

Bank Conducts Carrot-Top Litty Essay Contest Is Terrific Boy

Jim Litty

By JOANN WHINERY

As a part of its public service program in bringing contemporary art and art appreciation to Salem, the First National Bank is sponsoring an essay contest on the subject "What American Art Means to Me."

All entries must be submitted during the month of April. Other rules and restrictions pertaining to the contest can be found posted in each home room.

Judges, chosen by the bank, will rate the papers and designate the first three winners. To each of these will go a "Certificate of Award," and to the first place winner will be presented the "Art Essay Silver Medal." The first winning essay will then be sent to New York to serve in competition with first prize winners from the districts of the other 23 banks supporting the Group Essay Contest. The essay winning first place there will entitle its author to a $400 scholarship.

The First National Bank is presenting this contest in accordance with the art program it has now been carrying on for a year. During this time twenty-four paintings by living artists and belonging to the American Art Association have been on exhibit at the bank building. The current work is called "Jessica" and was painted by Marion Greenwood.

8E, 7D Win Tax Stamp Contest

The Tax Stamp Contest was won by the 8E's and the 7D's. The 7D's beat the 8E's by bringing in $800.00 worth in stamps.

Four Junior Hi students met Senator Robert A. Taft at the Memorial Building. They were Susan Menegos, Mary Ellen Searlis, Darrell Askey, Don Getz and Helen Copacio. Mr. Taft gave each of the pupils his autograph.

The Salem Garden Club will exhibit the bird houses that have been made by the members of the Nature Club. This exhibit will be shown at the Salem Public Library.

The Student Council has been sponsoring a Courtesy Campaign for the past two weeks. Each day a Student Council member gives a talk over the loud speaker on courtesy in the classroom or in the hall. The campaign has been very successful so far.

The art class is featuring still life pictures. These pictures are done in oil paints or chalk.

Mrs. Pelly, science teacher, has been ill. Mrs. Alabaugh and Mrs. Crothers have been substituting for her. Her classes hope to see Mrs. Pelly back in school soon.

The Arts and Crafts classes are featuring linoleum blocks in the hall showcase. Each block is printed on a piece of paper to show the finished design.

The class pictures have been taken for the Quakerette Annual. Mrs. McCarthy is the adviser.

All members of the Student Council were surprised at an assembly given last Friday. They were each presented with gold pins that showed their membership in the Council.

FINAL RESULTS

This is old old news but it had to be brought up for the records.

The final tabulation of tickets sold for the Junior play, "Home Sweet Homicide," shows that homeroom 203 sold the most tickets. They sold 286.

Mary Ibele, a member of that homeroom, was high ticket seller for the entire contest by selling 108 tickets.

The total of all tickets sold is 1412 for three nights while the highest number of tickets sold before this time was 1351 for two nights.

Salemasquers To Present Play

"Shock of His Life," a one-act play to be presented at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church next Thursday, was previewed at a recent meeting of the Salemasquers.

In order to have underclassmen in the play, Shirley Smith withdrew and Jackie Kuntzman took her place in the cast as Connie.

If arrangements can be made, the play will be presented to the high school students.

All members of the Junior play cast were welcomed as members of the Salemasquers.

DANNY CRAWFORD IS PERSONALITY OF WEEK

BY MARCY VAUGHN

Black curly hair, blue eyes, and a wonderful build and personality make Danny Crawford one of the best-known and best-liked seniors. He is generally recognized as the first person the freshman girls would like to meet. The upperclassmen think he is pretty dreamy too.

Dan has made a star of himself by going out for every sport Salem has to offer. He played basketball his freshman year, went out for track his freshman, sophomore, and junior years, and has become practically a "pro" at football, having played his sophomore, junior, and senior years. Brilliant work at the position of half-back earned him the Knights of Columbus trophy which was presented at the football banquet this year.

Dan can't see English as a subject, but he specialized in Math and enjoys his trig class immensely. Spike Jones is his special buddy and he could spend hours listening to Spike's "music." Dan loves liver and onions done just right. His one

Hi-Tri Members Have Dance

Those mellow melodies drifting from the gym last Friday night set the stage for the Hi-Tri members and their dates who were dancing to the rhythm of Student Council records, jockeyed by Audrey Anderson and Viola Fidoe. Master of ceremonies, Miriam Bauman brought a program, consisting of a tap-dancing routine by Audrey Anderson and a monologue given by Jo Ann Whinery, to the attention and entertainment of the guests. Peanut-butter cookies and coke or pepsi were served by Donna Barnes as refreshment committee chairman to top off an interesting evening.

Girls To Present Track Awards

Doris Eyton, Jean Huddleston, Gloria Klein, and Frances Kline have been elected by members of the track team to present medals at the Salem Night Relays, tomorrow.

These girls will sit on the victory stand in the middle of the football field and give medals to the winning boys.

BAND CONCERT SET FOR MAY 6

The annual spring concert will be presented May 6 in the auditorium by the Salem High School band.

Howard Pardee, band director, is in charge of the program.

Accredit SHS For 1948-49

Salem High School has been accredited again by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, B. G. Ludwig, principal, announced recently.

This association, the largest in the United States, is an accrediting agency which sets minimum standards for instructors, teacher training, physical equipment, etc., and any school that can qualify becomes a member of the Association.

Every year the high school or college involved sends in a report which is gone over and decided upon at an annual meeting held in March.

Salem High was first accredited in 1906.

Hi-Tri To Have Mothers To Tea

The annual Hi-Tri Mother-Daughter Tea will be held next Wednesday afternoon. The program, which will be held in the music room, will be followed by a tea in the home economics room.

The chairmen in charge of the affair are Virginia Burrier, program; Audrey Anderson, invitation; Marcy Vaughn, favors; and Lucy Huston, refreshments.

Thespians Revise Constitution

The Thespians have been revising their constitution since there are inequities in the point system.

Lee Ward, president, appointed a committee to work on this revision. It includes Virginia Burrier, Miriam Bauman, Martha Flickinger, and Carol Kelley.

Presidential Pup

SAD-EYED AND WISTFUL, President Truman's pet cocker spaniel "Feller," submits to grooming preceding his appearance as pup of honor at the Washington Cocker Club show, where 117 members of his breed vied for beauty awards. Wielding the brush is Mrs. Wallace Graham, wife of the President's personal physician. (International)

INDIAN FANS

Well, seems like Zimmerman and Cain are at it again. They were A. W. O. L. from school to catch the Indians' opener. They not onl got to see a good game, but also a little vacation.

THANKS

At the Boosters' basketball banquet, at which the boys and the band were feted, the seniors received gold basketballs. To the Boosters we'd like to say, "Thanks again." These souvenirs will be kept to help us remember the enjoyment we got out of basketball.

HIGHER MATHEMATICS

In math class, 7th period, the teacher asked this: "Jerry, if you had a piece of beef and cut the halves in two, and then divide the pieces what do I get?"

Jerry Lepping—"Eights."
Teacher—"That's right. Again?"
Jerry—"Sixteenths."
Teacher—"Again?"
Jerry—"Thirty-seconds."
Teacher—"Right. Again?"
Jerry—"Hamburger."

THE MAD SCIENTISTS

"Frankenstein" Tarr and "Wily" Webber are at it again. Using a hand magneto they rounded up some experiments to hold hands with while they ran a small amount of current through them. "Wily" even talked Tarr into joining the group. Then he turned on the juice slightly, then really poured it through. There sure was a bunch of shocked boys.

TIEDOWN KIND

Marty Bennett had a pretty good one pulled on her. There were about two minutes to go in the last period in the morning. She was wearing a dress with a belt that tied in the back. One of the boys who sat close to her tied the belt around the back of the seat. She must have been hungry because suddenly the bell rang and Marty tried to rise. Bam, right down again.

A PAID ADVERTISEMENT

There's going to be a swell track meet tomorrow, the Salem Night Relays. This event starts about two o'clock. But if you're thirsty or a little hungry, just go down to that efficiently run stand sponsored by the Student Council. They can fill the bill.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

Some of those track stars—Huddleston, Boone, Theiss, Jerry Miller—want to see their names in print. Well, here they are boys. See everybody at track meet tomorrow.

Are You Planning Wisely?

Before very long Salem High School students will be requested to make out their choice of study sheets for next year. At that time a great question will arise. Are we planning our high school schedule wisely, or are we choosing our subjects blindly and haphazardly, regardless of the career we intend to follow?

It is important that we begin planning our life's work the very first year in high school, selecting the subjects needed to gain the necessary training to launch us on a successful start. Many students who do not plan their schedules wisely are unable to get into the colleges of their choice because they fail to have the necessary requirements for entrance.

Therefore, let us plan our courses, look ahead, and choose our vocation. Then with the aid of our high school advisers plan our school schedule for next year accordingly.

By DONNA BARNES

IN THE HANDS OF THE SENECAS, by Walter Dumax Edmonds, has been placed on the shelves of the S. H. S. library.

The Time: The year 1778.

The Place: Dygartbush, New York. Smoke was rising from the lonely cabins, but it wasn't the fragrant smoke of cookfires welcoming the men home from forest, clearing, and trail. It was the bitter smoke of charred logs, smoldering heaps which only that morning had been the homes of settlers. Perhaps also there was the terrible smoke of burning flesh, for more than one husband had perished in the flames after his scalp had been securely tucked in a Seneca raider's belt.

Most of the women and children were carried into captivity. Among them were two thirteen-year-olds, Ellen Mitchell and Peter Kelly, and Delia Borst, a bride of one month who was compelled to be the squaw of a chief.

Walter Edmonds has written IN THE HANDS OF THE SENECAS so realistically that it plays tricks with your calendar. For a few hours you find yourself living in an exciting, dangerous age, years ago, battling flames and hostile savages with no aid available from the police or the fire department or from your neighbors.

Indian life, character, and customs are very well portrayed. The Indians themselves are "real" human beings; Indians who are impersonally cruel, simple, friendly, wise, brutal, kind, sly, proud, self-effacing, and laughter loving.

Mr. Edmonds also wrote the all-time favorite DRUMS ALONG THE MOHAWK.

Your Opinion?

"What do you think of a driving course for Salem High?"

Johnny DiAntonio—"Very good idea. I need a lot of instructions."

Betty Anderson—"I'm all for it because I could certainly use some instruction."

Don Birkhimer—"Good idea! Then maybe some of the SPEED DEMONS would learn to drive."

Ginny Burrier—"Swell! I think most girls and a lot of boys too haven't much idea how a car works, and why!!"

Carol Johnson—"It's a very good idea and I definitely think we should have it!"

Lucy Huston—"A super idea! It would give more kids the chance."

Bob Hahn—"I'm all for it!"

Lester Harris—"They sure need it."

John Huddleston—"Good deal, especially for these driving demons."

Odessa Bohner—"I think it would be a very good thing."

Gene Boals—"A good idea, I know of some that could easily do with some instruction, Morrow!"

Carl Cicozzi—"It's a fine idea, mostly for some of these clowns that are driving now and don't know how."

Danny Crawford—"Best idea for a long time. It will give a lot of people a chance to drive that otherwise wouldn't learn."

Clarence Davis—"I'm for it, some fellows need a little instruction."

Pete Cain—"Not for it—Should be taught at home, not in school."

Sally Hurlburt—"Swell idea if it can ever be accomplished."

Gerry Gross—"Good! It would teach me to drive."

Jack 'n' Jill

By Marty Bennett

JACK 'N' JILL

The Jack 'n' Jill this week are a Frosh and Senior that make a mighty nice twosome. They are Arnold Segesman and Maria Olson. Arnold looks tall, blond, and terrific in his kelly-green shirt. Maria looks sweet in her pastel plaid cotton with a big ruffle around the bottom. Be sure to notice Arnold and Maria.

BRIGHT BOY

Guess that describes Rudy Maroscher pretty well. This time Rudy appears in a pair of yellow gabardine pants which, of course, he has pegged himself. You can't miss 'em!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Jeanne Breault received a really beautiful rhinestone necklace for her birthday. These rhinestones add a sparkly, distinctive touch to Jeanne's date dresses. A present from Norm? Could be.

HAVE YOU SEEN?

MARY JANE COFFEE's blue and white print dress with a corselet-style belt.

JENNY MOZINA's apricot cotton trimmed with black eyelet.

MARY LESICK's orchid ruffled blouse.

LEILA OERTEL's black skirt with chartreuse ruffle and top.

DONNA BARNE's grey and chartreuse dress.

ODESSA BOHNER's striped cotton with a white ruffle around the neck and sleeves.

AGNES VOROS apricot and grey plaid dress.

MARTHA FLICKINGER's yellow, blue and pink diagonal-block cotton.

NEWS IN SHOES

"Strollers" are the name of the new durable play shoes that look smart and stay smart. All parts of the shoe are made solidly into one piece by vulcanization. Wet grass, damp days, and even dunking in the tub won't separate these sharp play shoes A 24 carat fashion are the new moonstruck sandals. White suede and gold kid high heels For dressed up casual clothes there are white suede sandals, crossed with gold kid The new black wedgie baby dolls can be worn with a huge silver pilgrim buckle during the day time and then dressed up for evening with a dainty rhinestone clip.

TWINS

Two Frosh cuties, namely Liz Fultz and Bea Firestone look adorable in their identical blue cotton dresses. They are really sweet styles and are trimmed with pert, perky white ruffles.

LYP-STAE

This is a new crystal-clear liquid which can be applied over your favorite lipstick. The preparation penetrates the lipstick and keeps it in place. It prevents smearing and lipstick will even stay on during swimming.

Who's Who In Library

SALLY LOU ZEIGLER

Sally began working in the library last year. She is a senior, the treasurer of the Hi-Tri, and a member of the Thespians and the Music Culture Club. Her likes are food, football, music, books. Her favorites are chocolate ice-box pudding, sea foods, Fred Waring, "Because." In the summer she loves to swim and has won several medals at the Country Club. Sally's pastimes are corresponding with friends in Scotland, England, and the U. S., and hiking in the woods with a rifle or a camera. Her pet peeve is there is not enough time. She's thinking of working on a 30 hour day . . . (whenever she has time!) Her ambition is to get a Bachelor of Science degree in nursing at Western Reserve University.

RUTH WINKLER

Ruth is a junior, and no relation to Katy. She is a member of the following organizations: Hi-Tri Music Culture Club, and the Quaker Weekly Editorial Staff. She has been a librarian for two and a half years. In her freshman year she won the Marie Burns Music Award; in her sophomore year she received first prize for her Brooks Contest poem, "Nature at Her Best" and "Sentimental Journey." Ty Power and Maureen O'Hara, pie and ice cream, basketball and swimming, and the saying, "That's for sure!" Her pet peeve is Spike Jones and his City Slickers. She likes music, books, loafing, and conversing in German with her friends. Ruthie wants to be a good private secretary—and she would like to play a concerto with a big symphony orchestra some day.

Dedications On the Down-beat

Once again, we're going to take a ride on the music wagon of today. The weird song of the present seems to linger with the title "The Saber Dance." As a few girls around S.H.S. found out, "The Saber Dance" has words. "Babyface" came into being with a bang. Everyone has been humming its snappy melody lately. Many old pieces have again become popular. Among these are the two hits, "What'll I Do" and "Among My Souvenirs." Benny Goodman's "String of Pearls" is appearing on many juke boxes everywhere, as well as Glenn Miller's arrangement of "Moonlight Serenade." At almost every wedding, one hears the song "Because." Apparently Perry Como has been to a wedding lately or, at any rate, he certainly has made a smash rendition of this beautiful melody.

Among our dedications this week we have:
"Moonlight Serenade" to George from Carolyn.
"I'll Hate Myself in the Morning" to Flo from Gene.
"Moose on the Loose" by Bull Moose Jackson to Moose.
"All By Myself" to Shirley from Virg.
"Always" to Zim from Bunny.
"I Miss You So" to Tweet from Helen.
"Babyface" to Jerry Lepping from Tebo.
"I'll Hate Myself in the Morning" to Marge Hanna from Bill.
"Desert Song" to Bev from Dom.
"The Things We Did Last Summer" to Caryl from Pat and Nancy.
"Big Fat Mamma" to Joe from Jerry.
"Wish I Didn't Love You So" to Stuestia from Nina.
"Little White Lies" to Marge from Janet.
"I Miss You So" to Mutt from Gwen.
"Side by Side" to Rosie from Ronnie.
"Heartaches" to Betty Parker from Sammy.
"I Wish You Was Dead" to Hank from Hahn.
"True" to Biggie from Biggie.
"Tootieoollie Polka" to Josephine from Little Boy.
"The Man I Love" to Tom from Caresse.

A chap we know shared a commuter's seat the other day with a brisk, informative little man who said he was a butler at a Libertyville estate.
"Oh," said our friend, "you work for Mr. Jones?"
The brisk little man drew himself up haughtily. "Certainly not. Mr. Jones is working for me. He gets up at seven every morning and goes down to that dirty, stinking city to make enough money to keep this place and me going."

ECONOMY NOTE: The publicity boys at one Hollywood studio received this note from their boss: "Whatever you've been stealing on our expense accounts, please only steal 50 per cent of it."

The 8D's won the basketball championship for 1947-48. The 8C's were their competitors.

The Ping Pong tournaments are on! Each class is to have a girl and boy winner. These winners will compete against each other to determine the school champion. Tom Stamp is the 8th grade winner so far.

The Dramatics Class has finished their puppets and are through writing their play. The play is entitled "Witchcraft." They plan to give a puppet show soon.

Miss Emery's English classes are writing poems concerning the pictures that are pasted on the blackboard in the library. These poems are called picture-poems.

The show case is featuring a coin collection belonging to Charles Dan. Each coin has an engraving of a past president on it.

The Nature Club featured a guest speaker, at the last meeting. Miss Edna Bowles spoke on Oglebay Park. This park is a summer camp for all nature lovers. It is located at Wheeling, W. Va.

The 7th grade Girls' Club has been having amateur shows at their meetings. Nancy Bailey is President.

A movie on Television was given to the 7th graders in assembly last Thursday.

In the film COPACABANA Andy Russell, watching Carmen Miranda execute a fiery South American dance, remarked approvingly, "Lots of pepper."

QUIZ KIDS

What Would You Do With a Collum?

Janet Brautigam—Sit on it.
Bob Campbell—Take a stick and kill it.
Marge Haessly—Prop it up in a barn.
Janie Coffee—Ride it.
Jo Ann Whinery—Test it for carbon (notice that Mr. Jones).
Wayne Slosser—Eat it.
Norma Cunningham—Take it for a walk.
Betty Pastier—Wear it.
Lois Firestone—Chew it.
Nancy Bates—Put it on the front of a building.
To all the geniuses who wish to know, a collum is a neckpiece of a moss plant or a collar.

One day I heard my Uncle Ben, the most successfully lazy man in Logan County, Kentucky, calling the maid by his wife's name. When I corrected him, he explained, "I call everybody Cora now—even the dog and the stock. It's easier. I can sit out here on the porch and when I holler, "Cora," I know somebody's going to come. Them I don't want I send back."

Mansfield Cops First In Relays; Salem 10th

Alexander, Scullion, Kamasky, Shuttle Team, Place for Quakers

With a total of 44½ points, the Mansfield High School cindermen took honors for first place in the Uhrichsville track meet last Saturday. The Salem Quakers placed tenth with 7½ points.

Elijah Alexander tied for third in the high jump with 5 feet, 7 inches. Tying with three others, he received the fourth place ribbon in the coin flip.

The Quaker trackmen took fifth in the shuttle hurdle relay, 480 yards of low hurdles, each man running 120 yards. Dick Theiss, Jerry Miller, Ted Boone, and John Huddleston made up the relay team.

Jack Scullion placed third in the mile run in 4 minutes, 53 seconds. Alex Kamasky took fourth with 4 minutes, 54 seconds.

Struthers High placed twelfth with 5 points. East Palestine tied for thirteenth place with Niles. Each had 4 points.

An old rancher in eastern Kansas was hoeing his corn in the hot summer sun. "Why don't you hitch the team up and plow those weeds out with a cultivator?" his more energetic brother-in-law asked.

"Oh, I dunno," the rancher replied. "It's so easy to quit this way!"

News From Old Track Stars

Track Alumni News

Mr. Cope reports that he has heard from several ex-track stars of Salem's last few years.

Bill Ward is the second best low hurdler at Ohio University, and competed against Pitt at Pitt last Tuesday.

Mutt Roessler, also at Ohio U., is the best pole vaulter at the University and has done 11 feet 6 inches so far this year, while gunning for 12 feet.

Glenn Thorne won the Intramural 440-yard dash at Mt. Union. He is a freshman, and is the best mile and two-mile runner there.

Elliot Hansell, last year's track captain at the University of Pennsylvania, is now in business in New York City. He sent his best wishes to the Quaker team last week.

Bob Little, a sophomore at John Carroll, in Cleveland, is on the track team for his and it's second consecutive year. He is doing a good job of running the 440 and half-mile.

The little lad was going to Sunday school for the first time and his mother gave him a nickel for the collection. He returned with the money. "I didn't need it," he explained. "The minister met me at the door and let me in free."

Boardman 70 — Salem 48

Salem fell to its first defeat when Bored man (Ho Hum) came through to tally 70 points to our 48. The Boardman squad seemed to have too much on the ball for the Quakers who scored only five firsts, plus a hoard of seconds and thirds.

Todd (B) won the high hurdles with a pretty good time of 15.3 seconds. Our Huddleston was right on his heels, however, and copped second place.

Pinhey (B) took the 100 yard dash with a fairly slow 10.7 seconds. Curt Ross placed second, and Jerry Miller tied for third.

Jack Scullion led the pack in the mile run and he and Alex Kamasky placed first and second, respectively.

Boardman swiped first in the half-mile relay with the good time of 1 minute, 36.7 seconds.

Alex Kamasky won the half-mile run and Gene Woodworth (S) placed third.

Johnny Huddleston came through to win the low hurdles with a fast time of 27.9, beating Boardman's Todd to the tape.

Ray Yeager delivered the goods in a hard fought battle in the 440-yard dash. His winning time was 53.9 seconds.

Boardman took the mile relay, the shot put, and the discus, with Jay England placing third in the platter event.

Dick Theiss jumped 20 feet, 10½ inches to take the broad jump home in a box.

"Lige" Alexander tied with Bauman (B) in the high jump, with a leap of 5 ft. 8 inches.

The high point men were Pinhey of Boardman with 11¼ points and John Huddleston with 9 points.

Salem Tenth In Uhrichsville Relays!!!

The Quaker black and blues made a darn good showing in the Uhrichsville Relays last Saturday, garnering 7½ points, and placing 10th against very stiff competition! Their showing in comparison with Struthers' and East Palestine's indicates that they should win the County meet—let's hope so.

Jack Scullion was perhaps the outstanding runner for Salem, in placing third in the mile run with a time of 4 minutes, 53 seconds. That's six seconds faster than his time in the Boardman meet; and Alex Kamasky, who placed fourth, must have cut his time down about the same amount. Alex's time Saturday was 4 minutes, 54 seconds.

Salem's shuttle hurdle relay team (each man runs the 120-yard low hurdles) composed of Dick Theiss, Jerry Miller, Theodore Boone, and Johnny Huddleston, placed fifth with the time of 61.5 seconds. Huddleston's leg of the relay was especially fast, 13.5 seconds.

Elijah Alexander scored 1½ points by tying for third place with a host of others. He flipped the coin and received the fourth place ribbon.

Come To The Relays!!!

Just a flip of the lip to remind you that the Salem Night Relays are tomorrow. Twenty-five schools are going to be entered, so get on your horse and trot down to see it. Remember the date, and don't be late, May 1.

Congrats to the Freshmen

Whether you realize it or not, we have one of the best freshman classes, as far as sports are concerned, that we have had in a long time! They had an excellent football team, and they're having a super-duper track team! If they just stick together and keep the interest and eagerness that they have now, Salem can look forward to top-notch teams for several years to come.

A few all-freshman meets are scheduled for this year, not in Salem, but in some of the outlying communities. By the looks of our team at this stage of the game, we should really shower some dust. Here's luck to you, fellows, let's bring home the medals and ribbons!

With a final score of 85 to 33 the Salem trackmen romped over Louisville last Thursday evening at the Relly Stadium. The Quakers took 10 firsts out of a possible 14.

Curt Ross took first for Salem in the 100-yard dash, with Jerry Miller coming in second. Sholosky took third for Louisville. Ross' time was 10.5 seconds. Boyles took first place honors for Louisville in the 440-yard dash with a time of 54.4. Yeager and William Miller took second and third respectively.

In the 880-yard run, Alex Kamasky took first with two minutes, 14.9 seconds. Snyder, of Louisville, took second.

A midwestern university held entrance exams for a group of ex-GI's. One of the questions was "Name two ancient sports."

An ex-sergeant racked his brain, finally came up with an answer that passed him. He wrote, "Anthony and Cleopatra."
