Approx. 300 Books Taken Out of Lib. In 1st Two Weeks

Miss Lehman, school librarian, announces that approximately 300 books were taken out by students during the first two weeks of school. These do not include books used in the library while students are there for their two assigned periods per week. Many of the books now circulated are being read for book reports and some of them are the new fiction purchased this fall.

Freshman library classes will begin in October. These classes will meet in the library for one week in place of English I classes.

No Out-of-Town Performances To Be Given By Band

Due to transportation problems, the band will not perform at out-of-town football games, Mr. Brautigam, band director announced. This will enable the band to spend more time in practice for the home game performances.

Mr. Brautigam plans to put on a novelty performance for the Leetonia game. Most of the act will be shown under regular lights although some work will be done under fluorescent lights.

How To Apply For Examination For Army Air Crew Training

This is how a young man can find out whether or not he can fly and fight in the Aviation branch of the Armed Forces.

1. Go to any Aviation Cadet Examining Board (usually located in the Postoffice or Federal building in important cities and also at most Air Force stations) and apply for examination. This examination will consist of two parts. (A) mental, and (B) physical. If the applicant passes the examination, he will be given a letter addressed to the commanding officer of the Armed Forces Induction Station, stating that he is considered to be quali-

Mr. C.E. Jones to Present 'The Top' in an Assembly Next Thursday Morning

Former Science Teacher To Present Assembly Of Gyroscopes To Student Body

Mr. C. E. Jones, former science teacher, will present an assembly to the student body, next Thursday morning, Oct. 7.

"The Tops" is the title Mr. Jones uses for his program of gyroscopes. On the stage he will demonstrate the gyroscope top, gyroscope compass, gyroscope stabilizer, monorail streetcar, wrestling gyroscope and autogyro.

A part of this demonstration will be a wrestling bout between a 26-pound top and a strong boy selected from the audience.

Another interesting feature is to be when a monorail street car runs on a single track over the heads of the audience.

The program will be given in the first period.

Boys' Gym Classes Increased 6 Periods To Take Care of Jrs.

Since junior boys have been required to take physical education this year, the number of boys' gym classes has been increased to 16 periods per week, compared to the 10 periods a week given last year. Each boy attends two periods a week.

The boys have been going to Reilly field to play soccer. This type of game is a "builder-upper" and it is hoped that this game, as well as touch football, can be played outdoors until the first of December or until the first snow falls.

Some people have been curious as to why the gym classes do not go military entirely. To quote Sec'y of War Henry L. Stimson:

"The amount of military drill which can be given in schools and colleges can also be given after induction into the army in a relatively short period of time, and under the most productive circumstances. A good physical condition, however, cannot be developed in so short a space of time, and the physical condition of a soldier is of prime importance to the War Department.

"The War Department therefore does not recommend that military drill take the place of physical education in the schools and colleges during this war period."

Rabbit and Dove Among Specimens Brought to Class

A rabbit brought by Lloyd Harroff and a dove with a broken wing, brought by Douglas Huttonower headed the list of specimens brought to Biology class this week, it was announced by Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Matthews, class instructors.

Mrs. Matthews also displayed a comb moss animal called a bryozoan. It is a mass of jelly-like substance, covered with a layer of small animal bodies.

Approximately 50 Try Out For Cheerleading

Approximately 50 students tried out for cheerleading last week.

Miss Hanna made no definite decisions concerning permanent cheer leaders, but selected June Kelly, Helen Oana, Tony Hoover and Paul Englert to perform for the Salem-Ravenna game last Friday. These appointments are only temporary, however.

Foods Classes To Continue Study of Food Preservation

Food preservation is being studied and practiced in Mrs. W. L. Strain's foods classes.

Any contribution of fruits and vegetables for canning purposes will be greatly appreciated, Mrs. Strain said.

A bushel of peaches were given to the class the other day by Jean Baker. Mrs. Strain's classes will continue the study of Food Preservation for some time yet.

In previous years a small portion of the Quaker has contained a student opinion column. The present staff wish to resume this idea but it can only be made possible by letters sent into the Quaker office by the students.

If you have any ideas that will brighten up the Quaker, or any constructive criticisms of the Quaker, or the school, they will gladly be accepted.

Send your letters to the Quaker office with your name attached to the article, but when printed in the Quaker your name will not be attached unless you request that it be.

Boy Of Yesterday Is Seasoned Veteran Of Today

A boy who was once a happy-go-lucky high school lad in a zoot suit is now garbed in a khaki uniform. He still has that same sense of humor and that same friendly smile to those who view him outwardly.

But those closer to him notice a change. He no longer accepts war as a thing he reads about in books. He accepts it as it is, for he was at the battle of El Guita and Salerno.

This boy knows that his life was spared only because of superior instruments of war and destruction and because of their arrival in unbelievable quantities not too late, but on time.

This boy realizes that there was no "too little and too late" of this battle, only because those on the home front are speeding up the production and buying their quota plus, of war savings stamps and bonds.

This boy, as a soldier of the United States of America, also realizes that he and all his comrades are not finished. He knows that this is only the beginning of the end, and, without continued support from the home front, there may yet be the end of the beginning and once more the start of defeat. Defeat such as was handed the Allies in Libya, Malaya, and at Dunkirk.

This soldier knows that everyone in America must back the attack, or once more all will be lost, including the precious lives of the soldiers of freedom for many years to come!

Everyone on the home front must prove that America will not become too overconfident and lax, and that she will not fall into a rut of complacency.

Everyone must and will back the attack with war bonds and stamps to help their soldier and millions of other soldiers in their fight for world democracy!

An absent-minded man was interrupted as he was finishing a letter to his wife. As a result the signature read:

Your Loving Husband,
Hopkins Bros.

Kultur

Herr Hammerschledel (winding up the argument) —"I think you iss a stupid fool!"

Monsieur—"I sink you a polite gentleman; but possible, it, is we both mistake it."

"I suffer so from insomnia that I don't know what to do."

"Oh, my dear, if you could only talk to my husband a little."

"He's an honest young man," said the saloon keeper with an approving smile. "He sold his vote to pay for his whisky bill."

Treasure Hunts Prove Not To Be Things of Past

"Look what I found!" cried Bobby Cibula to Gene Howell as they were attempting to climb the side of their ancient stone barn; and he pulled a small, tattered piece of paper from a niche in the wall.

Rushing to Bobby, Gene grabbed the paper and unrolled it, ending with the exclamation, "Look, it's a pirate's treasure map. It has a skull and cross bones on it and even an X to mark the spot!"

Upon further examination it revealed all the houses and lots of that neighborhood in the small town.

Becoming very much excited and enthusiastic, the boys continued with the directions which began, in a scrolled, ancient looking script. "First start on a night when the moon is full!"

Eagerly they waited until the full moon, and sneaking silently out of the house at midnight, as the directions had stated, the boys began their hunt.

They proceeded first to the graveyard and passed stealthily through it, scarcely daring to breathe. As they approached the far gate a figure loomed up before them!

"A ghost!" yelled Bobby, "Run!" "Naw," said Gene, "it's only a vampire."

Realizing what he had said, Gene turned to go, only to find an owl perched in front of a street light.

With bats gliding overhead, the boys continued through the cemetery's creaking gate, up the moonlit lane, still fearing that Captain Kid's ghost would arise from his grave.

Upon reaching the spot marked "X," and finding it to be their own side yard, the boys began to dig silently so as not to awaken any members of the household.

Finally Bobby hit something hard. Feeling around in the dirt for a few minutes he emerged with a brown glass bottle bearing the label "England's 1642 Health Coke, the Drink Of Sir Walter Raleigh and Sir Francis Drake."

Thinking this must be a wonderful solution, the boys opened the bottle and both of them took a long draught. They were stupefied as to how good they must have made drinks back in Queen Liz-zie's court.

Lots of Laughs In Swing Shift "Maisie"

After seeing "Swing Shift Maisie" last Thursday I have come to the conclusion that there is one, and only one Maisie.

The type of dress Maisie goes for is a bit on the extreme side, but cute. The one straw hat she has worn since the first of the "Maisie" series, never looks exactly the same but it is. Once it was decorated with a spray of flowers, and then again a bunch of beautiful fruits was perched atop this luscious bonnet. Everything has been employed from bows to broom handles. Her dresses are amusing, but confusing since the bows, lace and ruffles almost hide our dear Maisie.

"Butch," Maisie's pet dog, was everywhere that Maisie was in the latest account of her escapades. He even put in an application at the same defense plant, but he had no experience and was therefore rejected.

Now take the dress Maisie gave the Colored maid at the boarding house. It was black and had some beautiful white stuff at the bottom and a white parasol to accompany the gown. It really looked sharp.

Whenever you are down in the dumps and want to laugh yourself crazy just go see "Maisie".

Another week and another thirty-five periods to the good. When the facts of this statement stare us in the face, it means just one thing; a battered piece of "literature," namely this column. I'm off in a cloud again, studes, so accompany me.

BACK TO NATURE

This summer camping seemed to be the most active sport. The local S. C. C. was the most popular hangout for those nature loving people. Yes, camping has its 'ups' and definitely has its 'downs'. Just ask Bill Stratton and George Ursu. Their dividends for getting back to Nature were: Hayfever, asthma, poison ivy, mosquito bites, rose fever, and last, but far from least, ingrown eyelashes.

APOLOGY DUE

Don't think this isn't taking nerve on my part 'cause it is. You see last week I ribbed the Frosh of some of their fantastic tactics. Since then a little incident happened to me, causing quite a commotion and razzing for my benefit. Therefore, a public apology is due to the younger generation in the establishment for the digging they've been getting from yours truly. So I did walk in and sit down in an American History class! So what!!!

Send somebody out to kill the poet who so intelligently thought up the following:

The gum-chewing girl
And the cud-chewing cow
Are somewhat alike
Yet different somehow.
What difference?
Yes, yes I see it now
It's the thoughtful look
On the face of the cow.

CUPID'S CHOICE

This affair is one of those old things done over; and in a big way. Everyone's happy about the whole thing. Especially the two love birds. They sure are a cute couple. Haven't you guessed it yet? It's none other than Bill "krunk" Stratton and Sis Mullins. Here's to you, kids!!

DISCOVERY OF THE CENTURY

Guess what? Red Zeck doesn't like to be called "Red". Sorry Red it won't happen again. He threatens to dye his hair if that name isn't abolished but quick! So, I guess if we don't want a freak in our midst we better not call Red "Red" anymore.

Speaking of this hunk of manhood, from all reports (all of them being Alma Alton) he has a cute brother who is an ardent member of the Freshman class. Leave it to Alma to make a discovery like that!

BOOGIE WOOGIE BOY

Have you ever gandered at Jerry Bingham's footwork when he's cutting a rug to some boogie woogie jive? If you haven't you're really missing something because it's a little bit of all right. He can really go to town with his Zuit Suit and his favorite girl. He won't disclose her name, so I can't give with the info as yet.

Well, so long, until next week. I'll leave you with this thought in mind: Making love is like making pie, all you need is crust and a lot of apple sauce.

So Proudly We Hail

So proudly we hail the nurses of Bataan and Corregidor and every other far-flung continent and island. We salute these angels of mercy that are giving their lives and talent to a great cause. They are giving so that America may stay the great and free democracy that it is. The time they spend in these far distant places is the time that will not easily be forgotten. They have, and are, living under conditions unknown to most of us. They have worked long, hard hours, sometimes until they have collapsed from fatigue.

Girls, when you are thinking of what profession to make your life's work, remember that nurses are needed in peace as well as in war. The satisfaction in knowing that you have helped to save the life of some person will be your reward.

Nursing offers much to girls. Mental and physical therapy are quickly becoming popular courses for nurses. Innumerable fields are open to the willing, ambitious girls of today. Investigate the situation and see if you are one of the girls that will help to carry on the profession started by Florence Nightingale, the first angel of mercy.

Quakers To Invade East Palestine For First Time Since Last Game in 1936

Quakers Will Try To Nullify 26-0 Defeat Handed To Them by Bull Dogs In 1936

The Salem Quakers will invade East Palestine to play the Bull Dogs at their home stadium tonight. The opening kickoff is at 7:45 p. m. The Quakers are out to nullify the 26 to 0 defeat in 1936 at the hands of East Palestine. Tonight will be the first time the two squads have clashed since then.

The Palestine squad, coached by Howard Parker, will be after its second win of the season. They defeated Sebring 16 to 6 and lost to Getonia 26 to 6. The five Bull Dog starters are Gorby, Torrence, Kraus, Peterson and Ulrich. Gorby, 189 pound fullback has smashed through the opponents line to score most of Palestine's points. Al Torrence, an outstanding quarterback is also tallied for East Palestine.

Westmen, of East Palestine, will be missing from the lineup because of a bad knee.

Coach Barrett is not sure whether Walt Brian, who dislocated his shoulder in the Ravenna game, will start for Salem tonight. It is doubtful that Flick Entriiken will start but he may be used for passing and kicking.

Mechanical Drawing Classes Draw Figures

Mechanical drawing students, under the supervision of instructor Miss Ada Hanna, have been occupying their time by constructing figures, while awaiting the arrival of their new work instruments. The students are learning to draw the nice figures that go with "geometry", stated Miss Hanna.

GYM CLASSES ORGANIZE FOR YEAR

Sara Hanna, Girls' physical education instructor, reports that gym classes have been becoming organized and assigned to squads, the past few weeks.

Hanna, also adviser to the club, announces that the athletic club has been making plans for conducting hikes and penny races in the near future. The G.A.A. meets on the first day of each month.

How To Apply For Examination

- Go to his Selective Service Board and volunteer for induction. (No applicant can volunteer for induction after he has been called in his regular order number for induction by his Selective Service Board.)
- If he is accepted as a volunteer for induction, the Selective Service Board will send him to an Armed Forces Induction Station for induction into the Army of the United States.
- At the Armed Forces Induction Station, present the letter from the Aviation Cadet Examining Board addressed to the Commanding Officer, Armed Forces Induction Station.

Upon induction the applicant will be assigned to a Technical Training Command Basic Training Center for processing, after which he will be sent to a selected college for a five-month preparatory pre-flight training. The academic portion of this course will comprise mathematics, physics, geography, modern history, and English. An applicant whose educational qualifications are such as to make unnecessary the preparatory academic training course may be exempted from it, in which case he will be sent to the Technical Command Basic Training Center for testing and classification. There he will be given comprehensive psychological and physical examinations to determine in detail his aptitude for bombardier, navigator, or pilot training. If he passes these tests successfully, he will be appointed an Aviation Cadet and sent to an Air Force Training Center to begin the type of air crew training for which he appears best adapted. If, however, the test indicates that he does possess sufficient aptitude or is not physically qualified for air crew training, he will not be appointed an Aviation Cadet, but will be assigned to another type of work.

Huddles with Hoover

By Tony Hoover

Quaker fans saw an authentic gridiron test last Friday night, when the locals overcame a 13 to 0 handicap in the latter two periods to tally 14 markers and establish them a record of two wins against no reverses. It was "Wristy" Greene all the way for the conquerors who combined superb broken field running with flawless defensive play.

It is safe and definite to say that the New York Yankees have repeated once again to be the pennant holders of the American league. To date it is rather dubious whether the Cleveland "Redskins" will end up in second place, as the team has developed some internal troubles along with some poor ball playing.

Toppers are tipped this week to "Geezel" Tullis who, in the Ravenna tilt, intercepted a forward pass and scampered in true gridiron fashion goalward until he was knocked out of bounds. This was the first pass that Tullis has intercepted in a scholastic view and possesses indications of being a backfield threat for the future.

Sunday last, the impressive Sheen Bulldogs were handed their initial defeat, at the hands of the Buckeye A. C.'s by the tune of 26 to 0. Paul Englert proved to be the defensive sparkplug for the winners, with Dario Donofrio taking the spotlight for the losers.

Wellsville was set back 27 to nothing last Friday and may not prove to be such an able contender for the county championship was first considered. Liverpool also dropped their weekend engagement to Steubenville. Salem will not be forgotten when contenders for the county championship are being terminated.

Freshmen football heroes are in abundance this year and know where to start when it comes to girls. Hurck Alexander and Bob Hodge are two of the backfield mainstays on the J. V's., but both are eyeing the same lassie, consequently both are trying hard to out do the other in practice. Ah! yes, what price love?

All readers of this corner that participate in exera-curriculum please note; Don't let your studies interfere with your high school education. Please don't take the above serious as it is just advice for those who don't come to school any more.

With love and kisses and more of the latter.

Arthur C. Hoover.

Treasure Hunt

After finishing the entire bottle, the boys decided to burry it again and say nothing more about it.

The next morning their mother remarked to father, "Your scheme worked! I sat up at the side window and watched the boys drink down every drop of their cod liver oil!"

(Any resemblance between the names of those used in this story and those of real persons is purely intentional.)

"I shall put you two fellows in this room," said the host. "You'll have a comfortable night, for it has a feather bed."

At two o'clock in the morning one of the guests woke his companion. "Change places with me, Dick," he groaned. "It's my turn to be on the feather."

Quakers Tally 14 Points in 3rd Quarter to Win

Capt. Knobby Greene Leads Scoring With 14 Points

Coach Ben Barrett's Quakers won a 14 to 13 victory over the Ravenna Ravens, last Friday night at Reilly Stadium before an audience of 5,000. The Quakers, trailing at the half 13 to 0, made two touchdowns and two very valuable extra points in the third quarter.

Captain Knobby Greene led the Quakers by scoring all fourteen points and playing a very fine defensive game.

Schafer of Ravenna was a continuous threat to the Salem team with his long accurate passes.

Ravenna scored early in the game on a pass from Schafer to Mattison. Mascio converted for the extra point. The Ravens' second score was made on another pass from Schaefer to Fleishman.

Early in the third quarter Knobby Green raced 27 yards to score Salem's first touchdown. Greene's conversion was good. A march from Salem's own 9 yard line was concluded when Greene ran 52 yards for the Quakers' second touchdown. His kick for the extra point was good.

The game was exciting and the crowd was on its feet time and again. The final result was uncertain until the very end.

Below is a letter written by Pvt. Walter Vansickle, who graduated last year, to Miss Ethel Beardmore, German and history teacher in Salem High. Pvt. Vansickle is stationed at Camp Gruber, Oklahoma. Dear Miss Beardmore:

I was able to read your letter between gusts of dust. It is so dusty that if a glass of water remains uncovered for more than five minutes it is muddy. One day Texas blows past and the following Oklahoma just blows around in circles. Dry stream beds are quite prevalent. In my opinion the surrounding country is so desolate that the gophers have left the region. Local yokels (natives) claim that they farm the country. Camp Gruber is located in the northeastern part of the state in the Cooksome hills. I understand that this region was once noted as a hideout for notorious bandits. My outfit is the Rainbow Division of World War I fame.

On Monday evening we went on a hike, slept in the bivouac area, and returned Tuesday afternoon. I did not learn how hard the ground was because I was on guard duty most of the night. The fellows were in pup tents, but I had to sleep in the open during my relief period. I don't dislike the army, but would rather be home.

So long,
WALT VANSICKLE

Walter Combs, of the U.S. Navy, a former Salem High student, returned recently from a trip over seas. He tells about it in his own words.

"I worked on the engineering crew. We had to see that everything was kept running in ship-shape order. My ship was the destroyer Kearney and we were part of a convoy, and we could see the other ships from horizon to horizon.

"On our way over we ran into a few storms and many boys were sea-sick. I have never been sea-sick yet. If other ships would contact any enemy subs, they would send out planes if the sub was far enough away or send a battle ship after it. Usually the subs would beat it because they were afraid of us.

"Where I went I saw territory taken over by the Allies and the damage that was done.

"I believe that the present Senior class of boys will be in the service but the war will be over before they can see any action. I hope we finish this war quickly, because I, and all other boys in the service want to get back home soon."

Walter is expecting to be sent out again in a few weeks.

"When Wilbur brings his report card home do you always sign it with an X?"

"I don't want the teacher to think that anyone who can read and write would have a son like that."

I called up a friend in Washington and said, "Where can I get a room tonight?" He said, "Where are you calling from?" I told him a telephone booth and he said, "Happy dreams!"

Personalities In Salem High School

The girl of the week is Barbara Jean Butler. Barb is 5 ft. 4½ in. tall and weighs ??? lbs. (See if you can get her to tell you her weight. She's reluctant to tell).

Barb's favorite disc is H. James playing "I Heard You Cried Last Night." She is a member of the band and is very enthusiastic about football.

As soon as she graduates (this year) Barb plans to enter nurses' training or to take a beautician's course.

For any further information about Barb, just drop in at one of her favorite hangouts after school, and she will be glad to tell you all about herself. (Oh yea!)

The Senior boy of the week is Paul Francis Englert. Paul weighs 145 lbs., stands 5 feet 6 inches tall, and has brown hair and brown eyes. In case you're interested, Paul's favorites are "Queenie", "Pepsi", and Harry James. (Paul has never heard of Frank Sinatra).

Paul doesn't go out for any of the school sports, because he says you can't win and be a bum, and a bum is what Paul wants to be.

He does have a favorite sport though. It is ice skating. So he asks you all to come out sometime this winter and see his wonderful exhibitions.

Jean Redinger, better known as Jeanne to her friends, is a very snappy little freshman gal. She is five feet two inches tall, weighs ninety-two pounds, has dark brown hair and eyes, and a pair of beguiling dimples.

She likes to swim, dance, and collect pictures of movie stars. She also has a secret passion for a certain Junior lad. For further information, see Jeanne.

Jeanne is a drum majorette, and does a mighty fine job with the band, don't you think?

Gordon Field is another one of the nice things that comes in a small package. He is a Freshman, just five feet one inch tall, weighs 95 pounds, has black hair and brown eyes.

Bud, as he is called by those who know him, is the manager of the varsity football team, and says he would rather play football than eat.

He is usually seen with his boy friends, Morris Hollinger and Jerry Kaufman.

As for the girls, he keeps them all happy. That sounds like Brother Lloyd doesn't it?

An Irish patriot once remarked that every man should love his native land, whether he was born there or not.

"My dear," said the head of the household trying to carve the evening meat, "what did you use to buy this steak...your 18 coupon?"

Doctor — Why do you have BF76552 tattooed on your back.

Patient — That's not tattooed, that's where my wife ran into me with the car when I was shutting the garage.

A Scotchman and his son were listening to the Sunday Church services over the radio, when all at once the Scotchman yelled "quick, turn it off, son." The little boy asked him why and the Scotchman replied, "They are about to take up the collection."

All the beginners in grade school were to bring their birth certificates with them when they came. This one little boy came up to the teacher and was crying very hard. The teacher asked him why he was crying and the little boy answered "I forgot my excuse for being born."

Ding, dong, ding dong,
That is the sound of a bell.
To some people it sounds like heaven,
But to me it sounds like—Ding dong, ding dong.
