

Board of Education Planning Better Educational System

With an eye to the future, Salem's progressive Board of Education is busily building and planning a greater educational system for the students of today as well as of tomorrow.

Currently board members are consulting with contractors in regard to the 12-room addition with a gym-auditorium which they have in mind for Reilly School.

This is perhaps the largest of a five part building program which the board began in 1946 with a $750,000 bond issue to meet the serious housing shortage in the local schools and to take care of the increasing number of pupils entering the elementary grades.

Three of the five projects are already nearing completion; namely, the nine-room Buckeye elementary school which has been conducting full time class sessions since December, and the two four-room additions over gym-auditoriums which are under construction at the Prospect Street and McKinley schools.

The one remaining project on the building agenda is the proposed gym-auditorium for the Junior High School.

When this larger number of students reaches high school, the attention of the board will then be shifted from the elementary problem to plans for the provision of a new senior high school building.

The Board of Education is composed of five men prominent in local affairs, elected for four-year terms by the citizens of Salem. Serving the school and community as school board members at present are the following: George P. Lozier, president; Edwin S. Dawson, vice-president; and John C. Litty, Calvin M. Leasure, Alfred L. Fitch and Robert W. Campbell. George F. Koontz is clerk; Earl S. Kerr serves as superintendent.

It is their task to formulate the policies and programs which will best help to keep the city system of education operating at the greatest possible level of efficiency.

Supt. E. S. Kerr is the executive officer of the board, making known to them the needs of the system and aiding them in measures taken to alleviate these needs.

Although the students in the Salem schools have little direct contact with these men, they feel the effects of the board's interests and good works in many of their school activities.

Clothing Girls Plan Spring Style Show

The annual spring Style Show will be presented by the Clothing classes in the high school auditorium after school next Friday in conjunction with the Arts and Industrial Arts Exhibit.

Members of the classes will model garments made this year consisting of four main groups—suits, blouses, skirts and dresses. The dresses will be divided into three classes as follows: Dressy dresses, tailored or school dresses, and play clothes.

Betty Hergenrother and Eleanore Ludwig, clothing aides, will emcee the modeling. Carol Steffel is the eral chairman, and Carina Arbanitis is assisting in preparing clothes for the show.

A committee consisting of Donna Campf, Joan Driscoll, Millie Maier, Darlene Miller, Marilyn Miller and Pat Pasco is in charge of all arrangements for the Style Show.

The Salesmasquers are working on the staging effects, under the direction of Miss Irene Weeks. She is assisted by the flat painting committee, consisting of Helen Schuller, Marge Greene and Carol Steffel, and the scenery committee including Joan Conser, Lois Firestone, Donna Schoss and Gerry Van Hovel.

Erection of flats is in charge of Dave White, Paul Gartner, Darrell Key, John Brantingham, and John Schmid. Dana Rice will arrange the stage.

Stage properties will be brought in by Susan Menegos, Walt Mayhew, Barbara Hughes and Bill Winder. Hand properties are in charge of Delores Buta and Shirley Robusch.

Girls Give Medals For Night Relays

Frances Kline, Margie Haessly, Roseann Loutzenhiser, Flo Maier and Marilyn Miller presented the awards at the Salem Night Relays held at Reilly Stadium last Saturday. The girls were selected by the members of the local track team.

All in all, the girls presented about 168 different medals, cups and other awards to the winners of the various events.

Every year since the Relays were first started, track queens have been elected by the team to serve in this capacity.

For the District A meet, the county meet, and the District "B" meet the track queens are selected by the coaches.

Beware!

The Thirteenth Has Arrived

Do you have a headache? Have you stubbed your toe or been caught without an assignment done today? Well, don't give up the ship! After all, today is a bit noted for its bad luck—Friday, the 13th.

Of course there are those timid creatures who hid their heads under the covers this morning and utterly refused to face the cold, cruel world on such a day. But others, of the more courageous type, bade their parents a fond farewell and wandered out to face their doom.

An abundance of black cats, ladders propped up, and other tempting devices seemed to have been added to the scene as an especial chance to finish off the innocent bystanders.

But if you have survived the ordeal thus far, you will probably struggle through the rest of the day. However, to avert all chances of mishap, here are a few simple rules to follow:

Do not talk up to the state highway patrolman.

Do not trip star football players.

Do not tell the deans what a wonderful time you had playing hookey last week.

Do not stand under the falling plaster in the auditorium.

Do make all arrangements for your burial service before venturing one step further.

For Better Schools

VOL. XXIX, NO. 27

SALEM HIGH SCHOOL, SALEM, OHIO, MAY 13, 1949 PRICE, 5 CENTS

Students To Display Projects in Exhibit

The fifth annual Art and Industrial Arts Exhibit will be held next Thursday and Friday in the high school gymnasium.

At that time students of Art, Wood Industries, Metal Industries, Home Economics and Mechanical Drawing will display their work of this year.

The art classes, instructed by Mrs. Ethel Headrick, will display pictures of various parts of the city of Salem. They have been making outdoor strips to complete these drawings.

From the mechanical drawing classes, Miss Ada Hanna, instructor, will choose each student's ink drawing and the drawing of a footstool for display on the walls of the gym. Of special interest will be the original drawings now being completed by the classes.

The wood industries classes, under the supervision of J. O. Hagedorn, plan to exhibit several articles made this year. Among these will probably be included desks, lamps, and tables the students have produced.

Cyril Lipaj plans to have the metal industries classes' display consist of jig-saws, a drill-press, grinders and other machinery the boys have been working on this year.

The foods classes are also working in cooperation with the exhibit. Mrs. Pearl Taylor, instructor, reveals that girls will be at work in each kitchen of the home economics room to demonstrate the way various items are made and equipment is used. Refreshments will be served to the viewers of the exhibit by the foods classes.

Magician's Performance Entertains in Assembly

Harry E. Johnson, a magician from Pittsburgh, entertained the students in an assembly sponsored by the Association today.

Mr. Johnson has had over 20 years of experience in the field of high school performances although his career was interrupted by a period of years spent in the United States Intelligence Service during the war.

Scholarships Are Offered Seniors by Alumni Group

Final Choice To Be Made by Committee On Basis of Teachers' Recommendations

May 16 has been announced as the deadline by which seniors may make application for the Salem High School Alumni Association scholarships which are presented annually to three members of the graduating class.

It is the purpose of the Alumni Association to sponsor and further the education of local high school graduates through its annual scholarships. Last year's three awards amounted to $1,050.

This scholarship money is obtained from the income of a fund established by the association in 1907. From an original contribution of $1,000, the fund now totals more than $30,000. So far 76 individual scholarship awards have been made.

High school faculty members recommend students to the association's Scholarship Committee on the basis of scholastic records, ability, personality, stick-to-it-iveness and health. The committee then considers the financial standing of the students as well as other traits.

The policy in making the awards is to give the scholarships to deserving students who may be expected to complete a college course in such a way as to bring credit to the high school and who otherwise may not be able to attend college.

Candidates for the awards are expected to have at least a "B" average. Extra-curricular participation and personality are also taken into consideration.

Today's meetings are scheduled for World History in 212, Dramatics in 112, and International Relations in 301.

Meetings will be held Tuesday for Journalism in 210, Typing in 309, and Public Speaking in 209.

Wednesday's meeting will be for Animal Husbandry in 107 and Psychology in 101.

On Thursday students may discuss Commercial Law in 205 and Farm Management in 107.

The Art meeting is scheduled for next Friday in 296.

THE QUAKER REGRETS

Balloting for next year's officers was conducted in homerooms yesterday from nominations made by the respective members earlier in the week. The Quaker regrets that the election results were not available for publication in this issue.

Art Classes Use Talent For Scenery in Operetta

Salem High Art classes, under the instruction of Mrs. Ethel Headrick, prepared the scenery for "The Land of Dreams Come True," an operetta presented by Buckeye Grade School for public performances this week.

The background consists of large trees suspended from the ceiling and curtain teasers. A Mother Goose house of pink, tile red, and blue was also a part of the scenery.

Dear Soph'mores:

Originally I started out
To write for you a rhyme.
But, now, can't think of a thing to say,
And it's taking up my time.

You see, this afternoon I played
An exciting game of tennis,
And now I'm just "plumb tuckered" out.
This column sure is a menace.

I really was sort of planning
To write your names in here,
And have a r-e-e-a-l long column
'Bout the stuff we've done this year.
We sure are proud of our class
For all the things we've done,
And even if we did work hard
It's been a lot of fun.

Just look at all the things we did
In sports that there are now.
We've made school famous.
(Well, - - - - - sort of, any how)

But, what I really wanted to say
Was how much fun we've had.
We've liked our teachers and hope they liked us,
Even if sometimes we were bad.

So, here's hoping what I've said here
Hasn't been a total loss.
Well, I think I'll go to the movie now
Yours, truly,
Barbara Ross.

Shirts 'n Skirts

By Marcy Vaughn

Lois Firestone came up recently with a really sharp cotton of pale aqua, given plenty of dash by little designs woven into the bodice with elasticized thread.

Joanna Stoffer seems to have found just the right recipe for a sunback dress. It is deep blue-green cotton cut with a full skirt trimmed in wide, frothy white eyelet. You add a little jacket to match, and presto, there's the perfect summer dress.

Yellow cotton with a boat neckline edged in a wide eyelet ruffle looks pretty super-duper when it has Ruth Pollock's lovely red hair to set it off. This is just one of her collection of cute cottons.

Bobby Hill seems to have cornered the market on plaid-fronted shirts. If you see him one morning in a snappy yellow one with yellow and black plaid, and spot him the next afternoon in a just-as-loud red one, don't despair, your eyes aren't playing tricks, because he really has two of them!

Flo Maier received a lovely blouse for her birthday a short while back. It is pale lavender trimmed with sheer white lace, and just looks good enough to eat.

PLAY BALL ! ! !

That was the call of the umpire when some Freshman-Sophomore girls met at St. Paul's diamond recently. The line-up was as follows: Lois Bruckner, Jeanne Cocca, Agnes Fink, Bonnie Layden, Nancy Stephenson, Mary Hollinger, Janet Lehman, Peggy Baltorinic, Barbara McArtor, Jenny Tafian, Dana Rice, Lois Smith, Marie Vender, and Gay Hyatt.

Would You Like To Play Hookey?

The sun shines bright, o'er our good old Alma Mater, and makes the classrooms seem unbearable. So what pops into your little heads but skipping part of the day to have yourselves some fun.

What harm can it do? After all, just one period out of the whole, live-long day.

Wait a minute, Mr. Wise Guy. Just what will you gain by entering into the free wonderful world while the rest of the school is bound in chains of study? Well, first, you might gain the chance to be expelled for the next few days. Of course that would mean a pretty big drop in grades and your report card doesn't look too good already.

Then, too, you might gain an extra period after school for the rest of the year. Wouldn't that be fine? While the rest of the kids win their freedom at 3:30, you sit and gaze at the clock until 4 P. M.

But then, it's up to you. If you have a chance to slip out, the decision lies between playing hookey for one period, a total of 45 minutes, or getting out of school at the regular time of 3:30 for the rest of the year instead of at 4:00. This adds up to a total time of 10 hours. Take your choice.

The diminutive chains of habit are generally too small to be belt, til they are too strong to be broken.

LAWN PARTY

This was held at Martha Whinery's farm where the main attractions were dancing on the lawn and attempting to eat ice cream which was too solidly frozen.

Entertainment for the evening included mowing lawn, playing baseball, and seeing who could get the most cut grass in the most uncomfortable places on the most people. What fools these seniors be!

BLACKOUT!

Just a "light" reference to last Monday's sudden disappearance of all available electricity. Among the more noticeable casualties was the office crew of Ye Olde Publication, forced to seek refuge and typing space in the lighter corners of the hall.

ORCHIDS AND CONGRATS!

Our couple of this week has made it rather permanent by announcing their engagement. Joan Baker, a small blond Junior is displaying the gorgeous diamond given her by Leo Cooper, a Frosh. Joan plans to finish school before setting the date. Here's wishing them lots of luck and happiness.

HAVE YOU NOTICED—

- Kenny Burrier's squeaky shoes?
- Skip Greenisen's revealing basketball pictures?
- Ruth Pollock's lovely red hair?
- Barb Burson's "mystery" hats?

Here's How Studes Annoy S.H.S. Teachers

Did you say that you might like to be a school teacher?—Well, it isn't that easy! Your charges wouldn't bring you flowers, apples,—or prepared lessons just when you wanted them. Probably all you'd get would be a big noisy roomful of obstinate brats!

It isn't quite that bad say quite a few of the good old SHS teachers—but, they say, it could be better.

In answer to the question, "What do students do that bothers you most?" faculty members responded as follows:

- Mr. Tarr—"No lesson prepared."
- Miss Johnston—"They're a bit impudent."
- Mr. Brautigam—"Talking while someone else is reciting."
- Mrs. Tarr—"Restlessness—can't sit still."
- Miss Ulicny—"Cheating."
- Miss Beardmore—"!!!They do not work!!!"
- Mr. Jones—"Breathe!"
- Miss Redinger—"Nothing bothers me anymore."
- Miss McCready—"Talking after the bell rings."
- Miss Hollett—"No lesson prepared."

Current Biography of '48 Recently Added to Library

Life stories of persons who figured in the news of 1948 appear in CURRENT BIOGRAPHY 1948, recently added to the reference collection of the high school library.

Because much of the limelight of 1948 focuses on the election, many new United States Senators and Representatives are included. Political leaders and heads of state abroad (among them Robert Schweitzer and Ralph J. Bunche) appear in the fields of science, art, literature, labor and industry, the social sciences, education, and many other classifications by profession.

Considerable research makes possible impartial and accurate biographical information, while an informal style adds readability. Each sketch includes a photograph and references to additional material.

Students Sing 'Alphabet Song' In Brief . . . As Red Letter Day Rolls By

That "red-letter" day of students' lives has come and gone again, leaving in its wake another batch of studes forlornly caroling "The Alphabet Song."

The seniors, juniors, and sophomores each managed to land two of their number on the "A" list, while the frosh had only one four point average. The freshmen redeemed themselves, however, with 41 on the "B" honor roll, while the seniors had 38; the sophomores, 29 and the juniors, 23.

FOUR POINT HONOR

Betty Driscoll, Jerry Harroff, Lowell King, June Kloetsly, Koula Menegos, Shirley Robusch and Von-da Lee Sponseller.

THREE POINT HONOR

Juniors:

Sophomores:

RECEIVES GOPHER TURTLE

Mrs. Ella Cox, biology instructor, recently received an Arizona gopher turtle measuring one foot in diameter and approximately six inches high.

Turtles of this type are vegetarians and are believed to be the most intelligent living reptiles. They are descendants of the prehistoric giant tortoises.

ELECT NEW SECRETARY

Dorothy Pozniko was elected secretary of the Slide Rule club recently. She replaces Tom Zimmerman, who has withdrawn from the club.

Members are now engaged in learning the correct placement of the decimal point in multiplication on a slide rule.

CHORUSES TO PURCHASE ROBES

A total of $879.50 was taken in by the combined choruses during their recent magazine sales campaign. Profit from the sales will be used to purchase robes which members hope to wear at their annual spring concert on May 27.

Highest individual sales honors went to Joan Domencetti, who brought in $66.00. Eugene Flint was second with sales amounting to $61.10.

5 G. A. A. Girls To Attend Play Day at Kent State

Five girls of the G.A.A., together with Miss Edith Cope, G.A.A. adviser, will journey to Kent State University tomorrow where they will join with representatives from other schools in this district for a play day.

This play day is sponsored for high school juniors and seniors by the Women's Athletic Association of the University. Those representing Salem High this year are Helen Brenner, June Brunner, Dorothy Cibula, Jean Huddleston and Harriet Worman.

Track Tribulations Trail Typical Ted Through Rain, Scrambled Spectators

"They're off!" As the first thrilling dash of the big meet gets underway, our hero, Typical Ted, leaps to the rail to see the finish of this exciting race. The approximately one hundred other people, who also leaped to the rail beside him, in front of him and on him, are asking a moment later the same question that dwells within his fevered brain—"Who won?"

The announcer clears his throat and begins to give the winners of the heat. For the first time this season the loud speaker is working perfectly, and what else could happen? All he can hear is—"Johnny this and Johnny that" coming from those gabby girls over there who attend the track meet to give the grapevine a worse beating than the spring robins at picking time.

Being a mannerly individual, Ted says nothing except in a whisper to his inner self, and lets his thoughts drift back to the naturally rain-soaked stadium. (Mr. Cope is the only one with any influence with the weather man!)

By some miraculous stroke of fate, Ted unscrambles enough of the announcement words to discern that the last race of the day will decide the winner of the meet. He edges his way through the crowd and the raindrops to the finish line with his dripping camera.

There they come—down to the finish and he snaps the picture. Oh, but there's no joy in "Mudville" as Typical Ted wades to the gate thinking that a picture of that rain-coat in front of him wouldn't be quite so good as the race might have been—but, that's life—and a track meet.

Annual County Meet To Be Held Here Today

Possibly Eight Teams Will Enter In Track Events at Reilly Stadium

The 46th Annual Columbiana County Track and Field Meet is being held today at Reilly Stadium with prelims starting at 4 P. M. and finals at 7 P. M.

Competing in the event will be Salem, Columbiana, East Palestine, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Leetonia, with a chance of New Waterford and East Fairfield entering a couple.

There will be medals for the first three places in each event except the relays. A loving cup will be presented the winners of the meet, the winning team of each relay, and the high point man.

The meet last year was won by East Palestine. This year East Liverpool or East Palestine is expected to cop the honors.

Present records for the meet are: 100-Yard Dash—Gaines, Columbiana, 1918—10 seconds.

Pole Vault—Allen, Salem, 1928—12 feet, 8 inches.
Shot Put—Russell, Salem, 1933—48 feet, 2 inches.
Mile Run—Wagenhouser, Leetonia, 1931—4 min., 32 seconds.
44-Yard Dash—Gaines, Columbiana, 1920—52 seconds.
High Jump—Lutsch, Salem, 1937—6 feet, 1 inch.
120-Yard High Hurdles—Switzer, East Palestine, 1936—15.4 seconds.
220-Yard Dash—Gaines, Columbiana, 1919—22 seconds.
Discus—Kell, East Palestine, 1943—140 feet, 11 inches.
Broad Jump—W. Entriken, Columbiana, 1937—21 feet, 8 inches.
Half-Mile Run—Harris, Salem, 1933—2 minutes, 3.5 seconds.
220-Yard Low Hurdles—Mort, East Palestine, 1935—26 seconds.
Mile Relay—East Palestine, 1935—3 minutes, 40.9 seconds.
88-Yard Relay—Columbiana, 1937—1 minute, 32.2 seconds.

Sportively Speaking

By Dick Brautigam

Cleveland East Tech and first place in the Salem Night Relays just seem to go together. Scoring in nearly every event, Mr. Green's boys captured the classic for the fifth time.

Some pretty good time and throws were turned in during the evening. A record breaking heave in the shot put was given by Shallosky of Louisville, who pushed the extra heavy baseball 50 feet, 6 3/4 inches for a new mark. Currie of Warren Harding just missed setting a new mark in the pole vault as he went up 12 feet, 6 inches before the law of gravity butted in. South Euclid Brush and their highly rated Gene Strathmen failed to show up for the meet and thus probably kept the old discus record from falling through.

The showing of Struthers' Skvaraka was somewhat disappointing to fans who saw him run last year. The all-around athlete took second in the 100 and placed fourth in the 220. Although this is nothing to be sneezed at, it is a far cry from the job he did in last year's district meet when he walked off with about everything in the books.

Troy Penner's thinclads turned in a mild upset as they ended up in the upper half of the class. It was Ray Yeager again who showed his heels to all but one contestant in the 440. His running has been the most consistent on the team all season and his chances of making that trip to Columbus look mighty encouraging. Paul "Ponder" Provins, who still has two more years of high school eligibility remaining, looked good in the mile but still wasn't quite up to par. Boxler of Akron East won the breath-tester with a time of 4 min.-37.6 seconds. Provins turned in a 4.36 mile at Uhrichsville two weeks ago. Lige Alexander came to life in the high jump and brought home a second place ribbon.

In the walk-out bout of the evening, the 4-mile relay Quakermen captured the number four slot. The big men with the sticks were Paul Provins, Louie Quinn, Charles Bailey and John Votaw.

Today Salem is again host to a big contest, the Columbiana County Meet. East Palestine and East Liverpool are the favorites with the Quakers as a dark horse.

Cleveland East Tech Returns To Dominate Salem Relays

After a one year layoff, Cleveland East Tech High School returned to the Salem Night Relays to win easily.

It was Tech's fifth consecutive title in the nocturnal event. They did not compete here last year, but won in 1939, 1940, 1941 and 1942, following which the event was suspended during the war.

Tech scored in 13 of the 17 events, rolling up 56 1/4 points.

Akron East took second with 32 points, winnings firsts in the mile and four-mile relays, mile run and 440.

Canton McKinley's defending champion team, hard hit by graduation, slipped to fourth place, with 20 points, trailing Campbell Memorial, with 21.

Salem's thinclads scored in five events, totaling 11 1/4 points for ninth place.

The Quakers scoring came on Alexander's tie for second in the high jump, Jay England's fifth place in discus, Paul Provins' fourth place tie for the mile run, Capt. Ray Yeager's second in the 440-yard dash, and fourth place in the four-mile relay with a team composed of Provins, Quinn, Votaw and Bailey.

Only one record fell in the meet. Bill Shallosky of Louisville erased the 14-year-old shot put record previously held by Lambeth of Canfield. Shallosky tossed the iron ball 50 feet, six and three-quarters inches, edging the old mark by three and a quarter inches.

Twenty-five teams competed in the Relays, using 350 boys. Of the 25, only four did not break into the scoring. By teams, the scoring was as follows:

Cleveland East Tech, 56 1/4; Akron East, 32; Campbell Memorial, 21; Canton McKinley, 20; Struthers, 19; Warren, 15; Cleveland Benedictine, 14; Louisville, 12; Salem, 11 1/2; Akron North, 11 1/4; Barberton, 10

Youngstown Rayen, 9; Akron Buchtel, 9; Fitch, 6; Niles, 6; New Castle, 5; Canton Lehman, 4 1/4; Akron Garfield, 4; Euclid, 3 1/2; Boardman, 3; Leavittsburg, 1/4; Akron South, Jackson Milton, Ravena and Sebring failed to score.
