Kelley, Zeigler, Mattix Head Senior Class '48

Coppock, Maxson, Shepard, Bauman, Burrier, Hanna, Keyes in First Ten

Senior class ratings, released this week by B. G. Ludwig, principal, place Carol Kelley, first; Sally Lou Zeigler, second; and Jeannene Mattix, third, in a class of 190 students, fourteen of whom are veterans.

Aside from maintaining a high scholastic standing, Carol has served four years on the Quaker editorial staff, being appointed feature editor her sophomore year, becoming assistant editor her junior year, and serving this year in the capacity of editor-in-chief. She also served on the Quaker annual staff her freshman and sophomore years. In her freshman and sophomore years Carol was a member of the Latin Club, while in her junior and senior years she belonged to the Hi-Tri. Carol was a student librarian in her sophomore and junior years and in her junior year she had a part in the class play, 'A Date with Judy.' She has been a Thespian Salemasquer for two years, serving as vice-president of the organization this year.

Sally Lou was a member of the Latin Club her freshman and sophomore years, and was vice-president of that organization in her sophomore year. For the past two years she has been a member of the G. A. A., Thespians, and the Hi-Tri, being treasurer of the latter this year. She was a monitor in her Junior year.

Jeannene has been a member of the Hi-Tri for two years and is Dean's Aid this year. She is also on the debate squad this year.

Coppock, Maxson, Shepard, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth

In fourth place is the senior class president, Robert Coppock. He was vice-president of his class last year and was also chosen to attend Buckeye Boys' State in that year. He has been a member of the Student Council and the Thespians for the past two years, holding a role in the junior class play, 'A Date with Judy.' In his senior year he has been president of the Slide Rule Club and manager of the Quaker business staff—weekly and annual.

Donald Maxson was a member of the French Club his freshman, sophomore and junior years, being president in his sophomore year. In his junior year he was out for football and was in the junior class play, 'A Date with Judy.'

In the sixth position is Joan Shepard, who entered from Warren, Ohio in her sophomore year. She was a monitor that year and was in the junior class play, 'A Date with Judy,' the following year. She has been a member of the Thespians for two years and this year held a role in the class play, 'January Thaw.' Also this year she is a member of the Quaker Weekly business staff, Slide Rule Club, and chorus.

Bauman, Burrier tied for Seventh
For seventh place there is a tie between Miriam Bauman and Virginia Burrier.

Miriam has participated in the G. A. A. for four years and was in the Latin Club in her freshman and sophomore years. She has been in Hi-Tri for two years, serving as vice-president this year. She was assistant editor of the Quaker annual last year and was also on the staff this year. She is on the debate squad and in the Slide Rule Club this year. Miriam had a role in 'January Thaw.'

Virginia has been a librarian for four years and was Dean's Aid her first three years. She was on the debate squad her freshman and senior year and on the Quaker Annual staff and Hi-Tri the last two years. Virginia is a Thespian Salemasquer this year.

Hanna, Keyes tied for Ninth
Another tie for ninth place is between Marjorie Hanna, and Patricia Keyes.

Marjorie was in the Latin Club in her freshman and sophomore years, serving as president in the second year. She is editor of the Quaker annual this year and has been in the Hi-Tri for two years. She had a role in the class play, 'A Date with Judy' and has been a Thespian for two years. She was a monitor in her sophomore year, Dean's aid and Brooks contest winner her junior year, and was in the chorus her first three years.

Pat was a member of the chorus for four years, going to the Mount Union Festival in her freshman and sophomore years. She was in the Student Council last year and has been a member of the Hi-Tri and Quaker annual editorial staff for two years. In her sophomore year Pat won the Marie Burns Memorial Award.

Salem Band Rates Superior In AA Class of Auditions

Eleven Qualify for State Finals; Twenty-Eight Bands Participate

The Salem High school band received a Superior rating in the AA class of the Eastern Ohio annual scholastic band and orchestra auditions held in Salem last Saturday under the sponsorship of the Ohio Music Education Association.

The eleven district high school bands that qualified for the state finals are as follows:

Dover and New Philadelphia, Class A; Salem and Cambridge, Class AA; Lisbon and Bridgeport, Class B; Carrollton and St. Clairsville, Class BB; Malvern and Sugarcreek, Class C; and Stone Creek, Class CC.

These eastern district winners along with the winners from seven other districts, will participate in the finals to be held Saturday, May 8, in Columbus.

Twenty-eight bands and two orchestras, with a total of 1685 student musicians, from 28 communities took part in the qualifier here. These auditions were held in the high school auditorium, the Masonic temple, and the Memorial Building and were well attended by the public.

The bands taking part in the auditions were Leetonia, Salineville, Malvern, Scio, Bolivar, Flushing, Brilliant, Sugar Creek, Bethesda, South Zanesville, East Palestine, Wellsville, Carrollton, Mingo, St. Clairsville, Warren, Newcomerstown, Powhatan, Lisbon, East Liverpool, Dover, Uhrichsville, New Philadelphia, Stone Creek, Bridgeport, Cambridge, Byesville, and Salem.

Howard Pardee, Salem High school instrumental director, was chairman of arrangements and Thomas E. Crothers, vocal supervisor of the Salem schools, supervised the bands at the high school, and Nelson Bailey, those at the Masonic temple. Robert Hostetler was sight reading supervisor at the Memorial building.

The judges, seven instructors, all from another district, who determined the decisions of the contest were Amos Wesler of John Adams High School, Cleveland; D. Ernest Manning of East High School, Cleveland; Irhe Seppline of North Canton High School; Milton Niergarth, supervisor of music in the East Cleveland schools; Carlo Mackey of Conneaut High School;

Art Classes Study Outdoor Drawing

The Art Classes have been studying outdoor prospective drawing. They are drawing buildings and street scenes from a side so that when looking at the picture it gives depth.

Some of their favorite subjects are the Baptist Church, other buildings, and street-scenes.

High School Holds Association Party

The annual Spring Association Party was held in the gym last Friday evening, when approximately 350 students danced to the music of Chuck Wurster and his orchestra.

Jerry Rice, master of ceremonies during the entertainment, gave several humorous impersonations. The boys' quartet, composed of Bob Tarzan, Bob Zimmerman, Dick Dougherty, and Ben Bailey sang 'I've Been Workin' on the Railroad' and 'Down By The Riverside' in the true barbershop manner. 'Sunrise Serenade' and 'Tico Tico' were two piano selections played by Ruth Winkler.

The decorations were patterned after the deck of a ship with life preservers and rafts placed around the track. The committee in charge included Mr. Olloman, adviser; Elijah Alexander, Robert Coppock, Jay England, James Ference, Viola Fldoe, Marguerite Fultz, Marjorie Hanna, Barbara Hughes, Sally Hurlburt, Carol Kelley, Shirley Kelly, James Litty, Jerry Miller, Joe Nocera, Richard Theiss, Patricia Thompson, Janet Vincent and Betty Whaley.

The Association officers are Danny Crawford, Richard Jones and Nancy Trebilcock.

The refreshment committee included Mrs. Ryser and Mr. Swaniger, advisers; Catherine Everett, Jacklyn Green, Jerry Harroff, Faye Hilliard, Kathryn Hodge, Theresa Iagulli, Herbert Kelly, Leo Kline, Ruth Mangus, Barbara Martin Jeannene Mattix, Ray Metzgar, Bob Tarzan, Gerry Van Hovek, Joyce Vaughn, John Witten, Janet Youtz.

The entertainment committee were Mrs. Tarr, adviser; Carol Kelley, Lee Ward, Gayle Greenisen.

Door: Mr. Penner and Mr. Allen, advisers; Bill Webber, David Messersmith, Lawrence Vasilvick.

In Sympathy

We wish to express our deepest sympathy to Helen, Carna, and Mary Arbanitis in the recent death of their father.

Teachers Attend Art Workshop

The Teachers Art Workshop, instructed by art demonstrator, Miss Elizabeth Ohlrogge of Ann Arbor, Mich., was held last Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday afternoons in the Salem High School gymnasium.

This clinic in school art was conducted for the benefit of the teachers of the elementary schools of Salem, to supplement their training in practical school art.

The schedule for the three afternoon sessions, which were well attended by most of the elementary teachers, was as follows:

Monday, April 19 — Demonstration in crayon and chalk technique, design in light and shade, stenciling, and figure work.

Tuesday, April 20—Craft demonstration in modeling clay, papier mache, linoleum and linoleum block printing.

Wednesday, April 21 — Demonstration in brush and finger painting, color mixing, blending, and texture composition.

Students in the elementary schools were given half-holidays on these three afternoons.

Ross, Hiscox Win Essay Contest

Barbara Ross, freshman, and Roland Hiscox, sophomore, were winners in both the city and county American Legion Essay contest, it was recently announced.

Other Salem winners were Koula Menegos, Doris Eyton, Joe Bachman, Harold Kibler, and Gloria Vincent.

The subject of the essays was 'How Can the United Nations Become More Effective?'

Food Classes Have Pie Baking Contest

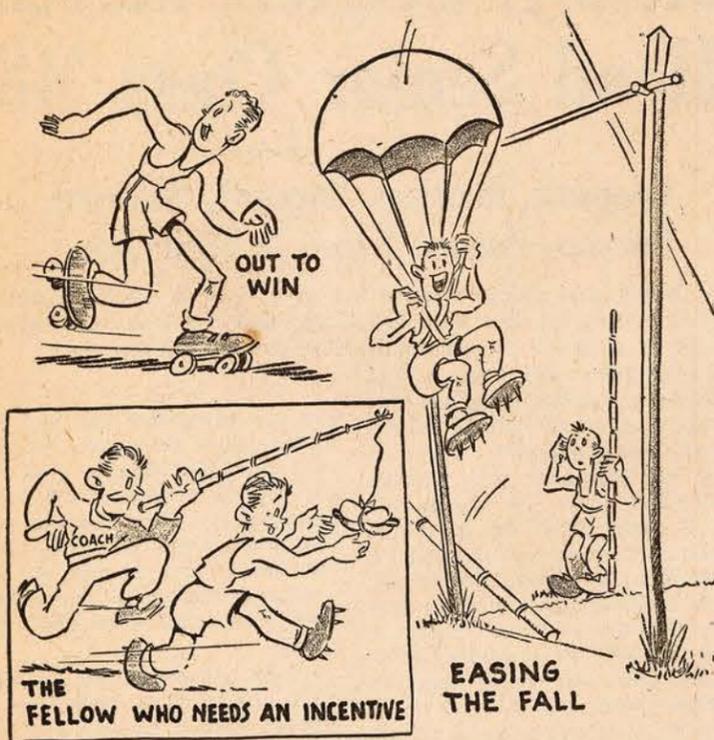

Carolyn Rowlands was the winner of the pie baking contest which was held recently by the foods classes. Her prize was a ticket to the Columbiana County Concert Series for 1948-49.

Donna Lou Getz Receives Superior Rating In State

Donna Lou Getz, senior, received Superior rating as Mezzo-soprano vocalist in the state high school solo and ensemble contest finals in Columbus. She sang 'Habanera.'

Ratings of Excellent were awarded to Eleanora Buta, soprano, and Lucy Huston, clarinetist, while ratings of good were given to Jeanne Leider, clarinetist, and to the clarinet quartet, composed of Lucy Huston, Jeanne Leider, Dom Polontieri, and Lois Bruckner.

Thomas Crothers accompanied Jeanne Leider at the piano. Shirley Baldinger played for Lucy Huston and Mrs. Odoran for the singers.

SPRING FEVER

We don't know exactly what kind of a spell has recently come over many of the male specimens of Salem Hi, but for those who tripped the light fantastic on the spacious dance floor of our artistically decorated gym at the annual Association Dance last Friday night, you no doubt know of whom we are speaking. We've come to the conclusion that Spring, with all her charm, and beauty has performed a near miracle 'cuz MARK MILLER, DAN LOCKHART, and KEN SCHROM actually got themselves dates (women, that is!) for the big event. Hi-lights of the evening were several new couples (CAROL KING and DICK GROSS, BETTY WHALEY and AL FALK, MARTHA WHINERY and BILL WEBER, PAT REINHART and LEE WARD, and JO WHINERY and KEN ZEIGLER), the MOYER sisters all decked up in their spring finery, JERRY RICE and his familiar impersonations (ahem!), JIM LITTY'S jitterbugging, and, as usual, MR. PENNER.

INVASION

The small town of Salem suddenly grew into a thriving metropolis in less than four hours last Saturday, speaking, of course, of the many bands who invaded the town. The Salem merchants must have been saving their scarce articles all during the war for the big event 'cause Salem Hi studees saw, for the first time in centuries, that the rubber balls, horns, and balloons they craved all during the war suddenly appeared on the market. Most amazing! CAROL JOHNSON and DONNA BARNES really chose an opportune time to aid in the cancer drive by standing on street corners with their boxes for contributions. How 'bout it kids, were they generous?

P. S.

To the Lisbon High School gossip column, by request—Isn't Lisbon getting gypped lately?—seems as tho' Salem constitutes most of your column. But of course we feel honored!

TO THE RESCUE

POOCHIE BISHOP was all set to play "Romeo and Juliet" one day last week except for one minor difficulty—no Juliet. He was locked out on the ledge above the middle door of the main part of our Alma Mater, and really looked like a true hero waiting for his long, lost love. However, when the bell rang, he began to resemble a scarecrow more than a hero. But when his long, lost lover, TED SABONA, appeared on the scene to let him in, his spirits were improved. Such is life!

MARCH OF TIME

The Senior Review marches on with:
Curt Ross—speed demon (track, that is).
Jim Littty—"Oh, that red hair!"
Jo Shepard—natural-born actress.
Dick Zimmerman—stapleton.
Lee Ward—famous author.
Martha Flickinger—most agreeable.
Al Falk and John DiAntonio—entertainment committee of H. R. 208.
Don Maxson—killjoy.
Vivian Safreed—special Pager admirer.

It Does Make A Difference!

You often hear these words, but are you one of those who is guilty of saying them? "What's the use of working now, my grades are so bad it won't make any difference," or "I don't care if my grades go down, this is the last six weeks." Yes, you have all heard or said those words yourself and it seems that you hear them even more during the last leg of the year than any other time.

You may think it doesn't make any difference, but it does. Especially to those who are seniors this year. Keeping up grades at the end of the year may mean the difference between going to college or staying at home, and most students prefer to go to college. In this day and age it is very important to get a good college education. There is also a lot of competition to get into colleges, so don't let your grades slip the last six weeks, keep them as high as possible.

By DONNA BARNES

THE QUARRY, by Mildred Walker, is now in the S. H. S. Library. You won't want to miss it. Reserve it now!

Young Lyman Converse was reading Plato in his rooms at Brown. When he came to the sentence, "Love desires that which is absent and beyond his reach," he shoved the book aside and said, "Plato's as crazy as a loon."

But Lyman hadn't any way of knowing then how closely his own emotional life would follow this definition of love. For he seemed destined to lose the things he loved most, and nothing which he wanted during his life was he able to have; the girl he loved, the education he desired, the work he cared for, or the affection he craved. But to outward appearances he was a happy, successful man. Only Easy, a runaway slave who had found refuge on Lyman's father's farm when a boy, really understood and comforted Lyman, and gave him courage throughout his life.

There are many stories woven into THE QUARRY. There is a story of the love between Lyman and the woman he cannot marry. Her letters which he carries in his pocket seem like hidden laughter to him as he goes his sober way to the quarry office. Then there is the story of Lyman's life with his wife Louisa in their house on Main Street.

THE QUARRY is a novel of life in Vermont from the days just before the Civil War (in which Lyman was too young to enlist) up to the beginning of World War I in which his son took part.

The title of the book refers to the soapstone quarry from which the Converse family made their living.

Dear Editor:

As the annual Prom night is looming before us, I think all the Juniors and Seniors should give thoughtful consideration as to where we should have it. I believe many Juniors and Seniors would be very thankful if we could get it out of the high school gym. There are a couple of places in Salem besides the gym in which we could have it—places like the Masonic Temple or Salem Golf Course. If we were to take it out of town, such places at the Mahoning Country Club or Myers Lake are very nice.

We hold all our school dances in the gym and I think that it is about time we got the Prom out of the gym so it wouldn't seem like a school dance.

AN APPEALING STUDENT

Who's Who In Library

KATHERINE WINKLER

"Katy" is a sophomore librarian. She is a member of the Latin Club and the G. A. A. Her pastimes are sewing and reading; her hobby is collecting pictures of animals. Among her favorites are Ingrid Bergman, Meredith Wilson's orchestra, "The Anniversary Song," ham, chocolate cake, and baseball. She is undecided as to what she wants to do when she graduates.

Jack 'n' Jill

By Marty Bennett

APRIL SHOWERS

"When April Showers come your way—" they bring with them right bright raincoats in loads of luscious colors and materials. Rosie Loutzenhiser wears an unusual one of chartreuse satin twill, while Norma Cunningham has a grey one of the same material. Really adorable are Marge Greene's and Carol Steffel's twin navy gabardine raincoats, worn with crisp white scarves.

JACK 'N' JILL

THREE MINUS ONE

Leaves two—and those two are the identical blouses owned by Stella Jones and Donna Neely. Seems these two gals took off for Youngstown the other day and came back twins. The blouses are white cotton with an eyelet yoke adorned with a perky ruffle.

HAVE YOU SEEN?

Margie Lutsch's lilac-colored suit.
Miriam Bauman's pale green blouse.
Jean Flick's red and blue plaid dress.
Marge Reash's two-piece cotton of pink, black, and white stripes.
Mary Kordan's lime and blue striped cotton.
Geneva Lucas' two-piece brown and white cotton.
Jo Ann Whinery's rust-colored dress—she made it herself.
Polly Ailes' red plaid taffeta blouse.

PERT SKIRTS

Marilyn Eberwein is one gal who has a nice collection of ballerina skirts. She makes 'em herself and, believe me, they are sharp! She made herself a beautiful red plaid broomstick skirt with a big bow in the back. Over the same pattern she has a pretty blue taffeta one. For good, Marilyn has one of the smoothest skirts ever. A light aqua velvet number, that makes us say—oh, to be able to sew!

RIGHT IN STYLE

We are referring to a couple of seniors; namely, Marilyn Miller and Beverly Stowell. Last Saturday they went to Canton and had their hair styled by a special hair stylist. Umm! Did they look nice! Bev had a snappy page-boy with bangs, while Marilyn wore a short curly bob. Very fine!

THIS AND THAT

There is a new perfume case out, that's as big as a minute and works on the principle of a ball-point pen. Great for dates . . . Speaking of perfume, the new solid perfume is fine for holding down those stray ends in an upswept hair-do . . . You gals with strapless formals who are wondering where to pin your corsage, come Prom Time, should know that the fashion experts say—pin the flowers on your bustle! (They don't mention how to sit down—guess you're just supposed to dance all evening!) . . . The new cottons are bare to the moon instead of the sun, done up with jewels for dinner and dancing. . . An unusual shade of nail-polish, that goes well with summer suntans, is a brilliant shade of tangerine . . . Denim, the stuff that blue jeans are made of, is made up in many varied styles this spring, in shades of red, blue, and brown. This sturdy material makes up sun-dresses, skirts, jackets, and shorts.

S. S. Salem High Puts Out

BY CAROL KELLEY

The S. S. Salem High pulled out for ports unknown last Friday at 8:30 p. m. With Chuck Wurster and orchestra giving forth with sweet, sentimental music, the sailors and "sailorettes" of Salem High danced under the blue sky on the deck of the S. S. Salem High.

Jerry Rice, who captained the ship and its mates during intermission, captured the applause of all the 350 crew members in attendance.

The lights were low on the deck that night. The officers on duty were a little dubious of the visibility but saw the crew's viewpoint—much to the relief of the crew.

The garb of the mates was varied. The sailor uniforms were cast aside for cotton dresses and sport clothes. The dungarees were exchanged for dressy dresses and suits.

The lake was calm except when the orchestra cut forth with a polka or two—then the waves rumbled violently.

At 11:30 the deck was almost deserted and everyone had turned in for their first night at sea.

Class Ratings

The following ten people have gained ranks in the first twenty of their class. They are in order of their rating: Sally Hurlburt, eleventh; Dolores Stratton, twelfth; Gayle Greenisen, thirteenth; Nancy Stamp, fourteenth; Mary Lippiott, fifteenth; Rita Zeller, sixteenth; Odessa Bohner, seventeenth; Richard Jones, eighteenth; Betty Volpe, nineteenth; and Nancy Callahan, twentieth.

In response to a newspaper essay contest on "What I Want in My Postwar House," a reader sent in the one well-chosen word: "Me!"

Salem Gets Superior

Emil Puffenburger of Canal Fulton High School, and Harry F. Clarke of Lincoln High School, Cleveland. The decisions were based on five ratings, from poor to superior, and were judged on musicianship, sight-reading, presentation of a "required number" of composition varied according to the size of the school, and one selected number all judged competively.

The two orchestras, one from East Liverpool, and the other from Dover rated excellent.

Quakers Romp Over Springfield Township Cindermen

Salem Wins 70-17/20-47-3/20; Burkey, Springfield, High Man; Boone, Salem, 2nd

Gaining seven first places and two ties for first place out of 14 events, the Salem cindermen romped over Springfield Township High with a total of 70 17/20 points to Springfield's 47 3/20 in Reilly Stadium last Friday. High point honors went to Burkey of Springfield who garnered 15 points, while Ted Boone was high point man for the Quakers with eight points.

Huddleston took first in the high hurdles with 16.2½ seconds, followed by Boone in second and T. Goist taking third for Springfield. Ross placed first for Salem in the 100-yard dash with 11 seconds, McMurray placed second for Springfield, and Faulkner came in third.

In five minutes, .05 seconds Scullion took first for Salem in the mile run, with Kamasky second and Billock for Springfield third.

Springfield won the 880-yard relay in one minute, 43.5 seconds.

Burkey of Springfield took the 440-yard dash, but Miller and Dean took second and third respectively. Boone placed first in the 220-yard low hurdles with T. Goist and K. Goist second and third. Boone's time was 29.5 seconds.

Ray Yeager took the 880-yard run for Salem in 2:13, followed by Kamasky in second, and Besch third for Springfield.

McMurray took first for Springfield; Fredrick, second, and Votaw, third for Salem in the 220-yard dash. Salem took the mile relay in three minutes, 58.8 seconds. The Salem team is composed of Miller, Dean, Scott, and Yeager.

With a distance of 120 feet, 10 inches, Burkey placed first in the discus; Jack Wilson, second; and Noel, third for Springfield. Burkey again took honors for first in the shot put with 42 feet, 10 inches.

Kastanek and Hrovatic took second and third for Salem.

Brown of Salem and T. Goist of Springfield tied for first in the pole vault event with 10 feet. Roth of Salem, and Schaffer, Oesch, H. Goist, all of Springfield, took second.

In the high jump Lozier and Alexander of Salem tied for first, with Carrier, Schaffer, and Noel of Springfield with 5 feet 2 inches.

Theiss took honors for Salem in the broad jump with 19 feet, 4¼ inches. Frederick placed second and Gates of Springfield third.

G.A.A. Adds Bowling To Many Activities

Salem Defeats Louisville In First

Yes, sir, the Salem Track Team really outclassed Louisville in a meet held Thursday after school. Bad weather caused the meet to be run Thursday instead of the scheduled Tuesday date.

Johnny Huddleston came through with top scoring honors, placing first in the high hurdles, running on the winning half-mile relay team and taking first in the low hurdles. He collected 11¼ points all told.

Second man for Salem and in the meet was Ray Yeager, a really mellow Junior and a sure-fire point getter. Ray easily picked up 10¼ points.

Boyles, of Louisville, ranked third with eight points.

Our tracksters took first in almost all of the events, but seemed kind of weak in the weights. We have about four boys who can do around 40 feet in the hot put, and that's good enough for seconds and thirds, but where is that first?

The final score was 85 points for Salem, and 33 points for Louisville.

Springfield Township Falls Before Quakers!

A red tide swept over Springfield township in last Friday's meet. That red tide was the up-and-coming Salem Track Team!

The Quakers looked very impressive in accomplishing the 70 17/20 to 47 3/20 victory. Honors of this meet go to Burkey of Springfield with 15 points, and Ted Boone of Salem with eight.

Cope Attends Track Clinic

Mr. Cope attended the Ohio State Track Clinic in Columbus last week-end when 250 track coaches gathered at their annual conclave. Harry Snyder, Ohio State Track Coach, presented Rufe Glass of Columbus West, who was chairman of the day's activities. The coaches went to school on Saturday morning, got a feed via the Ohio State Athletic Department, and saw movies in the afternoon.

Two sailors, asleep on a Brooklyn park bench, had this sign hung on their feet: "Don't Disturb — The Fleet's All In!"
