

Quakers Easily Win Victory Over Weak Y. Rayen

Before a large crowd at the South High Field House in Youngstown, the Salem High Quakers had a merry time in rolling over a comparatively weak Youngstown Rayen outfit last Friday evening, 56-30.

Francis Lanney had a big night as he caged 16 points, his highest total of the season, and led the Millermen in their greatest scoring attack and ninth triumph of the season.

The locals performed consistently throughout the encounter, as they scored 14 points in each quarter and trailed only once, this being 1-0 at the beginning of the game.

A minute after the second quarter had begun, Miller was forced to yank lucky Bob Pager from the game because Bob had four fouls charged against him. To the amazement of the local fans, the Salem boys, although lacking in height, continued to garner points with ease.

Charlie Frost and George Stevenson, two clever Negro lads, seemed to be Rayen's most dangerous threats all evening as their clever ball handling and fancy hooting had the Salem lads worried all through the tilt.

Thirteen Salem boys made the trek to the spacious South High floor and all saw action, including the members of the sophomore reserve squad.

The Quakers did fairly well in the shooting department as they made good on 18 of 60 tosses for a 30 per cent mark, while the rivals managed to cage 16 per cent of their chances.

Both teams' foul shooting percentage was low, although together they made good 32 of 52 tries, the Quakers missing 14 and the Rayenites 16.

This week the Millermen hope to run their undefeated record to eleven straight as they meet two strong teams, the Alliance Aviators and the East Liverpool Potters.

Student Council Votes To Join National Group

At the last Student Council meeting on January 14, the group voted to become affiliated with the National Student Council.

Further plans were made concerning noon movies, noon dancing, assemblies, and the handbook, for which a deadline has been set.

Gene Shafer, a member of the band group which plays for basketball games, presented some of the problems concerning seating arrangements. The Council, which was instrumental in getting the group to play, discussed the matter and made plans to help the situation.

Red and black suggestion boxes have been placed in each home room. Boxes such as these were used last year and proved to be very useful. The Council hopes these boxes will be too.

The Clearing House

Golden Hamster Brought To Biology Class

Kenny Carlisle brought a Golden Hamster to Biology Class. This is a type of animal similar to a guinea pig.

These six inch animals, that were brought from Palestine, are much superior to guinea pigs for experimental purposes because they not only multiply faster, but they also eat a third of the amount of food that a guinea pig eats.

Seniors Work At Stand

The seniors were in charge of the refreshment stand Tuesday night at the Alliance basketball game. Those who sold were: Jean Headrick, Marilyn Schaefer, Shirley Smith, Mary Lou Haessly, Donna Ward, Sis Welsh, Carolyn Butcher, Barb Lane, Frank Hoopes, Don Coppock, Dick Gottschling, Bob Hodge, Rod Heron, and Bob Dressel.

Alumni News

Tom Williams, who is attending Denison University, was home for a few days last week.

Scott McCorkhill, who is attending Kiski Military School, was home after semester exams last week.

Frank Carloss, "46," is now taking a post-graduate course at Baylor College.

John Plegge, who is now attending Mount Union College, was home over last week-end.

Tuner Scullion has recently transferred from Ohio State University to Mount Union College.

Debaters Building Cases; Preparing Necessary Evidence

The Salem High debate squad under Coach J. C. Guiler held a meeting Tuesday night after school in 205 to revise their speeches and prepare for future debates.

In the near future the squad will compete in the District Tournament at Ravenna where 19 teams will be represented.

Members of the squad are: affirmative, Enes Equizi and Joan Whinnery, and alternate, Howard Whaley.

Negative, Nettie Housel, Carolyn Butcher and alternate Tom Holzbach.

There have been group discussions and practice debates after school for the last few weeks.

The debaters have been building direct and powerful causes and preparing evidence on this year's debate question of Socialized Medicine.

The proposition is: Resolved, that the federal government should provide a system of complete medical care available to all citizens at public expense.

Dick Walken Elected Prexy Of Latin Club

The Latin Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Redinger, held its first meeting, Tuesday, January 21. The election of officers was held as follows: Dick Walken, president; Bob Campbell, vice-president; Carol King, secretary; Joe Bachman, treasurer; and Elenora Buta program chairman.

Miss Redinger stated that Elenora would start working immediately on the program for the remainder of the year.

The next meeting of the Latin Club will be Tuesday, February 12, and every two weeks thereafter.

Friday At Last!

Whew! Friday at last? Thank heavens—now I can collapse—I mean relax. (Sigh) Have I ever had a horrible week. I just simply cannot endure school any more. But what am I going to do? If only I had one more study hall. Just yesterday I was slaving away over my English, and it seemed as if I hardly got started when the bell rang. I know it only took me about half an hour to decorate by tablet, and I wrote only three notes, and a very short letter to Barb—well, time flies!

My report card wasn't too good, either. But, I've very definitely made up my mind to get down and take school more seriously, after all, there are only seventeen more weeks, (85 more school days). I can't exert my brain enough to figure out the hours, anyway. Think how utterly dull it would be if there weren't any school. Why, there wouldn't be anything to do but loaf—and sleep—and—well!

Golly, how time flies, and I promised Pat I'd be ready to leave at 6:00. Here's hoping we win tonight. I'm keeping my fingers crossed.

Charming Miss Thorp, Likeable Teacher With Sense Of Humor

Miss Helen Thorp is well-liked by the students of Salem High. She has a personality and charm that radiates much warmth and friendliness and an enjoyable sense of humor.

She graduated from the Ravenna Township school and attended Kent State University where she received her Bachelor of Science degree. She has also had some library training.

Following her graduation from Kent State, her teaching career began. Miss Thorp taught in the Ravenna Township school and also in the Kent city schools. This is her sixth year at Salem High.

Miss Thorp has taught various subjects, some of which are music, English, history, and general science. Her preference is for teaching English. She has also had experience with different aged pupils. She has taught pupils ranging from the age of third grade up to and including juniors in high school.

She is in charge of the Student Council which was re-organized last year and she also assists in the school library for two periods every day.

Quakers To Again Tangle With E. Liverpool Tonight On Potters Home Floor

Millermen Hope to Retain Undefeated Record of Ten Games; Only 250 Tickets On Sale There Tonight

Tonight the fast moving undefeated high flying Salem Quakers travel to East Liverpool to encounter once again the East Liverpool Potters whom they dropped from the ranks of undefeated Jan. 10.

The Potters have met some very stiff competition and defeated it, losing only two of their games so far this season.

Salem will again be the favorite and is expected to return home with victory laurels.

Again Salem will rely on Bob Pager, Francis Lanney, and Virgil Kelly for height, and Tony Martinelli and Jim Laughlin for speed.

The East Liverpool mainstays will be Walt Ashbaugh, who was held to five points in the previous Potter-Quaker tangle, and Jim Cunningham, who proved to be their main cog, and Denzil Miller.

Keeping the undefeated record is going to be a tough proposition and Coach Miller and the team realize this is probably the stiffest test of their record so far this season.

Nate Lorah, East Liverpool faculty manager, has sent official word that approximately 200 to 250 tickets will be placed on sale at the gym gate at 7 p. m. tonight.

Lorah reports that the demand for tickets of this game has been the most stupendous in the history of East Liverpool's three year old gymnasium.

World News of The Week Added

Pupils who are interested in prompt coverage of the news will enjoy a recent service which the library has added. "World News of the Week" appears each Monday and Tuesday in the display case. Each issue is a large sheet, with a map of the world in the upper half and numbered paragraphs in the lower half describing marked spots on the map. Twenty some items are included each week.

Classes in American history, world history, geography, and international relations are going to use "World News of the Week" as part of their regular assignments. It is hoped that the display case will become a gathering place on Mondays and Tuesdays of those pupils who believe in keeping up with world events.

Film Seen In Hygiene

"Defense Against Invasion," a Walt Disney production film, was seen Monday by the girls' hygiene classes conducted by Miss Lillian Schroeder.

the thing she notices about Salem High School students in comparison with those of other high schools is their friendliness.

In answer to the many student council suggestion boxes, the council will definitely sponsor a talent assembly for the benefit of the student body. The date has not yet been set, but will be announced later.

Trade Extension Office Helps Train Veterans

In 1930 the Deming Company and the Electric Furnace Company set up an apprentice training program for five apprentice machinists. The program was organized in compliance with the Smith-Hughes law, to operate jointly under the State Department of Education, Division of Trades and Industries and our local School Board.

Trade Extension is for the most part, a form of adult education. The major objective is to train men and women in skilled trades. The program involves both manipulative and related training. The manipulative training is given in the various shops by a competent foreman. The related training is given in the high school building at scheduled class periods throughout the week.

The Trade Extension Office helps veterans in making application for enrollment in any training program. The subsistence allowance is generally sufficient to enable a veteran to start at the beginning of an apprenticeship program and receive a journeyman's rate while he is learning his trade. Facilities and program have been approved by the State Department of Education.

Miss Thorp

Miss Thorp says she likes what she is doing now better than anything she has ever done.

Miss Thorp intensely dislikes cheating and her one special pet peeve is a garage door that won't open. Her one great ambition is to own a station wagon.

Support March of Dimes

Throughout the nation at this time an effort is being made to raise funds for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. This noted institution is helping relieve this suffering and to cure those who have become victims of the dreadful disease, Infantile Paralysis. In order to carry on its work, the National Foundation is asking donations from all Americans to aid in this worthy cause. Every contribution is accepted, large or small, so nearly everyone can share in this drive. Collection boxes have been placed in the stores down town, thereby making it easy for anyone to drop in his nickles and dimes. This "March of Dimes" is entitled to the whole-hearted support of each high school student. Let each one of us do our part to help someone to walk again.

Be On Time

"Golly, you better hurry, or you'll be late for class!"

This is just one of the many remarks that may send you speeding on your way to homeroom at approximately 8:30 each morning. Suppose you do have your hair to comb or your locker to clean out, or suppose Johnny did ask you for a date and you simply have to tell Barb all about it. Just the same, that does not stand up as a good cause at the office.

It really wouldn't hurt to get up a little early and comb your hair at home or to stay after school and clean your locker, and besides, maybe Johnny asked Barb for a date in the very same way the night before. How about it? Just try getting to class on time and see how good it makes you feel.

Use Your Head

The students of Salem High who drive cars to school should be commended for the cooperation they have given to the school. Some students were very reckless in the way they were driving around the school. This was chiefly because they liked to show off and they didn't realize what a dangerous thing they were doing. The blame for this can be placed just as much on the girls as it can on the boys because the girls who ride around in the cars with the boys often influence them to drive recklessly.

PLAID SHIRTS

The spotlight can't help falling on BUTCH ROTH and RAY SNYDER this week with their undecipherable loud plaid shirts. Butch wears his with jeans (which makes him look as if he stepped out of a Farmer's Magazine). All joking aside, they do something for you, Butch, and in the right way. Now let us go to Ray and see if we can think of any remarks for him. Usually Ray looks nice in everything. BUT THIS SHIRT, we must admit, increases his chest expansion (now let us see, Ray, that will be $10.00, thank you. You are swell guys, so we know we can kid you both. Wear them more often!!

SWEATER JERKIN

CHET CHITICA has been sporting around a darling white wool jerkin with blue and red lines. This is very new and different in school fashion this year. A sweater jerkin like this can be easily knitted and be a delightful all around occasion sweater. TRY IT!!

PERSONALITY

CARL CICOZZI, red-headed junior, is quite the champ in basketball. You see him mostly in a brown jacket edged in green, just like his buddy VIRGIL KELLY. He is an all around guy with many friends. Carl's clothes are just right for a red-headed junior. He certainly knows how to wear them. If you don't him, get acquainted (this refers to some of our new studes because we are sure the old bunch knows him).

BARBARA BURSON, one of the cheerleaders, certainly has pep and personality that goes to make a successful cheerleader. Her wardrobe consists mostly of sweaters and skirts. She is cute in all of them, too. Barbara has many friends (of course we all know that). It's not hard to get yourself acquainted with her for she is very pleasing.

TOO TIGHT

Another Joan and Lanney episode. Yes sir, this time Joan came out on top. Her winning was a bright red wool shirt. It was a nice shirt in it's time, wasn't it Lanney?? When things shrink there is nothing you can do about it; not even stretching will help. By the way what did she swap him???

TWINNS OF THE WEEK

The twins are none other than MARGIE HAESSLY and DONNA NEELY. They had short sleeve yellow sweaters, blue skirts, yellow sox and saddle shoes. Everything was exactly the same. Really looked cute, kids!!

DARLING DRESS

LELA ORTAL has a darling red dress with full sleeves. The belt is red with gold hobnails. It really was just precious!!

KNITTED

BETTY PARKER has a very nice idea which is a knitted fuschia colored sweater and head band to match. It is a very smart idea which more should follow, right?

PERFECT OUTFIT

Pink cardigan suit of convert cloth.

GET YOUR BID IN

In case anyone is interested, Dick Harris, Bob Bush and Arnold Flick go to Youngstown twice a week. If there are three people who would like to make sure of a ride for the tournament games, ask one of these boys. They'll only be too glad to help out.

KEEPING IN SHAPE?

Do you know how Jim Laughlin keeps in shape for basketball?? I hate to tell this on Lock, but I think you should know. He plays jacks. He says it does wonders for him in everyway. I'll bet Mr. Miller will be glad to hear that and not because he wants to try it on the rest of the team either.

JUST FOR A CHANGE

There have been four more girls who have joined the new name club. They are just using their middle names instead of taking entirely new names. Jean Headrick's middle name is Cecile, Margaret Hollinger's is Debora, Jean Herron's is Marie and Evadine Ward's is Margie.

THE WAY TO GO!

Looks like Doug Pederson and Lee Sproat have done it again. This time it is something worth while. Joining the cheerleaders really helps the appearance. Stick to it, you guys. That's the kind of thing we need more of. Why don't you get Charlie Franks to join too?? I'll bet he would.

REMEMBER WHEN?

The movie "Step Lively" was playing at the local cinema (the Grand, to the freshmen) and Martha Bennett really got her 35 cents worth. The star of the show is Frankie who happens to be Mary's favorite actor. So, just as she has done before when any of Frank Sinatra's movies have come to town, she took her binoculars and sat in the front row so she wouldn't miss anything. It's a good thing "Frankie" isn't twins or Marty would probably become cross-eyed.

NOT TWINS

Everyone has been mistaking Jerry and Bob Lepping for twins. They are not. Bob keeps getting notes from all Jerry's girl friends. So he'd like everyone to know that Jerry is the tall one and a sophomore. Bob is the shorter and a freshman. Please, girls, make sure you have the right one.

"THE BIG FIVE"

If by chance you haven't noticed, the "Big Five," Pager, Kelley, Lanney, Martinelli and Laughlin, all got crew hair cuts. They are practical in a lot of ways. They not only scare the opposing teams, but they also save a lot of money. Well, fellows, here's hoping you give Liverpool a good scare tonight. Good luck to you all.

OPEN THE DOOR, RICHARD

Why is it that everytime the door opens at the Dinner Bell, three voices from the corner booth are heard shouting, "Open the Door, Richard"? Who could it be but Marie Nocera, Phyllis Murphy, and Betty Rayniak. Wonder who locked them out, the other night?

JUST FOR CONVENIENCE

"Lu-Lu" (just call 5664) Haessly was telling this one on herself the other day. Her date arrived a little early one night and she wasn't ready. Marge, her little sister, told her to slip on something and go down and answer the door. So "Lu-Lu" did just that. The handiest thing around was the top step so she slipped on it and went down. There are easier ways to do things but "Lu-Lu" believes in doing it the hard way.

GOOD LUCK!

Here's hoping the team will be able to chalk up another one of those victories in tonight's game. Good luck fellows, we'll all be behind you.

OLD FAVORITES
 Here's a list of records that were recorded way back when but are still popular in juke boxes.
 "In the Mood"—Glenn Miller.
 "Shanty Town"—Johnny Long.
 "Six Flats Unfurnished"—Benny Goodman.
 "Summit Ridge Drive"—Artie Shaw and his Grammercy 5.
 "Marie"—Tommy Dorsey.
 "I Can't Get Started"—Bunny Berigan.
 "Cherokee"—Charlie Barnett.
 "Blue Skies"—Johnny Long.
 "Moonlight Serenade"—Glenn Miller.
 "Star Dust"—Artie Shaw.
 "Two O'Clock Jump"—Harry James.
 "Boogie Woogie"—Tommy Dorsey.
 "Opus No. 1"—Tommy Dorsey.

NEW VOCAL GROUPS
 The craving for new girl vocal groups by the public has led many name band leaders to add these groups to their bands. Frankie Carle recently hired the Sunrise Serenaders, Sonny Dunham hired the Sonnyiders, Woody Herman took the Bluewoods, Less Elghart added the Tunetellers, Tony Pastor picked up the Clooney Sisters, the Gallie Sisters are with Art Mooney, and Johnny Long recently hired an unnamed group consisting of three boys and a girl.

Some of the bands are even dropping their instrumentalists in order to take on vocal groups.

DEDICATIONS
 "For Sentimental Reasons"—To Walt from Pat.
 "This Is the Army, Mr. Jones"—To Willey from Paul.
 "William Tell Overture"—To Pat from Bev and to Bev from Pat.
 "Oh, But I Do"—To Corky from Turtle.
 "I Miss You"—To Dick from Bev.
 "How Cute Can You Be"—To Mickey from Judy, Sally, Lulu, Belle, Janie, Rocky.
 "If I Had You"—To Don from Marg.
 So long for now and don't forget to "Open that door, Richard!"

LATEST DISCS
 VAUGHN MONROE'S latest recording is "It's Dreamtime" with Vaughn and the Moonmaids on the vocals. On the flip-over is "We Could Make Such Beautiful Music." This is one of the best Monroe records we've heard in a long time. On it Vaughn and Betty Norton sing a duet. Miss Norton is really talented and makes this side a hit.

JOHNNY HODGES does a wonderful job on his new waxing of "Passion Flower." This is one of the first records Johnny has made since his separation from Duke Ellington and he really does a grand job on that sax.

DUKE ELLINGTON comes up with a new one. It's "Just Squeeze Me" and already on its way up. On the flip-over is "Swamp Fire" a torrid instrumental piece. You can always depend on the Duke for a good record.

OPEN THE DOOR, RICHARD!
 By now I guess all of you have heard that new novelty song, "Open the Door, Richard." It's quite a tune and has really caught on around here. One of the best recordings of the tune can be heard by Jack McVea and his boys.

Suzie Starts Day With Fresh Gum

Today, Suzie started the day right, with a fresh stick of gum. She felt lucky, too, because it was her favorite brand.

Honestly, thought Suzie to herself, I can't see why so many teachers object to gum, it has an inspirational value for me.

During the home room period, Suzie chewed only in intervals when the teacher wasn't looking. There was the bell. Study hall was Susie's first period. It was easy to chew gum in there. Opps, a substitute today.

Susie studied and tried to look very industrious as the teacher walked by. Did she suspect? Only time will tell.

After what seemed like hours of trying to study, keep the teacher in view, and chew at the same time, Susie felt a tap on the back and a gentle voice, ever so soft, whispered in her ear—"Please get rid of your gum, Susie."

Sorrowfully she marched up to the waste paper basket and dropped in the precious wad.

"Oh well," lamented Susie as she slipped back into her seat, "I can study better without it."

The Spotlight

By Zeke and Nemo

Quaker Lads,
It is a must,
The Miller boys
To State or bust!!!

HALF-WAY AND STILL GOING

Miller's Killers are still on the war path as they downed a potent Rayen squad at the South Field House last Friday night 56-30. The only threat during the exciting tilt was when the game was 30 seconds old, as Rayen led 1-0. But the Quakers, employing a fast break for the first time this year, proved too much for the Rayen quintette.

FUZZY-WUZY

With Miller's brain,
And the barber's pain,
The boys got a hair cut,
And won the game.

AMVETS TO MEET GLOBE TROTTERS SAT. 9:15

The world-famous Harlem Globe Trotters will be considered the under-dogs as they come to the Salem High gymnasium to meet the smooth-working AMVETS who are leading the Class A league at the Memaorial Building. The AMVETS are composed of Salem High School all-time, all-stars. There will be a preliminary game between the Salem High Reserves and "the Corner" road team who are the definite under-dogs.

QUAKERS TANGLE WITH LIVERPOOL TONIGHT!!!!

The still undefeated Salem Quaker will take the road tonight to Potterland to meet up with the Potters for the second time this season. The Liverpool Potters have been beaten twice in thirteen starts.

We predict a Quaker win by at least 10 points.

FLANNEY LANNEY!

This week we turn our heads to Francis Lanney, playing forward on Miller's quintette. Lanney racked up a neat 16 points against Rayen last Friday night. He is hitting approximately 8 points per game. Lanney is an ex-serviceman and deserves much credit for fitting in so well with the younger boys. He is

Library Book Review

Grandfather was a stern old gentleman, the small boy in the story is the author himself at the age of ten summers. Also included in the list of characters is Mrs. Cragg, the wonderful housekeeper and general "busybody," the third member of a trio which romps through a summer on the farm with interruptions by the arrivals of many unexpected and often unwelcomed guests.

Early in the spring Grandfather fell off the roof of the chicken house and thus had to spend the summer on crutches. But he wasn't going to let a broken leg interfere with his country holiday, and he decided to travel back to the farm by ambulance. On the way he stopped for some supplies and hobbled across Vanderbilt Avenue into Charles' Place. He was followed by a small boy with a horse collar around his neck. This was only the beginning of a sequence of hilarious doings which started out to be a summer for Grandfather and Grandson, free from the wiles of women, and which ended with Cousin Jenny from Baltimore underfoot, followed in rapid succession by a lady artist, a grandmother from the West, and a peck of trouble for everyone.

William B. Wilder's wit and originality will charm and amuse readers of all ages.

POEM (?)

The boys will fight
In Liverpool tonight
By gosh, we've got to win!
The Potters all know
Who'll give the show
Just wait they'll have to give in.

They know their fate
We just can't wait
To prove we're not made of tin.

There is no reason
It's just our season
So boys, let's chalk up a win.

The Adolescent Girl Aggie Realizes Half Semester Is Gone!

I am the Adolescent Girl.
I need your help.

For the moment I stand on Life's dividing line.
Behind me, the yesterday of years without caring; before me, the vague tomorrow of sharing. Today seems akin to neither.

I am no longer a child, not yet a woman. But the last reluctant bonds of Childhood still cling, as I strive to hold the inner urge of womanhood.

I need your help.

I am bewildered, but dare not confess it. I am frightened, but dare not admit my fright. Some times I seem lost, but I must let no one know.

I have donned a new mantle of dignity, but I have not yet learned how to wear it.

Somehow I sense that I am a person of importance; but I am destined to be part of the tomorrow that lies before me.

I shall be tomorrow's wife; the mother of tomorrow's sons and daughters.

I am Tomorrow!
You are my Teacher.

I turn to you. I can believe you because I think you know.

I can trust you, because I think you understand.

I am the Adolescent Girl.
Help me.

Dear Diary:

Weeps, diary can you believe it? Here it is, half a semester gone already and I haven't been able to really do any honest-to-goodness school-work yet. But, you know how it is, being young and all and besides how can a girl study with such handsome men as Pinky around? Why just yesterday, my history teacher asked me who invented the telephone and I told her I thought it was Pinky before I even thought about the question. Oh, well, I really haven't anything to do after school, so I may as well write "Alexander Graham Bell" three thousand times anyway.

Honestly, diary dear, that's just the way Pinky affects me, but I guess I'll have to get down to work before you begin to think I don't even know who discovered America. That's just stupid, any one knows Pink-ar-uh! Columbus discovered America.
