

B. Wank, Well-Known Senior, Plays Tackle On Varsity Squad

A tall, dark-haired senior lad from 212 is well-known in the sports circle around school for he is seen every week in tackle spot of the football line. This senior, whose favorite sport is football, is none other than Bob Wank.

Bob doesn't like to work. He'd much rather sleep and he does in

Dr. Frank Slutz Presents Speech To Student Body

"Use Your Radar" was the subject of an address presented last Friday before a student assembly by Dr. Frank D. Slutz, educator and youth counselor.

Dr. Slutz stressed the fact that it is more fun to do right than wrong, and urged the students to use this as one of their slogans. "Your behavior during your high school days will be a reflection upon your reputation during your entire life. Anyone wanting to find out about your previous record will usually get this information from the high school which you attended," he stated.

Dr. Slutz, a native Ohioan, was born in Mount Hope. He graduated from Mount Union College, Alliance, has a Master's degree from Harvard University, and a conferred degree, Dr. of Litt., from the University of Denver.

Dr. Slutz taught mostly during his early life. Since 1932, he has been almost entirely engaged in educational counseling and guidance in high schools of the United States during the school semesters. He is president of the Northwoods Camps Co., and spends his summer months in directing boys' camps.

In addition to being a noted educator and counselor, Dr. Slutz is also an author, having written "Thinking Things Through," "Methodist Men at Work," and a co-author of "Am I Getting An Education."

Dr. Slutz was sponsored by the Salem Ministerial Association.

Coin and Stamp Holds Auction

An antique "auction" was the feature of a recent meeting of the Coin and Stamp Club.

Among the antiques of the auction were a Lincoln head collection bought by Bill Solman; Australian cover, by Tom Kelly; United States Army covers, by George Taflan; Easter stamps, by Nick Zantal; First World War stamps, by Jack Williams; and box of stamps by Tom Pastier.

At this meeting they appointed a recreation committee to plan a "penny" dance. Members of this committee are Joe Bachman, Lester Harris, Don England, and Paul Colonanni.

New members have been added to the club. They are as follows: Tom Pastier, stamps; Charles Bailey, stamps; Royal Schiller, stamps; and Jay Sauerwein, stamps and coins.

study halls. He's like a lot of other people in that respect and also in another. His ambition is to be happy; just happy. To live a care-free life without a worry about anything is all he asks. Not much, huh?

When asked what he liked Bob said, "A certain person." Now who this is no one knows but perhaps if a few questions were asked the answer could be learned.

Bob has some dislikes, too. The girls he sees smoking are not on his list of "People I'd Like to Know." He doesn't think it improves their looks to see their heads in a cloud of smoke.

Bob enjoys eating and especially likes chocolate pudding, so if you're out to please him just give him pudding and lots of it.

Juniors and Seniors Join Slide Rule Club

The Slide Rule Club this year is composed of both juniors and seniors. This is due to the fact that the club was not formed last year and so this provision was made for those seniors who completed Algebra II last year and wish to learn the slide rule.

Two meetings have been held at which the ordering of slide rules for the club and election of officers took place. The officers are Bob Coppock, president; Jerry Miller, vice-president; Jim Litty, secretary. The club adviser is Miss Martha McCready.

Regular meetings will be held every Wednesday after school as soon as the slide rules arrive.

Teachers To Attend Annual Convention

The annual Northeastern Ohio Teachers Association convention will be held in Cleveland tomorrow.

The theme for the convention is "Education for World Unity." On the program are some of the nations' outstanding speakers.

In the morning general session at Cleveland Public Hall, Dr. Carl Mundt, congressman from South Dakota, will discuss "World Challenge to Education." The Cleveland Symphony orchestra will furnish the music.

During the afternoon there will be five large group meetings at which the general theme will be discussed.

Dr. John H. Turbay, of the Transcontinental and Western Airways, will speak on "Global Minds for a Global World."

"The Role of Education in World Unity" will be discussed by Dr. Bess Goodykoontz, U. S. director of Elementary Education.

Speaking on the subject "Perennial Questions for Best Teachers" will be Dr. Henry H. Hill, president of George Peabody College.

Dr. Ethel J. Alpenfels, an anthropologist, is discussing for her topic "Education for World Unity."

"Democracy in Germany, If" is the title of the speech to be given by Dr. L. Theruas Hopkins, professor at Columbia University.

In addition to the above there will be numerous departmental meetings and college luncheons.

Miss Weeks Picks Cast For Production

C. Ward, M. Bauman, Portray Lead Roles in "January Thaw"

The cast for the Senior Class play, "January Thaw," a three-act comedy by William Roos, was announced this week by Miss Irene Weeks, dramatics coach.

Chuck Ward and Miriam Bauman will portray the roles of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gage around whose family the plot revolves. Their daughters, Sarah, Paula, and Barbara will be enacted by Odessa Bohner, Margaret Sommors, and Gloria Steffel, respectively. Frieda, their maid, is to be Mary Jane Petrucci.

Ludwig Receives Letter Concerning Scholarships

The following letter was received recently by B. G. Ludwig, principal, which concerns high school seniors.

Enclosed is a poster which we hope you can post on your bulletin board to call the attention of your seniors to the $11,000 essay contest now being conducted by the Quiz Kids radio program in connection with the American Heritage Foundation and the Freedom Train. You might also be kind enough to make an announcement to the senior class or to call the contest to the attention of the editor of your high school paper.

Since the contest closes November 10, we are anxious that word of the project reach every senior so that he at least can have an opportunity of entering if he so chooses. I believe that the poster is self-explanatory and I feel sure that you will be sympathetic with our purposes.

Of course we would be pleased if the contest were made a school project in one of the appropriate senior classes, but knowing how crowded your schedule probably is, this is not a request for any school time nor the help of school personnel beyond the issuance of this poster. So far as the air announcements are concerned, seniors are being invited to enter the contest by writing essays on their own time.

Sincere thanks,
John Lewellen

The scholarships which the letter refers to are five $1,200 cash scholarships, fifty $50 cash prizes, and five hundred $5 cash prizes.

The subject of the essay to be written is "What America Means to Me."

The judges are Dr. Paul A. Witty, Professor of Education, Northwest-

Free Chest X-Rays Given

Free chest X-rays were given to juniors and seniors Monday. Four members of the Student Council assisted in this work. They were Lee Ward, Elijah Alexander, Dan Crawford, and Lois Firestone. This project is an aid in the treatment of Tuberculosis in its early stages and is conducted by the Columbiana Health League.

Barbara's fiance, George Hustie, will be played by Lee Ward while Matt Rockwood, a supposed suitor of Barbara's will be characterized by Dick Herron.

The remaining cast includes Arnold Segesman as Jonathan Rockwood, Joan Shepard as Mathilda Rockwood, Bill Weber as Mr. Loomis, Jack Wilson as Uncle Walter, and Jack Lozier as Carson.

The senior assistants are Nancy Trebilcock and Martha Flickinger. The story concerns a city family, the Herbert Gages and their three daughters, who seek peace and serenity in the country. Moving into an old Connecticut farmhouse, Father tries to write a "best-seller" novel in the midst of interruptions, which do not result in the country quiet he sought. Into the maelstrom of family affairs enter the old couple, Mathilda and Jonathan Rockwood and their son, Matthew, who were former owners of the house. The Gages had supposed the Rockwoods were dead and had not worried about a particular clause in the deed entitling the Rockwoods to live out their lives in the Gage home.

A contest for possession of the house ensues, each side introducing much strategy to wear down the opponent. A sub-plot involving Barbara Gage, her fiance, George, and Matthew Rockwood finds its happy ending as the possession of the house is settled and complete chaos turns to a bright, happy ending.

Miss Weeks wishes to express her appreciation for the cooperation of all the seniors who tried out for the play.

No Homework!

Hip, Hip, Hurrah!
No school tomorrow which means no lessons to rush through tonight, no Friday test to worry about and last but not least, gum can be chewed in peace all day.

Tonight is the big game and the gang is going on the bus. What a riot that'll be! One reason why the game couldn't be missed is that Butch is playing. Although he doesn't get to play very much because he's on the third rope or string or something, but anyway, the gang thinks the coach is passing up a good man and Butch thinks so, too, because he says he is at least a good bunter. (Or maybe it's punter?)

Oh joy! A thought! Everyone can sleep longer tomorrow and won't need to rush for breakfast. What bliss! Ah!

Vote For The Tax Levy!!

The board of education's 4.5-mill tax levy for the operation of schools will be up for renewal at next Tuesday's general election. This tax support has been in effect here for many years and is necessary for the continuation of our public schools. It provides nearly one-half of the present local tax support for operating the Salem schools.

The tax levy is to run for five years. During this period there will be a considerable increase in pupil enrollment in the primary grades. This increase will call for more teachers to be added to the staff with a corresponding increase in expense for running the schools.

Salem citizens have always supported our schools which rank among the best in the land. Since the renewal of the 4.5-mill tax levy calls for no additional expense, all of our citizens should vote FOR the tax levy.

New Honor Roll System Is Used For First Time

The honor roll system used this year includes any student who has a three or four point average. That is, a student can get a C on his report card and still be on the honor roll if he has an A to counteract that C. The honor roll for the first six weeks is as follows:

Four Point Honor Roll

Doris Eyton, Jeannene Mattix.

Three Point Honor Roll

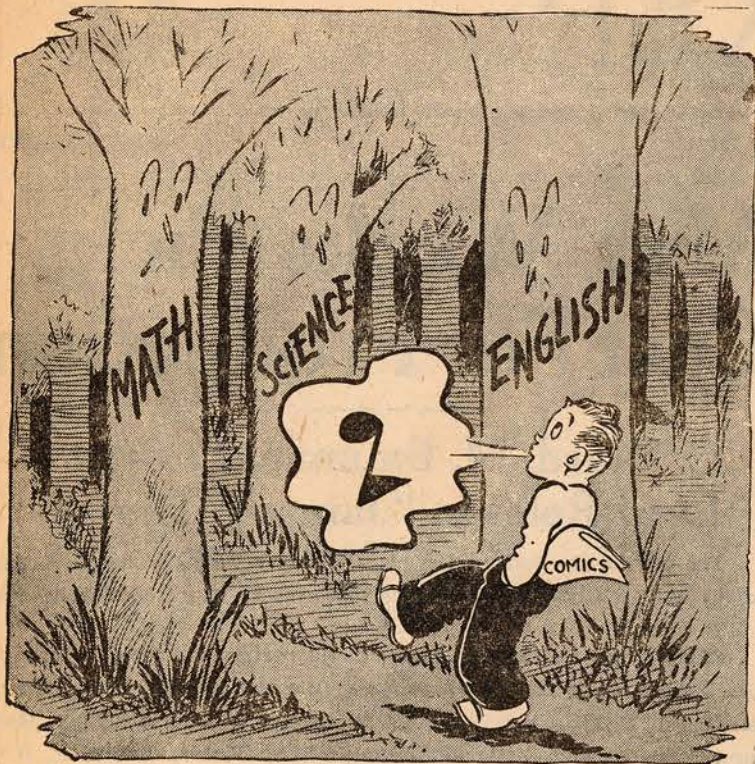

Wayne Amos, Audrey Anderson, Garna Arbanitis, Mary Arbanitis, Joe Bachman, Shirley Baldinger, David Barckhoff, Donna Barnes, Nancy Bates, Miriam Baughman, Shirley Bell, Odessa Bohner, Joanne Bova, Dick Brautigam, Lois Bruckner, June Brummer, Marilyn Burns, Virginia Burrier, Treva Bush.

Jack 'n' Jill

By Marty Bennett

JACK 'N' JILL

The pair this week are none other than JIM LITTY and SHIRLEY SMITH. They appeared last week dressed as twins in identical rust-colored outdoor sweaters that just match Jimmy's hair. (His hair is not red, he says.) Both are very sharp dressers and make a very outstanding couple. Yes, and Jimmy and Shirley are really two swell people!

TWINS AND MORE TWINS

Everything good comes in pairs and this week we seem to have lot of them. DICK ZIMMERMAN and DICK SEKELY have been seen in sporty black and white checked shirts. PAT NEELY and SARA COCCA are wearing matching sweaters, lemon and apricot, with a very unusual neck line. Last but not least are DICK COBURN and DON BIRKHIMER in identical light green sport shirts.

LUCY HUSTON and MIRIAM BAUMAN are our "doubles" this week. They can be seen wearing matching outfits of black and white plaid skirts and white blouses with perky plaid bows at the neck. Cute as Christmas!

GIBSON GIRL

Among us we have a very cute freshman who answers to the name of KATIE UMBACH. You can't miss Katie with her beguiling dimples and her hair tied up with a big bow, Gibson Girl style. You guys should get a load of this gal!

WHAT NEXT!

Some of our girls seem to have decided to trade in their sweaters 'n' skirts for football uniforms. What about it fellows, do you approve of the change?

PRETTY PINAFORES

One of the favorite styles for winter is the pinafore which is copied from the summer pinafore, but is made of heavier material and can be worn over blouses. DELORES STRATTON has a striking black and yellow wool plaid number that is really nice. MARY LIPPIATT'S green corduroy pinafore looks sweet with a tailored white blouse.

HAVE YOU SEEN?

MARY LOZIER'S smart white corduroy jacket.

MARK MILLER'S bright yellow turtleneck sweater.

GAYLE GREENISEN'S pretty aqua wool blouse.

LOWELL KING'S horn-rimmed glasses.

MARGE HANNA'S green plaid dress with a white pique collar and bright red studs.

MARTHA RHODES' maroon velveteen suit.

John DIANTONIO'S grey and aqua reindeer sweater.

BEV STOWELL'S red corduroy jacket with big white buttons.

MARILYN MILLER'S red plaid taffeta skirt with a huge bow at the waist.

Keep Cheering!

Remember the old saying, "Action speaks louder than words"? That statement applies to most of the high school students for they are the ones that do just the opposite of what the cheerleaders would like them to do.

In case some people don't know what a pep-assembly is, it is a place where students are to follow the cheerleaders and yell their lungs out. Put a little volume behind the yelling and let the team know who's backing them. In case you are still wondering where the cheerleaders come in, just yell when they announce a cheer at the games and co-operate with them. The cheerleaders are there to direct and to teach new yells. Remember, keep cheering!

LYDIA BAILEY by Kenneth Roberts, author of NORTHWEST PASSAGE and OLIVER WISWELL, was published in 1947 and has been a best seller. Its style is vivid and forceful throughout. History, romance, and adventure are skillfully blended by one of America's greatest historical novelists.

The story takes place in 1800. Albion Hamlin comes from Maine to Boston to defend a client who has run afoul by the notorious Alien and Sedition Acts. Before he realizes what has happened, Albion has lost the case, delivered a ringing oration on liberty into the teeth of Justice Chase of the Supreme Court, and has been jailed for his pains. In the meantime he has fallen in love with a portrait of his client's lovely young niece, Lydia Bailey, who has been reported dead in Haiti.

Albion's escape from prison is but the beginning of the adventures which lead him to Haiti where he finds Lydia. In France and Tripoli with Lydia he participates in events which, though both shameful and triumphant, taught the world that the United States was a world power at last.

Kenneth Roberts' vigorous, intimate style gives the reader the sense of sharing the lives of his characters and of actually living in their time.

Lydia herself emerges as Roberts' most superb woman character. Her romance with Albion is the thread which ties together this magnificent historical novel, woven by an author who has never failed to present American history more daringly and more accurately than any other writer.

Faculty, editor, student body:

During the past several weeks there has been much talk (pro and con) about having a coke machine in the hall. I am sure there are some who will agree with me that it is impractical almost to the point of being ridiculous.

But there are some changes that could be made in the school which wouldn't be so impractical. For instance, modernized locker and dressing rooms, a cafeteria, a field house, a class teaching students to drive, an extended two-year biology course (including field trips and hikes), four minutes between classes, more assemblies (student talent, musical, dramatic, etc.) put on by students. Games with football and basketball teams from larger cities, at least one pep rally a year (bonfire, snake dance, etc.) no home work over week-ends, or at least very small assignments, more dances in the gym, and more holidays."

Some of the suggestions may sound as far fetched as a coke bar, but when given serious consideration, they are all possibilities, and in my opinion would greatly improve S. H. S.

A STUDENT.

They copied all they could follow,
But they couldn't copy my mind;
So I left 'em sweatin' and stealin',
A year and a half behind.

DEAR DICK

To my rival column writer—with love.

Last week Dick was pretty hard up for gossip, so much so, that he had to come to me—not only a woman, but his own rival gossip writer. Imagine—he, a member of the Jones family coming to a woman for help. This only goes to show that men don't know everything. Right, Dick?

HOBBY CORNER

This week's hobby corner is dedicated to one of Salem High's most ardent coin and stamp collectors, Lowell King. Lowell has a very fine collection of valuable stamps, and a host of rare coins which he has been collecting for many years. Lowell is active in the Coin and Stamp club which proves his interest in this field.

EXCUSE, PLEASE!

Is my face red! I do hope Marge and Gerry Davidson will forgive me—it seems I got a little mixed up last week on their hobbies. But now I think I'm finally straightened out. Marge has a hobby of collecting patterns of moss rose, while Gerry is the collector of the antique goblets. Excuse, please.

WE WONDER

Here are a few $64 questions for you studes to be thinking about over this long weekend.

When is Marge Green and Carol Steffel's unique system of note passing to be discovered?

Why has Danny Crawford been wearing ties to school lately?

Why does Curt Ross have such big feet (revenge, that is)?

What is the true story of Jerry epping's curly hair?

Who put the mysterious whistle bomb in our editor's car?

Have you seen how charming Bill Urbanowicz's hair looks parted in the middle?

Why does Don Maxson get so "chilly" in Solid class?

IT'S A PARTY

A gay ol' party at the Brautigam homestead was held a week ago Wednesday in honor of Mr Brautigam, last year's band director. Mrs. Brautigam, who planned the party, invited all of last year's band members and a happy time was had by all.

CIDER, DONUTS, AND CIDER

The Monday following Salem's victory over Struthers, a jolly get-together was held by the football squad. They had plenty of cider on hand (hard, or otherwise?), and an ample supply of donuts. Every fella had a whole half-a-quart to himself. They really went to town in every way.

PICTURES AND MORE PICTURES

A bit of reminiscen' has become the latest fad with a few of the kids; mainly, "Big Boy" Faulkner and Carl Hrovatic. These two appeared with their first grade pictures which they proudly displayed to anyone interested. Sure is fun to see what some of us Gismos looked like back in the dim, dark ages.

WERE YOU STRUCK

With the Varsity S hayride coming up, some of you gents had better take heed to these few words:

I was struck by the beauty of her hands.

I tried to kiss her.

As I said,

I was struck by the beauty of her hands.

Note: last week's gossip column was written by Dick Jones.

Quaker Reserves Outdo Dragons

The Quaker reserves proved all-mighty for the Niles Dragons, Wednesday, October 22, at Reilly Stadium with a final score of 19 to 0 before 1,200 fans.

The first points were made by Elijah Alexander who galloped around end for 52-yards. Salem missed the extra point. This touchdown was soon followed by another touchdown, this time by Reash on a quarterback sneak. He was followed by Nocera for the extra point.

The second quarter was a stalemate until the Quakers intercepted a long pass but failed to make any score. Niles took over but was soon forced to punt. Each time Niles took over they had to punt.

A Salem fumble gave the ball to the Dragons on the Salem 17. The Quakers took the ball on downs as the game ended.

G. A. A. Reorganizes; Elects Officers

The G. A. A. now have 52 members. Miss Edith Cope, adviser, states that any other girls who wish to have their names added to the list will be welcomed.

Officers of the organization are Mary Jane Bergman, president; Shirley Bell, vice-president; Audrey Anderson, secretary; Carna Arbanitis, treasurer.

The girls have also been divided into four teams, headed by co-captains. Team No. 1 is composed of Co-captains, Carna Arbanitis and Donna Stoffer, Mary Jane Bergman, Margaret Weaver, Gwendolyn Miller, Dorothy Davis, Bonnie Denas, Anna Sweeney, Shirley Liebhart, Jackie Kuntzman, Nora Rutter, Patsy Paul, Harriet Worman.

Quakers Rip Girard Barrettmen 25-0, In Slow Start To Encounter E. Liverpool

Tom Miner's Passes Hit Paydirt Hrovatic, Herrington Get T.D.'s

Before a gathering of 4,000 ardent fans the undefeated Salem High Quakers rolled over the Girard High Indians last Friday night at Reilly Stadium, 25 to 0, but were not so impressive in their victory as they were in downing Struthers the previous week.

The triumph, which gives Salem a well-deserved boost in state ratings, was the locals' seventh straight this season and their 13th consecutive win over a two-year period.

A well-balanced passing attack proved to be the deciding factor in the Quaker victory. Quarterback Tommy Miner was tops in the aerial department, completing seven passes in 13 attempts. Walt Ehrhart and Carl Hrovatic were on the receiving end of Miner's perfect tosses, two of which Hrovatic carried over for touchdowns. This surprise passing attack clicked effectively for a total of 192 yards—more than the Salemites had previously gained through the air all season.

The Barrettmen tallied in the first period with Howard Herrington plunging over from the one-yard stripe, after two passes had moved to the ball to that point. In the second quarter Miner reeled back and heaved a beautiful one to Carl Hrovatic, who took it from over his shoulder and galloped 15 yards for a touchdown. The spectacular play covered 44 yards from scrimmage. In the same period Miner again passed to Hrovatic who was wide open on the three and went over standing up. Ehrhart's drop-kick was high and split the uprights perfectly and the score stood at 19 to 0. Salem's final tally came when Herrington carried twice for 12 yards and went over for the score. Ehrhart's drop-kick was low and the game ended 25 to 0, another link in the Quaker victory chain. --

Liverpool Gunning For A Victory

Tonight the mighty Salem Red and Black, under Coach Ben Barrett, will trek to East Liverpool to meet the Potters in what will probably be another stiff test for the Quakers. The contest, slated to get under way about 8 P. M. will be staged at Patterson Field.

Although the Potters do not have a very impressive record, they have steadily increased their brand of football over their early season playing. The East Liverpool jaws will definitely be out to upset the local gridders, since Salem so surprisingly defeated them last year and ended their 12 year reign between the two schools. The Ohio River boys will be playing on their own field, will be under no pressure whatsoever, and will be gunning for a victory over the powerful eleven from Quakertown.

Salem will hold a decided edge over the Potters and are hoping to come home with their 14th consecutive triumph. From the enthusiasm of the local squad and Coach Barrett, they will be content to come back with nothing short of victory. With the Quakers' aerial attack coming around in such fine fashion and their always-powerful ground maneuvers working properly, the Red and Black are rated as favorites in tonight's tussle.

As the Crowd Cheers . . .

By Lee Ward

Quakers Scalp Injuns

After a slow start the Salem High Quakers came through to knock off Girard 25 to 0. This means that Salem is still undefeated, untied, and has only 18 points scored on them in seven games. Not bad, eh?

Throughout the game, Salem's passes clicked successfully, netting 192 yards. Tom Miner completed seven of 13 passes, including two to Carl Hrovatic for T. D.'s, and several long ones to Walt Ehrhart.

Girard's line was plenty tough, especially left-tackle Lozier, who broke through to stop several Salem plays behind the line of scrimmage.

Lisbon Defeats Leetonia 33-0

Lisbon's Blue Devils remain undefeated, having plastered Leetonia, and all other competition in their way.

Last Friday it was Ray Davies who scored three times, and passed for another one, to head the list. Pezzano and Arnato each scored once, and Felix Rutecki caught Davies' fling for the other tally.

As you know, we play East Liverpool tonight, there. The records show that we have won seven, and they have lost seven this year. You remember that we defeated Liverpool last year, and we're betting that they haven't forgotten it. They'll be out for revenge tonight, and we'll need all your help in beating them.

Therefore, in conclusion, etc., hmmm, it is proposed that you all get on the ball and get a way down there and cheer the Quakers to victory. We'll be counting on you.
