Homecoming Queen Chosen

On Friday, September 27, Mary Pat Webb was crowned 1974-75 homecoming queen by Pam Devan, the former queen. The crowning highlighted the halftime festivities at Reilly Stadium as the Quakers suffered a 20-13 defeat by Poland.

The homecoming court as pictured are Mary Pat Webb, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Webb of Hightland East, Anne Henderson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Henderson of N. Union Ave., (2nd row) Jayne Bozich, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bozich of Eastview Dr., Gail Rutkowsky, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rutkowsky of Beechwood, Cindy Dominic, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dominic, (3rd row) Mary Ospeck, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Ospect of N. lincoln, and Bertha Totoani, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Totani of Adams Street.

It was a cold and rainy homecoming as the girls waved to the crowd when they made the traditional ride around Reilly track. The drivers of the cars were John Pridon, Gary (Fly) Leininger, and Tom Wagner.

The dance held in honor of the queen and her court at the Salem High cafeteria after the game from 9:30 to 12:30 was a big success as students boogied to the sounds of "Burnt Orange." The dance was sponsored by the Student Council.

Mary Pat is a varsity cheerleader and senior class treasurer, active in Pep club, Y-Teens, and French club. Anne, also a varsity cheerleader is a member of Y-Teens, Mul Alpha Theta, Hi-Tri, Pep club, Student Council, and is a co-chairman of the White Christmas dance. Jayne is head majorette, a secretary of her class, and is active in Student Council and White Christmas. Gail is a pepette, active in pep club, Y-Teens and White Christmas, and is on the Yearbook staff. Mary, also a pepette, is active in pep club, Student Council, Hi-Tri, Y-Teens, French club, and co-chairman of White Christmas.

Before the Canton Lehman game tonight, the PEPETTES expect to make a visit to the Football Hall of Fame.

Student Council

By Lori McNeelan

Student Council is off to a roaring start again this year. Already planning ahead this summer, Student Council sponsored a successful bake sale. The highlight of the summer was Student Council Camp. The camp was held at Ohio FRI., OCT. 4, 1974

Northern University in Ada, Ohio. The four representatives chosen to go were Diane Jackson, Janie Jesko. Lori McNeelan and Louise Moore. They spent five days at the college learning about other school's councils and gathering new ideas. They also found new ways to boost school spirits. The girls had a great time and made many new friends.

This year, Student Council is preparing a monthly calendar. They hope to sponsor a school event or project each month. Plans are being made now for the month of October. The Valentine Booth went over well last year so it is again on the calendar for this February. Last month, Student Council sponsored the Homecoming Dance. A committee of twelve girls nicely decorated the cafeteria in preparation for the dance. They were Janie Jesko, chairman, Becky Berger, Carolyn Boeckling, Molly Merrill, Julie Lange, Lori McNeelan, Sue Henderson, Diane Jackson, Sally Kendall, Louise-Moore, Colleen Miller and Betty Migliarini. Among other decorations, the girls made silhouttes of the queen and her court.

The Student Council officers for the 1974-75 school year are president Sally Boone, vice president, Brian Smith, secretary Cindy Dominic and treasurer Sally Kendall. Mrs. Jane Eckstein is the advisor for the council.

As you can see, Student Council is working hard this year to please the student body. If you have any suggestions or complaints, please contact one of your class representatives. A list is posted in each home room.

Miss Wolf is an ex-Salemite and was a two-time runner-up for Miss Ohio. Mr. Hardman came to Salem to take over as head basketball coach in place of last year's coach, Mr. Rogos.

There were 27 new teaghers join ing the Salem School System with 12 at the High School, two at the Junior High, and 13 at the elemen tarv schools.

Around SHS

Seniors

Determined to make their last year in high school the best yet, the Seniors are starting out on the right foot. Judging from their enthusiastic cheering at recent pep assemblies, it's going to be fantastic. SHS is proud of the powerful Senior guys, who make up the backbone of the MIGHTY QUAKER MACHINE! The White Christmas Committee, lead by Senior girls, met over the summer and plans for that extra-special evening in December are well under way. Keep up the good work, Seniors.

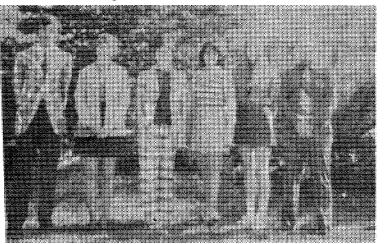

Juniors

The Jolly, Jolly Juniors are finding that this year is every bit as difficult as they expected. With classes like Chemistry and Algebra II, they find themselves lugging home more and more books each night. With the responsibility of the Prom hanging overhead, the Juniors are planning various money-making projects. They are anxiously awaiting the arrival of class rings, which are expected any time now. Their class rings will always be reminders of their fun-filled high school days.

Bertha is a varsity cheerleader and is active in French club, pep club, and an officer of the White Holly Steffel and Rhonda Shaver. Mary Pat was escorted by Rick Faulkner, Anne by Paul Shivers, Jayne by Scot Citino, Cindy by Dan Millard, Gail by Brian Smith (Nurd), Mary by John Sheets (Pink), and Bertha by John Scullion (Scully).

The Mass Media class would like to take the time now and wish the teachers good luck.

Underclass Pictures

Underclass pictures will be taken on Monday, October 14 and Tuesday, October 15. During study halls, freshman, sophomore and junior pictures will be taken. The students may go from the library or study hall on either day. All underclassmen are required to have their picture taken. There is no obligation to buy any pictures after seeing them; they may be returned to homeroom teachers.

Sophomores

As in the past, the main goal of the Sophomores is to get their licenses. The Sophs are willing to sacrifice an extra hour or two of sleep in the morning to come to school at 6:40, just for that certificate that permits them to join the buzzing crowd. Don't worry Sophs, we all went through it. Does anyone understand why so many of the Sophomore girls looked so nice the first week of school?

Freshmen

SHS throws out the welcome mat to the class of '78. We're glad to have such a spirited class join our ranks. With the help of the newly-chosen frosh cheerleaders, the freshmen are really coming alive at pep assemblies. They seem to be getting the hang of high school life and are fitting in well with all the upperclassmen. The Frosh are becoming involved in many school activities and are adding their own special touch to SHS.

SHS Smoking Problem: An Editorial

Hunting season has begun. As always, the smokers hunt the fac ulty and the faculty hunts the smo kers. This "editorial on a contro versial issue," as it was assigned, does not condemn smoking, nor the rules pertaining to such. It does, however, severely criti cize the ridiculous fashion in which the entire issue is con ducted. No one wants to solve the problem because it is merely a game to many, students and faculty alike. There have been times when the student's have gotten their kicks from such actions as placing "watches" outside the doors, just as certain teachers get high by flinging wide the door, dashing in at top speed, and making a "bust."

Obviously, many of the faculty aren't concerned about the students' health or the reasons for prohibiting smoking. They are concerned often about getting at certain of their "favorite" students. Likewise, most infrequently have there been seen large numbers of students writhing on the floors because they forgot their daily joints. Their main purpose in doing what they do is to rattle on the faculy's cage and to preserve their shining student images.

If the parties involved were truly concerned about solving the problem, the smokers would either find some more discreet way to carry on their habit, or else justify it and find a way to obtain their smoking privileges, and the faculty would suspend offenders of the rules for three months rather than three days. If such harsh actions did not act as a deterrent, then at least it would be clear that we've some rather hooked individuals at S.H.S.

In the meantime, the question remains as to what the future holds in the smoking espionage game. Will the "Smokers' Black Watch" march up Sixth Street, bagpipes blaring, to guard the restrooms?

Girls Leaders Club

By Jayne Bozich

Leaders Club, headed by Mrs. Gallite, new gym teacher, has inspired girls to become involved in gymnastics and different sports events. A 1973 graduate of Ohio University, Mrs. Gallite has taken an active part to open up opportunities for girls interested in physical fitness. Twenty-five gym aides, who are mostly freshmen and sophomores, have been chosen out of seventy girls who wished to be part of the Leaders Club. The Club has a President, Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer and plans money making projects for future activities. A Salem Olympic Weekend, an assembly on physical education, basketball and volleyball intermurals, are a part of the Leaders Club's plans.

SHS Welcomes Lois £

By Janie Jesko

This year Salem High is again hosting Rotary and AFS Ex-Students. Cesar Levy change Franca came from Brazil last year and is by now familiar with Nalem. After a year in Salem, 'esar says, "It's a lot different rom my hometown, but I'm havng fun." He lives with the Donald Steele's at 211 Highland Avenue. Cesar is leaving in December.

Rotary turned to our Northern Neighbor to bring us Lois Baum from Alberta, Canada. At first no one knew Lois was an Exchange Student because, with no language barrier, she blends into Salem High so perfectly. There are no distinct differences between her home and adopted communities. In Grand Prairie they go "buzzing," hang out downtown every night during summer drinking coffee, hike, and watch football games. She listens to the same kind of music and loves to dance. Lois is staying with the G. W. Blankenship family on Manor Drive.

To AFS Exchange Student Mozhgan Rahimtabar from Tehran, Iran, "Everything is different!" Mozhgan, 16, says, "It's a great experience for me." The Donald Gleckler's of 1668 Southeast Boulevard have her as a member of their family. The first thing one notices about Mozhgan is her beautiful white teeth and frequent smile. She speaks English very well but still her subjects are difficult and she says that she must study hard. In Iran they cannot choose their own subjects in school and they take sixteen subjects a year. Friday is their "holiday" for they go to classes six days a week. Mozhgan's religion is Moslem.

Dan Hoopes and Janine Hovis returned this summer after a year as Brazilians in the town of Piracicaba. They both got involved in school and community affairs and benefited from their experiences.

AFS Exchange Student, Missy Smith, spent an exciting year in Stockholm, Sweden, and also came home this summer.

Diane Curtis probably was as Grecian as an American can get when she lived this past July and August with the very traditional Greek family of shepherds.

Rotary sent two more Salem High students to Brazil for a year. Scott Theil lives in Tieta while Peggy Hiegel is living in Uberlandia, only an hour away from Cesar's home town.

SHS Clubs Making Future Plans Language Clubs

By Evie Meine

The three language clubs at Salem Senior High are already underway with plans for the coming year. The new officers of Spanish Club, who were elected at the last meeting, are: Scott Citino - President. Bob Watterson --- Vice-president, Molly Merrill - Secretary, and Debbie Baran - Treasurer. The club's present plans include inviting foreign exchange students from the area as guest speakers, going on several field trips, and the annual Christmas party. Mr. Monteleone is the club's advisor.

French Club also elected their new officers, and they are: Natalie Gilbert - President, Cacy Capel -Vice-president, Sharlene Fitch -Secretary, and Tina Snyder ----Treasurer. Mrs. Arter, former French teacher and French club advisor, will be a guest at the next meeting, at which time plans for this year's activities will be discussed. This year's French Club advisor is Miss Phillips.

The German Club has not organized yet, but Mr. Swartz, the club's advisor, hopes to have the first meeting and election of officers in the next few weeks.

Key Club

By Fly

Key Club is off and running for another great year. On the first day of school they gave the new women teachers a rose. The men received a pen set. They are also planning a "tip-off" basketball dance for November 22.

This year's officers are President, Paul Shivers; Vice-President, Doug Holroyd; Treasurer, John Pridon; Secretary, John Sheets; and Sergeant-of-Arms is Fly Leininger. Mrs. Strauss is their advisor.

Anyone wishing to join Key Club should see one of these officers.

Last year Key Club held a dance and also a boxing match. They helped Kiwanians at their annual Flea Market and with the Blood Mobile. Key Club would like to thank their Kiwanis advisor, Dan Kelly, also and the people who made last year a success.

Hi-Tri

By Shawn Votaw

Hi-Tri is an honorary service club made up of Junior and Senior girls who have had four consecutive semesters with no C's.

The club is busy with activities from initiation in October, until with a turkey, and canned goods for a meal, and gifts for each member. Each year additional service projects are done for our community and the surrounding areas.

A.F.S.

By Gail Rutkousky

The beginnig of a new school year means new exchange students to Salem High. Students from Salem will also be traveling abroad. The American Field Service, AFS, has already started raising funds and selecting new officers. The 1974-75 officers are President D. Vogel, vice-president Gail Rutkousky, secretary Jennifer Kornbau, treasurer Anna Prychodczenko, historian Diane Greenamyer.

Members of AFS are busy thinking of ideas to raise money for this year's exchange student.

AFS's exchange student this year is Mozhgan Rohintabar from Iran.

Freshman Cheerleaders Chosen

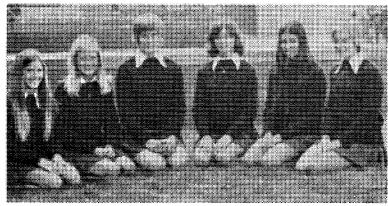

By Julie Lange

Cheerleaders to spur on the Frosh athletic squads for the 1974-75 seasons were picked early this year. They are Debbie Henderson, Terri Galchick, Amy Varkonda, Alyssa Menning, Arlene Fitch, and LaVerne Kelly. The girls were judged on their ability to do two required cheers, "Fight Quakers Fight" and "Great is Better than Good," and the traditional Quaker jump. Pep and spirit counted considerably, also. The present and former varsity cheerleaders judged along with Miss Wolfe and Mrs. Gallite.

The new squad was busy, for their first game was scheduled two days later. Hurried practices were held, and new sweaters ordered.

ior year in Belgium.

Some Quaker traditions which we still observe and follow are: Homecoming Queen, the Salem-West Branch clash, the cheerleaders' Quaker uniforms during basketball season, the Alma Mater, bonfires, and Quaker Sam, as well as the mums for homecoming, pep assemblies, Basketball Sweetheart, keeping the prom theme a secret. the drum major's aerial toss, Senior Slop and Dress-up Days, and "Smoke on the Water." Observances of these traditions are often scorned by those who wish to change them, to alter them, or even to do away with them. Yet, there are many who continue to support traditions and follow them. Still, many Quaker traditions may fade away as did those of Senior Personalities and the Quaker King and Queen. Others will eventually take their place, though, for tradon after graduation. There will always be traditions of some sort. even if the tradition in itself is to have no traditions, and when asked a question as to why we observe certain ideas as these, we will still continue to say "It's a tradition!"

Bv Diane M. Curtis

My A.F.S. experience actually started long before I was in Greece, reading articles, writing applications, labeling items around the house trying to learn Greek. In New York and Athens I attended orientations preparing us to adapt and informing us on different customs. One particular custom in Greece is that girls don't have boyfriends unless they sneak out. Boys and girls in Greece do not hold hands, kiss, or show any affection unless they are very serious. Boy, would they be shocked at some of the action in the Salem High halls.

After orientation in Athens I took a bus ride to Larissa. It's the third largest city in Greece, about 100 miles north of Athens. My family lives there during the school months. I had three sisters and two brothers: Helen — 19, Agalia — 17, Kristina - 14, Costas - 11, and Tomm - 8. The three girls knew English well, but I still tried very hard to learn their language. My early attempts at the language were comical. Once I tried to explain in my combination Greek-hand language that American cucumbers were shorter and fatter. They thought I said in America a girl eats cucumbers to get pregnant.

We stayed in Larissa for 11 days. My sisters and I shopped for souvenirs, visited friends and relatives, and ate ice cream in the town square. I was sad to leave Larissa, but the mountain life was interesting. Many generations have lived the way I did for a mnoth. My father and his brother have 500 sheep in the mountains so every summer the family goes up there. It was beautiful country but living was crude. Five families lived in our settlement in clay houses and teepees. We had no plumbing, electricity, running water. But it was fun. I loved the people I was with and it was like nothing I had ever done before.

The children played soccer, baseball with sticks, and frisbee. (I had brought them.) We went for hikes in the mountains and found rock trenchs, fresh springs, nuts, and tea. After one hike my sister and I were tying the tea into bundles. While we were talking I realized one of the reasons why our cultures are so different. In American schools students are taught "question to learn." Students question their school, government, morals, everything. In Greece schooling is stricter. The older Greeks want them to accept old traditions and ideas thus, change is slower. It seems a little ironic, because it was the ancient Greeks Aristotle. Socrates, who started the concept of questioning accepted beliefs.

While we were in the mountains the war started. It must be understood that the following is the account I heard in Greece. It is not necessarily what I believe, but I tried to keep it as accurate as possible.

On the name day of my cousin many relatives came to the mountains. Among them was a Greek soldier who told us of the war in Cypress. Later the radio made an announcement that all men between ages 18 and 40 must report to their home army headquarters. It turned out to be a very sad holiday.

At first the Greeks were all for the U.S. Kissinger was busy talking and Nixon was sending little messages assuring Greece of U.S. backing. The news was very fluctuating and confusing. We heard terrible stories about the Turks bombing hospitals, killing women and children. But they didn't do anything. All stores in Athens were shut and the people were afraid. The Greeks had troops near Istanbul. They still call this city Constantinople. It had once been Greece and they feel it is still rightfully theirs.

I learned how much the Greeks despise the Turks. Many years ago the Turks invaded and controlled Greece. They took away Greek property and did horrible things to the Greek priests. The priests built monasteries on high mountains and kept the religion and language of the Greeks alive. It was, in fact, their religious leaders who finally started and helped the Greek people rebel and become free again.

Not until later did I realize the anti-Americanism which had developed. With the switch of Greek leadership to Caramanlis many things were brought out in the open. Apparently the CIA had supported a corrupt military dictatorship which had been in control for seven years and had been very bad for the country. To them the CIA is nearly synonymous to the U.S. interests. It seemed like a stab in the back from a friend who always boasts of her interest in freedom and democracy. Then the newspapers printed that the U.S. was the cause of the war. Kissinger and Nato wanted a military base on Cypress to watch the Middle East situation. The archbishop of Cypress, Makarios, would not permit this. Newspapers printed that Kissinger told Greece to get rid of this ruler. The archbishop fled and when Greek troops came Turkey took its opportunity to invade, and did. Greeks claim that Kissinger knew of the Turkish want to invade and had not warned Greece. Kissinger did not put enough pressure on the Turks and they invaded a second time. Turkey said she invaded because she was afraid for the Turkish minority in Cypress. Turkey had control of 40 per cent of northern Cypress. This was actually like having 75 per cent because it had all of the industry, as southern Cypress is mostly mountains. 75 per cent of the land for an 18 per cent minor-

Very few people realize the responsibility of the cafeteria workers. Mrs. Marian Hary is in charge of seeing that the students in the Salem schools are fed a balanced diet. She is also in charge of making up the weekly menus and buying all of the food. Mrs. Hary, along with 18 other women, begin work at 7:00 in the morning. They first begin work preparing the meals for five elementary schools. They then prepare the food for the Junior High and then the Senior High. The food is then taken to the different schools. Each meal is a type A lunch consisting of meat, vegetables, bread, butter, fruit, and milk. The prices have risen from 45 cents to 55 cents. This is not determined by Mrs. Hary but by Superintendent Pond and by Mr. Furey, business administrator.

Counselor's Corner

Many admissions counselors from a variety of colleges will be paying Salem High School a visit this fall. If you would like information on any of these schools, see your counselor a few days prior to their visit so arrangements can be made so that you can speak to the representative.

Letter to the Editor

One day I was walking down the hall and decided to stop by in the restroom across from Mrs. Miles' room. As I walked in, there, sitting everywhere were girls smoking. The smoke was so thick I could hardly see. All the toilets had cigarette butts in them and ashes all over the floor. I was actually sick to my stomach as I walked back out. When I got back to class everyone thought I had been smoking because I just reeked of the smell.

I think that they should permit everyone to go outside to smoke or have some type of smoking room, instead of ruining the rest rooms that some people use for other things besides smoking.

Sick From Smoke

All letters to the editor should be placed in the box provided in the library. Editors.

Dear Editor:

This letter is in regard to the choosing of girls for the football and basketball courts. Many of the seniors feel that it is not fair that the same girls who are chosen for football court end up getting on the basketball court. We feel that more than 8 girls are qualified to represent our class and school as court and queens. The girls that make it for football shouldn't be allowed on the basketball court. We seriously think that action should be taken so that more girls have a chance to be on courts.

There is nothing that the office can do, it is up to the class, so let's get it together seniors and pull it through.

"Arsenic and Old Lace" has been chosen as this year's fall play. Written by Joseph Kesserling, this play is a superb murder comedy. During the second week of school, try-out dates were aired over morning announcements and after much serious deliberation on the part of the directors the cast was chosen.

Margie Ward and Cindy Loudon (both members of former SHS plays) will protray the two villainesses in the guise of sweet old ladies. Mike Allison will be Mortimer Brewster, Rob Moore, Teddy Brewster and Jeff Darner will play Jonathon Brewster, the nephew

SALEM FOOTBALL

By Mark McCulloch

he Quakers (1-3) will take on nton Lehman at Fawcett Stadin Canton this Saturday night. alem opened up its season with 8-14 loss to Canfield on Septem-6. The Quakers were ahead 14with eleven seconds left, but nfield scored on a two yard nge. Vic Watterson scored both em touchdowns, with a pass m Bill Rich and by running k an interception.

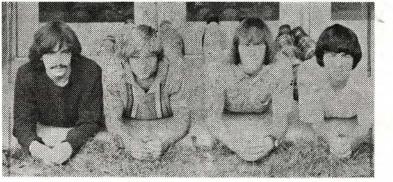

alem came back by defeating much improved Youngstown st team, 21-16. The Quakers red by touchdowns from Pete usniak and Ed Finn in the first f. Bill Rich galloped in from en yards out in the second half. defense, Mike "Bean" Armeni lected two interceptions.

'hen came West Branch, as the akers were shut out 21-0. The akers couldn't get on the score rrd, but Bill Rich was effective h his passing. It was a close ne until the third quarter when st Branch took over.

alem then met Poland, who red quickly and a half time the re was 14-0. Salem, after being held scoreless for six straight quarters, scored on a 35 yard Rich to Bill Roth pass in the third quarter. Rich again hit Roth on a pass from 14 yards out for a touchdown. The Quaker's comeback fell short though, as Poland won 21-13.

Salem's passing attack has been successful this year with quarterback Rich connecting on 29 to 42 pass attempts. The running backs Dale Henceroth, Ed Finn, James Sheets, Pete Pshsniak, and David "John" Stevenson are all capable of long yardage. Ends Vic Watterson, Doug Holroyd, and Bill Roth have made some incredible catches.

Captain Bob Watterson has been doing his job at tackle on offense and defense. Zane Roelen, Tom Phillips, Mark McCullough, Brad Smith, Tim Crouse, Mike Riffie, Bob Fisher, Tim Tamati, Scott Guiler, Mark Batcha, Mike Armeni have been doing the dirty work on the line and backfield. We're looking for a much improved Quaker team for the rest of the season. So let's get fired up and good luck boys!

Four On The l

Ve would like to tip our hats to drivers at the 1974-75 football ne Coming and the people who plied the cars. A gleaming ite Corvette led the pack with t year's football Queen in it, n DeVan. Following the Corte was Tom Wagner driving a ite El Dorado. In the car with n were two of this year's candies, Mary Pat Webb and Gail tkousky. Next was John Pridon ving a light green Cheverolet pala. From up in the stands it ked as if John was smoking a ar, actually he was just chewon a Slim Jim. Anne Hender-, Alberta Totani, and Mary Osk rode with John as hard rock sic was blaring from the car lio. Pulling up the rear was a ny dark green Chevelle driven Gary Leininger. Cindy Dominic I Jayne Bozich, the remaining candidates either had to ride h Gary, known better as Fly, or y would have had to walk. They ided to ride. 'he Shaving Cream fight that s scheduled for September 29, was regretfully rained out, has in rescheduled for a later date. 'ourteen Salem boys tried to see v much damage they could do a pick-up truck which was dected with anti-Quaker slogans er the recent bonfire prior to Salem-West Branch game. Afa hair raising, spine tingling, ill seeking, fifteen minute chase which two dozen grade A large is and a freshly picked peck of ripe tomatoes were lost, this le adventure resulted in seventy lars damage and a tour of the ice station for a chosen few of the fourteen Salem boys. So if you're casually strolling down the halls of SHS and one of the chosen few comes up to you and asks, "would you like to donate to the broken window fund," give generously, 'cause they need the money. We would like to thank the Wolf-we would like to thank the Wolfman who took time out of his precious schedule to make an appearance at our pep assembly for the West Branch game.

We would now like to recognize the senior members of this year's football team. They are as follows: Mike Armeni, Ed Finn, Scott Guiler, Tom Hardman, Dale Henceroth, Mark Hill, Doug Holroyd, Frank Mason, Bo Mountz, Zane Roelen, Tom Phillips, Mark McCulloch, Billy Roth, Mike Sabatino, Hal Shafer, Dave Stevenson, Bob Watterson, and Vic Watterson. Fly set earlier this year a record that will probably stand for eternity; the most cokes downed at a beer party, one. The railing rooters have made their presence known at Salem High football games this year, consisting of the following members: John "Scull" Scullion, Gary "Fly" Leininger, John "Pinky" Sheets, "Shives" Shivers, Paul Fred "Moon" Walsh, Don "Spider" Farmer, Kevin "Lip" Lippiatt, Fred "Strut" Girsht, Dave "Toad" Horn, Mike "Rookie" Stapleton. Jim "Alex" Alexander, alternates are: John "Golden Boy" Pridon and Tom "Wags " Wagner. One of the things they like to do is vell out the names of some of the football players such as Harv, Perkins, Rock, Chetah, Bo, and Ubbs. Any reprinting, republication, or

Cross Country

By Don Farmer

After an important victory over a tough East Liverpool team, Salem High Cross Country team is enjoying an exciting season as they have posted an 8-1 record with less than half the schedule left to play. The only loss to the Quakers was to an impressive Austintown Fitch team, who still remains unbeaten. Salem opened its season with easy victories over West Branch, Lisbon, Warren Western Reserve, South Range, Hubbard, and Ravenna. On September 28 the Quakers attended the Malone Invitational and placed an impressive sixth out of fifteen teams that attended the meet. This year's captains are, Dave Smith

Spirit Stick

By Lori Lantz

"We got spirit yes we do, we got spirit how 'bout you?"

This was one of the many cheers the junior varisty and varsity cheerleaders brought back to SHS from cheerleading camp this summer. The 12 girls attended Ashland College for one week, July 15 to the 19, learning cheers, chants and pom pom routines. Getting up at 7 o'clock was the daily routine for approximately 500 girls. Breakfast started the day off followed by an all day workshop consisting of three one hour lessons, two 1 hour breaks and two hours of evaluation. The real challenge came at 7 p.m. when all the girls gathered together for the daily evaluation session. At this session the girls were divided into separate groups containing 6 to 8 squads. Each squad was evaluated on their spirit, their performance as a squad and 2 selected cheers. Spirit sticks were given away daily to the most spirited squads. Superior ribbons were also awarded to the top units. Excellent, good and honorable mention ribbons were also presented to their respective squads. Superior ribbons and spirit sticks were earned by both Salem teams each night of evaluation.

and John Piersol, both boys are seniors. The other members of the team are as follows: Don Farmer, Terry McElroy, Ken Morrison, Mike Snyder, Paul Hoffman, Dave Adams, Gary Snyder, Tim Costa, Steve Williams, and Phil Campanelli. The goal for this year is to win the County, Sectional and perhaps beyond. Coach Guappone feels that this can be accomplished if the team does not become overconfident. Due to the fact that the course has been changed since last year that erases all previous records for Salem. Thus far this year Dave Smith is the present record holder.

SEES IT

He has covered the distance in nine minutes and 10 seconds. The next important meet for the Quakers will be a triangular meet against Warren Harding and Canfield at Warren. Although this year's team is small, Salem is not to be taken for granted.

The last day was a little different than the others. In the afternoon evaluation was held to eliminate all but the 10 top teams. The 10 teams competed for the top honor of winning the district cham pionship (or the Dr. Pepper Award).

Salem's varisty and J.V. squads were both nominated as 2 of the 10 finalists. At the end of all competition the Salem Varisty Cheerleaders walked off as the district champs. They did it — they won the Dr. Pepper Award! ! !

This year the varsity squad consists of Abi Chappell, Sue Henderson, Anne Henderson, Cindy Farcas, Bertha Totani and Mary Pat Webb. The 6 girls leading the junior varsity teams are Diane Bielski, Janie Jesko, Julie Lange, Lori Lantz, Judy Reese and Madelyn Webb.

GOLF ANYONE?

By G.B.

Salem's Golf team got off to a good start this season under the coaching of Mr. Chet Tetlow. Last year the Quakers had 12-2-1 record and expect to do even better than that this year with 19 scheduled matches.

The first match of the season was with Niles which the Quakers tied at 166. The next four matches were victories with the Quakers beating Lisbon 169-190; Columbiana 160-165; Newton Falls 158-182; and Labrae 158-198. West Branch gave the Quakers their first loss at 167-169. Salem has a record of 4-1-1 this far into the season with 13 remaining matches.

Salem's Varsity Golf has four returning lettermen this year. Taking on the number one position is Fred Girscht. Fred won the City Amateur Open during the summer months. The number two position is filled by Jonny Foster. Jonny was the Jaycees Title winner this summer at the Salem Golf Club. Christopher Lowry, John Pridon, and Pete Griehs make up the rest of the Varsity Golf team.

As for the reserves, the lineup includes Alan "Guche" Guchmunde, Huckleberry Webb, Dave "sour" Sweet, Bill "mowpow" Mowery, Fritz Fritzelgruber, Jim "long ball" Kerr, and big Ron Minamyer.

Salem travels to Avalon Lakes Golf Course in Warren on October 4, 1974 for the Class AAA Northeastern Ohio golf tournament. Last year the Quakers placed ninth and plan to do even better this year.

The remaining matches include: Class AAA Northeastern Ohio Golf Tournament October 4.

Salem hosts Boardman, Oct. 7. Salem hosts East Palestine, October 8. Salem hosts Sebring, October 10. Salem hosts United, October 15. Salem hosts Columbiana, Oct. 22.

Roundball

By Jeff Walker

While the football players are busy trying to maintain a winning season for the third consecutive year, the basketball team is preparing for their home opener November 22.

With Coach Roger Rogos retired, the Quakers will head into their new season under the leadership of Mr. Leonard Hardman.

Last year the district championship was presented to the junior varsity team, this year to the varsity. Salem hopes to extend this record in future years. GOOD LUCK SALEM HIGH! !!

Salem High's Varsity takes on Canton Lehman tomorrow night at Fawcett Stadium in Canton.

If you can't go be sure to watch on Channel 17 as the Quakers will be televised. There is no truth to the rumor that Fred "The Hammer" Williamson will do the play by play. Coach Hardman comes to Salem with a successful career behind him at Norwalk.

Hardman's teams are known for their scoring punch, with most of his previous teams averaging 70 or more points a game. In his last season at Norwalk his team made it to regional play in the state tournament.

This season's candidates are presently enrolled in a fitness program headed by Coach Hardman. This program is open to anyone in the school and takes place on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Three lettermen: Paul Shivers, John Sheets, and Jeff Foust are back and junior hopefuls Dion Treleven, Tim Cope and Mike Stapleton are trying to improve on last years' 15-6 record.

It will be interesting to see how the Quaker round ballers will do this season under a new coach.
