SHS TOP TEN SENIORS

Three students tied for top class honors earned perfect 4.0 grade point averages during their four years at Salem High School, according to Principal Robert Delane, who announced the top 10 academic scholars in the June Class of 1984.

Michael Madison, son of Dr. and Mrs. John R. Madison of 1392 Highland Ave. E.; Mary Anne Mozina, daughter of Mr. and Edward Mozina of 432 S. Madison Ave., and Joy D. Richesson, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Richesson of 1205 E. 12th St., will share honors as class valedictorians.

Next in academic rank and named as salutatorian is Fritz Schlueter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Schlueter of 1248 Powell Ave. His scholastic average is 3.952.

Other students in the top 10 standings are David M. Moore, fifth, with a 3.919 grade point average; Rocco A. Mango, sixth, 3.892; Sherry Settle, seventh, 3.885; Marilyn A. Paparodis, eighth, 3.873; David C. Ward, ninth, 3.872; and Rich Herron, tenth, 3.859.

Parents of the scholars are Mr. and Mrs. David B. Moore of 793 E. 6th St., Rocco Mango of 329 W. 14th St., Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Settle of 611 N. Union Ave., Mr. and Mrs. Odess "Soph" Paparodis of 2007 Southeast Blvd., Mrs. Elizabeth Ward of 1980 Southeast Blvd., and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce P. Herron of 1773 E. State St.

Delane said the students have not only earned academic honors, but have also followed a wide variety of interests and made contributions to school and community activities through their participation.

Madison, a National Merit Scholarship winner, plans to enter pre-medical courses at Ohio State University. He has been a Buckeye Boys State delegate, is a nominee to the Martin W. Essex School for the Gifted, vice-president of his class, member of student council and president of the math honorary Mu Alpha Theta, treasurer of Salem Honor Society, and member of Interact and the varsity basketball team.

He is a member of the First Presbyterian Church and has been a counselor at Salem Quaker Day Camp.

Miss Mozina's honors have included Buckeye Girls State, delegate, Salem Century III Leader, "Who's Who Among American High School Students," MVC and Tri-county League Tennis All-Star and Most Outstanding Junior Catholic Daughter in Ohio. She has participated in Key Club, Interact, Spanish Club, Pepettes, Salem Honor Society, Academic Challenge, Mu Alpha Theta, White Christmas Committee and varsity tennis.

Community activities have included Candystripping at NCC Community Hospital, Junior Catholic Daughters, Campfire and Campfire Youth Cabinet. She is employed at Jay's Supermarket, and plans to attend Ohio State University and major in social work.

Miss Richesson, designated a Freshman Scholar at Ohio State University, will also head for Columbus next year to major in pharmacy. During her school years she has been a member and president of the Salem Honor Society, treasurer of Interact, has played in the Jazz Ensemble and Marching and Concert bands and served as librarian and treasurer, belongs to Mu Alpha Theta and the Math Scholarship team, was German Club secretary, yearbook staff member and member of the Salem Dance Line.

Awards include the Marie Burn music award, Brooks Writing Award, Buckeye Girls State delegate and National Merit Commended Student. She is a member of the Mission Interpretation and Stewardship Committee of the First Presbyterian Church, American Legion Band, and secretary of Junior Music Study Club. She is employed at the Salem Burger Chef.

Schlueter plans to attend the University of Notre Dame where he will major in electrical engineering. He has been a member of the football and baseball teams, German Club, Salem Honor Society, vice-president of Mu Alpha Theta and president of the student council.

Named "Outstanding Youth of the Year" by the Knights of Columbus, he is named in "Who's Who Among American High School Students", and has received the Rolf Vogt Memorial Academic Award for football and Top Outfielder award for baseball.

He is a member of Key Club, an altar boy at St. Paul Catholic Church, and member of Salem Junior Music Study Club. He works at Gene's Sohio as a gas attendant and cashier.

David Moore, named a student in Kent Honors College, will attend Kent State University to study pre-medicine in the area of osteopathy. He has belonged to the Key Club, Drama Club, German Club, Salem Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta secretary, Salem Math Scholar Competition Team, Academic Challenge, and varsity wrestling team.

His honors include a wrestling scholastic award and "Most Pins" award, Honor Prize winner in Tolerton and Hood Essay competition, "Who's Who Among American High School Students," four varsity letters in wrestling, and Wrestling County Honorable Mention as a sophomore.

He also belongs to St. Paul Catholic Church, the CCD group there, and has assisted in Salem Clean-up Days and Bloodmobile work. He does house and yard maintenance at a private home.

Mango will attend the University of Cincinnati to study biomedical engineering in the co-operative program there. His activities in school have included student council, Buckeye Boys State delegate, Key Club, home economics and gym aide, French Club, Salem Honor Society and "Who's Who Among American High School Students".

He has played basketball, varsity football, and four years of varsity baseball. Captain of the baseball team two years, he was 1984 MVP, Varsity Football-All County for two years, and was selected to the Penn-Ohio All Star Game.

Out-of-school activities include church league basketball and Youngstown B League baseball. He is employed at Rocco's Men's Wear and Salem Golf Club.

Miss Settle, also a member of "Who's Who Among American High School Students", plans to study marketing at Ohio State University. She has been a member of the Concert and Chamber choirs, Colorguard, Salem Honor Society, Yearbook staff, Salem Dance Line, Interact, and Mu Alpha Theta.

A member of the Junior Catholic Daughters of America, she is a Candystriper at NCC Community Hospital.

Miss Paparodis, a member of Key Club, Salem Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta and American Field Service clubs, will attend Miami University at Athens. She is a member of Junior Catholic Daughters and is employed at Timberlanes.

Ward plans to major in aviation at Ohio State University. In school he has been a member of Spanish Club and Marching, Stage and Pep bands, vice-president of Interact, a Varsity wrestler, appeared in two school stage productions, and served as a girls volleyball statistician.

He has been a Buckeye Boys State delegate, member of Salem Honor Society and Mu Alpha Theta, won a Brooks Writing Award, and is in "Who's Who Among American High School Students", National Honor Roll, and treasurer of Salem Junior Music Club.

An Eagle Scout, he is a member of Boy Scout Troop 2, Explorer Post 34, Order of the Arrow, and Lodge Chief in 1983. This summer will make his fourth summer on the staff at Camp McKinley Boy Scout Camp in Lisbon.

Marietta College will be next year's destination for Herron, where he plans to study petroleum engineering. He has been a member of Salem Honor Society, Marching, Stage and Pep bands, basketball team and Spanish Club.

He was named to the First Team All-County Basketball, and was an honorable mention All-MVC. He received the Knights of Columbus "Outstanding Youth Award" in 1983. Rich umpires baseball games during the summer.

The top 10 seniors will be honored at an awards night assembly Thursday, May 24, when they will be presented with gold cords.

The cords will be worn with their academic gowns during commencement and baccalaureate ceremonies for the school's 231 graduates June 3 in the high school gymnasium.

Frosh, Sophs., Jrs. And Srs. Reflect Back On SHS

Freshmen

by Kim Tullis

This year was a very exciting year full of memories for the freshmen. We had a lot of fun; everything was so new and different to us. Knowing that everybody had a great year, I decided to ask them, "What was the best memory of your freshman year?" Here is what they said:

Chris Cosgrove — "When the JV girls basketball team won the MVC; it was a great season."

Doug White — "When I scored my touchdown to beat JFK and win the MVC."

Tim Shaffer — "When I blocked for Doug's winning touchdown."

Sue McKinney "Cross-country and Track practice."

Lori Tasker — "Sitting in the front seat of Mr. Powers' class."

Mike Lutz — "The varsity wrestlers beating West Branch and being Prez' of my class."

Nicolette Ehler and Rich Kenreigh — "Each other."

Valerie Davis — "The trip to Virginia with the choir."

Lori Wilson — "Gibby taking our lunch table away."

Watch Out Smokers!

by Linda Elias

One of the biggest nuisances at Salem High School is smoking. When walking into the girls' restrooms, I wonder why I did not put a face mask on because of the sometimes smoky atmosphere. Another question came to my mind as to why these few "sophisticated ladies" insist on smoking in the restrooms when there are smoking lounges. When these girls smoke in the restrooms, they also feel compelled to stand on the toilet seats, which leaves muddy footprints and ashes everywhere. This makes it very annoying to those of us who do not smoke.

I recently asked Mr. Delane what he thought of the issue, he replied, "Steps are being taken to prevent smoking in the restrooms, such as teachers being in the bathrooms between classes. If students are caught smoking, they will be suspended for five days." I would not be surprised to see smoking eliminated completely from Salem schools. Some states already outlaw school smoking lounges, which is a good idea because of the hazards it causes to smokers and non-smokers.

News, Concerts, And Mumbo-Jumbo

by Brian Metz

Many thrills and surprises and one major disappointment are on top in the music world for the summer of 1984. First the bad news. The Rolling Stones have toured America every three years since 1966, but 1984 will be left without a glimpse of Mick Jagger and Co. Why? Late last year The Stones ditched Atlantic Records in favor of a $28-million recording contract with CBS. However, The Rolling Stones may not deliver an album to Columbia until January 1, 1985. In other words, if the Stones were to put together a tour between now and December 31, they would have to rely on older material which would benefit the band's former distributor, Atlantic. So much for tradition.

And now for the good news, The Scorpions, who have recently released a super album titled "Love at First Sting" will return to Cleveland at The Coliseum May 30. The band holds a particular affection for Cleveland since it was the site of their first U.S. concert in July 1979. Scorpions will also appear at the Pittsburgh Civic Arena June 20.

If a prize were to be awarded to the band that attracted the rowdiest crowd, Van Halen would win it hands down. At a recent concert in Seattle 22 people were injured and 45 citations were issued for drugs, alcohol or fireworks. And in Dallas, police had to use an attack dog to disperse a mob of 2,000 fans waiting to buy Van Halen tickets at 4 A.M.

Virginia Budde — "Having Kim T. in three of my classes, what an experience."

Mike Hartzell — "Parties and the girls."

Amy Ludwig — "Meeting the foxy juniors and seniors."

Freshmen, let's have another good year. The next couple years should be even better!

Sophomores

by Dena DiPasquale

These past two years have been good and have gone by very quickly for the Class of '86. They have been filled with many memories, ones we will not soon forget. Reflecting back to our freshman year, memories such as the fun (fun?) of algebra class, the long, endless hours band camp had to offer, and the general pains of being a freshman come to mind. From there the Class of '86 looked forward to being sophomores; learning to drive and buying our class rings were some of the benefits. Next year as juniors, we can look forward to the band's trip to Florida, and, of course, our first prom. Then before you know it, we'll be seniors! We can definitely say we have learned and done a lot these past two years; they've been good and memorable years, but we can hope that our last years at SHS are even better, filled with memories yet to be made.

Juniors

Only one more year to go. That is what we Juniors keep reminding

Idora Park Rocked In Spite Of Rain

by Kelly Spiker

May 5 was the beginning of spring according to Idora Park. For that was when the annual "Spring Thing" was held this year. The fact that Idora Park was struck accidentally by fire from a spark from a welder's torch only a few weeks before that destroyed its major ride the "Wildcat", and the fact that it was raining and a bit chilly that day did not seem to slow the crowds down. There were plenty of good bands for the people to listen to in the Ballroom. It was a good place to go get out of the rain and enjoy some fantastic rock-n-roll.

And if you did not want to listen to the music all day, there was still plenty of stuff to do. There was the new roller coaster called the "Back Wabbit"; is is the old "Jack Rabbit" only you ride it seated backwards. One patron of the park stated, "This roller coaster (The Back Wabbit) is great. It is really weird going backwards." The new coaster seemed to be going over really well that day.

All the other rides were doing well also. One of the all-time favorites the "Bumper Cars" had a line that lasted forever the same as it always has. The operator of the bumper cars said, "This has been a good day despite the fire we had and the rain. So if you missed Spring Thing'84, you missed a really great time.

So if you missed Spring Thing'84, you missed a really great time.

Pretenders (July 30), Chicago (July 31), Rod Stewart (Aug. 13 and 14), The Michael Stanley Band (Aug. 15 and 16), Toto (Aug. 21), and Willie Nelson (Sept. 11 and 12). Again, there is still much of August and September to be scheduled. These dates will probably be announced in July. For more information, call the Blossom Information line at 1-800-362-0804.

Rush, the three-man Canadian band, will appear at The Coliseum with guitar great Gary Moore July 5 and 6. Rush will be promoting their new album "Grace Under Pressure" which entered the billboard LP chart at 38 this week. It's sure to spring upward, though.

The biggest piece of news, however, is this: Although it's been a rumor for the last few years, the reforming of one of the first (and greatest) heavy metal bands is actually going to happen.

For several years Richie Blackmore has been enjoying considerable success at the helm of Rainbow. Rainbow's number seems to be up, however, and Blackmore is leaving and regrouping with the rest of the original band members of the Deep Purple. This is definitely something to look forward to.

Whatever your taste in music might be, the upcoming summer should certainly present something that will appeal to you. If not, you may find it necessary to travel to New York or Los Angeles to find as much concert action.

and still is the time to start making career plans. Along with the worries of making future plans, we also had much fun. We had the chance to attend the White Christmas, and working on the Prom was a major highlight of the year. It was an event the whole class put much effort toward.

There has been much hard work and many memories made in the last three years, but there is still one more year to go. We all expect it to be an enjoyable year and as memorable as the last three.

Seniors

by Tom Fox

Here it is, it's graduation time, and the fastest four years of my life are about to end. I can remember just coming up to the High School, I thought that it was great, but now that I am graduating it is excellent.

The years have passed by quickly

'85 Yearbook Planned

The 1985 Yearbook Staff would like to remind all juniors to have their senior portraits taken this summer. Having this done early will not only assist us in planning a color senior section, it will also limit the rush for pictures in October.

In order to have your picture published in the Yearbook, it must meet three qualifications. First, the picture obviously must be in color. Second, the picture must be vertical. Horizontal pictures are very difficult to fit in a vertical space, and usually must be made a different shape than the rest. Finally, all pictures MUST be in to the Yearbook staff by October 31, 1984. Any pictures turned in afterwards may cause the loss of the color in the senior section. It should also be made clear that the pictures turned in need not be professionally done. Good quality 35mm or Polaroid pictures can also be used.

Teachers Remember

by Kim Baugh

Another year has just about come to an end. And looking back on each year, the Quaker has decided to ask a few teachers what their highlight of the year was, and here are their responses:

Mr. Morris — "My highlight was when Salem Basketball Team won against Western Reserve in tournaments."

Mr. Zimmerman — "My highlight was completing graduate classes."

Miss Hasson — "It hasn't happened yet!"

Mr. Cabas — "My highlight was being inducted into the Youngstown Curbstone Coaches Hall of Fame. This is quite an honor; there were over 1,000 in attendance. I received a plaque and a portrait of myself. Another highlight was the reunion of the 1959 basketball team."

Mr. Headland — "Getting up each day."

There you have it, what a few teachers consider their "Highlight of the Year!"

Pep Band Geared Up

by Debbie Nichols

The members of the 1984-85 Salem High School Pep Band have recently been announced. Members are Drew Goddard, pep band leader and trumpet, Mario DiBiase, Mindy Lutsch and Sue Patterson, also trumpets. Shelley Richert and Diana Huffman will play trombone. The baritone will be played by Steve Julian and Scott Smith will play the tuba. Pep band drummers are Jay Staudt and Don Yeasted. Jay and Don are responsible for making up most or all of the drum parts.

Everyone knows the pep band from their playing at football and basketball games, but they do a lot more than just that. The pep band plays at bonfires and pep rallies and for the dance line at basketball halftime shows. They also play, on request, at many places throughout the community for special events. For example, this year the pep band played at McDonald's for the

and the proms passed us by too, the last football game, the last basketball game, and next it will be the last baseball game. Where has all the time gone? Behind us are all the memories, all the fun, and all the good times. Ahead is the future. Can I meet the future with the same enthusiasm that I entered Salem High School four years ago? I hope so!!

All the time spent in class, listening to the teachers, doodling, hoping that the class will end, now, it has just about ended for me. It all seemed boring, but I will probably miss those classes after graduation.

Four years ago, I couldn't even spell Senior, now I is one.

Good Luck to the class of '84!

The "I Don't Want To Go" Syndrome

by Brian Metz

The other day an old friend called me, and I could tell he was upset by the way he was screaming. The reason he was so hyper, he said, is because he was fed up with this whole graduation thing.

"What are you so worried about?" I asked. "All you have to do is walk up to the podium when your name is called, grab your diploma, and walk back to your seat."

"No! No! No!" he yelled. "That's not it!"

"Well, why don't you tell me before I call Woodside and have you put in a padded cell," I said.

"All right. Do you promise not to tell anyone?"

"I promise."

"Okay. It's like this," he began. "You know how everyone is going around saying how they can't wait to get of here and go to college?"

"Sure," I agreed. "I've even done it a few times myself."

"Well, I'm sick of doing it. The fact is, I don't want to leave," he sobbed.

I began to look for Woodside's telephone number.

"You know how I am when I'm away from home." He whined, "I'll be out of meal tickets in December, and I can't cook worth a darn. And what am I gonna do about clothes? I'll be wearing dirty clothes all the time!"

"That's what college is for," I told him. "You learn how to cook, wash your clothes, and take care of yourself."

"Yeh? Well what if I can't?" he said in desperation.

I began to wonder if this was an isolated case or if the whole senior class is doing one heck of a cover-up.

I knew I had to think up something quick. "What about great parties?" I asked.

"That's true," he said. There are parties all the time, right?" He was sounding better already.

"And think of all the great college girls," I told him.

"You got a point there," he remarked.

Satisfied, he thanked me and hung up. I wondered again about a possible large-scale cover-up. This could turn out to be bigger than Watergate.

Olympic games promotional and at Lordstown for St. Patrick's Day.

As pep band leader, Drew has to call meetings and practices, pick out and teach music, and set up performances. Some of the music you can expect to hear from Drew and his crew include "Flashdance", "Beat It", and "Billie Jean". Drew said, "We're gonna be rockin' next year!"

It seems as though everyone in the pep band is looking forward to next year. What Don and Jay seem to be looking forward to most is the next basketball season. They both agree that it is more fun to play the drum set than the drums that they play when it is not basketball season. Jay said that one of the things that he hopes to accomplish this year in pep band is to help "the upcoming senior class rowdy!" As Drew put it, "We want to have a good time!"

A Walk Down Memory Lane

by Amy Stroka

As the 1983-84 school year comes to a close, the seniors have already started to prepare for Graduation Day. As that day approaches, they reflect on their high school days and remember all the good times they shared with each other. I asked some seniors what they will never forget about their SHS years, and here are their replies:

Brad Sisler — December 10, 1981.
 Chris Waters — The best time ever was at CG Camp last summer with Lisa and Amy Too and "THE KEY!!!".
 Mike Madison — Joe Noll's game winner against 10th ranked WWR and my game winner against Canfield.

Teresa Diehl — The night Pam, Chris, and I went to McDonald's in "THE RED TRUCK"; then we went to the best dance ever.

Emily Liggett — The times with my friends, the Cleveland College fair, the pumphouse party, and celebrating Marilyn's birthday.

Darrin Hartman — Either getting kicked out of the East Liverpool football game because I hit George Sommers or Daytona Beach Spring Break 1984.

Kim Wells — George Blackburn's parties (I think!).

Lisa Martens — I think the best "Senior Memory" was at CG Camp with Chris and Amy Too and Knickerbocker of course!!

Brian Toothman — Beating Warren Western Reserve in b-ball tournaments and Spring Break '84.

Jeff Quinn — Wrestling West Branch and beating them for the first time and beating the guy I wrestled.

Kris Talbot — "THE CLIFF".
 Connie Cushman — "THE CLIFF".

Metal People Beware!!

by Tom Fox

The early seventies allowed for many heavy metal bands to emerge into the music scene. The Scorpions were one such band. They were not really popular until their last album, this being their first top ten album, "Blackout". Most metal bands from Germany, like Accept, Trance, and the Scorpions, combine melody with "power chords" for a combination skull-bashing metal.

With their latest release, "Love at First Sting", the Scorpions seem to be at it again with another hopeful for the top ten. This album had two titles to choose from, "Crossfire", a song from the album, and "Love at First Sting", a line from the hit song "Rocks You Like a Hurricane".

The album is a little slower than "Blackout", with one slow song, "Still Loving You", and the beginning of "Coming Home" is slow, changing to a fast pace about halfway through. The rest of the album is fairly heavy and fast.

The Scorpions have had some problems with this album. The drummer, Herman Rarebell, had problems with drugs during the recording of the L.P., so Rondinelli, a stand-in, re-recorded the basic tracks in Sweden, as reported by Kerrange! magazine. They are also planning a new cover because some stores have refused to sell it because of the suggestive cover.

The remaining songs include "Bad Boys Running Wild", "I'm Leaving You", "The Same Thrill", "Big City Nights", and "As Soon As The Good Times Roll".

The Scorpions will be in Cleveland at the Richfield Coliseum on Wednesday, May 30, and in Pittsburgh on June 20.

Summer Classes

by Julie Parrish

Long after the rest of the school gets out on June 7, the less fortunate or more studious students will be attending summer school. Registration for summer classes is on June 12 and 13. The fee for classes is $60 and it must be paid before the first day of classes. Summer school starts on June 15 and runs through July 27. Required classes such as math and English are offered to students who did poorly and need the credit. Any class can be offered if there is enough interest in it, which means about 15 students need to sign up for it. P.O.D. is offered for students who intend to graduate early or have an overloaded schedule. Interested students or students with questions may contact Mr. Cabas.

Happiness Is Good Grades

by Julie Parrish

Report cards, the things that students fear most, may look a little different next year. The familiar A, B, C, D and F may be replaced by percents. The idea of switching report cards is not new. Report cards are processed through the Stark County Data Center, where the computers are presently unable to print grades in percents, but it is hoped that they will be able to do so next year. By using percents, parents and students will have a better idea of how close the student was to receiving a higher or lower grade. Mr. Delane feels that the new system would more accurately reflect a student's grades. Percents may also look better on college transcripts. If next year's report cards do use percents, the letter grading scale will be printed on the bottom of the card so grades can be deciphered.

With all of the computer advancements going around, in the future the school may be able to use its own computers to print up report cards. Instead of blaming bad grades on teachers, computers can be new wave scapegoats.

Fun, Fun, Fun, Or Work, Work, Work?

by Kevin Beck

What do teachers do in the summer? Do they go into hibernation and not come out until September when school starts? That's just what the Quaker wanted to find out.

Mr. Viencek — "I'll be going to summer school in Youngstown."

Miss Hasson — "Finish my Master's for history at Y.S.U."

Mrs. Haddad — "Getting the new computer system ready for next year, and I'll be making the lesson plans for the computer."

Mr. Spack — "Working with basketball camps and going to South Carolina with John. On the way back, go to a coaching clinic at North Carolina State. There's Quaker day camp, and I'll be helping at the Auburn camp."

Mr. Zimmerman — "I think I'll take a couple short trips like to Gettysburg."

It is apparent that the teachers do more than just wait for the school year to start. There are as many different interests and plans as there are teachers.

It's Just Not A Job, It's An Adventure

by Cliff Elsner

The Armed Services; an alternative worth looking at. Now more than ever, a lot of high school seniors are joining a branch of the service. All, of course, are joining for different reasons.

One reason is that they plan for a college education. More now than ever the services are looking for educated, well-trained people, the type that are leaders. Each branch has different college funds. The army, for instance, will match and double your contribution and many of the services allow you to go to school while in the service.

Others are looking for a career and a future, but most of all it's job security that is sought after the most. The services try to satisfy people and give them what they need for the future. But remember the service is just as selective at picking you as you are picking a service. The requirements are for a high school education. This is an important requirement for you to have to be well-educated and healthy.

Things to take into perspective: the pay is good. It depends on the service you choose. Basic pay starts at $550 and up per month and college benefits are the best around. You have to take the thought of joining very seriously and don't jump too fast for it could be the biggest decision of your life.

Listed below are the recruiting people in Salem (Air Force information not available). For more in depth information, contact one of the below for a career in the service of your choice: Sergeant First Class Ray E. Billetter, U.S. Army — 332-4619; Chief Petty Officer Glenn G. Come Up and See Us Sometime

Year In Sports

by Joe Noll

The 1983-84 school year was filled with highs and lows in athletic contests. Although not all of the teams had winning seasons, most of them had some big wins.

The football team got things rolling in October by bringing the Warrior Sam II trophy to Salem for good. The team beat West Branch at West Branch, and this was the third victory in a row over the Warriors so the trophy stays here. Mr. Ricker had this to say, "This is one team that never gave up, when they could have."

The girls' volleyball team did not have a great year record wise, but they had a couple of highlights. They played AAA state champs Canton McKinley, and the team played even with them most of the time, but the obviously more talented Bulldog team fought off an upset. Mr. Conser feels this way, "It was a good experience for me to coach this team."

The wrestling team had one of the biggest victories ever in the history of the wrestling team. The team beat the West Branch Warriors for the first time in years. This was a good Warriors team too; the guys just out wrestled them.

The girls' basketball team did not have their usual great year, but they had their highlights. They played Struthers, one of the best teams in the league, and beat them on a last second shot by Amy Goodballet. Mr. Readshaw has his own idea of their highlights, "I think one of our biggest highlights was, after starting out slow, we were able to come back and make a respectable season." The Junior Varsity team were MVC champs.

The boys' basketball team had a 14-8 season. This team really did have highs and lows. The first high was the game the team beat Canfield on their court for the first time ever. Then the lows came; starting point-guard Joe Noll was out for six games with a hip injury. The 6'10" center John Breckenridge was out with mono the last part of the season. The Quaker roundballers won their first tournament game against Beaver Local; then it was time for Warren Western Reserve. The Raiders were ranked 10th in the state and nobody gave the team a chance. The guys upset WWR in overtime 73-71 on a last second shot by Noll. The MVP of that game had to be Brad Jones with 35 points and double figures in rebounds. Mr. Spack said then, "Most other teams without their starting center and point guard would have crumbled."

This has been a great year athletically; all of the coaches, players and fans should be commended.

Team in action.

Salem Exhibits Thundering Lumber

by Pat Roelen

The Salem Quaker baseball team is approaching the end of the season on a very successful note. The Quakers have an 8-2 record in the MVC, which puts the team in first place in the conference. Salem has two more games to play in the conference. With wins in both games, against Poland and Struthers, the Quakers will win the MVC. Overall, the Quakers are 13-2 and are still playing in the Triple-A tournament.

In dramatic fashion, the Quakers won a Sectional Championship by beating Poland 5-4. The Quakers got off to a fast start scoring runs in the first inning. Fritz Schlueter walked, then Rocco Mango hit a triple to score Schlueter. With Mango on third, Carl Apicella smashed a double to get the second run of the inning. Dan Blubaugh gave the team a good start at the pitching position. Poland then scored four runs to take the lead 4-3. In the top of the seventh inning, Salem saved their season by coming up with two more runs. Carl Apicella hit a bases loaded single, which scored two runs, to put the Quakers on top for good. To end the game, Poland had two men on base and two out, when Jeff Quinn made a juggling catch to make it final. Other players who contributed immensely were Steve Galchick, who scored two runs, Pat Roelen with a pinch-hit single, and Fritz Schlueter, for excellent defense of play and scoring runs. Rocco Mango had the pitching win and also had a triple at the plate. Carl Apicella caught a fine game and also had the game winning hit. Coach Lantz commented, "Dan Blubaugh gave us a great start pitching, then Rocco came in relief and did well to get the win."

He also commented, "Throughout the whole year the captains, and seniors, in general, have had a great impact on the team through their leadership."

The Quakers will continue their season playing in the Triple-A tournament and completing the rest of the team's remaining MVC schedule.

UPDATE:

The Quakers were eliminated from tournament with a 2-0 loss to Ursuline.

Summer Classes

by Betsy Babb

The Salem Kent State Branch is offering the community a variety of classes this summer. Open registration lasts from April 30 until June 4. Credit classes are offered in two sessions. The first session begins June 11 and runs to July 12; the second session begins June 11 and runs to August 2.

There is a Continuing Education program which includes such subjects as Computer Operation, Bookkeeping, health courses, Pre-college Chemistry, Photography, etc.

There is a physical fitness program including dancercise, racquetball, tennis, and Tae Kwon Do Karate. Students from grades 9-12 are welcome to register for adult courses as long as they are mature and have permission from the instructor.

The Kids on Campus program is being offered for the summer. The program offers young people courses like Checking out Computers, ACT Preparations, Textbook Reading and Study Skills, The Typing Touch, Chemistry, Biology, French, Investments, Color Photography, and Creative Art.

If you wish to become involved in any of these programs, contact the Kent State Branch for more information.

1984-85 Cheerleaders

On the evening of April 17th, 12 girls were chosen as cheerleaders for the 1984-85 football and basketball teams. The girls were required to do two cheers, a pom-pom routine and girls trying out for Varsity had to do an introduction. The judges were either from out of town or were not associated with the school. The cheerleaders are not permitted to consume alcoholic beverages or drugs. If one is caught, she will be removed from the squad. Also, if one practice is missed they will not cheer the following game.

The Varsity squad is Sharon Ewing, Anne Hartzell-Capt., Melinda Pence, Julie Paumier, Patti Noles and Valerie Julian.

The J.V. squad is Carmen Curtis-Capt., Nicolette Ehler, Kim Law, Laura Newton, Christine Sweitzer and Lori Wilson.

These two squads will attend camp July 10-13 at UCA located at Kent State.

Boys' Tennis Team

by Deborah Nichols

"We started out a little slow, but now we've won six in a row and have turned the season around," Coach Ritchie said of the boys' tennis team's 7-5 record. He went on to say that bad weather played a big part in the bad luck the team had at the beginning of the season. The rain was the cause of a lot of lost practice time and also caused many games to be postponed. During the past week, the postponed games were to have been made up.

Singles players seniors Don Finch and Tom Patterson and sophomore Doug Morris have played a large role in this year's success. Doubles players Don Yeasted, Steve Sommers, Brad Roher and Thad Smith have also done a lot in leading the team to victory. Other seniors on the team are first year players Tod Bosel and Gary Collins, who have been playing in exhibition matches.

Tiger To Be Among Flyers

by Linda Elias

The Quaker is proud to congratulate Anthony Petrucci III on his commitment to play football for the Dayton Flyers. Tony is an all-conference, all-area, all-county tight end. Tony will also be one of five Salem players representing the Ohio squad in the Penn-Ohio all-star football classic. He is a hard-working senior who is currently chasing the school discus record. Mr. Petrucci carries a rich football tradition to Dayton.

The most notable former Salem football player is Ohio State's all time offensive lineman Kirk Lowdermilk. Salem also has four stalwarts at Youngstown State University; these include Dave Janofa, Steve Strabala, Dayne Popa and John Panzott. Other athletes include Greg Pshniak at the United States Air Force Academy, Bruce Walters at Eastern Kentucky, Rob Mehno at Slippery Rock University, Joe Popa at Mount Union College, Steve Chaffin at Muskingum College and Doug Cook at Bluffton College.

Tony becomes the twelfth Gary Ricker-coached player to play college football in the past three years. This is a fine tribute to an excellent coach who retired this past season. Congratulations Tony and continue the excellent work you started here in Salem.

Clubs Busy

by Debbie Nichols

As the school year comes to a close, many of the school clubs are wrapping things up until next fall.

The Spanish Club is planning to hold its annual banquet at a Mexican restaurant in late May. Because of a canceled sales project, all those attending must pay their own way.

German Club has chosen Saturday, May 26, as its date for a picnic, but watch out, because that date may change. The club has recently held a meeting with German exchange student, Alexandra Grunberg, as the guest speaker. Alexandra is staying with Anne Medford for a month. Anne will in turn spend a month in Germany.

AFS officers are busy planning a money making project, possibly a summer car wash. Money is needed for next year's foreign exchange student's air fare.

Key Club has elected and installed officers for next year. They are as follows: president, Paul Schlueter; vice-president, Dave Roberts; secretary, Joan Davidson; treasurer, Wendy Pizzino; and Sergeant-at-Arms, Greg Moffett. Key Club has recently participated in activities such as Clean Up Salem Day, the blood bank, a car wash, the MS run, and a trip to Cedar Point.

Interact has also recently elected officers. They are as follows: president, Steve Rosar; vice-president, Scott Smith; secretary, Gloria Buritica; and treasurer, Amy Kendall.

New Coach

by Cliff Elsner

A new Salem Varsity Head Football Coach is being selected by a special committee, consisting of Mr. Delane, Mr. Engle, Mr. Pond, Dr. Shivers, Mrs. Lofland and Mr. Steffen. The qualification the committee looks for in a coach applicant are based on his experience, what his previous records might have been, plus various recommendations. The committee also interviews the applicants. They hold two rounds of interviews: first, the initial round for all applicants, then the second round after the ranks have been trimmed down. The committee then selects the most promising for approval as new Varsity Head Football Coach of Salem.

BULLETIN

The new man to lead our Varsity Quakers, was made public Wednesday morning. The new Head Coach is Joe Rottenborn, at age 36. He is married, has two children and has been teaching plus coaching for 12 years. Joe Rottenborn is a graduate of Salem in 1966, was a Quarterback at Salem, then went to Boston University from 1966 to 1970 on a football scholarship. Joe Rottenborn received his master's degree in 1972 from Brown University and is presently teaching in Boardman.

Rottenborn was chosen out of 25 to 30 applicants and Mr. Steffen, the athletic director, stated that "when it came down to the final selection, it was a very difficult decision to make."

Mike McCracken — Continue working and plan for further schooling. Undecided on school to attend.

Senior Athletes Move On

by Ginda Woods

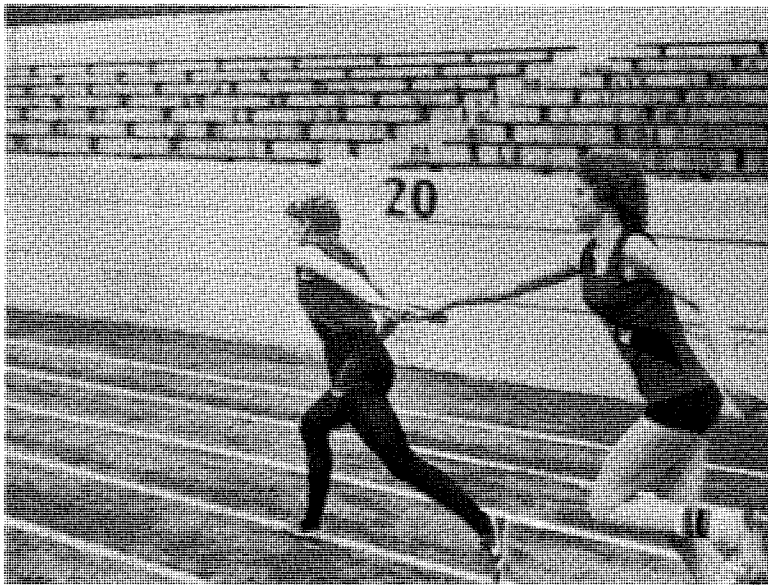

As each sport has ended or will end its 1983-84 season so end the competitive participation of at least one senior. For a few of these senior athletes their last game or match as a Salem Quaker ends their involvement with an athletic team. Some will always be involved in one way or another, and a few will continue their interest as a college athlete.

The two most talked about and most highly recruited seniors are Brian Toothman and John Breckenridge. Brian has made plans to attend Indiana University of Pennsylvania to become a member of their Division II football team and major in Computer Science. John, on the other hand, has chosen to go further from home to The University of South Carolina. He will be majoring in Management Science and competing in the METRO Conference. Both young men seem to be looking forward to becoming involved in collegiate athletics.

Among others planning to participate in college athletics are football players Tony Petrucci who will be attending the University of Dayton, Bret Chaffin who hopes to be a member of Muskingum University's grid team, and Larry Sommers who will be participating in football and track at Otterbein University.

Carl Apicella plans to continue playing baseball for Ohio University while Dan Blubaugh will be taking to the diamond at Valparaiso University in Valparaiso, Indiana.

A few other seniors are still contemplating the possibility of becoming involved in athletics while furthering their education. Congratulations to all senior athletes for concluding your last year at Salem High School as a student athlete.

Track team doing what they do best.
