The Clearing House

Seniors cleared around $90 at the refreshment stand at the East Palestine game last week. The committee was composed of: Enes Equizi, Virginia Jugastru, Janet Robinson, Mary Endres, Margie Fineran, Donna Ward, Mary C. Welsh, Naomi Fidoe, Mary Garloch, Dolores Flint, Nancy Lesick, Freda Herman, Barbara Pedersen, Eva Brookshire, Dorothy Barnhouse, and Irene Swetye (jr.)

Hot dogs, popcicles, ice cream bars, potato chips, candy, and orange pop were sold.

This week the library showcase is featuring autumn and football. It is decorated with autumn berries, and, to put us all in a football mood, a football face wearing a bow tie of school colors, and pictures of teams of past years. There are pictures of the team in action, individual pictures of several players, and pictures of the teams of 1944, 1945, and 1946.

any students will be interested in locating their relatives in the 1904 picture. They are: John Mead, Jack Lease, Royal Schiller, John Myers, and Stiffler.

The foods classes, under the supervision of Mrs. Strain, have been studying the preservation of food. They have seen one movie on preservation entitled, "Yesterday, Today, and Forever."

They have canned tomatoes, pears, and peaches and have made some jelly and tomato juice. These will be used by the classes later on in the year.

Plans are being made to have an exhibit in the library show case of projects completed so far this year.

The G.A.A., under the direction of Miss Ada Hanna, has started the year's routine with tennis. For many of these girls this is their first attempt at the game. Tennis will be carried on outside while the weather permits.

Later on in the year, the girls will take up volleyball, kickball, baseball and basketball.

More New Books

The following list of books is a continuation of the new library books listed in last week's Quaker. All books were published in 1945 or 1946:

- Perry: Electrical Industry
- Reynolds: Officially Dead. (The story of Commander C. D. Smith)
- Rieseberg: Treasure Hunter. (Undersea salvage)
- Smedley: Careers in Business for Women
- Sokolov: Story of Penicillin
- Ehurber: White Deer (Enchanting fairy tale)
- West: Friendly Persuasion (Fiction)
- Wolfe: Plastics
- Wolfe: Son of the Wilderness. (Life of John Muir)

FRANK TARR

Mr. Tarr Is Friend To All

A likable personality, friendly smile, and pleasant nod belong to one of the finest persons in Salem High School. He is jovial, interesting, and a friend to all of the students. This description particularly fits one person in our school, Mr. Frank Tarr.

He is a very friendly person, which is illustrated by the fact that he has many friends. Well-liked by all of the students, Mr. Tarr is a very easy person to get along with. So, whenever strolling by 305, speak to him and in return receive his cheerful greeting.

Mr. Tarr is a native of Toronto, Ohio, where he spent his youth and attended school. After graduating from high school he entered Bethany College. Being hard-working and energetic, he worked his way through college and later graduated from there. He also studied at Ohio State University for a while.

Mr. Tarr is definitely sports-minded and all of his life, he has been interested in athletics one way or another. While in high school and college, he starred in football, baseball, and track. He is backfield coach of the football

Alumni News

June Pyatt, '45, and Jake Ware, '45, were married recently in the Christian church.

Among those attending Kent State university this year are Lloyd Field, Bill Theiss, Sal Freed, Johnny Dan, Johnny Botu, Kirby Laughlin, and Sam Pridon.

Danny Smith, Mutt Roessler, Bill Ward and Duane Yeagley, all of '46 have started their classes at Ohio University at Athens. Tubby Shasteen is taking an engineering course at Youngstown College. Moe Hollinger '46, John Pridon '46, and Fred Koenreich '46, have enlisted in the Army and are temporarily stationed at Indiana.

Ray Kelly and Eleanor Davis exchanged nuptial vows Wednesday, September 25. They plan to live in Iowa.

Bill Haessly has returned to Fenn College, Cleveland, to resume his studies.

Jackie Troll is attending Maryland College for Women.

SHS Band Performs At Rubber Bowl On Salem-Alliance Night

The bands of Salem and Alliance High Schools performed for over 30,000 people during the half-time of the Akron Bears and the New Jersey City Giants football game at the Akron Rubber Bowl, September 28. The evening was designated as Salem-Alliance night.

For the first time in the history of the band, the unit transported its special black light show for an out-of-town performance. This event also marked the showing of the band before the largest football crowd it has ever entertained.

The Salem band was trimmed with special fluorescent satin for the Akron show and the majorettes, Mary Lou Haessly, Jeanne Redinger, Loretta Cocca, Billie Ann Finley, Joy Chessman, and Barbara Lane, in their third year as a team, executed their intricate twirling routines using lighter batons.

The Akron Professional Club is carrying out the policy this season of inviting the best high school bands in the district to perform at half-time at the games played in the Rubber Bowl.

Canton Lincoln's band performed the week before Salem's performance and others invited for later games include: Massillon, Canton McKinley, Canton Lehman and most of the Akron High School bands.

"George Washington Slept Here" Chosen For Senior Class Play

"George Washington Slept Here," a gracious and funny comedy, has been chosen by director Miss Edith Cope as the senior class play to be presented November 20, 21, and 22 in the high school auditorium. Not only was this comedy a New York hit, but it was also adapted for screening with Jack Benny playing the leading role.

The story is of the tribulations of a family man who craves—and gets—a little place in the country to call his own. Everyone knows a Newton Fuller who just wants a piece of land and Newton got his land. This is a record for the Fuller family, Newton and his wife, Annabelle, and their daughter, Madge, who are hypnotized into taking over one of those windowless, waterless, almost roofless stone houses that dot the countryside. The ensuing troubles may be summed up as a search for water, a quarrel with a neighbor who owns not only the brook but the very road that leads from the highway to the house. The attempted elopement of the daughter with a summer-theater actor, and the usual invasion of the weekend guests, including a prodigal uncle who is assumed to be rich but turns out to be just another bankrupt. In the end it is discovered that the neighbor really doesn't own Newton's roadway, and that Newton's wife, who began by howling disgust over her husband's idiocy in wanting to live in the country, deciding he was right all along.

The cast for this drama consists of nine boys and eight girls.

Home Rooms Elect Delegates For 1946-1947 High School Term

The New Council to Finish Handbook Project and to Take Up Other Projects As They Come Up

In keeping with the basic ideas and principles of democratic government, Salem High homerooms elected student council representatives last Tuesday for the 1946-47 school term.

Thespians Initiate New Members Thursday

The initiation of new Thespian members is to be held Thursday, October 10, at the high school. Those who have fulfilled the requirements of obtaining at least twelve Thespian points and who have average grades or better are: Marjorie Hanna, Carol Kelley, and Richard Jones.

Plans have been made for presenting four one-act plays to be directed by Thespian members throughout this school year. The first of which will be a Thanksgiving play to be directed by Marjorie Hanna and Carol Kelly.

The officers of the club are: Don Wright, president; Joe Ferreri, vice president; Jean Headrick, secretary-treasurer; and Bob Watterson, clerk

The new members and the home rooms they represent are: Leo Copacia, 301; Nancy Stockton, 303; Anna Ruth Herron, 305; Katheryn Hodge, 306; Curtis Mosher, 307; Nancy Bates, 312; Janet Vincent and Nina Snyder, 310; Elijah Alexander, 101; Dick Tolson, 106; Walter Ehrhart, 107; Martha Whinery, 108; Carol King, 109; Jerry Miller, 110; Pat Thompson, 112; Robert Coppock, 201; Pat Keyes, 203; Nancy Stamp, 204; Lee Ward, 205; Don Coppock, 207; Joe Ferreri, 208; Barbara Lane, 209; William Parks, 210; Don Wright, 212.

The new council will complete the project begun last year of the publishing of a school handbook and will carry out new projects as they come up. The handbook material will be turned over to the new council.

Members from last year who are still in school, held a meeting Wednesday, September 25. Unfinished business from last year was discussed. Betty Cosgarea was appointed to find out about the results of a request for more adequate mirrors in all dressing rooms. An announcement will be made concerning this at the first meeting of the new council.

Results were not sent in by the homerooms not listed here.

By JOAN HARDY

Seems like everyone has or has had a terrific cold lately. Mostly everyone who breathes, that is. Of course those who don't are social outcasts.

FOR BETTER OR FOR WORSE

The Field Brothers have a new relative they call "Smokey" for the reason of the same name. It is just about the neatest black and red flyver you have ever seen. The motor purrs, coughs, and gags all at once. It's really remarkable. Dick and Burp can't see anything else when they ride in "Smokey". They have had plenty of chances to sell it, but they wouldn't take a million for it. If you happen to see a big cloud of smoke, you can be sure "Smokey" is the cause of it all.

CHECK THIS

Gwen Krepps is that little newcomer that everyone has been asking about. Black hair, sweet face, and shy personality make up the biggest part of this sharp sophomore. Let's all get to know her better. Seems well worth the time, no trouble at all.

BIG CHANGE

That practical joker Kenny Kercher struck a new high last week. He was going around giving everyone the shock of his life one day at noon with a little device he whipped up all by himself. (Edison just couldn't have known the pleasure electricity would bring to some people.) The only warning I can give is just be careful with whom you shake hands or you might find yourself getting a charge of 800 volts. It's quite a sensation, especially when you aren't expecting it.

DANCING SCHOOL

Have you noticed the improvement in Marilyn Eberwein's dancing lately? She has been taking dancing lesson from two of the "greatset"—Stella Jones and Donna Neely.

Yes, sir, they have taught Marilyn all she knows—about dancing. It would be a good idea to take a few of the boys in hand. There are several dances this year at school and it isn't much fun to wait 'til the night of the dance to learn how to dance. I know Stella and Donna would be only too glad to teach any one who is willing to learn.

TOO LITTLE BUT NOT FOR LONG

Everyone is very amazed at the size of the individuals in the new freshman class this year. The biggest part of the males are just wee mights. Lee Sproat has been doing a little research on the matter and has come to the conclusion that they need something to make them grow if they are to get taller. Of course in a matter of time, they would naturally grow but what we want is speed. The new method to hurry the process along is nearing completion. A most valuable part of an atom called the "Sproataon" is being used in the form of a dog biscuit. Science is really remarkable. The ideas one can't get from just a high school course in science. If this big deal works, Sproat will be right up there with Gromyko, drinking vodka between sessions.

GROWING PAINS

Rudy Maroscher would like to inform everyone that he now has a hair on his chest so he asked me to put it in black and white. If you know any freshman who can't read yet be sure to tell him about it. This is something everyone should know. Rudy is planning a party to celebrate the occasion. It is really wonderful to be growing up.

HE HAS RHYTHM

Wally Burrell, ex-sailer, is another of those boys who want to finish high school. Since he is stopping off in Salem for a year or so he decided to honor S. H. S. with his presence. He plays a trumpet along with the band and can really carry a tune when it comes to singing. His voice is supposed to resemble one of the King Cole Trio. That could be nothing but the best, so let's hear more from you, Wally.

FOUND-FAULT

The "bloody nose stopper," demonstrated by Peggy Mawhinnery, a few weeks back is a flop. Kenny Zeigler tried it and he said the only good it does is to get the pencil erasers all bloody. Now that's the kind of system we need around here. Thanks for telling us Kenny. Now we won't bother trying it ourselves.

PUT THE BLAME ON TED

Ted Sabona has been blamed for writing a certain note to Gail Mellinger. He swears on his boy scout honor (?) that he didn't write it and wants everyone to know that he didn't. He can't fight his own battles so he asked me to do it for him.

TONIGHT MORE THAN EVER

The team will need your support more than ever tonight . . . So make sure you are at the game to back them up. See you then. . . .

Him? Oh, he's a returned war veteran..... Civil War.

TEEN-TIME TIPS

By Marilyn and Shirley

All Aboard, Kids,

First Stop—School Fashion

Get out your darkest glasses when you go looking for Dick Harris's bright red sweater with white figures on it. You can't miss it. We didn't!! Freda Herman is quite handy with the thread and needle. She made an adorable rose striped dress which is just right for this school year. (We ought to take some lessons from her.) Donna Ward has a gold pleated skirt that can be worn with any type of a jacket. This looks especially cute with her green checked one.

Connie Petrucci has a good idea for solving saddle shoe troubles. When you polish those brown and white saddles you always get white on the brown and vice versa. If this is your trouble too, follow Connie's idea and put clear finger nail polish on the brown part.

Margie Haessley has a sophisticated white and black checked suit. Her cute figure sets this suit right off. Tibo Scullion has a neat rain jacket which will be swell for those rainy football nights. Right? June Williams has a smart new trinket belt! It is a silver chain with two hearts on it which can be fastened to a belt or a skirt. This will add glamor to a plain skirt. Roy "Pudge" Owens has a bright, and we do mean bright, shirt. It consists of blue, red, and yellow colors. You can't miss it a mile away.

Frosh Boy and Girl Poll

Our winners of this poll were chosen by you. You judged them on their personality and friends. Their names and write-ups follows: FRESHMAN GIRL: Nina Snyder. Nina is 5-2 with blue eyes and blonde hair. Nice, huh? This fair lassie's secret desire is none other than to be an upper classman. (Whose isn't??) Her ambition is to design clothes. You will probably see her sketching away at them in most every study hall. Pretty good for a freshman, we must say so!! She loves food. Nina is usually seen at "Leases" or "the Corner" drinking cokes. Her favorite pastime is sleeping and dancing. Pretty good pastimes!! "To Each His Own" and "South America, Take It Away" are her favorite songs. Nina is out for cheer-leading and good at that. Do you need anymore to get acquainted?

RUNNERS-UP—Some of the other freshmen who came close are Anna Mae Herron, Kathy Hodge, and Jean Kelly.

FRESHMAN BOY—George Tarr. He is a mighty sharp freshman and deserves to win the poll. He is five feet (and expects to grow ten inches before graduating. (Good luck, George.) He has light brown eyes and blonde hair. Perfect, huh?? His secret desire is to be a professional basketball player, but if he can't, he will settle for being an electrical engineer. Although his favorite sport is basketball, he is kind of sharp on football. His haunt is 310-Ummmmmm!!! I guess we will have to take a walk in there sometime and see who inhabits the seats. Unless you already know (we do.) George's favorite or, as we would say, peculiar food is pickles. Oh, Well!!

RUNNERS-UP—The other boys who follower George deserve to be mentioned. They are Wayne Slosser, Bob Kridler, and Junior Reash. Last Stop—All Out (For the game),

One at a Time

Time and time again high school pupils are inclined to believe that high school education does not pay. It is just a waste of time and much work for nothing, they say. Why bother anyway with all the hard study and other things that go with school, when one can be out working and making money, they ask.

But listen—according to the Census Bureau, a man graduated from high school has one chance out of eight to make a yearly income of $2500 or more in the 25 to 64 age group, while a man who has gone just through the seven or eight grade has one chance out of nineteen to make $2500 a year. In the next income bracket there are only 5000 out of 3,500 men in the 25 to 28 age group who make $5000 a year. One who has completed one to three years of high school has a 185% greater chance of reaching these earnings than one with a seventh or eighth grade education. The chances of a high school graduate are 350% greater than the chances of one with a seventh or eighth grade education. Then, the chances of a college graduate are 1630% greater than the chances of those with a seventh or eighth grade schooling.

Of course there are some fellows with high incomes who have not completed any high school work, but needless to say this exception is comparatively rare.

From reading this article one might get the impression that money is the only form of payment for education, but money is not everything. Certainly the satisfaction of knowing that many things learned in school are applicable to practical every day living, is another if not greater payment than money.

Many high school students do not know how to concentrate. Concentration is close mental attention fixed on a subject. Most students do not fix their attention on one subject, but let their minds wander on to another. One cannot read a book while thinking of something else and still know what he reads. He can pronounce the words, but his occupied mind will not absorb them.

Concentration on two subjects at the same time is impossible and the student will do much better when he learns to take one subject at a time.

Tunes by Tooty

At the close of another week you all should be feeling super. Just think, no school 'til Monday. Two whole days of freedom. Rah, rah!

"re-designed" it to be a Quaker song. Why have the boys reason to be peeved? We love 'em all and they know it!!

Speaking of "rah, rah," I'll start off this week's column by asking a question. What is causing all the commotion each noon? It seems a group of seniors insist on singing a certain football song—a Quaker version of the Columbiana Clipper song. It also seems the male population of the school doesn't appreciate it. But why—I ask you, why? The girls have Almost everyone has heard the new romantic ballad, "Passe." Margaret Whiting has a beautiful waxing of it, natch! But for those who haven't heard it, really it is something special. If you go for Margaret Whiting, you'll go for "Passe."

Another rare recording is "Choo-Choo Ch' Boogie." It really causes a sensation when it is played at "the corner". The best recording of it is dished out by Louie Jordan. If you go for jive, this platter is just for you. It has a touch of "boogie woogie" too. It's really hep.

It seems I made a mistake in last week's edition. I told all you Monroe fans to be on the watch for Vaughn each Thursday night at 10 p. m. Well, I found out later that he was only substituting for the Abbott and Costello show during the summer months. He will be on every week but at present I don't know the day, time, or station. As soon as I find out I'll send it along to you. If you all love him as much as I, no doubt you will want to know. Look for the announcement next week.

I'll try to get the dope in the meantime.

Did you know that Tex Beneke and the Glenn Miller orchestra won first place in a nation-wide band contest by Martin Block? The orchestra has a supreme way of spinning just about any ballad, swing arrangement or what-have-you. Their latest platter, "Woodchuck Song" and "Passe" is really worth fifty-three cents. The Beneke bunch is as versatile as is attested by this coupling of a novelty tune built on the familiar woodchuck sentence and a danceable arrangement of the French hit with Lillian Lane on the words.

Now for our couples. This week seems to be dedicated entirely to our latest additions and their loves—namely, those adoring freshmen.

- Paul Berger and Jean Kelly—"I Should Care (And I Do)."
- Janet Vincent and Jerry Smith—"My Devotion."
- Carol Steffel and Vic Lake—"Love Is The Sweetest Thing."
- Betty Parker and Jeff Jeffries—"My Buddy."
- Gayle Mellinger and Chuck Ward—"Temptation."

- Agnes Vores and Edward Wheller—"I Know."
- Carolyn Rollands and Jimmy Tausch—"This Is Always."
- Norma Kearns and Dave Stratton—"To Each His Own."
- Barbara Rising and Wayne Slosser—"All The Time."

Suzie's Experiences Over the Weekend

Dear Diary,

Today was totally exhausting as far as I was concerned. To begin with, we arrived at Bug's cottage about 9 P. M.

This morning after breakfast was over we flipped a coin to decide what to do. We decided if it was heads, we would do the dishes; if tails, our home work, and if it stood on edge we would take a hike.

We started out along the pleasant leaf-strewn path and all too soon we arrived at the creek. Our next problem was to get across. I noticed a log across the creek a few yards down and I thought it would be quite simple to cross on that. After a heated debate, we decided to attempt it, and since it was my idea, I was elected to go first . . .

The next thing that stands out vividly in my memory of that eventful hour, seems to be the icy sensation I received when I fell into the creek.

Yours, sneezing from a cold,
Suzie

P. S. We should have done the dishes.

Salem-Leetonia Battle Looks To Be A Nip And Tuck Affair

Bears, With Four Lettermen, Has Passing Attack That May Prove Dangerous To Quaker's Defeat

Information compiled thus far provides little help in picking the favorite of tonight's battle between the Quakers and the Leetonia Bears. They have played only one common foe, that being East Palestine. The fleet-footed backs, fine passing, and exceptional play of the Palestine team rolled over Leetonia to the tune of 13 to 7, in the opening game of the season for both teams.

Likewise, the power-packed Bulldog team traveled to Salem last week and upset the Quakers by a 13-8 score. Thus, in view of the score of this common foe, the indication is that the Salem-Leetonia game will be a nip-and-tuck struggle for both teams and a close battle all of the way.

In the light of experience, lettermen, and a much larger school and team, Salem holds a decided edge over its determined foe. With a new coach this year, the Bears started more or less from scratch. Coach Joe Fortunato, the new general of the Leetonia football ranks, has only four experienced veterans back from last year's star-studded team. This foursome forms the nucleus around which Fortunato builds his attack. Leetonia does have a stinging passing combination, though, which will be dangerous to the Quakers' defense.

The Barrettmens will be all out to defeat their Leetonia opponents tonight, since they suffered a humiliating 26-0 defeat at the hands of the Bears last year. All in all it adds up to a terrific grid battle and a thriller from start to finish.

Salem Frosh Win First Game Monday

The Salem freshmen football squad opened their season with victory Monday evening as they defeated the East Liverpool freshmen, 12 to 6.

Alexander, Salem's left-half, took the ball from his own 30 and in five consecutive plays scored Salem's first touchdown. His kick for the extra point was blocked.

Liverpool scored their six points in the third quarter after climaxing with a drive of some 50 yards. They then passed to Woods, Liverpool's leftend, for their marker.

Salem then came back scoring on an off-tackle play with Tom Stoffer scoring Salem's second touchdown. The try for the extra point was no good and the game saw-sawed back and forth in the remaining quarter.

Thorne Takes First In Cross Country; Struthers Wins

Well Friday evening Mr. Cope's only letterman on the cross country team Capt. Glenn Thorne, showed up very well as he took first place and didn't half try. Struthers took second, third, and fourth, and then seven and eight to total it up to 27 points.

Salem went on to take first, Thorne; fifth, Ursu; sixth, Pierce; ninth, Theil; tenth, Bailey, to make a total of 31, a difference of four points, but we will see more, and Mr. Copes' Capt. Thorne will be right out in front. Don't let the score throw you because the team with the least points win, and they did.

Frank Tarr

team, freshman basketball coach, and assistant track coach. He also is an instructor in chemistry. Mr. Tarr is extremely valuable in all of his positions in Salem High School. Studying and keeping up with the times. Mr. Tarr has a rich background for his teaching and coaching.

As one swell fellow, the student body salutes you, Mr. Tarr!
