Betty Whaley, Helen Chitea, Martha Whinnery Selected As 1945-6 Cheerleaders

Appointments Made Following Try-Out Assembly; Fifteen Teachers, Students Act As Judges

Helen Chitea, Betty Whaley, and Martha Whinnery were chosen as cheerleaders at an assembly held Wednesday, Sept. 19, in the auditorium. A group of fifteen judges, made up of both teachers and students, were scattered throughout the audience.

There were twelve girls trying out for the post of cheerleaders. They tried out alone and in teams. They included Pat Cosgrove, Helen Chitea, Jean Cosgarea, Betty Whaley, Donna Lopeman, Betty Rynaik, Evelyn Nicholson, Gertie Zerbs, and Connie Petrucci.

"It was a very hard decision for the judges to make," Miss Weeks said. She also stated the cheerleaders would be without costumes for a couple of weeks until new ones can be made. The costumes are expected to be gold and white.

The new cheerleaders were on hand for last Friday's game and will be at the game tonight.

Convention Held In Cleveland

The Northeastern Ohio Teacher's Convention will take place in Cleveland on Friday, Oct. 26th. The convention is attended by more than 15,000 teachers annually.

The theme this year is "Emotional Reactions and Growth." Bishop G. Bromley Oxman, President of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America will be the speaker for the general session at the Cleveland Public Auditorium.

At the afternoon sessions various phases of the theme will be discussed by nationally known leaders in the educational field.

New Freshman Class Advisor Chosen

Miss Sara Doxsee, Salem High typing and shorthand instructor has been appointed freshman class advisor to replace Miss Sara Hanna who has been granted a leave of absence to continue her college work.

Other class advisors are as follows: Sophomore, Miss Redinger; Junior, Mr. Henning; and Senior, Miss Hollett.

Supervisors selected for extra curricular activities for the 1945-46 school year are GAA, Miss Ada Hanna; Hi-Tri, Miss Bickel and Miss Johnson; Cheerleaders, Miss Weeks and Play coaches, Mrs. Tarr and Miss Cope.

Extend Sympathy

The faculty and student body extend their deepest sympathy to Joy Chessman, whose mother died recently.

First Association Assembly Held

Harry C. White, noted scientist, demonstrator, and philosopher, presented an association assembly about light on the 28th of September. The nature of his lecture pertained not only to the man of science today, but to the men and women of the dark ages who helped to combat physical darkness.

In his lecture he used lamps dating back to man's first type of light to the present day electric lamps.

His varied equipment which showed the wonders of modern electricity is worth thousands of dollars.

Mr. White's ability of winning attention and interest kept Salem High students on the edge of their seats throughout the entire performance.

Fluorescent Lights Used For First Time

The Salem High School band performed for the first time this season under the fluorescent lights at the Salem-Ravenna football game last Friday night.

Mrs. Brautigam made special jackets of yellow fluorescent material to cover the pom poms on the hats of the band members.

The yellow bobs were produced by special mercury are black spotlights mounted on the platform in front of the band stand. This ray brings out the fluorescence in the special material used for these performances.

The band formed a revolving "S" on the Salem side, and an R.H.S. on the Ravenna side. The respective alma maters were played on each side.

Mr. Brautigam is planning to take the drum major and majorettes to the Canton Lincoln-Massillon football game on Sept. 28.

The band will not go to the East Palestine football game, but is working on the formations for the Leetonia game.

Meeting Held By Boosters Club

About 100 parents, players, and Booster Club members enjoyed a display of football equipment held in the Memorial Building gymnasium Monday, Sept. 24.

Danny Smith and Louie Juliano donned the equipment piece by piece starting with sweat socks, then shoulder pads, hip pads, blocking pads, pants, jerseys, shoes, helmet and side line jackets.

All this equipment minus the side line jackets is valued at approximately $75.

Sandwiches and beverages were served after the meeting.

Makes Third Time 102 Is Victor; Gain Permanent Possession Of Gold Cup

Rooms 207 and 210, Both With 100% Finish Second and Third Respectively; 309 Fourth

Room 102 has won the 1945-46 Association Contest for the third time since Association drives began. The first time they triumphed was in 1942, the second 1943, and now again this year. The gold cup awarded to the first home room to report 100 per cent will be theirs to keep.

Award Trophy To Player With Best Grades

The Knights of Columbus have decided to award a trophy to the Senior boy on the football squad who has the highest scholastic average.

He must have been out for football the whole season, although he does not necessarily have to have been on the Varsity. The average will include his grades from his Freshman year up to, and including the second grade period of his Senior year.

The winner will receive the trophy at the Booster Club football banquet to be held after the end of football season. The date has not yet been announced.

The school receives a plaque with the winner's name on it. Each successive year winner's name will be recorded on this plaque, which will be placed in the trophy case.

Library Displays Feature Hobbies

The Library is starting a series of displays featuring different hobbies of the students in Salem High school.

The first entry, now in the display case, features valuable stamps and coins contributed by Mr. Hagedorn. This collection shows stamps and coins from countries all over the world.

Anyone interested in becoming a member of the Stamp and Coin club this year should see Mr. Hagedorn in 106 or Richard Howell in 107.

If any pupil is interested in having his hobby displayed, arrange with Miss Lehman for a date to exhibit the collection.

Pencils Sold By Freshmen

Three thousand one hundred fifty pencils were sold by the Freshmen this year. The pencils, containing the 1945 football schedule, were sold for five cents apiece.

Miss Doxsee in charge of the sale, was unable to obtain more pencils when the first supply was sold.

The room that hands in all its money first will be given a treat.

The final results, which were tallied on the last day of the contest, Friday, Sept. 21, showed 207, second room to report 100 per cent, and 210, third, also with 100 per cent.

The other rooms in order of their percentage are as follows:

309—97 per cent	301—86 per cent
212—96 per cent	205—83 per cent
108—95 per cent	206—83 per cent
203—91 per cent	204—81 per cent
107—91 per cent	110—81 per cent
106—90 per cent	312—81 per cent
201—89 per cent	305—81 per cent
112—89 per cent	101—80 per cent
208—88 per cent	307—79 per cent
310—86 per cent	109—76 per cent
	306—75 per cent

Hi-Tri Takes Charge of Stand

The first meeting of the HI-TRI this year was held at noon on Tuesday, Sept. 18. Plans were made at that time for the HI-TRI to have charge of the refreshment stand at the Ravenna football game. Those who worked at the stand were Phoebe Anderson, Martha Brian, Jo-Ann Juergens, Velma O'Neil, Cathie Scullion, Sara Serbanta, Lois Tesmer, Mary Lou Vincent, Marge Willis and Gertie Wilms. Approximately $70 profit was taken in at the game.

At another meeting held at noon Wednesday, Sept. 26, plans were formulated for new members and their initiations. The club discussed the activities in which they would participate during the 1945-46 school year. The names of the new members and the date of their initiation will be announced later.

The officers for this year are President, Esther Jean Mayhew; Vice-President, Velma O'Neil; Secretary, Gertie Wilms, and Treasurer, Mary Lou Vincent. Miss Claribel Bickel and Miss Evelyn Johnston are the club advisors.

New Apprentice Staff Selected

The new members of the Quaker Staff chosen by Editor Harvey Walken are as follows: Marjorie Reash, Robert Campbell, Mary Ibele, Connie Petrucci and Mary Lou Von Poppelin. These five people will become part of the apprentice staff.

FADS 'N FASHIONS

By LOIS AND NIKI

One more week, one more column, but if you can live through it, so can we, MAYBE.

Teen-agers still prize their skirts, sweaters, blouses and accessories as much as they ever did. Betty Polder has a reet-pleated plaid skirt that is really on the beam. Jackie Judge has one of the new darling kiltie plaid skirts with an enormous safety pin on it for trim. Another type of skirt that is popular this season is one that buttons down the side like Callahan's brown and white check. Jackie Troll has one of the new battle-jacket suits that we've been raving so much about. It's of green and red plaid, piped in red and its small silver buttons set it off with a blazing look. Speaking of blazing, Beuda McCammon has a new sharp looking brown blazer piped in white. Virginia Juguastru has the cie-u-test green, brown and yellow plaid wool shirt. They are really all the rage with teen-agers and can be worn with skirts or slacks. Jean Redinger has a chac studded belt that is about two inches wide, it has silver and colored stone studs decorating it. These belts also look terrific with skirts and slacks, Ann Helm has an utterly adorable light brown topper, which looks smooth with her brown hair. Jackie Orr has a cerise topper that absolutely glows with color. Right as rain is

Mary Lou Van Popplin's navy blue gaberdine boxy coat. It is one of the rain or shine types, which goes well with everything.

Have you seen the latest in shoes? If you haven't, look at the feet of Joan Hardy. She has a pair of the definitely different ballerena slippers which can be worn with anything you please and look cute. They are especially comfortable for dancing and look cute under formals.

If you feel in the in-between mood for either shorts or slacks, try the remedy that Minnie Maroscher and Donna Ward tried. They are both sporting pants the length of a dress, which are called shorties. They are more comfortable and suit certain occasions better. Try 'em; you really love it.

JUERGENS JOURNAL

BY JO

Seeing as how you're all here after the world didn't dissolve (am I right, Mr. Tarr?) into vapor last Friday, I guess it's safe to proceed with the week's dirt. Don't be too disappointed because it didn't end, though, because the man who predicted it says that it may come tomorrow, instead. Well, it's been nice knowing all of you!

HORRORS!

If all the Senior class pictures turned out like Mike Colian's did, then heaven forbid! It seems that the mailman had brought his proofs just a few minutes before Mike got home, and when he got into the house he found his mother stretched out on the floor. She'd taken one look at his proofs, and passed out. (Personally, I took this story with more than one grain of salt!)

WELCOME!

Welcome to the five new members of the Quaker staff: Mary Ibele, Margie Reash, Connie Petrucci, Mary Lou Van Poppelin, and Bob Campbell. Our Quaker "family" is really growing.

DEDICATION

This paragraph is very sincerely dedicated to Walter Taylor and Walter Ibele. If you saw Charlie Spivak in Youngstown last week, as those two did, you know why. But for the benefit of those who didn't, I'll explain: There was a girl with the stage show who imitated various people, including Gracie Fields doing "Walter, Walter, Lead Me to the Alter, I'll Make a Better Man Out of You." Theirs were the two bright red faces in the audience that could be seen from almost anyplace in the theater.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

To Donna Becknell, Doris Crawford, and Ann Dugas, all of whose birthdays are today. Tomorrow is Marge Theiss'. And HAPPY BIRTHDAY to those eight people who have birthdays next week: Shirley Izenour, Jack Beatty, and Bill Tolson, all on Monday; Joanne Butler and Marilyn Eberwein, on Tuesday; Jeannene Mattix, on Wednesday; and Betty Hill and Wilson Gartner, on Thursday.

CONGRATULATIONS

I think that the football boys (most of them, that is) are to be congratulated on the way they've stuck to their training rules. But as soon as football season is over, watch Johnnie Bush and Ronnie Hannay make a beeline for two girls in 212.

HOW TO SPEND A DULL (?) SUNDAY AFTERNOON

If Jackie Troll ever offers to take you for a ride some nice Sunday afternoon, don't hesitate to take her up on it. She can't do any more than lose you, as she did Elaine Abe, Joan Hardy, Minnie Maroscher and me last Sunday. And she surely is accommodating. When Elaine and Joan and I wanted to get out of the car to read some tombstones in a roadside cemetery (interesting pastime, by the way), Jackie very obligingly stopped the car and waited for us. Then, when Minnie's appetite got the better of her, Jackie stood by with the motor running, just in case the farmer decided he wanted all of his apples and corn, and came snooping around with a shotgun. And before I forget it, just what has Minnie done that has made a certain Senior so mad at her that he says he's going to take her out some night and make sure she never comes back? Ah, 'tis indeed a puzzle!

ODDS AND ENDS

What blonde Senior in 209 is extremely interested in the Senior class prexy, and vice versa? . . . What blonde Junior in 203 has been writing ardent (???) notes to that cute little red-haired Freshman, Norma Cunningham? . . . Odd, but did you know that out of 79 boys in Miss Thorpe's English II classes, fully 12 are named Richard? And there are five Richards in her home room, 203. Miss Thorpe, do you have a priority on the Richards? . . . Proverb: Women like a strong, silent man; they think he's listening. . . Remember that certain majorette that I told you about last week who "goes weak in the knees" whenever she sees a certain left halfback? Well, she'd better watch her step, because she's got some competition. Just to give you a hint, she's the FOURTH new member of the Quaker staff, and she recently came here from Fairfield, Connecticut. . . Just who is the East Liverpool flame in Velma O'Neil's heart? . . . Guess I'd better sign off for now, and leave you to puzzle all these out. Until next week, be good, and cheer like mad at the game tonight.

JO.

Politeness Before Fun

In our present day hurried and ultra-modern world we often become careless and forget our manners. In our school, in our classes, each day someone makes a mistake and we, in the class, laugh. Your writer knows of one of your classmates who got up to recite and, while reciting, heard snickers coming from the back of the room. After sitting down he turned around and saw a few of his classmates laughing. Maybe they weren't laughing at him, but it appeared that they might have been. How would you have felt? Another incident occurred when one of our classmates walked up to the teacher's desk. Someone in the class made a loud, rude noise, which applied to her. The whole class laughed, and during it all she had to stand in front of the room. They weren't exactly laughing at her, but she felt a bit embarrassed and foolish. Sure, we all like fun, but not that kind. Even if he or she tries to take it with a smile, deep down, inside it really hurts. So, remember this: Don't you laugh at him unless you want him to laugh at you.

Back Cheerleaders

Last year our cheering was not too good. Let's do better this year. Maybe you do get tired. The cheerleaders are just as exhausted as you, and probably more so! Let's have a little pride in our team and show the team our feelings. And if you can't cheer and back the cheerleaders, stay home and read a book!

Concrete

The class of 1945's gift of a new entrance to the High school is a huge success already. For years students have had to meander out to the front of the gym in order to get from the building to the street. Now the students have a direct exit to the street on the south side of the building. About 60 to 75 per cent of the students travel this downtown route. The traditional mob which forms in front of the building before class time in the mornings and at noon is being dissipated by the new entrance.

A casual stroll around the front of the building indicates that another graduating class has a good opportunity to render similar service to old Salem High by erecting another on the Lincoln ave. entrance at the northwest corner of the gym. Instead of leading down to the sidewalk, steps of a northwest entrance would lead up to the sidewalk. Here is a grand opportunity for some coming graduating class. Think it over, Juniors!

Ravenna Hands Salem First Defeat 26-13

Soroboro, Cipriano Pace Ravens To Hard-Earned Win; Breaks Decide Game; Boone Quaker Ace

Ravens' Quick Opening Offensive Too Much For Locals; Failure To Get Punt Away Hands Visitors Score

In a high power offensive game, the Quakers showed themselves superior to Ravenna in everything except touchdowns, practically handing Ravenna two touchdowns in the second period after scoring on straight power plays. Salem could never make up the difference.

Some 5,000 fans were thrilled by both teams' power on the offense. Ravenna lived up to her reputation of having some fine ball carriers: Soroboro, Cipriano, and Chachak cracked off some nice gains. Soroboro especially, who didn't carry the ball too often, showed himself to be a shifty runner with a quick change of pace and used these assets to dash off several nice gains.

For the Quakers, Moe Hollinger, Bob Boone, Louis Juliano and several others turned in good performances. Boone scored both Salem touchdowns.

Early in the second period, after a first quarter that was all Salem, the Quakers pushed over touchdown number one with Boone and Smith spearheading the attack. Minutes later Ravenna took the lead. After smothering a Salem punt on the twelve yard line, Chionchio scored and Rock converted. Ravenna scored again after a forty-eight yard drive which came about when the Quakers tried to make a first and ten on the fourth down at mid-field.

Leading 13 to 6 at halftime the Ravens came back in the third period with another score, Cipriano scoring his second touchdown. In the fourth quarter Boone smashed across again and Hodge made the extra point. Ravenna retaliated in the final minutes with Cipriano dashing fourteen yards to pay dirt. Chachak passed to big Bob Matteson for the conversion.

The Quakers outrushed the Ravens 180 to 162 and had 10 first downs to 7 for the visitors. The Quaker back field looked good at times but inexperienced at others.

Quakers Face East Palestine

Tonight the Salem Quakers travel to East Palestine to meet the Bulldogs on their home grounds. East Palestine, coached by Robert Akenhead, ought to prove about an equal to Salem, having three lettermen against four for the Quakers.

In their first game, against Leetonia, the Bulldogs looked poor. The fairly heavy but green line was poured through consistently by Leetonia ball toters. The backfield, with one exception, lacked any potent ball handlers. Two boys, Halfback Bob Wade and End George Libert, looked mighty tough.

In their second tryout they looked just as bad, losing to Sebring by a 12 to 6 score. Minus the services of Bob Wade, who was injured in the Leetonia game, the Bulldog coach had no one to fill in the numerous backfield chores which Wade performed. Wade is a triple threat, doing most of the running, passing, and kicking. His absence was probably the difference between defeat and victory in the Sebring game. The Bulldog line still looked green and weak, failing to open sufficient holes for their ball carriers.

Salem and East Palestine fans are both expecting victory for their teams on the basis that something is bound to happen soon. The balance hangs about even due to the fact East Palestine is a little heavier and Salem slightly more experienced.

Walken Along The Sport Scene

BY HARV

Well, so what? They lost. Discouraging from the scoring angle, yes, but from the angle of fight and spirit, the Quakers were far from discouraging. It wasn't the lack of weight that caused the Red and Black to go down to defeat before the powerful Ravens, but a lack of experience coupled with a pair of costly miscues.

A poor pass from center and the failure to either make one yard at midfield or kick on fourth down were the straws that broke the Red and Blacks. For the locals, Bob Boone was practically the whole show as he tore the Ravenna line and backfield to pieces with his vicious running thrusts. The right halfback was also the backbone of the Quaker defense, several times nailing Ravenna ball carriers, who were touchdown-bound.

Louie Juliano and Dan Smith were also outstanding at their respective positions.

The play of Walt Ehrhart also was a feature as was that of Soroboro of Ravenna.

The Ravens backfield seems to be almost in motion with the snap back from center to the quarterback, and as he passed off to either

Soroboro and Cipriano steaming past, huge holes were opened up in the Salem forward wall.

Short and Tall Tales

Lowell Myers, out with a bad leg, was sorely missed . . . Salem also missed a certain lad by the name of Francis Lanney who was recently summoned by the Selective Service Local Board Number 2 (drafted, to you) . . . The pass from Ehrhart to Ward that covered 19 yards was a beauty. Yep. Bill always was the forward type . . . By the way, did you see Flick Entriiken, former Quaker football, basketball, and track ace, now at Notre Dame, in the newsreel last week? He was pictured doing exercises . . . Among the state's top outfits this year are Warren, Massillon and East Liverpool . . . Youngstown Ursuline looks as though it will at last cop the Youngstown City Finals. They have already beaten Youngstown Rayen and Canton Timken by good margins . . . In defeating Youngstown South 13-0, Campbell Memorial had seven penalties for illegal use of the hands in their total of 135 yards lost for infractions of the rules . . . Teams that promise to give Ohio State a run this year are Minnesota and Illinois with Purdue also a contender . . . Hunting season is in full swing and the local students and teachers have taken to the woods. Notable among them are Coach Bob Miller, Fred (Many shots I will get) Koemreich, Walt Ibele, Gus Mangus, Duane Yeagley, Don Shoop, etc., etc.

Tonight the Red and Black faces East Palestine at the Bulldog's stadium under the lights. For once the Quakers are favored and should win about 19-6 . . . Jack (What I need is a good plastic surgeon) Crawford has his nose knocked out of line again last week, making two weeks in a row he has been "nosed out."

Well, that's about all for this time, so adijos. HARVE

Thespians Hold First Meeting

Thespian troupe No. 358 held its first meeting September 1 in 207 with Mrs. Tarr as Thespian director at which time plans were laid out for the year's activities.

A series of one act Thespian directed plays will be put on and also a one act all Thespian play.

Pictures were taken of the troupe during this week.

An important business meeting was held this Tuesday to make plans for the joint meetings of Thespian troupes in the county.

Business Staff Additions Made

The following new members of the Quaker weekly business staff have been announced by Business Manager Bob Musser: Loie Barnard, a Junior; Enez Equize, also a Junior, and Dick Walken, a Freshman.

Meetings of the staff were held Wednesday, Sept. 19, and Thursday, Sept. 20, at which time the duties of the business staff were discussed.
