Student Council In Action

by Cindy Dowd

Student Council is still working hard, even though the year is coming to an end. The elections for new council members will be held soon. Anyone interested in becoming a member should go to room 220 and sign up.

Recently, four SHS students went to Ohio Association of Student Councils Conference in Alliance. Carolyn Boeckling, Cindy Dowd, Randy Riley, and Pat Delaite represented our school at this conference. A lot of ideas for spirit were brought back and a lot of friends were made.

The turn-around-day which was planned for this month is still being planned out. It is hoped to be worked out for the later part of this month.

The juke box has been acquired and is all ready for use next year. The juke-box is hoped to be placed in the cafeteria for use during the lunches, or in the gym, where students will be permitted to go after lunch.

Student Council is also planning to change the way the queen and her court are chosen so that the same people are not chosen for football and basketball court.

As the year comes to an end, council looks back on all the projects it completed this year. The homecoming dance, the painting of the concession stand by Krista Franzen and Anna Paparodis, the Valentine's Booth and dance, all the meetings during first period, all the dances that were sponsored, and the committees that were set up to help SHS problems. This year has been quite successful, although next year is hoped to be even better. As this year's senior officers, Sally Kendall, Janie Jesko, and Brad Smith, leave their best.

Student Council gets the uninvolved, involved. Would you like to get involved? It doesn't take long to sign up, but it's well worth the time.

LOOKING FORWARD TO GRADUATION

by Shar Fitch

How do you feel about graduation? It is getting closer and closer to the time for the seniors here at the SHS. Many different people will look at May 30, in many different ways. Here are some of them:

Carol S — excited, but scared, Gwen M — can't wait, Audrey C. — looking forward to college, Shar F. — yaa hoo! John F. — I'm thrilled, John S. — dyn-o-mite, Tod R. — senior vacation, Steve B. — it's coming, Jeff P. — whoopee, Peggy K. — happy and sad, Doris F. — can't wait, Lissa B. — excited, I guess, Jim C. — can't wait to get the hell out of here! Beagle, it's about time to get fired up. DJ — what a woo! George E. — geeze, Cacy — finally, Jill S. — it means saying goodbye to a lot of good friends, Irene M. — been waiting 12 years, Marsha H. — finally leaving, Jacque E. — leaving behind 4 years of memories, Kathy T. — going to the beach, Nancy P. — summer, Linda S. — yea! Kim R. — mixed emotions, Dion T. — party and suds, Kim M. — Virginia Beach, Cindy A. — gosh, I don't know, Lynn O. — free, hooker — the end, Carmel G. — getting out of here, Lori Mc — free, Dave J. — getting my car built, Martha F. — relief.

All in all, the general attitude is FREEDOM, but down deep, what are we really feeling? The seniors will be leaving their whole lives behind. Most of us are 17 or 18, we have gone to school for 12 years we have spent our whole lives here now what? Sure, we all have the feeling of freedom and relief to get out of here, but on May 30, there will be a lot of tears and I'll bet that they aren't all tears of relief!

AROUND OUR SCHOOL

Seniors

The mighty Seniors are really busy their last 21 days of school trying to decide on a Senior class gift and sending out commencement announcements. They're really getting excited as graduation draws nearer. Good luck in the future Seniors — we'll miss you!!!

Juniors

The Juniors deserve a great deal of praise for the terrific job they did on the prom. They are relieved to know that when prom-time comes around next year they can sit back and relax. They are counting the days 'til they are mighty Seniors.

Sophomores

The silly sophomores are looking forward to the special night of the semi-formal (May 15). Most of them have their license by now and can look back on Driver's Ed, and wonder how they ever got up so early. A special thanks to the servers and their escorts — they did a good job!

Freshmen

The itty bitty freshmen are looking forward to the time they will have a class below them to pick on. They are also looking forward to the semi-formal. Congratulations to the new cheerleaders!!

A Night To Remember

For any of you who don't know what happened on April 30, between the darkened hours of 9:00 and 12:00 a.m., I'll tell you. In our very own cafeteria here, at Salem High, (where we all love to spend so much of our time) took place the 1976 Junior-Senior Prom. (For those of you, who didn't read Thursday night's paper). It was an evening never to be forgotten. The theme of this wondrous event was "Knights in White Satin." Playing the theme song and many other romantic melodies throughout the night was a great group called Magnum. Everything went perfectly, due to the fact that it was planned and arranged so well by the Junior class and its Prom Advisors.

It was an enchanted evening. To set the mood of the medieval time period, the cafeteria was turned into a castle. Displayed around the entrance of the castle, where a lowered drawbridge lay, was a garden of ferns and flowers. Amidst the garden was a mystical lighted fountain. In addition to this, many other special touches completed the magical setting present on that evening.

Of the many people who attended the affair, all would probably agree that it was one of the best proms ever. Many thanks to all the people who worked so hard putting forth the greatest effort to make this year's Prom the overwhelming success that it was.

Our Band Is Number 1

Saturday, May 1, the Salem High School Symphonic Band traveled to Stanton Local High School in Irondale for state competition. The band judged for on stage performance and sightreading, received a I or Superior rating. For their on stage performance the band was given two I's and a II, while they received a III for sightreading.

The band played two selected numbers and a required number.

FIELD TRIP

It started that Wednesday, our Commercial Law classes first period and sixth period, left the school at 8:30 for our trip to the county court in Lisbon. Mr. Birtalen urged everyone to be on their best behavior or our grades would drop. When we got there we all filed into seats in Judge Kennedy's court to view a criminal case. We were surprised to find out that it was only to put bail on this man. He was charged with stealing a car and was set for trial later this month.

After that was over, we all piled into the court across the room to watch the court select the jury. After about an hour and a half the jury was selected and the court

The band played a march, E Pluribus Unum by Jewell and Third Suite by Jager. The required piece Divergents was written by McBeth.

For the first time in about 20 years, the band brought home the plaque given for a I rating and band members will receive medals with blue ribbons. The band put in a lot of hard work and time for this. Congratulations band and Mr. Jeckavitch.

began its case. The case was the State of Ohio versus. Thornberry a man from East Liverpool who was caught in the big drug raid which they had. After about twenty minutes we were allowed to have a break, which some students misunderstood and stayed out for an hour. When court resumed all but about ten were present. Mr. Birtalen wasn't too happy about it but it didn't show on his face . . . We got our hour lunch break and all reported back in court at one o'clock. We viewed a little bank civil case and then resumed with our drug case. At 2:20 we all gave our thanks to the court and left on the bus for our trip back to Salem High.

The $2.00 Bill

Reprinted from the April 19, 1976 issue of the Saxon News Volks-latt)

THE $2 BILL

On April 13, the birthday of Thomas Jefferson, whose picture it bears, the $2 bill made its reappearance after being phased out of circulation in 1966.

The two-dollar bill has a rich tradition in American history. Originating on June 25, 1776, the denomination was first issued by the Continental Congress as "bills of credit for the defense of America." Under this authority, 49,000 pieces were circulated.

During the Civil War, an Act of Congress recognized the two-dollar denomination as a form of U.S. currency, and it reappeared in subsequent years as over-size U.S. notes, silver certificates, Treasury notes, national bank currency and Federal Reserve notes with various portraits, including Alexander Hamilton, James B. McPherson, Winfield S. Hancock, William Windom and George Washington. In 1928, the more familiar size, with the portrait of Thomas Jefferson, was introduced.

The last printing of the two-dollar bill was the 1963-1963A series in May, 1965. Lack of public demand across the nation resulted in their discontinuance.

In recent months, increased interest in the two-dollar note has been expressed by Congress, the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, the public, the Federal Reserve System and collectors. Based on this, the Secretary of the Treasury William Simon authorized the revival of the bill.

The two-dollar bill issued April 13 is produced from a steel intaglio engraving similar to all other denominations of U.S. currency. The single color design used in the printing of all American currency now in circulation has been extended to include the new note, since expert judgment deems the technique to be an optimal deterrent to counterfeiting.

The face plate re-introduces a portrait of Thomas Jefferson, painted in the early 1800s by Gilbert Stuart and incorporates the features of the last two-dollar U.S. note. The design on the reverse plate is completely new, containing a vignette based upon John Trumbull's painting, "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence." However, esthetic considerations required that six figures appearing on the extreme left and right hand borders of the original art be dropped in the rendition.

On April 13, 225,000,000 new bills were made available to bankers through the Federal Reserve Systems. With an annual printing of 400,000,000 anticipated, issuance of the bill is designed to save the Federal Reserve System about $25 million and the Treasury nearly $88 million during the next five years. Because an average of 1.7 billion one-dollar notes are required each year, accounting for nearly 60 percent of the total volume of currency printed, the Treasury hopes the two-dollar bill will replace about half of the "ones" in circulation.

M. B. S.

To our attention this comment has been directed. "The Juniors have not been doing too good a job of keeping the prom a secret but I guess it is kind of hard keeping a class of girls like that quiet." We would like to quote to the boys their own words. "As you may now the column entitled MBS took a cheap shot at Strike Three. Humor has it that these antics are going to keep arriving in the Bi-weekly, but Strike Three will have no part of it. Strike Three feels that this is a childish act and the Junior girls who make up MBS should realize that the school paper (which the students pay for) should not be used for such tactics. This does not make for good journalism. Why Strike Three practice what you preach!!!"

MBS's hero of the week is Mitch Miller. Mitch recently broke the pole vault record which was set when they still used bamboo poles. Once again Mitch, MBS salutes you and would like to congratulate you on your well deserved accomplishment.

The junior class would like to give a special thanks to all who made the prom a success. The people highest on the list would have to be Miss Vicki Horning, Mr. Robert Viencek, and Mr. and Mrs. Zocolo. Now that it's all over and done with, all of us devoted prom painters are getting tired of being idle. Anybody need their house painted?

While strolling down the hall we accidentally overheard . . . slipped from the car all the way into the school today . . . but, Bun was really great . . . this is the way we sweep up the mulch . . . thirty-three hours straight . . . Wow . . . do another cartwheel will you? . . . all the tape? . . . is this the storage room? . . . snow again what happened to spring? . . . pardon me but can you polka? . . . Mushy Mushy Mushy . . . they were doing what . . . Good luck Wen . . . did you see Joe Namath's new prodigy? . . . Wow, wow and double wow . . . let's bronze it . . . breakfast in study hall? . . . can't wait till 1977 and we get out!! . . . three weeks, four days and one half day left . . . sleeping that's what they all say . . . Well that brings to a close another MBS article. Remember stay cool, keep flying, and enjoy life, you only go around once ya know. Toodles till next time.

Dates to Remember

Students! As the months of May and June bring the close of another school year for both the graduating seniors and the underclassmen, these two months are also the times of important events. There is no school Monday, May 31, because of Memorial Day. And finally, June 9 is the end of the six weeks and also the last day of school till next September for the underclassmen.

Alma Mater Blues

by Nance Zeck

It happens to the best of us you hear the people say,

And it happens to the worst of us in the same peculiar way.

We struggle through our chemistry, and that algebra sure was tough.

We fought our way through English and that U.S. government stuff.

We stayed up nights to study, 'til we thought our brains would burst,

But we'd catch a nap in study hall if worst would come to worst.

Although it took us 12 long years--well, 13 for a few,

We'll just be here a few more weeks -- can't help feelin' blue.

We're going to miss the activities, the kids and teachers, too,

And we hope that they, for a little while, will kind of miss us too.

Licorice Warning

Here is a piece of news that may come as a surprise to you. Did you know that licorice is harmful to your health? According to an article in the April 25, 1976 issue of the Parade, "the daily consumption of licorice can be harmful to your health . . ." The article goes on to say that ". . . it can cause headaches, high blood pressure, heart palpitations and other symptoms. These are the findings of a study carried out by Mark T. Epstein in Christchurch, New Zealand, on 18 volunteers. In every case the symptoms disappeared after the subjects stopped ingesting licorice." So, licorice fans be careful!

F.H.A. in Columbus for Confab

by Debbie Conser

On Friday, April 23 at 5:00 a.m., SHS's FHA (Future Homemakers of America) set out for Columbus, Ohio. The number of girls chosen to go was nine. Miss Hornung, the FHA advisor and Mrs. Votaw, a former teacher of SHS accompanied the girls and provided transportation. They arrived in Columbus at 9:00 a.m., not knowing in what hotel their reservations had been made. Luckily, the Neil House was the first and last stop for the reservations had been made there. A suite with three large rooms on the eighth floor was provided. After unpacking, most of the girls went shopping and discovered that Lazarus and Lerner were the best stores to shop at. Wendy's Restaurant was where everyone picked up a fast, but delicious lunch. At 1:00 p.m., Childrens Hospital was visited. A discussion was held in the auditorium of the hospital then a tour was given. Cheryl Leyman, president of FHA presented a check for $150 dollars to the hospital. This money was earned by the members of the club who volunteered to sell programs at the tournament basketball games at SHS. That part of the afternoon was an interesting experience for all. Everyone dined at a quiet Italian restaurant that evening. Veterans Memorial was where the Convention was held for FHA of Ohio. The evening session started at 8:00 p.m., with such things presented as the chorus, in which Beth Deames participated, the Miss Ohio FHA crowning, Mr. Grady Nutt, a humorist and lecturer who had the whole audience laughing wildly, and the introductions of the old and new state officers. A Swap Shop was held in the Neil House that evening for the girls staying there.

On Saturday, April 24 at 9:00 a.m. the new members of FHA had to attend the morning session of the Convention. Art awards, award of merit, historical slide show, and the installation of the 1976-77 state officers were among the many things presented. Good-byes were said to Columbus at 2:00 p.m. and they arrived back in Salem at 6:00 p.m. The trip was enjoyed by all. As you know, there are some things that happened during the trip which just can't be printed in a newspaper. Do you want to be informed about those goodies? If so, contact the following FHA members: Cheryl Leyman, Cindy Loutzenhiser, Penny Smith, Sheri Gleckler, Michelle Riffie, Shirley McCoy, Beth Deames, Robin Leyman, and Debbie Conser.

Coming activities of FHA are plans to attend the Kenley Players in Warren to see the Fonz. Hey! Officers for the 1976-77 school year will soon be elected.

The New Cheerleaders

by Becky Kynett

The 1976-77 Varsity and Reserve Cheerleaders were picked on Tuesday and Thursday of last week. The Varsity squad will consist of three juniors and three seniors. The seniors will be Judy Reese, Dawn Zangara (Capt.) and Becky Kynett while Amy Varkonda, Terri Galchick, and Debbie Henderson will make up the remainder of the squad. The JV's spirit will sparkle with Kathy Blubaugh, Jo Lynn Slocum, Abi Leija, Sue Stone, Mariha VanFossan, and Tammy Brink (Capt.).

The girls trying-out for Varsity were required to do a Varsity cheer, their choice of one of two reserve cheers, the Quaker jump, and an introduction with a C-jump into a buckle. The JV hopefuls tried out doing two cheers and the Quaker jump. Sophomores and junior girls were eligible for the Varsity squad and competition for these six posts included twelve girls after school Tuesday. On Thursday, twenty freshmen and sophomores did their best to capture the JV squad. Needless to say the choice was a hard one and all those girls who tried-out deserve congratulations for the fine job they did. Also the graduating seniors came faithfully to teach cheers, help, and reassure everyone. To these seniors everyone's appreciation is extended.

Within the next couple of weeks practices will begin for these girls preparing them for competition at camp. And next year with the support of the school, these cheerleaders will lead the super Salem spirit.

TIPS FOR SUMMER JOBS

Now that it's getting close to summer it is a good time to start looking for a job. If getting a job is one of your goals for this upcoming vacation, here are a few tips worth considering.

—Make sure you have a social security card. You will need this when applying. If you do not have a social security card, you can get one by going to the Post Office on Penn Ave. and filling out an application. Do this as soon as possible as it takes several weeks to receive it.

—Check the "employment" section of the Salem News each night. It is possible there will be an opening somewhere that will appeal or apply to you.

—Check with your counselor here at school. They can be a good source of information concerning job openings.

—Apply at different places even though help may not be needed at the particular moment you apply. This includes the West and East Unit Hospitals.

—Go to the unemployment office on 272 Penn Ave., across from the Post Office. Go to the desk on your right as you enter. You will be given an application to fill out, then be interviewed for a few minutes in order to complete this form and other necessary information.

—Also try Manpower in Lisbon, whose operation is much like that of the unemployment office in Salem but more geared to help students like yourself. For further information call, write, or visit:

Northeastern Ohio Manpower Consortium, Columbiana County Manpower Dept., 217 E. Lincoln Way, P.O. Box 213, Lisbon, Ohio 44332. Phone (216) 424-7722.

BEST WISHES as you hunt for a summer job!!

The Baseball Team

by Kim Callatone

The 1976 SHS baseball team started their season winning many of their games. The overall team effort has been much better than in past years. They started their season out pretty fast, but they have slowed down quite a bit recently.

There has been a lack of support this year at most of the games from the student body. Since this is the seniors last year and the last sport for them to participate in, let's show them we care and go to the remaining games and cheer them on.

BOYS TRACK

by Terry McElroy

The track team is having a tremendous season this year holding a 5 win 1 loss record and breaking four records. The most recent record broken was in the pole vault. Mike "Mitch" Miller broke the oldest standing record of 13'3-3/16 inches which was set in 1928 by "Rib" Allen. The new record stands at 13'-6" set in the Dover Relays held April 24. Three other records were set this year, Tim Cope, the outstanding high jumper, bettered his own mark of 6'-9" by jumping 6'-9-1/4" at the Boardman Relays. The four mile relay record was also broken by Kim and Ken Morrison, David Pittman and Cross Country star Paul Hoffman by running a time of 19:11 beating the old record of 19:36. The last record broken was in the 2 mile relay, members of the relay team are Kim and Ken Morrison, Steven DeRoads and Paul Hoffman which beat the old record of 88:20 with a time of 8:19.

This year's track team is led by tri-captains Ken Morrison, Mitch Miller, and Dion Treleven. There are 17 seniors on the track team this year and they are: Mitch Mil-elr, Dion Treleven, Kim and Ken Morrison, Bob Fisher, Bill Rich, Terry McElroy, Steven DeRoads, Mike Snyder, Tim Cope, Dave Adams, Bill Bentley, John Uru, Bill Lamb, Greg Sisler, Butch Zeppernick, and Dan Shellenberger.

The Quakers have the big County and Sectional meets coming up, going for their six straight county meet and their first Sectional Crown. The Cindermen are having, what is believed to be their best season ever and are hoping to win both meets.

This year's team has had meets with such teams as Austintown Fitch, Youngstown South, Woodrow Wilson, Ursuline, East Liverpool and Poland. We have placed in the Bill Ward Invit., second in the Dover Mini Relays, second in the F. E. Cope Relays.

The track team has several more meets left on the schedule and we would like to thank those of you from the student body who supported the track team and would like to encourage the rest of the student body to come to the remaining track meets and give them support.

So GOOD LUCK QUAKERS!

STRIKE THREE

Strike Three would like to congratulate all those people who had to write term papers for College English and College Writing. For many of these people it was the first major paper that they ever had to write. Looking back always brings memories like deadlines, notecards, outlines, rough drafts, and finally the finished product. The long hours that were put in both at the library and at home seemed like such a waste at the time, but now that the paper is done, we can rejoice in the thought that the teachers have to slave over our sources trying to figure out if we plagiarized or not.

Well, another Prom has come and gone and Strike Three extends its congratulations to the members of the Junior Class. The murals and scenery at this year's prom were some of the best in memory and we know that a lot of hard work was put into them. The After Prom was also a success except for one thing. Whoever came up with the idea of a caravan had to have had a screw loose. The people going to the After Prom had to sit in their cars for half an hour before they could leave. Then when the caravan finally did start rolling it took almost an hour to get there because everyone had to go thirty-five miles per hour. There would have been a lot less hassle if a little bit of trust had been placed with the people going to the After Prom.

Now that the school year is coming to an end, we Seniors have only one major obligation left. That obligation is to ourselves and it is to have the best time possible at all the graduation parties. So forget about all the problems that arose during school, and get down to the parties.

GIRLS TRACK

by Bob Fisher

Salem Girls Track is off to a good start. They remain undefeated so far this season. They looked especially good after coming up victorious at the triangular meet Wednesday, April 28. They outscored both Brookfield and Champion who were also undefeated until they came up against the Salem squad. As for the breaking of record there have been quite a few. Monica Rifee has broken her record in the shot numerous times. Also Nancy Paporodis broke the discus record at the triangular meet. The duo team of Kim Oriole and Chandler tied to break the mile record. Before the season is over they should be below the six minute mark. In the field events the Salem girls are doing alright. Dawn Zangara, Becky Cope, and Bonnie Chandler are the high jumpers. The medley relay team has also been looking good with speedster Diane Jackson as anchor. The hurdlers are doing well. Proctor and Jackson usually both take places. Abi Leija is doing an excellent job in the 440. She's also in the mile relay — they earlier broke a record. Also on that relay is D. J. Oriole and Williams. Debbie Henderson and Chandler are sparking the Quakerettes in the 880. These girls put in a lot of hard work to make a winning team. It's a team effort on the part of all the girls. Everyone has been willing to try their hardest. Practices are held almost every day at Reilly Field or at the Junior High from 6 'til around 7:30 or 8:00.

If you see a lot of girls running around that time up around this area it's probably the Salem Girls running the fun loop. Practices usually consist of a number of exercises (two of which are Proctor specials). Then the girls run awhile and then go back to more exercises. Mr. Hoopes is doing a fine job as coach and he should be very proud of his girls. The girls can stand up with the boys to be counted as a great track town. Nice going girls. We're behind you all the way.

Boys Tennis

by Ron James

The Salem High Tennis team, off to one of its better starts in recent years, is sporting a 4-5 won loss record so far this season. The team has logged wins over Crestwood, Canfield, Alliance and Niles, while coming up short against Louisville, West Branch, Warren Western Reserve, and Austintown Fitch.

Mr. Ritchey, taking over coaching duties of both the boys and girls squads, has done a great job with both teams this year. The team has home matches with West Branch and Warren Western Reserve and will close out the season with sectional tournaments May 14 and 15. Members of the team are senior, Dave Lundquist, Chris Byers, and Ron James. Juniors, Ralph Firestone, Scott Messenger, and Jay Santee. Sophomore David Johnson and Freshmen Jim Bob McQuilkin, George Buta, Caveman Hayes, Lester Smith, and Tim Williams.

Reserve Baseball

by Kevin Smutko

The reserve baseball team is off to a good start with a 1-3 record. The team has an excellent first string with a second string that can come in and take over where the first string left off. With Mr. Jerry Allen coaching they should have a successful season.

Coach Davies says that most of the varsity will be graduating and the reserve team will have to take over the job that the varsity has been doing.

The schedule includes games with Boardman, Wellsville, Alliance, East Palestine, and West Branch. The team has had a win over West Branch, and losses to East Palestine, West Branch, Sebring.

Mr. Allen says if they start hitting they will win the rest of our games. Mr. Allen feels that a lot of work is needed on fielding, too many errors are losing the games for us.

Girls Tennis

by Mark Batcha

The girls' tennis team is into full swing for spring action. The girls have played three matches, although victorious in only one. The singles players are Cathy Yeagley, Nancy Borkowski, and Liz Vance. The doubles teams consist of Buffy McCorkhill and Ann McQuilken, and Sandra Dunbar and Michele Murdoch. Other members of the squad are Ann Liggett, Carolyn Boeckling, and Nancy Yuhanick. The girls, under the direction of Mr. Ritchie, have had their problems this year due to the bad weather and inexperience of the team. Due to the change from spring to fall seasons this year, the tennis team will only play eight matches. The girls will entertain Boardman at Centennial Park on May 7, at 4:30 and then host Niles on May 20. They will travel to Warren Reserve on May 21 for their last match. Nancy Borkowski remains undefeated after 3 matches, Cathy Yeagley owns a 2-1 record, and Liz Vance holds a 1-2 record. The doubles teams have yet to win a match but are improving tremendously with each match. The girls practice every day after school for 2 hours in preparation of each match. Good luck to the team in their season!

Gymnastics Club

by Cheryl Blubaugh

This month Salem High School will have its Second Annual Gymnastics Show. The date is set for May 20, at 7:00 p.m. in the high school gymnasium. This year the show will consist of about 20 girls, all from Salem High School. In the show this year five apparatuses will be used. The apparatuses being used are the uneven-parallel bars, balance beam, floor exercises, vault and the new addition this year will be the mini-tramp.

The twenty girls have been working very hard practicing three nights a week, trying new things to add to their routine. This year each girl will make up her own routine. The club is supervised by Mrs. Csehill, the gym teacher. The Gymnastics Club would again like to congratulate Mrs. Csehill on her recent marriage. Good Luck! Some of the girls are taking gymnastics lessons downtown from Leah Flock. These girls have learned more things to put into their routine and so this year the routines are more advanced than last years. After the show a banquet is being planned for the participants.

The Great Oil Slicks of S.H.S.

by August Corso III

It seems that there have been several complaints lately as to the state of the parking lot. To those who are unfamiliar with the plight of a parking lot has been recently treated with a layer of oil. The purpose of this slick is said to keep off the dust; but it seems to be more harm than good. Oil has been tracked on the floors in school, in cars, on clothes and on the bottom shoes. Many complaints have been heard throughout the school of what it's doing to the cars. Not only on the outside of the cars but on the carpet as well. Who ever ordered the oil put on the parking lot must not know how hard it is to clean out of carpets. A good solution to the problem is to pave the whole lot. Then there won't be as many cars lost in the giant chuck holes and stuck in the oil slick. The rumor has been going around that the real purpose of the oil is to get kids skipping out by inspecting the soles of their shoes.

Cheerleaders' Memories

by Diane Bielski

As the seconds ticked away at the Regional Basketball Tournament, Sue Henderson, Janie Jesko, Julie Lange, and Madelyn Webb realized that that was their last time they would ever cheer for them as a varsity cheerleader. Looking back now many memories will stay with them.

Along with Dawn and Becky, they went to camp and to them it was a honor representing our high school and cheering of its praise. Even though they are each an individual, they united as one and with all their spirit and enthusiasm they proudly led the red and black many awards at camp. They devoted most of their time to cheerleading in order to make up their cheers and to make them perfect. To do this they practiced twice a day. This was hard work because not everything went smoothly all the time.

As soon as they arrived at Capital University, they cheered their lungs out to show their spirit and let everyone know Salem had arrived. They learned cheers and pom pom routines and had competition at night. Of course Salem received superior ratings and came home with the spirit stick and the highest award, the mark of excellence.

In the fall we found them down on the track cheering for the football team. You can't forget those rainy football games when they were bundled up in band jackets to help keep them dry. Around Thanksgiving they were down on the floor cheering for the basketball team. They also cheered for the girl's basketball team and the wrestlers. Pep assemblies was another one of their specialties. They helped everyone raise their spirit and help the team "get psyched" for the game. They spent a lot of time working but they still had good laughs during practices and games.

Honor Banquet

The John R. Callahan Academic Banquet will be held on May 20th in the Salem High Cafeteria. This banquet is sponsored by the Key Club to honor those students that have excelled in their school work. Students that have found their name on the Honor Roll for the first four six weeks grading periods will receive an invitation to the dinner.

The banquet was started by Mr. Callahan, a Kiwanis member and a former teacher here at the high school. The dinner is held to recognize those students that have maintained a three point average or better during the year.

Co-Ed Sports

by Martha Flood

Should girls and boys sports be combined with only one team for each sport? There are many conflicting opinions on this subject. Both positive and negative results of co-ed sports must be taken into consideration. Separate locker room facilities would be necessary. Different styles would need to be supervised would have to be hired

Today, in our school, there are no girls who could make the varsity boys teams. Athletic records are proof that boys are more athletically inclined than girls. Not enough girls would be able to make the reserve teams; most girls who are interested in sports would not have an opportunity to participate. How are the boys supposed to act with the girls during games and practices? Customs prevailing, the boys should be gentle with the girls and protect them. Boys should not be expected to give their female teammates special treatment. The girls can not expect the boys to treat them like "one of the guys" during practice and afterwards expect to be treated like ladies. Women's liberation movements may change the sports programs. Hopefully any new programs will allow for equal but separate teams.

AFTERPROM

by Cindy Loutzenhiser

On May 1, between the hours of 12:30 a.m. and 4:30 a.m. some 269 Juniors and Seniors made their way to the afterprom. The afterprom was held at Wedgewood Lanes in Austintown, and proved to be quite an evening. Before leaving the high school they had the All-Salem horn honking contest. This was led in part by Sandy Ehrhart, who tried to make it a big success. The group then started on their way in a caravan to Wedgewood Lanes. Upon arriving they found that they had the use of 50 bowling alleys, numerous pool tables, pinball machines, and were entertained by the music of "Heartsink." There was also plenty of good food to eat which made the night even more worth while. The evening was chaperoned by the Riley's, Weikart's, Esposito's, Moore's, Clayton's, and the Wright's. When it was over everyone tried to find their way home. Some were successful and others were not. We would like to thank all those who made the afterprom a success and especially to the chaperones who kept things in order! The evening ended with many tired people, but hopefully it will be a memory not soon to be forgotten!
