Alcohol, Drug Programs

by Sharon Fryman

A chemical dependency policy for Salem city schools was recently adopted. The policy, adopted on January 3, was started because of the increasing awareness of alcohol and drug dependency in the school system, Salem community and as a national problem.

The program will be presented to the student body sometime in early February to explain the procedure of how the program will operate. The Board designed the program to help provide students, staff or persons in the community with information on approaches and sources of treatment. In speaking to Mrs. Monteleone (School Nurse) and Mrs. Cozza (Chairperson) it was stressed that the program's purpose is to help young people, and it is not intended to be a punishment. Also, it was stressed that any student or faculty member who seeks help should know that all information will be held confidential.

Several teachers and others in the school system will make up a core team to head the program. This team which has been trained in the program presently includes Mrs. Cozza (Chairperson), Mrs. Monteleone (School Nurse), Mr. David Stratton (Curriculum Coordinator) and Mrs. Caroline Hall (Southeast sixth grade teacher). The core team has also enlisted the help of Mrs. Bosu (Counselor), Mr. Pond (Superintendent), Mrs. Kendall (Physical Education), Mr. Spack (World History), and Mr. Conser (Woodshop).

This past June a Community Intervention Workshop was held at Boardman High School where various aspects dealing with drug and alcohol use were discussed. Members of the core team attended this workshop. The Columbiana County In Service Council, Lions Club, Salem Education Association, Rotary Club and Kiwanis Club have supported the program by donating funds to send persons to the workshop training course.

Columbiana and the Joint Vocational School also have a drug and alcohol dependency program. Mrs. Cozza commented that the J.V.S. has had a "great success" so far. Many industries now have similar programs to aid their employees and many other companies throughout the country are supporting this cause. Wendy's has become especially active in the program nationwide.

It is hoped that the program can gain community support and aid many of those people who are dependent on drugs or alcohol.

Do You Know?

by Dayne Popa

Do you know that for a price of $18.00 a month, you can have your own child? A gift of love to another person is the most priceless gift.

Your concern can make a real difference in a young life: The difference between never being able to read or write and a useful education; the difference between possible starvation and at least one nutritious meal daily; the difference between killing diseases and livesaving medical attention; between a life of utter poverty and a chance for a better future.

The Christian Children's Fund is one way of reaching and touching someone's life.

School Standards Reset

by Sarah Robison

As of September 1, 1986, the state of Ohio's school systems will begin seeing some changes in curriculum. The Ohio Board of Education has just set up a new set of standards and some schools are in for a big shock.

The minimum standards in the state of Ohio were designed to set up some units of standard in the state and increase study in certain areas. These areas include English, math, science and social studies. This idea has worked in most areas, but in some areas there have been some changes needed due to the fact that some requirements vary from school to school. Now, with the new set of standards, school curriculum will be mainly uniform.

For Salem High School students, though, there isn't going to be much of a change. Mr. Delane stated, "We've been fairly lucky because we are an accredited school — which means that we have had higher standards than some of the other schools in the area." There will be one big change here at "SHS." A student will be required to have at least two years of mathematics in order to graduate.

These new requirements may end up costing the system a bit of money where the Jr. high and elementary schools are concerned, too. This is due to the fact that we will need more teachers in these two areas. The reason is that the curriculum variation will be a little more noticeable in these areas.

At this point, not all aspects of the new standards are completely clear. The state board will be holding a meeting in the spring in order to explain all aspects of the situation and answer any questions that there may be at that point.

SHS Sweetheart Crowned Tomorrow Night

by Terri Leyman

Tomorrow evening here at the high school during the Salem Quaker-Alliance Aviators basketball game this year's Basketball Sweetheart will be crowned.

The Sweetheart will be chosen from among seven senior class girls. These girls are Lori Barrick, Monica Ehler, Sue Gusman, Dorothy Irey, Tracy Isaacs, Dawn Kelly, and Gigi Sonagere.

Some of the girls expressed their thoughts upon hearing that they were nominated for Basketball Sweetheart. Sue Gusman remarked, "Like, oh my God! It's totally awesome, for sure," and Gigi Sonagere replied, "I wasn't expecting it. I was surprised, but it's not something I would cry about if I didn't get on."

The Quaker would like to wish all the girls good luck for tomorrow night.

Breakfast's Cooking

by Dave Grams

Are you craving a delicious old-fashioned breakfast consisting of pancakes, sausage, scrambled eggs, and juice, milk, coffee, or tea? Well the Salem High School Band Boosters have such a breakfast for you.

On Saturday, February 26, from 7:00 A.M. to 1:00 P.M., in the Salem High School Cafeteria, the Band Boosters will sponsor the breakfast, for which the food will be donated by the Salem Burger Chef.

Two years ago the breakfast had a terrific turnout. Publicity

Chairperson, Mrs. Settle said, "The breakfast two years ago was tremendous. The people were lined up all day. We're hoping for the same this year." I asked Breakfast Chairman Mr. Pat Morrissey if the boosters have any goals for the breakfast and he said, "We served 3,000 breakfasts two years ago and if we serve the same this year we're hoping to raise around $6,000.00."

Tickets for this occasion are available in advance from any band student for $2.00, or can be bought at the door for $2.25. Advance ticket sales will end February 19.

Proceeds from the breakfast will benefit the SHS Marching Band's trip to New York City where they will participate in the St. Patrick's Day Parade and have some fun and enjoy some sightseeing.

Show the band your support by attending this breakfast. After all, the band will be representing our high school.

Pops Concert Coming Up

by Jeanette Jennings

This year's annual pop concert will be February 24, 1983. It will be on Thursday night at 8 o'clock at Salem Senior High School. "The tickets will be sold by choir and stage band members starting the first week of February," quoted Mrs. Jeckavitch. The cost of the tickets will be $1.50 per person; the tickets may also be purchased at the door. The selection of songs to be sung will be "I Sing the Body Electric," "I Write the Songs," "Three Times a Lady," "Let Me Be There," "I Won't Last a Day Without You," "Ebony and Ivory," and a song by Diana Ross.

Music Review

by Mike Senanefes

Rush: The New World Men. Rush has always been an incredible band capable of sweeping, powerful music that defies the fact that there are only three players in the group. The group consists of Alex Lifeson, who plays the six and twelve string electric and acoustic guitar. Next, on drums is the great Neil Peart. Finally, the best bass player that ever jammed on the planet earth, Geddy Lee. Geddy also plays the keyboard synthesizer and is the lead vocal for the band Rush. Their current album Signals is the highpoint of a very brilliant career. The album includes such songs as "Subdivision," "The Analog Kid," "New World Man," and a few other songs that will get you rockin'.

Rush, the leading "Canadian Invasion," has had other great albums such as Crest of Steel, Moving Pictures, 2112, and many more albums that have made Rush what they are today. On the album 2112, the one side of the album tells a story of the future in the year 2112. Rush is a bit more contemporary now, and it has moved out of that particular vein of rock and roll (heavy metal), but they can still get pretty heavy at times.

Keying In The New Year With I.O.E.

The St. John's Villa project, prior to Christmas, was very successful. Mrs. Monteleone took to St. John's Villa the clothes and supplies which the entire I.O.E. Department had collected.

Accounting I distributed cookbooks and coloring books they had produced as a project in learning the operations of a fluid duplicator.

The cookbooks were distributed to all faculty members, and the coloring books were taken to the children at the Salem Community Hospital.

It has also been a busy time for speakers. Accounting I had four speakers: Ken Kenst, C.P.A.; David Miles, Neff Insurance; Glenn Thorne, business management; and Doris Buzzard, alcohol and how it affects business personnel.

Accounting II toured E. W. Bliss, where the class listened to Becky Malloy and Mr. Paxton speak about Word Processing. The class received some experience on a word processing machine.

Steno I has started dictation and also has begun accounting projects.

Steno II will be taking a tour of E. W. Bliss to learn about Word Processing. To start off the new year, Steno II is typing resumes.

On behalf of the entire I.O.E. Department, we would like to wish all of you a Happy New Year.

High School Band Plans Trip

by Cathy Finch

At 7:30 A.M. March 16 the Salem High School Band will depart bound for New York. The band will be participating in the Saint Patrick's Day Parade, March 17. I asked Mr. Jeckavitch if he thinks the band will do well in New York. He said, "I think if the students prepare up to their potential correctly during practice sessions and desire to win, we can compete with anyone in the country."

While in New York the band will see the United Nations Building, World Trade Center, Radio City Music Hall, Lincoln Center, and a matinee performance of "Woman Of The Year" at the Palace Theater starring Debbie Reynolds. Also some other highlights will be seeing Park Ave. Madison Square Garden, Fifth Avenue, Times Square, Chinatown, The Bowery, and a cruise to the Statue of Liberty.

The band is having a fund raising breakfast Saturday, February 26, at the Salem High School cafeteria. Cost is $2.00 for advance tickets and $2.25 for tickets at the door. Breakfast will be served cafeteria style from 7:00 A.M. to 1:00 P.M. The menu includes scrambled eggs, sausage, pancakes, and refreshments. Food is being donated by the Salem Burger Chef.

The trip will be considered in school time; therefore all school rules apply. The only other rule for the trip is no one will be allowed unchaperoned time.

Practice for the trip to New York will be Tuesdays from 6-8 and Thursdays right after school starting February 15.

Sophomores Practice CPR

by Lori Peppel

Every year the health classes learn the life-saving technique called Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation, better known as CPR. The instructor of the course is Mr. Allen. Mr. Allen has been teaching CPR in his health classes for five years. I asked Mr. Allen how he went about teaching CPR. He said, "First they learn about the general heart, circulatory system, respiratory system, risk factors involved in a heart attack, working with the mannequins, and then testing." Mr. Allen was taught by the American Heart Association in Youngstown five years ago. I asked Mr. Allen if the students enjoyed learning CPR and he said, "They complain outwardly, but most are concerned and want to do a good job and most of them do." Mr. Allen concluded by saying, "Thank you to the school for the mannequins, thank you to the people who help out, and thank you to the students for a good job and being concerned."

AS SAM

SEES IT

Spackmen Attack

by Steve Strabala

The Salem Quaker basketball season thus far can best be described as one with its peaks and valleys. The Quakers currently stand at 7-6 and are 4-2 in Mahoning Valley Conference play. Since the last edition of the Quaker, Salem has won five and lost four. On the weekend of December 17th and 18th the Quakers defeated Campbell Memorial and lost a squeaker to highly regarded Youngstown South. The following weekend the Quakers slumped, and lost two important games. On Friday they lost to Canfield, but Saturday could have been the turning point of the season. The Quakers visited winless Boardman and handed the Spartans their first victory on a silver platter. Many thought that the Quakers' season was ruined, but Salem, under the guidance of Coach Spack, fought back for three consecutive wins. The Spackmen delivered with victories over Struthers, Poland, and arch-rival West Branch. Just as it seemed the Quakers were on a roll, they visited East Liverpool. The Quakers did it again and blew the game and gave the Potters their first victory of the season. Then the Quakers returned home to face the Youngstown East Golden Bears.

Ted Jones led the charge with 33 points, and Matt Ospeck chipped in with 15 points to lead Salem to a 57-53 win.

The Quakers, so far this season, have been led by a fine group of seniors. The leading scorers for Salem are Jake Sell and Ted Jones, both of whom are averaging nearly fourteen points a game. Matt Ospeck has inspired the Quakers with his aggressive defensive plays. Other seniors providing plenty of help are Rick Tinsley, Rick Foreman and Dan Edgerton. Juniors Brian Toothman and John Breckenridge, both of whom are starters, have also aided the Quakers so far this season. Coming off the bench to give the starters a rest are also junior Rich Herron, and sophomores Joe Noll and Brad Jones. Tonight the Quakers have a return engagement against Girard, who beat Salem in overtime earlier in the season. On Saturday night the Quakers take on previously state-ranked Alliance on homecoming night. The Quaker staff would like to wish the basketball team the best of luck, and urge all students to attend the games and back the Quakers.

Quaker Girls Slam Opponents

by Sheila Toothman

The Salem Girls' basketball team is doing extremely well this year with a record at the half-way mark of 9-3 and 4-2 in the Mahoning Valley Conference play. One of their losses was to Austintown Fitch, which the girls thought never should have been. While Salem had an off night, Austintown played well. Their second loss was to Canfield, which is a good team. The girls say that they made some dumb mistakes, and that they cannot wait to play them again in Canfield on February 7.

Bad weather postponed the game against Akron St. Vincent, but it will be played on January 29 at 4 P.M. The team scoring is as follows for the first eight games: Deb Janofa 22.1; Amy Goodball 13.9; Bianca Penick 9.5; Sheila Toothman 8.8; and Cathy Francisco 4.8. The girls are doing a fairly good job from the foul line with an average of fifty percent per game. The team has already broken a record as a team by shooting the most foul shots in a game. These are the remaining games for the girls:

- Jan. 29 — Akron St. Vincent (H) (4:00)
 - Jan. 31 — J.F.K. (A) (4:30)
 - Feb. 3 — West Branch (A)
 - Feb. 7 — Canfield (A)
 - Feb. 10 — Poland (A)
 - Feb. 14 — Campbell (H)
 - Feb. 17 — Struthers (H)
- Good luck with the rest of your games, girls!

Penn State Lions Roar

by Rob Mehno

The Penn State Nittany Lions are the national champions of college football. This title which they have rightfully deserved is surrounded by controversy. The Nittany Lions finished their season with an 11-1 mark with their only loss to Alabama. However, there was a team, the SMU Mustangs, who were 11-0-1 which is a perfect mark except for a tie with Arkansas. Which team should be number one is the big question. Division I-A is the only NCAA division that does not have a playoff system. Therefore, newswriters must pick a national champion and for once they made a wise decision.

Penn State played a much tougher schedule week after week, while the Mustangs played only a few tough teams. It is true SMU beat a good Pitt team in the Cotton Bowl. The win was, however, by a slight 7-3 margin. Penn State handled the same Pitt squad earlier in the season. Penn State also beat number one ranked Georgia in the Sugar Bowl. The Nittany Lions stopped the best running back in college football history, Herschel Walker, something few teams have succeeded in doing.

Joe Paterno is a strong advocate of a playoff system. Coach Paterno has been in Coach Collins' position three previous times. The last was when President Nixon called Texas in the locker room proclaiming them number one long before the wire services voted on the top team. Joe Paterno's Nittany Lions have succeeded in their long quest for the national championship.

Heritage Slumps

by Todd Lepley

The Salem Area Church League Basketball teams are in the middle of another exciting season of play. The league consists of seven teams in each age division. The games are played at the Memorial Building and are officiated voluntarily. The little b-ball players play on Saturdays starting in the morning and running to the afternoon. The older players play on Tuesday nights running games from 4:00 to 7:00. The league is supervised, has a written set of rules for those who play and is held together by a lot of dedication and time by the coaches and referee teams. The older (17-18) league is running a tight race at this point in the season to see who will be number one at the season's finale.

The records stand as this so far:

Team	Record
St. Paul No. 3	4-0
First Friends	4-1
St. Paul No. 1	3-1
Heritage A	3-1
Heritage B	1-3
First Christian	1-3
St. Paul No. 2	1-4
Heritage C	0-4

Although it is too late to start this year, there is always next year if you are interested in playing. Just get in touch with your church basketball coach or, if you don't know who that is, ask in your church office for information as to time of practices, games, etc. Church basketball is an exciting, fast paced sport for both viewer and competitor.

NFL Playoffs Fantastic Finishes

by Rick Davis

Super Bowl weekend has finally arrived after a strange but unique NFL season. The players' strike obviously slowed down the 1982 season, but as it comes to its climatic close in '83 the players and the fans are ready for Super Bowl XVII.

As we approach Super Bowl XVII, between the Miami Dolphins and the Washington Redskins, let's see how these two teams made it to the big game. The playoffs this year were quite different and here is how they looked:

AFC	NFC
1st Round
L. A. Raiders 27	Washington 31
Cleveland 10	Detroit 7
Miami 28	Green Bay 41
New England 13	St. Louis 17
N.Y. Jets 44	Dallas 30
Cincinnati 17	Tampa Bay 17
San Diego 31	Minnesota 30
Pittsburgh 28	Atlanta 24

2nd Round
Miami 34	Washington 21
San Diego 13	Minnesota 7
N.Y. Jets 17	Dallas 34
L.A. Raiders 14	Green Bay 26
AFC Championship	NFC Championship
Miami 14	Washington 31
N.Y. Jets 0	Dallas 17

Super Bowl XVII
(AFC) Miami Dolphins (10-2) vs.
(NFC) Washington Redskins (11-1)

This is the rematch from the 1973 Super Bowl in which the "No-Name" Miami Dolphins beat the "Over-the-Hill-Gang" Washington Redskins, 14-7. This year they are two completely different teams, though. This looks to be an exciting game and looks to be fairly high scoring. We must remember these are the No. 1 (Miami) and No. 2 (Washington) defensive teams in the league. I pick the Dolphins by 7.

NBA Poll — NBA Rebound

by Brad Myers

As the NFL season comes down to a dramatic close the Washington Redskins and Miami Dolphins will square off Sunday in the Rose Bowl to decide the nation's best all around football team. With everyone watching to see if their team made the Super Bowl, the lonely basketball fans sat back and waited for their turn. Since basketball is still a sport liked by millions of people, I felt it was only fair to find the most favorite basketball team of the Salem High School students. These are just a few of the many responses.

Bob Lutz — "The Philadelphia 76ers have always been my favorite team."

RB Mehno — "The Boston Celtics, because I like their shoes."
Strabe — "76ers, 'cause they're an exciting ball club much like the Heritage Church."

Dave Grams — "The L.A. Lakers, because Kareem is so awesome."

Dave Tullis — "The Lakers, 'cause they can beat the 76ers."
Rick Tinsley — "The 76ers, with Dr. J."

Bob Burge — "The Lakers since Kareem dominates."

Jim Bakondy — "The Knicks with their unusual playing style."

Larry Sommers — "The Cavs, 'cause they're doing so good this year."

Pat Roelen — "The Knicks, because of their past history."

Terry Rosenberg — "Just Julius and Moses."

Kevin Willard — "I don't have one."

The L.A. Lakers and Philadelphia 76ers have again come out on top as the two most liked teams in the NBA.

But like the champion games the last few years the Los Angeles Lakers will again rise to the top just like they have so many times before, to be the number one team in the NBA...
