Student Search More Permissible

by Laura Huzyak

The fourth amendment to the Constitution states that "The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated; and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized." However, after the Supreme Court's recent ruling, this amendment does not seem to hold for public school students anymore.

The new ruling is the result of a New Jersey school principal's search of a fourteen-year-old student's purse. The principal suspected that the student had been smoking in a school restroom. Upon searching the girl's purse he found additional evidence to prove her guilty of delinquency, and she was sentenced to one year's probation. The New Jersey Supreme Court, however, thought that the evidence was obtained without probable cause and ordered the evidence to be disregarded.

The case ended up in the U.S. Supreme Court and was reversed January 15. The new ruling states that school officials now have the right to "conduct a search for a suspected violation" as long as the search is not "excessively intrusive." Three of the nine justices were against the ruling because it goes against the Constitutional rights of U.S. citizens. Justice John Paul Stevens, one of the dissenters, said that "the rule . . . is so open-ended that it may make the Fourth Amendment virtually meaningless in the school context."

The majority of the Court based their decision on the idea that teachers and administrators need to be able to conduct searches in order to "maintain order in schools," according to Justice Byron R. White.

Although it seems clear that rights have been taken away and that possibly, rights listed in the Amendments do not always apply to students, many Ohio teachers and school officials have already conducted searches of students' property and lockers, according to the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

How the ruling will be interpreted and used will be determined in time and will depend upon the school system and individual administrators. Many systems will most likely proceed in the same manner as before, but what about the others?

I.O.E. Update

The following events have transpired in the I.O.E. Department since the last writing of the Quaker.

Accounting/Clerical I

Mrs. Lois McCormick from Superior Wallpaper Company spoke to the class about color coordination and its importance to personality. The class also delivered coloring books to Salem Community Hospital Children's Ward. These coloring books and recipe books were completed as a class project in learning the fluid duplication process. On February 4, 1985, Susan Winden spoke on subjects that would prove to be assets when job seeking.

Accounting/Clerical II

Mrs. Shirley Carreon, a Service Representative from the Salem Community Hospital, spoke on the duties associated with her position, how she obtained her job and the possibilities for advancement at the hospital. Accounting/Clerical II has also been busy typing projects for outside businesses. The classes are also preparing resume portfolios to be used in their job search.

Steno II

Steno II has been keeping busy by doing work for outside sources such as reports, letters, and booklets. They are now starting a unit on resumes and will be hunting for jobs in the near future.

If you need a pass, please see your counselor.

Key Club Events

by Dave Milheim

Xavier performed at the January 26 Sweetheart Dance sponsored by the Key Club. Approximately 200 people attended the dance and Key Club made about $100 after expenses.

The Key Club, whose main objective is to help the Kiwanis in community events, holds many fund raising events during the course of the year. Besides the dance, the Key Club had the concession stand at the January 29 basketball game against Poland and holds car washes throughout the year. A basketball tournament will be held tomorrow, February 9, starting at 11:30 A.M. until 4:00 P.M. The Salem Key Club will play other Key Clubs from the area. Admission is 50¢.

Many club members will attend the Key Club convention which will be held in Cincinnati this year. Also, the John Callahan Banquet will be held again for those students making the Honor Roll every time.

The Key Club meets every other Monday at 7:30 P.M. in room 142. The next meeting will be February 18.

On The Road

by Nan Webb

David Anderson High School, alias Lisbon High School, is located in downtown Lisbon. For this reason, and also the fact that the school has no cafeteria, students are permitted to go out for lunch. Two popular spots for lunch are Foxes Pizza Den and the Burger Shak which are within a 5-10 minute walking distance of the school; however, the students have only 30 minutes for lunch.

Lisbon enrolls 387 students with 42 of those students attending the Joint Vocational School. Lisbon is a single A school in sports and participates in the Tri-County League; the three counties being Jefferson, Mahoning, and Columbiana.

The first of seven periods begins at 8:10 in the morning and the last ends at 2:35 in the afternoon. Two specialized courses of study, astronomy and geology, are offered as electives for seniors.

Lisbon holds a dance after each Friday home football and basketball game. Principal John Krotky said that there are no real problems at the dances. "If the students didn't dance and have a good time, then we wouldn't have them," he commented. The dances are held in the gymnasium where the dancers must remove their shoes before they dance so as not to damage the newly refinished basketball court.

Krotky said that he enjoys the small school atmosphere because everybody knows everybody else. He pointed out that at a larger school, students can easily get lost in the shuffle of numbers.

A thank you is extended to Mr. Krotky for the interview and tour of Lisbon David Anderson High School.

Super Bowl Picks

by Kerig Taylor

Before the Super Bowl of Jan. 20th, The Quaker set out to find whom the people wanted to win. Out of 40 people asked, 26 were for Miami, six were for the 49ers, and nine didn't care.

This poll, depicted in the above graph, shows just how skillfully Salem students were in picking the losing team.

Exchange Student Exchanges Thoughts

by Gloria Buritica

The new exchange student at the Salem High School is Patricia Lopez, 18, from Bogota, Colombia. She arrived January 26. She is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flickinger.

Patty says that school is pretty much the same here as it is in Colombia. Everyone is required to take the same classes. Her classes in Albemarle, her school, were as follows: chemistry, physics, calculus, Spanish, philosophy, and health. Patty has already graduated from school in Bogota.

Her daily schedule was almost the same as ours, in that school started and let out at the same times. Patty's classes here are Spanish, English, Algebra, chemistry and history.

Patty enjoys reading and roller skating. When she returns to Colombia, she plans to attend a university there.

Patty says that she likes the U.S. and the people. "The people are less complicated here than in Colombia," she states. "Also the students seem happier and more contented with themselves and their lives." She says that she became an exchange student because she wanted to learn English.

Patty Lopez will be going back to Colombia next year. We wish her lots of luck in her stay here and also with the rest of her life.

State Rankings

by Nan Webb

With a successful basketball team such as Salem has this year, it becomes pertinent to discuss state rankings.

It is interesting to know that teams are ranked not only by their win/loss record, but also by how tough the teams are that they play.

There are two polls that a team may be ranked by: The Associated Press (A.P.) teams are chosen by sports writers and the United Press International (U.P.I.) teams are voted on by high school coaches.

Coach Spack is on the U.P.I. board of voters. He said that the only AAA ranked team that he has seen play is Warren Western Reserve, but he casts votes to teams with a good record and a good reputation. For this reason, it is not really accurate to say that the first ranked team is the very best in the state, but one can get a pretty good idea of who are among the best.

We will wait anxiously to see if the Quaker roundballers will make it into one of these impressive polls again.

Band Fruit Sales

by Steve Rouse

For the past ten years or so our Salem High Band has been offering band fruit to anybody who wants to buy it. The band sells the fruit to help raise money for their trip to Florida. What they have are ruby red grapefruit and navel oranges at a price of $9.00 for a small box (both oranges and grapefruit) and $15.00 for the large boxes.

Over the years, the band has made an average of approximately $10,000 each year. This year, one and a half semis full of fruit came in. That means about 3,000 boxes of fruit to be sold.

In the past, this fruit has come from Texas and has been shipped directly to Salem. This year, however, the fruit comes to you from Arizona and is shipped first to a distributor and then finds its way to Salem. The whole delivery takes about one week. The big change in delivery systems was caused by that big freeze experienced in Texas a few years ago that killed all the orange trees.

Usually, the fruit is ordered in advance and then paid for when it arrives. This year there is fruit left over and anyone that wants some can buy it for normal price at The Place, located on the corner of Pershing and Lundy between 3:00 and 6:00 P.M. Reportedly, the fruit is very good this year and well worth the price. Also, the Fruit Committee would like to thank the Hoffmasters for allowing them to use their facilities to unload and store the fruit.

Team Record
by Laura Huzyak
Under Head Coach George Spack, 1969 SHS graduate who shares the record for the most consecutive foul shots with our own Brad Jones, the 1984-85 Varsity Basketball team has the best starting record in almost a quarter century. They have won 14 games while losing only two games by a total of eight points. This definitely calls for a toast to the Varisty team, the hard-working guys who have lived up to the motto "Mighty Quakers" and have made Salem proud through their continued determination to be the best they can. With community, faculty, and student body support the team can go on in this direction and finish the season with the same Quaker Spirit they started with.

Jocks Get Smart
by Melanie Howells
Recently The Quaker interviewed Mr. Steffen, the Salem High Athletic Director, on the new eligibility rules required by the state. The new requirements state that an athlete must pass 75% of his subjects or four credits during the grading period. If he fails to pass four subjects, he cannot play until the end of the next grading period. The school is going to make the rules even stricter. The school wants to have a grade point average to determine eligibility. The school will have its new rules decided at the end of the year. We would like to thank Mr. Steffen for this information.

Roundballers Rank High

by Mike Lesch

Wins over West Branch, East Liverpool, Poland, Warren J.F.K., and Campbell have helped the boys' basketball team off to the best start in over twenty years. The team is led by their two Co-captains, Brad Jones and Joe Noll, who have helped the team go to 14-2.

Joe Noll was recently chosen as T.V. 33's Student Athlete of the Week for his fine play in wins over Warren J.F.K. and Poland. Joe was very instrumental in the win over J.F.K. He came out at the start of the third quarter and proceeded to hit for ten straight points to help Salem pull away for the win. Congratulations, Joe, on a job well done.

On January 18, The Big Red Machine traveled to tiny West Branch and came home a big winner 59-44. Brad Capel led the Quakers in scoring with 17 pts. Brad Jones and Joe Noll followed with 15 and 13 points respectively. Jon McCracken also had a good game for the Quakers grabbing a handful of rebounds.

The Reserves lost their game with West Branch 49-41. Chip Null was highman for the Quakers. He had 14 pts. Rich Huffman followed with 12 pts.

The next evening the Quakers traveled to East Liverpool (boy, did they travel) to play the Potters in what looked like a wrestling match. The Big Red Machine pinned the Potters. Brad Jones was the highman for the Quakers as he hit for 21 pts. Brad was at the foul line 25 times during the course of the evening sinking 17 of them.

The Reserves lost their game to fall to 8-5. Rich Huffman had 13 pts., while Rich Elias followed with 12 pts.

On Saturday, January 26, Warren J.F.K. invaded the Quaker gym only to be sent home a loser twice during the evening. During halftime Tracy Esterly was crowned as Sweetheart Queen. She was escorted by Mark Harshman. Congratulations Tracy and Mark.

Joe "General Joe" Noll and Dave "Fast Eddie" Edling led the Quakers in scoring with 17 points. Joe scored 10 unanswered points to start the third quarter.

The Reserves led by Chip Null's 14 points, Rich Wrask's 13 points, and Rich Elias's 12 points helped the Quakers get back on the winning track. They are now at 10-4.

Last Tuesday the Bulldogs from Poland came down for a game and they also went home a loser, but not without biting someone. Yes, biting someone. As Brad "BC" Capel drove in for a layup, one of the Poland players trying to defend, bit Brad in the shoulder. Joe Noll was highman with 18 points. Dave "No Name" Milheim came off the bench to score 9 points. Dave is an unheralded but valuable one as is Jon "Big Mac" McCracken. Both play every game as if it were his last one.

The Reserves also won their game thanks to Chip Null. Chip hit a two point jump shot and he was fouled to go to the line to try to win the game with his foul shot. He hit nothing but net to win it. Rich Elias was the main man as he had 15 points. Null finished with 14.

On Friday, February 1, Salem traveled to bullish Campbell to take on the Red Devils and to try to add to their MVC lead. Add one more "W" to the win column as Salem won 60-54 thanks to Joe Noll's half court swish with no time on the clock at the end third quarter and Brad Jones' shot from his knees with one second on the clock before halftime. Brad led all scorers with 17 points. Joe followed with 14 points. Dave "Fast Eddie" Edling also did a good job on defense.

The Reserves lost a close one 58-56 for their first loss in the M.V.C. this year. They are still in first place. Rich Elias led the young Quakers with 12 pts. Damian Roelen and Dale Jenkins followed with 10 points.

The score of the Salem-Struthers game Tuesday was 62-43 in Salem's favor.

Coach Spack recently had this to say about the season so far and also about the big game tonight with Girard and the rest of the season. "I'm certainly delighted about the season so far. We are 7-1 on the road which is very good for any team. We are playing well and our goals are in sight. First, we want to win the M.V.C. championship outright."

Tonight Girard travels to Salem for what could be the M.V.C. Championship. So let's all attend and cheer Salem on to what could be their first ever outright M.V.C. Championship.

GOOD LUCK BIG RED.

Girls In Action

by Dave Milheim

The girls' varsity basketball team, with two games left in their regular season schedule, stand at 11-7 and 8-2 in the MVC. The Quakers lost a key game on Saturday, January 26 to first place Canfield. The Quakers are currently second in the conference as they look forward to post-season play.

In recent action, Salem defeated Campbell in a close ballgame 65-57. Cathy Francisco and Kim Evans were the heroes for the Quakers. Cathy scored twenty points and had nine rebounds, five assists and four steals to add to her collection of all-around good games this year. Kim Evans, coming off the bench for another great effort, scored 12 points and pulled down eight rebounds. Amy Goodballet and Michele Vannoy followed with 12 and 10 points respectively.

Against Warren Kennedy, the Quakers never trailed beyond the opening moments as they won easily for their tenth win of the season. Amy Goodballet led the Quakers with twenty points. Dina Hartman chipped in 12 points and grabbed seven rebounds for the winners. Francisco helped out with 10 points and seven assists.

In J.V. action, the Quakers are 11-5 overall and are in first place in the MVC with an 8-1 league record.

Wrestling Wrapup

by Melanie Howells

The Quakers' wrestling coach, Mr. Kunar recently told The Quaker about his wrestling team. So far the team is 0-10, but Mr. Kunar feels it hasn't discouraged the team. Mr. Kunar remarked, "The attitude of the team is good; they are working hard and will win a match before the season is over."

The 1985 wrestling team consists of 27 wrestlers: 15 freshmen, 6 sophomores and 6 juniors. Mr. Kunar gave us the starting lineup. They are:

- 98 lbs. — Mike Lutz — sophomore
- 105 lbs. — Jeff Swartz — freshman
- 112 lbs. — Chad Hayes — freshman
- 119 lbs. — John Rush — junior
- 126 lbs. — Greg Marple — freshman
- 132 lbs. — Matt Loudon — sophomore
- 138 lbs. — Robb Turnball — sophomore
- 145 lbs. — Troy Iler — junior
- 155 lbs. — Leo Marple — junior (winning record)
- 167 lbs. — Scott Randolph — junior
- 175 lbs. — Tim Shaffer — sophomore
- 185 lbs. — Danny Solmen — junior (winning record)
- Heavyweight — Mike Fromm — sophomore

The Quaker would like to see everyone at the next match Tuesday, Feb. 12, showing our team some Quaker spirit. Good Luck on your next match from The Quaker staff.

Football Underway

by Mike Lesch

The 1985-86 football season is underway. No, there are no games on Friday nights, there are no two-a-day practices, but yes, there is weight lifting. There are beet-red faces, the sounds of moaning and groaning to lift the weights, and there are kids who are about ready to fall over because they are so tired from straining their muscles.

Coaches Rottenborn, Tamati, Hale and Bennett have been supervising the weight training. They have been pushing the kids awfully hard in order to prove that the harder they work now, the more that it will payoff during the season. One of the main goals is to win the M.V.C. Championship for the first time ever. One other goal is to make it to the State Playoffs also for the first time ever.

The team will be lifting weights until the end of May when they will take a two week break. After the two weeks, they will start up again to get ready for the season.
