Medical and Social Problem ALCOHOLISM

By Nick Quinn

Alcoholism is a medical and social problem. Its effects are becoming more evident on society.

There are two types of drinkers, social drinkers and alcoholics. A social drinker drinks whenever he wants, but doesn't drink to get drunk. An alcoholic, on the other hand, drinks to get drunk and to be able to function. Once he begins to drink he cannot control his drinking. The alcohol controls him.

Both types of drinkers may have similar reasons for drinking. The social drinker may take a drink because of a hard day at work, anger, social outings with friends. The alcoholic may give the above so he may have an apparent reason to drink.

An alcoholic can be from all walks of life. Examples could be college graduates, business executives, lawyers, garbage men, high school students, single parents, and more recently junior high and elementary school students. The alcoholic begins to use spare money for booze, and as the disease progresses he'll use all the paycheck. Some alcoholics may eventually use family assets to get money or turn to crime for drinks.

There are many risk factors caused by this chronic disease. The list includes liver diseases, cancer, break down of body functions, etc.

Alcoholics may also risk loss of family, loss of finances, loss of careers, and most importantly, loss of self-esteem.

I recently talked to a person who lived through the experience of having an alcoholic parent. This person asked that the name be withheld for the protection of the family.

1. Q. — When did you find out your parent was an alcoholic?

A. — "I realized at age 5 it wasn't normal to hide under the bed when your father came home."

Q. — Did your father realize he had a problem?

A. — "No, he felt he was a social drinker."

Q. — How did this affect your home life?

A. — "My life at home was not very happy. I never knew what I would find from day to day."

Q. — What was your feelings towards your father when you realized his problem?

A. — "I loved my dad."

Q. — What would he act like when he came home drunk?

A. — "It would vary each time. Some days he was very funny. Many times he would become violent with no reason."

Q. — What were his excuses for drinking?

A. — "At first it was job pressure. Later it was to relieve stress. After a while, there didn't have to be any definite reason."

Q. — Was he hostile?

A. — "As we grew older he became more and more violent. Mostly he was violent with my brothers."

Q. — Did he ever abuse his spouse?

A. — "Yes, my mother had many black eyes. Once she had to have stitches in her head from an encounter with my father."

Q. — Did you think it was a normal characteristic of a father?

A. — "I knew that none of my friends' fathers were like this. I also knew this was not normal behavior."

Q. — What view did this give you towards Alcoholism?

A. — "I didn't like alcohol at all. I didn't think it was the "in" thing to do at parties like my friends did. By the way, I hide my home life from my friends. I never brought them around my house."

Q. — Did it scare you that you might grow up to become an alcoholic yourself or possibly your spouse?

A. — "At that time they hadn't found out that you could possibly be an alcoholic if it was in the family, I never dated anyone that drank. If I found out that they drank, I didn't date them again. I didn't want a re-play of my life for my future children."

Q. — Do you look back and regret growing up in that type of circumstance?

A. — "Yes. It affected my whole teenage life. I lived a double life. One life was a public one that everyone thought was O.K. My friends did question why they were never invited to my house. I learned to lie to cover for my dad.

Q. — If yes, what would you change?

A. — "I would change the lying to cover up. Being the oldest I took a lot of responsibility on myself that was really not mine to take."

Q. — Did your father ever get help?

A. — "Yes. My father went to the Care Unit in Youngstown. He also went to Alcoholics Anonymous."

Q. — If so, why?

A. — "He decided he had a problem shortly after his first grandchild was born. He knew how hard his drinking was on his family. When his grandchild was born, he vowed none of his grandchildren would see him drunk. He has kept his promise."

Q. — What advice would you give to someone who is in the same circumstance that you once were?

A. — "Go to someone you trust. Don't feel it's your fault that your parents drink. If it is violent at home, leave and go where you'll be safe. If your parents won't admit they have a problem, find Ala-Teen — get help to deal with how you feel. Don't sacrifice yourself for anyone. No one has stopped drinking unless they wanted to. Don't be embarrassed to seek help. Believe me, you're not alone."

Seatbelt Law

By Mike Schmid

The Quaker recently took a poll of teachers and students to find out what they think about the new seatbelt law. Here were their responses:

Bryan Ripple — "I don't think wearing a seatbelt should be a law; it should be your choice."

Rich Elias — "I think that if there are people behind the wheel like "Orange and Boots," then the law should be enforced."

Mr. Bennett — "I think it's great; it saves lives."

Bobbi Galchick — "It's your choice to wear a seatbelt."

Tim Brutto — "I think it saves lives."

Marilyn Welsh — "It should be your choice to wear it."

Mrs. Haddad — "Having a young child, I think it's good."

Wayne Phillips — "I don't think about it."

Mr. Kunar — "I think it will save lives."

Bill Palubinski — "I think they should have it."

Ms. Meenan — "It's absolutely fantastic!"

Dale Miller — "I think it is a good law because it will increase your chances of survival and/or decrease your chances of a serious injury."

Yearbook Controversy

By Lisa Buchanan

There has been some controversy regarding the yearbook — again. The first problem cropped up in respect to the advertising section. The second difficulty occurred with the color senior section.

To begin, Mrs. Dohar, yearbook advisor, agreed to allow the Petiteens to include their group picture in the advertising section of the yearbook if they came up with the funding. However, she had to retract her statement when the administration reversed her decision.

Mr. Delane commented, the school board has "the obligation to ensure those people who do advertise are legitimate groups that have the blessing of the community."

Mr. Rottenborn, a former club member himself during high school, agreed with Delane's assessment of the situation.

Although Mrs. Dohar, yearbook advisor, stated, "The yearbook is supposed to contain what goes on throughout the year," she maintains that the administration has the right to make guidelines for the ads.

The second problem with the yearbook is the color section vs. black and white pictures.

Mrs. Bryant has taken the problem on and has great hopes that the seniors will come out on top. She stressed that the two most important factors for getting a color section are raising $1,200 and getting the funding fast. If the money is not raised before the publisher's due-date, the price goes up another $500. She also stated that the administration is behind her efforts and they too hope the seniors can raise the needed money.

Mrs. Bryant's plan to salvage the senior section involves the parents themselves. She hopes to send a letter to senior parents explaining the situation and asking for contributions to the cause. If the parents help out, an ad will be taken out in the back section listing the generous people's names. Mrs. Bryant would also like to appeal to various groups around town hoping for their assistance in this financial problem.

Buckeye Boys' State

By Bill Dunn

Ten Junior boys have been chosen as semifinalists for the American Legion's 50th Buckeye Boys' State to be held at the Bowling Green State University on June 14 - 22.

The ten are Craig Bryant, Bill Burkey, Brian Gilbey, Rick Watkins, Eric Grieb, Neil Heston, John Casey, Andy Brooks, John Omslaer, and Doug White.

The American Legion of Ohio has set up the guidelines for selecting the candidates to attend the Buckeye Boys' State. Before any names are submitted, the school officials have to be aware of all of the Rules of Eligibility. The list of Rules involve requiring each candidate to have completed the 11th grade and have better than average grades during his high school years. Each must be a United States citizen and possess the qualities of Leadership, Sportsmanship, Scholarship, Patriotism, Courage for Service, and be active in school groups. While in high school, he should demonstrate the preference for U.S. History, Government and Civics. Public speaking is desirable, but not required. He should have a self reliance, personality, and an ability to compete with others. The last rule that is stressed is that he must believe in United States citizenship and the ideas of "God and Country" on which our country and the American Legion were founded. Each boy chosen to go is to prepare himself mentally as well as physically for a strenuous, demanding program. A Boys' State Orientation Program will be set up in the area to help with the preparation.

Of the ten boys chosen, only five will be selected as finalists on March 5, according to these rules. Whoever those five are, the Quaker would like to congratulate them and wish them luck.

SHS Homecoming Queen

By Gina Knight

Julie Pasko, escorted by Jim Bakondy, was chosen as the 1986 Sweetheart Queen. Julie is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Pasko of Eighth Street. She is a member of Key Club, a past cheerleader, and helped serve on the prom committee. Her court was as follows: Cathy Francisco escorted by Doug Morris; Cindy Hutton escorted by Sean Kirkland; Amy Paxson escorted by Damian Roelen; Melinda Pence escorted by Lee Good; Kim Ricker escorted by Frank Bezon; and Sylvia Torti escorted by Doug Smith. Julie had no comments.

Julie and her court danced to the sounds of the "Animal" at the Sweetheart Dance held after the game which was sponsored by the Pep Club.

All tangled up.

Senior Spotlight

By Anne Williams
and Julie Paumier

JULIE PASKO spends much of her spare time spending money, hunting, fishing and shopping at malls from restaurant to restaurant. Her favorite activity is "walking with Cindy and Buckwheat, Cindy's dog." Her school activities are Key Club, and Interact. Her future plans include attending Kent State University at the main campus studying criminal justice.

DOUG SMITH enjoys his activity of running on the track team as this will be his fourth year on it. Also, he is a member of the Pep Club for the first time this year. He likes "to get spirited along with Jeff Lynn at the basketball games." He is a former employee at Jay's grocery store where he quit because of track. Future plans include joining the Air Force on July 7 of this year to "earn money." Afterwards he wants to go to college.

While at home, music and computers fill the spare time of DAVID MADISON. His wide array of musical talents enable him to play the piano, the violin, and the saxophone. In addition to attending various sporting events, Dave enjoys playing tennis, racquetball, and basketball. An active member of clubs, he belongs to the Honor Society, Key Club, Pep Club, and Physics Unit. Upon graduation at S.H.S., Dave plans to "attend a pre-med program at Ohio State or Northeastern Med. School."

You may have seen this active CINDY HUTTON as your waitress at The Ponderosa or even on the tennis courts in the spring and summer. Cindy's hobbies include walking her dog, fishing, reading, and studying. Key Club and Pep Club are among the various clubs to which she belongs. An outgoing person, Cindy likes "going out with her friends on the weekends." As Cindy is an art student and member of the Art Guild, her future plans include "attending Y.S.U. to major in Interior Design."

SHS Grads

By Anne Williams

Susan Ware, who graduated in 1977, is now Susan Wooding. She now has a baby Sarah and is employed at JC Penney as a sales clerk and at Lehman Throppe as a secretary here in Salem.

Delores Tharpe, now Delores Bryan, is a 1981 graduate who now has a baby Blair and works as a sales clerk at JC Penney in Salem.

Heidi Williams, a 1981 graduate, is living in Columbia, South Carolina working as a registered nurse.

John Zornick, a 1981 graduate, is living with his wife Pam Moore in Colorado. He works for the Army as he is a Second Lieutenant Officer.

Tina Miller, who graduated in 1982, is currently attending Kent State University in her fourth year of nursing.

Matt Yerkey is attending Ohio State University in his first year of dental school. He is a 1982 graduate.

Schluter takes it up.

New Head Coach

by Arron Wolford

The Salem Quakers have a new football coach — Mr. Fred Kunar. He is replacing Mr. Rottenborn who resigned as coach after the 1985 season. Mr. Kunar teaches O.W.E. here at the high school. When asked if the coaching job would interfere with his job here, he stated, "No, it's just a lot more work and time involved."

When asked if he had had any other coaching jobs, Mr. Kunar said, "I've coached here for several years and I've also coached at Ravenna High School." When asked how he felt when he got the job, he said, "I was excited. It's a challenge and something I've always wanted to do." When asked how the team will do in the 1986 season, he replied, "We have 14 returning lettermen and a good nucleus of personnel coming back. We are going to work hard and try to do things necessary to win."

HAVE A ☺ HAPPY DAY!

Scheduling for '86-'87 School Year

by Amy Luttmers

During the week of February 3, 1986 scheduling for the freshman, sophomores, and juniors will take place in English classes. The students will be given selection sheets that will need to be returned and signed by parents within three days after they are distributed. After these sheets are returned, conferences to check the amount of credits will begin until the middle of March or even until June. The students will need the following credits: seniors, 14 plus 1 from Phys. Ed. and Health; juniors, 9 plus 1 from Phys. Ed. and Health; sophomores, 4½ plus ¼ from Phys. Ed.; freshman, any number fewer than for sophomores. A minimum of five subjects each semester is required of all students. Health and Phys. Ed. are not included as a part of the five required subjects. Also the counselors would like the students to be sure they do not take a subject that requires a pre-requisite course which they have not taken. The graduation requirements for this year's junior class are still 19 credits and 1 unit of math, but after that 20 credits and 2 units of math are needed to graduate. In order to graduate each student must have 2 minors and 2 majors. A major may be substituted for a minor. The time has come to start preparing for next year, so start thinking about it while there is still a chance.

Cheap Break for Spring

By Jeff Lynn

If you're not planning to go someplace sunny and warm for spring break because you don't have much money, don't despair. The story that follows is factual. It tells how three Salem High School Seniors planned a trip to Florida, this year, that will cost less than $100 apiece.

They were nearly broke in December when they decided they wanted to go to Daytona Beach, Florida for spring break. Literally days of brainstorming then took place to discover the cheapest possible way to take the trip.

First, they needed a way to get there. Luckily one of them had recently purchased a car that got more than 30 miles per gallon. They estimated paying $1.20 per gallon. This made the total cost for gas about $80.

The second obstacle was a place to stay. Using a map and an AAA Tourbook the choice was narrowed to a few motels and a campground. The cheapest motel in the tourbook was $22 a night, and it included a kitchen. Reservations were promptly made for seven nights, a total cost of $154.

A third consideration was food. This was a matter of basic nutritional needs with no frills. They looked in several grocery stores to find the cheapest food most of which was generic. It's amazing how much one can save by avoiding brand names and compensating when it comes to highly priced items. A large cooler was acquired to make it possible to take nearly all the food that they would need. The estimated total cost for food was $60.

Winter Blues

by Jennifer Booth

The winter is so good to us. The warm weather was nice, but just wait until that last punch in next week or in February or in March. Old Man Winter still has a few tricks up his sleeve. There is a disease running around called Cabin Fever. That's being cooped up all day long.

Now How Do You Cure The Winter Blues?

Gina Knight — I work on my term paper or cook.

Alissa Campbell — Party with Lulu and Lori.

Mrs. Ramunno — A get away weekend.

Mrs. Meenan — Call a friend or find something to do.

Mrs. Miles — Valentine's Day.

Melinda McGuire — Sleep. It's past time. Or shop.

Miss Neifert — I go out with pals.

Mrs. Coy — I read a good book.

Mrs. Shivers — Family Valentine's Party.

Jeff Lynn — I go on scavenger hunts with Doug Sicilia.

Jennifer Booth — I will type stories, sleep if I'm tired, listen to my albums or the radio.

So here are some things to help cure the Winter Blues. They might or might not help. But, it's good.

In short, having big bucks is not necessarily the key to having big fun over spring break. The total estimated cost for the week in Florida is $294. Divide this by three and each person pays $98.

"Pops" Concert

By Julie Paumier

The S.H.S. Choir and Jazz Ensemble present the 11th annual "Pops" Concert on February 20 at 8:00 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Tickets are available through Choir and Jazz Ensemble members for a mere $2.00. (Procrastinators may purchase tickets at the door.) All proceeds will go toward a competition in May at Cedar Pt. which both the Choir and Jazz Ensemble will attend.

Under the direction of Mrs. Jeckavitch, the Choir will perform several songs. Among the songs are "If," "One of Those Songs," and "Through the Years." Also, the Chamber Choir will sing "Sensational Sixties" as a special number.

The Jazz Ensemble, performing under the direction of Mr. Jeckavitch, will play such familiar tunes as "All Night Long" and "Ghost Busters." "Georgia On My Mind" features a solo by David Madison and Mark Mueller will be featured in "Mack the Knife." The band will also play the ever-popular "New York, New York."

Light

By Jennifer Booth

"It's not how I do it. It's when it happens," Rio said. "I gotta ask ya when did this occur?" Alannah asked. "Yea," Eden added. Eden was one of Alannah's friends. They were in the bedroom. Andy yelled, "Now get out of that bedroom or I use force on both yas." "Because you gotta lot of brass in the Army doesn't mean we follow you. Beside we don't want to follow you," Eden screamed. "I think I will go back to bed," Rio said. Then the phone rang and Alannah picked it up and said, "Hello, oh it's for you, Rio." Rio got the phone and said, "Hello, who is this?" On the other end the voice said, "Beware of the Snake Dragon." Rio heard the phone click and hang up. Alannah and Eden were sitting on the floor and Rio was sitting on the bed.

That night the double DD threw a party. Rio and J.T. went to the beach. Rio asked J.T. about a Snake Dragon. J.T. joked, "You have been watching too much T.V." From the brush an eerie boney bloody hand with black finger nails reached over and grabbed Rio . . .

CHANGES AFFECT SALEM

Ohio High School Athletes

ELIGIBILITY RULES

By Mark McCartney

On January 16, 1986 a meeting conducted on eligibility rules for the state of Ohio was presented to the athletes who will be participating in a spring sport or a sport next school year. The Ohio High School Athletic Association has put out the following rules:

In order to be eligible, a student in grade 9, 10, 11 or 12 must be currently enrolled and must have been enrolled in school the immediately preceding grading period (six weeks, nine weeks, twelve weeks, semester) and received passing grades during that grading period in subjects that earn a minimum of 4.0 credits per year toward graduation.

The eligibility or ineligibility of a student continues until the start of the next grading period at which time the immediately preceding grading period grades become applicable. EXCEPTION: At the start of the fall sports season, the first grading period is considered to have started insofar as this bylaw is concerned.

A student enrolled in the first grading period after advancement from the eighth grade must have passed 75% of those subjects carried the preceding grading period (six weeks, nine weeks, twelve weeks, semester) which met five days per week or its equivalent.

A student enrolling in the seventh grade for the first time will be eligible for the first grading period (six weeks, nine weeks, twelve weeks, semester) regardless of previous academic achievement.

Thereafter, in order to be eligible, a student in grade 7 or 8 must be currently enrolled and must have been enrolled in school the immediately preceding grading period and received passing grades during that grading period in 75% of those subjects carried the preceding grading period which met five days per week or its equivalent.

The eligibility of a transfer student must be established by school records or verification from sending school. The responsibility for establishing eligibility rests with the receiving school.

Summer school grades earned may not be used to substitute for failing grades from the last grading period of the regular school year.

Tutoring or examinations to complete the preceding grading period requirements are permissible provided that privilege is accorded to every student and the inability to complete required work on time is due to illness or accident verified by a physician.

The Commissioner may waive the requirement of preceding grading period enrollment if a student has been withdrawn or removed from school because of circumstances due to personal accident, illness or family hardship. The administrative head of the school shall appeal in writing to the Commissioner. The appeal shall contain documentation with school and medical supporting evidence. The decision of the Commissioner may be appealed to the Board of Control.

I talked with Mr. Steffen, who conducted the meeting, and got his reactions and how he felt towards these rules. Mr. Steffen feels that with the rules the students will be forced to study a little more and that if the student is not receiving enough credits, they will go and see their counselor to get things straightened out. He also mentioned an important fact. Salem is on a nine weeks grading schedule, which is a longer grading period. Therefore, if a student is receiving an F in any class he will be ineligible for remainder of the grading period or possibly the remainder of the season.

The NCAA (National Collegiate Athletic Association) has conducted some rules and regulations for anybody that will receive an athletic scholarship. First of all in order to participate in any practice or regular season games, a student must have a G.P.A. of 2.000 and must have graduated from high school. The student must also have taken eleven full year courses, including three in English, two in mathematics, two in social science, and two in natural or physical science with a laboratory class (if it is offered by the school). A student must also have a combined score of 700 on the SAT verbal and math sections or a composite score of 15 on the ACT.

New Student Teacher

By Donna Zorik

Mrs. Amy Capezullo is visiting SHS as a student teacher for Mr. Trough. During one of her free periods, I had the chance to talk to her.

Mrs. Capezullo went to college at Youngstown State and graduated 3 years ago with a major in math and a minor in computer science. Now she is returning to get certified as a teacher. To prepare for this, Mrs. Capezullo had to take mostly education courses under a new curriculum for teaching. Right now she is teaching two of Mr. Trough's classes and next week will be up to four. Each week her schedule will increase until she takes over all of Mr. Trough's classes.

During her time teaching here, this is her schooling. Once every other week she returns to YSU to attend a seminar with all the other student teachers. Once in a while her professor may come here to observe her performance in a classroom. Mr. Trough is also evaluating her four times until she leaves March 21.

As for her spare time, Mrs. Capezullo and her husband recently bought a new house here in Salem and they are busy with that. Otherwise she likes to swim, fish and be outdoors.

When asked if she likes Salem, she replied, "Yes, I like it a lot." Growing up in Austintown she doesn't find Salem much different.

When Mrs. Capezullo finishes with her schooling, she would like to teach in a high school. Since she has just moved to Salem, we may see her again. Wherever she teaches, the Quaker would like to wish her GOOD LUCK!

- 155 Kevin O'Leary
- 167 Chris Nichols
- Hwt. Brad Richert

Injured with a broken leg, Bob Sprowl.

The Freshmen have had only 3 dual matches this year, their record being 0-3. Coach Kunar replied, "They did have a few close ones though." The Freshmen took a second place at the Liberty tournaments. Winning individual competition at Louisville were.

Mike Hazelbaker receiving a first place.

Arron O'Brien receiving a first place.

Kevin O'Leary receiving a third. Salem tied with Austintown for a second place at Austintown's quadangular last weekend, when Joe Righetti was asked what he thought of the "quad," he said, "It was a tough one, we gave it our best shot. Placing first was Saint Edwards; third went to Columbus DeSales.

The '85-'86 Junior Varsity team consist of:

- 112 Matt Helpinstien

So far the JV's are 3-4, posting wins over Brookfield, Liberty and Boardman while losing to West Branch, Marlinton, Austintown and tying with Girard. Junior Varsity has three more matches:

- Jan. 28, Minerva H 6 P.M.
- Feb. 1, Canfield H 6 P.M.
- M.V.C.
- Feb. 5, Hubbard A 6 P.M.
- M.V.C.
- Feb. 15, Ursuline A 1 P.M.

Thanks once again, Coach Kunar, and a special thanks to Mike Fromm for additional help. BEST OF LUCK, '85-'86 wrestlers!!

Chicago Bears

VS.

New England Patriots

By Bill Dunn

Time: 5-o'clock, Jan. 26, 1986
Place: Louisiana, Superdome; New Orleans, Louisiana.

This was the setting for Super Bowl XX and a Chicago Bears' victory. 115 million people in 31 foreign countries (plus the U.S.) witnessed the overpowering agility of the Chicago Bears which put them ahead of the New England Patriots, 46-10, the largest margin in Super Bowl history.

Before the game several people were asked "Who's going to win? Here's what they said . . .

Ammie Sheets — "Bears, all the way!"

Steve Kim — "Chicago, of course, Defense, defense, defense!"

Jim Bakondy — "New England by 3, major upset."

Sharon Ewing — "Chicago, no doubt!"

Jane Sommers — "Who's playing?"

Mike Monasterio — "New England — Chicago's head is too big."

Nick Quinn — "Bears by 2 touchdowns."

Mike Ketchum — "Bears, due to their shuffle!"

touchdown making the score 44-9. Tony Franklin kicked the extra point, 44-10, still knowing that they didn't have a chance. The final score came from a safety by Henry Waechter (70) defensive tackle for the Bears making it 46-10.

Defensive end, Richard Dent (95) of the Bears, was named Most Valuable Player of the game. Dent led in sacks and forced two fumbles leading to 10 points in the 1st quarter. Quarterback, Jim McMahon, who started the game with a bruised hip, threw 12 completions for 256 yards and rushed 14 yards for two touchdowns, but in the third quarter he was replaced by Steve Fuller due to an injured left wrist. The most interesting player of the game was the rookie defensive tackle, William "The Refrigerator" Perry. "The 'Fridge" was put on the offense 5 times at fullback and scored once on a 1-yard rush through the middle. He attempted a pass in the first quarter, but the intended receiver wasn't open so he held on the ball and tried to run for it.

New England's team seemed to have one major problem, they didn't have much of either a passing or a running game. Of course, Chicago's defensive was the reason behind it. The defense only let the New England offense get a total of 134 yards and 12 first downs. Chicago's defense was first in the NFL season, 2nd in sacks of 1985.

When asked about the next season, Head Coach Mike Ditka said, "It is difficult to repeat, but we'll be ready."

Indeed they will. Congratulations to the Chicago Bears and good luck on another successful season.

Girls' Basketball

By Alissa Campbell

The Salem High School Varsity Girls' Basketball Team, under the direction of Coach Readshaw, has a 7-7 record overall and a 6-2 league record.

The leading scorers at this time of the year are Dina Hartman with a 14.3 average, Cathy Francisco with 11.3, and Amy Breckenridge at 10.1. When asked about school support, Cathy Francisco, team co-captain, said, "We need more school spirit — it really fires us up!" Jenny Gow, a senior on the varsity team, said, "People aren't aware of us, but the games are exciting if you get into it."

The team has had a very demanding schedule. Four of the teams the girls lost to have a combined record of 58-1. Coach Readshaw explained, "The shooting has been atrocious against the better teams, but we are working on accuracy." He also said the goal for the tournament is to pull a major upset over the better teams. With six more games in the season, he hopes to end up 5-1 overall and 4-2 league for the remainder of the year.

The JV team, led by Coach Franks, has a record of 6-8. Andrea Engle and Jenny Herron are the top scorers.

BYE-BYE

by Bill Dunn

Two running backs have thrown touchdown passes in the Super Bowl. Name them.

Robert Newhouse - Dallas Cowboys
Lawrence McCutcheon - Los Angeles Rams

The Bears must really be proud of their defense's shuffle because 4 of the 6 turnovers they caused led to touchdowns. In the 1st quarter, New England scored first with a field goal, but Chicago soon passed up their score with a 13 to 3 lead. The Patriots were scoreless in the second quarter, 23-3, and in the third, 44-3 practically giving up the game. In the fourth quarter, Irving Fryer (80) of the Patriots, came to life with a

Frosh Basketball

By Rich Ellas

The freshman basketball team under head coach Jim Shivers is off to a very fine start during this '85-'86 season. The young Quakers have eight wins to only two losses. The Quakers are tied for first place in the league standings. Here is a wrapup of their season thus far: The Quakers opened their season against arch rival West Branch. The Quakers suffered a disappointing loss by the score of 28-26. The Quakers were led by Scott Jones with 8 points and Dave "Skirt" Exline followed with 7. The Quakers bounced back and took out their frustrations on a scrappy Canfield team. They won that game by the score of 42-23. Tony Houshour led all scorers with 13 points and Brook Pidgeon scored 9 points and had 6 steals. Jones was the chairman of the boards with 10 rebounds. The following week the Quakers faced Struthers and beat them 26-18. Jones led with 6 points. The next victim was Girard. The Quakers won again, but not by a comfortable margin. They held off to win by the score of 42-39. Brook Pidgeon led all scorers with 14 points and Bill Kress, Salem's big man scored 8 along with Scott Jones. Salem then got to play West Branch again. This was definitely a revenge factor. Salem came to play and beat the Warriors 36-29. Pidgeon scored 12 points for the Quakers. Salem then faced Campbell Memorial and beat the Red Devils 43-31. Christopher Huffman showed some potential by scoring 8 points along with Tony Houshour. The Quakers then went to Warren JFK to bring home yet another victory. They won 43-30. Brook Pidgeon scored 13 in leading the Quakers. The Quakers then met Powerhouse Poland Bulldogs. The Quakers came into the game 5-0 in the Conference standings. However, the Quakers fell short of that win by losing the game by the score of 45-

36. Captain Pidgeon led the way again with 9 points. That loss made the Quakers even hungrier. The Quakers then beat Canfield for the second time by the score of 51-27. Almost every Quaker contributed in that game but Tim Steffen was the hot hand in that game leading the Quakers with 8 points. The Quakers, still upset by the loss to Poland, did a number on the Girard Indians for the second time this season by beating the Indians by the score of 47-30. Salem was led by Pidgeon who scored 12 points. Christopher Huffman, scored 8 points for the Quakers. That is the season thus far for the Quakers. They now stand at 8-2 overall and 7-1 in the Conference standings. I asked Coach Shivers how he feels about the season and his team thus far. This is what he had to say about his ballclub. He stated that the strong points on the team are that they have good defensive ability and shooting ability. The team has a lot of individual talent and there is a lot of depth in this year's team as opposed to teams in the past. He feels if the kids work really hard, then there is no reason why they shouldn't win the MVC. The Quakers have four games left. They are: Campbell — away, JFK at home, Poland — away, and Struthers at home. So let's support the freshman team as they can bring home a Conference championship. Good Luck, Coach Shivers.
