turk

With hatchet in hand our heroine, "Killer" Kitt Stowe has set out to butcher the Thanksgiving delicacy.

With her right hand man on her left and her ax in the right hand, they approached the coop. "Hard-Hearted Hoppy," the assistant, bravely holding onto "Killer's" apron strings, was shouting orders, "y-y-yooo-uu-d-d-0 it-t-t-t!"

As was the custom in the Stowe household, turkey was the Thanksgiving specialty but by this time "Killer" was wondering about its merits. As anyone could see, she thought, a roast of beef was much better than turkey—and you didn't have to slaughter it!

As they approached the pen the silence grew and both thought it strange that the turkey wasn't taking its last big fling as they might have done durin gtheir last hours. But no! Silence was all that could be heard!

Silently, "Hard-Hearted" crept nearer the place of imprisonment. Scarcely daring to breath, he slowly, cautiously, opened the door.

A scream, a masculine scream, pierced the air and "Hard-Hearted Hoppy" fell to the ground.

"Killer", in a state of frenzy, rushed to see what was the matter and( as she did, when she heard Sinatra, swooned! For there before them was "old Mr. Turk"!

SWEET ROMANCE

Every year at Senior play time there develops a love affair. I don't know what the reason is though. Maybe it's the environment. Anyway, this year the victims of the famed production are Joan O'Hara and Pete Cibula.

MARILYN THE GREAT!

Who is she? Well, I'm sure you all know who Marilyn Waechter is by now. If you don't, she's that cute little bundle of charm with the dark hair and blue eyes who is usually seen at the local hangout. Besides these traits she memorizes names. Yep, every-time she sees a face she scans her memory and tries to locate the name which fits the said face. "Booby" Shea is a close acquaintance of this woman, so if you haven't had the pleasure yet, just tell "Boob" and he'll introduce you.

LOVE UNREQUITED

Oh heart, oh me
I love he
But he loves she
And she ain't me
So me and he Ain't we!

BIG TIME!

Well, the rugs were thrown back again. It seems like every week when column time rolls around there's another party to write about. Our fair hostess this time was "Sis" Mullins. It was given in honor of her Gyrene. I still don't think she knows who all was there. The house resembled a sardine can, there were so many attenders packed into it's spacious rooms. I couldn't begin to give you the list but Tony Hoover could. He accidentally found a typewriter so he picked out the names on its delicate keys. Although there were a couple new pairs. They were Walt Brian and Delores Poorbaugh and Dick Field and Betty Gibbs. All in all, everyone had a good old time. Thanks "Sis", my old buddy W. W.

CUPIDS CHOICE

The following lovebugs have been on the ball for a long time but I was quite unaware of the happy fact until the other day. These two bundles of Heaven are none other than Vivian Stowe and Lowell Hoperick. More power to you, kids!

JUNIOR-SENIOR SHINDIG

As all you upperclassmen know, the Junior-Senior party is coming off a week from this Friday. So, all you men had better start thinking (if you can) up a possible date. Of course, we all know you'll wait 'til the last minute but there's no harm in reminding you. Above all, go!! All these Juniors have waited for two years to attend this gala event so let's give them something to remember!

CONGRATULATIONS!

Hats off to the Senior play cast! They certainly gave a great production! Everyone was at his best. The audience seemed to get a buzz out of Art Hoover in his feminine outfit! He was the envy of all females with those beautifully curved "gams" and that smooth leg makeup. Oh, well, I guess we all can't be gifted along that line.

CORN OF THE WEEK

Mistress: "You know, I suspect my husband has a love affair with his stenographer."

Maid: "I don't believe it. You are only saying it to make me jealous."

GALA SEND-OFF!

Did you happen to hear the Marines Hymn sung by about twenty voices at four o'clock A. M. on November 17? If you did, you are probably wondering why. Well, Bill Stratton, one of the latest victims of the draft, departed for Paris Island so all his buddies gave him a real send off. They stood out in the cold night air by the train station and warbled so loud that a few voices cracked. Some of these patriotic men of the home front were "Socko" Vavrek, Jack Rance, Paul Englert, "Wimp" Primm, and seads of others.

WARNING!

They tell me that tomorrow is Thanksgiving. Hmm, I wondered why people were buying pumpkins and talking about turkeys. Anyway, don't eat too much. I know there's no use in telling you, but I can try. Above all, women, diets must be broken! You'll probably resemble those things that waller around in the mud. Don't they call them pigs?

The deadline is calling me so I'll ring off for now. Before doing so, here's a fashion hint: The latest thing in men's clothes is women.

Quaker Gagemen To Play Eighteen Games; Ten To Be Played on Home Floor

Three Lettermen, Wise, Entriiken and Brian, Back From Last Year's Squad; Minerva, Canton Lincoln, Newcomers to Schedule

The Salem High Basketball team will open the season December 7th when they play the Ravenna Ravens there. This year's schedule contains 18 games, 10 at home and 8 away.

Canton Lincoln and Minerva are newcomers to the Quaker schedule.

The Salem squad coached by Herb Brown will begin practice Monday. Only three lettermen will be back, Butch Wise, Walt Brian and Flick Entriiken. Harry Lodge and Knobby Greene, both lettermen from last year are not available since they are in the armed forces.

A successful season is expected and there is much enthusiasm among the students. Coach Herb Brown stated, "We have a tough schedule this year and outcome depends upon how the reserve material develops to fill the vacancies."

Quakers Defeat Weak Lisbon Team 31-0 In Last Game

Wise, Greene, Entriiken, Shea and Lanney Score; Substitutes See Action

The Salem Quakers concluded their football season by defeating the weak Lisbon Blue Devils 31 to 0, last Friday evening at Rielly field. Many Salem substitutes played, and they kept down the score.

Eight seniors played their last game for Salem High. They were: Dick Greene, Ray Wise, Bob Shea, Frank Entriiken, Tom Ryan, "Pete" Davis, Fred Cain, and Jack Smith. Ben Kupka, also a senior, was unable to play because of a broken leg.

The Quakers tallied in the first, second and third quarters. Ray Wise was first to score for Salem when he ran over the goal from the even yard line. Flick Entriiken scored the second touchdown on a 4 yard run through tackle. Bob Shea made the third score as he outran four Lisbon tacklers around right end. In the second half, Dick Greene ran 53 yards, through the Lisbon line, to make the score 24 to 0. This was the longest run of the game. The final score was made by Francis Lanney who caught a blocked kick and ran over the goal standing up. Bob Shea kicked a placement for the only extra point of the game.

The Lisbon Blue Devils threatened twice but were unable to push the ball over the goal. This game ended the most suc-

Huddles with Hoover

By Tony Hoover

Well, the locals had one of their most promising teams in many years this season, with a record of seven wins and a single defeat. The outlook for next year's squad is just as bright with, almost the entire starting line to back next season. The backfield for the coming autumn will have to have some fresh additions, but most of the likely candidates have garnered some sort of experience of the football profession.

The Buckeyes suffered their initial defeat of the season, by being set back at the hands of the High School Reserves with a 12 to 7 score. Sunday was more of a red letter day for the Buckeyes though; they trampled their West End opponents 86 to 18. One severe casualty took place in the fray when Johnny Poznico seriously cracked his right wrist.

Tryouts for the basketball team have been taking place in the gym for any and all boys interested. Mr. Brown has had quite a number of basketballers taken away from the squad for numerous reasons. The long arm of the local draft board has taken their quota, including Dick Greene, Harry Lodge and some doubt is in mind whether "Flying Frank" Entriiken can safely conclude the year before departing for a military career. All of us are aware of the fate of "Duck" De-Jane, and his services on the roundball squad will be seriously missed. He was an exceptionally good left phalange shot and was expected to be quite prominent this year. Ben Kupka will be unable to participate in the initial practice, due to his broken patella and his complete recovery is unpredictable. "Dan"

Dyke was withdrawn from Salem and entered in Ursuline in Youngstown. Dan was a member of the hardwoods five for two years. He was a tall rugged rebounder and could have been put to avail this season, without much trouble. There are the absentees that the Quakers have but the following will return and be on hand to open the season against the ravens of Ravenna: Wise, Entriiken, Brian, Smith, Appedison, Stoudt, Schaffer, Lanney and Jay Leach. The assistant coach position was vacated by Ray Overturf and Mr. Dodge has consented to succeed him.

The Varsity "S" Club is sponsoring a skating party in the near future at the Salem Skateland. This is nothing new as it has been a practice of this organization to have these outings, and they have proved highly successful. Buy your tickets from any club member. The club is to have initiation for the one dozen gridders that received their varsity awards. Sometime this week the operation is to take place and fun shall be had by all who participate. "Hats off" to August Juliano who has finally reached the final rung of his ladder toward a varsity letter. "Auggie" did it the hard way, yes he was a football manager for four long years. Managers do 90 per cent of the work to be done and in return receive 10 per cent of the credit. August is worthy of the reward and had a difficult time this year when he had to run into the dressing room and convert himself from a manager to a red uniformed band member. It kept him busy and he was sorry he missed Mr. Barrets "talks" at half time, especially at Liverpool.

The Quaker salutes the service man of the week. To Albert Wickline we give credit where credit is due. A graduate in '42, he is now missing in action, Albert has two little brothers up here in Salem who I notice are the top bond purchasers in their room. We hope that Albert will be found safe and sound in the near future and come and tell us of his experiences "over there" above the paperhanger's country.

I wish you a thorough Thanksgiving, with cranberries and drum sticks, ART

Twenty Football Men Awarded Letters By Coach Barrett

French Club Holds First Meeting

A program was arranged and conducted by the program committee, which is composed of the club's officers. The program began with a French folk dance led by James Cope. Bill Vignovich read a paper on French Folk music. The next meeting of the club will be held Wednesday, Nov. 24.

A successful season the Quakers have had in ten years. Seven games were won: Sebring, Ravenna, East Palestine, Wellsville, Leetonia, Struthers, and Lisbon. The only loss of the season was to East Liverpool.

Coach Ben Barrett has proved his ability to bring Salem up in the football world. He is well liked by everyone and the hopes for the next season are very bright. Barrett said recently that we will take up where we left off and will take East Liverpool in stride with the best of them.

Cute isn't she. Well, can you believe it, that she is now 17 years old, weighs 120 lbs. and 5 ft. 5 in. tall. Quite some difference isn't there. Or is there. She is very active on the Quaker Editorial Staff and can be found at the Old Hang-out either at noon or after school digging up dirt for the Quaker. Her favorite sport is badminton and she longs to hear Sentimental Lady on the disc, by Duke Ellington. Another thing I can add is that she has red hair. Now you know who she is, don't you. If you don't, you can find it (her name) in the ads.

Junior High News

The Junior High bond and stamp drive to buy a jeep is still going strong. $773.15 worth has been sold up to date. In the individual rooms 8E leads with an average of $3.63 per pupil, 8A with $2.91 per pupil and 8B and 7B with $2.70 are next.

Since the quota may not be reached at the present rate, a new system featuring a picture of Uncle Sam and Hitler is being used. By this method $28 must be sold each day or Hitler's picture will fly higher than Uncle Sam's."

On Friday, November 5th the Junior High attended a pep rally at the High school in charge of Miss Ada Hanna.

Last week after school the following pictures were shown: Tuesday—Reptiles, showing the care and treatment of snake bites; Wednesday—"Nursing" which showed the work involved in that vocation; Friday—Under Southern Stars, a two-reel pictured in technicolor which was about Gen. Jackson, General Lee, and General Hooker at the battle of Chancellorsville in the Civil war.

On Wednesday, Nov. 17, the Junior High was dismissed at 1:30 to see the Senior play in the High school auditorium.

In the campaign to buy a jeep $647.85 worth of war stamps has been sold, leaving a total of less than $518 before the goal can be reached.

Book Week Observed

Shek last spring.

Under the auspices of Miss Lehman and the English teachers, students made numerous posters for Book Week. The best posters are now being displayed in the library showcase and the names of the winners will appear in the next issue of The Quaker.

New books ordered for Book Week were on display and special book-marks were distributed during the week.

After school on Wednesday the library held open house and volunteers from the English II classes presented a Round Table on best-sellers published during the last several years. Anyone interested was invited to attend. Those who participated in the Round Table and the books they reviewed were as follows:
