Journey, Cameron, Church, Howell And Pearson Round Out Top Ten

Finishing his high school career with the first straight 4-point average recorded here in eight years, Joel Greenisen tops the graduating class of 1954 in the academic ratings released this morning by Principal B. G. Ludwig.

Tim Kennedy, Wendell Dunn, Donna Cocca and Dale Horton round out the first five in that order, while Richard Journey is sixth, Barbara Cameron and Sandra Church are tied for seventh and eighth, and Jim Howell and Ray Pearson finish the "Top-Ten" by standing ninth and tenth, respectively.

The second ten consists of Marlene Schmidt, Nora Guiler, Dorothy Alek and Sandy Hansell (tied for 13 and 14), Marilyn Hartsough, Marilyn Dodge, Gary Paxson, Nancy Fife and Carol Joe Byrns (tied for 18 and 19, and Shirley Ann Zuber who ranks 20th in the class

Class ratings are based on semester grades for the first seven semesters in high school. The ratings are re-figured again after graduation to take in the final semester of the senior year.

Joel is the first graduate to have all A's for semester averages since Harvey Walken achieved that mark in 1946.

A four-year member of the chorus, Joel is also vice-president of the Spanish Club, a chemistry aide, a two-year member of the Fomaldaides and a Brooks Contest winner two years ago.

Tim has served as copy editor of the QUAKER this year. He placed second in the county in the Ohio General Scholarship Test. In addition, he was a delegate to Buckeye Boys' State, a chemistry lab aide, and is a member of the French and Slide Rule Clubs. He has served as vice-president of the Coin and Stamp Club.

Wendell's high school life has revolved around music, as he has served as president of the band, was chosen "Bandsman of the Year," won high honors in several state and district solo contests, and was recently named as a Commencement musician.

Donna played the lead in this year's senior play, was a member of the Football Queen's court, is president of the Spanish Club, is a member of Hi-Tri, Thespians, Fomaldaides and the Quaker Weekly and Annual staffs.

Dale was also a delegate to Buckeye Boys' State, is a three-year band member, president of the For-

Students To Pick Courses Of Study Next Thursday

Next Thursday all but departing seniors will select the courses of study they wish to pursue next year.

"Careful thought should be taken in making these selections and they should not be marked with the intent to change next fall," was the advice given by Principal B. G. Ludwig.

"It will be exceedingly difficult to drop or change subjects next fall," he added.

Modern European history will no longer be offered because of insufficient demand, lack of suitable texts and because nearly half the material is covered in world history.

To Nominate Officers For Association

Association officers for next year will be nominated by members of the Association Friday, May 21, and the final votes will be cast on the 25th. Only the present juniors are in line for this honor.

A president and secretary will be voted upon. The candidate receiving the second highest number of votes for the presidency will be declared vice-president.

Seniors Prepare For Big Events

As Commencement nears, the 159 graduates of the class of 1954 find a number of important dates facing them.

Today class members started paying the rental for the caps and gowns which they will wear to the final recognition assembly, June 4, to the Baccalaureate Service, June 6, and to the commencement exercises.

The deadline for Alumni scholarship applicants is next Monday, May 17. All seniors who have maintained a B average in high school and who have not received another scholarship equal to or greater than the Alumni award are invited to apply.

Thespians To Give 'Cupid Advertises' Tomorrow Night

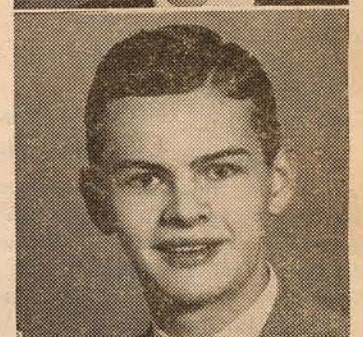

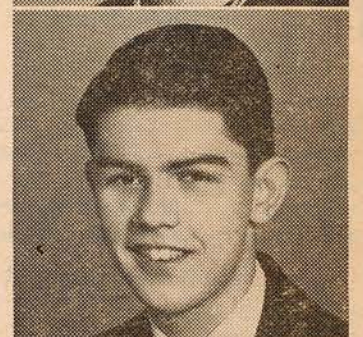

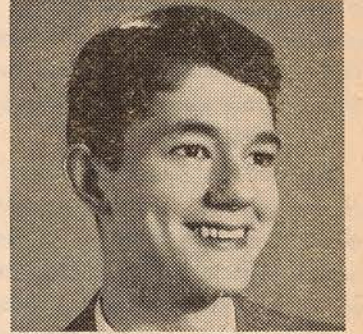

The Thespians will present their last play of the year, "Cupid Advertises," tomorrow evening, May 15, at 8 p. m. in the Masonic Temple for members of the Amaranth.

A comedy in one act, "Cupid Advertises," sports an all-senior cast. Portraying roles are: Tom Ehrhart, Bob Talbot, Betty Moore, Jerry Roberts, Dick Oriole, Dolly Capel, Jackie Welsh, Barbara Patterson, Sandy Church and Donna Cocca.

The play is under the direction of Miss Weeks, Thespian adviser. Carl Siple is bookholder and in charge of sound and stage props along with Glen Thomas. In charge of lights are Bob Kirchgessner and Charles Long, with Carol Joe Byrns in charge of hand props.

Juniors To Choose Football Queen Soon

The football girl for the 1954 season will be elected by the junior class Wednesday, May 19. Nominations for the queen will be made next Monday, and "her majesty" will be presented to her subjects by the reigning queen, Doris McNamee, at the Recognition Assembly June 4. She will be crowned at the first football game next fall.

Instruments Of Commencement Musicians Compare Notes, Owners

(Letters revealed in the year 1958 to Anne Hansteen written by "Suzie" in Salem High School. Tuba, belonging to Charles Coubourn, and Baritone Horn, belonging to Wendell Dunn)

Purdue University
May 7, 1958

Dear "Suzie,"

It's been four years since we last met at the commencement of the class of '54 when Chuck and Wendell were commencement musicians.

That day was one of their proudest

During his high school years Wendell received many honors for his music, such as when he played under Leonard Smith in the All-Star Band at Ashtabula and when he received a superior rating at the State Solo and Ensemble Contest. Also for two summers he played in the All Ohio Boys' Band at the State Fair.

Besides taking English, American history, physics, trig and band,

Wendell, an A student and third in his class, was a member of Latin Club, Slide Rule Club, Student Council, of which he was treasurer, and he was president of the Junior Music Club.

Here at Purdue in Lafayette, Ind., where he is studying agriculture, Wendell is in the college band. After graduation from college he will make a long-awaited pleasure trip to Alaska.

When he returns he will begin a job now awaiting him. It will be a dream come true—Wendell will play with the Band of America.

Hoping to hear from you soon,
Baritone Horn

Dear Baritone,

I hadn't realized that it had been four years since we last saw each other, but it won't be long 'til we meet again, because Chuck will also play in the Band of America.

I remember well the Salem High band. I'll never forget the time Chuck slipped on the muddy football field, and I conked the drummer on the head. Among the honors Chuck received were a chair in the All Star Band at Ashtabula and performing under Paul Yoder here at Baldwin-Wallace his junior year.

Ye Editor Speaks

Looking back on the eventful school year of 1953-54, we realize that we had so much to be proud of. Too many things, in fact, to mention all in one article, but there were some that at the time got little recognition.

What would a school be without the proper spirit behind their sport activities? It would be pretty dull and lifeless, and without our well-trained squads of cheerleaders, SHS might have been such a place. From the freshmen yellers right up to the varsity group, they displayed their fine talent and genuine interest in sports, a real credit to their hardworking coach, Mrs. Bessie Lewis, who deserves many of the laurels herself.

"I speak for democracy"—and so do we all, but probably none of us with as much fervor and insight as a 16-year-old girl named Elizabeth Ellen Evans. A junior at an Akron, Ohio, high school, Miss Evans is, in most respects, like any other girl her age. However, her literary skill and deep understanding of her status as an American citizen have enabled her to express her feelings in the work that has brought her nation-wide fame, "I speak for Democracy."

Her appearance here at Salem High last week was truly a thrilling experience and one by which we should all benefit. Anyone wishing copies of her essay may obtain them by writing to the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio.

A Drastic Change

Bewildered glances turned on the senior lads and lassies when they commemorated "Senior Slop-Up Day" last Monday. The class of '54 is probably the first to attempt such a drastic change of apparel . . . and who knows . . . it probably will be the last!

Plug for Some Music Bugs

Hear ye! Hear ye! A new music group has evolved in SHS. The "Trembling Trio," consisting of Robert (Trembling Mouth) Domencetti at the clarinet, Don (Trembling Feet) Sebo at the drums, and Duane (Trembling Fingers) Bates at the piano, have formed a slick combo to provide musical entertainment at future shindigs.

Highlights of the Spanish Fiesta

A congo line made up of SHS studes could easily be the eighth wonder of the world. Jackie Brelih claims she got a worse beating than "Gonzales," inasmuch as she fell flat on her face amid a crowded floor of jitterbuggers and lost her shoes in the process. Chalk up another dancing victory for Carolyn Lewis and Tom Alessi. Other outstanding "rug cutters" were Donna Blender and Bob DeCrow, the Huddleston twins and Peg and Jack Alexander.

Disappointed Reveler Discovers Tragic Irony Of This Cruel Life

By Donna Cocca

Oh, what can I do? I just can't go, that's all. But I can't stay home; I've got to go. Everybody will be there, and besides it's the last dance of the year.

Why do mothers have to be so mean? All I want is a new dress, but Mother says, "No." It doesn't have to be an expensive one, just a plain, simple, new dress. I just can't go if I don't get one.

Who ever heard of going to a dance in an old dress that everyone has seen? Mother has some ancient idea that it isn't necessary to have a new dress for every dance.

I'll feel like everybody is staring at me if I wear my blue dress again. Jeepers, I just wore that for Easter. Well, let me see, I have that pink one, but I've already worn that to a big dance. Then there's that green one with the stripes, but that's not nearly dressy enough. Anyhow, I don't have any shoes to wear with that one. There is only one solution and that's to get a new one. But Mother is dead set against it, and she even has Daddy on her side. That's pretty tragic!

Oh, I can just see me now in that gorgeous dress I saw downtown yesterday, but it was so expensive—$22.95. No sense to even think about that one. Maybe I could wangle some money for a new one, but golly, not that much!

I think I hear Mother yelling at me to quit my mumbling, because she won't change her mind.

Maybe if I pleaded and begged and promised not to go out for a week—she's always trying to get me to stay in—well, maybe she'd change her mind.

Wow, this has been a hectic week! But I finally won her over to my side. I have $20 safely tucked away in my pocket, and I'm on my way downtown. Oops, there's the phone. What! Oh, no! It can't be! The dance just can't be called off!

Seniors Reveal Their Exciting Times In SHS

By Joanne Petras

Soon the seniors will be presented their sheepskins confirming the end of their high school days. This week we asked a few what one of their most exciting moments was during their time at SHS. We couldn't ask them the most exciting because, heaven knows, there were plenty of them!

Lorene Pim—the first time I got on the honor roll in my junior year.

Doris McNamee—the night I was crowned Football Girl.

Janice Groves—when I got 5A's on my report card.

Carol Joe Byrns—being in the junior play.

Shirley Burrier—it will be at this year's Quaker Recognition Assembly.

Marilyn Dodge—when I received a superior rating at State Solo Contest.

Joan Hart—the day I moved to Salem and came to SHS.

Dave Wiggers—the day I got B in algebra.

Jerry Roberts—the day I was elected president of the Robed Chorus.

Pat Harris—mine will be at Commencement when I receive my diploma.

Barbara Tolson—the day I became a senior.

Ray Pearson—when I was a delegate to the American Red Cross Convention in Washington.

by Jim Gow

This is the time of year when everyone likes to look into his crystal ball to try to see what will become of the senior class.

I have looked into mine and found a very interesting thing—the fishes' water needs changed.

I think it goes without saying that most of the seniors have had quite interesting times in this great school. In fact, the less said the better.

I have a strange feeling that some of the class of '54, although unanimously opposed to it, will in later life take jobs. I know a few in the class are thinking about positions already. In fact I heard one to-be grad tell another he was going to be some kind of a librarian, a "bookie" I believe he called it.

There are a few in this class who plan to get a lot of money right away, then take a long vacation—no doubt five or 10 years on the island called "Elk 'n trays."

Of course there'll be some in the class who will make an honest living, as if that were possible any more. I guess in one profession it is almost impossible—teaching. I heard someone ask a teacher how she liked living the life she did and the teacher replied, "Honest—this is living?"

The searching rays of the Senior Spotlight today reveal personalities ranging from music lovers to sport enthusiasts and future millionaires.

Hearing the keys of a typewriter busily clacking away in the Q.O. one night, upon investigation, find blonde-haired Nancy Miller, a Weekly and Annual typist, at work. Resting her aching digits, Nancy reports that she also belongs to Latin Club, Spanish Club and the band.

Music has played an important role in the life of this versatile musician (she plays the French horn, the piano and the violin), and Nancy is thrilled about the French horn quartette's receiving a superior rating at the district contest.

Her taste in food is purely "continental," for Nancy "licks her chops" over spaghetti and meatballs and pizza.

Speaking of food, the aroma of steak and french fries can mean only one thing—Kenny Davis is ready to eat.

'Three Little Words'

There are three words, the sweetest words
In all the human speech;
More sweet than are all songs of birds,
Or pages poets preach.

This life may be a vale of tears,
A sad and dreary thing;
Three words and troubles disappear
And birds begin to sing.

Three words and all the roses bloom,
The sun begins to shine.
Three words will dissipate the gloom,

Three words will cheer the saddest day—
"I love you?" Wrong by heck!
It is another sweeter phrase . . .

The sophomores won the last honor roll contest of the year, placing 26 per cent of their members on the select list.

The juniors were second with 25 per cent while the frosh were third with 24 per cent.

Seniors Form Future Plans

With the end of the year and graduation just around the corner, most SHS seniors have begun to formulate plans for what they will be doing after the magic day—June 10.

Therefore, in the next—and last—three issues of the QUAKER, a series of articles will be published, depicting what various seniors are planning after graduation.

Among today's group, college will claim Bob Kekel, Ann Kelly, Don Abe, Walt Krauss, John Dupal and Fred Marple.

Most of the girls interviewed declared that work of some kind is awaiting them.

Secretarial and office work will be the goal of Joan Lesch, Darlene Felton, Donna Gault, Shirley Greenawalt, Margaret Howe, Martha Brunner, Jane Everett and Joyce Knepper.

Several SHS girls plan to become telephone operators, among them Marjorie Miller, Helen Galchick and Rosemary Helman.

Don Kuntzman and Bill Edgerton are planning to join the Navy, while Dick May, Walt Jackson and Wally Falk will be looking for work here in town, come June 11.

Among the more unusual thoughts in the minds of prospective June grads are Dick Keller's goal to attend Cleveland Art School, Dorothy Eastek's hope to enroll at a beautician's school, while Larry Dusenberry plans to become an enterprise printer.

Representatives Chosen For Rodeo

Marilyn Parker, Ernest Banar, Frances Ziegler and Glenn Thomas have been selected to represent Salem High School at the Lisbon Drivers' Rodeo next week.

Alternates are Jim Irely and Donna Cocea.

Representatives of seven schools will compete in eight events and take a written examination. Spectators are cordially invited to the festivities at the Fairgrounds on Friday and Saturday, May 21 and 22.

Commencement Musicians

Chuck came to the band clinic at Baldwin-Wallace during one of his summer vacations. But among his greatest honors was his selection as a commencement musician.

In high school in his senior year Chuck took health, physics, American history and band. When taking it easy he liked to watch "Dragnet" on TV or listen to the music of Dom Parlo.

Remember that jeep he owned? It had a new name every day, depending upon how it was running at the time—if it was running at all.

Little did he know when we met as mere "greenies" in high school that someday we would be playing together in the Band of America, and the credit is all due to the great bandsmen that our owners are.

Columbiana County Track Meet Set For Tonight

East Palestine To Be Scene Of 51st Annual Affair

Along with many other county schools the Quakers will be looking for the track championship of the county tonight as they travel to East Palestine to participate in the 51st annual running of the county affair.

The Quakers will be particularly strong in the mile run again this year with both of last year's winners back. Last season Jerry Martin captured the county mile run and Bill Lipp was second.

The host Bulldogs will be after their fifth straight county championship, having won the event the past four years. The Palestine cindermen captured the meet last year with 60 points. The Quakers were fourth of the large slate of teams last year when the meet celebrated its 50th anniversary at Reilly Stadium.

Bad weather has hampered most of the county schools and some have not yet had a chance to show their real strength. Competition is expected to be keen among the schools with everyone given an even chance to win the contest.

Next week the Quakers will participate in the Canton Twilight Relays on Wednesday and in the Class A District meet next Friday. Salem will again be the site of both the "A" and "B" District events this year.

This will be the 20th straight year that Salem's Reilly Stadium has been chosen for the District meets. The main reason the district track committee has consistently chosen Salem is the fine condition of Reilly's cinder track and the excellent management here.

Quakers Entered In Canton Relays Next Wednesday

The Quakers will be one of ten track squads participating in the first annual Canton Twilight Relays next Wednesday at Canton's Fawcett Stadium.

Other teams entering the meet are Akron North, Alliance, Ashland, Massillon, Poland, Salem, Canton Lehman, Lincoln, McKinley and Timken.

Officials said that one of the main reasons for the relays is to popularize track by bringing together 10 schools who have for many years been known to have good track squads.

The program will get under way at 6:30 with the field events while the running relays will start at 7 p. m. After the meet a fireworks display will be held.

Quakers Win 2 Meets; Martin, Alexander Place In Relays

The Quakers came through with another track victory Monday afternoon at Reilly Stadium when they blasted the Youngstown Rayen tracksters 86¼ to 31¾ for the second win of the current season.

Last Friday the Tarrmen captured their first win of the year, trouncing the Springfield Township cindermen, 89-29, in a rain-soaked meet at the stadium.

Monday the locals managed 10 first places, a tie for first, seven seconds and three thirds to rout the Rayen thinclads. Dan Kendzierski led the Quakers taking first places in the shot put and the discus throw. The Tarrmen also took both of the relays.

Other Quaker firsts Monday went to Bob Sebo in the low hurdles, Jack Alexander in the high jump, Dale Middeker in the 220-yard dash, Dave Williams in the half-mile run, John Chester in the 440, Jim Beard in the broad jump, Jerry Martin in the mile and Joe Hajcak in the high hurdles.

In Friday's meet with Springfield the locals managed to take all 12 first places in addition to both relays.

Jack Alexander tied for first in the high jump and Jerry Martin came in fourth in the mile run to place for the Quakers in the Class A division of the Muskingum Relays last Saturday at New Concord, Ohio.

Head SHS track coach Frank Tarr entered an eight-man Quaker team in the famed relays. Lakewood High School clinched the victory in the 24-team meet, as they won the final mile relay event for a total of 56 points.
