Journalism Meeting Off Due To 'Flu'

The second meeting of Student Journalists scheduled for Dec. 5 was reported called off by Mr. R. W. Hilgendorf, president of the Tri-County Journalism Association. Miss Lovina Newlin, secretary of the Association, notified Mr. Hilgendorf of the cancellation on Dec. 3rd. Their reason for postponement was the influenza epidemic which made it impossible for many of the schools to attend.

Thorpe Completes Teslacoil In Lab

Munsen Thorpe has just completed in the physics laboratory a teslacoil which operates on the principle of electrical resonance. Electrical resonance is an intensification of electric waves similar to the increase of sound waves. The teslacoil was made from an old apparatus which was taken apart, repaired, and reassembled. It is an instrument invented by Nichol Tesla to produce high frequency voltage.

Wall Writing! Disgusting Habit

Writing on the walls is a most disgusting thing, especially in school. At school the property belongs to all of us, and it isn't for any one person to scribble his name all over it.

In the dressing rooms the walls are covered with who loves who and the walls of the corridors are "plastered" with pencil and lipstick marks. It looks awful, I can assure you.

Anyone coming in to the school would certainly wonder what kind of students S.H.S. has.

There is only one saying that covers it all: Remember, "Fools' names and fools' faces always appear in public places."

Opportunity Of Life Time

Hurry, hurry, hurry everybody! There isn't much time left for you to take advantage of the best bargain in history. A $25 value for only $18.75. Dec. 20 is the end of the eighth and last war loan of World War II. After this date you will not be able to loan your money to help your country and then receive more in return than you loaned. The money you loan to the government in the present drive is to help cure Purple Heart heroes. Your money will enable these veterans to obtain treatment at hospitals such as Crile, John Hopkins and the Mayo Clinic. You've loaned money to help America win her peace; now loan her your money to help her win the peace!

FADS 'N FASHIONS

By LOIS AND NIKI

Hi, there!

The very thought of Christmas so close sends us into shivers of excitement. Do you realize that there are only 14 more shopping days until Christmas? We know just how hard it is for you to buy presents for everyone, so we have looked around and have gained a few suggestions as to gifts, for:

Dad—

How about a shaving set? The handy set includes shaving lotion, shaving soap, and hair dressing. Of course, if this doesn't appeal to you, you always have the old standbys: shirts (if you can get them), ties, socks, pajamas, etc.

Mother—

Mother is always too easy to please because she usually wants something for the house. But why not be different this year? Give her a pleasant surprise by presenting her with something ultra-feminine? A fluffy lingerie set would suit this purpose. Or else, why not try cologne or a bath accessories set?

Sis (or your girl friend)—

The 'teen aged girl of these times commands a lot more attention than ever before. For her Christmas, she wants something that will add to her "glamor". Since she uses both nail polish and lipstick, you may please her with a matched set of those popular cosmetics. Another thing that she likes is bracelets. Rhinestone, silver, identification, Indian, charm, link—well, any kind of bracelets. Or also try bath salts, hand lotion, sweaters, and so forth.

The "Someone" in the Service—

The boys and the girls in the armed forces are perhaps the hardest to buy gifts for because they get most of their necessities from the government, but what service man wouldn't like a good-looking signet ring, or a shiny identification bracelet, or a sturdy wallet? The service woman would greatly appreciate a pair of sheer hose or else a soft, full neck scarf.

We really hope that you have at least gained a hint of what to buy for Christmas from this list of suggestions. (Added thought: Don't forget to mail all your packages early!)

Class Parties

The main attractions of last Thursday and Friday nights were the Junior and Senior and the Freshman and Sophomore parties. Some very adorable clothes were seen on the dance floor, worn by some very adorable girls. For instance:

Girl of the Week—The girl of the week is a pretty Senior. She has the most beautiful pair of flashing brown eyes for many miles around. She is the owner of a darling wardrobe of skirts, sweaters, and dresses. Her heart belongs to a certain Marine in the nation's capital. Of course, you know who it is: Elaine Abe.

Well, the time has come for us to leave you, but, as a parting thought, we want to wish all the luck to Miller's Mighty and Magnificent Men of Muscle in tomorrow's game.

Till then,
LOIS AND NIKI.

JUERGENS JOURNAL

BY JO

First of all, I want to dedicate this column to my good friend, Dolly Ferko, for reasons you will discover as you read further!

The junior-senior party was quite a success, and everybody seemed to be having a swell time. Doris Flirto's composition on "Cooperation" was pretty good. But what I'd like to know is, just where did she get the idea for it? Could it have been at one of those many parties? By the way, if you're wondering who the newly-named "Miss Cooperation of 1945" is, it's the author of before-mentioned composition.

Congratulations to Helen Pike and "Bubbles" Edgerton for winning the jitterbug contest at the party. And also to Donna Lopeman and Nancy Lesick for being the best waltzers. You know, it's a good thing the judges didn't decide that Harv and Cathie Scullion were the best, because it certainly would have been a little silly to give them tickets to the theater, wouldn't it?

OUT OF MY MAILBOX: What has come over Mert Cody lately? Someone wants to know. 'Cause, for almost four years, Mert has had little or nothing to do with girls, but the other night he turned up with a date. Who, you ask? It was Miss Cooperation of 1945.

Don Rosing will be sorry. He's promised to let "Doris Flirto" drive all the way to Cleveland in the near future. (Now do you see why I dedicated this week's gab to Dolly?)

Note to Steve Cibula: Some of the boys want to know what your fatal attraction for those freshman girls is. My word, I think I'd better start writing an advice to the lovelorn column!

Again there are quite a few birthdays, so here we go: Today is shared by Phyllis Murphy and Pat Lutz. And on December 8: Esther and Marion Callatone, Marion Faini and Joe Viola. And Ruth Poppel's is on the 9th.

ODDS AND ENDS

Comment: Teachers should have more birthdays. It's sure one good way to get out of work. And they should also be as good sports as Miss Bickle was when her stenography class surprised her on the day before her birthday (which fell on Thanksgiving, by the way) with a cake with 17 lighted candles (one for each of the girls in the class) and a pretty pin and hanky. Of course, the class shared the cake. Natchery! . . . Big open house farewell party for Alumni George Equize, who left for the army this week. Everybody and his uncle was at the party last Saturday night. . . . More parties, this one quite a while ago, at Shirlee Bennett's house. Many people from out of Salem, but those from here who were there: Ruth Mayhew, Phyllis Murphy, Pat Hunter, Bill Tolson.

Quaker Quintet Opens 1945 Home Campaign Against Columbiana

Newell Only Holdover from Last Year's Team; Hollinger, Pager, Martinelli, Cibula, Pridon Start

Tomorrow night the Quaker quintet collides with the remains of last year's state runners-up. Although the Columbiana squad is considerably depleted, there are enough remains to make John Cabas another better than average squad. Bill Newell is the only regular from last year, but Bob Hum and Rich Berryman are lettermen and both saw considerable action.

To complete the team the Cabos has members of a reserve outfit which has been unbeaten for the past three years. Don Lipe, Dick Reinehr, Carl Sheets, Lee Thomas, Bill Poulton and Don Esenwein stack up as the members most likely to see action.

The rangy Salem team is expected to control the backboards but will have plenty of trouble stopping the lightning-like fast-break of the Clippers.

Coach Miller is expected to string along with his starting lineup of Bob Pager at center, Moe Hollinger and John Pridon, forwards, and Tony Martinelli and Steve Cibula at the guard posts. The results of the Salem-Ravenna and Columbiana-Fairfield games played Tuesday night were not known at this writing but the Clippers were overwhelming favorites to cop their inaugural battle while the Quaker-Raven affair was rated as a tossup.

Lisbon Second Foe At Home

Next Tuesday night the Quakers meet the Lisbon Blue Devils in their second home game of the year. Results of previous Salem games are unknown at this writing while the Lisbon quintet submerged Goshen Township in their opener last week.

The mainstays of the Lisbon outfit are Ed Petucki and Jim Wetzel while several other lettermen are back from last year's aggregation.

The Blue Devils employ the slow break as compared to the fast break of the Quaker offense.

A close battle is expected although the smallness of the local gym may give the advantage, if any, to the rangy Quaker quintet.

Bob Pager, Moe Hollinger, John Pridon, Tony Martinelli and Steve Cibula are expected to start for Salem.

Walken Along The Sport Scene

BY HARV

FROM THE BENCH

One thing is certain
And that's this retort:
You can't settle a basketball case

Out of court.

This famous remark comes by way of government class. (You're welcome, Mr. Guiler.)

Yes, basketball season is here again, the 1945-46 edition of the Salem Quakers (who appear henceforth as Miller's Killers) opened their campaign against Ravenna Tuesday night. The result is unknown at this writing but a close game was expected.

This year Coach Miller has had to rebuild an entirely new quintet due to the fact that none of last season's crack team (17 wins, 4 losses) is back.

Capt. Moe Hollinger, John Pridon, Bob Pager, Steve Cibula, Tony Martinelli, Lowell Myers, Jim Laughlin, Butch Roth, John Oana, and Ben Bruderly are expected to be the mainstays of the Red and Black squad although other courtmen may change this list.

During the 1945-46 campaign, Mr. Miller is blessed with practically two squads of equal ability. The substitutes are practically as good as the starters and many changes are expected during the season. The local five will feature the fast break, plenty of height and an abundance of reserve strength. In fact you might say the Quakers have a substitute for everything but sleep and condition, which, by the way are really (Really, that is) being stressed (stressed, that is) this year by Coaches Miller and Tarr. In a year when few or no lettermen prevail, condition is exceptionally important to each player since it can mean the difference between a starter and substitute. Condition has made the difference in many close battles and has molder champions. Without, it ability means little. Strict training rules may be of as much aid this season to the Quakers as any other single factor. Being alert and awake at all times, the results of good condition, may spell the difference in many cases during the long 18 game schedule.

Saturday night the Killers open their homestand against the Columbiana Clippers.

Christmas is coming
And the Quakers insist
Putting the Clippers
On their copping list.

Short Tales

Watch out for Elyria, Mansfield, Youngstown, Ursuline, East Liverpool, Middleton, Niles and Canton Lehman this year... The hunting season was a high success this year judging from the number of blue and white admittance slips that were floating around. The Hunting prize of 1945 goes to Duane Yeagley and Dan Smith who each popped off half a pheasant. "Dune" shot the bird and Dan "got the bird" (after a quarterback sneak of about a half a mile.) Bob Roessler (who got a "brown" slip to go to the dentist) receives second prize. He had to go to the dentist during one afternoon because of an aching tooth and couldn't get away to go hunting. Well, so long till next time,

Hollinger Elected Basketball Captain

According to the results of an election held by the Salem varsity basketball team last week, Morris (Moe) Hollinger, Senior, was elected to the captaincy for the 1945-6 season.

Hollinger, a former member of the frosh and reserve squads and last year a substitute on the powerful Red and Black first string, is expected to be a main cog in the Quaker attack this season and will operate from either a center or forward position.

Education Prepares For Future Life

Education is supposed to be a form of training designed to prepare the youths of our country for their responsibilities as adult citizens. From one point of view it is a continuous process lasting from birth until death. The schools simplify and speed up a part of the work, thereby saving valuable time for other things.

The primary purpose of all education is to enable us to understand the environment in which we live, in order that we may conduct ourselves to the best advantage in it. Such being the case, a change in our environment is accompanied by changes in our educational system. Schools and courses of study that were suitable for American people when almost everybody lived on farms or in small villages have been revised to fit the needs of modern city life.

Since 1875 better equipped elementary schools have been erected; free secondary schools have been established; and opportunities for college education have been enlarged and made accessible to all classes of society.

Who's Who In Library

If you happen to pass the Central Clinic about four p. m. some day, you may catch a glimpse of a certain senior girl who is a student librarian and whose home room is 207. She is a nurse's aide at the Clinic and finds the work especially interesting because she intends to make a career of nursing.

She was born in Salem on February 28, seventeen years ago. She is 5 feet, 6 inches tall, has blonde hair and green eyes; is attractive and intelligent. Collecting books and records is her favorite hobby.

Perhaps by now you have guessed—Ruth Baltorinic. Ruth is one of the girls who donate their services to the library. You will hear about the others in later issues of the Quaker.

Character

Our most outstanding character this week is a tall, blond-haired senior boy who takes a definite interest in a sophomore (female).

He spends most of his time at the local hangouts, and a small per cent of his time is spent at a prominent clothing store.

The band is grateful for his most exclusive accompaniment and our character is thankful for the band credits.
