Action Now!

by Cindy Dowd

Student Council is in action now for the painting of the concession stand. The ideas for the painting of the concession stand are in the showcase by the library now. If you haven't seen them go by and take a look. The contestants, whose names are being withheld, had to have their drawings in by Monday, October 20. Five drawings were turned in and the actual mural which will be used for the painting of the concession stand, will be decided by the whole student body on Monday, October 27 when a vote will be taken during homeroom. When deciding on which mural would be the best for the painting, please don't vote for your friend's painting, if you know whose it is, or for the one everybody else is voting for. This is for the school, chosen by the Student Body and the painting that is chosen will not only give honor to the person who drew it, but also the Student body who chose it.

The winner of the contest will receive $15 and can paint the mural on the wall themselves or have someone come in and do it. The ugly cracked green walls around the mural will also be painted to match the colors of the main mural which of course is red and black.

The painting is hoped to be done by the first basketball game. While the mural is being painted on the wall, it will be covered and when done, an unveiling of the mural will be made. During the painting Cacy Capel will be taking before and after pictures so we can remember the concession stand as it used to be.

Chairmen for the project are Diane Jackson and Cindy Dowd. The rest of the committee consists of:

Stop The Masque Of The Red Death

by Cacy Capel

One of Salem's most well-recognized personalities may be dying, and only because, despite all his spirit, he can no longer carry on alone. This figure is known to nearly every person in Salem from freshmen, to faculty, to first graders. Although he has long stood for an enthusiastic, sports-minded community, he now seems to have lost his spirit. His name is Quaker Sam.

This article is not intended to condemn the 1975 Salem football team, nor is it intended to condemn the pepettes, pep club, cheerleaders, or any other person or group in Salem. Its purpose is, rather, to point out serious cracks which have developed recently in Salem's spirit as a whole, and to perhaps serve as a mortar with which Salemites can begin to fill the cracks and block the deathly drafts of indifference carrying the germs which made Sam so ill.

On October 3, Jerry Guy, sports editor of the "Salem News" included in his column "Sports Scene" a small article entitled "Fan Support." Stating his surprise about the low spirit of a town as sports-minded as Salem, he brought many truths into the open about Salem fans. Town support of Salem High's athletics is loud and clear while the teams are victorious. But what has happened to the "fans" at the football games when the team is not winning? They either do not attend the games, and yet still ridicule the players and coaches, or sit glued to the bleachers, not rising to yell or even opening their mouths. Aren't these "down" times the times the team needs to hear its fans the most? "Football players, especially in high school, respond quickly to the emotions that surround them," as Guy put it. In order to play a good game and to win, these guys need to feel their efforts are worth something. No one will do his best if he feels nobody will notice or even care. Salem's athletes are no exception to the rule. How can Salem expect to have a winning football season when the so-called fans, both high school age and adults, put down the honest efforts of the picked for the production are: Kelly Burgess as Penny Sycamore; with Anna Prychodzenko as her understudy. Essie will be played by Linda Lewis with Chris Schuller as understudy; Debbie Hrvatin will play Rheba, with Barb Proctor as her understudy. Rick Hiner will play Paul.

Kevin Fehr will play Mr. Depinna; Ed will be played by Mark Zimmerman; Scott Kaufman is Donald; Karen Jean Fehr as Miss Henderson; with Sharon Weber as understudy; Terry Krepps will play Kolenkhov; Gay will be played by Sue Barker.

Vic Leija will be Mr. Kirby and his wife will be played by Anna Prychodzenko with Barbara Kovach as understudy. The Countess is played by Annette Jermolenko with Sue Mathey as understudy. The three G-men will be played by Pat Barret, Ken Kyser, and Joey Kalbfell.

English and Theater production teacher Mr. Robert Viencek will direct the comedy. He will be assisted by Rosemary "Muzzy" Gibson, who was chosen as the student director.

"You Can't Take It With You" is one of the four comedies presented so far with other plays ranging from dramas to musicals.

Salem High would like to wish cast and crews of the play lots of luck with their production.

Selective Service

Continuous Registration for the Selective Service was suspended on April 1, 1975 by the Presidential Proclamation. The 1st annual registration will be held on only one day, March 31. This is for men born in 1957 or prior years who are under 26 and required to be registered. For further information contact a counselor.

Watch your local newspapers, radio, and television for this new information. The address of the Selective Service office is: Supervisor, Area Office — 11 SSS, Legal Arts Centre (Room 205), 101 Market Street, Youngstown, Ohio 44503.

X-Mas Already?

by Nancy Paparodis

Are you dreaming of a white Christmas? If so, Saturday, December 20, 1975 is the date to remember, as a committee of junior and senior girls strive to make this year's White Christmas Dance a dream come true.

The committee started its work this summer with tri-chairmen, Julie Lange, Marjorie Ospeck, and Denise Roberts, organizing things. Ideas were discussed, plans were beginning to be made, and the secret theme was decided at the meetings. Already the murals have been drawn and are in the process of being painted. Other committees such as the candle, tree, program, refreshment, and group committees, are also hard at work to help make the dance a success.

The girls also have to earn enough money to hold the dance, so washing cars on hot summer days and selling "various" items throughout the school have also been part of their activities for the dance.

All Hallow Even

by Colleen Miller

Halloween, or All Hallow Eve, is the most frivolous and sportive of all the year's festivals. Halloween is nicknamed Nutcrack Night and Snapapple Night and dates back centuries ago. It is the time of year when both evil and good spirits roam the earth haunting people along with ghosts, witches, and fairies. Some of the things we do on Halloween such as masquerading, masking, and the lighting of pumpkin-lanterns relates to past customs. From the Druids, Celtic priests, we derived the custom of bobbing for apples. There are superstitions connected with this custom. For example, if the woman who wins the apple takes it home and sleeps on it under her pillow, she will dream about her lover. Another belief is that is she eats it while combing her hair in front of a mirror, she will see the image of her future husband. Have you ever noticed how people avoid churchyards and cemeteries Halloween night? Maybe this is because the spirits of the dead walk abroad then. If a man meets one of these spirits face to face, he will fall dead. Therefore, under no circumstances should one turn or look behind if he hears footsteps on Halloween! Happy Halloween!

You Can't Take It With You

by Tod Raymond

"You Can't Take It With You," the three act comedy by Moss Hart and George Kaufman will be the opening play this year. This production which will mark the eleventh presentation since the new auditorium was dedicated in 1972, is to be put on November 20 and 22 in the school auditorium. The play was slightly rescheduled because of difficulties.

This Pulitzer Prize winning play is the story of a quite "different," but happy type of family from New York. The very "eccentric" Grandpa Vanderhof leads his family in such doings as making fire works in the cellar, writing plays, and practicing ballet, just to name a few. The family even keep snakes as — pets!

The only member of the family who appears normal is Alice. One day, she brings home her fiance, Tony Kirby, and that's when the problems begin. Their romance is almost ruined until Grandpa sets things right.

The large cast has been chosen well and is as follows: Greg Smith has been cast to play Grandpa Vanderhof; Sandra Dunbar will play his granddaughter Alice; her understudy will be Debbie Youtz. Tony Kirby will be played by Tod Raymond.

The Salem Bond Issue ... Is Your Question Answered Here?

In November, Salem City residents will be asked to vote at the polls for a bond levy to finance a school construction and renovation program totaling approximately $2,700,000. Firm construction costs will have to be set when final plans are completed.

The simple ABC's of the bond issue (or as simple as a complex program can be made) are listed here in attempt to answer as many questions as possible that voters might have.

WHAT IS THE BOND ISSUE FOR?

The bond issue will provide money to replace the two oldest school buildings in the system, McKinley—built in 1892, and Prospect—built in 1896, fast becoming more liabilities than assets. It will also provide for other capital improvements necessary to keep physical plants in good condition and avoid major future repairs.

WHAT ARE WE GETTING FOR THE MONEY?

Two new schools to replace McKinley and Prospect ..... $800,000 each
A bus facility (primarily for maintenance) of buses, trucks, tractors, mowers, etc. .... $100,000
Junior High exterior wall repair and window replacement .... 150,000
Renovation of Junior High and Reilly restrooms and Reilly classrooms ..... 110,000
Renovation of Reilly Field (stadium, locker rooms) ..... 225,000
New Windows at Reilly and Buckeye ..... 85,000
Renovation of old McKinley for central administration, warehouse and storage ..... 25,000
Removal of old storage sheds at Junior High, paving area for student recreation ..... 10,000
Other projects, such as paving parking lots and air conditioning some areas of the high school, will be undertaken if money can be stretched.

WHERE WILL THE NEW SCHOOLS BE BUILT?

McKinley will be replaced with a building on land acquired by the board some years ago located in the northeast section of town. An option has been taken on land in the southwest area for the Prospect School replacement.

HOW MUCH WILL THE BOND ISSUE BE ON THE LOCAL TAXPAYER'S TAX DUPLICATE?

County auditor has given a figure of 2.7 mills AVERAGE based on property values at the beginning of the year.

WHY IS THE BOARD ASKING FOR MORE MONEY NOW WHEN UNEMPLOYMENT IS HIGH AND CONSTRUCTION COSTS UP?

The timing was set to coincide with the 2.4 MILL REDUCTION that has taken place over the last two years on a former bond issue for construction of the Senior High School. The new bond issue will, in effect, be a "CONTINUATION" of the present tax rate without any appreciable total increase to taxpayers.

The board also feels that delaying construction would cost more money in the long run because of increasing maintenance on the old buildings and rising prices in the building industry in future years.

WHY DON'T SCHOOLS TRY TO GET THEIR INCOME FROM SOME OTHER SOURCE THAN LOCAL PROPERTY TAXES?

State law does not permit it. By state law, a school district may not levy any tax except on local property. For instance, a school district may not levy an income tax, nor share in the income tax receipts of the city government.

WHY SHOULD I VOTE FOR A BOND ISSUE WHEN I HAVE NO CHILDREN IN SCHOOL?

To maintain property values. A vigorous school system is a very real asset not only to the school children but to the property owner as well. Nothing depresses property values as much as a deteriorating school system. But probably more than property values and community pride is the community's responsibility to give its children a good start in life.

WILL THE MONEY BE USED FOR GENERAL OPERATING COSTS?

No. The funds are for building and renovating only; funds may not be used for anything other than that.

WHAT DO I NEED TO REMEMBER?

The Bond Issue is really a continuation of effort. We have realized a reduction in bond tax rate of 2.4 mills over the past year or two, and passage of this bond issue will only require about the same amount, or 2.7 mills. One is simply replacing the other. This is what we need to remember. It's the best bargain around!

"Tribute to a Friend"

After 42 years Fred E. Cope decided he had enough. Coming back to his "alma mater" in 1933 Mr. Cope acted as a teacher, track and cross country coach, faculty manager and athletic director. Mr. Cope got his Bachelor of Science Degree in pre-medicine and education from Mount Union College in 1929. He then received his Master's Degree in physical education and school administration from Ohio State in 1937.

"F.E." honored Salem when he was named Ohio Athletic Director of the Year in 1974 and Salem honored Mr. Cope when F. E. Cope Drive was named at the high school. All of us here at Salem High have felt the loss of Fred Cope's charm and personality. We miss you F. E., and of our memories of S.H.S., those of you will be the greatest!

Spanish Club

by Debbie Baran
and Becky Berger

"Hola"

The 1975-1976 Spanish Club started another school year with its first meeting on Thursday, October 15. A good number of people attended this meeting. Following the meeting cupcakes were served to the members while they chatted and discussed future activities.

Money making projects for the club will soon be under way, while plans for a Christmas party, a trip later in the year, and maybe even a Spanish soccer team are being thought about.

Previous to the meeting, officers were elected by the club's members. They are: President, Nancy Borkowski; vice-president, Kyle Frauzen; treasurer, Bonnie Miller; and secretary, Debbie Baran.

Spanish Club meetings will be held on one Thursday a month in Room 206. The advisors for the club are Mr. Montleone and Mrs. Calesi. We're all hoping again for another good year in Spanish Club and for those of you who understand, remember: poco a poco se va muy lejos.

SHS History Quaker Sam vs Quaker Lady

Quaker Sam vs Quaker Lady
by Carolyn Boeckling

Up until 1953 Salem High used as their emblem the Quaker Lady we all know and love.

"We were targets of ridicule," remembers Mr. Cabas.

He was right! Picture if you will our big, strong basketball players (then under the coaching of Mr. Cabas) running onto the court with the Quaker Lady emblem on their warm up jackets. It could have and did provoke some interesting remarks!

At that time Joe Hajcak, who was the Varsity "S" secretary and Mr. Cabas met together and discussed their problem. Caricatures were then becoming popular among school and college emblems, and Joe contacted a Mr. Calvin employed at the Salem News to see what he could do. Mr. Calvin presented his first drawing to Cabas and his boys and they all loved it.

Quaker Sam then became known to Salem High. The Varsity "S" and the roundballers were the first to adopt him followed by the band and finally everyone accepted him.

Did you know that in the early 50's the Quakers were not allowed to yell beat anyone? How could this be? When the other side was yelling Beat Salem all we could do was stand there. Again Mr. Cabas came to the rescue! On a trip to Canada he happened to see a sign for the Hamilton, Ontario Tigers saying "Love Those Cats". Soon the Salem Stands rang with "Love Those Quakers."

The following year "Love Those Quaker" badges with Sam's smiling face were sold and worn all over the community. The money raised was used to buy trophies for the winning Mickey McGuire basketball teams and donated to the high school library.

New Philadelphia also used Quakers as their name and upon discovering "our" Quaker Sam and "Love Those Quakers" asked if they too could adopt him.

If you are ever traveling through New Philadelphia, remind them that their "Love Those Quakers" along with Quaker Sam originated in Salem under our very own Mr. Cabas!!!

"Autumn"

Autumn, the wind blows cooler than summer.

Autumn, my love's gone with another.

I can't demand anything of myself now,

So I guess I'll stay here in New England

For Autumn.

The buildings look tall and grey.

The birds flying haven't much to say.

They all know that it's coming again,

So I guess they'll stay here in New England

For Autumn.

Did you ever lose something that you thought you knew?

Did you ever lose someone who was close to you?

Well I lost my lover and my summer too

To Autumn.

German Club

by Cheryl Crawford
"Guten Tag"

Did you take German this year?

Well if you did you are in for some fun, that is if you are in German Club.

Mrs. Reed, German teacher and club advisor has announced a full agenda of events for this year.

A meeting was held in September where they elected the 1975-76 club officers. They are: president, Gary Walker; vice-president, Liz Vance; treasurer, Cheryl Crawford; and secretary, Mark Zimmerman.

German Club meetings will be held every third Monday in each month. Extra meetings will be announced over the P.A.

The club hopes to visit with other local schools and has planned various money making activities as well as parties and other fun things have been scheduled. There will be a hay ride November 1. See you there!

Curfew: What Is It . . . ? Why Is It . . . ?

by Madeline Patton

For the benefit of those of you who have been living in caves, on October 7 Salem City Council voted in favor of having a curfew. The vote was 5-2. The two council members that voted against the ordinance were Morris Hollinger and Frank Dauria. Mr. Dauria voted against the measure in September also.

When I spoke with Mr. Dauria about the curfew and his reasons for voting against it he said "I feel it is discriminatory" meaning that 95 per cent of the kids are being punished for what five per cent are responsible for. Mr. Dauria stresses the responsibility of parents to control their children. He feels that it is not proper to expect the police to act as babysitters and that the parents should be more strictly punished. Mr. Dauria said that he thinks that much of the vandalism, which is one of the reasons for the curfew, is done by persons over 18, and therefore the curfew is useless.

Mr. Philip Greenisen the councilman who introduced the ordinance in June feels that the curfew is very necessary to control vandalism and to stop the influx of persons into Salem from other parts of Columbiana County. He claims that many people come to Salem from other parts of the county where there is a curfew. He says that much of the vandalism is done by young people and he thinks the curfew will control this. Mr. Greenisen said that in talking to his constituents only one in twenty was against the curfew. Police Chief Whinnery and Safety Director Barrett supported Mr. Greenisen in the need for a cur-few. It is too early to tell if the curfew is successful or not but Councilman Greenisen said that "It will make young people and parents think" and be more aware.

When students were asked if they thought the curfew was good 16 per cent said Yes, 64 per cent No, and 20 per cent Undecided. Students were also asked how they thought the curfew would have effect on them, if so how and if they had any comments to make about the curfew. (Needless to say some of the comments we received are unprintable.) No effect . . . it stinks . . . won't help . . . infringes on my rights . . . people will do what they want to anyhow . . . messes up drive-ins and dates . . . hate . . . restricted . . . don't care . . . there goes my love-life . . . my parents are stricter now . . . I wouldn't get caught . . . what curfew . . . no more partying.

Senior I. O. E. Clubs

by Gwen Millard and Kathy Fast

The Senior I.O.E. Clerical officers were recently elected and are as follows: President, Sherri Robb; Vice-president, Donna Ozimek; Secretary, Shawn Kennedy; Treasurer, Vicki Welling; Historian, Gwen Millard; Parliamentarian, Terri Domencetti.

The girls have already sold candles and are making plans for a car wash. They are also looking forward to the Christmas Dinner to be held at Timberlanes. The Senior Clerical Class is headed this year by Mrs. Barbara Sabin. The girls in the class would also like to congratulate their classmate, Terri Domencetti, on being crowned Football Queen.

The I.O.E. Steno II class elected new officers for the 1975-76 school year. They are as follows: President, Kathy Fast; Vice-president, Gloria DeRoads; Secretary, Cindy Kovach; Treasurer, Dianne Colbert; Historian, Kathy Tullis; Parliamentarian, Debbie Harovatic.

About 14 members of the class took a trip to the Ice Capades at the Coliseum in Cleveland on September 27. The performance was enjoyed by everyone.

On October 23 both classes are taking a trip to the Warren Second National Bank. They will see all the bank facilities and also the word processing center.

The Steno class has also sold keychains to help make money.

Haunted House

by Shar Fitch

Are you bored with lack of something to do? If so, the Salem Jaycees are sponsoring something that is great for adventure when you are lonely on weekends and during the week. Hoolihan and Big Chuck have opened the Haunted House again this year. The exciting House is located on South Ellsworth and you can't miss it because of the big sign in the front of it. The Haunted House will be open for 2 straight weeks starting the 17th of October. The hours are from 7 - 10 p.m. Even high school students can afford the small sum of 1 dollar. It is said that witches and goblins are out prowling around on these cold October nights. I would not be surprised it's almost Halloween and anything could happen.

Record Review

by Ronnie Montrose

If you're into Black Sabbath, "Sabotage" is a must for your album collection. This new album has been long awaited by Sabbath fans and is definitely their best effort in a long time.

Unlike their more recent albums such as "Volume 4" and "Sabbath Bloody Sabbath, "Sabotage" contains more of that driving heavy metal sound that Black Sabbath fans have come to know.

The first song on the album, titled "Hole in the Sky," contains the familiar vocals of Ozzy Osbourne backed by the driving guitar of Tony Iommi. The last song on side one, "Megalomania" includes some very interesting lyrics along with more nice guitar work by Iommi. The fleet fingers of "Greaser" Butler on bass and Bill Ward on drums provide the percussion for Sabbath. So whether you're a Black Sabbath fan or not, put on the headphones, crank up the volume, and get ready to be sabotaged.

DO YOU HAVE THE $1,000 EAR?

Think you've got the most beautiful ears in the school? Now's your chance to make some money off them. Koss Corporation, Milwaukee, originator of the stereophone concept, is offering $1,000 for the "most beautiful" ear in the country in what's probably the first unisex beauty contest ever held.

"For thousands of years, men and women have adorned and glorified many parts of the body," says the company's marketing services director, "but the ear has been ignored. This beauty contest is designed to give ears the attention they deserve."

To enter, make a print of your ear on a postcard by pressing an inkpad (any color) to your ear, and then pressing the postcard against your inked ear. You can remove the ink with alcohol or a pre-moistened disposable towel.

Send the postcard with your name, address and telephone number to Beautiful Listener, Box 2399, Milwaukee, Wis. 53212. Deadline for entries is Nov. 15, 1975; the winner will be selected by drawing shortly thereafter.

To be a Majorette

by Carol Shafer

Being a majorette is missing supper at camp to practice for competition, getting up at 9:15 to be at practice at 9:30-11:30 every weekday in the summer and then having someone say you never practice. It's spending time learning a routine that is never used, and seeing a metal shaft with rubber ends transform into a weapon that bangs heads, fingers and eyes. It's marching through the mud which flips from your tassels to your face and not really minding. It's looking up after a bow at the end of a routine and seeing the audience standing and applauding. It's watching a flaming baton ignite before your face and then realizing that you don't know how to twirl it and scares you to death as your sleeve catches on fire. It's holding all your work at camp in your hands as a plaque which reads "Most Outstanding School Award" and celebrating afterwards at the "Pit." It's carrying the Salem pride and most of all it's HAPPINESS!

What Are You Doing On Halloween??

Halloween is just around the corner. Right about this time kids are thinking of different tricks and pranks to play on people this year. Although there is a football game that weekend, there are still students who will be out before, during, and after the game doing their thing. We have decided to ask some of these kids what they have planned for Halloween weekend. Here are the answers we received: Sue H. "I'm going to Mr. Mucci's house, be prepared" ... Pam H. "Going with S.H. and Mr. Tetlow" ... Terri. D. "Doing whatever comes naturally." ... Susan S. "Spooking the customers at the Red Barn" ... Vickie W. "GUESS" ? ? ? ... Pete P. "Getting burnt" ... Gwen M. "Give ya one guess" ... Diane B. "Getting goods from John's House" ... John W. "Getting fired up" ... Linda S. "I don't know" ... Gloria D. "Go out and start trouble." ... Rick U. "Soaping windows." Mr. Tetlow "Dressing up like Frankenstein and getting rid of the students I don't like" ... Jacques E. "I'm eating my lunch." ... Kim R. "I don't know yet" ... Sally K. "At 12:00 I turn into a vampire" ... Sue H. "Going to the game." ... Kim M. "Doin' violence" ... D. J. "I don't know." Rif "Going to the dance." ... Roy "Going to detention." ... D. R. "Passing out (candy that is)." ... Cheryl S. "Something fun." ... Debbie S. "Molesting trick or treaters." ... Bobbie E. "Soap windows." ... Buffy "Waiting for the great pumpkin." ... Marjorie "Sitting in the pumpkin patch waiting for the great pumpkin." ... Kim "Going with Buffy." ... Judy R. "Going to the mountains and maybe the valley." ... Bill L. "Mess up the new student teacher's house." ... Caryn S. "Being bad." ... Linda R. "Going out goofing around." ... Michelle C. "Gonna have fun." ... Lori Mc. "Gonna be bad" ... Lori L. "Raising Hell" ... Bobbi B. "Being obnoxious" ... Colleen M. "Seeing Nick" ... Mrs. Miller "Riding a broom."

We drank for joy and became unhappy.
We drank for sociability and became argumentative
We drank for sophistication and became obnoxious.
We drank for friendship and made enemies.
We drank for sleep and awakened without rest.
We drank for strength and felt weak.
We drank for relaxation and got the shakes.
We drank for bravery and became afraid.
We drank for confidence and became doubtful.
We drank to make conversation and slurred our speech.
We drank to feel heavenly and end up feeling like HELL.
We drank to forget and were forever haunted.
We drank for freedom and became slaves.
We drank to ease problems and saw them multiply.
We drank to cope with life and invited death.

Teenager Of The Month Award

by Gwen Millard

There has recently been established a new way of recognizing outstanding area high school students. The Teenager of the Month Award was established by Kent State, Salem Branch and The Salem News.

Each month one senior boy and girl from one of 11 area high schools will be selected by fellow students to receive the award. Each will receive a certificate and a feature article in the Salem News.

At the end of the school year each Teenager of the Month will compete for the title of Teenager of the Year and will receive plaques at the year-end banquet.

Each month our panel, consisting of Abi Chappell, Sally Kendall, Becky Kynett, John Ross, and Scott Ramsey will choose one boy and girl from SHS to submit to the central board, which is made up of one person from each of the eleven schools. Sally Kendall will represent Salem on the central board.

Decisions for the award will be based upon character, leadership, service, citizenship and scholarship.

Gridders Have Tough Season

Here it is, late in October, and the Salem Quakers' football season is coming to a close, with tough East Liverpool as this week's opponent. So far this year, the Potters have gone undefeated, are ranked number four in Ohio, and first in our region.

The Potters have a rough offense and a punishing defense, which means the Mighty Quakers are going to have to give a stupendous effort, both offensively and defensively to win this ballgame. The Potters are big, averaging over two hundred pounds on the line. They have a quick backfield, led by running back Ernie Washington. Going against the Potters offense will probably be Bob Fisher and Jim Sheets at linebackers, Tim Tamati and Brad Smith at Tackles, Frank Batcha at nose guard, Bill Southern and Nick Whitacre or Mark Batcha at defensive ends.

In the defensive secondary, Bill Rich, Brett Albright, Gary Votaw, Kevin England, Andy Baillie and Mike Murphy should all see considerable action. On offense, the Quakers will probably have Harley McCullough at center, Greg Sisler, Jeff Saltsman and Pete Thompson at guards. Tim Crouse, Brad Smith and Ted Yuhanik at tackles, Bob Fisher and Bob Jesko at tight ends and Dave Hook at split end. Brett Albright will probably call signals while Kevin England Mike Riffie, Jim Sheets, Randy Mellinger, and Jay Linder will be in the backfield. Bill Rich might see some backfield action, too.

Four weeks ago Salem turned its efforts against Poland, unbeaten in three ties. Salem and Poland battled fiercely, in a game which came down to the final gun, with Salem losing a heartbreaker 21-17. Many think that Salem should have won, because of two controversial plays in which Salem backs seemed to go over for a touchdown, but were called back.

The next week, Salem lost to invading Canton Lehman, 21-17, in a game where Salem did not play up to its potential.

The Quakers then went to East Palestine and tied the Bulldogs 14-14 in a defensive struggle.

Last Friday, Ravenna, ranked third in their division, came down and served Salem its most disheartening loss, 19-0 in a rain-and-mud soaked game.

As mentioned before, the Quakers will take on East Liverpool, tonight at home. Youngstown Rayen will come down Friday October 31, and the Salem team will travel to Campbell Memorial Nov. 7 for its final game.

On a closing note, the Quaker JV's and coaches Ross and Fisher should be congratulated for their fine 5-1-1 record. Their last game is home on Oct. 25 vs Wellsville.

Strike Three!

STRIKE THREE would like to congratulate this year's librarians. Miss Farmer and Miss Bricker are new here at the high school but they seem to be doing a good job. The new librarians, who stick to the rules, have turned the library into an efficient, orderly, well-behaved place in which to do work. If you are wondering why the library is so quiet, don't ask about it because you will get your eardrums.

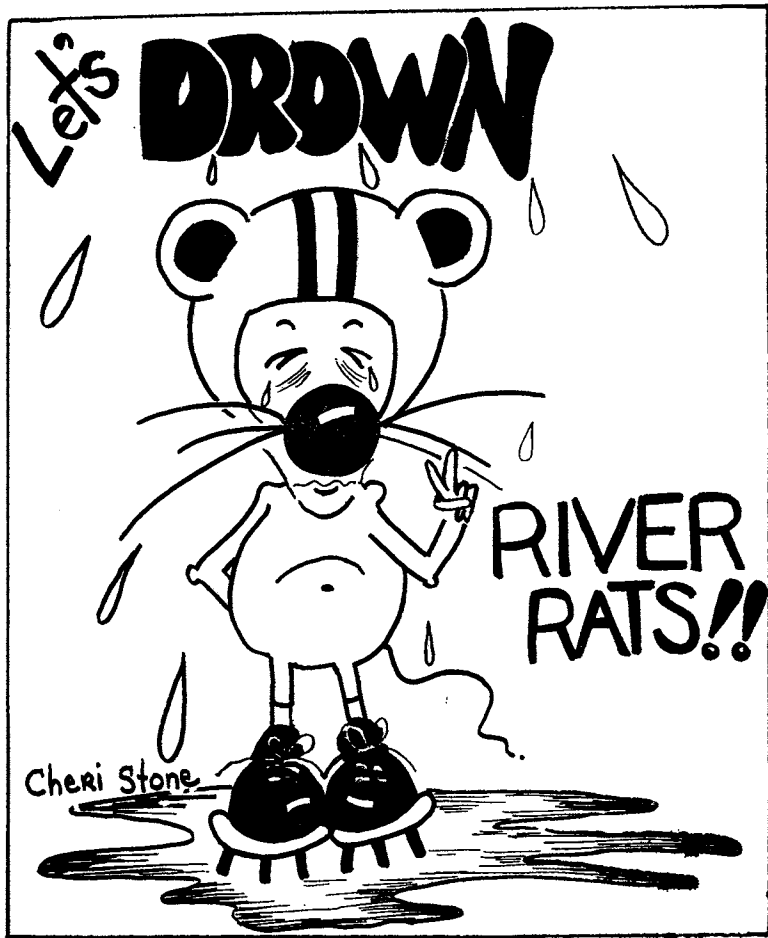

For you race fans, Strike Three is sponsoring a "B.C. 500." Two cars at one time race around the parking lot at the Burger Chef "500" times. The winner wins a fabulous Funmeal and gets to meet Burger Chef and Jeff in person. "Heavens to Hamburgers!"

Come this Halloween, four zany, high school boys are going to terrorize Salem wearing unbelievable paced-out costumes. Watch out, they might get you!

This week, Strike Three would like to congratulate all those "lead foot" drivers who got picked up by the police for speeding on North Union recently.

Two-thirds of Strike Three took a trip up to the Cavs exhibition game for a journalism class. Although the interviews with project the players did not develop, the four of them. Augie Corso, Ron James, John Foster and Mike Stapleton, did not let the evening become a total waste. After coach Bill Fitch and owner Nick Meleti spoke to the some 200 journalism students, refreshments were served. The pregame show consisted of an olive throwing contest. But the true excitement of the game did not happen there. When the game was ready to begin the four Salem students noticed four great seats down front so they took them; until an usherette, named Darlene Jensen, saw and stopped them. After much bickering the boys moved because Miss Jensen asserted her authority and told them that she would have them forcibly thrown out if they didn't.

Golf & Cross Country

by F.Y.B.

Compiling one of the finest records in the history of Salem High Cross Country, this year's team has a 17-2 record. Leading this year's team are Seniors Dave Adams, Mike Snyder, Steve DeRoads, and the K. Brown twins. The Junior runners include Paul "Hoff" Hoffman, Steve Barrett, Jamie Kennedy, and Pete "Zimmy" Zimmerman. The Sophomores are Timmy Costa, Steve "Fonz" Williams, and Dave "Pitt" Pittman. Rounding out the squad, the freshman runners are Derf "Fred" Capel, and Kim "J. R." Oriole. Setting a precedent, Kim is the first girl ever to be on a Salem High Cross Country team. Besides Kim Oriole, the Cross Country team has set another precedent. For the first time in their history, the runners qualified for the District meet which will be held at Akron Firestone. Led by captains Kim Morrison, Ken Morrison, and Paul Hoffman, the team qualified for this meet by finishing second to Fitch at the Sectional meet.

Running all their home meets at the Salem Golf Club, the team was almost unbeatable. In single meets the Salem team has defeated Niles 36-38, Lisbon 15-48, Warren Western Reserve 15-36, Canfield 15-36, and East Palestine 15-50. The team's only defeats of the season came in two single meets against Fitch 28-17, and East Liverpool 25-

20. In dual meets Salem defeated West Branch and Marlinton, 15-46 and 17-48, Western Reserve and South Range 21-48 and 17-38, and Hubbard, Ravenna, and Warren Harding 17-48, 15-68, and 15-81. In Invitational meets the runners finished third out of thirty at the Malone Invitational, third out of twenty-five at the Boardman Invitational, fourth out of ten at the Labrae Invitational, first out of seven at the Columbiana County Meet, and second out of fifteen at the Sectional Meet.

The Golf Team, on the other hand, hasn't been as successful. Since the last writing the golf team has lost three matches and won four. Their four wins have been one win against West Branch, two wins over Beaver Local, and a win over Niles. Their three losses have been handed to them from Labrae, Sebring, East Palestine. Their current record is now 8-6 and with only one match remaining the Salem five is assured of having a winning season for the fifth year in a row. The teams hopes of playing in the district tournament were spoiled when they played poorly in the sectionals. The tough Avalon Lakes course, where the sectional tournament was played, was playing long and the weather was the worst that it had been during the season. Congratulations and good luck to both the Golf and Cross Country Teams.

"Cavs" Ready To Start

The Cleveland Cavaliers have completed their pre-season regular training licks with a squad of 13 players and have now begun the regular season. General Manager and Coach Bill Fitch, who is starting his sixth campaign at the helm of the club as the team's only coach ever, has trimmed his roster by slicing rookie Mike Odemns, a guard-forward, and, a pair who had ABA experience, Jim O'Brien and Bill Higgins.

The Cavaliers will open their 1975-76 season on Thursday night in The Coliseum when they face the defending world champion Golden State Warriors led by the great Rick Barry. Listed on the Cavaliers roster are 10 returnees from last year's club, one who is back with the club after a three-year absence and two rookies. The rookies are handsome John Lambert, the Cavaliers No. 1 draft from USC, and rugged Eric Fernsten, a fourth round pick from San Francisco. Both rookies are combination forward-centers.

WINTER SPORTS

by Ron James

With fall sports coming to a close, winter sports will be getting into full swing. The basketball and wrestling team will start the wheels churning in preparation for the upcoming season. The fans at Salem High will have a lot to cheer about this year as both teams anticipate a good year.

Coach Hardman, in his second year as mentor of the Quakers, has three returning letterman in Tim Cope, Dion Treleven, and Mike Stapleton. The team will start practice October 31, and open the season with Youngstown Chaney November 21. Included in the schedule of this year's games are 12 home and 6 away games. The highlight of the schedule, however, is the addition of the West Branch basketball team. When asked what he thought of the addition of West Branch to the basketball schedule, Coach Hardman noted, "There will be tension between the schools and a rivalry will build up between the schools if they were only playing marbles."

Coach Bennett is also anticipating a good year as he takes to the mats with 12 returning lettermen. A conditioning program is being held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday with practice starting Monday, October 26. The Quakers will open the wrestling season at Ravenna December 6 and will come home to entertain West Branch in their initial home match. This year's grapplers will be competing in the tough Eastern Ohio Wrestling League, in which they placed fourth last year. This year's schedule finds the Quakers with 6 home and 6 away matches, and they will also take part in a tournament during the year.
