In Service Day At Salem High

by Tim Bergman

On Friday, November second, the students in the Salem High School had the day off because teachers were involved in an in-service day that was held at the Salem High School.

Teachers from all schools in the county were present at the in-service day meeting in which demonstrations and exhibits were seen and explained. At least forty exhibits that consist of wares, books, and a various assortment of topics highlighted the in-service day.

The day started between 8:00 and 8:30 with the pre-registration of all the teachers that attended the session. Then between 8:30 and 9:25 a general meeting for the teacher was held as an open session in the gym with coffee and doughnuts being served as a morning refreshment. At 9:25 the first of the six scheduled periods began, with each period lasting approximately forty-five minutes.

The teachers selected the topics that interested them the most and then selected two other topics as alternates in case the first choice wasn't available. The teachers also selected the periods in which they preferred to eat, with lunches being served in the cafeteria.

Some of the topics and exhibits shown or demonstrated during the day included workshops in Ecology to Math Enrichment programs. Also a key speaker during the day was the State Superintendent of Schools.

What's Happening With Hi Tri

by Chuck Cushman

Salem High School Academic Honor Society, will soon be a familiar name at Salem Senior High. Mrs. Cozza and Mrs. Ward are the advisors of this new club which was formerly the Hi-Tri. This organization will act as a service club, they will help the needy, the young and the elderly. Last year the Hi-Tri made Easter baskets, and as a Christmas project, baked and distributed cookies to the residents of the Smith Center. Some of the projects for the Academic Honor Society will be to purchase Christmas trees and canned goods for the elderly and the needy families in the area.

To be eligible for membership, a student must be a junior or senior, attain an "A" or "B" average and completed four consecutive semesters at Salem High. The first meeting was held Monday, October 22nd in the school library with 59 people in attendance, 35 new members and their parents.

Counselor's Corner

1. Financial Aid Information — The Financial Aid Form (FAF) and the Family Financial Statement (FFS) will be available in the Guidance offices after Nov. 1. These are the two forms used by all colleges to determine financial need in the financial aid process. These may be filled out but not dated or mailed until after January 1, 1980. To be eligible for financial aid, you must first be admitted to the college or school, so please make sure that you have applied or are in the application process. Also check with each college for any other financial forms that you must fill out. See a counselor if you have any questions.

2. St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing will be in the Guidance office on Monday, Nov. 12 at 9:00. If you would like to talk to this representative about that school or nursing in general, make arrangements with a counselor prior to that time.

3. ROTC Programs — Seniors, if you are interested in these programs, deadlines are soon approaching:
Navy ROTC — Dec. 1
Air Force ROTC — Jan. 15
Army ROTC — Nov. 15

If you are awarded an ROTC (Reserve Officer Training Corp.) this scholarship pays full tuition plus $100.00 a month for room, board and fees.

All Around School

by Phil Somgyarni

The student body of the Salem Senior High School has been quite active the first nine weeks of school, and the remainder of the school year should follow the same course.

Freshmen

The freshmen are off to a good start, having already had a football concession stand and a dance, both of which were very successful. Mrs. Eckstein, co-freshman class advisor, has told this reporter that a basketball concession stand will take place soon and that the freshmen will sponsor a dance in the spring.

Sophomores

The sophomore class is going to be very busy this year. The sophomores are planning a candy sale for late November and a dance and concession stand, both of which will occur during the basketball season. The sophomores just recently ordered their class rings from Jostens, and the rings are expected to arrive in January. Mr. Moncheck, a sophomore class advisor, recently stated that he was happy with the large turnout of sophs that bought class rings.

Juniors

The juniors have had a great year so far. They have sponsored two concession stands and two dances. These activities have helped to raise enough money for the prom already. This has enabled the junior class to start saving for the senior gift. Work on the prom will begin immediately after the football season ends. In an interview with Todd Olsen, junior class president, Todd expressed his thoughts on the junior class and the upcoming prom: "We would like to ask all to participate in the prom activities coming up in the near future. We plan to hold the prom in the school and hope that the Juniors will stick together and put out a good prom in May."

Seniors

The seniors held the first football concession stand and are financially sound. The main thought on the minds of most seniors nowadays is graduation. Mr. Robinson has begun to take senior pictures at the high school, and any senior not wishing to have his or her picture taken at the high school will have to travel to Robinson's studios in Boardman to have it taken. The seniors recently chose three announcements, all of which are on display in the display case. The seniors will vote in November on the one they wish to use.

Home Ec. Students Enjoy Speaker

by Ken Graff

What's been going on in Mrs. Hornung's Home Economics classes? Speakers, such as Mrs. Suzanne Denny, spoke on pregnancy to the juniors and seniors. Mrs. Denny, who taught Earth Science here at Salem High, gave birth to twins — a boy and a girl. She says she doesn't get much sleep because while one is up crying, the other one sleeps and then vice versa.

Dr. Terrance Casey spoke to the H.E. classes on October 3rd. His topics dealt with labor, delivery, contraceptives and nutrition during pregnancy, problems in delivery and the importance of a good relationship with your doctor.

Jane Csepke Milson and Sherri Straight Lucas, two former Salem High students, who recently gave birth, discussed the premature deliveries and individual pregnancy deliveries.

In Home Economics II, Diane Roberts from Barbizon had a program on beauty and modeling. Diane discussed such things as posture, grooming, make-up, smiling, positive thinking and programs available to the students in this area.

When asked what she thought about the speakers, Mrs. Hornung replied, "They were excellent community resource persons. They shared their personal or work experiences with the students. The speakers were so responsive to the students that they felt comfortable in asking questions dealing with some very personal topics."

On T.V.? Yes Says Frank Marino

by Jack Zocolo

Frank Marino, a senior at Salem Senior High School, represented Salem in the television show "Student News Conference." This program is directed to high school students who want to be informed about the new happenings around them. The show was televised Saturday, October 13, at 2:30 p.m.

The topic for this show was electrical energy. Earl Lewis, of Ohio Edison, talked about electrical energy and how it affects the people today. Some of the questions asked were about what teenagers could do to conserve energy. And how the EPA is making regulations setting back Ohio Edison. For example, the air pollutant devices put on Ohio Edison factories for their use in coal energy.

Three other schools participated on the television program, they were: Champion, Hubbard and

Frank Marino

Rayen. Each of these students got out of school Friday, October 12, to tape the conference. The show is televised every Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. If the show continues, Salem may be chosen again to be on it.

Some of Frank's overall comments on the show were, "It was a terrific experience, and I would like to do it again. Just being on the set and actually taping the show live was an experience all by itself."

Frank's activities this year are: biology aide, academic challenge team, employed at Paul's Sunoco, and was picked for the book Who's Who Among American High School Students. His future plans are to go to college and then medical school to become a medical doctor.

The student body should be very proud of Frank for doing an excellent job. CONGRATULATIONS FRANK!

Excited Sophomores With Class Rings

by Tami Huffer

The sophomore class has recently chosen and ordered their class rings by Jostens at prices ranging from $55.00 to $94.00 for girls' styles and $59.00 to $120.00 for boys' style.

The sophs took great care in selecting the stone, style and sides of their rings because they represent their individual accomplishments here at SHS. The choice of metals for the foundation of the ring were Custerium, Argentus, and the old, but costly favorite, 10 karat gold.

Interesting features to the rings are the popular select-a-side panels and names written inside of the ring in either script or signature.

We may have some budding photographers in our school. Some photography students entered the Nikon Photo Contest on October 26th. The prints were sent to Japan for judging and the results will be announced sometime in February. One of the entrants, David Shivers, said they will be judging prints from all over the world. David has his own dark room at home and he now owns 87 cameras, which he collects. His 3 prints he sent in were titled: "Happy Spirits," "Together," and "Spider's Web." We wish all these students GOOD LUCK!!!

Elections

Nov. 6

by Janet Bettis

Voters will decide upon various candidates and issues at the polls in tomorrow's election. Three school board members, a mayor, councilmen, and a law director are seeking a yes vote from Salem residents. Four taxes and one proposed law will also be on the ballots.

John Herman, Bruce Gordon and Bryce Kendall are the incumbent school board members that are up for re-election along with Joseph Clark and Terry Casey. The three offices have four-year terms.

Dean Cranmer and Robert Sell are the two candidates for the mayoral position.

A new law is being proposed that would require at least a ten-cent deposit on all beverage containers and the sale of beverages in metal cans that have detachable pull-tabs would be prohibited. The purpose of this proposed law is to cut down on pollution, but opponents state it will only drive prices up.

Taxes for sheriff's department, Robert Bycroft School, tuberculosis clinic, and the Salem City that is earmarked for the parks are the local issues.

Pep Assemblies

by Bonnie Bowker

There will be no more pep assemblies for the football team this year, but there will be a bonfire Friday preceding the West Branch game. Coach Ricker has cancelled the pep assemblies stating, "I feel there's too much support for the class, and not enough for Salem. Also, a lot of kids think getting out of class is what the pep assemblies are for."

Bad conduct has also caused our privilege to be taken away. "Some of the kids don't care, they're just disrespectful," was Mr. Ricker's comment. "I can't see taking a team in there when they don't get fired up."

When asked if pep assemblies benefitted the team, Mr. Ricker said, "Last year there was good pep. The level of cooperation has fallen off." Mr. Ricker did say he appreciated the pepettes, the cheerleaders, and the student body who have done things that are positive. "The pep assembly is for the student body," Coach Ricker commented. "All the kids that are behind us, it means a lot to us."

Coach Ricker added, "I'm not complaining. It's the way I make my living. There's a difference between right and wrong. I want things to be done right."

Editorial

Editor:

When I received my copy of the Quaker Bi-Weekly of October 5, 1979, I was pleased to see an article about the reunion of the 1929 Salem football team. As I read the article, however, it appeared that the name of one important player had not been included. That player is August Corso, Jr.

If you are wondering why this error would prompt me to write this letter, it is because Mr. Corso is my dad — and very much a member of that "famous" team and due the same honor as the others.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Frances May

The Talkative Corner

Here we are in the talkative corner of an SHS classroom, going over the latest news. We have a question to ask. When will the Pizza Hut open? We are ready to chow down!

A message to the guys. You still have 46 days to get a date for the White Christmas.

The biggest news is Spirit Week which is to begin today and run until the West Branch game. Each class will be assigned a hall in the school to decorate. Other events will also take place during the week.

Office Aides Work Hard

by Becky Grimm

Are you tired of sitting in study hall? Well, maybe you could be an office aid. This semester office aids are 1st period: Wendy Ellis, Kathy Lewis; 2nd period: Sean Hart, Robin Finch; 3rd period: Dave Mowery, Kathy McGowan; 4th period: Trish Shiavone, Shelly Kloos; 5th period: Amy Close, Marsha Euker; 6th period: Marsha Euker, Anita Edger; 7th period: Amy Close, Anita Edger; 8th period: Troy Yakubeck, Denny Ulrich; 9th period: Dave Barrétt, Connie Kloos.

An office aids job is to do the attendance, sort the mail and run other errands for Mr. Delane and the other personnel in the office. Office aids are the right hand men for the secretaries in the office. Mrs. Halroyd is in charge of the office aids. So if you want to be an office aid, go to the office at the beginning of next semester and sign up. Some of the restrictions are that you should have a study hall everyday for the period you sign up. Mrs. Halroyd doesn't like to pick too many seniors because at the end of the year they leave early and she likes to have people already trained for next year.

1979-80 Key Club officers, l. to r.: Dave Shiller, sec., Joe Vuksta, treas., Chuck Henderson, vice pres., Drew Santee, pres.

Key Club Chooses New Officers

by Natalie Meyer

The Key Club has planned out the year's activities from now until the end of school, with an extensive range of projects.

This year's Key president is Drew Santee, the vice-president, Chuck Henderson. Their general activities, and basic projects are for the Community and School, especially the needy. At Christmas time, the needy children of Salem will be receiving gifts; baskets will be given by the Key club at Thanksgiving and Christmas time. The Key club runs the concession stand at boys wrestling matches and the girls basketball games, to raise funds.

This year's other new officers are Dave Schelling, secretary and Joe Vuksta, treasurer. The special function is the Scholarship Banquet for Salem scholars.

The Key club will be driving those cystic fibrosis invalids around town this year for elections, as well as having collections for the fund. At Christmas time, once again, the Key Club will be ringing bells for the Salvation Army.

The program the Key Club is working around, does not differ this year from past years.

Freshmen and Sophomores are encouraged to join the Key Club, and are welcome to help in the activities.

Scholastic Challenge

by Steve Pridon

Many Salem High School students ask the question, "what is the difference between Academic Challenge and Scholastic Challenge?"

Academic Challenge is the televised quiz show in which schools from all over Ohio compete against each other. Salem was accepted for the Academic Challenge program in the 1977-1978 school year. However, their application was turned down the next year, because of previous competition the year before.

Since Salem was rejected from Academic Challenge, Mrs. Eckstein and Mrs. May, supervisors of the educational events at Salem, put their heads together and came up with Scholastic Challenge. Why? Mrs. May said that she wanted to continue practice with the students interested in academics.

Scholastic Challenge was set up for competition between the schools in Columbiana County. The schools that will compete this year are Columbiana, East Liverpool, East Palestine, Leetonia, United, Wellsville and Salem.

A Scholastic Challenge team consists of four members who are chosen by their participation in Wednesday night practices. Questions are read during a twenty-minute session, while the students answer and try to get the most points. However, Mrs. May said that the top four students with the most points are not always chosen for the team. She said that they like to choose students who are good in a specific category, so that Salem will have a well-rounded team.

ROCK MUZIK

by Phil Somgynari

Call the cops! Cheap Trick has just released a new album, Dream Police.

This new album features some of the tightest playing I have heard in a long time. The band can really kick out the walls with rockers like "Writing on the Wall" and "The House is Rocking (with domestic problems)," but they also aren't afraid to go mellow occasionally ("Voices"). It is also great to hear bassist Tom Petersson vocalize on "I know what I want." Tom's voice is tinny sounding, but at least it doesn't crack.

To quote the title of one of the songs on the album, this album is "Gonna Raise Hell." No promises broken.

Head Games, the new Foreigner album, is the most creative effort by the British-American supergroup thus far.

It is hard to classify Foreigner musically. They are not as progressive as Pink Floyd and not as heavy metal as AC/DC. Foreigner actually combines the two forms into one pulsating sound. Choice cuts on this disc are "Women," "Dirty White Boy," and "Rev on the Red Line," a song about racing in the streets (Sound like Springsteen?)

This is a very heady album, and should bring the band even greater success.

High School To Be Inspected

by Buddy Wood

The State Department of Education is coming to the high school around the date of January 31, 1980. The State Department of Education's job is to evaluate and inspect things going on in the school. To be more specific, they check over the grading systems of teachers to see if they are too hard or too easy for the students. They also check to see if building facilities are in top condition for the students. The State Department also goes over the credit system and the courses of study. The courses of study are evaluated to see if the students are getting anything out of the course. Not only do they inspect and go over objects and problems with the school but they also interview students and teachers about how the school looks to them.

The whole process of the State Department takes one to two days of work. Principal Delane said of the State Department of Education, "They perform a valuable function for school by setting up good standards." Mr. Delane also said, "Salem High School is in excellent condition. There will be no problems at all."

The last time the State Department was at Salem was in March of 1975. "It is good that we have standards to abide by. This helps Salem to be an excellent school," Principal Delane said.

Enjoy these last few fall days with a walk thru the park.

what the meaning of a green M&M is.

Did any of the high school students get scared by goblins over Halloween?

Don't forget the rice when you see the "Rocky Horror Picture Show." The audience is supposed to throw stuff at the screen and squirt squirt-guns, all that good stuff people get in trouble for doing.

We'll probably get in trouble if we don't learn how to talk less. Well, so long for now and as they say in Sophomores are ordering their class rings. After they are ordered the time before the rings come in is not far away.

What did everyone think of the first snow? We thought it was pretty wild. Can't wait for the first day of a deep snow, so we can build a snowman.

There is one thing that is puzzling us, about the last issue in the Trivial Trivia column. What was meant by green M&M's? We don't understand

First Simulator Class Gets Underway

by Chris Toot

The first session of the Driving Simulator is now in full swing, and is being taught by Mr. John Sawyer.

The simulator is basically a car dashboard that is in front of the student. The road is a movie that is projected in front of the student. The simulator shows techniques for avoiding accidents, results of not following safety rules and stickshift experience which isn't done with in-car. Mr. Sawyer commented that next year they will get a new simulator with ramps and one unit with hand controls for the handicapped who cannot use their feet.

It takes a very special man to teach a course like this, and that man is Mr. Sawyer. Mr. Sawyer came from Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania and received his B.S. in Education at Geneva College. He has taught at different schools for 4 years and now is in his 10th year for the simulator. Mr. Sawyer is involved in the America Drive and Traffic Safety Association, Board of Directors for Ohio Drivers and Safety Association, and a consultant in Drivers Education for Ohio Department and all Columbiana County Schools.

He lives in Highlandtown, which is in the Southern Local school district, with his wife Toni, a daughter, Heather, and a son, Tom. He is a fire captain for the Highlandtown Volunteer Fire Department and runs a 90-acre farm.

When asked what he thought about the students at SHS, he commented that he has very few disciplinary problems, mostly because they want to take the course, and enjoy it. He thinks the students here at Salem High feel that they are more sophisticated than other students.

Mr. Sawyer has 10 other schools to attend to and works 11 months a year. He will return in late March for the second session of the Driving Simulator.

I.O.E. Classes Select New Officers

by Sheryl Jamison

What is I.O.E.? Intensive Office Education, which is a two year course that is offered in the junior year of high school and continues through the senior year. I.O.E. classes are divided into two divisions, steno and clerical.

The differences between the clerical and steno classes are as follows. The clerical class offers two years of accounting, two of typing, math, English, and also calculator. Steno offers one year of filing, one year of accounting, and two years of shorthand.

The teachers of the clerical and steno classes are: Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Conkle, Mrs. McKenzie, and Mrs. Haddad.

Each class of clerical and steno have officers, which organize the classes to raise money to go to competition, that is held later on in the year. The junior class sold cheese to raise the money. Seniors are selling stuffed animals.

The officers for Clerical II are as follows: President, Brenda Snyder; vice-president, Suzanne Fulgoni; secretary, Tarri Houp; treasurer, Janice Zamora; parliamentarian, Lorie Meissner; historian, Sandy Goughenour; Clerical I; president, Terry Miller; vice-president, Penny Lemon; secretary, Charolette Messenger; treasurer, Ruth Shasteen; parliamentarian, Ann Carlisle; historian, Patti Pitts; Steno II: president, Sue Paxton; vice-president, Susie Yakubek; secretary, Trudy Lottman; treasurer, Pam Dimko; parliamentarian, Lynda Smith; historians, Cindy Hole, and Bonnie Bailey.

Steno I: president, Naomo Pregibon; vice-president, Diana Shoemaker; secretary, Tamy Reed; treasurer, Angela Pasteur; parliamentarian, Linda Hart; historian, Janet Walters.

In February there will be an assembly for sophomores concerning I.O.E. for any student who is interested.

Mrs. Powers stated, "Steno is good if the student can handle it." Sophomores have a few months to decide if they would like to go into I.O.E.

What's Brewing In Family Living

by Kristi Franklin

Getting along with parents is the current topic being discussed in Mrs. Cozza's Family Living classes.

The students openly discuss in class how to approach problems being experienced today by many teenagers, emphasizing to relate to their parents with an understanding and reasonable point of view. The most important aspects the teacher stresses is to look at their lives realistically, the importance of communication with others, to analyze all the pros and cons of problems, and to be willing to accept consequences. Mrs. Cozza also tells her students to think twice before making final decisions that affect their lives.

White Christmas

by Lois Landwert

Different rumors have been going around concerning the White Christmas dance. The dance is going to be held at Timberlanes on Friday, December 21, 1979. Instead of sitting in a cafeteria with murals on the walls, we will be in an elegant atmosphere of candlelight. The theme for this year is "Midnight Christmas." There is a possibility that the dance will last until 12:30.

Timberlanes is setting up decorations which will amount to about $1,000. Couples will be listening to the music of "Joint Effort" as they will play half slow and half fast songs. Before the dance will be an optional buffet dinner at Timberlanes. The tickets for dinner and dance are $20 a couple and "must" be purchased ahead of time. Couples going only to the dance will pay $5.00. The buffet is an advantage for the guys because it will be much cheaper than going out of town to another restaurant. We hope many juniors and seniors will take advantage of this great idea.

The committee is selling raffle tickets now until November 17. First prize is $20.00 so get your tickets now from any committee members. The tri-chairmen for this year are Patty Ward, Jennifer Wilhelm and Anne Barrette.

Pepettes Plan West Branch Spirit Week Nov. 5-10

by Mary Kopec

This week is Spirit Week here at the high school, and in order to raise the enthusiasm of the students for the West Branch game this weekend, the Pepettes have made some plans that can get all the students involved.

For instance, the Pepettes are holding a "Red and Black Day" on which everyone should wear red and black in order to show some Salem pride.

There will also be a "Stomp 'Em Day." On this day, students should wear boots to show that they have faith and confidence in the Salem team, and that they hope the team can "stomp" all over the West Branch players.

Everyone should wear black on "Mourning Day," which has been set aside in anticipation of the "funeral" which the students hope will need to be held for West Branch.

On "Farmer Day," students should come to school dressed in overalls, work shoes, straw hats, and other clothes characteristic of farmers.

Also, the Pepettes plan to decorate the football players' locker room as well as the bus on which they will be travelling to West Branch. They will also put up signs in the cafeteria in an effort to help boost student energy for the game with their longtime rivals.

Pepette captain Jen Wilhelm says that student enthusiasm could be improved upon in that students should cheer more at assemblies. However, she feels that it is overall pretty satisfactory and that activities like these will help raise students' spirit by showing that they care about their school.

Fads-n-Fashions

by Kim and Chris

Hi Gals,

New and different things are happening every day, and new fashions are being brought to our attention every day. If you want to click with the teenagers of today grab some of these new ideas from our: What's New in the World of Fashion.

Have you seen the latest thing in jeans? If you haven't, then just take a look around! Most gals are wearing jeans of famous brand name designers such as: Gloria Vanderbilt, Calvin Klein, Sassoon, Geoffrey Beene, but these are just a few — there are lots more. The "in" shirts to wear with these jeans are of course, designer tops, sweaters, and T-shirts.

When it comes to dressier occasions pleated skirts and pants seem to be a big thing.

The skirts: some are fully pleated all the way around, some are narrow and pleated, but the most popular style seems to be the narrow skirt with the side and front slits and the kick pleats. The pants are just about the same, pleated tops and narrow legs, some however, are slit a few inches up along side of the ankle. The popular materials for winter for these two garments are wool, wool blends and tweeds.

Accessory Corner

Accessories play an important role in today's fashion world. The shoes that are making a second appearance in the fashion world are the ever so famous "pumps". Ankle strapped shoes are also in style but everyone's favorite seems to be "candies".

Well, that's the round-up, Gals! So, until next time . . . go out there and knock 'em dead!!

WBBZ Sports

Hello everyone. We're the WBBZ sports column here to update you on the wonderful world of athletics. The mighty Quaker football machine finally put the offense and defense together and idled over the Canfield Cardinals by a score of 25-8, putting another tally in the win column. The following week the Indians of Girard fell victim of the super play of the Quaker machine as they were handed a 14-6 setback. Then the strong team from Warren J.F.K. entered Quaker battleground in which the red and black fought valiantly, but only to come up on the short end of the stick with a 19-8 decision. Congratulations to the volleyball team who took 1st place in the first annual Salem volleyball tournament by defeating Canton Hoover, East Palestine and a super tough Canton Timken unit.

The winter sports scene is just around the corner and our perspective teams are looking forward to their season opener. The boys' basketball squad has been working hard and we look for them to have a better season mark than last year. The team will open its cage season by hosting arch rival West Branch, Poland, and Marlinton in the John Cabas Invitational.

The girls' basketball unit will be looking forward to another fine season under the leadership of second year mentor Mr. Craig Readshaw. Despite the loss of former excellent players the Quaker ladies still have much talent and should improve from last year's 17-3 mark.

The wrestling squad features many dedicated grapplers back from last year's excellent team, along with some new faces that will boost their hopes for a winning squad.

The cross country team deserves much credit as they had another super year.

Mr. Ritchie's golf team had a fine season and we see promising sights for them in the future.

The tennis team had its ups and downs, but picked up toward the end of the season which shows they never give up, and that is a promising thought.

How about those Pirates? The fans celebrated as the Bucs put another World Series under their belt as they defeated the "Birds" from Baltimore in the seventh game of the series. Well, Auf Wiedersehen, until our next column!

Reminder: Senior Portraits

by Sean Hart

Attention Seniors! If any senior wishes to have his or her picture in the colored section of the year book, you must have a picture taken by Mr. Robinson before Christmas vacation. Mr. Robinson will be taking pictures in Room 157 all this week, and anyone wishing to get a picture taken here at the school must see Mr. Robinson for an appointment. This colored section of the yearbook will cost approximately $1,000 extra. To help defray the extra cost, the yearbook staff is trying to sell more ads.

Mat Champion — A Bear

by Rick Zubaty

Ken Graff, a senior at Salem High School, took on a task that many people wouldn't even want to think about. On the night of October 11, this young man stepped into the wrestling ring with a 750-pound brown bear.

The rule and the prize for the match was short and simple. The prize was $5,000.00. The rule was that Ken had to put the bear on its back. This may sound fairly easy to some wrestling enthusiasts, but it wasn't.

Ken said that he wanted to see what professional wrestling was like. He went to the promoter of the fight and asked for a match. The promoter would not allow him to wrestle a man but told him that he might be able to wrestle a bear. The thought of wrestling a bear intrigued Ken. He went and talked to the president of the Jaycees, (the Jaycees sponsored the evening of wrestling) and he was assured that he would wrestle the bear.

When asked about how he told his parents, Ken said, "I didn't, they found out by word of mouth." Many people around the school and many of his friends thought for sure he would back out. He didn't. Ken said, "I could hear people cheering for me as I wrestled."

When asked about the match itself, Ken said, the bear was "very heavy and strong. I had a good time but my legs got tired from trying to get the bear off my back."

When asked about another match, Ken replied, "I'd love to." Well, good luck, Ken.

Cross Country Ends 'Super Season'

by Greg Toothman

The Salem cross country team ended their season this month with an outstanding season average of 20 wins and 4 losses. The harriers ran a great season under the coaching of Mr. Mike Guappone with him helping behind the team from the beginning of the season to the end. The C.C. put all possible energy out to win their meets this season working every day after school, from their strenuous 7 to 9 mile runs, to the close, almost family relationship of the entire team.

The cross country team all ran this year with the will to run even with sickness and injuries. One runner, Todd McCormick ran the beginning of the year with a bandaged ankle. Most of the runners ran whether or not they were physically or mentally up to it. Sometimes a person wonders why a person would try to run 2½ miles at a time. That is usually 14 minutes or less. Some people on the team run it for the training to run better in track for next spring. But most run just for the competition and to see if they can do it and run with the pain to compete. Mr. Mike Guappone, the C.C. coach, usually keeps the team amused by telling a few jokes. It relieves tension before or after a race. The bus is usually quiet before a race; people usually sitting quietly, psyching themselves out or meditating about what will happen before or after the race. The cross country team has had a great season and the Salem High School wishes them well for their seasons to come.

Remember, get up in spirit!

Golfers Post Dismal Season

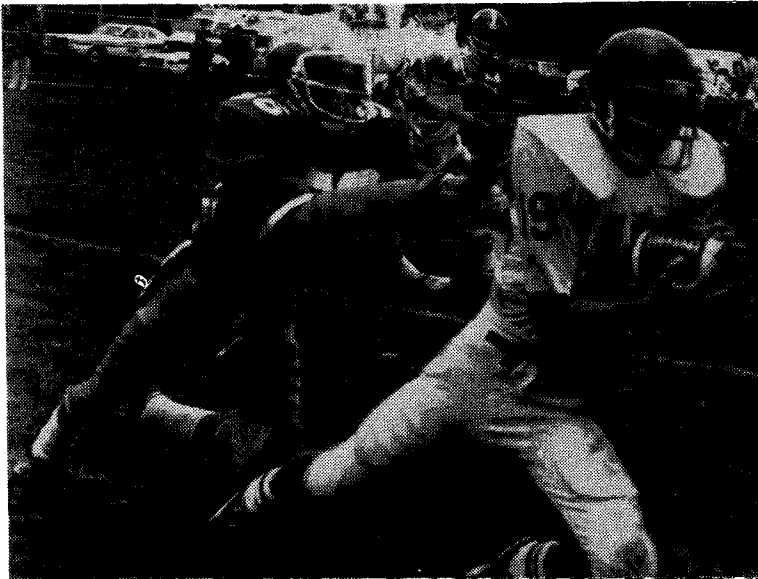

by Mark Willis

The golf team, headed by Coach Ritchie, swung out of the season with an improvement of 10 wins and 12 losses over last year's 5 wins. This is the second year for Mr. Ritchie as a golf coach and he plans on returning next year as coach. He said, "Most of the players this year were pretty even in talent" and he also stated, "Dan Boehm, Scott Roessler and Jeremy Rousseau were the leading players." Many others backed the team with their support and their ability to hit the ball. Mr. Ritchie thought everyone had improved from last year and all are good prospects for next year. When asked what match this year was the toughest, he replied, "It would have to have been the last match with Canfield in which both teams went into a sudden death play-off and Canfield beat us by one stroke." The team lost some close ones and won some tough ones but overall it looks like they're doing fine. Congratulations team and good luck next year. The team's scores stand as follows:

Salem	Record
180 Beaver Local (200)
East Liverpool (215)	2-0
182 East Liverpool (193)	3-0
184 East Palestine (182)

Veteran Gals Optimistic

Mr. Readshaw's girls are hoping to extend their 12-0 MVC record this year with many strong veteran players returning to action on November 29 at Louisville. The girls are coming off of a 17-3 record from last year and are looking as if they will be just as tough this year. They will be concentrating on their jump shots which will make them a better scoring team this season. Mr. Readshaw will be working to better his team again this year by using the fast-break, a complete full court press, and taking better shots which mean more points. "Better shape and conditioning of my team will make them come out ahead with a victory," says Mr. Readshaw. Senior girls include Sue Maher, Denise Wood, Ann Jones, Jeanne Kennedy, Jill Zocolo, and Linda Faieta. Juniors include Lois Miller and Tammy Bailey. Good luck, girls in the upcoming season!

Quakers Eyeing Even Mark

by Mike Berger

It has been a disappointing season so far for the Salem Quakers. They have compiled an overall record of 3-5, and are currently 2-3 in the Mahoning Valley Conference. Salem traveled to Poland on Saturday, October 6th and came home on the losing end of a 22-21 thriller. Salem held a lead of 21-14 late into the final period. Poland scored with 3:15 left to play, and called time out to decide whether to play for the tie or the win. The Bulldogs chose to try for the two points and scored. The Quakers were stopped on their final effort to win the game.

Salem defeated Canfield 25-8 at Reilly Stadium on Friday, October 12, to gain their first Mahoning Valley Conference win, and improved the seasonal record to 2-4. The Salem Quakers controlled throughout most of the game.

The Salem Quakers won their second consecutive game when they defeated Girard 14-6 on October 19. Jeff Strabala scored both Salem touchdowns, while the Quaker defense held the Indians to only one score.

Warren JFK invaded Reilly Stadium on October 26 and handed the Quakers a 19-8 setback. Salem's only score came when Bill Beer caught a pass from Rick Zubaty. The conversion was good. Salem's record dropped to 3-5 on the year and 2-3 in the Mahoning Valley Conference.

The Quakers played their last home game of the season on Friday, November 2, against the East Liverpool Potters. Salem will end the season when they travel to West Branch to meet the Warriors. With victories over East Liverpool and West Branch, Salem can register a 5-5 seasonal mark.

The Quaker staff would like to wish the Salem Quakers good luck for the remainder of the season.

Roundballs Bouncing

by Jim Mowery

The 1979-80 basketball team will prevail their talent on November 23 and 24 at home at the first annual John Cabas Thanksgiving Tournament. The tournament will include West Branch, Poland and Marlinton. Mr. Hackett is looking forward to improving his 7-12 record from the last two seasons. Mr. Hackett is very confident of his players and has been having "open gym practices" to better these fine players. His team is working on the basic fundamentals of basketball and will get deeper into the game as the practices go on. "We have been working hard over the summer and these practices will pay off in the upcoming season," says Mr. Hackett. Led by Mr. Hackett, the roundballers include 5 excellent senior players. They are Mark Shivers, John Madison, Brett Smith, Joe Hartzell, and Scott Smith. Tom Scullion, a junior, is also an excellent player.

The Good, The Bad And The Disappointed

by Cindy Roessler

The SHS varsity volleyball team has been doing a super job this season. So far, the team's seasonal record is 15-1. Their one loss was to Canton Timken, who they beat later in the season, at a Salem Invitational, held on October 20. At the invitational, Salem was the clear-cut winner, beating North Canton 15-4 and 15-9, East Palestine 15-8 and 15-13, and Canton Timken 15-8 and 15-2.

Coach Conser commented that the two hardest opponents the team plays are West Branch and East Liverpool. He also said that "It is always very hard to go to someone else's home court and win."

Normally eight members dress, but twelve girls went to the sectional tournaments. They are Linda Hart, Lisa Hart, Doreen Jackson, Mary Lou Perry, Wendy Stillwell, Diane Ward, Denise Wood, Mary Zocolo, Dee Schaefer, Nancy Maher, Deb Couchie, and Brenda Alesi. The last four are from the reserve team.

Salem did not do too well in the sectionals held Oct. 25, even though they put up a good fight. The team played well, but not well enough against tough Massillon Perry. The final scores were close — 16-14 and 15-9. Coach Conser commented, "We would have done better in sectional play, if we'd had better officials during the year to get used to the way calls should be made."

When asked if he had any other comments, Coach Conser said, "We've had a real good year, and the girls are very talented."

Let's hear it for the great SHS girls' volleyball team!

Tennis Aces End Season

by Dennis Twaddle

Ending with a record of 9-9 the girls' tennis team ended in an encouraging note with a 4-1 win over Campbell Memorial.

According to Coach Powers, Lori Ritchie and Becky Vuksta were two of the most promising players this year with Lori carrying a record of 11-5 and Becky with a 13-5 record.

Freshman Gridders

by Todd Olson

The Freshmen football team has met some tough luck these past few weeks dropping 4 straight games after winning the first 2. The team has failed to score a point in their last 4 losing bids to Poland, Canfield, JFK, and Girard.

In the third game of the season, Poland and Salem, both with 2-0 records at that time, met to determine who would take over first place in the Mahoning Valley Conference. The Poland Bulldogs handed the Quakers a 38-0 setback. Mr. Clyde Ross, Freshmen football coach, expressed that the loss to Poland was the turning point downhill for his team. Since the loss, the Quakers lost 3 games in a row.

Coach Ross points out that the Freshmen have suffered key injuries that haven't helped the winning cause. Injuries to Steve Strabala, Steve Breckenridgs, Dave Janofa, and Jeff Watson have crippled the gridiron squad.

Coach Ross feels that his gridders have not played to their potential. He comments on the season by stating, "Either a team improves every game or it gets worse."

The Freshmen squad finished their season in a game with West Branch on November 1. Due to the deadlines of this issue, the results were not available in time for publication.
