

MERRY CHRISTMAS

14 Students Will Undergo Rigorous Aptitude Exam

Fourteen SHS seniors will go to Youngstown Rayen Saturday morning, Jan. 11, to take College Board tests. Fee for these exams

Robed Chorus, Assemblage Join in Song

Carols rang through the halls today, but no one was there to hear them, because all students and faculty members were taking part in the singing at the annual Christmas assembly.

Changing the tradition somewhat, the Robed Chorus, directed by F. E. Miller, sang "The Song of Christmas," narrated by Lynne Clewell. In previous years the Christmas Story has been read from the Bible.

The tree decorating the auditorium today was put up by the Bliss Co. and is to be used for their annual Christmas party tomorrow.

Concert Bandmen Re-elect Althouse

As the SHS band advances into concert season new officers have been elected.

Filling the office of the presidency for his second consecutive term is senior Tom Althouse. Serving as vice president is Walter Klein, and the secretary-treasurer is Bill Phillips.

Librarians are Margie Vaughan, Karen Klein and Carol Ward.

Vice president Walter Klein will assume the responsibility of getting recruits for Fridays, which are set aside for ensemble work. Each bandsman will perform in a small group sometime during the year.

Ex-Quakers Shine At Marietta, Cinci.

Reports from Marietta College and the University of Cincinnati reveal former Salemites doing well.

Judy Fisher, '57, has been elected treasurer of the freshman class at Marietta. She was a candidate of the "Four Aces" party and the campaign was carried on in regular political style.

Jim Fisher, '56, Bill Bennett, '56, and Ray Pearson, '54, have been named to the dean's list at Cincinnati. This means that the boys are in the top 10 per cent of their classes.

Substitutes Resemble Firemen

Firemen are always ready in case of an emergency. In this respect substitute teachers are firemen in their own right. When a call comes to fill in for an SHS teacher, the substitute gives up a day or perhaps a week to teach.

The sub is greeted by a class, which, since the regular teacher isn't there, is more disorderly than usual. But, like all teachers, the substitute knows how to quiet a class down (she hopes).

is seven dollars.

These exams are given to determine the aptitude of a student for college studies. Scores are recorded and sent to three colleges or institutions of the applicants' choice.

Colleges in Ohio requiring board tests for admission are Antioch, Case, Denison, Kenyon, Lake Erie, Muskingum and Western Reserve. Wooster and Ohio Wesleyan recommend them and require the tests for some students.

Juniors wishing to take the test for practice and seniors whose prospective colleges require it will have another chance in March. Information regarding the exam may be obtained from Dean of Girls, Miss Ala Zimmerman, or John Callahan, Dean of Boys.

Y-Teens Hire Eckhart For Snow Flurry Fling

In a flurry of snowflakes, SHS-ers will celebrate the holiday season at the Freshman Y-Teens-sponsored "Snow Flurry Fling." Scheduled on Dec. 30 from 9 to 12 o'clock in the high school gym, all students and their guests are invited. One dollar is the admission price.

Les Eckhart's band will do the musical honors for dancing and refreshments will be available.

The dance is considered semi-formal, although any mode of dress from party clothes to formals will be in style for the girls. Typical male apparel is a suit or sports jacket (no tux necessary).

The gym will be transformed for the evening into a snowy winter scene, planned and decorated by the frosh Y-Teens committee, Bonnie Schuster, Sarah Wilde, Judy Spooner, Barb Sanders and Ruth Jacobson.

School Clubs Will Retail Refreshments

Mercenary-minded school organizations will fill their purses with money gleaned at the refreshment stand at the home basketball games. The schedule is as follows; Warren Fri. Jan. 10 Spanish Club Ambridge Fri. Jan. 17 Quaker Annual Sebring Sat. Jan. 18 Orchestra Ygstin. Rayen Tues. Jan. 21 Freshman class E. Liverpool Fri. Jan. 31 German Club Ak. St. Vin. Fri. SHS Frees Boys To Carry Letters, Sort Mail at PO

"All for local delivery" or "All for out of town delivery." Red bands stamped with these words get pretty monotonous to the two SHS boys working inside the post office. Nelson Martin and Henry Maxim are sorting mail during the holiday rush time.

Facing the icy blast to deliver letters and packages are 11 more students who were excused from classes all this week. These include Ben Barrett, Bob Bennett, Ralph Ehrhart, Jerry Hilliard, Bill Holzwarth, Ben Jones, Larry Phillis, Dick Sandrock, Richard Corso, Lani Waiwaiole and David Zimmerman.

Top Seniors Will Skip Classes For General Scholarship Exam

Another morning free from classes will roll around Jan. 9 for 63 seniors taking the Ohio General Scholarship test. Either 209 or 310 study hall will be reserved for these students who comprise the upper 40 per cent of the class of '58.

At a meeting the Tuesday before the test, registration cards will be filled out and the fee of 60 cents collected. All participating in the examination will report to their homerooms Thursday a.m.

Students taking the test, who have maintained a 2.60 average include the following:

Darryl Adams, Tom Althouse, Fred Ashead, Lynn Bates, Bob Bennett, Joyce Bloomberg, Bruce Calladine, Louis Carman, George Church, Lynne Clewell, Nancy Cope, Richard Corso, Nancy Couchie.

Diana Crowgey, Martha Dougherty, Albert Doyle, Patricia Ehrhart, Sandra Esterly, Margaret Evans, George Faini, Alice Farmer, Maureen Gonda, Eileen Hall, Margaret Hanna, Don Harvey, Richard Hary.

Jeanne Hayes, Sue Henning, Jerry Hilliard, Robert Howard, Mary Ann Howells, James Ivan, Harry Izenour, Teresa Journey, Sally Karp, Jerald Kyle, Marlene Lewis, Culley Livingston, Eileen Lodge.

Kurt Ludwig, Joyce McElroy, Diana Papaspiros, Geraldine Pastorelli, William Pauline, Galen Pearson, Suzanne Perrault, Larry Phillis, Nancy Riegel, Richard Rogers, Robert Sabo, Margaret Schmid.

Moscow Reporter Will Expose USSR

Daniel Schorr, Moscow correspondent for CBS since 1955, will speak at Town Hall meeting Tuesday, Jan. 7, at 8:15 p.m.

The program, in which Mr. Schorr will give a "Reporter's Eye-View of the Soviet Union," is a first-hand, uncensored report from the USSR. In a distinguished career as a foreign news reporter, Daniel Schorr was the only American radio-TV news reporter to cover the Poznan trials in Poland in exclusive films for CBS.

STICK AROUND

Happy holidays! - if you're here to celebrate.

Thirty-eight thousand people won't be around this Christmas because of horrible tragedies on the highways. They thought it wouldn't happen to them - just as you do when you grip the wheel in your hands. But, somehow, by a twist of fate, it did happen. And it could happen to you.

Slippery roads, White Christmas, black night, soft music, and one arm around a pretty girl - suddenly transformed into flashing lights, screaming brakes, cold chills of desperation, a crash, and then oblivion. That's a bad way to end a date.

An accident will make you lose your sweetheart - if not your life - because girls don't appreciate blood-stained formals.

The binge could end in tragedy. That one drink might turn to blood, and the extra pressure on the gas pedal could speed you into eternity. Is one hour gained worth a life lost?

Drive carefully this winter—stick around for another Christmas!

5 Senior Gals Try for Honors In Crocker Hunt for Homemakers

American Homemaker of Tomorrow is the title five senior girls are aiming at. As the initial step toward this goal Sis Hanna, Nancy Schaefer, Sally Karp, Nancy Riegel and Teresa Journey took a Homemaker Knowledge and Aptitude test.

This exam is planned to increase the prestige and importance of homemaking in the eyes of high school girls and is open only to seniors. It deals with all phases of homemaking.

All girls participating in the program receive a copy of "Betty Crocker's Homemaker Profiler and Guide to Homemaking."

The highest scorer in SHS will be the Homemaker of Tomorrow for Salem and will receive a pin. She will then be eligible for the state contest and from there the national competition. Scholarships and educational tours are prizes on those levels.

At SHS nine substitutes are used. They range from Clyde Thomas, who works at the Youngstown weather bureau, to Mrs. Minnie Rhea Carter, wife of the minister of the Presbyterian Church.

Other substitute teachers are Mrs. Helen Boone, Mrs. Alice Gross, Mrs. Margaret Hammell, Mrs. Mildred Koontz, Mrs. Ruth Zellers, Mrs. Edith Mercer and Mrs. William Grim.

Conquistadores To Quaff Tea, Schedule Fiesta

Spaniards will quaff hierba mate provided by Carol Buta at the coming Spanish Club tea party. Now in the planning stage is the annual Spanish Fiesta. April 26, the tentative date, was set at the noon party last Wednesday. Carols and games from the old country and refreshments highlighted the meeting planned by Jim Ivan. The club was divided into two teams in a race for greater attendance. Jim's team lost and consequently treated the Spaniards to chocolate milk.

Hi-Tri Plays Santa To Spark Holidays

Brightening the holidays of a needy local family is one of the Christmas projects of the Hi-Tri organization this year. The parents will receive clothes; the three children, clothes and toys. Also on the agenda is a visit to the County Home. A short program including singing of carols is being planned along with the distribution of presents. Another project of the club will be selling of stationery which will feature Sam, the Quaker man, on each sheet. Income from the sale will go to other worthy projects. A record hop, co-sponsored with Varsity S, is also being considered. A KYW disc jockey may be hired.

Long Play Records Inspire Creators; Artists Wield Brushes, Rolling Pins

SHS artists, satisfying that creative urge, are happily working in their own pandemonic utopia and producing all kinds of results. Wielding paintbrushes and mauling clay with rolling pins, the inhabitants of 206 spend two periods each day designing mosaics. They paint murals and posters, chew toothpicks, whistle and yawn. Recently several students brought long play records for inspiration. This year a new plan has been initiated whereby the students are classified according to their experience. The freshmen have made clay masks, ash trays, crayon scratch-board drawings and various "what-nics." (No one knows what they are.)

Quakers Seek Win Number Four at Akron

Garfield Holds Triumphs Over Barberton, Ellet

In search of its third win of the campaign, Akron Garfield takes Salem this evening, as the Quakers invade the confines of the Akron gym.

Against some very stiff competition the Akronites have fared well this season. In their opener they defeated Akron Ellet 33-20 in a low-scoring, defensive battle.

It took Massillon a double overtime period to nip Garfield 67-65, after which the William Scheidt-coached quintet rebounded and took a 46-43 decision over Barberton.

The Maroon and White will bring with them a well-rounded offense, having no one outstanding point-maker.

Akron's starting five consists of four seniors and a junior, but sports only one boy who is a returnee from the opening outfit of a year ago. Their average height is five feet, 11 inches.

Salem Coach John Cabas is expected to counter with his regular first team, Bill Pauline, Moe Meissner, John Sturgeon, Butch Platt and Woody Deitch. Darryl Adams, Lou Slaby and Danny Krichbaum, who are currently battling for starting berths, will also be ready for action.

Between this and the next issue of the Quaker, the Cabasmen will find themselves pitted against three other foes — New Philadelphia on Jan. 3; Warren, Jan. 10; and Ravenna, Jan. 11. The Warren tilt is at home, while Philly and the Ravens are slated to encounter Salem on their home courts.

Cabasmen Upend Clippers, Bulldogs

Columbiana and East Palestine, previously unbeaten, bit the dust Dec. 13 and Dec. 17, respectively, as Salem's Quakers belted their way to wins number two and three without a loss.

Bill Pauline's 19 markers and rebounding were key factors in the Palestine tilt, a 62-61 thriller, played in the local gym.

Besides Pauline, the Salem scorers column boasted Butch Platt with 13 and Darryl Adams with 10. Bob Gibson collected 17 and John Hirt 13, to pace the Bulldogs. In the first period the Cabasmen jumped to a lead, which they were able to hold until the last quarter, when E. Palestine came fast to push ahead of them. A jump shot by Moe Meissner in the last half-minute of play put the Quakers ahead to stay.

Another squeaker saw the Red and Black wow the home crowd by besting Columbiana 69-64 last day evening.

Salem was led in the scoring department by Moe Meissner, who is hitting with his patented set shot to the tune of 26 markers. Darryl Adams and Co-captain Bill Pauline added 16 and 14 points, respectively.

GAA girls recently traveled to Lisbon and played speedball with the Lisbon girls' Leader's Club. No one kept score; they played for fun instead. The Lisbon club will return the visit sometime during the basketball season.

Janet Call and Nancy Utz are currently leading in the GAA foul-shooting contest, which will continue until everyone has shot 50 fouls.

The following three teams went undefeated all the way in the gym classes' speedball tournament — the McKenna Bums, All Shook Up and the Ralpherinos. Congratulations!

Ever do the Turkish Stand? Working on the mats, the girls in the gym classes are using this and other exercises to get in shape for basketball, which will start after Christmas vacation.

Girls! Better keep awake when Miss McKenna is reciting the basketball rules. Remember what happened when speedball was over? A test!

A bowling tournament will put the Sophomore Y-Teens back into the swing of things after the holidays. About five teams will bowl during the month-long contest.

Athletes Agree; Football Is Most Exacting Sport

By Dick Corso

Are football players all brawn and no brains? Are basketballers and track men required to use their brains more than gridgers? Which sport takes the most intelligence to play?

This poll of SHS athletes shows that nine-tenths of those asked the above question came up favoring football over the other two major sports.

The lone defender of basketball is roundballer Woody Deitch, who states that a basketball player must always know what he is going to do with the ball. "He must know where his teammates and opponents are, and he doesn't have a huddle in which to discuss the attack," says Woody.

Meanwhile the supporters of the pigskin sport have many factors on their side. Darryl Adams, who dabbles in both football and basketball, along with senior ends Bill Holzwarth and Jim Horn, says, "The football players have to learn over 50 plays and their variations for different defenses. Also the coordination among the 11 men must be perfect."

Their teammate, center Jerry Stumpo, agrees with what they say and brings out the fact that "in emergencies the QB may change the play. The other players must be alert and be able to put through the new play."

Sophomore Joe Julian reports that "as a lineman, I have to know whom to block and where to run on each play." One of Salem's star roundballers, Bill Pauline, agrees with Julian on this point.

Moe Meissner and Benny "the Toe" Jones, both quarterbacks, agree on football because of the great variety of plays, and contend that a quarterback, especially, must have brains — "the responsibility of running the team is on him."

The Red and Black's star full-back, Henry "Night-train" Maxim, when asked to give his view on the subject in question, answered "Football, naturally." He was temporarily speechless with amazement that any other sport could be seriously considered.

Jayvees Win Pair; Record Perfect

Salem's Jayvees romped to their third consecutive win of the season last Tuesday, outscoring East Palestine 72-48 in the Salem gym.

The Zellersmen overpowered their foes all the way, as they led by quarter counts of 18-11, 46-23, 59-36 and 72-48.

Clyde Marks hooped 17 tallies and Davey Hunter added 15 to top the Quakers, whose pointmaking was divided among 13 boys.

Other high men were Paul Herman, Kent Malloy and Jim Lehwald, with eight, seven and seven.

Reesh was high for the Bulldogs with 16.

On Dec. 10 the Junior Cabasmen stormed over the Columbiana Clippers 74-42 in another home game.

Leading the Red and Black attack were Clyde Marks, Jim Lehwald and Dave Hunter, who pushed 15, 13 and nine points through the rims.

The Quakers were on top throughout the contest, the half-time score standing at 39-22.

The Junior Varsity will put its perfect record on the line tonight, when it faces the Reserves from Akron Garfield.

Sport Specials

By Jerry Hilliard

● It seems that Ohio is really the state of champions. Ohio State won its third Big Ten crown in the last four years and a trip to the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day, and the Cleveland Browns came back from a rebuilding year to cop the Eastern Division title of the National Football League.

● Speaking of champions, the Cleveland Benedictine Bengals captured the mythical Ohio high school championship with a final record of 10 triumphs without a single setback. Our own Salem Quakers fought their way up to the number ten position in the AP state rankings.

● Congratulations to Quaker stalwarts Moe Meissner, Henry Maxim and Bill Holzwarth, who received honorable mentions on the All-State grid team.

● Added to the 1957-1958 frosh roundball slate—a game with the Ravenna ninth graders on Friday, Dec. 27, at Ravenna.

● No height! How long has this been the complaint of many an SHS basketball follower? Well, the day has arrived when they have no reason to moan.

● With towering performers like Bill Pauline and John Sturgeon, both six feet, five inches tall, and Lou Slaby and Clyde Marks, who stand six feet, three inches, the Red and Black should stand up to anyone, as far as board play is concerned.
