

Annual Editor Discusses Qualifications For Selectees

Senior Class To Vote On 'Who's Who' For Yearbook Monday

By Nora Guiler
Annual Editor

Once again the senior class of Salem High will be given the task of choosing its "Who's Who" for the 1954 Quaker Annual. On Monday, Nov. 16, senior homerooms will choose: The Student Most Likely to Succeed, The Most All-Around Girl and Boy, The Most Friendly

Girl and Boy and The Most Attractive Girl and Boy.

This section of the annual is one that will be looked back upon in years to come and, therefore, should be composed of the seven students who are really worthy of holding the titles and who can be looked upon proudly.

Each senior should take time to consider what these titles mean. The Student Most Likely to Succeed should be a person that excels in such a way that he will be successful and do well in whatever he undertakes. This person should also be able to get along with people, for that's where true success begins. The Most All-Around Girl and Boy should be well liked by their classmates, active in extra-curricular activities and be at least an average pupil scholastically.

The Most Friendly Girl and Boy should have appealing personalities, be courteous and be just pleasant persons to know.

The Most Attractive Girl and Boy should possess natural beauty, be neat in dress and present good all-round appearances.

When voting for these students, we should not consider that we are taking part in a popularity contest, but rather that we are providing an accurate record of the students who were outstanding in their class. You can vote only once in your life for a high school senior "Who's Who", so when you vote, make sure your choice is a wise one.

Past 'Likelies' Succeeding

In conjunction with the seniors' voting for their "Who's Who" next Monday, QUAKER cub reporter Elaine Cavanaugh has dug into the past to come up with interesting items concerning what past "Who's Who" selectees have gone on to do.

Have you ever wondered what you will be doing in five, six or ten years? Or have you wondered what some of the graduates of a few years ago are now doing?

We have found out what has happened to "The Students Most Likely To Succeed" of the past six years.

Bob Coppock, voted "Most Likely to Succeed" in 1948, graduated from Marietta College majoring in business administration. He is now employed in the cost-accounting department at Mullins.

In 1949 Jerry Miller was chosen "Most Likely to Succeed." He graduated from Harvard University last June and is now enrolled at the Northwestern University Seminary studying to be a Lutheran minister.

208 Leads Ticket Sales; Gow, Jones, Hansell Tops

Homeroom 208 was leading the class in senior play ticket sales Tuesday morning as THE QUAKER went to press. 212 was second and 210, third. The class total was 617, or 54 per cent of their 1142 goal.

The leading individual salesmen were Jim Gow, 29; Chuck Jones, 27; and Sandy Hansell, 24.

Square Dance Tonight In Gym

If you aren't doing anything tonight, why not put on your dancing shoes and come to the GAA Square Dance in the gym? Donald Stelts will be waiting to call the dances for you from 8 to 11:30 p. m. Two and one-half hours of dancing for just twenty five cents!

Male Chef Enjoys Culinary Capers

By Donna Blender

Some people have all the luck! This certainly applies to Lawrence Christopher who signed up for foods class this year. Just think, one lone boy among all those girls! Being only normal Lawrence says, "I like it! I like it!"

His first desire to cook came at the age of six when he baked his first cake. Cakes and candy are his favorite delicacies. His talent was displayed last year when he presented Mr. Callahan with a birthday cake and brought his own candy for his fellow classmates.

Lawrence prepares the meals at home quite often, claiming he owes many thanks to his mother who taught him the fundamentals of cooking.

"More boys should take an interest in cooking," he said, "because a wife always appreciates a husband who's a good cook. Besides, if you intend to be a chef, like I do, there's good money in it."

As the old saying goes, "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach." Well, fellas, this can be vice versa, you know.

Senior Play Performances Listed Next Week

The annual senior play will be given in the auditorium next Friday and Saturday evenings, November 20 and 21.

The play, entitled "Melody Jones," is a three-act drama depicting the life of an impulsive, lovable teenager.

The members of the senior class have been selling tickets for two weeks. Tickets also will be available at the door.

The junior high school will see the play Wednesday morning while the high school student body will be treated to a special presentation Thursday morning.

Donna Cocca is cast in the name role of Melody.

Others in the cast include Sandra Church, Martha Brown, Richard Oriole, Carl Siple, Mickey Lyons, Sandy Hansell, Jackie Welsh, Carol Joe Byrns, Carl Flitcraft, Charles Jones, Dick Journey and Gloria Andrews.

Dolly Capel is mistress of the stage.

All seats are unreserved on a first-come, first-served basis. The doors will open at 7:30 with curtain time listed for 8:15.

Blood 'Thirsty' Classes Test

By Carol Joe Byrns

CAUTION: If you have a weak stomach, read no further!! During the past week Mrs. Cox has typed the blood of 115 of her health students.

The most common type of blood is usually Type O, but in her classes she found that Type A prevailed. The total for all the classes was: Type A-47, Type B-18, Type O-42, Type-AB 8.

There were only a few students in her classes who were afraid to undergo this serious operation.

Also conducted by her classes was a study of concentrated and fresh citrus juices. They proved that after five hours the juices lost more than a third of their original content of Vitamin C.

A message to slow eaters: Don't waste so much time eating breakfast—think of all the Vitamin C you're losing.

Kanagy Addresses Driver Ed Classes

"Safety comes first!!"

That is the statement of state highway patrolman Allan Kanagy, who spoke to the driver education classes of Joe Boone yesterday.

Speaking on safety and its rules Kanagy explained various regulations as set down by the highway department. Being able to drive well, and yet safely, was particularly stressed.

The class was lengthened to two periods to enable Mr. Kanagy to give the students a written examination.

The driver education classes recently sponsored an assembly dealing with safe driving habits. Both a movie and an actual demonstration were used.

Dunn, Bates To Lead Band

Band members have elected Wendell Dunn, president; Duane Bates, vice-president; Carol McQuilkin, secretary-treasurer; and Mary Mercer and Don Sebo, librarians for the 1953-'54 season.

Further plans have been discussed for the band's trip to Canton Dec. 4, where it will play for the 1953 Convention of the Ohio Music Educational Association and the National Catholic Music Education Association.

"Travellog of America" is the theme to be carried out by the band at tomorrow's Lisbon football game.

Football Display In Showcase This Week

To add interest to tomorrow's Salem-Lisbon football game, the library showcase this week is displaying pictures of our football team, action shots taken at the games, and interesting books on football which may be found in the library.

Last week a display featuring John Furbay, the assembly speaker who later spoke at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner at the Masonic Temple, and another display on Eddy Gilmore, a former Associated Press editor who spoke at our Town Hall, were featured.

Mrs. Sherman's fifth and sixth period art classes also had an exhibit on cars of their own original design.

'Help' Yelp Art Classes

The Art Club is requesting the help of all SHS students.

In a recent meeting they voted to undertake a project which will benefit the entire school. To brighten our halls and make them more pleasant, they have decided to display in the corridors some of the better pictures painted by the class.

But here's the catch: they need frames for the pictures, frames in all sizes and shapes. Look around your attic. If you have any old frames that you don't need, bring them to 206 or tell Mrs. Sherman. She'll pick them up at your house.

Help the art classes help Salem High—look for old picture frames, won't you?

FILE 13 RULES

Rules for contributing to File 13 are:

1. All entries must be on 8½ by 11 inch paper.
2. They must be double-spaced.
3. The name of the entrant must be in the upper right-hand corner of the page.
4. They must be written legibly.
5. THEY MUST BE ORIGINAL.

SHS Student Council To Sponsor Free Dancing Every Monday Noon

Because of the success of the noon dance on Oct. 20, the Student Council has decided to sponsor free dances every Monday noon.

The annual council tax stamp drive will be held during December.

Students Day, when the teachers are replaced by students, is listed for Dec. 2.

A committee to welcome all new students to SHS was selected by President Bob Talbot. Those chosen were: Carolyn Paxson, Danny Ferrer, Joan Fester, Jerry Cosgrove, Curtice Loop, Dale Middeker, Dorothy Alek and Jerry Martin.

Teachers who have a free period when the council meets are invited to attend. Mr. Brautigam was a visitor at a recent meeting.

Wanted: Killer Of Courtesy

By Kathleen Baker

Sherlock Holmes was desperate. He had no clue as to where to find the missing article of a bygone age - - courtesy. Dr. Watson asked why he was so glum. After explaining the case, Holmes said,

"You know Sam, the Shover, the guy who rushes along, pushing everyone out of his way, yet has tantrums every time someone brushes against him? I questioned him for three hours - as to the disappearance of Courtesy before he told me to get in touch with Inconsiderate Irene.

She's the one that always says things at the least appropriate times and never thinks of anyone but herself. I took her to the Chief on suspicion of murdering Courtesy. But at her tip I went to see Rudy, the Rude. That didn't do any good, because as soon as I stated the cause of my investigation, he slammed the door in my face. No wonder he is called Rude.

So, now, Sherlock is up against a blank wall, with no clues to follow. Can't YOU help him track down Courtesy?

Let's Get Away From It All!

From Salem to Stalingrad, from Beloit to Bagdad—these are trips you can take via books. Next week is National Book Week, intended to bring students and books closer together.

With a book homework can be left far behind as you travel to the whitest Arctic, darkest Africa, greenest Ireland, bluest Hawaii—the rainbow of the world in books.

Franklin flies his kite, Edison lights his lamp and goes on the search for success, Demosthenes lisps again, Crosby croons on—the lights of the world brighten our lives in books.

Cold, hard facts on which to base an argument, write a thesis, or change the world are yours in books.

Read, and get away from it all.

Congratulations On Your Grand Opening

Barbara Cameron, QUAKER feature editor, was carted directly from our office to a hospital to have her appendix removed.

"The stress and strain were too much," she moaned in her agony.

CLASSROOM ANTICS

Mr. Brautigam, who originated the famous slogan, "Sell more play tickets, have fewer tests," has caused his students of English IV to really boost the sale of senior play tickets!

Herb Jones must admit that he has some very considerate students in his physics class. With the active campaign going on for his benefit, this "artistic" pedagogue might someday get a degree in art!

QUIET, GENIUS AT WORK

Many students find it hard to get their lockers open in emergencies, but not all have locks with unknown combinations to contend with.

Dick Coppock came face to face with this situation recently, when he discovered that some unknown fiend had attached to his locker a completely strange padlock. It took "Johnny Valentine" quite a while to work out the combination, and after his success he decided to plant the object of his labors on another "unfortunate."

Result? Mary Mercer wasn't quite so "merry" when she found that she was another victim in this cycle of crime!

I GET A KICK OUT OF YOU

. so say Eddy Rice and Charles Rogers. Seems as though these two amateur chemists tried to combine Gadolinium with Dysprosium (or something like it) and received quite a bang out of their efforts!

SOME REAL HOT STUFF

Miss Weeks had quite a ruddy complexion at play practice last Friday after flames erupted from the mike she was using.

Carl (Fire-fighter) Flitcraft came to her rescue, putting an end to the blaze, as well as to all the excitement!

HAVE YOU SEEN

Mr. Henning's Sesquicentennial tie?
Barb Whitaker's new shade of locks?
Joe Hajcak's autographed cast?
Pat Ranson's leopard-skin vest?
Joan Hart's new glasses called "dainties"?
Kenny Adams' "greenish-grey" tweed suit?

OF LASTING IMPORTANCE

Tomorrow marks the last game in the 1953 football season. Let's really boost our "grid-iron boys" to this seventh, and all-important, victory. It means a lot to them to have our support, and it means a lot to us to know that they need us behind them!

Joe Boone, New Faculty Addition, Recalls Experience In Air Force

By Mary Mercer

The popular teacher of driver education, Joe Boone, is an impressive six feet, two inches tall. He came to SHS from the Salem junior high school where he taught science for four years and coached the basketball team.

A native of East Liverpool, Mr. Boone attended Albion College in Michigan and received a Bachelor of Science Degree from Slippery Rock Teachers College in Pennsylvania. In both high school and college he participated in basketball and football.

A World War II Air Force veteran, Mr. Boone recalls as the most exciting and tense moment of his life, the time he made an emergency crash landing on a short fighter strip. The plane was beyond repair, but there were no serious injuries to the crew.

Mr. Boone has put his hobby, carpentry, to good use and built a home on Park Ave. Here he lives with his attractive wife, Helen, and their two children, Myrna, six years old and Jimmy Ray, two.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Exciting is the word which best describes the life of Margie Hannay. Her recent appointment as senior director-in-charge of the senior play was her greatest honor. Her "favorites" are: pizza, spaghetti and meat balls, "Oh", by Sauter Finnegan, Montgomery Clift, Rita Hayworth, the recent movie hit, "From Here to Eternity"; and her "peeves" are people who tell stories and twist the truth all out of shape.

Being one of Salem's main boosters this season she says, "This year everyone was so helpful boosting the team's spirit, and it was great!" She has her eyes fixed on UCLA or Kent for a college career, but as yet her plans aren't definite.

The sharp senior lass portraying Elaine in "Melody Jones" is Mignon Lyons. "Mickey," a member of the French Club, Salemasquers and robed chorus, is "simply wild" about Julius La Rosa and his "Eh, Cumpari." Girls who smoke are on her list of "dislikes."

The subjects which keep her occupied in her final year are French, history, health and chorus. She is also a dramatics assistant. Mickey plans to continue her job as telephone operator after graduation.

Solid geometry, French, history and English IV are the subjects studied this year by Jim Minamyer.

"Minnie's" satisfied with the way our school is run but thinks we are in desperate need of a new building. Graduating won't be so bad but the first period in 209 will be missed by Jim.

He enjoys a Friday with a good football game, a dance at the Elks and taking his steady, B. J., home. Like other normal males "Minnie" rates Marilyn Monroe tops, along with Montgomery Clift and the new record hit, "Farewell, So Long, Goodbye." His ambition is to break 100 in golf. Jim plans to enter college although he hasn't decided which one.

The robed chorus chose as its president this year Jerry Roberts. Jerry can usually be seen in his Plymouth, "The Blue Blur." To spend an evening with Liz Taylor, watching Red Buttons or listening to Sauter Finnegan's music, would be his dream. Of course it would be preceded by a dinner of chili. "I hate girls who smoke and hold their cigarettes under the table. It seems they're trying to hide the fact that they're smoking," states Jerry. The Navy will be his destination after graduation.

History teacher: What's the Mason-Dixon Line?
Stude: It's the division line between "you all" and "youse."

A study hall teacher, annoyed by his clock-watching students, covered the face of the clock with this sign: Time Will Pass—Will You?

In speaking of pet peeves, Mr. Boone hesitated a moment, then replied, "Excessively noisy people." He did not add that there was any connection between this pet peeve and homeroom 101 or study hall 310!

His likes in food are strictly American—steak and french-fries. His favorite popular tune is "Vaya Con Dios," singer—Dorothy Collins, and actor—Gary Cooper.

"Raki" Discoverers Vary In Reactions

If you opened your locker one morning and discovered some "raki" in it, what would be your reaction? This question was asked several SHS students last week and Quaker reporter Sandra Church got some surprising answers.

Nancy Cosma—I'd probably eat it.
Lloyd Fitzpatrick—Shoot it.
Tom Harp—Put it in Happy's locker.
Barbara Ziegler—If I knew what it was, I could tell you better.

Bob Domencetti—Scream, then run down to the nearest corner and call out the militia.
Sally Risbeck—Take it out and give it to Miss Ulicny.

Tom Ehrhart—Throw it away???

Mable Lou Hannay—Take it home and hang it in my bedroom with the rest of my collection.

Jim Beard—Feed it and try to keep it alive.
Martha Brown—Kill it and take it out to the woods and bury it.

Sandy Hansell—Go out and see if I could trade it on a senior class play ticket.
According to Noah Webster, "raki" or "rakee" is a kind of ardent spirits used in southern Europe and the East, distilled from grape juice, grain, etc. Bet the militia would make short work of it.

Whadda Ya Know!

Betcha didn't know that Salem High has been in the news throughout the nation for several weeks. It's the result of a picture taken at one of our home football games, when one of the officials took a nose dive on the field.

Tom Roser, Salem News photographer, saw the chance for a good picture, and after it made its appearance in The News it was used in several newspapers, which referred to the official as "lying down on the job!" To date papers have been received from Seattle, Wash., New York City, Denver, Col. and various other large newspapers.

Philosopher's

Corner

by Jim Gow

This corner would like to congratulate our football team for its performance this season. We've had a lot of school spirit this year, and I'm sure the boys appreciated it. The games were plenty exciting, and, of course, you can't win them all. As the famous coach, Hadd Play, once said, "A team that does not lose a game is undefeated."

We showed lots of team work, which is a big victory for any team. I recall that the immortal "Slew Foot" Johnson once said, after he had just run 100 yards for a TD, "Gee! I hope I can do that in a game!"

Football is a good, healthy, American sport, and if you want to stay good and healthy you'd better not play.

It seems that the people who are sitting in the stands run better plays than those on the field. Have you ever noticed the Grand Stand Quarterback calling the play? If it was a good one that's the one he would have used; but if it was bad, he sure wouldn't have done it that way! Why if you'd run every play the way he would, you'd never lose a game!

These people are also the best officials. I would say that some of them don't come to see the game, but to find fault with everything from the loudspeaker to the salty popcorn. This is one of the Great Privileges of being an American, and they should all get a big hand themselves — but I won't say where.

All in all, football is a great sport; and I am willing to go along with that great football king, "U. Spike Mankle", who said, "Football should be played only on a football field."

Jerry Harroff, class of '50, was selected to follow in the footsteps of other hopefuls up the ladder of success. After winning a Mullins scholarship, Jerry attended the University of Cincinnati majoring in mechanical engineering. He is now a junior.

Some of this year's seniors will remember Dick Brautigam, who the class of 1951 thought had the best chance of getting ahead. Dick is now a junior at Ohio Wesleyan, majoring in journalism. One of the editors of the campus newspaper, he someday hopes to go into newspaper work as a career.

He is a member of the school ROTC unit, which means that Uncle Sam will have first call on his services before the journalism profession gets the benefits of his talents. A girl well-known by Salemites, Dorothy Pozniko, was the first girl chosen for the honor of student most likely to get ahead. She is now a sophomore at the Eastman School of Music at Rochester, New York.

She recently gave a recital at the school's concert auditorium, one of the few times in history that a sophomore was given such a privilege. She is very active in campus activities as well.

Last year's nominee, Joan Schuller, is now at St. Luke's School of Nursing in Cleveland.

That brings us up to the present. Who will be next?

Salem Voters Pass Both School Levies

Salem voters supported both school tax levies at the recent election making it possible for Salem teachers to receive a raise in salary and for the schools to keep up with educational progress.

Dr. Donald Lease, a Salem dentist, and Robert Heddleston, owner of the Heddleston Drug Co., were elected to the Board of Education.

"Amendment 2" which provides for a State Board of Education was also passed.

Ludwig, Early Attend Association Meetings

Principal Beman Ludwig and Loren Early, principal of Fourth Street School, attended the monthly meeting of the Mahoning Valley Principals' Association Nov. 10. The dinner meeting was held in the Central Christian Church at Youngstown.

Club Notes

Slide Rule Club

Of the three meetings the Slide Rule Club has held this year, the first was spent largely on the election of officers. They are: president, Bob Brantingham; vice-president, Lowell Fleischer; and secretary-treasurer, Kay Paxson.

The club's purpose, under the supervision of Miss Martha McCready, math instructor, is to learn how to read the slide rule.

GAA

Leading in the Christmas card contest sponsored by the GAA are Mary Lou Andre, with Darlene Smith trailing close behind. In third and fourth places are Helen Spack and Margaret Mordew. Vivian Vavrek heads the leading team.

The GAA is also selling sweat shirts in two styles with a Quaker head emblem on them. Any one who wishes to buy one may still do so by seeing Miss Cope in 310.

Varsity S

Varsity S elected Jerry Martin, president; Ed Mozina, vice-president; and Joe Hajcak, secretary-treasurer at the first meeting.

Some banquets and a dance will be sponsored by the club this year.

Latin Club

A brief meeting of the Latin Club was held Nov. 5 in room 312. An initiation was discussed and final plans will be formed and announced by the old members.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 19. On the agenda are two oral reports.

French Club

Plans for a bake sale were discussed at an October meeting of the French Club. The group also decided to collect tax stamps.

Secretary Margaret Alexander read the minutes of the last meeting in French, and the members later played French bingo.

The latest meeting was held yesterday.

Salem Meets Lisbon In Final Game Of Season

Blue Devils Sport 8-0 Record; Fourteen Senior Barrettmembers Enter Final High School Game Tomorrow

By Lowell Fleischer

Fourteen Salem High senior Barrettmembers will be playing the last game of their high school gridiron careers tomorrow as the Salem Quakers take on the Lisbon Blue Devils.

Captain John Baker, Bob Talbot, Stan Cosky, Dan Kendzierski, Bob Sebo, Jerry Martin, Bill Megert, Ed Ed Mozina, Bob Sebo and John Mozina, Joe Hajcak, Tom Swetye, Jack Gottschling, Gary Paxson, Fritz Marple and Clarence Votaw will all dress in high school football uniforms for the last time.

The thrill of winning "the big one" and the jubilant cries of victory—or the quietness of defeat—will never again be theirs in a high school grid contest. For many there will be college football, but high school and college football seem altogether different nowadays.

Ed Mozina, Bob Sebo and John Mozina, Joe Hajcak, Tom Swetye, Jack Gottschling and Stan Cosky are also basketball lettermen while in the spring Sebo, Baker, Jerry Martin, Joe Hajcak, Bill Megert and Fritz Marple turn to track.

The Barrettmembers are finishing one of the most successful grid seasons since 1948 and have had more backing from the student body than any other squad Coach Barrett can recall, as he told the assembly last week. A victory against the Lisbon Blue Devils tomorrow afternoon would be a perfect end to their high school pigskin days.

After defeating the East Liverpool Potters for the first time since 1948, the Quakers take on the Lisbon Blue Devils tomorrow afternoon at the county seat.

Last week the powerful Buchermen were ranked the 12th top team in the state. The Blue Devils recently captured their sixth Tri-County League championship. The Lisbon eleven will go with a clean slate of eight wins and no losses while the Barrettmembers have six wins, four in a row, and two defeats.

While the Quakers were winning over East Liverpool the Blue Devils were gaining another shut-out victory, their fourth of the season, over the Boardman High eleven.

Lisbon holds wins over Cleveland Brooklyn, Poland, Minerva, East Palestine, Sebring, Louisville, Leetonia and Boardman. The Barrettmembers have won over Conneaut, Ravenna, Akron North, Wellsville, Youngstown North and East Liverpool, while losing to Woodrow Wilson and Canton Timken.

The Buchermen are led by Jerry Rose, Sunny Utt, Amzi Hough, Dick Richardson and 6-foot, 8-inch quarterback Dean Nicholson. Rose is the leading Columbiana County scorer with 91 points. He has scored 15 TDs and one extra point. Nicholson has thrown 10 touchdown passes in eight games. The Quakers edged Lisbon last year, 26-21, while the Blue Devils drubbed Salem, 31-0, the year before.

Quakers Trip Potters, 13-2, At East Liverpool

The Salem Quakers steamed to their first win over an East Liverpool eleven since 1948 and the first Quaker victory at Patterson Field since 1947 as the locals tripped the Potters, 13-2, last Friday night.

Using an unexpected maneuver, Coach Ben Barrett inserted tackle Dan Kendzierski at the fullback slot midway through a scoreless second quarter. Just four plays later (climaxed by Kendzierski's 27-yard scoring scamper) the Quakers moved from the Potter 42-yard line to pay dirt, making the score Salem 6, East Liverpool 0.

After Chuck Harris recovered a fumble in the third period on the Salem 37-yard line, eleven running plays, with "Big Dan" carrying five of them, brought the Quakers their second and last TD. Kendzierski then drove two yards for the extra point, making the score 13-0 in Salem's favor.

In the third quarter Jack Doughty chalked up the Potters' safety when he downed Bob Sebo who recovered his own fumble in the end zone.

Fleischer's Flashes

● LISBON, NEXT VICTIM—Many a Quaker football fan is planning a trip to Lisbon tomorrow afternoon as the Barrettmembers make preparations to put the finishing touches on their 1953 grid season.

● WE HOPE THAT AS THE ALMA MATER was sung in assembly this afternoon all the teachers and freshmen were singing, too. Last week as we looked around many of the teachers were singing with just as much feeling and pride as the student body, but just as many stood up but did not sing. The Alma Mater should be something dignified and full of meaning for everyone, students and teachers alike.

● FACULTY MANAGER FRED COPE was one of the most jubilant of Salem fans after last week's win over East Liverpool. He went tearing into the dressing rooms after the game with shouts of "Beat Lisbon" on his lips.

● QUAKER COACH BEN BARRETT surely surprised everyone when he put tackle Dan Kendzierski in at the fullback spot last week. It really worked though, with "Big Dan" scoring all 13 Salem points. The stands at Liverpool were filled with not only Quaker and East Liverpool fans, but also Lisbon spotters.

● ALMOST HALF OF THE QUAKER football squad braved cold weather and snow to watch the Blue Devils-Boardman tilt last Saturday afternoon. Speaking of cold weather Pottertown wasn't exactly warm the last week!

Quaker Star, Kendzierski, Given State-Wide Mention

Dan Kendzierski, Salem Quaker fullback, was named "Hero of the Week" by the Associated Press for his efforts in leading the locals to their 13-2 victory over East Liverpool Friday night.

Ohio sports editor Fritz Howell, in a by-lined story, gave the Quaker star state-wide prominence with the details of his exploits.
