

Jeanne: New Sweetheart

Jeanne Landwert was crowned the 1971-72 Basketball Sweetheart during half-time ceremonies at the Salem-Ravenna game Saturday night, December 11. Lisa Tarleton, the 1970-71 Basketball Sweetheart, placed the crown on Jeanne's head which officially made her the new queen. Jeanne, who is an officer of the Pep Club, a Pepette, a member of the Hi-Tri, and a member of the senior girls ensemble, was escorted by Ron Roberts. She is also one of the forty students selected to go on the Mediterranean tour this summer.

Six other girls made up the basketball Sweetheart court. The girls and their escorts were: Martha Albright escorted by Randy Willis, Mary Albright escorted by Tommy Null, Barb Capel escorted by Lenny Carreon, Devon Van-Schoik escorted by Tom Dominic, Deanna Walker escorted by Kim Cranmer, and Debbie Walker escorted by Rob Hoover.

Band and Choir Show Off Talent

In the annual vespers assembly on December 21, the SHS Band, led by Mr. Richard Howenine, will play overture to "The Messiah" and "Home for Christmas."

The choral portion, led by F. Twin Miller, will then follow with selections from the concert held Sunday, December 12.

The songs "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen," "Winter Nativity," "Little Jesus Child" with a violin obligato by Robert Moore, and "Cause It's Christmas" were sung by the Senior girls ensemble, which includes: Cathy Downs, Debbie Ray, Janet Watterson, Jeanne Landwert, Cheryl McVaine, Jackie Pence, Lynne Esler, Julie Robbins, and Cindy Horn.

The tenth grade girls choir then sang: "A Song in the Air," "Prayer of the Animals," with soloists Carrie Willard, Tereill Paxson, Missy Falk, Mary McDevitt, Kathleen Leipper, and Ann Stewart,

"Beatles, Chipmunks and Red-nosed Reindeer," and "Snow, Snow, Beautiful Snow."

The Robed Choir concluded the program with: "America the Beautiful," "Fanfare for Christmas" with a brass quartet including: Tom Stanley, Jay Shoff, Larry Starkey, and Mark Sheen. "Carol Berry Tree," "Christmas Cypso," "Sleep Well, Dear Heavenly Boy" with Missie Smith and Angie Garvey on the flutes and Bruce Reader on the bassoon, "Pine Cone and Holly Berries," "Jingle Bells" and "It's the Most Wonderful Time of the Year."

The concert was ended by a combined band and choir number, "White Christmas."

The pianists for the choir were: Debbie Hunston, Cindy Caporella, Vickie Schaeffer, Mary Zatko, Barb Balsley, Debbie Ray, and Julie Robbins.

This year, as always, we may be assured of an entertaining performance by our excellent music department.

Two sets of twins were on the court this year. Martha and Mary Albright are twin sisters and also, Debbie and Deanna Walker. This is the first time this has ever occurred in Salem High School.

The traditional dance to honor the Basketball Sweetheart and her court was held after the game at the high school cafeteria. Music was provided by a group known as The Drift, and the dance was sponsored by the Pep Club.

The Quakers were victorious over the Ravenna Ravens, beating them by a score of 57-52.

A Visitor at Salem High

On December 9 and 10, Salem High School had a visitor from Colombia, South America. The visitor was German Quierera, who is known to most American people as Jim. Jim, who is eighteen years old, comes from a town not much bigger than Salem. It is located two-hundred miles across from Bogata, the capital of Colombia.

After having arrived here on December 8, Jim made a temporary residence with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace King, American Field Service sponsors. He stayed with them, the whole time he was in Salem.

Jim first came to Salem High on December 9. He attended several science and mathematic classes; for physics, algebra and other science and mathematical subjects are his favorite classes. Because of the fact that he likes these subjects, he hopes to continue with them in his career. When he returns home, Jim would like to continue his education and become an electrical engineer.

The school, that Jim attended in

School Levy Fails

The citizens of Salem have chosen not to spend any more money on the schools of our city. The 3.8 mill school levy was voted down by a larger margin than before. 2,500 people voted against the levy while 1054 people voted for the levy. When this levy came to the poles before, the people voted it down by only 653 votes. In Monday's voting there was a difference of 1456.

The main reason for the levy was to bring in money to meet rising costs. Another reason would be to provide pay raises for our teachers. This pay raise is mandatory in the state of Ohio. We must meet at least the minimum wage.

Students and Parents probably haven't noticed the huge cuts Salem has made in its school budget in past years, for instance, we only spent $3,000 on new library books this year, and in 1969 we spent $10,500. Other departments suffered large budget cuts, classroom supplies, and textbook purchasing, janitorial supplies, art supplies, and equipment such as desks, etc. have been held back. Our elementary schools are also suffering, curriculum supplies spending was cut 30 per cent since 1969. Spending on supplies for special education is less than 50 per cent of 1969 level, kindergarten supplies have been cut 50 per cent also.

The levy money is needed to restore all these areas to their high level of 1969. Also, building maintenance is at an all time low, there is hardly any money to fix things. We also need money to replace school busses which transport almost 1,500 students a day.

Now, there will be further cuts. The school will have to be closed immediately after school to save on light, heat, and janitorial costs.

The levy is actually not enough to do all that the school board would like to do with the budget, but it certainly would have helped. State funding ran out after 1969. Salem just waited too long to bring this before the voters. With a state tax passed, the building levy last year, and rising inflationary costs, voters just don't want to choose to spend more of their money no matter how worthy the cause.

Salem's visitor from Colombia, South America

his home town in Colombia, is quite similar to ours in Salem. It is a regular public school and it offers the same type of courses as schools in the United States offer.

Jim comes from a family of eight. His brothers and sisters range in age from six years old to fifteen years old. Even in a big family, where there is lots of work to do, Jim finds time for sports. He likes to participate in soccer, and he enjoys watching the American sport, football.

Who's Who in Family Living

Every year around Christmas time; Mrs. Mary Alice Cozza, the Family Living teacher, starts collecting baby pictures of her students. All of Mrs. Cozza's Family Living students, who are seniors, are asked to bring in a picture. But they are not required to bring a picture into class. If they do not have a picture, their grade will not be affected by that fact. Approximately ninety students out of Mrs. Cozza's total enrollment of about two-hundred pupils have brought one in.

The picture of the student is to be a picture of when he was six years old or younger. These pictures are posted on the bulletin board at the front of the room. The identity of the faces are not revealed until later. Until the day before Christmas vacation, everyone is in a controversy about "Who's who?" On the day before the holiday vacation, a guessing game is played and the identities of the students' pictures are revealed.

$2,000 Debt is Paid

Last year's yearbook debt of approximately $2000 has been paid off and already the 1972 staff is made a $2500 payment for their yearbook this month. On January 24 the first few sections, 10 pages, are due. All the items have been planned out but some pictures have not been received yet. These 100 pages include the culty, ads, and senior sections. The editors of these sections are Jackie Pence, Gary McQuilkin, and Chesney Zellers respectively. Over $2,000 from ads has been earned by the yearbook's business staff which will be used to help pay for this year's budget of $7,568.38.

Underclass pictures which were taken December 13, 1971 will be delivered in six weeks.

Club pictures for the Activities section will be taken on January 13. The cost per page is $21.00 which will have to be paid by the end of January. Schedules for the times these pictures will be taken will be posted on the bulletin boards at a later date.

A Gala Event to be Held

On December 23, in the Salem High School cafeteria; the annual White Christmas Dance will be held. It will start at nine p.m. and will last to midnight. All Salem High School juniors and seniors are eligible to attend the dance. Guests from out of town are also welcome to come.

The plans for this dance were started early this last fall by the White Christmas Committee. Under the direction of the co-chairmen, Jeanne Landwert and Shelly Zimmerman, the committee has been working very hard raising money and completing plans for the dance. Thanks to Jeanne and Shelly, and many others (including Linda Bennett, secretary; and Ellen Equizi, treasurer of the committee), the White Christmas Dance is bound to be a real success.

This year the committee did away with the "old time bands." The music will be provided by a group, that will play both fast and slow music. This way, everyone should be satisfied with the music.

Another change that has occurred with the dance, is the idea of the essential attire. Although many people will still dress formally in their gowns and tuxedos, this is not required. If they want, boys may just wear a suit instead of paying $20.00 to rent a tux for one night. Girls don't have to wear $60.00 gowns, either. Instead, they may wear long skirts and blouses, or maxi-length clothes.

With these few alterations, the White Christmas Dance is to be a better dance than any other dance before. But to make the dance worthwhile; a lot of kids must attend it. If one is interested in going to the White Christmas Dance, contact someone on the committee. Arrangements can be made to find a person a date, if one is needed. It's still not too late to consider going!

We Wish Everyone A Joyous Christmas And A Peaceful New Year

Tender Emotion That Is Reborn

On the day after Thanksgiving, a strange thing begins to happen to everyone. They become happy inside. They begin to love all that they see, for their whole being is filled with excitement and charity. Yet it is only the beginning. Soon the snow comes, making the world white and pure. Children can be seen running and playing, all bundled up in wet clothes. Parents are busy making Christmas lists. Overnight, all of our town becomes lit up in red and green, with toys and decorations shining through every store window. Houses, too, begin to glow with lights and cardboard Santa Clauses. The traditional ring of the Salvation Army bells are heard again in front of Murphy's. Everywhere the voice of Christmas can be heard. And then the people come — thousands of people racing from store to store with everyone getting in each other's way. Crowds and rushing soon become a common sight wherever presents can be bought. Yet despite all of the discomfort, there remains a stronger happiness which grows as Christmas comes nearer. By this time, everything happens at once. School days get longer and longer. Thousands of Christmas cards arrive at your house wishing you a merry Christmas. Secretly hidden packages can be found (accidentally) in dark corners and closets. Christmas carols are heard constantly on the radio. Grade school windows are covered with cut-out Christmas trees and Santa Clauses. Hours are spent picking out the perfect Christmas tree for your home, or else choosing the ugliest out of pity. And as the big day finally approaches, a sadness comes over you because secretly you wish there really was a Santa Claus, and secretly you still believe there is. Finally Christmas Eve arrives. And whether you find yourself in church or alone by the Christmas tree, you remember what Christmas is all about. And you are happy.

Christmas time always softens your attitude towards things. You no longer hate that old — — — of a — — — with such tenacity. And you find that you manage to say a decent word to that kid you swore never to speak to again without gagging. Why? Is it superstition that makes you do it? Are you unable to be rotten all year? Is it a religious conviction that if you don't you are inviting the wrath of God? Or is it because you're afraid that if you're not good Santa won't bring you any toys?

Prior to Christmas vacation, various local groups contributed to the enthusiasm of the spirit of Christmas. Both Interact and Key Club ignored the weather and rang bells in downtown Salem for the Salvation Army. Interact also lent their services in helping with the arrival of Santa Claus and the Christmas parade. Downtown store windows were painted through the cooperation of the Salem-Ministerial Association by the high school Art Guild. The annual Christmas Music Program was held December 12, featuring a tremendous presentation by the SHS Band and Choirs. On December 16, German Club held their Christmas party at the home of Mrs. E. Allen Blicher. We hope everyone will have a memorable and worthwhile holiday and New Year.

tried and proved. God brought to us one night many, many, long years ago his son to spread the gospel of love.

As was the custom eons ago, the citizens in the time of Caesar Augustus had to return to the town of their birth to pay taxes. Because of this, Mary and Joseph were returning to Judea to the town of Bethlehem. They were coming from the town of Nazareth many miles away. The trip was long and hard, but made more unbearable because Mary was expecting her first child.

Arriving in Bethlehem, Mary and Joseph found out that there was no room for them to sleep—anywhere! Finally, after being turned away many times, one kind innkeeper gave them a place to stay. It was only a stable, but they didn't seem to care. It was a warm shelter and a place to sleep and for this they were thankful.

Both Mary and Joseph, being very tired, prepared for the night's rest. During the calm twilight, Mary's time came when her first child was to be born. It was a son as prophesied earlier by an angel. Mary and Joseph called him Jesus and wrapped him in swaddling clothes and layed him in a manger.

On this same night, there were shepherds on a hillside watching over their flocks. It was in the middle of the night when all of a sudden an angel appeared in the heavens. The glory of God shone all around lighting up the heavens.

The angel brought some great news to the frightened shepherds. He calmed them by telling them to fear not for he brought them good tidings. That very night in Bethlehem the great event had taken place. Jesus Christ our Savior had been born!

The shepherds were filled with joy and wondered how they could see the Christ Child. Knowing this spirit was happening, the angel said that the baby could be found in a manger wrapped in swaddling clothes. When the news was revealed, the answer for our search was answered. With this answer a heavenly host appeared and began singing the song the whole world should sing: "Glory to God on the highest, and on earth peace, goodwill toward men."

Dear Santa, I have a small list this year. One very special gift and if that is all you can give me I will be happy. I have an older sister I want to get rid of because she is a pest, pain, and always yelling at me. Of course I want to get rid of her in a nice way. I have a plan . . . here it is . . . marriage! Dear Santa. Merry Christmas!

Mad Dog and Hattamen

Welcome to a fireside chat with Mad Dog and Hatta. Guys and gals of the Junior class, lean back, take off your shoes, and get it your note pad; we would like to acquaint you with the age old customs and traditions upon going to the White Christmas Dance. Around October you guys should be looking to round up an eligible girl. And you foxy chicks should be looking your best. Here are some of our beauty secrets to help you look your prettiest. These are some of the most modern, up-to-date formulas to insure a bright, shiny complexion. Step 1. Wash gently with "Pop Zitaway's Cleansing Gel." 2. Sleep with a cucumber in your mouth. 3. Boil a Theurus, sprinkle lightly with voots, and eat it. If all else fails wear ash colored band-aids and explain at your face caught on fire and someone beat it out with a track shoe. Upon arriving at the dance, being held at the V.F.W. Hall this year, pleasantly ask your date to wait outside to see if your table is ready. After this is checked out, go back outside and bring your date in, following at a minimum of five paces. To get inside you must have your invitation pinned to the upper left pocket of your tux. Pay the sophomore escort $2.50 and give the coat of your tux to one of the servers who will be disguised as doughnuts. Goosestep out onto the dance floor and if the congo line has not yet started take the matter into your own hands and start one. After that footstomping congo you are ready for a break so hit the refreshment table. At the refreshment table it is proper to take two of everything, but be careful not to spill your cookies. Now that you have eaten it is required that you sit at your table and wait for the cake walk, which won't be far away. When the dance is over sit at your table until all the Seniors leave. Then and only then are you permitted to leave. Have a good time at the Dance and enjoy the After-White Christmas.

P. A. Announcers Strive For Perfection

by Debbie Allison
During September, the 1971-72 P.A. announcers were selected and announced by Mrs. Miles. Mrs. Miles is the Speech teacher this year and one of her jobs is to make sure that the morning news round SHS is reported to the student body. The job of a P.A. announcer is basically to inform the student body of up coming events. Although there are no requirements in becoming a P.A. announcer, students in the Speech classes find the work a lot easier. The P.A. announcers are not selected because they are in a speech class or were in a Speech class. The announcers are selected on their ability to read and most important of all their tone quality. A person who can take constructive criticism and wants to do a good job, has a good possibility of becoming a good announcer. The shortened homeroom period has not really been a hazard to the announcements, though some problems have popped up. One problem produced by the shortened period is that the announcers feel as though they must rush through the announcements because they will not have enough time. Some of the teachers would like to have the announcements start two to two and a half minutes after the bell has rung so they can take attendance properly. The morning announcements do not have any music this year because of the shortened period. This year there were five permanent announcers and two alternates selected. The permanent announcers are: Livia Bebing, Cyn-dy Rohr, Larry Valentino, Holly

Holroyd and Vivian Knight. The two alternates are Rosemary Stepanic and Lynn Varkonda. Each permanent announcer chose the day that he preferred to do announcements. The alternates were picked in case a regular announcer could not come to school on his chosen day. Although the P.A. announcers did not really form a club this year, they are called together by Mrs. Miles to discuss the errors that are made. The errors made on the announcements are corrected at this meeting and any other problems have answers found for them during this meeting. Congratulations should go out to the P.A. announcers for the good job that they do and the time spent in preparing for the announcements in the morning.

Guidance Office Is There To Help YOU

By Leslie Sproule
At various times we have all been called to the Guidance Office, but relatively few of us go there on our own perogatives. The Guidance Office offers us help, whatever our problems may be. These can involve personal dilemmas: parents, relationships with our friends, or big head hassles. Or they can involve problems in planning the future, or with quarrels we may have with certain teachers. The Guidance Counsellors are there to help and to be our friends. The Guidance Counsellors are Mrs. Bell, Mr. Olloman, and Mr. Stoffer. Although any student can go to any one of them, it is preferred that the freshmen go to Mrs. Bell, sophomores to Mr. Stoffer, and Juniors to Mr. Olloman. The Seniors are divided among the counsellors. There is a great abundance of information about occupations at the Guidance Office — if there is anything you might want to know about any particular job it is there. It may run the gamut from becoming a beautician in Maine to being a forest ranger in Utah, but whatever it is, you name it, and they have it. Guidance doors are open during and after school. To go during school hours, get a pass in the morning before school from one of the counsellors, and he'll take you out of a study hall (it can't be a class). If you are interested in becoming a guidance counsellor, as many people are, it is a satisfying and interesting field of work. It involves between five or six years of college, and other requirements depending upon the college. But, of course, if you'd like more information about becoming a guidance counsellor, go to the Guidance Office.

Art Guild Promotes Spirit

The recent election of officers began a new year for the Salem High Art Guild under the direction of Miss Janis Yereb and Marylou Polshaw, SHS art teachers. The first meeting of the year was held December 1, at which time projects revolving around the Christmas Season were discussed and decided upon. Prior to the first meeting, the Salem Ministerial Association, which involves the ministers, had asked the Art Guild to paint Christmas designs and scenes on downtown windows, in the hope that this would help promote the Christmas feeling. Stores and businesses participating in the program are Butler-Wick, Goodwill, Jerry's Barber Shop, John's Shoe Repair, Perskey's, and the Salem Community Hospital-West Unit. The members of Art Guild divided into small groups to work on the various windows. While painting the hospital's windows, one group also entertained the children's ward and made themselves useful to the hospital staff. Art Guild also lent their services by paper-macheing a Santa Claus head pinata for the Salem Jaycees. It will be used at the annual party sponsored by the group at Christmastime for under-privileged children to be held at Timberlanes. Styled after Mexican pinatas, the Santa Claus head will be filled with candy, and each student will have a turn at swinging a stick at the hanging head. If a student is fortunate enough to break the pinata with a hard blow, it will burst open, exploding the candy hidden inside into the midst of them. At the initial December 1 meeting, officers for the 1971-72 school year were elected. The new officers are Sue Milligan, president; Cindy Slavens, vice-president; Ellen Gibbs, secretary; and Barb Eckfeld, treasurer.

Song For Christmas Exchanging Gifts

by Rod McKuen
I ask that you give me as much time as your crowded life permits. In return I promise not to take a moment more—unless I steal it with your kind permission.
And when I give myself I'll try to do so openly Without restraint or inhibition.
Could God then fail to give each of us His blessing?

Quakers Outdo Ravens 57-52

The Quakers came from behind in a thriller of a game last Saturday evening and setback the Ravens 57-52. The victory was the Quakers first in three outings. We were handed loses in our first two outings.

At one point in the game we were behind by as much as 15 points.

Jim Shivers, senior star, had a deadly shot, and played a tremendous game scoring 16 points — 7 shots from the field and two from the charity mark.

"Shives" also came to life on the boards, pulling down some spectacular Red and Balck rebounds.

Jim Wooding also played a good game scoring right behind Shives with 14 markers.

Mike Cosgrove appearing in the starting lineup for the first time scored 11 points. Three of those points being foul shots at the end of the game which helped us win.

Shane Franks kept cool and provided us with badly needed points in the last quarter.

Howie Jesko gave us ten points and also showed good bounding power pulling down ten big ones.

It appeared in the beginning of the game as though the Ravens were going to run all over us as they had us down 3-18 at one point of the game. Then we put it all together and when we headed for the showers at halftime the score was 32-30, Quakers down by just two points.

Into the third quarter we kept with them all the way until the final seconds when a Raven player connected on a desperation shot leaving the score Ravenna 45 Salem 42 at the completion of the third stanza.

At the beginning of the final period the Ravens pulled out in front quickly. Then Mike Cosgrove connected on a couple of foul shots, and a technical shot as the Ravens got rowdy.

It was then tied up as Howie Jesko scored and put us on top 50-48. In exchange Ravenna scored to even it up again. Then baskets by Wooding and Franks gave us the lead.

The week before, Salem lost to Youngstown North 71-53.

Salem reserves also were victorious over the Ravennt J.V.'s by a score of 53-33.

Dave Raymond lead the squad with 21 points.

It looks as though the team has really put it together now and from this point on victories will be easier to come by.

Tonight the boys entertain Canton Timken. Tomorrow night is our first away game this season as we take on the Struthers Wildcats at Struthers.

Jim Wooding: Player Of The Week

by Paul Musselman

The following is an interview with Jim Wooding, on December 10th.

Editor: "How long have you been playing basketball?"

Jim: "I've been playing basketball since 3rd grade."

Editor: "What teams have you played on?"

Jim: "Our family moved to Salem when I was in 6th grade. I started playing here in the 7th grade and have played school basketball ever since. I've played on freshman, reserve and varsity teams."

Editor: "How many letters and awards have you received, and what are they?"

Jim: "I received letters from my freshman and sophomore years, and a varsity letter from my junior year."

Editor: "Have you set any records in basketball?"

Jim: "I think my junior and sophomore years I set the record for getting hurt the most in a season. During my career in basketball here I've dislocated my thumb, broken my wrist, badly sprained my elbow, twisted both knees, and sprained an ankle. I think that sets some kind of record!"

Editor: "What position do you play?"

Jim: "I've played guard and forward."

Editor: "What interests you most in the game?"

Jim: "I just like to play basketball, there is no one thing."

Editor: "What was the greatest game you ever played in?"

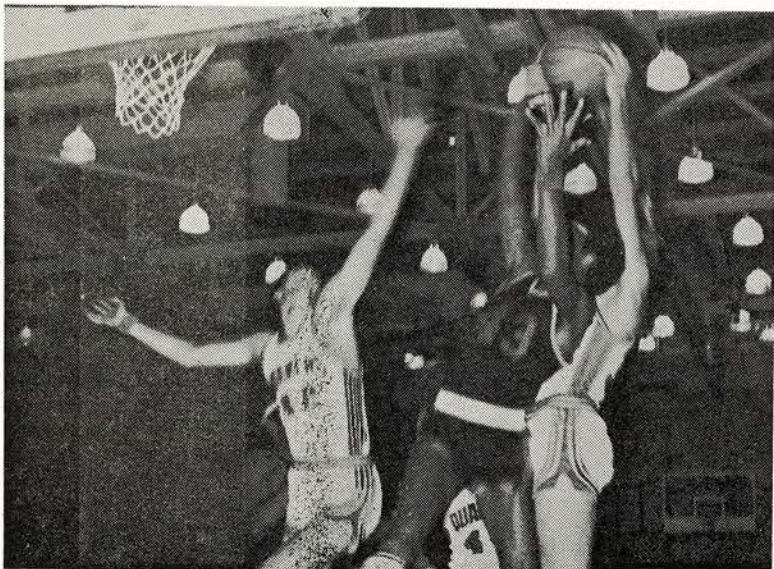

Jim: "The greatest game I played in was last year when we beat Canton Timken, but the greatest game I will play in this year is when we beat Boardman."

Editor: "Are you planning on going to college, and if so which one?"

Jim: "Yes, I'm looking forward to college. I am hoping to go to Bowling Green."

Editor: "Do you think we'll have an impressive season this year?"

Jim: "I think a lot of doubters will be turned into believers this year. I am looking forward to a good season."

Grapplers Victorious in Triangular Match

The Salem Grapplers opened their season with a triangular match against Ravenna and Rootstown at Ravenna. Salem won both with the total score being Salem 74, Ravenna 55, and Rootstown 44. Individually, Salem beat Ravenna 35-20 and Rootstown 39-18. Tom Eakin and Dave Odorizzi starred with 2 pins apiece. Eakin pinned Dave Munoz of Ravenna in the second period in 1:45 and Kelley Batsch of Rootstown in the second period in 1:18. Odorizzi pinned Hoesley Kemper of Ravenna in the first in 1:17 and also landed Bill Fell of Rootstown in the first period in 1:05. Pins were also made by Salem's Tom Hardy and Bob Zeller, while Bob Plegge and Lee Hilliard finished with two decisions apiece. Other decisions were won by Lenny Carreon, Jim McGuire, Mike Snyder, and Bob Zeller.

The returning lettermen on the team this year include seniors; Bob Plegge, captain, and only 3 year lettermen, Lenny Carreon,

Workouts for Salem Wrestlers last anywhere from two hours to two and one half hours. These workouts include 15 to 20 minutes of calisthenics which is followed by a 4 mile run to build up the legs and also helps in making weights. Some of the different moves and holds the team is working on are: sit outs, escapes, reversals, breakdowns, and of course pins.

The next match is scheduled for Monday, December the 20, at Salem. Beaver Local will be our opponents.
