Our Changes To Be Made In Subjects Next Year

Our major changes in subject assignments have been announced next year by Principal B. G. Wig.

Health, formerly a required subject, will become an elective next year. It will still be on the senior level.

United States history and government, a required subject, will be offered the third instead of the fourth year from now on. However, all those who will be seniors next fall will take the course along with next year's juniors. Also, any present underclassman who has not planned to take U. S. history until his senior year will be allowed to do so. A student is always permitted to take a subject one year below his grade level.

Starting with next year's freshman class, one year of mathematics also will be required for graduation.

In addition, considerable new material will be added to the orientation and guidance and vocations courses. The Industrial Information Institute has published two new textbooks which will be used in those classes next year.

The books contain information on vocational opportunities in this area and suggestions for good vocations tests. In addition there will be a section on community activities and local government.

Choice of worksheets for next year will be issued May 14.

Class of 1954 Chooses Leaders

Chuck Jones has been elected to lead his class through its last year in high school. When senior class officer results were announced yesterday, it was revealed that Jones is president, Sandy Hansell is vice-president, and Marjorie Jensen is secretary-treasurer.

Chuck was recently made a delegate to Buckeye Boys' State. He is a member of the Student Council, and held the lead in the junior class play, "Professor, How Could You?"

Sandy also is a delegate to Boys' State. He is now the junior assistant editor of the Quaker Weekly and also is a member of Student Council.

Marjorie will soon take over the Hi-Tri as president. She was chosen to attend Buckeye Girl's State this summer, and is a member of the Junior Red Cross and the Robed choir.

Classes Nominate Officer Candidates

The freshman and sophomore classes have started elections of their class officers for next year. Balloting began Tuesday of this week, and final nominations have been announced.

The class of '55 selected five boys to run for prexy. They are Ken Bosu, Lowell Fleischer, Ray Hertel, Larry Stoffer, and John Todd. Carol Debnar, Sue Hill, Janice Jeffries, Curtice Loop, and Ruth Mountz are the secretary-treasurer candidates.

Next year's sophomores have nominated Dick Coppock, Jerry Cosgrove, and Matt Klein for president. Chosen for election as secretary-treasurer are Donna Blender, Carol Brautigam, Mary Mercer, and Patt Ross.

Results of the elections will be announced next week.

30 Year Difference

In a recent issue of the Quaker an item stated that Salem high school has been accredited since 1936. However, there is a difference of 30 years between the story and the truth. Due to a typographical error, the school did not get full credit. Salem high has been accredited since 1906, not '36.

Schools Hold Festival

Choirs from Louisville and Alliance high schools along with the Salem high school Robed choir met here Friday night for the annual Tri-City Music Festival. One of the highlights of the evening was the appearance of Louis Diercks, guest director. Mr. Diercks is the head of the Ohio State Symphonic choir.

Sam Krauss, Band's Founder, To Direct At Spring Concert

Samuel G. Krauss, the originator and first director of the Salem high school band and now the first chair trumpet player and featured soloist with the Philadelphia Philharmonic orchestra, will appear here Monday evening at 8:15 to lead the Salem high school band in two numbers during their 25th anniversary concert.

The band's current director, Howard O. Pardee, in celebration of the silver anniversary, has invited Krauss and Chester Brautigam, the band's second leader and now the director of the Quaker City American Legion band, both to take part in the program by directing several numbers.

Pardee is only the third director of the band since its organization 25 years ago.

Krauss has attended both the Dana School of Music in Warren and the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia. He played first trumpet with the National Symphony in Washington, D. C., and with the St. Louis Symphony orchestra before joining the Philadelphia group.

The renowned conductor of the Philadelphia Philharmonic, Eugene Ormandy, speaking before a group of Salem people, called Krauss "one of the finest trumpet players in the world."

This year's Salem band is regarded as one of the finest in the organization's history. The superior rating accorded it at the recent state contest was the first such award in the history of the school.

Mr. Pardee has arranged a varied program for the concert. Stirring marches, popular numbers, Latin American numbers, solos, and novelties will be included.

Last year's spring concert was attended by approximately 550 persons, the largest crowd ever to attend a Salem band concert. Director Pardee is hoping to surpass that figure this year with a capacity crowd.

All band members are selling tickets.

Bailey Elected Bandsman Of Year

Nancy Bailey, senior, has been chosen SHS's Bandsman of the Year, it was announced by Director Howard Pardee in the band recognition assembly yesterday. She was chosen on the basis of her service and loyalty to the musical activities of the organization. A four-year member of the band, she was awarded a two-year pin for service as a majorette during her junior and senior years.

Letters were presented by Mr. Pardee to all three-year bandsmen. Those who received recognition were Frank Stoerke, Marlene Schmidt, David Bush, Dale Horton, John Dupal, Charles Coubourn, Sandy Hansell, Marilyn Dodge, Marjorie Hannay, Janice Groves, Dick Keller, Dorothy Vogelhuber, and Wendell Dunn.

The numbers on the program were "Standard of St. George," "Adagio Cantabile," "Elsa's Processional to the Cathedral," "March of the Majorettes," "Lilt of the Latin," "Solid Men to the Front," and "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Myers Wins Contest Henning Second

Joseph Stadlander, art instructor, this week announced the winners in the hearing conservation poster contest, sponsored by Edward Harris. The first prize winner is Jane Myers, a junior; Marcia Henning, a freshman, is holder of second place; and honorable mentions went to Shirlene Bowman and Jack Pierce, both seniors.

The purpose of the contest was to promote interest in hearing problems and hearing health in the schools, and to make the general public more cognizant of facts concerning hearing conservation.

Baccalaureate To Be May 31

Baccalaureate services, conducted by the Salem Ministerial association, will be held Sunday, May 31, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The Reverend Fr. J. Richard Gaffney, rector of St. Paul's church, will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon.

The Salem high school Robed choir, under the direction of Thomas Crothers, will present several selections.

The Baccalaureate services are held each year for graduating seniors and are the religious side of commencement.

Sophs Vote Early; Choose Style B

Voting three months before classes usually do, the sophomores chose model B for their junior-to-be class rings.

The rings are to be ordered next September and the incoming seniors will probably receive them a few weeks before Thanksgiving.

Style B comes in three sizes: small, medium and large. It has the Quaker symbol on a raised center mounting and under it is written "Quakers." At the corners of the mounting are carved small figures. On one side of the mount is written 19 and on the other side, 55.

Squad Elects Girls To Award Trophies

Award winners at tonight's County track meet will receive their medals from Betty Bartholow, Doris McNamee, Mary Campbell, and Judy Tame, who were elected by members of the Salem track squad to supervise distribution of prizes.

Those four girls plus Bonnie Campbell, Donna Cocca, and Betsy Moore will award the trophies at next Friday night's District A meet.

Betty Bartholow was also appointed custodian of awards for both meets.

Commencement Musician Ralph Can Be Recognized By 'Cool' Sax

By Curtice Loop

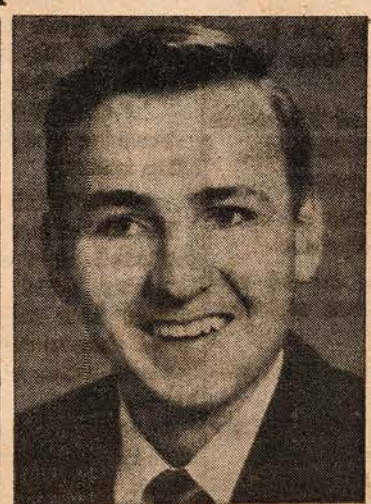

"There's music in the air" whenever Ralph Firestone is around. Ralph, who is a four-year member of the band, is known throughout the school for his "cool" sax. He has played the saxophone for six years and about two years ago started to study clarinet under Mr. Joyce in Youngstown. But there's not much chance of Ralph's becoming another Jimmy Dorsey for he lists as his most embarrassing moment the time he directed the high school band. "I can't direct very well. I got lost and the kids started to yell and I gave up."

This steak-and-mushrooms-lover received a superior rating the two years he journeyed to the state music contest, and he played first chair saxophone at Canal Fulton this March. The trip to the state contest with the band this year was Ralph's second in his high school career, and he went to the Mount Union festival in his junior year.

Besides having an outstanding band record, Ralph is a member of the Slide Rule club, was a Red Cross representative in his sophomore year, and was band librarian when he was a junior.

"Mr. Music" divides his time between going to school and working for his father, and for enjoyment he listens to the saxophone recordings of Racher, "Rudy"

Ralph Firestone

Wiedoefft, and Cecil Leason, plays his sax, and reads science fiction books.

This good looking senior has some sound ideas on marriage. He believes a boy shouldn't marry until he has finished school and is working. "Not while he's still in school. He should wait till he's 24 or 25."

Ralph likes the underdog—he's a Republican and an Indian fan. He's just hoping the Indians do as well this year as the Republicans did.

He likes physics and trigonometry. If he were elected to the school board he would streamline the school's lighting system and make a few minor improvements "such as a new high school."

Ralph is going to further his education at Ohio university at Athens. He plans to study electrical engineering and after graduation to join his father's electrical contracting business. During the summers between college terms he will work for his father to gain experience.

Ralph is one of the four musicians who have been chosen to play at the commencement exercises in June, and that is a fitting climax to his outstanding high school musical career.

CAMOUFLAGE

By A and A

As MacArthur said to the Filipinos, "We have returned." Of course that's not what he said since he isn't plural.

Because we are out in the lovely fresh air while writing this little bit of nothing, this is, as of now, dedicated to all who are suffering from spring fever. Please accept our deepest sympathies.

If you've been wide awake the last few days, you've surely seen Lowell Fleischer's new blazer. And we do mean blazer. It's colorful to say the least. Oh, this crazy mixed up kid!

Speaking of vacations (who's speaking of vacations?) some silly jabberwocky bird, who stopped here on his way north, tells us that Joan Schuller was seen tripping the light fantastic in Cincinnati last weekend. The occasion, John's frat's spring formal. Oh, well.

All right, all you hep cats; now dig these crazy expressions:
Harvest that corn: Stop being sentimental.
Who hung that mess on you?: I like your new outfit.
How's for poolin' the foolin'?: May we join you?

So you think you have troubles! Just listen to this gem. Eons ago this took place in the classroom of one of our highly esteemed faculty members. The class was instructed to answer some of the test questions on one side of the paper, and to write the rest on the other side. When the teacher asked the pupils to pass their papers in, one of the bright(?) studes raised his hand and said (quote) Shall we hand in both sides of the paper? (unquote) Also 'nuf said.

Say, now, are you wondering who we are? Is the suspense keeping you awake in study hall? Here's a hint: our sock sizes are 10 and 10½ respectively. That's all the clues for this time.

To all sophomores: You should have voted for style C. It's guaranteed to give your fingers a lovely shade of chlorophyllin green in two weeks. Healthful, you know.

Spring has sprung—
How do we know?
Bucks are blooming
As white as _____—heck, who can keep them white, anyhow?

It won't be long until most of us will be filling out those choice of work sheets again. Here are some hot tips to help you select your schedule quickly. If you plan to take geography, be sure to take agriculture, too. That way you get ALL the dirt. We also recommend study hall (especially for insomniacs). We feel privileged to announce that clothing classes next year will offer new attractions. Mr. Cabas will be the instructor.

Still wondering who we are? Good. Be sure to read our next contribution when we will print some very revealing information.

Until then, we remain yours mysteriously,

Goal For Spring: Live For Summer

In spring a young driver's thoughts lightly turn to the open road. And open it may be, but the case will more than likely be that many other young drivers will have had the same thoughts. Results: heavy traffic.

This is the time of year when accidents take their toll. Not only because there are more teen-age drivers on the road, but because at dusk in the spring, the setting sun's rays cause strange optical illusions. Safety records show that more accidents occur then than any other time of day.

Spring is a poet's holiday; but Death also likes the season.

Here's hoping you enjoy the spring and live to see the summer.

The Bestest

The Quaker Weekly wishes to extend its heartiest congratulations to the Salem band on winning the school's first superior rating at a state contest in this, their 25th anniversary year.

If a large delegation of SHS students would attend their concert Monday evening, it would show Mr. Pardee and the 72 band members our appreciation of the many, many hours spent in individual practice and group rehearsal, and of the fine job they've done in bringing recognition to our school.

Studes List Wishes For Last Editions

With the last few Quakers about to be printed, a reporter decided to find out what the readers would like to see in these issues. Those students asked replied with:

Ann Stowe—More things of interest to the studes; parties, club activities, etc.

Bruce Snyder—More editorials.

Heather Lozier—More items of interest to the kids and more editorials.

Gloria Rowlands—Articles on the editors of the Weekly and Annual and their work.

Joyce Cosgrove—A senior class prophecy.

Marjorie Jensen—An article on what the studes are going to do this summer

Jackie Welsh—A short write-up on what each senior is going to do after he is graduated.

F. E.'s Typewriter Keeps Busy Aiding In Athletic Activities

By Jim Barcus

At last, Mr. Cope has left for his speaking engagement. I almost 6:30. Oh, brother! The phone is ringing. Either Betty Bartholomew or Gloria Andrews will answer. I hope Betty answers it for that way mean my poor aching keys can rest. Ah, she's stopping. Uh, hu She's lifting the receiver.

Since 8:15 this morning there's been nothing but rush, rush, rush. First Mr. Cope opens his mail; then like a flash he's on the phone.

"The athletic letters didn't come in. Why? Get them here in time for the assembly tomorrow. We must have them. What's that? They won't be here before day after tomorrow. Then there's nothing to do but cancel the assembly. O.K. Thanks. 'Bye."

Ring-a-ling. "Hello. Yes, this is he. The 15th of May? Yes, I think I can make it. Oh, yes, I can make a few remarks. Thanks for the invitation. Goodbye."

Every hour of every day of every week of every month it's just like these last few minutes down here in this little cubby hole. You see, I'm sort of an authority on the subject. For years I've sat here on the desk and watched things of this type going on, for I'm the typewriter in F. E. Cope's office.

Here comes Betty again. Every fifth period down the stairs she troops. Oh, my worn-out ribbon! Here we go again.

EAST LIVERPOOL HIGH SCHOOL—click-clack-basketball game? Click-clack-Feb. 12? Click-clack. Please send a reply.

Again and again the same thing—Lisbon, New Castle, Niles. More about a game of basketball. Is Al Catlos all right for an official on Jan. 15? Is Joe Brown going to print tickets, etc., etc.

At last the bell. Now I can rest (unless Mr. Cope decides to type). Somebody please cut my ribbon to shreds.

Seventh period brings more click-clack and ring-a-ling. See! What did I do you? The phone is ringing already.

"What? Yes, I will. Thanks for calling Betty, please type up all information available on the county track meet soon as possible."

Now Mr. Cope is on the phone. "Hello Is there a ticket seller for the Class District track meet? There is? Thanks lot. Goodbye."

"Hi, Mr. Cope."

"Oh, it's you. Glen. What's on your mind? You need some more supplies for the track team? O.K. I'll be with you in a minute."

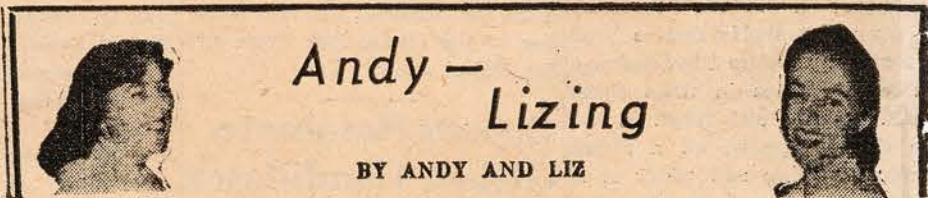

Again and again, the same thing. Interruptions, phone calls, lost gym shoes, next year's football officials, and cross country meets to attend to. All of these things must have clearance through this office. Seventh period is over, a break at last.

Tip-tap, tip-tap. Heres comes Gloria Andrews, next year's secretary. Now yakity-yak, yakity-yak. Betty and she are getting started.

Did you know?" Yak-yak. "No! No, really?" Yak-yak. "Dick, that cute sophomore?" Yak-yak . . .

Mr. Cope leaves with Glen for Reilly field. Soon Gloria leaves and finally, Betty. The lights go out and nobody is around but the custodians.

Now I can enjoy relaxation and recuperation until another day of phone ringing, typing, letter writing, and numerous interruptions.

MISHAPS OF THE WEEK

Wanna bet that Ann Stowe was slightly perturbed when she ran out of gas last Saturday night in front of the post office? This lady in distress was relieved temporarily of her embarrassment, however, when two gallant lads came to her rescue.

At Melissa Layton's party last week some slightly mischievous guests let the air out of the tires of the family car. Once again to the rescue came 10 members of the male species who gently lifted the car and "strolled" it to the nearest filling station!

DID YOU KNOW . . .

That Ray Whinnery has been participating in several races being held at the Derby Downs in Akron?

Poor Marty Brown! This gal really has her problems. One day last week she returned to school to find a sign saying "Push Cush" hung on her locker. When she opened the door out tumbled a mass of wadded paper—enough to fill a box-car—someone's idea of a not too funny joke.

The haunting strains of "Happy Birthday to You" came floating down the second floor hall last week when a group of well-meaning, if not particularly talented, gals serenaded a slightly red-faced Sally Risbeck.

Members of the Junior Music club who went to the Delaware contest all agreed they enjoyed themselves immensely. However, Jackie Welsh suffered a rather painful experience and Jerry Roberts caused a near riot; but you'd better ask them about it if you're curious.

Brother! Did you get a load of the gorgeous sunburns that appeared in school Monday morning? Seems several kids were either mowing lawns, playing golf, or attending the auto races, while some just relaxed on their back lawns over the week-end. Bob Talbot, Jim Minamy, Gail Hippley, Gail Hanna, Sally Hutcheson, and Jeannie Yakubek—just to mention a few—were some of the studes with the perpetual blushes.

Fun was had by all at the big Elks dance Friday night, and to the Elks of Salem we extend our thanks. And kids—there's a Youth Council dance tomorrow night from nine 'til twelve, so if you're looking for something to do—this is it!

10 Senior Boys Apply For Industrial Scholarships

Ten senior boys have filed applications for the Mullins and Electric Furnace scholarship tests to be given May 9. Seven of the boys are registered for the engineering tests and three plan to take the business administration exams.

The seven are Bob Kupka, Don McCormick, George Manning, Steve Navoyosky, Lee Wisler, Jon Zeigler, and Mervin Thomas. John Litly, Dick Ward, and Joe Potts will compete for the business ad scholarships.

This is the eighth year in which the Mullins Manufacturing corporation will have awarded one-year scholarships to the University of Cincinnati. The Electric Furnace company has offered scholarships for the past three years. Four of these are to be used in the College of Engineering and two, in the College of Business Administration.

The companies pay expenses relating to tuition, books, fees, and room and board for the winners' freshman year. Then the boys begin the university's co-operative plan of alternating working and studying.

Candidates for scholarships must be at least 17 years of age and graduates of an accredited high school with 15 units of academic credits. For engineering seven units of the following required subjects must be presented: English, 3; history, 1; plane geometry, 1; algebra, 1½; solid geometry, ½. For business administration training six units in the following subjects are required: English, 3; algebra, 1; plane geometry, 1; history, 1. An applicant for an engineering scholarship must average at least 85 per cent in mathematics and the sciences. Both engineering and business applicants should stand in the upper fourth of their class.

Walter Ibele, the first boy from Salem high to win a Mullins scholarship, is now working in the Mullins plant. Last year's winners from Salem who have attended the University of Cincinnati are Bill Brelieh, Dean Horton, and John Schmid.

Vavrek To Head G.A.A. In '53-'54

G. A. A. members elected officers for the 1953-54 year at their meeting Wednesday noon in 310. Vivian Vavrek was chosen president; Jackie Brelieh, vice-president; Frances Ziegler, secretary; and Midge Mordew, treasurer. The new officers will be installed at a later meeting.

Softball is now being played by the G. A. A. every Tuesday and Thursday after school in the gym.

Christmas cards are being sold to help pay for the club's trip to Washington, D. C., and each girl going to Washington is to sell at least ten boxes of cards.

4 Seniors Earn Troupe Bars For First Time In SHS History

Gretchen, Rose Marie, Sally, Dick

The Thespians this year are proud to have four members who have earned the title of Bar Thespian. This means they have earned 55 points or more. This is the first time in the history of the Salem troupe that this has been accomplished.

These four Thespians, Sally Moore, Gretchen Bodendorfer, Rose Marie Crawford, and Dick Ward, are also eligible for selection as the Best Thespian of the Year. The award winner will be announced at the Recognition assembly May 29.

During her four years in high school Sally has worked on various committees including wardrobe, stage erection, and hair styling. She had a part in one play, and has also served as understudy. She has been bookholder for four plays, and was mistress of the stage for two productions. She served as a dramatics assistant for a year.

Gretchen was on the hand props committee for two plays and on the make-up committee for three years. She has participated in marionette work and was junior director of a play. She had a total of five roles, one in a three-act play and the other four in one-act works.

Rose Marie was often a committee member on hand props and stage props. She was a director for two three-act plays and portrayed roles in four others. She also served as a dramatics assistant for a year.

Dick was an active member of various play committees including light crew, wardrobe, sound crew, stage erection, curtain crew, and ticket sales. He also participated in both one and three-act plays, playing a total of five roles. Dick also received points for his work as MC at Guilford Grange, his participation in the Kent State Drama clinic, and his work at the Lisbon fair.

All four also received points for excellence and cooperation.

NEW SONG?

After Rosemarie Faini received her diamond the band members changed the name of one of their contest numbers, "Elsa's Processional to the Cathedral," to "Rosie's Processional." They play it with so much more feeling now.

MONDAY NIGHT

The SHS band is celebrating its 25th anniversary at its annual spring concert. We hope that the students and teachers are proud enough of the band to come to the concert. It means just as much to the band members to know that their school is cheering them on as it does to the sports participants. It's not every school that has as fine a band director and band as Salem does. Let's get a little spirit within us and support our band!

We hope you enjoy the concert, kids!

Bob Talbot To Be Thespian President

The five students who will lead Salem high's Thespian troupe next year are Bob Talbot, president; Curtice Loop, vice-president; Carol Jo Byrns, secretary; Barbara Wright, treasurer; and Tom Ehrhart, scribe.

This was decided when the club held its officer elections at a meeting last Tuesday.

Committees for the officer installation and a club picnic were appointed. Named to the installation committee were Kay Paxson, Dick Gleckler, and Sue Hill. The Thespians who will plan the picnic are Gary Moffett, Nance Zeck, Betsy Moore, Sue Hill, Tom Ehrhart, and Bob Domencetti.

Health Classes Buy Films With Stamps

Refunds from the tax stamps which health students collected this winter made possible the purchase of two films to be used for the health classes during this and future years.

Aides Plan Field Trip

The Formaldeides have made arrangements for a weiner roast-field trip to Mill Creek park, Sunday, May 17.

Jim Schmidt and Sally Scullion were put in charge of transportation and refreshments, respectively, when the club met May 4.

COUNTY MEET

We hope that we will see you all at Reilly stadium tonight for the 50th annual Columbiana county track meet. If you are the least bit interested in track you'll be there, cheering for the Quakers. Here's hoping that the boys will do better this year than they did last year in the meet. One fellow in particular for everyone to be watching is Tony Conkle of East Palestine. We're betting that there will be several records broken by this lad this year.

Last Saturday the Bulldogs participated in the Charleston relays in Charleston, West Virginia, where Conkle set several new records. He captured four events in the relays, taking the shot put, the discus throw, and the 100 and 220-yard dashes. In the 100-yard dash he was clocked at 9.8 seconds, and at 22.1 seconds in the 220. He fired the shot 50 feet, 9 1/2 inches and the discus 149 feet, 11 1/4 inches. The records for both the discus throw and the 100-yard dash would be broken if he could equal these efforts in the county meet.

THEY LOOKED GOOD

Despite the wet track and the loss of the meet, 75-43, the Quakers looked pretty good last Tuesday in their dual meet with Ravenna. Bob Sebo looked very good in the low hurdles and showed up well in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Jerry Martin had his first real outside competition this year and made a brilliant run to come from behind on the last turn and tie for first place. Eddie Votaw put forth his best effort of the year and vaulted 10 feet, 6 inches. Jack Alexander had to go only five feet in the high jump to win, nonetheless looked to be in his usual fine form. We certainly hope that all these boys can do just as well in the meet tonight.

THANKS

This corner would like to thank all of the men who have served at the Quakers' dual meets this year as judges, timers, etc. Assistant track coach Karl Zellers served as official starter; Jim Jackson, Sam Pridon, and Pat Pastier served as timekeepers and judges. Joe Boone, John Cabas, and Ben Barrett handled the pole vault, high jump, shot put, and discus. They were ably assisted by several high school boys. Yours truly had the pleasure of serving as clerk-of-the-course. These men gave up a lot of their valuable time to offer their services for the school and we know that they were appreciated by all.

Salem Overscores Niles Dragons

The Salem Quakers were victorious in their third dual meet of the season by walloping the Niles Red Dragons Friday, May 1, in the local stadium, 63 1/3-54 2/3.

The Quakers, leading all the way, recorded three seconds, five thirds, and two second-place ties, along with their eight first places and the mile relay victory to account for the winning margin.

Again consistent Bob Sebo was high-point man for the day. Sebo collected 10 points, a first in both the 180-yard low hurdles and the 100-yard dash. Jack Ference captured first place in the discus, while Johnny Chester placed first in the 440.

In the mile run Jerry Martin and Bill Lipp took both first and second positions. Ed Votaw came through with his fourth triumph of the season winning the pole vault. Second places went to Joe Hajcak in the high hurdles, John Baker in the shot, Roy Honeywell tied for second in the pole vault, and Herb Haschen tied with two Niles men for the high jump.

Thirds went to Jim Beard in the broad jump, Dale Barton in the 440, Fred Marple in the discus, Bob Early in the 220, Dave Williams in the 880, and Jack Alexander in the high hurdles.

50th County Meet Tonight; E. Palestine's Conkle Favored

By Lowell Fleischer

The 50th anniversary of the Columbiana county track meet will be observed this afternoon and tonight when Coach Frank Tarr's cindermen host a large slate of county teams at Reilly stadium.

Leading the entrants are the East Palestine thinclads under the guidance of Coach Bill Ward. The Bulldogs are led by powerful Tony Conkle, unbeaten in high school competition. Palestine has won the meet for the past three years and will be out to make it four in a row. East Liverpool tied for top honors last year.

Last year also Conkle broke the 19-year-old shot put record previously held by Wayne Russell of Salem. He also established a new 180-yard high hurdles mark. 1951 was the first year the high hurdles had been run in a county meet.

The Quakers didn't fare so well in the county meet last year, ending in fifth place with a total of 10 3/5 points. Jim Watterson took second in the discus throw and Eddie Votaw took second in the pole vault with a jump of 10 feet. Tom Johnston also took second in the mile run. Maurice Sinsley tied for third place in the high jump.

Reilly stadium will be the scene of both the county and district meets this year. F. E. Cope, Quaker faculty manager, is also manager of both these meets and the class B district meet.

Ravenna Pounds Quakers, 75-43

The Quaker cindermen suffered their third defeat of the current track season at the hands of the Ravenna thinclads in Reilly stadium last Tuesday night, 75-43. This was the Quakers' last dual meet of the season.

Bob Sebo again led the Quakers with 11 points, taking first in the low hurdles and second in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Carl Reedy of Ravenna was high point man of the meet, collecting a total of 14 1/4 points. He took first in both the discus and the shot put, second in the broad jump, and also ran on the winning mile relay team.

Other Quaker firsts went to Eddie Votaw in the pole vault, Jack Alexander in the high jump, and Jerry Martin tied for first in the mile run. Joe Hajcak captured second in the high hurdles, and Jack Ference took second in the discus throw. Herb Haschen tied for second in the high jump as did Roy Honeywell in the pole vault. The Tarrmen captured a host of third places, Bobby Early in the 100-yard dash, Bill Lipp in the mile run, John Chester in the 440, Dave Williams in the 880, Jim Beard in the broad jump, and John Baker in the shot put.
