Attention Studes!

Harken all ye members of the male, and supposedly stronger, sex! There happens to be a little shindig generally referred to as the Junior-Senior Prom coming up 'long about the fourth of June.

Oh, sure, the fourth of June won't roll around for a month yet, but there's no time like the present to secure a date for the Following closely on the heels of the prom will be the greatly anticipated Alumni Banquet, which all seniors are urged to attend either stag or with dates. Like the prom, this gala affair will be held at the Salem Golf Club and will consist of a dinner followed by dancing. The meager sum of one dollar is required of every graduating senior who plans to attend the banquet to cover the cost of the dinner in case one doesn't show up. All those who do come, however, will have onometry. their dollars returned to them sometime during the course of the evening. Therefore, a $2.25 dinner will cost exactly nothing-what more could you ask for?

So, get a wiggle on fellas! Tell that gal to dig her glad rags out of the moth balls and be ready to trip the light fantastic when June busts out all over.

There has long been a need for a new drinking fountain in the gym to replace the ancient one that is there now, while the chorus and band, as well as many other school functions, will benefit by the use of the new tape recorder and library of tapes.

Speaking of the class of '54 brings to mind the fact that Commencement is just around the corner. Our congratulations are extended to those selected to represent their class in speech and song.

Very shortly the announcement of the "Top Ten" will appear in the QUAKER.

It is too late now to begin burning the midnight oil, for those students who have adopted this policy during all their high school years are the ones who will wear the well-deserved laurels.

Varied Sports Program 70 Be Offered In Salem

Spring has arrived at last and with it Salem will have what promises to be a well-rounded schedule of sports.

The last of the school-sponsored sports is track. The cinder squad. which appears to be one of the best in the school history, is again under the coaching of Frank Tarr and Karl Zellers.

Perhaps the most talked-about and waited-for event is the opening of the Centennial Park Swimming Pool. Even though the pool was opened for a few days last fall, most of Salem's water-love s are anxiously awaiting their first dip in the new pool. Plans are being completed for an opening-day ceremony including a synchronized swimming show and selections played by the Junior High School Band.

The Little League program, inaugurated here just three years ago, is expected to have the biggest and best season yet. There will be 20 teams operating in five leagues with practice sessions to begin the first week of May and league play to get under way as soon as the schools close.

Dave Kachner will take over the Salem Merchants, Salem's only independent ball club. The Merchants have already started practice ses-

Softball will again be a feature of the summer sports schedule. City softball director Ward Zeller has already started to set up his program. There will be three leagues this season, Class AA, A and B.

Most of the area lakes and private clubs will open on Memorial Day. The Golf Club will also have a full round of activities scheduled for This particular quality-efficiency-is why Mr. Cope has been named the summer.

With all these sports and more, SHS students will find enough to do this summer.
