Patterson Chosen Juror

Two Salem High U. S. history and government students, Sam Patterson and Ernie Maenz, were selected juror and alternate for the Juvenile Jury which met yesterday in Lisbon.

Each of the 10 schools in the county sent an alternate and a juror. The jury will follow the same procedure as last year, trying only traffic cases involving minors, and the defendants will have the right to choose between trial by the Juvenile Jury or Judge Tobin.

The jury was inaugurated last year on the recommendation of Judge Tobin and county school officials, including Salem Supt. E. S. Kerr.

Debaters Begin Practice Briefs

One of the largest debate teams that SHS has had in recent years has begun practice debates under the guidance of Coach J. C. Guiler.

Mr. Guiler stated, "Although there are only two returning varsity speakers, our chances of having a winning team are good."

The varsity men, Bill Jacobson and Steve Wald, have been selected captains of the negative and affirmative teams, respectively.

Other debaters include Toby Ann McDonald, Linda Whinnery, Lynne Ann Clewell, Dick Corso, George Faini, Doris Shoop and Ben Barrett.

The topic for discussion is "Resolved: That aid should be given to deserving students by the federal government to further their education."

Stage Setting Highlights Play; Committees Help Performers

Highlighting the senior class play, "Money Mad," to be presented Nov. 18 and 19, is a stage setting entirely different from those of previous years.

The play takes place inside two houses, one behind the other. Looking through the windows in the living room of the first house, one may see into the second house.

This is being put together by the stage erection committee under the direction of Karen Zeigler and Don Stamp, co-chairmen.

The committee consists of Leah Whinnery, John Stamp, Diana Wilson, Diana Crowgey, Steve Wald, David Metcalf, John Bartholow, Joyce Bloomberg.

Kay Baker Places 2nd in County For Ohio U Test

Placing second in Columbiana County in the Ohio History, Government and Citizenship Test is SHS junior Kay Baker. Twenty-seven SHS students participated in the test, six of whom rank among the top 10 of the 120 county participants.

Charles Randall Bailey of Columbiana captured first place which entitles him to a two-day expense-paid trip to Ohio University, Athens, Ohio.

Richard Miller, SHS senior, took first place last year, while Ann Baker, sister of Kay, received the honor two years ago.

Since Kay is a junior she will have an opportunity to take the test again next year.

last week with the invasion by the Lisbon High School group.

A delegation of four people from Lisbon visited Salem High and the Student Council last Wednesday.

Lisbon High does not have an SC at the present time, but with the help of SHS hopes to set one up in the near future.

At noon the delegation was treated to lunch at the Corner, where Sue Henning, Herb Haschen, Earl Althouse and Neva Geary acted as hosts. Later they attended the Student Council meeting and various classes.

Postponed Hop Set for Saturday

Coming Attraction!! The long postponed Thespian Record Hop becomes a reality Saturday evening from 8:30-11:30 in the SHS gym. Dick Reynolds, top disc jockey who broadcasts over WHKK, Akron, Ohio, will spin the records.

The dance was originally scheduled for Oct. 8 but rainy weather necessitated the rescheduling of the Struthers-Salem game for Oct. 8, postponing the hop until Nov. 4.

Free records will be given away to the first 50 people at the hop. Each person in attendance will receive a number and the two lucky ones drawn will receive record albums.

Entertainment during intermission will be furnished by performers who accompany Mr. Reynolds.

Mock SHS Election Reset for Nov. 8

The SHS mock election of city officials and approval or disapproval of the bond issue originally set for Nov. 3 has been postponed until the legal election day Nov. 8.

After consultation with the Board of Elections, composed of Ralph Hanna, chairman; Dave Freshly, Judy Fisher, Marilyn Cameron, Adna Day, Helen Potter, Sally Kirkbride, Phil Tetlow, Richard Beall, Carole Shone, Jennie Pittsrock and Sandra Galbreath, it was decided that it was in the best interest of the school to reschedule the event.

Teachers will be giving up their places for one day in order to let the students take upon their shoulders the trials and tribulations of teaching. The annual Students' Day is scheduled for Nov. 30 when students will be assuming teachers' positions and their responsibilities.

Applications will be considered by a committee consisting of Chairman Rich Hunter, Mark Weber, Bill Stark, Gunnie Nyberg, Neva Geary, Earl Althouse, Lynne Clewell, Jack Alexander, Willard Dunn, Bill Hoppes, Bonnie Getz and Sue Henning.

Students' Day is sponsored every year by Student Council to give pupils a better opportunity to get the point of view of teachers and to encourage students in choosing teaching as a profession.

Sue Henning was elected treasurer at the Oct. 28 meeting of Student Council.

Let's Honor Not Only Dead, But All, American War Vets

November 11 is Veterans' Day. As we pause to observe a period of silence at the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month, a mental picture of the boys who never came back comes to every thoughtful person.

It may be a sober-faced lad with a steel helmet, a pack on his back and a rifle in his hands, or perhaps a sailor crouching beside a deck gun or an airman climbing into a cockpit for his last strike. All these are represented by the Unknown Soldier in Arlington Cemetery.

His voice is silenced now, but from the grave we hear him say, "There were 116,563 of us who gave our lives in World War I to make the world safe for democracy."

"In World War II we Americans fought against totalitarianism and in

On Bended Knee We Beg Voters

It is to you, the taxpayers of the Salem School District who may cast your eye upon this issue of the QUAKER Weekly, that we make this final plea.

A school housing crisis is upon us. The bulge in school population has hit Salem the same as the rest of the country.

You've read or heard the cold facts on population and the answer to the problem is in your hands when you go to the polls to vote Tuesday.

We young Americans are the citizens and leaders of tomorrow. These are our years of preparation for good citizenship.

We beseech you to give us adequate educational facilities. Your yes vote will be your approval of an investment in the youth of this community.

BE A FRIEND TO THE YOUTH OF OUR CITY.

VOTE YES ON SCHOOL BOND ISSUE!

Do You Know That . . .

The capacity of SHS is 800 students; we have an enrollment of 902 this year?

We are not meeting state requirements for physical education in SHS because of an inadequate gymnasium?

Every available classroom is used every period every day in SHS?

The auditorium must be used as a study hall?

The present Junior High building is very inadequate for the large Junior High population?

In Junior High math, English, science and history classes have enrollments of 40 to 45 students? The standard set up by Ohio Department of Education is a maximum of 30 in one class.

Every available space is utilized in the Junior High building, down to the smallest cubby hole?

If Salem doesn't have a new high school building by 1957, both junior high and senior high will be forced to run on a half-day schedule?

Authorities tell us that many problems arise in schools running on the half-day schedule. For example, it is a disadvantage to students who plan to enter college.

A new building will not be a heavy burden to the taxpayers of Salem?

Every taxpayer will be assessed only 39 cents for every $100 of property evaluation, or $3.90 cents for every $1,000?

This rate applies to the appraised value of his property and not the real value?

The appraised value of a property is 50 per cent or less of the real value. For example, if your family's property is worth $7,000, the appraised value is not more than $3,500. Therefore your family's share of the new school debt will be only $13.65 per year, or less than five cents per day. How much do you spend on candy or shows every week? Compare the value.

We can use our influence for a YES vote on the school bond issue among our adult friends.

the Korean War we demonstrated our concern for small countries that are susceptible to Communist expansion."

It behooves each of us not only to pay homage to the dead, but to honor all the American veterans.

Faculty Really 'Gone' On School Bond Issue

By Mitzie Theiss

In relation to the much talked of school bond issue, the following SHS teachers commented on what they would like to have included in the hoped-for new building.

F. E. Miller, chorus instructor, would like a vocal room for the sole use of the chorus classes.

Mrs. Beryl Tarr, English teacher, thinks a small theater and reading room for the English department would be a nice addition.

Miss Irene Weeks, dramatics instructor, had the same idea in mind when she suggested a small theater for dramatics classes and one act plays.

Chester Brautigam, English teacher, wants sufficient lighting before anything else. For the present he suggests new window blinds for 208!

Mrs. Doris Cope, biology instructor, would like an animal room (one besides the classroom!), a small greenhouse, three aquariums, a biology storeroom and lots of microscopes.

Frank Tarr, chemistry instructor, wants a larger and more efficient chemistry lab with the main work table in the center of the room. This, he explains, is to eliminate the studes falling and stumbling over one another.

Miss Claribel Bickel, typing and shorthand teacher, suggests office machines, electric typewriters and lots of storage and work space for the stenography and typing department.

Many of these dreams of SHS teachers will be realized if the bond issue passes!

Introducing . . .

. . . the latest transplants to SHS, south-erners Fred and Jean Gullet, freshman and sophomore, respectively. They hail originally from Paintsville, Ky.

Pert Jean's impression of Salem High: "Wonderful! Though the teachers are more friendly, the assignments are harder!"

Less demonstrative Fred says it's "all right." Jean is taking foods (cooking is her hobby), biology, world history and English II. She was a member of the Pep Club and the Hi-Tri-Y at her former school.

Fred fills his school hours with English I, algebra, general science and mechanical drawing and is a baseball enthusiast.

GOOD SCHOOLS MEAN COMMUNITY PROGRESS.

Alma Mater Moments

By Carolyn and Joan

AIM TO PLEASE

Alma Mater Moments is just what the name implies. We aim to please but that doesn't mean we hear all the choice bits of news, so let us in on the latest, kids.

MERRILY THEY ROLL ALONG

This was the case when Betsy Rice fell from a haywagon. Immediately Scherry Powell jumped to the rescue of Betsy rolling down the road. Scherry received a slight goose egg when the ground came up to meet her head. Ironically enough, Betsy didn't get a scratch. Moral—don't try to rescue persons falling from hay-wagons. The life you save may not be your own.

HAVE YOU NOTICED . . .

. . . Cheryl Paulini's luscious blue-purple skirt? It's out of this world. The assorted autumn-colored sweaters sported around our alma mater by Elaine Ing'fam, Pat Burger and Sandy Trotter? The avocado green and beige shoes sported by Joyce Coppock, which she wears with her beige skirt and avocado green sweater? It makes a perfect combination.

WELCOME HOME BARB

We really feel flattered that former SHS stude, Barb Cobourn, got homesick for her old alma mater. Barb plans to be a graduate of ol' SHS. Welcome home again, Barb!

WITCHES INVADE SHS

Tall witch hats, long false noses, black dresses, straight hair and no make-up were characteristic of Hi-Tri members when their informal (!?!) initiation was held in front of SHS. A cracker lunch was on the menu for the initiates while the Big Sisters enjoyed a lunch at the Corner at the expense of the Little Sisters. The hula and

There ain't no room—nope not no mo'. The reason why? There weren't no dough. Back in '55, 'tis true, The people let the bond fall through. A new high school was needed bad, But people then were money mad. Can't do a thing, the damage's done. Not many a parent's daughter or son Has a chance to learn so very much 'Cuz there ain't no room or things for such. Classes in the trophy case Seem to offer little space. Students hang from window sills Trying to learn with eager wills. Classes change in shifts, you see, And to enter costs a fee. Now you know why I am dumb, There ain't no school where I can come. So I am warning you Salemites To vote correctly for your rights. A school is needed in your town So please don't let your children down.

harmonizing were specialties at this year's get together. Marilyn Cameron even brought her partner in crime, a cat.

NOW AND THEN

Looking back 10 years we find the nation's three top tunes were Till the End of Time, On the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, and I'll Buy That Dream as compared with Yellow Rose of Texas, Love Is A Many Splendored Thing and Autumn Leaves, the three top hits of the nation today.

Keep your ears tuned in for Pet Me, Papa, recorded by Rosemary Clooney, and Daddy-O by Bonnie Lou as rising rock and roll discs.

Meanwhile on the third floor of SHS a different type of music is being used to accompany the typists in their daily routine. We guarantee you these recordings aren't regarded as most popular discs.

Last Saturday night Jackie Julian, Netti Harris and Evie Copacia were hostesses to some of their senior friends at the home of Frankie Corso, Jackie's cousin. Dancing and feasting were the highlights of this gala affair.

INTRODUCING THE FROSH

Tall and fair describe Bonnie Getz, Student Council representative from 305. Bonnie's other activities include Teen - Age Girls' Club, Choir and writing on the QUAKER Weekly cub staff.

Carol Luce, brown-eyed blonde, resides in 309. Carol is an art student, a member of the Weekly cub staff and a Salemasquer.

These two frosh won the American Legion Awards last year in Junior High.

PARTING THOUGHT

We urge each and every one of you to be "pushers"—bond issue pushers that is. Let's get out and really plug the bond issue. Good schools make a good town!

'Lone Stranger' Rides Again With 'Pronto'

By Lynne Clewell

Shades of Mary Marvel! The Lone Stranger rides again with a hearty, "Hi-He, Henrietta!"

Our story opens in the engine room of a train going about 90 mph. (The setting is in the 1800's; did they have diesel engines then?) Suddenly the brakeman screams, "Sunning Sunfish!" This calls attention to the fact that the track is on fire. He pulls on the brake and stops the train.

From out of nowhere, literally, spring several masked bandits. Promptly the conductor observes, "A holdup!" A bandit shoots him. Exit conductor. Somehow the bandits know that the train contains a gold shipment.

They waste no time in going to the right car and lifting a sack of gold weighing more than the average man can lift. Swinging easily onto their ponies they ride off.

Then upon the horizon . . . appear the Lone Stranger and Pronto, his faithful Mexican friend. The Lone Stranger speaks slowly in Oxford English, "There are some bad men. We must catch them." Pronto says, "Let-um us-um go-um pronto." They go.

After some fast gun play, in which the Lone Stranger and Pronto repeatedly miss, they singlehandedly capture these 12 bad men.

Ride with us now through the thrilling pages of history beside such famous men as David Crockettsey and Santa Sanna with the Lone Stranger!

Vive la Comic Book!

Stay Cool, Calm, Collected When Taking Drivers' Test

By Bobbi Blount

If any of you are planning to take a drivers' test, don't sit and fret or bite your fingernails. The thing to do is look up an oculist's chart and begin memorizing it. Another aid would be to sit in on a few sessions of the first grade to learn your colors. Best you dig out your birth certificate, too, if you think you'll get tongue-tied when you face the big, over-sized examiner.

Maybe a question in the written test, such as "What is the maximum speed limit in a 35 mph zone?" will stump you, but never fear, we all come upon some sticklers.

Perhaps at the first stoplight, stalling on red, gunning the motor on yellow and starting off with a jerk on green tends to deduct a few points. But after all, what are just a few points!

A glance at the expression on the examiner's face will tell you how concerned he is—not much. The knockout comes when he gives his verdict—passed or failed.

If you pass, don't die of shock. Just drive home with an air of complacent assurance. If you fail, pray for perseverance in your next test.

Police, Dr. Elbin Address Students In 2 Assemblies

Salem High students sat in two assemblies within the past week, one of them sponsored by the United Commercial Travelers and the other by the Economic and Business Foundation.

To protect the Salem youths from such experiences as the tragic deaths of the three young boys in Chicago is the goal of the UCT and Salem Police Force.

The UCT has published brochures listing rules for the youth to follow.

Patrolmen Robert Kirchgessner and Martin Lutsch, and Rex Hundertmarck and the late Stanley Kamasky from the UCT spoke at various schools in Salem and distributed the pamphlets.

Dr. Paul Elbin, President of West Liberty State College of West Virginia, was the guest speaker at the assembly last Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Elbin's speech was entitled "I Sold Stars." In his talk he told how he sold 30 "Star" automobiles at the age of 17 to earn money for college.

He stated that during his adventure in business he learned to appreciate his family, his country and his religion more.

Wood Classes Meet Man With Gobel Profile; Former Salem High Student Returns to Teach

As students stepped into the SHS world of sawdust and nails last fall, a teacher with a Gobel profile and haircut greeted the future woodworkers.

They soon learned he was John Oana, late of Leetonia. Mr. Oana lived here as a teen-ager and attended Salem High. With one year left until graduation, he went into the service.

Just after the war ended in 1945, he served on an aircraft carrier and traveled as far as Cuba. Mr. Oana is a strong supporter of military training and believes that the service wakes a boy up and urges him to acquire distinction rather than be just one of the mass. After his tenure in the service he returned to high school, was graduated and went to Ohio State.

Cited as his most memorable experience was coming back to his own Alma Mater to teach.

Mr. Oana's interests are many. They include woodworking, his favorite; art, music (classical and popular), and automobiles. His usual summer pastime is swimming at Jones Lake.

Since the invention of television he doesn't go to movies frequently,

Mr. Oana continues to increase his knowledge by reading many magazines that pertain to houses and furniture. Among authors he favors Jack London, especially his "Call of the Wild."

When the final bell rings and the termites close their sleepy eyes, pat their full tummies and

Camera Fans Discuss Plans

Wade Greenisen led members of the Camera Club in a discussion of cameras and parts of cameras at their last meeting. Also included in this discussion was the item of a dark room. If established this would enable students to learn developing and enlarging of pictures.

Any good prints may be entered in state and national competition, the group was told.

Still getting organized, the club is gathering as much information as possible on photographic groups and how they are organized.

Officers have not been elected. Club adviser is Robert Miller, boys' physical education teacher.

Cheerleaders Attend Clinic

The Varsity cheerleaders and their adviser, Mrs. Bessie Lewis, will journey to Edgewood High School in Ashtabula, Ohio, to participate in the Cheerleaders' Clinic tomorrow.

All of the groups who plan to attend the clinic were asked to send some of their favorite cheers to Ashtabula and they have been printed in a pamphlet.

The cheerleaders will wear their uniforms and each group will present a cheer.

Approximately 2,000 pepsters from all over northeastern Ohio will attend the clinic which will last all day Saturday.

Varsity cheerleaders from SHS are Donna Blender, Netti Harris, Janet Patterson, Joan Frank, Joan Weigand and Jo Bailey.

Mrs. Montgomery Talks to Club

Mrs. Donald Montgomery, who with her family returned this fall from several years' residence in France, will be a guest speaker at the November meeting of French Club. She is the mother of SHS junior Linda Montgomery.

The club elected Mark Fenton, president; Gary Whitsel, vice-president; Sandy DeJane, secretary; and Joan Fester, treasurer, at the October meeting.

Square Dance Set For SHS Gymnasium

When the Teen-Age Girls' Club met they decided to hold a square dance in the gymnasium Dec. 9. Donald Stelts was selected to call the dances.

The admission price for the dance, which is open to all SHS students, will be 25 cents per person.

Mrs. Josephine Kaercher, local beautician, was the speaker at the meeting. She spoke on hair styling, how to manicure nails, and general good grooming.

B Average Studes Join Biologists

All biology pupils who have maintained an honor roll average in the subject have been invited to become members of the Formal-deades.

About 25 of these pupils met with President John Buta when he explained the activities and proceedings of the club.

Quakers Battle East Liverpool Potters

Blue and White Rated Highly; Poses Threat to Red and Black

The Salem Quakers journey to East Liverpool tonight seeking their 4th victory of the season against the Potters, rated 3rd in the state.

The Blue and White's probable lineup includes but one junior, the rest being seniors and all of them lettermen.

Filling the end positions will be Bert Dorsey, All-County last year,

Barrettmens Down Blue and Gold Of Dayton, 26-20

Spearheaded again by the strong passing arm of Joe Bryan, the Salem Quakers chalked up their third season victory with a win over the Dayton Kiser Panthers last Friday at Reilly Stadium.

In a battle of offenses quarterback Bryan threw three TD passes to lead the Barrettmens to victory over the Blue and Gold.

Red and Black Captain Herb Haschen hauled in two of Bryan's heaves for TD's and Benny Jones made good a conversion to put the Quakers out in front 13-0 at the end of the first period. The local eleven scored again in the second quarter on a Bryan-to-Alexander pass. Jones again converted to place the Quakers in front 20-6 at half-time.

Right halfback Bill Schuster slipped over from two yards out in the final stanza to nail down the locals' third straight win.

Dayton threatened in the last few seconds of play with a sustained drive to the Salem 13-yard line, but their efforts were in vain as Quaker halfback Lani Waiwale smeared the Panther quarterback Slife for a 14-yard loss to end the game.

and junior John Yanni. Bob Barrett and Bob Jennings play tackle, and guards are Ed Massey and Jim Hoppel, state champion wrestler in his class. Jay Sanford and Jim Potts are center and quarterback, respectively.

John Nott, one of the few frosh ever to receive a varsity letter, and Jim Perkins play the halfback stations and Gene Bell, fullback, rounds out the lineup.

In the years that East Liverpool has played Salem, the Barrettmens have dropped only 15 to the Potters, won 21 and tied three.

This is the third year Coach Bob Gibson has been at the helm of the Potters since leaving Leetonia.

The Blue and White team is essentially the same as last year's, which the Quakers defeated 24-6 and the previous year, 13-2.

The Youngstown Rayen team invades Reilly Stadium Nov. 11 in the Barrettmens' last game of the season.

By Bob and Jim

Congratulations to Jim Horn who received his football letter a little earlier than usual. Jim broke his neck in the Quakers' third game of the year against Struthers. The Salem Boosters Club presented Jim with the letter and a nice white sweater to wear it on. This is Jim's second varsity letter; his first was won in track last year.

Junior Joe Bryan deserves a lot of credit for the fine ball-handling he's been doing in the past few games. Joe's passes have really helped the team to gain their victories.

It has reached this column that a mile-relay might be run during the halftime of the Salem-Youngstown Rayen football game. Captain of the track team, Gary Painchaud, and Dick Coppock will probably be two of the runners.

Although there are still a few weeks left in the football season and several more before basketball starts, several of the '56 cagers have been making use of the newly finished basketball floor of the ME.

Salem High students really appreciate the support exhibited by local gridiron fans during the black period of the '55 football schedule.

Credit should be given where credit is due, and this column feels that the SHS marching band and their director merit a vote of thanks. Much hard work and lots of time go into each half-time show.

Columbiana and Salem scrimmaged under the lights of Reilly Stadium last Tuesday night. Emphasis was placed on defensive playing to strengthen the juggled lineup when the Barrettmens meet the East Liverpool Potters tonight.

Palestine Falls Prey to Reserves

The Salem Reserves picked up their second straight victory as they shut out the East Palestine Jayvees 26-0 at East Palestine Oct. 24.

Salem scored twice in the first half on a recovered fumble by guard Bill Jermolenko in the East Palestine end zone and on a 16-yard run by fullback Walter Good to lead 12-0 at halftime.

The Quakers' third TD came on a third period toss from Joe Bryan to end Fred Stewart, and Benny Jones' extra point gave them a 19-0 lead going into the last quarter.

Salem scored seven more in the final period on a Bryan-to-Bill Holzwarth pass and Jones' conversion to gain the 26-0 win.
