Biology Classes Take Trips to Identify Birds

For the past two weeks the bi-ology classes have been taking bird trips so that the students might find and identify 10 birds.

So far this year Carol Aiken has taken the lead in both the flower contest and the bird contest. Carol has brought in 46 flowers and she has identified 25 birds.

Askey and Gajdzik Report to Rotarians

Darrell Askey and Michael Gajdzik, delegates to the recent World Af-fairs Institute in Cincinnati, report-ed on their trip at a Rotary club meeting last week.

Harold Zeally introduced the boys to the Rotarians who sponsored the trip. Darrell told of the Friday activities and highlights of his trip and Mike described the Saturday meet-ings and what he thought to be the most interesting incidents. Mr. Zeally said that the talks were well received and greatly appreciated by the Rotarians.

1950-51 Yearbook Nears Completion

The final results of nine months of planning, writing, measuring, erasing, and head scratching will be put up for public approval June 4 when all the secrets of the 1950-51 Quaker yearbook are revealed.

Within the cover of this annual will be the answers to the many questions asked each day by students trying to pry satisfying hints from the book's editor, Barbara Ross, and adviser, D. W. Mumford. Heading the list of top secrets are the results of the Personality contest which was conducted last fall. Besides Mr. Mumford and his dog, George, only one other person knows the answer to this teaser. That person is, of course, the Personality judge, Bill Lawrence.

To be exact, it was November the 18th when students from each of the four classes selected a boy and a girl from their respective class-mates to represent them in the final personality judging. The eight sur-viving contestants then journeyed to Youngstown for personal inter-views with the radio and television star. The autographed pictures be-long to two of the following: Seniors, Barbara Ross and Don Loutzenheiser; Juniors, Dana Rice and Bill Pasco; Sophomores, Judy Tame and Bill Buckman. and Freshmen, Nora Guiler and Bob Sebo.

Since the editor was selected by the Seniors to represent them in the contest, she (along with Mr. Mum-ford's "persuasion") decided that Mr. Lawrence's selections would remain a secret to her until the winners are announced in a special assembly June 4.

Another highlight of the book will be the Senior "Who's Who." In this section, two pages of pictures are devoted to the eight Seniors elected by their class who deserve most the following titles: "Student Most Like-ly to Succeed," "Most Versatile Girl," "Most Versatile Boy," "Most Friend-ly Girl," "Most Friendly Boy," "Most Attractive Girl," and "Most Attractive Boy."

Most important to the staff will be the announcement of the dedication for that special assembly bell to ring on that big, big day—June 4.

annual is also chuckfull of snapshots, class pictures, action photos of ath-letic events, and the many other colorful extras that go into a high school yearbook.

The yearbook was really begun be-fore school opened last fall. The edi-tors spent their whole summer, dream ing, planning, and delving into other annuals for new ideas. Since the first day of school, there hasn't been time for loafing. The staff adopted the motto, "Re-write, re-check, re-measure, and erase it again, chum." The work of Don Getz, the book's artist, and the student photographers, Jim Cosgarea and Dave Kelly, will be evident among the 115 annual pages.

Barbara and her assistants, Susan Menegos, Jocelyn Snyder, and Bar-bara Brandt plan to complete their proof-reading tomorrow, (yes, they work Saturdays and evenings, too). From then on in, the editors and their adviser will be sitting on the edges of their chairs, just waiting for that special assembly bell to ring on that big, big day—June 4.

Commencement Speakers to Be Ross, Brautigam

Speakers for Commencement exer-cises June 7 will be Barbara Ross and Dick Brautigam, Supt. E. S. Kerr announced this week. The Quaker weekly and annual editors were chosen by their Senior class-mates when they balloted last week.

Superintendent Kerr also an-nounced that Rev. R. J. Hunter will deliver the sermon at Baccalaureate services June 3. The Salem Minis-terial association will as usual have charge of this program and the High School Robed choir will furnish the music.

Tax Stamp Drive Nears $10,000 Goal

At a recent meeting of the Stu-dent Council in 109, several new items were brought up for dis-cussion.

The first item brought to attention was the Student Council tax stamp drive which is in the fourth week of progress. Reports were made as to how much each homeroom had turned in. After three full weeks of the drive, homeroom 101 leads with $678.35, followed by 203 with $598.86 and 212 with $285. The total high school collection is $7,268.33. The goal is set at $10,000.00.

The Council decided to send a let-ter to Dr. Willis A. Sutton to thank him for coming to the high school. Another letter was sent to the Ki-wanis club, thanking them for spon-soring Dr. Sutton's trip.

It was voted to discontinue the noon dances for the rest of the year due to the warm weather.

It was brought up that something should be done about the condition of the lawn in front of the school. No decision was reached.

The council had charge of the track stand at the Night Relays Sat-urday. Bob Bush headed the track stand committee.

Alumni Scholarships To Be Awarded Again

This year once again the Scholar-ship Committee of the Salem High school Alumni Association will award scholarships to three Seniors eligible for this award.

Requirements for these scholar-ships include: a deserving student who may be expected to complete his or her college course in such a way as to bring credit to Salem High school and who, without the schol-arship, might not be able to attend college. The student should have maintained at least a "B" average throughout his or her high school course. A student's extra-curricu-lar activities and personality shall also be taken into consideration in making this award. Social develop-ment, stick-to-it-iveness, and good health are required.

The first prize is $350; second prize $250, and third prize $150.

If this scholarship should occur during the existence of the draft, or any form of compulsory military service, the scholarship shall not be denied to a boy because he may be called into service. But in the event that he is called into service be-fore he has received his scholarship its payment shall be held in ad-vance. If this student would be en-titled to the G.I. Bill of Rights, or a similar measure, the scholarship may be awarded to the alternate.

All scholarship candidate blanks must be turned in no later than next Monday, May 14th.

Record Player to Be Senior Class Gift

A record player and records will be the 1951 Senior class gift to the school it was decided in a recent class vote. Before the vote was cast Janet Lehman reported on the record player, Tom Pastier described the scoreboard which was under con-sideration, and Elizabeth Fultz pro-posed a new flagpole for the school. Mr. Hagedorn has agreed to build a cabinet for the records.

The remaining money from the Senior class treasury will be turned over to the Alumni scholarship fund.

Mother, Daughter Tea To Be Held May 16

The annual Mother and Daughter Tea will be held Wednesday in the high school's dining room.

The Tea is sponsored by the Hi-Tri in honor of the mother of each member. The various committees are headed by the following students: Refreshment, Joan Whitten; Pro-gram, Gerry Van Hovel; Invitation, Peg Baltorinic.

Three Freshmen Rank High in Music Festival

Three Freshmen received a "su-perior" rating last Saturday when they traveled to Lisbon to compete in a Jr. High District Music festival.

Those who competed were Wendell Dunn, baritone horn; Dale Horton, cornet, and Kay Ferrall, piano and flute.

Entertainment Committee Announced for Prom

Mrs. Maxine Ryser, Junior class adviser, announces the following persons as members of the enter-tainment committee for the Junior-Senior Prom: Chairman Dolores Buta, Everett Crawford, Mike Gaj-dzik, Bill Winder, Marty Alexander, and Judy Gregg. Other committees were announced earlier.

The Prom is set for Friday, June 1 at the Masonic Temple. Harry Woodfield's 10 piece orchestra and a vocalist will play for dancing from 9:00 until 12:00.

Anyone interested in straining his muscles or spraining a back? If so get in touch with Tom Stamp. Stamp is starting a weight-lifting club. His only trouble is in finding a name. What do you think of "100 Pounders." Well, can you think of a better one?

Nother Suggestion

Last week the Student Council requested a solution to our cluttered-up school. The Seniors were also in doubt as to what to give for their class gift. Here is a suggestion that might solve both. If the Seniors would buy a couple of disposal cans for in front of the building then the students would have

Spirit of Democracy

(The following editorial was written by a student in International Relations.)

Because our democratic way of life is so close to us at home, we Americans take it too much for granted. Democracy is a noble and right way of government, a fact which too many of us do not stop to realize.

Ours is not a pure democracy, yet this "experiment in government" has proved itself efficient and good. It began not when the Declaration of Independence came into existence. Instead, democracy was born hundreds of years ago when wise men in ancient Greece realized and understood that the human soul was not something to be beaten and shaped in accordance with selfish wishes; but something so fine and holy as to be free.

It is far, far better, to be poverty-stricken in a democracy than to live richly without freedom, or live as a slave. It is human nature to desire freedom. Lack of freedom will result in broken spirits, such as are found under communistic rule.

A strong nation has strong spirit. Because the United States as a whole believes, "United we stand, divided—we fall," America has progressed rapidly in that short span of life. Our spirit is the cement which binds us together, because of our mutual love for freedom in our democracy.

Question of the Week

How is it that Helen Gottschling also received flowers at the grange last Sunday?

Casualty List

We would like to say that we are glad Terry Moore is out of the hospital. It is also nice seeing Don Harsh here-n-there around town. By the time the Quaker comes out we hope Dolores Buta is walking (not hopping) around again and Lorene Pim is back with all but her appendix!

Personality Quiz

Our Senior personality when not in the Quaker office is found in homeroom 210. He is always on the back of the Quaker. When not in the game he either manages the boys or cheers them on from the stands. He doesn't play hop-scotch but he does skip.

Our Sophomore personality is the female half of a well known brother and sis pair around school. For extra curricular activities the girls chorus takes each 6th period and on Tuesday she faithfully attends the Salem-squers. Her home room is 109.

The Big Question

Little cuts from classes,
Little slips marked "late."
Make the Senior wonder,
If he'll graduate.

They Did!

Dale "chatter chatter" and Dean "Brrr" Horton claim to be the first to go swimming this year. They set their record Sunday, April 29, at Diehl Lake. They admit that it was just a little bit cold, and to our congratulations to them for their deed we add this one phrase "They ain't right."

Uncle Mike Gives Woodcarving Lesson

By Mike Silver

Well, here we are again, kiddies. This is the first article of a series written by Uncle Mike on woodcarving. Sissy stuff? Oh my no! For, you see, this subject requires so much skill and patience that few rarely succeed because this is not done on ordinary wood; this is done on desk tops, and hiding your movements from the wary teacher requires more skill than the actual carving.

The required utensils are, namely, a sharp pointed object such as a compass or pen-knife. However, many prefer the compass point to the knife because of its more innocent looking appearance and it would surely cause less suspicion in the prowling teacher than a six inch dagger.

If one lacks inspiration, certainly a casual stroll down any aisle of desks will reveal, etched by local Rembrandts, catchy inscriptions such as: "Will loves you," "Moose was here," or "Hello, who sits in this seat besides me? Who's me? Ha! Ha!"

Of course, I admit you cannot be expected to approach the greatness of these quotations nor think of anything as original, but we can certainly put forth our best effort.

Naturally, as I have stated before, most of the failures in the art of woodcarving are due to carelessness in being noticed by the teacher. One must proceed with caution only when the teacher is looking the other way or, before you know it, you will be spending your night after school sanding down desks.

Although the average man can't afford to have a check-writing machine, he sometimes feels as if he were married to one. (D. S. Halacy, Jr.)

Past Student Council Presidents Move to Top Again in New Fields

By Barbara Ross and Ray Pearson

There must be a special angel who looks after all Student Council presidents to see that their life after graduating is not a dull one.

Information concerning the six presidents makes for some exciting reading something like an adventure book you would find in our own library.

The first Student Council President, Danny Smith, was elected in 1945 and served in his Senior year. He then attended Dennison university, but is now a Corporal in the Army. Danny was stationed in Tokyo, Japan until last November when he was sent somewhere near Seoul, Korea.

Following Danny, Don Coppock has perhaps the most mysterious-sounding life. After he was graduated, he attended Case Institute, studying to be a draftsman. Then, he joined the Navy and was stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Station, California, South America, and good old Brooklyn were his addresses for a time, but now, after a short visit in Salem he left for Newfoundland where he will fly to Greenland on a year's secret mission!

Roll-call at Harvard university in Cambridge, Massachusetts would strike a familiar note when the name "Jerry Miller" was called out. Jerry was Student Council President in his Junior year, 1947-1948. He has won a part-scholarship every year to Harvard, where he is studying law. However, he suspects he'll be "asked" to join the Army this summer.

Many of the upper-classmen remember jovial Dick Tolson, President in '48 to '49. He was employed at the Salem China company, (after his Commencement at which he gave a speech about the Student Council. He was first stationed in Texas at an Air Corp training base, then was transferred to Biloxi, Mississippi at the Keesler Air Field where he is studying to be an instructor in the field of radar.

Last year's President, Leo Kline, is having quite a time at Ohio State university where he enrolled for a pre-med course. Salem High students may have spotted him during his spring vacation when he visited his old Alma Mater.

This year's President, Don Loutzenheiser, is not only a good president of the council, but is active in many extra curricular activities such as football and track. When asked what he planned to do, Don said he felt rather vague about his future plans, but supposed he would go to college to study accounting.

However, if the other presidents' present activities are any hint of Don's coming future, who knows? Maybe someday Don will find himself on a rocket ship to Mars.

First, the triplets are Glen Bruderly, Harold Reedy and Chuck Schmid. They all wore green sport shirts and brown trousers to school Friday, to look "Hard."

The show case has two new trophies, beside the third place plaque the track team won at the Night Relays. They are the two alarm clocks that surprised everyone in third period library.

The Honor Roll in Senior homeroom 207 included 20 of the 34 students in the room. It really looked nice.

As you remember, Rusty Ross told us that she was going to have 4 "A's" on her report card this last six weeks. But all she could get was two of those "A's." You have one more chance.

Spooner and Coffee Receive Top Thespian Awards

Dale Spooner received the National Thespian award for interpretation for his portraying role in "Charley's Aunt" and Don Coffee was presented the four star National Thespian title by Miss Irene Weeks, dramatics coach in a recent assembly.

To earn his award, Don has had one major role, an important supporting role, and has served on various backstage committees.

The one-act play, "Everything Nice", will be presented at the Presbyterian church May 21 for the annual Book club meeting. The cast includes Katy Umbach, Joan Domencetti, Dale Spooner, Jacquie Kuntzman, Barbara Ross, Rolland Herron, Phyllis Flick.

The train came to a sudden stop, jerking the passengers around.

"What has happened, conductor?" cried one nervous old lady.

"Nothing much," said the conductor. "We hit a cow."

"Oh," said the relieved old lady. "Was it on the tracks?"

"No," replied the disgusted conductor. "We chased her into the barn."

Pictures for the Salem News were recently taken of the dramatics aids who are second period, Patsy Teuscher and George Coddington; fourth, Joan Domencetti and Shirley La Monica, seventh, Joanne Probert and Dale Spooner. Thespian points are gained by being dramatics aids and the aid's principle duties include assisting in one-act plays and helping check on routine work.

A "Music Week" program was held in the Study Hall for the assembly this week.

Seven C is the high homeroom in the tax stamp race this week with $233 of the total collection of $421.50.

Student Council is sponsoring another dance for Junior High to be held in the upstairs hall, next Wednesday.

On Thursday the SJH track team will meet Columbiana on Columbiana's track.

Scores of baseball games played last week are: 7E, 7-7B, 6, 7C, 16-7D, 6; 8C, 6-8B, 2; 8E, 8-8B, 6; 8C, 16-8A, 7; 7A, 8-7C, 6.

The final score in the track meet with Boardman put SJH ahead by only three points, 47 to 44. Trailing all through the track meet, in the final event, the broadjump, SJH needed to cop both first and second places to win. As the sawdust settled it was discovered that Bob Domencetti and George Mordeu had tied for first place.

Other champions were also discovered as Jim Beard broke the previously set record of 6.8 sec. for the 50 yd. dash by breaking the tape in 6.5 sec.

Ed Jones equalled the record high jump of 5 ft. set by Tom Boonie.

Van Hovel, Cosgarea Elected Musicians of the Year

Gerry Van Hovel and Jim Cosgarea were recently elected bandsman and chorusman of the year, respectively. The band and chorus elected them on the basis of musicianship, years of service, cooperation, and fellowship.

Gerry has been active in the chorus, band, girls' octet, and has participated in the Mount Union Festival at Alliance for four years. She has gone to District, State, and Federation Music contests where she played solos as well as accompanied contestants. She has been a member of the clarinet quartet for three years, and has participated in talent assemblies.

Gerry plays in the All County high school band which meets once a month. Outside of school, Gerry is active in her own church choir, the Junior Music Study club of which she has been vice-president and is president this year. More recently, she became a member of the Columbiana County Symphony.

Jim has been active in the chorus, being the president this year, has gone to the Mount Union Festival for four years, and has studied voice for four years. In a recent talent assembly, he placed second for his vocal solo.

Jim has also gone to various contests, and received a National Superior rating at the Federation contest his Freshman year. Recently, he received a superior rating at the district music contest and is now eligible for the state contest finals. Jim supplies the bass for the Clef Dwellers, the popular boys' quartet here at school. He has done quartet work since seventh grade and sings in his own church choir. He is an active member of the Junior Music Study club.

Annual County Meet To Be Staged Tonight

Salem among Four Teams Slated For Action at Reilly Stadium

Tonight at Reilly stadium at 3:30 one of the oldest track meets in the country will get underway when county teams participate in the 47th Annual Columbiana County meet. The meet will continue into the night and draw to a close at about 10:00.

The four entering teams of the event are Salem, East Palestine, East Liverpool, and Columbiana. Last year's victor was East Palestine, who sported versatile Glenn Young who personally broke three records. Two of the records which he broke, the broad jump and the low hurdles, were his own set in 1949.

The Bulldogs gained 55½ points to defeat East Liverpool by a 10 point margin. Salem finished third and Columbiana held the bottom slot. In winning the meet East Palestine pulled down eight firsts with Young taking four. The difference which allowed the Potters second place in the meet over Salem was their four firsts, three seconds

Boone Paces Salem's Win over Boardman

A two run fourth inning triple by Freshman center fielder Tom Boone gave Salem High's Quakers a 4 to 3 victory over Boardman in their first tournament game played Monday afternoon at Youngstown.

Salem hurler Bob Theiss turned in another neat four hitter, striking out nine Spartans. However, he constantly kept himself in hot water by walking 11 batters. The Quakers could collect only five safeties off Boardman's Jerry Suess who whiffed eight Salemites.

The only extra base hit besides Boone's triple was a seventh inning double by Boardman's right fielder, Bud McCreary. Salem scored one run in the first inning and three more in the fourth. The Spartans also tallied in the opening inning but a two run rally in the seventh fell one short of knotting the score.

By defeating Boardman Salem advanced into second round play Tuesday against Brookfield.

Salem Wins Third at Relays; Trails Cleveland, Akron East

Cleveland East Tech, running up a tremendous point total of 84, easily won the 17th annual Salem Night Relays at Reilly stadium last Saturday night. It's the highest score ever compiled in the relays, and it marks the 7th time in the last eight runnings of the event, that the Cleveland Tech boys have won the honors.

The surprising Salem cindermen under coach Frank Tarr, rose up mightily for the occasion, and ran up 30 points, good enough for 3rd place, behind Akron East's 43.

Salem placed in seven different events, high-lighted by a first and second in the discus, won by Jay England and Jim Callahan, respectively. John Votaw took home a tie for second in the pole vault and Jim Hurlburt won 3rd in the high hurdles. Bill Pasco and Bob Theiss collected 4th and 5th respectively in the shot put to add their share to the cause.

Out of Bounds

By Skip Greenisen

Although only 16 squads entered the 17th annual Salem Night Relays, the meet went over with great success. Director F. E. Cope expected about 20 teams to participate, but nevertheless there was a nice field of competitors.

Quite a few chilled fans stuck it out to see Coach Juan Green and his East Tech lads receive the beautiful trophy from the founder of the Relays, Wilbur J. Springer.

Green has taken the trophy home for the last seven times he entered. He probably has extremely high praise for our Quaker City.

We want to congratulate all the Quaker athletes who participated and did well for themselves. Those 30 points for third place sure looked good. Let's hope some more valuable points will come our way next week during the N.E.O. meet here.

Softball here in the city of Salem is scheduled to start next Monday with two leagues again this year. Class A and Class AA. Of course there are also other leagues such as Class B and then 6th, 7th, and 8th grade squads which have been active for the last couple of weeks.

A small number of SHS fellows have found a swell way to enjoy an evening in a "sporty way." Canfield has opened their track to the stock car races which really give some thrills. The races are held on Wednesday and Saturday nights and prove to be worth your time and money to take a long look at the cars and watch them buzz around the track.

There's more track competition tonight as the Columbiana County meet stages its events. The Quakers have a good chance of taking top honors in the meet but of course you can't forget East Palestine and East Liverpool.

Next Wednesday the Northeastern Ohio Class B teams will be here for their meet. Probable winner will be Poland who seems to be headed for the State Meet at Columbus for top honors. Salem is fortunate in getting a look at the excellent thinclads.

Mr. Cope wants to remind everybody again that the season football tickets are still on sale at the local down town outlets. Season tickets are priced at $7.00 for the year. If bought before each game, they would cost the purchaser $8.05. So why not save $1.05 and get your season seat now!
