

4 Delegates To Boys' State Are Announced

Various Civic Groups Sponsor Four Juniors

Dick Brautigam, Bob Coy, Jim Hurlburt, and Jim Callahan have been chosen as delegates to the 14th annual Buckeye Boys' State to be held at Camp Perry on Lake Erie June 10 to 19 under the sponsorship of the American Legion. Bob Theiss is first alternate.

The American Legion, Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary organizations each sponsors the sending of one boy to the mock-government affair.

The main purpose of Boys' State is to show the boys certain definite responsibilities, which must be adhered to and then have them return to the school from which they came with these things in mind for practical use.

The boys will be separated into two political parties, the nationalist and the federalists, each of which will hold a party convention.

The nominees of the parties will then campaign for election. Boys thus elected will serve in their various jobs in the mock, local, state and national governments.

The quota this year has been increased to 1,000 boys. W. L. Weese, dean, said the increase was possible because of the use of the state-owned property and by the larger number of voluntary leaders.

Previous Boys' States have been held at Ohio Wesleyan and Miami universities, Otterbein college, and the state fairgrounds.

Last year's local delegates were Jerry Harroff, George Reash, Danny Keister, and Lawrence Vasilevich.

Band Mothers Elect Officers for Next Term

New officers were elected when the Band Mothers met recently at the home of Mrs. H. M. Butcher, retiring president.

They are Mrs. Robert Dunn, president; Mrs. Howard Firestone, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Ward, secretary; Mrs. Bertha Wolfe, treasurer.

Fred Theiss Is Elected 'Bandsman of the Year'

Fred Theiss, Senior, was chosen Bandsman of the Year by his fellow band members, Howard Pardee, director, announced today.

Qualifications necessary for this honor are, according to Mr. Pardee, musicianship, fellowship, years of service, and co-operation. Fred succeeds Dick Dougherty, who was last year's bandsman.

Projector Is Senior Gift

A movie projector received an unanimous vote when Seniors voted Tuesday for the 1950 class gift, C. M. Brautigam, adviser, announced today.

The projector will be a Bell and Howell model and will arrive at the school sometime next week.

The class had originally voted for an interroom communication system for the entire school, but due to unforeseen costs, changes, and events the idea was abandoned by the gift committee.

The items voted upon were a drinking fountain, speaker's stand, and the projector.

The gift committee included the class officers and a representative from each homeroom as follows: Treva Bush, 207; Marge Greene, 208; Ford Joseph, 209; Donna Schoss, 210; Bob Tarzan, 212.

Rich, Buta, Cameron Win Honors at State Finals

Dolores Buta, sophomore; Galen Rich, senior, and Jean Cameron, sophomore; received musical honors when they competed in the state finals for solo ensemble of the Ohio Schools recently at Otterbein college in Westerville.

Mrs. Steven Odoran accompanied the group.

Brautigam, Ross, Colananni To Be Top Quaker Officials

Paul Colananni

Barbara Ross

Dick Brautigam

Other Positions To Be Filled

Appointments for the top editorial and business positions of the 1950-51 Quaker publications were announced today by Miss Betty Ulicny and R. W. Hilgendorf, advisers.

Dick Brautigam will edit the weekly and Barbara Ross, the annual. Paul Colananni will serve as business manager of both publications.

Dick steps into the position of weekly editor-in-chief after two years of Quaker editorial participation. Serving the staff in his Sophomore year as sports reporter and columnist and in his Junior year as sports editor and columnist. His journalistic abilities have been recognized by the judges of the National Scholastic Press association and the local Tri-County Journalism association. Dick has also handled the sports copy for the 1949 and 1950 Quaker annuals.

Barbara, as editor of the 1951 annual, will follow up on her work as assistant editor of the yearbook this year and writer last year. She has also been active on the weekly editorial staff, serving as a regular columnist and feature writer for the past two years.

Executing the duties of the assistant business manager this year, Paul also steps into his position with previous experience.

Other staff appointments will be completed at the beginning of the new school term.

Brunner, Harp Miss No Days Throughout Hi School Career

After several hours of "digging" into office files and records, it has been discovered that only two students of the 160 that comprise the 1950 graduating class have attended school every day in their high school career. They are Paul Harp and June Brunner.

"School days, school days . . ." June and Paul forced themselves out of their respective beds without fail to wend their weary ways and attend their total of some 360 school days at Salem High, for not one single portion of a day's absence did these two diligent Seniors experience.

Donna Schoss stayed out only one morning or afternoon during this four-year term, to break her otherwise perfect record with a half-day absence.

Helen Schuller, maybe sleeping in after a tough night of coaching or appearing in some dramatic affair, didn't come to school for one day. One day absences were also chalked up against Virginia Sabec and Margaret Weaver.

Lawrence Vasilevich is next in line on the list of students who kept faith with their textbooks and alarm clocks. He missed only one and one-half days.

Nancy Stockton and Lela Graber, missing merely two and one-half days from Salem High school's honored corridors, were apparently victims of a nice Spring day, the cold weather, or just plain tiredness.

Jean Brunner lags behind her twin with three and one-half days of absence. Nick Cosma, Dennis Tracy, Katherine Winkler, and Don Miller shared honors for this number also.

Vic Lake and Helen Brenner missed four days, while Lige Alexander and George Kaufman were absent four and one-half days.

BULLETIN

The 1950 Quaker annual is to be distributed in the various homerooms at 3:30 today following an assembly program which is to include the recognition of annual and weekly staff members, the coronation of the Quaker King and Queen as selected by Fibber McGee and Molly, the presentation of the members of the Senior Who's Who, and the dedication of the yearbook.

Choruses to Present Annual Spring Concert

The high school choruses, under the direction of Thos. E. Crothers, will present their annual Spring Concert tonight in the auditorium.

The Robed chorus, accompanied by Ben Bailey, will sing "Cool Water," with Bob Tarzan singing a tenor solo; "Master of Human Destiny," and "Everytime I Feel the Spirit."

The Robed and Beginning choruses combined will sing "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee," "The Surrey with the Fringe on Top," and "Stodola Pumpa."

On the program for the Girls chorus, accompanied by Lois Getz, are "Spring Rain," "God So Loved the World," and "Lullaby."

Dorothy Pozniko, accompanist for the Beginning chorus, will play a piano selection.

Liberty Bell Replica Shown In Salem Patriotic Program

A patriotic program was held in Salem yesterday afternoon when the U. S. Treasury department exhibited a replica of the famous Liberty Bell, in connection with the U. S. Savings Bonds Independence Drive.

The bell was shown at the corner of South Broadway and East State st.

Mayor Harry Vincent gave a proclamation and Thomas Hughes of Columbus, director of the payroll savings division of the Treasury department, gave a talk.

The high school band played at intervals during the entire program. The bell was rung during the ceremony followed by the ringing of the city's church bells.

Fifty-two replicas of the original bell being shown in some 2,000 communities in the country during the bond drive were made in the French town of Anancy and presented to the United States by Great Britain. They are the exact dimensions of the original bell which was cast nearly 200 years ago in England.

The bell was approved by treasurer secretary John Snyder as the bond drive's symbol.

Science Monitor Asks for Writers

Want to write for pay?

The Christian Science Monitor has launched a section written BY YOUTH FOR YOUTH. It is designed to provide young people with an opportunity for a market on a professional basis.

The monitor seeks feature articles that will be of interest to high school and college students and young career workers. They wish articles such as: why a particular college or university was selected, opinions on current movies, hobbies, sports, unusual vacation experiences, money-earning ideas, humorous articles, poetry, photography, drawings, cartoons, and so forth. The Monitor will pay for the articles accepted.

Material should be addressed to: EDITOR, Daily Features Page, The Christian Science Monitor, One, Norway Street, Boston 15, Mass. A stamped self-addressed envelope should be enclosed with the manuscripts. Manuscripts should be typed, double-spaced preferably 500 and 600 words in length.

NOTICE

Mothers of Junior and Senior students who wish to help with the Urom supper by contributing time, food, or money are asked to contact Mrs. Maxine Ryser, junior class adviser.

Who Would Take Whom's Place? If 'Twere Possible?

Students this week expressed their views of teachers' jobs as they responded to the question, "If you were permitted to do so, what teacher's place at Salem would you take and why?"

Beverly Schuck: "Miss Thorp—I like English."
Joan Robinson: "Miss Beardmore—I like history."

Girls Give Awards At District A Track Meet

Treva Bush, Barbara McArtor, Mable Dolence, and Donna Schoss gave out track awards at the district A meet held last Saturday afternoon at Reilly stadium.

The girls, who were chosen by the track coaches, gave medals, cups, and awards to winners of the various events.

Benny Roelen: "Miss Thorp—I enjoy her English class."
Carolyn Rowlands: "Miss Weeks—Directing plays is fun."
Jim Roberts: "Mr. Lipaj—It is interesting work."
Pat Pasco: Mrs. Headrick—I like art."
Mark Miller: "Mr. Cope—He is the type of man I would like to be."
Jackie Parker: "Mr. Pardee—We have a lot of good times in band."
Tony Modarelli: "Mr. Hilgen-dorf—He is an interesting man."
Shirley Robusch: "Miss Bickel—I like shorthand and typing. Stenography class is a lot of fun."
Paul Ludwig: "Mrs. Cox—She teaches an interesting subject in an interesting way."
Lois Flint: "Miss Thorp—She is a nice teacher and I like English."
Barbara McArtor: "Mr. Pardee—I like both band and Mr. Pardee."

21 New Members Initiated In S.H.S. Thespian Troop

Twenty-one students were taken into the Thespians when that group held a regular installation and formal initiation recently at Shady Lawn in Youngstown.

The new members are Jackie Kuntzman, Joan Domencetti, John Votaw, George Vaughan, Barbara Ross, Marie Vender, Joyce Langherst, Dave White, Janet Lehman, Joan Whitten, Pat Coe, Marilyn Burns, Susan Menegos, Joanne Probert, Katy Umbach, Art Herron, Phillis Flick, Shirley Hilliard, Rolland Herron, Ann Rufer, and Darrell Askey.

Lose Anything?

Lost items have again accumulated in the principal's office and a call has been issued for students who have lost articles to come to the office to identify and claim their belongings. The list of articles includes the following:

Scarves, gloves, a book—"A Field Guide to the Birds," boy's cap, change purses, 7 bracelets, 3 pins, strand of pearls, 2 hair clasps, mechanical pencil, earrings, gold cross and chain, compact, glass cases, blouse and boys' gym shoes.

Junior High librarians recently presented a play "You'll Never Guess" in assembly. Dick Camberlain, ventriliquist from the fourth grade, was announcer. Miss Elizabeth Ward was director of the play.

The Quakerette annual will be published on June 7. Mrs. Lulu McCarthy is faculty adviser of the yearbook.

Junior High's Recognition assembly will be held June 7 in the high school auditorium. The American Legion, Arta Snyder Dodge English Awards, student patrol awards, spelling, music, athletic awards and certificates of recognition will be presented at that time.

Homeroom 8A is the final winner of the yearly tax stamp contest. They have won the weekly contest seven times during the year. 7E is the weekly winner with $392.00.

New Officers Installed At Annual Hi-Tri Banquet

Elizabeth Fultz was installed as president of the Hi-Tri Thursday evening when approximately 64 of the girls gathered at the First Baptist church for their annual dinner and candlelight installation services.

Other officers are Helen Gottschling, vice-president; Donna Stoffer, secretary; and Marilyn Lesch, treasurer.

Life Ambitions

Seniors Plan, Choose Careers

Mingled with the many obligations which a Senior must meet are his thoughts and plans for the future. Such thoughts include jobs to be had which will be taken for the summer preparatory to college years.

Some Seniors who this week made known their post-graduation plans are as follows:

Elijah Alexander is planning to work at the Coy Buick garage and then later go to college. Walt Mayhew will work at the Mullins Manufacturing Co. before going to Ohio university at Athens.

Anna Herron, Lois Firestone, and Shirley Hill will work at Strouss' department store before continuing with their education. Anna will go to a Canton nursing school this fall, Lois will attend Ohio university, and Shirley will attend Kent State university.

Nancy Stockton will work at Endres and Gross flower shop before she enters Duke university in North Carolina. Working at Floding and Reynard drug store will be Danny Keister who has tentative plans of entering Wittenberg college in the fall along with George Reash. Galen Brandt is planning to enter Ohio nurseries. Marlene Brown will clerk at Jean Frocks clothing store. Myra Ewing will go to East university to become an engineer or industrial arts teacher.

Bob Whitacre will begin working for Cope Bros. and Fultz

Palestine to begin working as a waitress or cashier. Peggy Hunter will work in Dayton. Sue Goddard will spend her time between the McBane-McArtor drugstore and Jones Radio appliances working as clerk and doing secretarial work, respectively.

McCulloch's department store will take up Don Matthew's time. Jim Johnston and Bob Hinchcliffe will be working at the A. & P. store. Treva Bush and Isabelle Kleinman will begin their nurse's training at the Salem City hospital.

Joan DeWan, Joanne Bova, Ethel Carr, Donna Schoss, and Jean Brunner have applied for positions as operators at the Bell Telephone Co.

Harvey Mason, Dave White, Jim Layden, and Dennis Tracy will be a few of the students who will work at The Salem News in various positions.

Sportively Speaking

By Dick Brautigam

Another year of high school athletics has just about completed its cycle. The Seniors who made names for themselves in high school sports are ready to make that big jump into the collegiate world.

However, this year's ringer crop of Juniors and Sophomores will be back next season along with the Freshmen and a bunch of promising athletes who will come over from Junior High. The 1949-50 season was a year of building at Salem High, and next year promises to be one of the most profitable years in the school's athletic history.

The schedule got underway in September with football attracting the customers. Ben Barrett began his seventh year as head mentor of Salem football and he faced the rugged problem of keeping up his own tradition of fielding a top-notch football aggregation. The large turnout of boys was mostly inexperienced and contained comparatively few Seniors. Everyone but Coach Barrett seemed to realize this and they expected the boys to be in for about nine of those old-fashion flouncings. However, from a second string quarterback, Jim Callahan, and a third string quarterback, Bob Theiss, sprang a first string quarterback and a first string halfback, respectively. These boys formed a passing combination that rarely failed.

They combined with a powerful line, a pair of brilliant ends, and a fast stepping ground attack led by Capt. George Reash, Lige Alexander, and Jimmy Ference to give the team a surprising record of five wins, three losses and a tie against opposition that was nothing but the best.

In cross-country Coach Frank Tarr got together a small group of Juniors and underclassmen who worked out after school and entered a few meets with district teams. The boys failed to win many meets because of the lack of participants but a Junior, Paul Provins, showed some real talent when he placed 17th in a rugged field of two-milers at the state meet in Mansfield.

Other promising runners included Juniors, Lou Quinn and John Votaw, and Freshman Tom Johnston.

Bob Miller returned for the sixth time as basketball tutor and again was faced with a crowd-pleasing but rugged schedule as arranged by F. E. Cope, faculty manager of athletics. Fourteen Juniors and a Senior composed the varsity squad which won 10 of 17 regular season starts.

Don Abrams led the team scoring and Bob Coy was the surprise of the year and was voted "The Most Valuable Player" on the squad. George Reash, Jim Callahan, Capt. Bob Theiss, Tom Pastier and Jim Hurlburt were other top notch competitors. Big things are expected of these boys next year, as calm and cool George Reash, the boy who played his best under fire, is the only letter winner to graduate.

Frank Tarr was the new head track boss this spring and as in cross country he had mostly inexperienced material to work with. Jay England a Junior discus thrower, was the big surprise of the year. Jay improved in his throws each time out and when he reached his peak of 143 ft. 9 in. last Saturday in the big N. E. O. meet, he captured a first place and earned the right to represent Northeastern Ohio in the state meet in Columbus tomorrow.

Capt. Lige Alexander, a high jump specialist, pole vaulter John Votaw, and miler Paul Provins also earned their trips to Columbus by placing in the top four places of their events. Numerous other prospects blossomed during the year and will be in for better things next season. However, such standouts as Lige Alexander, Vic Lake, Ford Joseph and Bill Scott will be lost after graduation.

With everything packaged up for another year, all the sports can point to a successful season knowing that things look even better for 1950 and '51.

Salem Sinks Spartans In Final Dual Meet

Coach Frank Tarr's Salem cinderman made their final dual meet start of the year a winning one last week as they rushed past the Boardman Spartans 76½ to 41½ at Reilly stadium.

Boardman was able to capture firsts in only the pole vault, low hurdles, and the two relays, while the Quakers marched off victorious in the nine remaining events.

Salem winners included Jay England in the discus; Jim Hurlburt, the high hurdles; Bruce Frederick, the 100-yard dash; Paul Provins, the mile; Bob Theiss, the shot put; John Votaw, the 440-yard dash; Lee Wolfe, the 80-yard dash; Jim Ference, the 220-yard dash; and Bruce Frederick who took home his second first place of the afternoon by winning the broad jump.

Four Salemites Qualify For State Meet Tomorrow

Jay England, Paul Provins, Lige Alexander, and John Votaw will all be in Columbus tomorrow for the state track and field meet.

They won the right to represent Northeastern Ohio last Saturday when they placed among the top four in their events in the N. E. O. meet held in Salem.

England was the Quaker's most successful entry as his throw of 142 ft. 9 in. in the discus was good enough to give him top place. In taking the first place, Jay out-tossed Ray Swansinger of Struthers who won the event in the recent Salem Night Relays. Swansinger wound up in third place behind England and Peters of Ravenna.

Paul Provins came through in fine fashion to take a third in the mile run, and dependable Lige Alexander tied for third in the high jump. Salem's fourth qualifier was John Votaw, who went up 10 ft 6 in. which was good enough to get him in on the four way tie for third place in the pole vault.

The four Salem boys who qualified for the state meet tomorrow accounted for all of their team's 12½ points. Akron East took the team trophy by outscoring 24 other squads. East Palestine's 37½ points left them in second place, 7½ points off East's 45 pace setting point total. Salem placed ninth with their 12½ tallies.

East Palestine's Glenn Young was again individual star of the meet, taking down three first and another tie for first. He set new records while winning both the high and low hurdles. Young also won the 100-yard dash and tied for the lead in the broad jump. He wound up the day with 23 points.
